GOLDEN FLEECE gason Come stroll with me :

Obeying the sterling advice of that master journalist, Horace Greeley, we, the editors of the noble Arg, will be wending our weary way westward into the slanting raya of the setting sun come Saturday, November 3. We have selected as our means of travel, au foot, and will have as our traveling companion the inimitable Darwin. As the silver tones of the clock chimes sound the tocsin of noontide, we three (my echo, my shadow, and Darwin) will swing down the lane. Overhead the southbound geese will be honking, and behind, the westbound traffic will be honking as we stride along breathing deeply of the pneumonia-laden air. Why? We lost. Advice: Don't gamble.

Tickets for this exciting event will be on sail at your near-est boat dock. Come see this feeture. Who will be last? Who will be lost? Who Cares?' How about Miller? (Will it kill 'er?) Will Jack be back? Will Dar-win?²

A friend of ours (yes, we have one) has written a poem just for the occasion and, although we don't understand it, Debates To Begin we reprint it because it expresses our sentiments. The title of this ballad is "HOW THE ARGONAUT EDITORS AND THE STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT WALKED TO PULL- FOR WOMEN MAN BECAUSE THEY LOST A BET ON THE FOOTBALL GAME." Pome:

I'm writing this epic to tell you The Cougar has taken away All the things that I ever rode in, My auto, my horse and my sleigh. I'll be walking and leading a donkey In case I get tired, you know. So if, you don't see me in Pullman I'll be out on my ass in the snow.

"ON THE INSIDE" By JACK GOETZ

This week, the man on the inside is going to touch a on some points which may interest some of his readers. At this time I would like to bring up the question of why Idaho's Gridder's Seeking high school stars go to schools outside of the state of Idaho. this time I would like to bring up the question of why Idaho's Let us take a look-say at a few boys who have really gone places other than our own silver and gold school. Idaho has OSC Victory turned out some football greats as Dean McAdams, Jim Johnson, Bob Kennedy and numerous others who would have been welcomed with outstretched arms at this school.

Apparently those arms weren't quite long enough for those boys went to the U. of Washington and Washington State college, two of Idaho's bitterest rivals in the field of athletics. McAdams scored touchdowns against Idaho in the 1940 and 1941 seasons which sent the gridiron boys of Vandal hill Thursday morning for Cor-home with their tails keenly tucked between their legs. Bob vallis, Oregon, where they Kennedy, a boy from Sandpoint, Idaho, donned the Cougar meet the Beavers this Saturcolors of the cow college and played circles around the Idaho pigskinners going on to make all-American honors two seasons in a row. Could we have used those boys? You form your opinion.

While this subject is at hand let us speculate the reason Oregonians' carried away 13 of for these boys going to the various schools other than our the games, leaving the Vandals own Idaho.

The University of Idaho erected a new stadium in 1937 with a proposed track in the outlined plant. To this day that stadium is not complete for the track is piled high with game, Coach Babe Brown stated, cinders in one end of the horseshoe. While across the state line nine miles Rogers field of Washington State college is a beautiful sight to see with a wonderful track marveled at by many other schools in this northern division conference. While we are on the Cougar campus let us view the massive field house which permits athletes to practice and work out when this hazardous Palouse empire weather strikes.

Back on the Idaho campus let's gaze at the Vandal field house. Fieldhouse, where is it? Hm-m-m, I'm wondering. After viewing a few factors which could have been persuasive instruments for other schools grabbing off this state's outstanding football talent, I'm wondering, are these reasons explanatory? Yes, I'm curious; aren't you?

This week the spotlight focuses on Merril Barnes, right traveling the boys must make be-

Being the only returning letterman of this season, 'Barny" has spent consider able time in the armed forces, spending a good share of it overseas. Merrill was a member of the late Francis Schmidt's 1942 ball club, and from this experience has been a headache in many of the opponents' backfields this season "Barny" hails from Boise,
