The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

We recently read with considerable interest the statement made by Dr. Delbert Oberteuffer, mens PE director at the University of Ohio, that "perhaps the ancient and honorable profession of cheerleading is going out of fashion." Dr. Oberteuffer went on to defend his statement by saying that cheering on an organized basis created a synthetic atmosphere of enthusiasm, and that it was discourteous to the opposing team.

On seeing some of the yells (you almost had to see them, for you could barely hear them) that have lightly fanned the cobwebs in Memorial gym this season, we think the good doctor has a point. We do not necessarily blame either the yell leaders or the students for the fact that the roof is still sitting serenely on the gym. The yells which we feebly try to mouth are either monosyllabic and come out brokenly like a Cherokee war cry; or are a complex maze of phonetic antiquity which when rendered by 500 persons produces the nearest thing to what must have gone on during the construction of the tower of Babel.

The nebulous thing called "school spirit" has lived an emaciated life the past few years on the Idaho campus. A defeatist attitude has grown up, and various explanations and rationalizations have been offered, some condemning the facilities, some saying we are in the wrong league; and others merely shrugging off athletic losses with a "what the hell" attitude.

This year we have a chance to come out of the doldrums. With student support fully behind it, the Vandal basketball team can go places. School spirit does not mean cheering for the team when it is winning, but it means encouragement when the boys are behind and need a lift to come through with a victory. It also means acknowledgment of a good performance when it has been given. Don't be afraid to compliment the individuals on the squad if they've played a sharp game; they won't get the big head over it, but it will help add confidence to know the student body is behind the team.

As to the Doc's contention that yelling violates Emily Post's creed about conduct toward visiting teams, we hardly can agree. Yelling has advanced admirably in refinement since the days when Placostone rooters would bounce a rock off the opposing forwards head to show their disapproval. We are reminded of the oldtime sanguinary cherries such as:

Smash their bones,
Kick 'em in the jaw
Leave their face
Raw, raw, raw!

Modern yells content themselves with occasional aspirations as to the relative state of temperature of the opposition, and frantic appeals for the home-team get rolling. It is our opinion that a few more snappy yells are needed to get away from the old Rah! Rah! Team! approach.

Students Attend All-Campus Dance

Approximately 250 students attended the first in the series of sport dances, sponsored by the student activities board, Friday, in the Blue Bucket ballroom. Music was furnished by Mark Barnett's orchestra, and Mrs. H. P. Magnuson was patroness.

The second of the all-campus dances is scheduled for Friday, January 25, immediately following the Idaho-Oregon State game. Tickets will be 75 cents per couple and may be purchased at the door. Mark Barnett's orchestra will again furnish music for the evening.

PICTURES

With the deadline for taking pictures set as January 30, editor Marion Dykman of the Gem urges all students to make appointments at Hutchison's studio immediately. Students living in town are especially asked to have pictures taken now. Proofs of pictures already taken should be returned to the studio as soon as possible.

First Conference Home Games Are With U of W; 'Atom Bomb' Dance Scheduled For This Saturday

Nickel Hop Proceeds Go For Ski Lodge Curtains

Women students will hold open house for all university men Friday night when the Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, sponsor the semi-annual Nickel Hop. Starting time of the dance has been set as 10 p.m. following the Idaho-Washington game.

Cadets in the NROTC unit have been granted late permission to attend the hop. The dance will end at 12 midnight.

General chairman Louise Cosgriff announced tickets will be on sale today and tomorrow in the lounge of the student union. Men may purchase tickets which may be used at all houses for one 20-minute interval. Price of these tickets is 25 cents. Other tickets, costing a nickel, may be purchased as men enter the houses from Spurs who will be taking tickets.

The former type is good for only one 20 minute period. Spurs in each women's house will be in charge of the dance. At the end of each 20 minutes, a bell will be rung. Men are requested to attend as many houses as possible during the evening.

The dance is a sport affair, and women will wear skirts and sweaters. Proceeds from the hop will be used by the organization to purchase curtains for the university ski lodge, now being equipped for student use.

Working with chairman of the dance has been Shirley Brandt as publicity chairman. Other Spurs on the committee are Maxine Bjorklund, Marilyn Daigh, Pat Bride-well, and Vivian McLaughlin. Publicity stunt to advertise the dance was done by Louise Cosgriff, Barbara Spaeth, and Frances Rhea.

Prior to the dance, Spurs will assist in leading the pep rally and later will usher at the game.

Frats Stage Ball

Annual Interfraternity ball will be held Saturday, February 9, at the Blue Bucket. The theme will be centered around St. Valentine's Day, with "hearts and flowers" predominating. The ball will be formal and corsages will be allowed.

Herman Renfrew is general chairman, John Summers in charge of the band, and Bob Gardner in charge of decorations. Pete Rowell heads the program committee; Len Pyne, the checkroom-entertainment, and Don Collins, cleanup.

WYKERT ANNOUNCES OPENING

According to Paul Wykert, the university ski lodge will open this week-end as planned. Conditions for skating on the pond in that vicinity are good, he stated.

To Visit

GOVERNOR . . .
Arnold Williams of Rexburg will make his first official gubernatorial visit to the Idaho campus this week-end, when he arrives to see the Vandals play the Washington Huskies. Governor Williams will be taken on a tour of the university, and will make a short address at half-time Saturday night.

Students To Hold Pep Rally Friday Night

All-student pep rally, sponsored by the student activities board, will be held Friday at 6:45 p.m. before the first home conference basketball game with the University of Washington.

Students will be picked up in a parade, led by the band and cheer-leaders, starting in front of the Idaho club and circling over the campus to the Memorial gymnasium in time for the game at 7:30 p.m.

Students living at the Campus club will join the band at the corner of Line and Sixth streets, and the group will then go up Line street past Willis Sweet hall where the men from Chrisman, as well as the navy, will join in the rally.

Students from Lindley hall, Delta Tau Delta, and Sigma Chi will join in as the parade goes down Idaho street. At the corner, Betas, Phi Deltas, and Delta Gammas will join in. Sigma Nus will enter as the parade passes their house. The procession will continue down the street picking up the Alpha Chis, Tri Deltas, and Alpha Phis on the corner, and then turn the corner past the Alpha Chi house going on past the Bucket.

Phi Phis and ATOs will wait in front of their respective houses, and Delta Tau Gammals will gather on the corner by Hutchinson's Studio to get into the march. SAEs are asked to wait on the (Cont. on page 2, col. 8)

Miss Arnold Wins Holly Queen Title

Margaret Arnold of Forney hall was crowned the year's Holly queen Saturday when approximately 200 couples danced at the sophomore class annual semi-formal affair. Miss Arnold, selected from the 12 candidates who represented the women's group living houses, was crowned by Leroy Beeson, vice president of the sophomore class.

Green and white decorations carried out the dance theme of "Sleigh Ride." Orchestra for the evening was the Pullman Cougarmen. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. James Braddock, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marty, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wohletz, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson.

The Holly queen was elected by votes of men attending the dance. Miss Arnold, a sophomore, is corresponding secretary of Kappa Phi, a member of Spurs, and is active in campus dramatic productions.

Foresters Meet

Xi Sigma Phi, organization for university forestry majors, held its first meeting of the year Tuesday.

The meeting was devoted to the plans for an out-door steak-ry to be held in the near future. A discussion was also held on the possibility of building a lodge to be used by the group on future field trips.

Date of the next meeting has not as yet been definitely arranged.

WARREN PRESENTS LECTURE
Dan Warren, state 4-H club leader, discussed the 4-H club program and showed colored slides of various home economic activities to Miss Margaret Ritchie's class in extension methods Thursday.

Navy Man Honored

NRO GEORGE KEAR is shown receiving the purple heart decoration at a special drill ceremony. Captain S. H. Ambruster, commanding officer of the Idaho NROTC contingent, presented the award to Kear, who became eligible to receive the medal as a result of wounds suffered in the heavy fighting off Okinawa in May, 1945.

All-Girl Orchestra Pleases Audience In Debut At Home

It was "standing room only" Tuesday night at the university auditorium for the first local appearance of the All-Girl Singing orchestra. Numbers chosen from the group's repertoire were all new to Moscow audiences and each brought forth generous applause.

Prof. A. A. Beecher was director. No encores were given until the close of the program when "Begin the Beguine" by Porter, and arranged by Marty, was heard.

"Silver and Gold," the theme song and opening selection, seemed more than ever effective, as chorus and orchestra in their new silver evening gowns presented the Idaho song.

"Toys" Favorite
"March of the Toys" from Victor Herbert's "Babes in Toyland," with arrangements by Carl Claus, was a favorite of the orchestra selections. After that came a piano duo, "Scaramouche" first and last movement, an arrangement for two pianos played by Hall Macklin and Joseph Brye.

Outstanding was the presentation of "Suite, Idaho," a picture of the early spirit of the west, in five different settings. Lyrics were written by David Stidolph, student, while the music was composed by Mr. Brye.

A Rose By Any Other Name

As sponsors of the contest to name the new Veterans Housing site, we were interested to see what some of the names submitted would be, so we eagerly grabbed the ballot box from its obscure place behind the mail box in the Ad building and with fingers trembling with anticipation tore it open. We found: one used razor blade, a shriveled bit of orange peel, three library notices, last year's geology quiz, one unprintable name, and three Ovaltine lids donated by Little Orphan Annie fans. We were humiliated. Such overwhelming response brought but one conclusion to our minds, Idaho students are not financially embarrassed. Unfortunately, none of the items in the box were wrapped in an argonaut contest entry blank, so were not acceptable as entries.

Now we will admit that 5 (five) dollars is not a staggering sum (oh no? ever been to the Varsity with a fiver?) but it is recognized as being worth approximately 595+ French francs (we believe in being frank) which is a substantial addition to most any exchequer.

We shudder to contemplate what veterans attending the university next semester will think if they have no name for their living quarters. It will prove unhandy to have no answer when asked "Where do you live?" Two courses are open to him—he can gesticulate wildly in the general direction of Northern Montana, or can pretend to cough, muttering a muffled ugle werpavisid. Neither of these are wholly satisfactory, so we are asking that you give the matter a little thought, and suggest a usable name.

Basketball And Dance Split Honors For Friday And Saturday Activities

Engineers Slate All-Campus Semi-Formal

With the timely theme of "Atomic Energy," the University of Idaho engineers will hold their annual ball Saturday at 9 p.m. in the student union ballroom.

Ken Erickson, chairman of publicity, has announced that, according to the new ruling of the student activities board, 1 a.m. permission is being given to women students for that night.

This year's ball, as in past years, will feature exhibits of various engineering techniques by each division of the college of engineering. Former dances have displayed such decorations as a water faucet suspended in mid-air with water gushing from it, and numerous other mechanical feats.

Decorations for the dance will feature miniature bombs and crepe paper streamers. The ballroom will be decorated by members of the Associated Engineers, sponsors of the affair.

Don Kemp is general chairman of the dance and he is assisted by Ken Smith, music; Bob Olson, ticket sales; George Walsh, programs; Ken Erickson, publicity; and Jack Pearrington, decorations. Music will be provided by Mark Barnett's orchestra.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be members of the engineering faculty and their wives. Tickets will be on sale at men's houses and at the dance.

Tri-Delt Announces Wedding Plans

The engagement of Miss Mary Valadon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valadon, Havre, Mont., to Lt. Paul M. Landry, of Baton Rouge, La., was announced Sunday at Delta Delta Delta.

Miss Valadon, a junior this year, attended Northern Montana State college her freshman year, and came to the university last year. The impending marriage, which was announced on the dinner place-cards, will take place at the close of the semester, in Havre, Mont.

VETERANS

Veterans who do not expect to re-register at the university semester were urged this week to file a written request to interrupt their training with the Veterans' Administration. According to a statement by C. H. Bond, the request is necessary according to Public Laws 16 and 346.

As stated in the laws, veterans must protect entitlement to remaining training by stating reasons for interruption of work.

Ball Committee

IMPORTANT

It would be appreciated if those people who took away pictures of the Holly queen candidates while they were posted in the Administration building hallway would return them. Two of the pictures taken belonged to the women's mothers, and must be returned. When returning them, bring them to the Argonaut office or call me at 2441 and make arrangements for their return.

Director Selects Wilder's Popular Broadway Play

Miss Jean Collette's selection for the February ASUI dramatic production, "The Skin of Our Teeth," by Thornton Wilder, ran ten months on Broadway, from November, 1942, until September, 1943.

In the February 21, 22, and 23 productions of the play here, J. T. Peterson, Elizabeth Bottum, and Enid Almqvist respectively take the roles carried by Frederic March; his wife, Florence Eldridge; and Tallulah Bankhead.

The production of Wilder's play provided another of those fabulous stories of the theatre that will long be quoted by historians. Written in 1941, the play passed through 37 prospective backers before Michael Meyerberg's production mystified and charmed audiences in New Haven, Conn. Then the show moved to Broadway, and became an immediate hit. It won the award for the Pulitzer prize play of the year.

Among those with a lasting faith in this most extravagant of fantasies was Frederic March, the actor, who gave up $200,000 in motion picture contracts so that he and Mrs. March could play the leading roles.

John Anderson in The Journal-American wrote that what Mr. Wilder attempts to say in the play is by no means new. "It is the fact that humanity is as indestructible as its hopes, that from the glacial age up to right now, from the invention of the wheel to the perfection of high-altitude bombing, man is forever improving himself and eternally falling in ruins, forever building and tearing down, but that somehow he managed to survive."

PSYCHOLOGY HEAD RETURNS

Dr. J. W. Barton, head of the psychology department, returned Thursday from the Portland hospital, where he has spent the past three weeks under medical care. During Barton's absence, Dr. W. H. Boyer conducted his classes.

Sport Fans See Vandals Pitted Against Huskies

The University of Washington Huskies invade the Vandal campus this week-end, gunning for another scalp or two to add to their list for the 1945-46 basketball season. The Huskies, now resting in second position in the division race hit the Palouse Empire this season boasting one of the best all-around teams in the conference.

Coached by Hec Edmundson, a graduate of the University of Idaho, the Huskies won their first two starts against the Washington State Cougars on their home floor. Thus far on this Palouse tour the Huskies have dropped their first game of the season to the same Cougar quintet from whom they won a week earlier.

Dalthrop Is Captain

Leading the Washington quintet this year as captain is Norman Dalthrop, a star of the 41-42 Huskie squad. The five-foot ten-inch forward is recently back from the service and is a man to watch as far as scoring goes with the Huskies. Another man who bears watching is guard Bobby Jorgenson, who started for last season's Huskie quintet. Charles Sheaffer, high scoring forward, is another man whom Coach Edmundson is pinning a great deal of hope on for an upper berth in the Northern Division standings this season.

All in all the Huskies have eight lettermen carrying the purple and gold colors and are not to be counted out until every game has been played this season. Commenting on the Huskie squad, Coach Edmundson stated, "If anything, we are faster this season, and the experience added by the return of several lettermen will also be a big help. The competition for positions is good—a factor which makes for a real hustling ball club. Of course, the whole conference will be stronger, but I think we can hold our own."

Idaho Improves

On the other side of the fence we see a much improved Idaho quintet from the pre-season games. The Vandals have nine returning lettermen back this year which places the Idaho squad in a much better position than many a previous season as far as veterans of the maplecourt go.

Coached by J. A. "Babe" Brown, the Vandals have won two this season while losing three, for undisputed third place in the Northern division race. The Vandals are led by letterman Len Pyne, a high scoring two-year letterman; Fred Quinn, a star of the 42-43 season, (Cont. on page 2, Col. 5)

IR Club Discusses American Negro

International Relations club will hold its weekly meeting tonight from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the upstairs lounge of the Blue Bucket. The subject for discussion will be "The Problem of the American Negro."

Taking part in the discussion will be Dr. Harry C. Harmsworth, associate professor of sociology; Harley P. Brown, instructor in zoology, and F. W. Trail, Moscow businessman. An invitation has been extended to a member of the Washington State college sociology department to take part in this program, but as yet no definite answer has been received.

Program for the last International Relations club meeting was provided by Dr. Boyd Marlin and Robert E. Hosack, who gave an analysis of current political problems. The public is invited to attend these meetings and participate in the weekly discussions.

We Can Have More Talent

A recent Argonaut article indicated that students wished more special talent programs—that they were in favor of bringing more artists and lecturers to the university campus. The subject starts a whole chain of interesting questions. Who procures the speakers and soloists that we hear? Is there a reason for not having more of them? What type of performers are desirable—pianists, violinists, singers or lecturers? How much real interest does the student body and the community have in these events? What about future entertainment? Some of these questions can be answered. Affairs of this kind are handled by a group of faculty members composing the Public Events committee. They work on a fixed budget, and face the problem of acquiring a few top-flight artists at a high cost, or a greater number of more obscure ones at a lesser price. They have been following the policy of quality rather than quantity in selecting talent and have presented many speakers during the year rather than in the evening because of the greatly lessened cost. The future points toward more high-quality programs but disappointingly few of them. What can be done about it? Nothing, of course, if everyone is content—after all the talent is brought here for us. However, assuming that we're not indifferent, there are certain facts to consider. We have in the community many people of talent, including a former tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera company, and the poet-laureate of Idaho. It would be nice to hear them. We used to have successful concerts that were jointly sponsored by the University of Idaho and Washington State college before the war. It would be nice to revive them. We could have occasional outstanding performers visit us, if the interest of a big enough group of Idaho students and Moscow citizens made the engagement financially possible. If we wanted to dream, we might add that enough genuine enthusiasm would even help to raise the entertainment budget. As it stands, the university is assured of entertainment in the future, the amount depending upon how much of it most of us want and how badly we want it.

WHO CARES For Men Only Over the Hill

JACK SHURMAN

Dear Men: Men are what women marry. They have two hands, two feet, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one dollar or one idea at a time. Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes: husbands, bachelors, and widowers. A bachelor is an eligible mass of obstinance, entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are of three types—prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes. Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest forms of plastic art known to civilization. It requires intelligence, sculpture, common sense, faith, hope, and charity—mostly charity. It is a psychological marvel that a small, tender, soft, violet-scented thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, and bayrum-scented thing like a man. If you flatter a man you frighten him to death; if you love to you bore him to death. If you permit him to make love to you he gets tired of you in the end. If you don't, he gets tired of you in the beginning. If you agree with him in everything, you cease to interest him. If you argue with him, you cease to charm him. If you believe all he tells you, he thinks you are a fool. If you don't, he thinks you are a cynic. If you wear gay colors, rouge, and a startling hat, he hesitates to take you out. If you wear a brown beret and a tailor-made suit, he takes you out and stars all evening at a woman in gay colors, rouge, and a startling hat. If you are the clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are a modern, advanced, independent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate. If you are brilliant and intellectual, he longs for a playmate. Man is just a worm in the dust. He comes along, wiggles around for awhile, and finally some chicken gets him.

Veteran Becomes Proud Papa

Flash! The University of Idaho can claim another record! As far as we know, Idaho is the first university to announce that one of its students has become a proud papa while attending school under the Veterans Administration Act. The fellow passing out cigars (be sure to get yours)—the guy with that proud gleam in his eye, is James Rocky, an Air Corps veteran who was a sergeant in the 4888 Central Postal Directory. It was a 9-pound baby girl, folks, that arrived Monday in the wee small hours. They have decided to call her Cheryl Elaine and who knows, maybe she will follow in her father's footsteps and someday be a first lady of Idaho herself. Nice going, Jimmie, and congratulations!

Fraternity Holds Bowery Dance

With the strains of "Bicycle Built For Two" floating through "Steve's Emporium", Sigma Alpha Epsilon, complete with brass spittoons, was the scene of the annual "Bowery" dance at Saturday night at the University of Idaho. Earl Miller was chairman of the dance, and music was furnished by the public address system. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fruit, Mrs. F. W. Shaver, patron and patroness; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buder; Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, Charles Goetz, Donald Ferguson, Bill Mahbutt, and Bill Buckles.

Swimmers Have New President

Ethel Jane Kopelman moved into the position of president of the Hel Divers because of the resignation of Joella Gage, former president. Miss Kopelman was formerly vice president. The program for the remainder of the year was arranged at the meeting last week. It was decided that movies on swimming will be shown, and instructions will be given in swimming and diving. The program will also include guest speakers who will talk on the opportunities in the field of aquatics.

Taylor Addresses Group

Addressing members of the American Association of University Women January 9 was Dr. Eugene Taylor of the university faculty. Dr. Taylor spoke on the enduring value of the Old Testament. There are several good reasons for drinking. And one just entered my head: If a guy doesn't drink when he's living How can he drink when he's dead? Corsages around Hays, Suzie's was a birthday present and Louise received hers for a belated Christmas gift from a former ASTP student from this campus. Alpha Phi's hasher, Al Rex, looked pretty sheepish when he was caught leaving the storeroom with his coat pockets bulging with oranges. And Jean Glenn looked sheepish too when her room-mates brought her a present in the infirmary and she unwrapped it to find a whiskey bottle, empty of course. What was so funny on the tag, Jean? Beverly Whitson has plenty of school spirit but it's for the wrong school. She gets long, long, long distance calls from an Oregon Stater. There's always the one about the moron who was walking along a railroad track and came upon an arm; he looked at it and said, "Hmm, that looks like Joe." As he walked a little way he found a leg and said, "Mnn, that looks like Joe's." Two minutes later he found a head, it was Joe's. He bent over it and gravely spoke, "Joe, you've got to pull yourself together."

corner along with the LDS. They enter as the rally passes the house. From here the march will be joined on the next corner by Kappas, Fijis, and Delta Chi. Kappa Sigs, TKEs and Gamma Phi come into the line as it passes their houses. Hays hall women should wait on the corner with women from Forney, and Ridenbaugh women will be included as the march passes their hall. The group will then go on past the Ad building to Memorial gymnasium. At the game, roll call will be taken for the various houses. Half-time entertainment will be a stunt sponsored by the cheerleaders.

Council Presents Amendment

Under discussion by the AWS council now are plans to present an amendment to the group's constitution at the time of the spring election for 1946-47 officers. Chief purpose of the proposed amendment is to replace the honorary office of yell queen with the office of activity recorder. Planning to discard the present point system, AWS, under the amendment, would institute a file of each woman's activities. Duty of the new officer would be to keep the file complete and accurate. Data for the file is to be furnished by organizations and each woman's living group.

Here's More About SPORT FANS

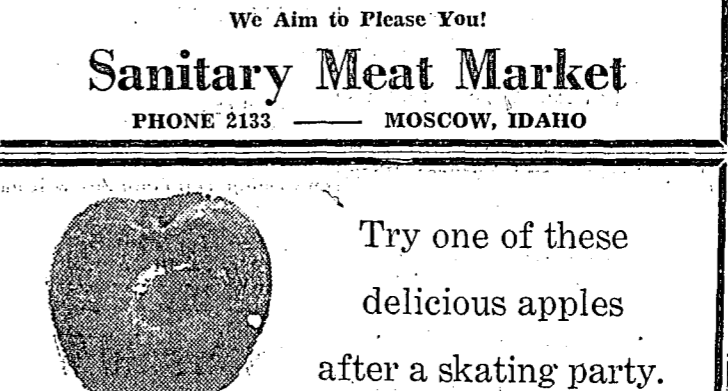

and towering Jack Phoenix, Bob Ryan, Bill Carbaugh and a newcomer to the silver and gold, Grant Mortenson. The Idaho squad dropped three and won one on the Willamette tour through Oregon. Resting a day after the Oregon trip, the Vandals snatched a thriller from the Washington State Cougars last Saturday night to put them within reach of the upper berth. Commenting on the season thus far and the Washington games, Coach Brown stated, "Thus far we have showed flashes of good basketball. We have a good defense and I believe we have a good chance with the Huskies."

son kept shouting, "Pass! Pass!" I opened with two spades and lost the ball to an opposing forward. George Hill told Joe Borja to get under the bucket and, before we could stop him, he had burrowed six feet beneath the student union. So, like the Siamese twin said to her sister upon removing her girdle, "I guess that let both of us out." Honors of the week go to George Kear, presented the Purple Heart at last Thursday's drill session. He became eligible for the medal upon receiving wounds in action off Okinawa during May of last year. We're all mighty proud of you, George. Confusion of the week was credited to Tom Bolan, and if he doesn't know why, I'm not about to tell him. The biggest blunder of the past seven days was made by Bill Shelman when he said I could drop the fifteen into the side pocket by putting low right side English on the cue ball. Still passing out honors, here's a bouquet of roses to "Swede" Swenson for his fine job of leadership throughout the past months, and best of luck to Wayne Johnson, who takes over the responsibility. A bundle of thorns for Ray Pope for his suggestion that we confine our snowball fights to men. It's time to shove off now. My girl-friend invited me over for Scotch and sofa and told me not to be late. I asked Tom "I'm in the driver's seat" Gilroy to come along, but he declined due to a long standing obligation to spend each Saturday night with his old granddad. How can one fellow be so cute, and at the same time, so considerate?

KUOI

Station KUOI has a new schedule. Due to the competition in the evening from network shows, and to competition with the stronger frequencies of national hookups, and to our own campus rule of quiet hours in most of the houses, and to 7:30 p.m. permission for freshmen, the Radio club members decided that most of the students would listen, and more be able to take an active part in the programs if the broadcast hours were changed. Now, to hear the campus radio station, turn to 650 on the dial between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. As you've all noticed, the Yawn Patrol hasn't been on the air since Christmas vacation. The reason for this is that there were not enough requests coming in. To facilitate the receiving of these requests, boxes are going to be put up in the Nest, Bucket, and in the main hall of the Ad building. These will be up by the last of the week. When you see someone you would like to dedicate a piece to, be sure to drop those requests in one of these boxes. If you have any ideas for programs, or if you have talent to offer on these programs, come to the general meeting of the Radio club to be held Thursday at 5 p.m. in Room 110 of the Engineering building, or call Cliff Magnuson, Phi Delta Theta.

Buchanan Returns As Engineering Department Head

J. E. Buchanan returned to his position as dean of the college of engineering Monday after having been on military leave of absence from the university since 1942.

He entered the corps of engineers on July, 1942, and spent 28 months at the engineer school, Fort Belvoir, Va., where he was chief of the engineering section of the department of research and training publications. Following that, he spent eight months in the India-Burma theater as plans and engineering officer in the air engineer section of AAF headquarters and five months in China as executive to the air engineer for the China theater. He held the rank of lieutenant colonel at the time of his discharge.

Buchanan received his appointment as dean here in 1938. He had earned both his B.S. and M.S. degree in civil engineering at the university. During his absence, Professor J. H. Johnson, head of the department of electrical engineering, served as acting dean of the college of engineering from 1942 until the summer of 1944. Dr. L. C. Cady, acting dean since then, has returned to his regular position as head of the department of chemistry and chemical engineering.

Orchestra Takes Trip Through North Idaho

"Oswego," we screamed en masse, as the bus pulled away from the Ad building and the driver tried frantically to swing and sway his vehicle in order to miss the assorted students, faculty members and house mothers who were quite insistent that they be allowed to join the All-Girl Orchestra immediately. We smiled kindly back as we left them in the drifts along the highway. The snow continued to fall and the roads were very slick. "This said that we would never have made the first hill had it not been for the cooperation of the alto section who jumped out and threw themselves upon the road to provide traction for the bus and proof of that old saying 'the male must get through.'" The grand ending of this is that no one at all noticed how "flat" they were—yaanal! Anywho, to get back to my story, we traveled gaily on arriving late at St. Maries for our first performance. Two days out we discovered that by some mishap our director had been left at home. Retracing our steps we found him plodding along, determined to catch us sooner or later and that he did. Fine-type man.

As the bus was rounding an exceptionally sharp curve, one of the members fell from her seat into the aisle from whence she smiled modestly as we clapped. For an encore, she got out and headed cross-country for our destination. Any information leading to the return of a missing violinist will be appreciated. Rumor says that she was last seen running back in the general direction of the Miner's Hat in Kellogg.

It was with great anticipation that we looked forward to our appearance at Farragut. Someone had heard that sailors lived there. We are pleased to verify this wild idea. Sailors do live there—in fact, jitterbugging sailors. At the dance which followed our performance, several of our members were thrown completely out of the state—of consciousness, I might add. As one remarked, "There's nothing to this jitterbugging. I had my feet on the floor twice."

The bus was scheduled to leave Farragut at 8:00 a.m. but it took several hours to find all of the members who were sitting patiently in the garbage cans waiting to be left behind.

"I could give up Sinatra for that," sighed a Rathdrum girl as our star tenor leaned seriously near the floor at the climax of a strenuous number. His haggard appearance was due to the fact that we wouldn't let him eat with us because he refused to keep his feet off the table.

En route back home, we were given a half hour stop in Spokane and everyone scattered in all directions only to find upon returning that there was one in the hotel across the street.

Our air-conditioned bus pulled into Moscow Friday evening at dinner-time, so our theme song was heard by no one but a lonely train that tooted derisively in the night. We looked forward to donning civilian clothes once more and brushing the sparkle from our eyebrows. We were, however, sorry to return and our director's kind words, "You done good, kids," rang in our ears as we crawled slowly up the hill with our suitcases on our backs.

"ON THE INSIDE"

By JACK GOETZ

This week we find a Vandal basketballer of vast renown stepping into the spotlight, who goes by the name of Fred Quinn. Fred, better known in campus circles as "Whimpy," hails from Pocatello, Idaho, where he was born on Easter Sunday, March 27, 1921. Quinn plays center for the Vandals and has proven himself to be a great asset to the team already this season.

It was back in the 1942-43 season that the six-foot-two 200-pounder proved himself as a great mapplecourt master. "Whimpy" was playing a great game for the Vandals at the center spot. During every game Fred was constantly breaking into the teens in his scoring threats. That season Fred established a new record in the Northern Division Conference by scoring 27 points in a single game. This record stood until last year when Washington State's Vince Hanson scored 34 points in a single game.

The Vandal cage star played his high school years for Pocatello high school where he made the all-state team two years in a row. Playing his first year for the Vandals in the 1942-43 season Fred was named on every single all-opponent team in the conference.

Fred entered the service at the very end of the '43 season and was discharged just before the first semester of this year. Quinn played the very important part of a bombardier and flew thirty-five missions. The cage star, then a first lieutenant, was hit on a mission with flak and was nearly blown out of the emergency door, which was blown open. Fred declares it wasn't too bad, but he didn't have any desire to go through the experience again. Quinn, a P.E. major, has been married nearly three years and hopes to coach basketball when he is graduated.

FRED QUINN

Quinn, who he considered the greatest basketball player he ever had played against, Fred retaliated with a former Washington State guard—Scott Witt—as being one of the best. Fred declares he came to the University of Idaho because of the fine physical education program which was in effect here. He went on to relate that the greatest thrill of his life was tossing 18 points in the bucket against the University of Washington Huskies, his last game of the season. It was announced over the loud speaker that he was about to enter the service and a great ovation went up from the crowd which echoed throughout the pavilion. Fred exclaimed that he was a very proud athlete at that moment. I'm sure we can all realize why he was.

"Whimpy," who is always a headache to opposing coaches and teams, has one of the most peculiar shots which is constantly a scoring threat. It is an over-the-accurate. We hope to see that head hook shot which is deadly shot many times this season, "Whimpy," and we know you will be a great instrument in pushing Idaho to the top of that division race.

Pem Club Sponsors Sleighing Party

Pem club sponsored a sleigh-ride Sunday evening for majors and minors in physical education. After the sleigh-ride a chili feed was held at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marty, Lt. and Mrs. R. J. Marks, and Mrs. Minnie Connolly were the patrons and patronesses; and Mary Jane Connolly and Jean Hurst were guests. Committee chairmen were Jackie Ritchie and Twyla Shear.

This year, due to the increased enrollment in the department of physical education, the Pem club has been enlarged and will plan further activities for its members and the students of the university.

Vandals Trounce Traditional Rivals 44-38

Mortenson Leads Vandals With 15 In Close Game

The University of Idaho Vandals, winning their second game of the conference season this year, soundly trounced the Washington State Cougars last Saturday night, 44-38, before a large crowd at the WSC gymnasium.

The game opened to find the Cougars pouring eight points through the hoop to the Vandal's one in the first few minutes of play. The Vandals came to life and it was a nip and tuck affair until the half ended in an 18-18 deadlock.

The Vandal's leading scorers, Len Pyne and Fred Quinn, were guarded very closely but they effectively fed the ball to Idaho's sharp-shooting forward, Grant Mortenson.

The second frame opened to find the Cougars scoring first only to see Quinn and Phoenix dumping in the buckets for the Vandals. The score see-sawed back and forth with Washington States Vince Hanson, high scorer for the game with 17 points, pacing the Vandals basket for basket. With eight minutes to go there was a five-point difference between the two teams and it was then that Grant Mortenson, who led the Vandal scoring attack with 15 points, started dropping them in from all angles.

With but two minutes left in the game the Vandals led by a nine-point margin. Vince Hanson and Ray Arndt, hit the basket for three points respectively to narrow the victory margin to 44-38. The victory placed the Vandals in undisputed third place, in conference standing while Oregon State climbed to the top rung of the ladder by dropping the Oregon Ducks at Eugene by a 50-46 score.

Many Men Needed For Track Season

Commenting on the track situation today, Coach Mike Ryan stated he was thoroughly disappointed with the first call for track which was issued last Monday. Coach Ryan went on to say very few candidates had reported and that uniforms had been issued.

To be in condition to participate later in the season in the scheduled events, the Vandals' cinder mentor pointed out it was quite necessary to get in as much time along the pre-season training lines as possible. Ryan exclaimed a minimum of fifty men were needed to fill vacancies in the following events: high and low hurdles, all jumps, sprints, weights, pole vault, javelin and the long distance events.

Twelve meets have been scheduled thus far with several meets being held away from Idaho. Coach Ryan added that all men will enter competition here but a conference rule limits the traveling squad to 22 men on conference trips.
