The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

The prefabricated houses supposed to become a part of the university living facilities have been so long in putting in an appearance that serious thought is being given to changing their name to prevaricated. These houses are described as being the answer to a married veteran's prayer. Complete with electric refrigerator and household furnishings, they would form the nearest thing to a home that a married vet could have while attending school. After irritated vets sent telegrams in protest to Washington, action was taken and the houses were granted.

But the problem hardly stops there. The houses are still sitting serenely in Richland, Wash., much too far to commute to attend the university. If and when they arrive on the Idaho campus, according to plan, they will be set up in a village on Third and Line streets, better known as the place where the rally bonfires were held. The problem of installing heating and sanitary systems, water pipes and electricity will still have to be faced. The weather is not of the most opportune for such activity now. Sidewalks will have to be built or the walkways will dissolve into a morass of Moscow mud. Frozen ground is not responsive to the pick and shovel, and frost heaving has the embarrassing little trick of making artesian fountains out of broken water pipes.

If the houses should arrive in Moscow tomorrow, present indications point to a snail pace program of placing them in tenable conditions.

Reliable sources indicate an increase in enrollment next semester of nearly 400 students, a substantial portion of them married veterans. With housing facilities already crowded, the situation will be anything but enhanced. It looks as if another unexplained fumble is being added to the docket in the case of the well-intended but poorly executed plans to encourage the enrollment of veterans. G. I. Joe learns quickly, and word of a poor deal spreads fast. We would like to have a big enrollment of ex-service men, but have done very little to promote satisfaction with conditions at the U of I.

According to several veterans on the campus, the entire program seems to fall far short of its intention. Pay checks for the first month have not been received by several, some of whom have dependents.

Veterans are supposed to be civilians, yet under the program are required to attend classes under threat of a cut in subsistence allowances proportional to their missing of classes. During the first World War much talk circulated on what would be done for "our boys." Yet soon after the war, the public forgot the veteran under the lulling vicissitudes of peace. Can the same treatment be accorded veterans of this war? Perhaps all the difficulties cannot be remedied by the university, but adequate living quarters can be expected to be available as the most basic of steps in providing for veterans' education.

William Winter Addresses University Students

William Winter, noted news analyst, chose "All Eyes Look to the East" as the topic for his speech before the university assembly in Memorial gymnasium Wednesday. Winter stressed that ignorance, poverty, and disease were main factors contributing to internal strife and disorders in countries. "These three factors," he said, "appear in India."

While on the subject of India, Winter pointed out the various religious groups which comprise the Indian society. He spoke of the Hindu group with its undemocratic caste system and the more democratic Moslem group.

In stressing the Indian political dilemma, Winter said that there was hope that the planned election in the spring might clear up present conflicts arising between the two majority religious groups over appointment of members to the Indian congress. He explained that a great number of Moslems were also members of the national congress as well as of the Moslem league, and that the Hindus demanded that they have some voice in the election of the five Moslem members to complete the ten delegates to congress.

"China," continued Winter, "is better off than India in that it is more autonomous and has a definite plan for improving its economic status." Winter previously asserted that India had a 15-year plan providing for industrialization but that it could not be put into effect until the British left India because they controlled Indian exports and imports, and therefore, India could not import freely necessary American machinery. However, Winter stressed that if the British were to leave India "there would be a change for the worse."

While talking on Chinese politics Winter said that there were two strong factions in the Kuomintang. One side, he continued, was dominated by Chinese warlords and financial groups, while the leftist group under the leadership of Dr. Sun Fo, son of Sun (Cont. on Page 4, Col. 8)

Home Ec Club Lists Committees For Year's Work

At the Home Economics club business meeting on Monday plans were discussed to finance the exchange of a foreign student in home economics with a university home economics student.

Club officers introduced were Pat Hagan, president; Audrey Hartman, vice president; Virginia Geddes, secretary; Leona Bales, treasurer; Marilyn Daigh, historian; and Twyla Shear, tea chairman.

Standing committees appointed for the year consist of Ora White and Catherine McClun, publicity; Shirley Outly and Deloris Peterson, bulletin board; and Anne Johnston and Joyce Halley, program.

In each house key girls for the club are General Cooper, Alpha Chi Omega; Clair Louise Hale, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Adalin Tait, Alpha Phi; Marion Eisenberg, Pi Beta Phi; Helen Morfitt, Delta Delta Delta; Elizabeth Glenn, Delta Gamma; Bonnie Keuhl, Gamma Phi Beta; Gerry Standfield, Kappa Alpha Theta; Wilma Joyce Hartman, Hays hall; Frances Ward, Forney hall; Elizabeth Wetter, Ridenbaugh hall; and Dorothy Jean Bjorklund, Daida Tau Gamma.

PEM PARTY WELL ATTENDED

Approximately 150 students attended the Pem club party Friday evening, with games of volley ball, badminton, shuffle board and ping pong for entertainment. Folk dancing was also held with Dave Deakins calling the square dances. Cider and doughnuts were served.

First ASUI Play Scheduled For Weekend

Sweetheart Week Is Scheduled By Sigma Chis

Candidates for the traditional title of Sigma Chi sweetheart will be chosen this week, with each women's living group selecting two of its members to compete in the contest.

Wade Fleetwood, Sigma Chi president, announced that the following rules were to be observed: (1) Each women's house will choose two candidates, their names to be turned in at the end of the week, at least tentatively. (2) Any freshman, sophomore, or junior who is registered at the university for the first time is eligible. Seniors are barred. (This is a change from last year's rule, which stated that only freshmen were eligible). (3) Candidates must not be pinned, engaged, or married, and (4) Candidates must be in no way related to Sigma Chi.

At the beginning of the contest, all candidates will be entertained at firesides, luncheons, and dinners. In the latter part of this month, six finalists will be selected. Climaxing the entertainment, the Sigma Chi sweetheart formal will be held December 8. On this occasion the sweetheart will be announced. She will receive the sweetheart pin and her name will be engraved on the traditional cup. Last year's winner was Eve Smith of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Phi Mu Presents "Sinfonia Hour"

"Sinfonia Hour" will be held again this Sunday in the upstairs lounge of the Student Union building at 3 p. m. The program is under the sponsorship of Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary for men. Last Sunday's program, the first in the fall series, was well attended by students, faculty and townspeople. Care has been taken by the members to plan the programs with the tastes and demands of the audiences in mind. Only records of a classical nature will be played.

Joseph Brye, advisor, is in charge of these programs and gives brief introductions before each selection concerning the music, composer and period of writing. It is to be emphasized that it is not necessary that students remain for the entire program. The only requirement is that they do not leave or enter during the playing of a record.

The program for this Sunday will include the Bradenburg Concerto No. 1, by Bach; Excerpts from "Hassan" by Delius; "Brigg Fair" also by Delius, and Benjamin's "Overture to an Italian Comedy."

Sophomores Plan For Holly Dance

Tentative plans for the sophomore class' annual Holly Week are now being made, according to Eve Smith, president of the sophomore class and general chairman for the event. Holly Week will be held from December 10 to 15th, with the assembly on the 14th and the dance the next night.

Assisting Miss Smith as committee chairman is Dorothy Moulton, head of the dance committee. Miss Moulton will be assisted by Carl Neiwirth, Jackie Ritchie, Helene Rogers and Bob Gardner. Leroy Beeson is in charge of publicity, and Vivian McGaughlin and J. P. Mitchell are his committee members.

Head of the assembly is Earl Miller, with Doris Ring, Ted Creason, Jane Thompson and Norma Plass assisting him. Details for the serenade will be handled by Art Riddle, chairman and Peggy Jellison. Finances for the week are in charge of Marilyn Daigh, chairman. Frank Viro and Art Humphrey as committee members.

HOME EC. TO ARRIVE

Ethel Austin Martin and Ruth Bruckner, home economists of the National Dairy Council, Chicago, will be here October 19 to visit and speak to the home economics class.

Margaret Arnold, as Mrs. Bjorne Faulkner, takes the witness stand before J. T. Peterson, cast in the role of District Attorney Flint, while the jury listens to the testimony in a scene from "The Night of January 16." First play of the year to be produced, it will be shown Friday and Saturday.

Pep Assembly Held This Afternoon; Men Receive "I" Club Awards

Student Activities Board will sponsor a pep assembly to be held this afternoon at 4:10 in the auditorium for the purpose of presenting awards to men winning I awards or sweaters. Darwin Brown, ASUI president, will be master of ceremonies and also present sweaters for minor sports. Bill Carbaugh, president of the "I" club, will award track and baseball players their sweaters.

The university band, under the direction of E. J. Marty, will provide music for the assembly. Cheer leaders will lead the assembly in yells and introduce some new ones for the coming basketball season.

Mep to receive varsity track sweaters are W. B. Abbott, LeRoy Beeson, Arthur Humphrey, Ronald Kilborn, Dick McKeivitt, Ben Martin, Dean Mosher, Mike Oswald, and Kenneth Smith will receive his second sweater. Phillip Einhouse, Frank Galey and Dave Stidolph did not return this year but will receive their awards.

Track awards for 1945 will go to W. B. Abbott, Jack Anderson, LeRoy Beeson, Arthur Humphrey, Ronald Kilborn, Dick McKeivitt, Ben Martin, Dean Mosher, Mike Oswald, Bob Smith and Kenneth Smith. Men who did not return but who will receive awards are Phillip Einhouse, Frank Galey, Tom Ryan, John Taylor and David Stidolph.

Baseball awards will be given to Bill Carbaugh, John Dailey, Charles Henderson, Jeff Overholser, Len Pyne, Charles Schiferl, Walt Smith and Frank Viro. Denny Gray, Jerry Isaacson, Sumner Johnson and Richard Ohms are not here but will receive awards.

Tennis awards for 1945 will be presented to Byron Anderson, Bart Chamberlain, Dave Seaberg, Bob Smith, Charles Urban and Irvin Wentworth. Bob Asmusen is not here this year but will also receive an award.

Gold awards will be presented to Bob Davis, Rick Martin, Bud Oylea and Alex Swanson. Bob Asmusen, and Tom Ryan will receive awards although they are not here. Minor sports sweaters for golf awards were ordered for Bob Davis, Rick Martin, Bud Oylea, Tom Ryan and Alex Swanson.

Books To Law Libe

Donation of 94 boxes of law books from the estate of S. S. Gundlach, for many years a practicing attorney of Wallace, was recently made to the university. They were presented to the university law library by Mrs. Gundlach. Included in the lot are some early volumes of Idaho session laws, as well as various sets of law reports, encyclopedias, and numerous legal treaties.

WAA Soccer Ends

WAA soccer came to a close Tuesday night when the juniors were proclaimed winners of the class tournament. In the final game, juniors versus the freshmen, the juniors came out on top with a score of 6-2.

Color team tournament was played off last night with the final score tied at 2-all.

Volleyball practices will begin Monday, November 19.

GRADES

Nine weeks grades may be procured by students not living in group houses from the Dean of their division during the latter part of next week.

The Registrar's office will notify the group houses when the grades are out, and the scholarship chairman of each house may get the grades by taking a list of the students living in the house to the Registrar's office.

SAI to Sponsor Music Reception

New music students will be guests at a reception sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, Monday, November 19, at Hays hall. Program for the evening will include selections by Lucille Thompson, pianist; Iris May, violinist; and Lalene Cargill, mezzo-soprano.

The reception is under the direction of Evelyn Thomas, SAI social chairman. Members of the music faculty, alumnae and patronesses of SAI, will also receive invitations to the reception.

Alvah A. Beecher, head of the music department, states that the number of music majors and minors has increased to 72 and that there are 164 students studying applied music.

I.R. Club to Hear Inflation Topic

"Inflation" will be the topic for panel discussion at International Relations club when the group meets tonight to hear five members of the faculty discuss the current problem.

On the panel will be Dean R. J. Farmer, W. J. Wilde, W. E. Carlson, R. E. Hosack, and B. A. Martin. Short reports on various aspects of the problem will be given, and then the club will join in discussion. Monetary aspect, OPA regulation and labor problems will be included in the discussion.

The meeting will be held from 7 to 8:30 p. m. in the upstairs lounge of the Blue Bucket. Faculty, students, and townspeople are all invited to attend the discussion.

HELL DIVERS PLEDGE FOUR

Allen Smith, Preston Haglin, Eldin Asher and Jim Crockett, members of the NROTC unit, were pledged into Hell Divers this week, according to Joella Gage, president. Initiation will take place Monday.

Miss Collette Presents Drama With Large Cast

When Polly Harris, playing Karen Andre, on trial for the murder of Bjorne Faulkner in the ASUI mystery drama, "Night of January 16th," is brought on stage by the prison matron in tomorrow and Saturday nights' productions, she will be wondering how the jury, drawn by lot from the audience at the beginning of the play, will decide her fate during the short interval during the third act.

IKs To Sponsor Sport Dance

The Intercollegiate Knights will sponsor a "Harvest Time" sport dance, Friday, November 16. Dancing to the music of Mark Barnett's band will begin at 9 p. m. in the Blue Bucket ballroom.

Don Collins, president of the organization, stated that the dance will be strictly a sport affair, and not a "come as you are" affair as was previously announced. Tickets are on sale in all the men's houses.

Committee heads include Reed Brown, programs; Alex Swanson, patrons and patronesses; Don King, orchestra; Jim Pierce, publicity, and John Dailey and Charles Urban, decorations.

Medical Man Visits On "Goodwill Tour"

Visiting the campus on a "goodwill tour" Tuesday was W. B. Parker, registrar for the Washington school of medicine at St. Louis, Mo. While here, Parker praised the work of the University of Idaho pre-medical students attending the school of medicine and spoke to faculty members regarding recommendations of students made by them.

During the last 10 years, fourteen Idaho graduates have continued their studies at the school. Graduating from the school last year was Eugene Taylor, stationed there under an army program. Taylor was graduated fifth in a class of 73. Ralph Luce, another former Idaho student, is studying there now.

Gale Mix Returns To The U. of I.

Resuming the position of graduate manager for the university after three years of military service is Gale Mix, who will replace Ted Sherman, acting graduate manager since 1943. Mix will begin his duties Saturday.

A native of Moscow and graduate of the University of Idaho, Mix took over the position in the spring of 1939. He is a son of the late G. P. Mix, former lieutenant-governor of Idaho. Formerly Major Mix of the supreme headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, he spent most of his overseas service in Paris, London and Frankfurt, Germany, although he has been over most of Europe. He was placed on terminal leave October 5 at Ft. Douglas.

Dividing his time this semester between showing Mix "the ropes" once more and teaching English, Sherman will resume a full-time position next semester in the English department from which he has been on leave of absence. He received his master's degree at the University of Idaho and considers Moscow as his home town.

Spurs Fete Former Members Sunday

Following established tradition, Spurs of last year will be guests of 1945-46 members Sunday at a breakfast which will be held at the Moscow hotel. Other special guests will be Mrs. E. J. Marty, Spur sponsor, and Dean Louise Carter. Chairman of the event is Barbara Spaeth.

Spurs working on arrangements for the breakfast are Pat Still, Helene Rogers and Elizabeth Robinson.

A luncheon meeting was held yesterday at the Blue Bucket. Plans were made to sell in the houses on Wednesday evenings. Spurs will usher at the ASUI play this week-end.

J. T. Peterson, who plays District Attorney Flint, will be watching the faces of the jurors as they re-enter to cast their verdict for some clue that will tell him if he has presented a successful case. Bob Booth, as Defense Attorney Stevens, will be hoping and awaiting the two words that will save the life of Miss Andre.

Not even Miss Jean Collette, director of the play, can guess which of the two short endings being prepared, one for either verdict, will be used.

Tickets, all of which are for reserved seats, for the two performances are still available at the Student Book Store for the number 5 ASUI ticket or 50 cents. Tickets are also available at Hodgkin's drug store. The play will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m. in the university auditorium.

Others with important roles in the play are Don Frei, as gangster Larry Regan; Margaret Arnold, as Nancy Lee Faulkner, wife of the deceased; and Edward Dalva, as John Graham Whitfield, her wealthy father.

Witnesses in the trial are portrayed by Patty Kulzer, who plays a Swedish housekeeper; Maurice Paulsen, a Swedish secretary; Jean Kittenbach, a colored janitress; Arthur Grindon, a doctor; Mike Oswald, a detective; Gilbert Eimers, a policeman; Laura Burns, a gangster's moll; and Shirley Brandt, a handwriting expert. Court officials and attendants are Marvin Triger as Judge Heath; Mary Stanek, the prison matron; Stanley Schmidt, the bailiff; Maxine Webb, secretary to the district attorney; Jerry Porter, secretary to the defense attorney; William Gudmundson, clerk of the court; Betty Smith, court stenographer; and Jay Wilson, policeman.

The performances this week conclude six weeks of rehearsal and preparations by the entire cast and technical staff. Heading the technical staff are Elizabeth Hadley and Lois Fox, assistants to the director. Louise King is stage manager; Mary Stanek and Betty Smith are technical directors. Patty Robinson and Maxine Webb head the costume and property committees respectively. James Wolter and Angus McKay are electricians, and Elaine Anderson is in charge of makeup.

Engineers Choose New Officers

Robert Olsen was elected president of the civil engineers at a meeting held Thursday evening. Patrick McCormick was chosen vice president; George Komoto, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Peering, representative to the engineering council.

Elected faculty advisor for the organization was Prof. G. A. Riedesel and city engineer William P. Hughes of Lewiston was elected as contact man with the civil engineering profession.

Following the business meeting, Professor Riedesel gave a talk on the Springton dam and storage reservoir proposed by the army engineers.

TESTS

The required entrance psychological examination will be given for the last time this semester on Saturday, November 17, at 10 a. m. Names of students who have not taken the test and the rooms to which they should report are posted on the various bulletin boards in the campus buildings. Consult these bulletin boards and be at the designated place on time for your test.

Herewith is a letter from a veteran on the campus. We believe it makes an editorial in itself without further comment.

What kind of world are we living in, that we have to be in so big a rush to get an education that we can't observe holidays? Far greater and wiser men and women than we have at this university set aside some ten or fifteen days a year to be observed as a holiday.

First let us give some definitions of a holiday:

1. A day of religious festival.
2. A day of gaiety and joy in celebration of some national or religious event.
3. A day of freedom from labor.
4. A day legally set aside by the government for suspension of business, often in celebration of a great event.

Take your choice, any one of these definitions, according to the dictionary, warrants the dismissal of school on a day which is officially designated as a holiday. This all brings us up to one point. Why didn't the University of Idaho observe Armistice Day? Don't you think that we could at least give one day a year to remember or commemorate the date of the cessation of hostilities of World War I? Certainly the men who fought this war didn't forget it. Should we?

This brings us to another point. On Thursday, November 22 of this year, we are having a day set aside by the nation and the university called Thanksgiving. This is a day for gratitude and praise to God in return for his blessings and mercies. Most of our homes are not in Moscow or near where we can reach them in a couple of hours. A great many of us can reach our homes in a half a day or day's journey. Thus if we were allowed to have both Thursday and Friday off, the dream of Thanksgiving at home could become a reality.

This paragraph is dedicated to those who say that we cannot have the time off to go home for Thanksgiving. You see there are several of us in this school who haven't spent a Thanksgiving with our loved ones for several years. There are, amidst our ranks, several who at times have thought they would never live to see another festivity at home. I do hope that you who are responsible for the running of this university see our point and let us take the time off legally. With your permission we will really celebrate this Thanksgiving in true style.

Magazine Chooses Representative

Louise Schlegel has been chosen to represent the University of Idaho on the college board of Mademoiselle magazine. The board, composed of representatives from each college or university, reports on current activities, new trends, and social aspects of college women.

Miss Schlegel was chosen from those sending in reports of news on the campus, personal snapshots, college address and home address, class year, and extra-curricular activities.

Young Addresses Forester's Club

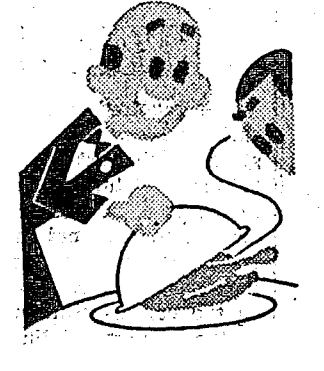

First meeting of the Foresters club was held Tuesday evening in Morrill hall. Dr. Vernon Young, professor at the university, gave a lecture on range management and its association with forest service, Taylor grazing service, soil conservation service, Indian service and game management. His talk was illustrated with colored slides.

The social calendar for the year includes: the forestry dance to be held next semester, Paul Wyckert, chairman; banquet, Ken Farnsworth, chairman; barbecue, George Nitz, chairman.

Forestry week will be held in May this year. This is an annual event originated by the school of forestry in 1940.

Undoubtedly the continued foul wind will be blowing about the time you fish this week's edition of the Argonaut. Arr out of the waste basket, so we'll ride in on the gale with the latest communique from the Willis Sweet theater of operations. Ouch! Got an icicle in my arctics.

Last week-end found some 125 sea faring Vandals dropping their books and slates to accept the invitation of the commanding officer at Farragut to shake a limb in honor of the center's Idaho Day. Playing for the Friday evening hop was Jan Garber's — strictly from hunger and we were before rationing — orchestra. Much appreciation should be expressed to the Farragut command for a banded-up job on arrangements.

If you'd like to see what a sailor looks like when he exchanges civies for the traditional blues, be sure to take in Idaho's first dramatic endeavor of the year, "The Night of January 18" Friday and Saturday nights. Kings for Two Nights will be trainees Frel, Grindon and Paulsen. Representing the navy backstage are Wolter, Haglin and McKay, so if the lights go out unexpectedly you'll know one of the boys was just obliterating a buddy.

A new arrival to the unit Monday was Lt. J. L. Willhide who replaces Lt. F. L. Gilman. Lieutenant Gilman is to be discharged, and all hands celebrate with him in his good fortune.

Save the date of December 8 if your boy friend is an R.O. Tentatively scheduled is a formal hop to be held on the upper deck of the renowned Blue Bucket. Arrangements are being taken care of by Lieutenant Smythe, welfare officer, with trainees Swenson and Altmeyer assisting.

Since no one seems to have an axe to grind this week we'll offer a sea story, presumably picked up during your correspondents' extensive service with the fleet. (Don't let anyone kid you, I still think twice before I miss a salute on a chief). . . Seems this new Ensign heard an enlisted man refer to the deck as a "floor." "Better not let the Captain hear you call that deck a floor," quoth the Ensign, "or he'll pick you up and throw you out one of those little windows in the wall."

Speaking of throwing people out windows, the fellows had better never catch the individual, allegedly a civilian, who took the navy mascot to police headquarters with the request that he be exterminated. Friendly Frieta, who

Wilson Returns To Department

H. L. Wilson, former member of the university faculty, has returned to the English department after serving in the army signal corps and air force for 37 months. He entered the service in September, 1943, as a private and was discharged October 7, 1945, with the rank of technical sergeant in radio intelligence.

Thirty months of his army career were spent in India and China with the 10 and 14 air forces. In India, he was stationed near Calcutta and Mr. Wilson stated that he liked the Indian people and enjoyed his stay in that country much more than in China. He did find the climate in China superior to that of India with its intense heat and humidity. He said the climate near Kumping, China, was comparable to that of Moscow in the best part of the summer.

The University of Oregon has passed another milestone. Oregon was 69 years old on October 16, followed R.O.'s from one end of the campus to the other, has gone where good dogs go; if the Moscow navy ever finds the person responsible, he may take a sentimental journey himself.

And with that we'll throw up a fast get-away smoke screen. Hope you didn't get bilged at mid-semester, and we'll see you next week.

Here's Your Argonaut Poll About The Yawn Patrol

"Yawn Patrol" broadcast by KUOI, will soon be running a close second to KWSC's "Coffee-pot Parade" in popularity with Idaho students according to a recent poll of campus opinion. "Keep up the good work!" was almost the unanimous vote of those questioned in regard to it and other programs presented by the station, although some improvements were suggested. Here's what was said:

Jackie Shiell: "It's all right—I see no reason why it couldn't be as successful as KWSC."

Joe Rumble: "There seems to be a lot of static but the programs are pretty good."

Louise Schlegel: "It's a fine idea. More home talent could be used and reception isn't too good."

Maizie McClaran: "They should furnish music for some of the exchanges and campus dances."

Wade Fleetwood: "If the announcer's voice is any better than KWSC's, and it is, more power to it!"

Cev Bates: "With a little enthusiasm behind it, it could rival KWSC!"

Jack Roberts: "The music is fine and it has great possibilities. Campus talent could be used on programs."

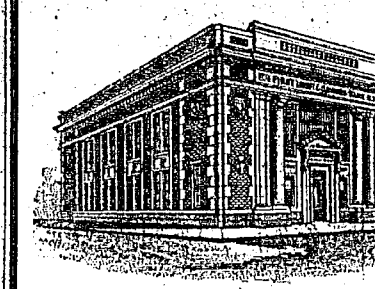

Dona Harding: "I think it is very good. Voices sometimes sound a little hollow."

Bill Adams: "Programs are very well done. It should definitely be continued and expanded."

Joey Collins: "I enjoyed the request programs. They're doing a good job!"

SOCIALLY SPEAKING

Plans are being made by Alpha Tau Omega for a Thanksgiving dinner to be held Sunday. House guests over the week-end was Jim Williams, Malad, who is enroute to Chicago, Ill.

Saturday night is the date scheduled for the Phi Gamma Delta fireside, with plans being made by Allen Stanley, social chairman.

Alpha Chi Omega's annual snow-hall flight with Sigma Chi was held Wednesday. Marie Robertson from Genesee was a guest at dinner Sunday. An exchange will be held with Alpha Tau Omega on Friday.

Delta Delta Delta held a tea for Mrs. Edna Gardner, house-mother, Sunday. Mrs. Eugene Taylor, Mary Jane Hawley and Mrs. Gardner were in the receiving line, and Mrs. W. C. Banks and Mrs. Beth Parks poured. Music was the entertainment furnished by Beverly Anderson and LaVon Brasse, piano; Shirley Anne Moreland and Jean Reichow, songs; and Clara Rowell, viola. An exchange was held with Sigma Chi Wednesday evening.

Wednesday evening dinner guests at Kappa Alpha Theta were Frances Butler and Barbara Barton. An exchange was held yesterday with Delta Tau Delta. Virgil Miller, Walla Walla, Wash., was a Sunday dinner guest.

Pi Beta Phi will hold its traditional coke date exchange with Delta Tau Delta this Friday from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. Thursday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Lemon and Donna Chapman. Sunday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, Betty Cain, Wayne Stewart, Buhl; Bud Davis and Skip Stubenrauch, Farragut.

John Reid was a dinner guest at Forney hall Wednesday evening. Mary Jane Duthie, Coeur d'Alene, was a week-end guest and Eve Smith, Don Ackerman and Maurice Paulsen were dinner guests Sunday.

Founder's Day fireside was held Thursday night at Gamma Phi Beta honoring the alumnae. There was an exchange Wednesday evening with Sigma Chi and a fireside Friday night. Russell Short, pharmacist's mate 3/c, Moscow, was a dinner guest Sunday.

Guests at Ridenbaugh hall Sunday were Pfc. and Mrs. Callan Phillips, Idaho Falls; Thelma Rice, Winifred Watson and Betty Cain.

Pullman Promotes Schwendiman

Promotion of John L. Schwendiman to the management of the Pullman soil conservation nursery was announced last week by A. L. Hafenrichter of Portland, Ore. Schwendiman is a graduate of the college of agriculture of the University of Idaho and took graduate work in agronomy at Washington State College. He did social service and missionary work in Europe from 1929 to 1932, and has worked at the Pullman nursery, testing grasses and legumes, for the past ten years.

PLEDGES PRESENT MUSICAL

Pledges of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, will present a musicale Friday evening, November 26, at the home of one of the patronesses of the organization.

Appearing on the program will be the pledges who will be initiated this fall. They are Billie Adamson and Dorothy Monico, sopranos; Virginia Transue, mezzo-soprano; and Rosie Ascuaga, pianist.

WHO CARES

Bloody, but unbowed by half a week of gruelling grilling we lift our knowledge-stuffed noggin, take another No-Doze and look with a wry smile at the carefree couples carousing around the campus with no thought of Chaucer, calories or compound interest. "Lucky dogs," we murmur fervently as Glen Talbot, Tom Curtis, Fren Clancy and Dorothy Moulton cruise by in their "super-air-conditioned" Model 7 car. A normal person would freeze in a car with no top, little sides and very little else, but after a hard day over the stove at Hays a ride in the "Refrigerator" is very invigorating.

Speaking of invigorating, those purple, yellow and blue shirts that Bob Fleming and Dick Frazier from ATO wear shouldn't fool anyone. They are really pajama tops straight from J. C. Penneys. All we can say is "Wow!" Unquote.

Hear tell the Hayes-Forney girls just can't sleep until they have bid 'night to two nightly passer-byers. Each night the windows are quickly crowded in answer to a sugared wolf cry originating from yon street as Phil Litzenger and Warren Shepherd trudge homeward. Ah, sweet goodnights!

Shades of our childhood! Have you seen Lalene Cargill, Annabelle Morre, Pat Harris and Lucille Nelson, looking as if they had just had words with a Mac truck? Out frolicing in the snow, the girls got fancy and tried coming down the Theta hill standing on their sled. But if you think those Thetas look bruised, you should see the barber shop they tangled with.

When and if it takes place, the stocking of Bob Jasper will be more of an all-campus project than a select torture session by the Sigma Chis. Come 'Hallowe'en some spook set hid the "rack" to parts unknown and it hasn't been seen since. Now the house on top of the hill is issuing an urgent call, with a liberal reward attached, to anyone who returns it. P.S. It's no use asking Naomi Hobza, she already told us she didn't hide it.

So help us we heard about the man who stole two bottles of perfume and was arrested for fragrance.

Attention Babe Brown, if you overlook Myra Ritchie, a Ridenbaugh Miss, you're missing a good bet for the baseball team. "Babe Lou" as her friends call her, stands on the ground floor and heaves her boots up to second with unerring accuracy. No wonder they say it's exciting to live at Ridenbaugh.

If the person who left bare footprints in the snow between the Nest and the Kappa Sig house would turn in his name at the Argonaut office, we have a non-matching pair of size 9 saddles we would be glad to contribute. Shoe matching pair of size 9 saddles we Did anyone hear what became of the strange case of Marian Stillinger and her four simultaneously returning boy-friends? When last seen Marian was buying a one-way ticket for the Russian steppes.

Very much against her will she found herself in the arms of her fiance's college pal. Before she could struggle free he had stolen a kiss.

"Don't!" she cried dramatically. "My lips are for another!"

"Sure thing, beautiful," he murmured, "pucker up and I'll give you another."

Miss Wilson Tells Of Engagement

The engagement of Miss Bette Jean Wilson to Leonard Pyne, Sigma Nu, was revealed to Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters at a dinner October 31.

Miss Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wilson, is a sophomore in the school of letters and science. Pyne, a prominent athlete and president of the senior class, is a senior enrolled in the school of education. Both students are from Spokane.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

used for some time and that dust was present and thick so she put on the old "you go first" expression and waited until the escape hatch was thoroughly dusted before making her descent. Now, we wonder, would she wait if the flames were licking her heels?

Come muster at Willis Sweet hall a familiar face will be missing in the ranks. "Whose? None other than the cheerful countenance of Freddie, alias, Frieta, the mascot of the NRO's. Seems no one bothered to tell said pooch the difference between dog-catchers and other friendly citizens. A lady and a friend has passed from the life of each saller.

Notice, contrary to public opinion, Bert Dingle is not driving around in a coal stove. That contraction runs strictly on skim milk and lighter fluid.

Also notice, J. P. Mitchell is not married! He is 6 feet, one inch, wait 186 kilograms. Heart trouble (constantly). Intentions — honorable.

CHURCH BREVITIES

The Rev. Neal Nelson spoke on "Luther, a Man of Destiny" at the regular meeting of the Lutheran church group Sunday evening. Mildred Eide was in charge of supper and entertainment. The Lutheran church choir will present a concert next Sunday evening after which the Lutheran student association will serve supper. Plans are being made to attend an open house at the Lutheran chapter at Pullman in the near future.

"Happiness" was the topic of the devotional led by Geneva Ferguson at the regular meeting of the Roger Williams club Sunday evening at the First Baptist church. Adson Starnier and Art Humphrey were in charge of the social hour and refreshments were served by Carol Waterman and Mary Howard.

Reverend Warren E. Fowler will conduct the devotional at the meeting of the Canterbury society November 20. Communion services for all Episcopal students will be held at the rectory at 7 a. m. November 21.

Christian Science students met in the church Tuesday night, November 6, for the purpose of reorganizing the Sentinel club. The following officers were elected: Shirley Oakley, president and reader; Dorothy Moulton, vice-president; Helen Jean Terry, secretary-treasurer; Marjorie Ring, social chairman; and Dorothy Van Engelen, musician. Meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

Westminster Guild cabinet officers and key girls were entertained at a buffet supper in the home of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Furnas, Tuesday, November 6. Those present were Vera Anderson, Jean Denman, Betty Ann Craggs, Nola Wybank, Jane Thompson, Donna Harding, Phyllis Bristow, Shirley Yenner, Evelyn Deering, Pat Still, Beverly Simon, Elaine Smith, Marion Eisshauer and Wilma Joyce Hartman.

A dinner meeting of the Guild is being planned for Tuesday at 5:45 in the Presbyterian church basement. The guest speaker for the evening will be H. C. Harnsworth, who will speak on "The Home Tomorrow." Music for the dinner hour is being planned by Marian Stillinger.

Twelve members of the Wesley Foundation, accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Mildred Bliss, attended the Third Biennial Convocation of the Pacific Northwest Conference of the Methodist Youth Fellowship last week-end. The conference began Friday at the Central Methodist church in Spokane and was concluded Sunday morning. Theme of the conference was "Youth Crusading for Christ." Outstanding speakers were Karl Down, president of the Samuel Houston College in Austin, Texas, and Perry Saito, of Bloomington, Illinois, who was president of the Vancouver District in 1943. Jane Meyer, who attended with the group from Moscow, was sustained as vice president of the Methodist Student Movement, a part of the Youth Fellowship. Those who attended were Caroline Clear, Margaret Justice, Verna Greenly, Marion Hallock, Berdine Taylor, Mary Tokatori, Jean Seitz, Caroline Phillips, Edith Shock, Maxine Bassett, Jane Meyer and Bob Hardin. Sunday evening the program for Wesley Foundation will be under the direction of Jerry Johnson and Burton Sanders. Both men were active members of the club before entering the service.

Check and Double-check

Have you ever noticed that whenever two trains pass, freight or passenger, a trainman will signal, with hand or lantern, to the trainman at the rear of the other train?

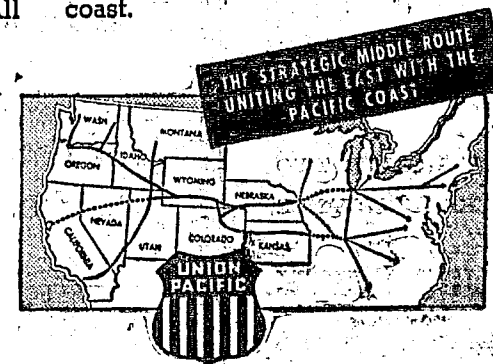

This is not merely a friendly gesture. Each man makes a careful visual inspection of the other's train while it passes. Then he signals that all is well or that he has spotted some defect.

This is just one phase of a continuous "check and double check" system. All Union Pacific trains are thoroughly inspected before leaving terminal points . . . all station agents check each train as it passes. Even track crews, along the right of way, are alert to spot any sign of trouble.

Thus, Union Pacific trains are checked time and time again as they transport passengers and freight over the Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the mid-West and the Pacific coast.

"ON THE INSIDE"

By JACK GOETZ and WALLY SHULTZ

An "across the table" discussion on Idaho athletics, as a whole, is the feature of the Insiders this week.

"While the subject is at hand, Wally, in your estimation, what is your conception of why Idaho's name is found constantly at the bottom of the list in conference standings?"

"There is no doubt in my mind, Jack, that there is a deficiency along the promotional line somewhere!"

"Wally, just what do you mean by the lack of promotion?"

"As was indicated in last week's issue, I believe that if we had 100 per cent backing, Jack, of the high school coaches of the state, we would have enough material on hand to develop the caliber of athletics that would be a constant threat to other members of the Pacific Coast Conference."

"Do you actually believe, Wally, that if the coaches urged the Idaho boys to attend the University of Idaho, that those boys would come to the university rather than go to schools outside the state?"

"Yes, Jack, I believe that with the respect that the boys have gained from their coaches through four years of high school competition, that if a suggestion were made to a prospective athlete by his coach, concerning the institution that he should attend, the boy would more than likely take advantage of the coach's knowledge along those lines."

"Wally, I don't believe that Idaho will see athletes here until facilities are erected to equal the facilities of opposing schools of the Pacific Coast Conference."

"Yes, Jack, again I agree with you in the respect that there must be a reason why the various high school coaches do not support this institution, and I believe that you have hit the proverbial nail on the head. It is also my belief that when facilities are available to all types of athletics both the major and minor, we will have the backing of the coaches of this state. It appears as though it is the old reaction of the father who wants to give his son something he did not have, by virtue of the lack of athletic facilities of this school."

"You are totally right, Wally, in your opinion, but just how can you see an athletic plant suitable to conference competition being installed in this school?"

"It is apparent, Jack, that I am not the only one who has considered this problem, or the facilities we have on hand at the present time would not be here. Was not seven thousand dollars turned back to the Board of Regents? Yes, we all read where this amount of money was returned to the Board of Regents, and my question is why couldn't this amount have been used in bettering the various facilities around the school?"

"I am certainly agreeable with you Wally, on this subject, and it is my belief that this question deserves a great deal of consideration and thought, not only by us, but many others connected with the University of Idaho."

"I believe, Jack, that you have hit upon a point that has been discussed by more people than merely you and me. If less talking and more action were undertaken this question would undoubtedly be solved by its result."

Inland Empire Harrier Championship Meet Here

Cross country coach Mike Ryan announces the running of the First Annual Inland Empire Intercollegiate cross country championships Friday, November 16, 2:30 p. m. The same afternoon, immediately following the college race, the third annual High School championships will be run to determine the Inland Empire champions in both Intercollegiate and also Interscholastic circles.

The rugged, one mile course laid out at the University golf course will be the place of the activity, with the Collegians making four round trips, while the high school race will only call for two laps of the finely conditioned course. In the Intercollegiate race so far, the entries show four colleges indicating their desire to enter teams in the event. There will be representative teams from the University of Idaho, Washington State college, Eastern Washington College of Education and Whitman college.

Tune-up races with the other three schools mentioned above were scheduled, but due to conditions beyond the control of any party concerned, the only competition for the Vandal harriers this fall was the overwhelming victory over the Washington State Cougars.

In the Interscholastic division, a large representation is expected, as a large number of high schools have sent in entries with some schools entering as many as three teams. The following schools have sent in entries: Moscow, Lewiston, Clarkston, Genesee, Walla Walla, Lewis and Clark of Spokane, Yakima High of Washington, Coeur d'Alene, Kellogg, Rathdrum, Sandpoint and Bonners Ferry. Last year Lewis and Clark of Spokane were the winners with Moscow High taking over the runner-up spot. Following the high school race, there will be a banquet held in honor of the high school harriers at the Moscow hotel and immediately following the banquet, they will be the guests of Mr. Milburn Kenworthy at the Kenworthy theatre.

Bill Taubeneck who, at the time of the WSC cross country race, was believed to have been stricken with an attack of appendicitis, was later found to have pulled a muscle in his stomach. Although he is progressing well, he will not be on hand for the Inland Empire championships this Friday.

Although the inclemencies in the weather have hampered the training of the harriers, all other schools were faced with the same situation making the races fair to all. The idea behind cross country racing is the marvelous conditioner that it is for not only runners, but most other athletes as well. Cross country racing is no fair weather sport as has been indicated by the members of the team who have been running daily in rain, snow, or sunshine.

The Inland Empire Cross Country Championships, which is co-sponsored by the University of Idaho and the Idaho Ad club, is the last competition for the cross country enthusiasts prior to the Graduate Writes Of Program At Westinghouse

Professor H. F. Gauss recently received a letter from Fred Watson, university graduate of last year in mechanical engineering and ASUI president, who is now employed by the Westinghouse Manufacturing company in Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Watson wrote about the Westinghouse student program, of which he is a member, and about the several other University of Idaho graduates who are employed by the same company.

He said that the student program at Westinghouse consists of a series of assignments for the new engineers in different parts of the plant in order that they might learn the functions and procedures. About 40 engineers from all over the country are taking this training.

The Idaho men at Westinghouse got together last August and had a picnic, Mr. Watson said. They included Keith L. Freeman, Kamiah, who graduated in 1942; Leslie H. Gillette, Lewiston, 1938; Harvey Glick, Pocatello, 1942; Ivar Holliday, Boise, 1944; Ted Hunt; Payette, 1944; Edward E. Lacy, Rupert, 1941; Paul Mann, Lewiston, 1938; Harold C. Martindale, Boise, 1945; and Fred Watson, Paul, 1945. These men are all graduates of the University of Idaho college of engineering.

Annual Pacific Coast Cross Country Championships held Thanksgiving day in Spokane, Wash. Thursday evening 10:30 p. m., the sport casters of radio station KFPY have asked Mike Ryan to express his views concerning both the Inland Empire Championships and also the Pacific Coast Championships. This will be a fifteen minute transcribed broadcast which no doubt will reveal some very interesting phases of cross country racing.

Golf Tourney In Semi-Final Stage

Entering the final stage of the university golf championship we find Don Bullock and Wally Shultz pairing off in the final match. In the semi-finals Bullock was pitted against George Weitz to come out on top by a narrow margin, and in his semi-final match Shultz matched his skill against that of Alex Swanson to seek out a close decision.

With the lack of cooperation from Old Man Weather, it appears as though this final match may be delayed until spring.

The object of holding this university golf championship was to determine what type of material was on hand. Professional Frank James declares that there is enough material on hand to put out a first class golf team next spring.

President Chosen For Honorary

Judy Boone was chosen president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medical honorary, at a recent election. Other officers include Evelyn Deering, vice-president; and Maxine Miller, secretary.

Dr. William Cone was chosen to be the faculty advisor of this group, replacing Dr. Walter Stephens, who will continue as honorary member. A newly chosen honorary member is Dr. William B. Audrey of the bacteriology department.

The members plan to hold luncheon meetings the first Thursday of the month and to obtain scientific films which will be shown to pre-medical majors and others who are interested.

BURGESS DIES IN SINKING
Word has been received of the death of Robert R. Burgess, former navy student at the university. Burgess was killed January 24 when his ship, the USS Extractor, was mistakenly sunk by an American submarine. Out of a crew of 60, 54 survivors were picked up. Burgess was stationed in Moscow from September, 1943, until April, 1944.

Vandals Travel To Seattle To Wind Up Mediocre Season

After meeting defeat for the second time at the hands of the Farragut Bluejackets, the Vandal football machine moves to Seattle this Saturday where they wind up their season against the Washington Huskies.

With the hazardous weather hampering travel and playing conditions the Vandals met defeat 14-6 at Farragut last Saturday. Commenting on the game Coach Babe Brown said, "The boys played a good game with the exception of the pass defense. Washington will be tough this week due to the 7-6 Husky loss to the Oregon State Beavers last Saturday," he went on to say.

Entraining at 5:15 Thursday evening, the following men will travel to Seattle: Backs—Shepherd, Steelhead, Pasch, Garner, Johnson, Hatch, Sweet, Ringgenberg, Litzberger; linemen—Heap, Cochran, Brown, Bailey, Saras, Warner, Viro, White, Last,
