Communiqué Comment

The tension occasioned by the altercation over Trieste is apparently being dispelled. Allied troops were given the word to advance into Venezia Giulia (the peninsula on which Trieste is located) after Marshal Tito agreed to submit his country's claim to peaceful settlement. Previously the entire peninsula had been occupied by the Yugoslav forces which had liberated it. Field Marshal Alexander, Allied commander of the Mediterranean theatre, demanded that the area be placed under his direction until its fate was decided at the peace table, and New Zealand troops were rushed to the scene to back his order. Marshal Tito stood his ground, however, in refusing to submit the territory occupied by his troops to Alexander's control. Now, apparently, Tito has backed down and has agreed to the Allied terms of negotiation.

The British claimed that Tito had agreed last February that the western powers were to occupy all Italian territory. The area in question had been ceded to Italy in 1918, under the terms of the secret London pact. Legally it was a part of Italy. The Yugoslavs claimed, however, that the peninsula had been wrested from them without regard for their geographical and national claims upon it. Actually the population of the peninsula is preponderantly slavic, although Triests itself has a majority of Italians. The partisans stated that they had set up representative governmental bodies in the area, composed of both slavic and Italian members in proportion to the numbers of their national groups. Moreover, they said, the Yugoslavs had liberated the territory, and asking them to leave it was tantamount to demanding that the Americans evacuate Germany.

Underneath these purely legalistic arguments lie far deeper political reasons for the altercation over Trieste. England regards the Mediterranean area as her sphere of influence, a sphere which might well extend to the northern Adriatic and Trieste. Certain powerful elements within the British government have long regarded Yugoslavia as a menace to British security in the Mediterranean. These elements have stood for continued support of the House of Savoy and the policy of denying elections to the Italians. These same elements demanded and supported British intervention in Greece. Their purpose in both cases was to prevent a shift to the left in the governments of the Mediterranean area, a shift which might menace British commercial and colonial interests. Yugoslavia is the one country in the area which has already embarked on a leftist trend. The British intend that the influence of Yugoslavia shall not be allowed to spread to other countries or territories in the area.

OUR DOG, BOWSER, LEFT HOME THE OTHER NIGHT. We were sitting by the fireplace idly dreaming of nothing in particular when he walked in with a knapsack slung over his shoulder. We could see two bones sticking out of the knapsack, plus a can of dog food. "Bowser!" we cried in dismay. "Where are you going? Don't you like your happy home?" Bowser shifted the knapsack to his other shoulder and threw out his furry chest. "I am leaving," he said in measured tones, "to join the Coast Guard."

We were quite thrown back by this. Bowser hadn't shown any adventurous spirit around the house. His only act of ferocity had been a mild nip at the postman. Now he was aiming to flush Japs. Bowser put down his knapsack and took out a recruiting circular. It carried a picture of a dog who somewhat resembled himself and wearing a sailor suit. This dog was being embraced by a voluptuous looking daschund. Bowser looked at the poster: "There are some advantages in joining up," he said. "It's a pretty tough life, Bowser," we replied. "According to all the information I have you'll have to take the place of six men in guarding our lines from infiltration."

Bowser snapped his paws in a gesture of impatience and cast another longing glance at the low-built, seductive daschund. "I am a Doberman Pinscher of uncertain ancestry, but I have a strain of noble blood." "Are you qualified physically?" we asked Bowser, having noticed that he hadn't been too frisky of late. "A keen sense of smell, sharp ears, that's me," said Bowser with a short laugh. "I'm two years of age, just right for duty, 24 inches high at the shoulder and weigh 50 pounds. You can't dissuade me, I'm going. I may come back wearing a purple heart, or perhaps some other medal."

"Be sure and take out some insurance, payable to us," we warned him. Bowser tucked the folder back in his knapsack, slung it over his shoulder, stuck out his paw and shook our hand. "Goodbye," Bowser said. He walked toward the door. "Slacker," he added as he walked out.

Due perhaps to some one of the Arg editors' allergy to tail-ends, last week's footnotes did not appear. Henceforth, we will present our footnotes at the beginning. Attic Club Party Claimed Huge Success

One of the largest benefit parties of the year took place Friday night when players for 52 tables of bridge gathered at the Delta Delta house. A 7:30 dessert course preceding cards was served from tables covered with paper covers on which Alfred Dunn of the art department and his pupils had silk screened a spring design. Sponsored by Attic club, university art honorary, the proceeds will be used to assist in renovating the rooms in the art building.

The cleverly designed block print tickets were also used for talles. Miss Mary Kirkwood donated a small oil painting, two miniatures in oil and a handmade ceramic flower pin for prizes and Mr. Dunn gave two water colors. Eileen Durkopp was general chairman for the affair and was assisted by Marjorie Walters. Other committee heads were Louise Cosgriff, Frances Currie, Ann Hite, Helene Rogers, Kenneth Goldsberry, Mary Pat Sylvestor and Grace Nesbit. Prizes Winners Dean T. S. Kerr assisted in awarding door prizes. They were won by Mrs. Erma Standley, Dorothy Jean Ricks, Mary Jane Dorn, Marion Featherstone, Mrs. K. Mae Christiansen, Mrs. A. G. Schneider, Mrs. H. L. Axtell, Jackie Christiansen, Mrs. H. W. Steffens, Dean Louise Carter, Carl Spalding, Lorna Jean Booras and Mrs. W. C. Moore.

Prizes for high scores at bridge were won by Merrill Deters and Mrs. Clarence Childs. "We intend to have another bridge party soon since this one turned out to be such a success," commented Miss Durkopp. Miss Lois Deobald Is New President Lois Deobald was elected president of Mortar Board at a meeting Monday. Elaine Anderson was chosen vice president; Mary Jane Hawley, secretary; Ada Mae Rich, treasurer; Mary Jane Donart, editor; and Barbara Smith, song leader. Eleven juniors tapped for Mortar Board at the May Fete were initiated Saturday morning at 7 a.m. under the trees in front of the music hall. The initiation was followed by a breakfast given by old members at Hotel Moscow. Mrs. Hensley, Miss Jean Collette, and Dean Louise Carter were guests and spoke to the group. A meeting will be held tomorrow for old and new members to make plans for the coming year.

Twenty Ordnance officers of the Chinese army, ranging in rank from captain to colonel, have arrived at Northwestern university for an eight-week course of training in management and manufacturing methods. After completing the course at Northwestern, the officers will spend time in various industrial plants, studying management and manufacturing problems first hand. Theta Sigma members are considering judging high school newspapers, giving awards to the freshman woman who does the most outstanding work on the Argonaut, sending news letters to the alumnae of the organization, and holding a banquet for women who have done commendable work on publications as possible projects for next year.

Journalism Group Holds Banquet Theta Sigma, local journalism honorary, will hold initiation and a banquet at the Hotel Moscow Friday night, Mary Jane Donart, president, announced this week. Initiates will be Carol Cone, Jewel May, Geraldine Shortridge and Louise Schlegel. Mrs. William F. Swindler and Mrs. T. J. Campbell will be guests. In accordance with the new policy of the organization, only journalism majors were selected for membership this year. Last Thursday President Donart held a special meeting with initiates to acquaint them with the purposes of the organization and to discuss plans for the coming year.

The Rains Came And Campus Floods

The optimists got wet, the Gamma Phis got their windows broken out, the fairways on the university golf course found themselves in a foot of mud, and the water poured off the university hill. That was about the extent of the damage caused by last Saturday's storm, but for about two hours several people held their breath. Dr. K. H. Klages, head of the agronomy department and cooperative weather observer, reported that within 25 minutes Saturday afternoon .52 inches of rain fell. Total for the day was 1.02 inches. Dr. Klages reported that the storm was the worst of its kind in several years. The storm was local with separate storms hitting outside the immediate area.

Among those holding their breath was J. A. Brown acting as manager of the Idaho state invitational track meet. One hundred athletes from high schools throughout the state were nearly ready to go home without having a chance at competition when the storm let up. Brown gave the go ahead signal and the meet went ahead as scheduled. Also saying prayers were university golfers who finished the first round of their play against WSC in the height of the storm and with several strokes added to their scores. Sigma Chis, who had lined all their walls with wire for their dance were afraid that the house would make an excellent "landing strip" for lightning, but they got through the night all right. Mrs. T. W. Macartney, Gamma Phi Beta housemother, reported that two windows were cracked in the upstairs sleeping porch, that the whole house seemed to shake during one part of the storm. Flooded. Houses at the bottom of the hill had their basements flooded in several cases. The hill behind the Delt house washed noticeably. A telephone pole, near the university barns, was shattered by a bolt of lightning and approximately 200 others were put out of commission in the area, according to telephone officials. Dr. Klages reported that due to the light rain Friday, the soil was wet and washed badly causing severe damage to crops.

Although the optimists got wet, they could still look at the storm philosophically. One of them was heard to say, "I was sure afraid I was going to get a sunburn." Curtain members who had planned a picnic for Saturday on Moscow mountain ended up in Miss Marion Featherstone's kitchen. Theta Sigma members are considering judging high school newspapers, giving awards to the freshman woman who does the most outstanding work on the Argonaut, sending news letters to the alumnae of the organization, and holding a banquet for women who have done commendable work on publications as possible projects for next year.

G.I. REPORT Here's More About PAN-HELLENIC

Rooms 23 and 39 at the Idaho Club must have an inside track on the Coffee Pot Parade every morning. Do the occupants of these rooms (Pvts. Jerry Hayward, Hal Boverman, Dale Madson, and Morey Lamborn) rent station KWSC for 20 or 30 minutes about halfway through the program? They seem to be just a little sarcastic in some of their requests, too.... Rationing What's this we hear about cigarettes being rationed in the army? According to the radio, starting the first of June, soldiers will be allowed only six packs a week. Pvt. Duffy and Pvt. Leydecker, to mention just a couple of those affected seriously by the rationing, will soon be growing their own tobacco plants. Baseball The ASTPR baseball team, hardened by a full week's practice, lost a close game to the inmates of Chrisman hall Monday. The score was 8 to 9. Social Highlights Pvt. Guisti (?) has made himself quite a promoter. With the girl's angle taken care of by a certain lovely specimen of the fair sex from Forney hall, he has successfully promoted two dances in two week-ends. He sold tickets, got dates, and made all the arrangements for any GI going to either dance. Why, may we ask, all this sudden interest in social doings, Mr. Guisti? The Last Man Pvt. Bienenfeld, not to be outdone by anyone, calmly walked into the Idaho Club last week-end. Now this does not sound very spectacular, but it happens that Pvt. Bienenfeld has been gone for three weeks. The catch is that he had his appendix out while he was home. When asked how he liked it, he sighs dreamily and murmurs, "Oh, those nurses, those beautiful nurses!" First of the Farewells Tuesday, Pvt. Clawson and Pvt. Croy waved their last goodbye to the ASTPR and Moscow. They were the first to leave the program for the navy. Within the week, the rest of the former air corps members of this great institution expect to be on their way.

Bob Smith Elected Hall President Bob Smith was elected president of Chrisman hall this week for the fall term, and Donald Kamp will hold the office of vice president. Irwin Wentworth will be secretary and Clarence Beckman was elected treasurer. Other officers elected are Kyle Bates, social chairman; John Pointer, assistant social chairman; Jack Boder, intro-mural manager, and Irvin Wentworth, caucus representative.

Nutritionist Visits Miss Marjorie Hazeltine, nutritionist with the United States Children's bureau, in Washington, D. C., will speak to the home economics faculty on Saturday at the Moscow hotel. The luncheon will be held after a meeting of the Idaho Dietetics association on Saturday morning in the Home Economics department.

Hayride; Barn Dance Head Weekend Social Events

With vacation drawing near, Idaho students are preparing for many summer activities. Giving its last social function before quiz week begins is Gamma Phi Beta, who will give a hayride Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Robinson lake, which will be followed by a barn dance at the house later in the evening. Shirley Brandt is in charge of arrangements.

Ad Club Honors Orchestra; Prep Trackmen

Members of the All-Girl Singing Orchestra, about 100 prep trackmen representing nearly 30 Idaho high schools, university faculty members, and numerous out-of-town guests, were entertained Saturday evening by the Ad club of Moscow at the Hotel Moscow.

Going-Away Party

Last Thursday evening Gamma Phi Beta gave a going-away party for their housemother, Mrs. T. W. Macarthy, at which the freshmen presented a program in her honor. Alumnae present were Mrs. W. L. Carter and Mrs. E. J. Iddings.

Breakfast Held

Sunday morning, the following members and alumnae of Phi Delta Theta were present at a breakfast which was held at the Nobby Inn: George Jones, Bill Meyers, Bill Gough, Edwin Dumas, Charles McGlade, Vinsay Slatey, Larry Brown, George Horton, Bob Driscoll, Jim David, Earl David, Jack Goetz, John Montgomery, O. A. Fitzgerald, H. Smith, Robert Ryan, Dick Westover and Joy Williams, who is the province president. Initiated at a joint initiation Sunday evening were Max Call, Phil Einhouse, Steve Buck, Myrt Hastings and Lee Anderson. Honored guests at a dinner-fireside given Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. L. Broom.

Miss Smith Honored

Sigma Chi and Kappa Alpha Thetas held a dinner at the latter house in honor of Eve Smith, this year's Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Three week-end guests were Barbara Mariner and Joan Kulzer from Spokane, and Beverly Davis from Portland. Sunday dinner guests were Betty Ann Craggs and Lt. Bill Smith.

Spring Formal

"Spring" was the theme of Alpha Chi Omega's formal in honor of their seniors, Bette French, Rae Parkinson, and Mary Jane Isenburg. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Packenhams, and Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin. Dinner guests Sunday were ten soldiers from Baxter hospital and Beverly Kydall from Washington State college.

Week-end visitors at Sigma Chi were Bob Hendren and Jim Watson. The latter will return to the Idaho campus this fall. Sunday visitors were four members from the Whitman chapter.

Delta Delta Delta

pledge picnic was held Saturday at Robinson lake. Week-end guests were Beverly Isaacson, Frances Erickson and Helen Thomas.

Mrs. O. A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Homer David were the alumnae honored at dinner Thursday night at Pi Beta Phi. Wednesday night, the senior ceremonies were held for Patricia Pugh and Maxine Pence. Mary Orr, Coeur d'Alene, and Virginia Greenough, Spokane, were week-end guests.

Visiting Barbara Spaeth at Kappa Kappa Gamma last week-end was Jean Welteroth from Jerome. Formal breakfast for the seniors, Norene Merriman, Shirley West, Sue Witman, Arlys Powell and Mary Mangum was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Alumnae present for dinner Saturday evening were Mary Frances Marshall, Mrs. John Lukens, and Mrs. Dale Rulman.

Chrisman hall will climax its social year with a fireside to be held Friday night.

Visiting Bob Davis at the Sigma Nu house this week are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Davis, and his brother, Ensign Thomas Davis.

Ridenbaugh hall will hold a birthday dinner Saturday evening with "Deep Purple" as the theme. Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Daubennire and Mrs. Kay Mae Christianson. In charge of the arrangements for the dance are Helen Turner and Mary Stanek. Music will be provided by KWSC. Sunday morning, the juniors of Ridenbaugh hall gave a breakfast in honor of the graduating seniors. The class will and prophecy was read, and gifts were presented.

Sgt. Tom Fenteman and Major Glen Rathburn are visiting the Kappa Sigma house this week. Both are former students of Idaho and members of Kappa Sigma. Chrisman hall will give an informal fireside Friday evening at 9 o'clock, with Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Daubennire as chaperones. Music will be provided from records and refreshments will be served. Kenneth Goldsbury is in charge of the arrangements.

Visiting on the campus this week is Lt. Elmo Davis. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Senior Presents Piano Recital

Jean Gochmour presented her senior piano recital Tuesday night in the University auditorium. Miss Gochmour's program consisted of compositions by both classic and modern composers. For her first group, Miss Gochmour played two Scarlatti numbers, "Sonata" and "Capriccio" and the Allegro, Scherzo, Minuetto, and Presto con fuoco movements of Beethoven's "Sonata, opus 31, No. 3."

Comprising the second group were "Rhapsody in B minor" by Brahms, and two Chopin "Etudes" in A flat and C minor. Three modern selections concluded the program and were "Morezinha (Little Paper Doll)," "Mulatinha (Little Rubber Doll)" by Villa-Lobos and Debussy's "Jardins sous la pluie."

Miss Gochmour is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of science in music education. During the past year, she has served as president of Sigma Alpha Iota, and has been actively engaged in all music activities during her four years at Idaho.

Former I. Student Weds in Texas

Delta Gamma sorority sisters learned Sunday of the coming marriage of Miss Jo Anne Hunter to Lt. George O. Young of the army air corps. The couple will be married July 9 in Pocatello, Miss Hunter's home.

Miss Hunter will graduate from the university in June. Lieutenant Young is now stationed at Peterson field, Colorado Springs.

The bride attended the North-east Missouri State Teacher's college and Washington university at St. Louis. Cadet Wigen was studying engineering here at the time of his enlistment in October, 1942. At present he is attending flight engineering school at the Amarillo army air field.

Alvah Beecher, head of the music department, stated, "the tour of the All-Girls Singing Orchestra would have been partially curtailed."

All-Campus Dance Ends Year

Programs and posters depicting past school events provided the background for the final all-campus dance of the year held Saturday at the student union ballroom and sponsored by the student activities board.

Approximately 100 couples attended the dance whose theme was "See You Next Fall." Guests of honor for the evening were visiting high school boys participating in the all-state track meet. Dates were provided for the visitors by Lucille Thompson, assisted by Coach J. A. Brown.

Elaine Anderson was general chairman of the dance and was assisted by Mary Dochios and Bob Nelson, decorations; June Williams, programs; Clara Beth Young, tickets; Lucille Thompson, music; and Betty Craggs, publicity.

Patron and patroness for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Deters.

University Groups Receive Awards

Two groups of university entertainers, the cast of "Fresh Fields" and members of the All-Girl Singing Orchestra have been awarded Certificates of Appreciation by the Spokane Air Technical Service command, according to word reaching the university this week. Individual certificates have been given members of both groups for appearing in volunteer performances before personnel of the army installation. "Fresh Fields" was given in Spokane last week and the All-Girl orchestra was there several months ago. Faculty directors and advisors have also been given certificates.

The names of those given the certificates will appear on the "award" section of the commencement program, Pres. Harrison C. Dale said this week.

The certificates read: "For generously donating your time and talent for the benefit of the personnel of this command."

"For the patriotic spirit with which your services were rendered."

The certificates were signed by Capt. Phillip Althoff, personnel officer at the post, and by Brig. Gen. Robert V. Ignico, commanding officer.

Tea Given Honoring Housemother

Mrs. Wayman Williams was honored at a tea Sunday afternoon given by women of Forney hall, of which she is housemother. In the receiving line were Mrs. Williams, Dean Louise Carter, Virginia Hensley, Lois Deobald and Elaine Anderson.

Mrs. Christensen and Donna Anderson attended the serving table, decorated with spring flowers and tapers. Approximately 50 guests were entertained.

Argonaut Posts Are Decided

Betty Echternach and Pat Miller were appointed co-editors for the Argonaut next semester at a Publications board meeting, ratified by the executive board last night, Fred Watson, president, announced.

Jack Anderson was appointed managing editor, and Elaine Anderson will hold the position of news editor. Howard Reinhardt will be sports editor, and Romaine Galey has been named day editor.

Louise Schlegel was appointed business manager, and Jean Glenn will hold the position of advertising manager.

Other appointments for the Argonaut will be announced next fall.

Home Ec Has Workshop

The Home Economics department is featuring for the summer session the Home Economics Education Workshop. The revision of the Idaho Home-making Teacher's Guide will constitute the major problem of the workshop, which will be of particular interest to the summer directors of Home Economics.

Dr. Henrietta Fleck, head of the Home Economics department at the Illinois State Normal University, will be the consultant. Dr. Fleck has had wide experience in the field of home economics education, particularly in curriculum construction, and her article, "Audio-Visual Aids in Home Economics," has appeared in the May, 1945, "Journal of Home Economics."

Miss Lillian Navratil, State Supervisor of Home Economics Education, from Boise, will also be present at the workshop and will represent Idaho as the consultant. Miss Lucille Magruder, associate professor of home economics, will act as leader of the workshop group. Miss M. Ritchie, head of the Home Economics department, stated that this organized procedure will give graduate credits to students and will also provide an excellent opportunity for teachers either beginning or continuing for their Master's degree. Miss Ritchie will instruct a Home Economics course in the school and community nutrition which will be designed especially for teachers in home economics or other fields, who are interested in school lunch organization and management.

In addition, child development and nutrition courses for undergraduate students will be available.

Group Announces New Officers

Evelyn Thomas was chosen president of Kappa Delta Pi, educational honorary, when the group held elections following the initiation of new members Thursday.

Pat Kulzer will hold the office of vice president, and Dorothy Doumeq is the new secretary. Eloise Deobald was chosen treasurer, and Ruth Presnell, historian.

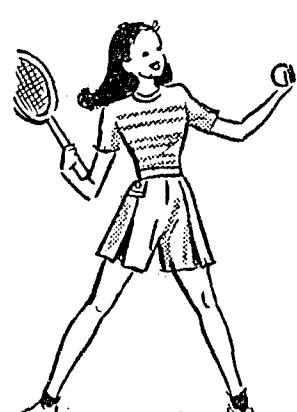

Initiated were Iris May, Rhea Parkinson, Jean Thompson, Joy Ashton, Joella Gage, Mrs. Ruth C. Beck, Ruth Presnell, Eloise Deobald, Dorothy Doumeq, Pat Kulzer, and Evelyn Thomas.

The meeting was held at Forney hall in the suite of Mrs. Minerva Williams.

HEY! WHAT'S THIS?

THIS, SIR, IS A NEW EXPERIENCE IN EATING . . . a wholesome, life-sustaining meal in a compact, cardboard box. Here's how to eat it, in the conventional way . . .

First, slip into some dirty, mud-caked clothes. Grow an itchy three-day beard. Get your feet soaking wet, until they're sore and swollen and occasionally numb.

To sharpen up your appetite, hack your way through a few miles of tangled briars and steamy, bug-ridden jungle. Carry a sack of potatoes on your back, just for realism. And now, supper.

First, that good, hard, brittle biscuit—rich in body fuel, but not exactly a chef's supreme creation. Wash it down with a gulp of bouillon made with stale, lukewarm canteen water. Now for that tin of luncheon meat. (Too bad it can't be studded with cloves or garnished with parsley, or dressed with condiments, isn't it?)

Dessert? Sure—a hunk of rock-hard (but super-nourishing) chocolate. Now a stick of chewing gum, and a cigarette, and your meal is done. No tipping, please.

At this moment, some man you know is probably eating this meal of K-Ration. You, at home, are not asked to share the rigors and perils of battle with him. But you can give him support—by investing in extra War Bonds during the Seventh War Loan Drive, now in progress.

With only two drives instead of three scheduled for this year, every one of us must increase our pledges. More ships are needed, to move our armies into battle. More planes, more guns, more rockets.

And—as we show our gratitude to the men and women in uniform by buying War Bonds, we also help to hasten the day when they can sit down, as you will tonight, to a pleasant meal, in peace.

Cindermen Travel To Midwest For National Track Championships

Two Vandal trackmen are making final plans to travel to the mid-west to get their first taste of big-time cinder competition. The two—John Taylor, 18-year-old Moscow freshman, and Jack Anderson, 20-year-old Sandpoint junior—have been invited to enter the central intercollegiate meet at Great Lakes, Mich., June 2, and the national collegiate meet at Milwaukee, Wis., June 9, Acting Athletic Director Babe Brown announced this week.

Taylor won the high and low hurdles and Anderson the two mile race at the quadrangular northwest meet at Pullman. Anderson won the two mile race in 10:20.8 coming from behind in an exciting finish. Taylor won the high hurdles in 15.2 and the lows in :24.6 finishing yards ahead of opponents on the wet tracks.

Vandals Split Bill With Huskies At Seattle

After absorbing a 9 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Washington Huskies, Friday, Coach Ernie Wohletz's Idaho Vandals recovered their bearings sufficiently enough to turn the tables by a 6 to 1 count in the Saturday fray.

Behind the effective twirling of righthander Sumner Johnson, who scattered nine blows, the Vandals earned an even split in the two-game series by scoring in the first frame on Len Pyne's steal home, and followed with a three-run uprising in the third to hand Johnson his third straight win of the season.

Washington's only score came in the eighth on a pair of successive bingles and a fielder's choice.

In the Friday game, Idaho moved into the lead in the initial canto, but the Seattleites took advantage of Bill Carbaugh's wildness for a trio of runs. The Wohlzetzen rallied momentarily to tie the contest in the fifth, on successive hits by Johnson, Jerry Isaacson and Chuck Henderson, the latter producing a resounding double, but the Huskies again moved ahead by tallying a single run in their half, and put the game away with three more in the seventh.

Isaacson paced Idaho batters Friday with three for four, while Carbaugh poked out a home, his third of the year, in the Saturday classic.

John Taylor Gets This Year's Award Of Dingle Trophy

John Taylor has been voted the recipient of the Dingle trophy, awarded annually to the trackman, who in the eyes of his teammates was the outstanding performer in competition, sportsmanship and character.

This trophy, which is offered by Phi Delta Theta, is in memory of Douglas Dingle, a former Idaho trackman who lost his life in an auto accident in 1941 while on his way to a homecoming game at Boise.

Taylor is the second hurdler man to be awarded the honor. Jay Gano, last year's winner, was also a hurdler. The other winners have all been distance men. Phil Liebowitz won it the first year it was awarded. He was followed by Vic Dyrgall, Lamarr Chapman, Gano and now Taylor.

Trackmen Finish Season In Cellar

Vandal cindermen finished in the cellar of the Northwest Championship meet at Pullman last Saturday, when the University of Washington powered its way to a repeat win with 61 1/2 points. Whitman college V-12 squad was second with 38 1/2 points, Washington State third with 35 1/4, and Idaho trailed with 27 1/2.

John Taylor again led Idaho point makers with flashing wins in both the high and low hurdles, added to a third in the broad jump for a total of 12 points. This total was high for the meet. Leo Schlosser of Whitman seconding with 11.

Carbaugh Tops Hitters, Johnson Leads Hurlers

By RUSS WARD (Sports Statistician)

Despite the loss of two points over the week, blond Bill Carbaugh, Vandal pitcher-outfielder, continues to pace Idaho batters for the third successive week. Carbaugh's .346 average, based on 18 hits in 52 trips to the plate, tops runner-up Len Pyne by .019 points, the latter falling to .327. No other Vandals are found in the .300 circle.

Carbaugh also leads in five other departments—hits, 18; total bases, 35; triples, 3; home runs, 3; and runs-batted-in, 16—while Pyne heads the pack in runs with 19, doubles 5, and stolen bases with 9.

Pitching honors are held by Sum Johnson, who has won three games without defeat, followed by John Dailey with a 2-0 record. Dailey, however, sports the lowest earned run average—1.74. Johnson ranks second in this department with 1.91.

President Dale to Speak

President Harrison C. Dale will deliver the commencement address at Cheney, Wash., on May 27. He will speak on "The American Ideal in Education."

Idaho Seals Hair Baretts

Coach Ramsey said "Chances are we will have to cancel the Missionaries match, and a tentative date for the WSC series has not been agreed upon as yet."

To date the Vandals have won two from the Cougars and dropped one to the Missionaries. The WSC match was to be the season's final engagement.

Netmen To Meet Cougars Again

Rainy weather struck the Idaho netmen twice last week. Friday the match with Whitman Missionaries was rained out as was the match with WSC on Wednesday.

Baseball Letters Are Awarded

Awards for competition in baseball were ratified at executive board meeting held last night, and the recommendations of Coach J. A. Brown were approved.

Students who will receive the awards are: William Carbaugh, John Dailey, Denny Gray, Charles Henderson, Jeff Overholser, Charles Schiffel, Frank Viro, Len Pyne and Jerry Isaacson.

Joint Session Is Scheduled

Plans for the last executive board meeting of the year reveal that the meeting will be a joint session between the board of this year and the newly elected members for 1945-46, Fred Watson, president, announced.

The meeting has been slated for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the ASUI office. Committee chairmen for this year will give reports of their achievements during the past two semesters.

Idaho Forests Call For Workers

Cooks and flunkies will be needed to work in controlling plant disease in the Idaho forests this summer, according to a communication received from the agricultural research administration.

Occupation will extend from May 15 to September 15, and salaries range from $152.08 to $170.32 for flunkies and $170.32 to $225.08 for cooks. A deduction of $1.35 per day will be made for meals. Those who are interested may apply to 618 Realty building, Spokane 8, Wash.

Recipes To Show New Substitute

Six recipes using processed peas as meat substitutes will be demonstrated in the home economics department today.

The work with the food has been done by Florence Marshall Hanney in her work for nutrition. In addition to the six new recipes, the ever-popular pea burger will be prepared. This was developed by Mildred Rowe several years ago in the department. Lieutenant Rowe is now with the United States army as a dietitian.

'Little Fish' Splash In First Show Of 'Stars at Sea'

"Stars of the Sea," a volunteer group of 18 women from university swimming classes held their initial performance last night in the Memorial gymnasium.

Opening the evening's events was the theme song "Andantino," followed by a demonstration of strokes by Beverly Budge and Regina Depner. "Three Little Fishes" was participated in by Edna Burau, Hazel Mooney, Edna Garret and Shirley Williams.

Next on the program was Freda Sparrow, a beginner, swimming to "Swinging On a Star." Belly flops were demonstrated by Clyde Payne and Billie Odberg. A star float to "Night After Night" was performed by the entire group.

Sparking Machine

Sparking machine and riding the rapids was the aquatic stunt of Margaret DeKlotz, Jean Priest and Betty Bohnert. Mary Bockman and Pauline Lundgren participated in rough water swimming to "McGinty."

Shadow swimming to "Me and My Shadow" were Shirley Williams and Barbara Miller. The accordion float to "Star Dust" and flower float to "Sleepy Lagoon" were performed by the group. Gathering the stars to "When You Wish Upon a Star" was the concluding routine, performed by Mary Bockman and Maxine Bjorklund.

Divot Diggers Meet Cougars

Striving to correct a 10-7 setback suffered at the hands of Cougar linksmen last Saturday at Pullman, Idaho golfers will play a return match here Saturday at 8:00 a. m. Vandal fairway men hold two wins over their across the border rivals.

On the Idaho squad are Tom Ryan, team captain; Bud Oylear, Bob Davis, Rich Swanson, Alex Swanson and Bob Amussen.

Juniors in Recital

Presented in a junior recital sponsored by the department of music on Thursday, May 17, were Doris Adams, pianist, and Virginia Transue, mezzo-soprano, with Rose Ascuaga, accompanist. The musical was held in the university auditorium at 8 p.m., and was open to the public.

Club Holds Picnic

Curtain club members held their annual spring picnic Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Marion Featherstone. After the picnic lunch had been served to 13, games were played. Cpl. Ralph Balser was a special guest.

Sigma Nu Wins Intramural Cup

Sigma Nu fraternity won the Intra-mural championship trophy this week, edging out Christman hall, runnersup, by a 934 to 916 margin. One tennis match remains to be played between Russ Ward of Sigma Nu and Buck Bybee of Christman hall. Results of this match will not change standings.

This year saw the resumption of inter-class competition starting with basketball, and finishing up with outdoor tennis.

With the tennis championship currently undecided, Sigma Nu and Phi Gamma Delta are tied for the number of first places won, with two each. Individual sports winners will be presented plaques.

Diamondmen Face Tough Week-end, Finish Season

Idaho's already overworked pitching staff face probably their stiffest games of the season this week, meeting Washington State three times, and flying to Mountain Home Monday in a makeup of the tilt originally scheduled for May 14.

Wash. State, already holder of a one-game lead over the Vandals, moves across the state line tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 on MacLean field for the second contest of the series. Final two games will be played in a double-header at Pullman Saturday morning. A single game on Thursday, announced earlier this week, was moved back by Cougar officials to form the Saturday twin-bill.

Point Getters

Other point-getters in the meet for the Vandals, Art Humphrey, Lewiston freshman, who came through for a fourth in the mile, Ron Kilborn, Mesa, also a freshman speedster, who raked up a third in the 800. Bill Abbott grabbed a third in the platter toss, and Smith appeared fourth in the javelin for the remaining Idaho points.

A cold, cloudy day, with rain just before the meet kept times well inside records.

Washington's relay team finally won that event by four yards after the lead had changed hands five times in the mile long event.

100-yard dash—(WSC), first: McNichols (W), second: Anderson (I), third: Humphrey (I), fourth: Time, 20.8 seconds.
