Trailing one-half a game behind the Oregon State Beavers, the Idaho Vandals will attempt to crawl above the Oregon team this Saturday night when they again tangle with the Washington State Cougars in the third clash of the two teams this season. Reports from Cougarville indicate all seats are going fast, and Idaho's Graduate Manager Gale Mix states he is holding a handful of tickets for the Idaho students who plan attending the game Saturday night. Mix also commented that the tickets should be purchased by Friday, at the latest.

VETERANS

According to letters sent to veterans applying for housing when entering the university next semester, Dean H. E. Lattig stated that due to difficulty in setting up the units, new students would be accepted until February 25. This ruling does not apply to students who are now enrolled in the university.

New students applying for housing will be admitted until that date; all others will be subject to the regular late registration fees.

University Grants Music Professor Leave of Absence

Professor Carl Claus, associate professor of music in the university music department for 23 years, has been granted a leave of absence by the university for the coming semester, due to ill health. Professor Claus will return to the university for the summer session.

Prof. Carl Claus

resuming his position as head of the violin department and symphony orchestra conductor.

During his time with the university, Professor Claus has been actively associated with Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternity for men, and with musical circles on the campus and in Moscow. A skilled violinist, Professor Claus has achieved an enviable reputation as violin soloist with the university symphony orchestra, as guest soloist with other orchestras, and as a conductor.

To replace Professor Claus next semester only, will be Robert N. Sedore of Kansas. Sedore is a graduate of Kansas university, graduating with a bachelor of music degree, followed by graduate work at Chicago Musical college and Harvard. He was head of Baker university's music department for six years before entering the navy as a music specialist. In addition to his position as violin instructor and symphony conductor, Sedore will teach theoretical courses in the department.

"I" Club Meets

Meeting of the women's "I" club was held Thursday evening in the gymnasium. The general meeting was followed by initiation of Marina Dochios, Jane Meyer and Twyla Shear.

"W" Crimson club of W. S. C. were guests of the group for the Washington state-Idaho game Saturday evening. Refreshments were served at the Blue Bucket prior to the game.

University of Idaho basketball fans, jammed in every nook and corner of Memorial gymnasium, traveled homeward Saturday night pleased with the 57-46 beating the Vandals handed the Washington State Cougars.

Playing before a capacity crowd of more than 4,000, the Idaho quintet showed it wasn't going to let All-American newspaper clippings stand in its road for a possible conference championship this season. The victory was the sixth straight game of the season for the well rounded squad.

Not a man on the Idaho quintet was a star for they all turned in a star performance. Mortenson was assigned the task of guarding the All-American Cougar forward, Gale Bishop, and turned in a beautiful performance. Jack Phoenix, Vandal giant center, played a bang up ball game both offensively and defensively. The silver and gold center was high for the winners with 14 points, while holding Washington State's All-American center, Vince Hanson, to eight points.

Hanson opened the scoring for the evening with a lay-in for the Cougars. Idaho's Quinn and Phoenix went to work to build a 11-5 edge with seven minutes gone. The Vandals led until two minutes before the half, when Bishop pushed the Cougar men into the lead 19-17. Through the efforts of Jack Phoenix and a net splitting shot by Carbaugh as the half-time gun sounded, the Vandals were able to leave the floor on the long end of a 22-20 count.

Four minutes after the second half opened the Cougars found themselves trailing 10 points behind the hard fighting Vandal crew. At the ten minute mark the Wash. State men were behind 43-29, despite the fact that Bishop and Arndt had started to hit their shots.

Bishop led the losers with 16 points with Phoenix and Quinn leading the Vandal scoring with 14 and 13 points respectively. This win put the Vandals on the top of the Northern division, only to be dropped to second place, one-half game behind the Oregon State Beavers, who dropped the Washington Huskies two straight at Seattle, Monday and Tuesday.

The Cougars are probably out of the running for Northern division honors now, but the next two meetings of the teams should be real basketball.

FLIGHT TRAINING AVAILABLE

Young men from 17 to 19 years of age who can qualify for the Navy V-5 officer pilot training program will have available a $27,000 aviation education, including one year of college work and more than two years of flight training.

Staff Concludes Annual Ag. Conference

Devoting a full week to meetings and conferences with resident members of the Idaho agricultural experiment station staff, nine representatives of Idaho's branch experiment station have recently concluded their annual conference at Moscow. Branch stations represented were those located at Sandpoint, Parma, Aberdeen and Tetonia.

Discussions dealt largely with problems relating to investigations in progress at the several branch stations, and plans were carried forward for modification or expansion of research projects underway. Topics receiving special emphasis included recent developments in weed control, soil fertility and rotation practices, seed certification programs, and control of insect pests.

Representing the branch stations were Ralph Knight, Sandpoint; D. F. Franklin and Lloyd Cowden, Parma; John L. Toews, L. W. Nielsen, Harland Stevens and Russel Stark, Aberdeen; and W. A. Moss and Hugh MacKay of Tetonia.

Honorary Plans Book Drive For Filipinos

Cardinal Key, junior women's honorary, will sponsor a book drive February 12-17 in order to obtain old textbooks and reference books for the Philippine Women's University at Manila.

The university, founded by Mrs. Francisco Benitez, was destroyed during the Japanese occupation of Manila and all library facilities have been completely wiped out. Attention to the situation was called by Martha D. Allen, former university student who received her master's degree in 1942. Miss Allen is a captain in the Women's Army Corps and wrote the university women asking them to collect old text books to aid the rebuilding of the library.

The books will be collected on February 16 from houses and living groups by Cardinal Key members who will then pack and send them to President Benitez. All university groups are asked to cooperate in this drive.

Graduate Publishes Mathematics Book

Prof. I. S. Sokolnikoff, who graduated from the University of Idaho in 1926, majoring in electrical engineering, has written a book titled "Mathematical Theory of Elasticity," now being published by McGraw-Hill company. The book is presented as being exceptionally thorough and compact in its treatment, carrying the development of its topics through to a tensor analysis.

Sokolnikoff is professor of applied mathematics at the University of Wisconsin.

Spurs Redecorate Idaho's Ski Lodge

Further work on redecorating the university ski lodge will begin next week when members of Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, make curtains for the main rooms of the building. A group of the women will go to the area Tuesday to measure and fit the curtains.

Furniture, contributed by living group houses and purchased by the executive board, is already in the lodge.

Curriculum Will Include Advanced ROTC Course

With the beginning of the second semester, the advanced ROTC course will again be included in the University of Idaho curriculum, according to Col. B. H. Hensley, professor of military science and tactics. Following a wartime suspension, the course will be offered in 129 colleges and universities to veterans and qualified men students.

Foresters Hold Open Meeting

Veterans and new enrollees will be welcomed into the school of forestry at an open meeting for all forestry students which will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Three films, put out by the U. S. Forestry Service, will be shown and refreshments will be served. The films, complete with sound and in technicolor, are "Realm of the Wild," "Forest Forever" and the third is a picture depicting the life of the forest ranger.

Five new members — Richard Hodder, Paul Wykert, Jim Mattox, Irvin Wentworth and Dave Seaberg — were initiated into Zeta Sigma Phi, forestry honorary, on January 21 following a steak fry.

President Dale To Present Union Report To Board Of Regents

Student reports favoring the construction of a new student union building will be presented by President H. C. Dale to the Board of Regents February 17, 18 and 19. The reports were presented to Dale on January 24 and, while fairly detailed in content, are being condensed for presentation to the

Registrar States Enrollment Hours

Registration for the second semester will begin Monday at 8 a. m., according to D. D. DuSault, registrar. Registration hours will be from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. on Monday, and 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. on Tuesday. Veterans should report to Dean of Men H. E. Lattig for information before registering. Old students will report to the office of their dean. New students will report to the registrar's office, Ad. 104. The new registration directory with information as to where old students register will be out Friday.

There will probably be more students than there are sections, DuSault reported, so students should register as early as possible. The new sections will be at less desirable times.

Funds Available

Funds will be available this spring for "at least a start" on the university's classroom and laboratory building needs according to a statement made Monday by Governor Arnold Williams. Although the governor gave no exact figures as to how much money would be available for the building, he stated it will be among those matters presented at the special session of the legislature to be called this month.

GEM

All students desiring Gems must purchase them before February 15. Orders will be taken in the registration line, the Graduate Manager's office, or by calling Louise Cosgriff, 2131.

Appointments to have pictures taken by Hutchison's Studio for new students registering next semester can be made in the registration line.

Well, our versatile Vandals did it again! They won another conference game with fast, skillful, aggressive playing. The results? Look at them!

1) Strengthened our bid for first place by making it six games out of the last seven!

2) Humbled* (and we mean humbled) our over-rated Washington State neighbors (including Bishop) for the second consecutive time.

3) Caused some of our bitterest critics to renig with such remarks as this one—and we quote:—"they convinced even the most skeptical that Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown really has a team that will give anybody a terrific battle."

4) Fanned a smouldering Idaho spirit into a flame that has spread from the campus to the town and into the neighboring towns.

Coffee-shop Conversation runs something like this these days: "Boy, this year we got a ball team—they can't stop us!" or "I didn't believe much in school spirit when I came here, but—" or, "I came twenty miles from the other side of Lewiston to see those Vandals play and, brother, I enjoyed every minute of it!"

Not since way, way back in the torrid twenties have we had such a group of pennant-bound all-stars on the floor, fighting for every basket, and co-ordinating like the engine of a 1946 car. Win, lose or draw, every student on the campus is rabidly rooting for these rampaging Vandals of ours and the coaches directing them—and every team in the conference is meeting them with fingers crossed, and we suspect hopefully hiding a lucky rabbit's foot somewhere beneath their sweat-shirts.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:

Although this may be received as a dead issue, we wish to state our opinion, as likewise reflected by numerous others, regarding the recent appearance of the music faculty in a concert mislabeled The All-Girl Singing Orchestra concert! We recognize the superb ability of the music faculty, as do they no doubt, and we do appreciate listening to their numbers. However, we believe that this orchestra houses hidden talent which one only hears on a note here and there between self-enclosed numbers of the faculty. We do not mean to become an advisory board—but circulated remarks indicate that the trio presented would have received a well-auditioned repeat performance on the program. As it was, the all-girl orchestra provided a very effective background for the faculty numbers. We do not mean to degrade the faculty—without their original compositions and participation the orchestra would be nil, but with a little more half-way mark met in student participation the situation would be much improved. If concerts are to continue as the last one, perhaps the faculty would like to hold tryouts and see if some other university professor is hiding musical talent which he would like to display at a future concert, as accompanied by the all-girl orchestra. We are proud of this orchestra, we are told in your newspaper, and we would like an opportunity to hear it and pass our own judgment.

Thank you,
 J. B. and L. M.

All men are born free and equal but some got married.

Over the Hill with JACK SHURMAN

And then there's the fable of the seven ROTC's from Idaho who contacted 19 Parson college co-eds, quarantined in Ballard hall with scarlet fever, and invited them to enter a contest for "the girl with whom we'd most like to be quarantined." It was hardly expected that the instigator of the fiendish plot would, a week later, receive fifteen photographs and four proposals from the above mentioned women; nor was it anticipated that the unique contest would occupy a prominent section of every newspaper in the United States. Well, as things now stand, these thoroughly frightened gentlemen have a nation-wide beauty contest on their hands, and I can think of few fellows who, at this time, would be willing to step into their boots.

I saw most of the pictures, and believe me, some of them weren't bad. One femme was clothed in a bandana, two strings, and a birthmark, while all I can say for another is that she wore a beautiful smile. Figuratively speaking, I would say the latter of the two snapshots won all competition.

hands down. What do you intend to call the lucky, lucky winner, boys, "The Measles Queen of Willis Sweet Hall" or "Miss Smallpox of 1946"?

I began by calling this story a fable, as I promised Mark Leonard, Bob Ball, Ralph Hoyt, Johnny Schleich, Walt Sobba, and Jim Hassenger that I couldn't involve them in my article; and far be it from me to break my sacred word.

Since writing this article, I've received numerous complaints because I've always managed to slip my girl-friend in somewhere along the line. Somehow, dear readers, I feel that you'd cease to condemn me if you only knew; if you only understood.

My girl—why she's gorgeous. She has eyes like Lana, eyes like Bette, eyes like Hedy. I ask you, what other girl on the campus can boast of six eyes on one face? You've all heard of Sweet Sal from Idaho. Well, brother, you haven't seen a thing until you've cast your glimmers on Sweet Edna from West Bar, Ore. She has the mind of a freshman but the legs of a senior, and her teeth . . . her teeth are exquisitely formed pearls. One need but gaze upon her a moment to observe the oysters from whence these pearls came. She calls me "Radar," for I'll pick up most anything, and I call her "Carbon," as the warmer she gets, the lower her resistance.

It was one night, while gazing at her luscious form from afar, that I conceived the name for the very column you now read—"Over the Hill." But alas, lack, Carbon had gained a surplus of avoirdupois since that day I first observed her squirting beer between her first two front teeth at Shorty's. The canoe one tattooed upon her slender arm is no longer a canoe, but a battleship; and every night the guns belch forth. Yet, despite your many faults, Carbon, I love you, I love you, I love you.

And to those men leaving the until this week: Bob Shelly, who found a sparring partner at Idaho and slipped a ring on her finger, Ray Alderson, whose arms have been in the best of circles, Bob Payton and Bob Morbach, who

Dr. Cone Receives Bomb Fragments

Dr. William H. Cone of the chemistry department has recently received from his son in Japan two fragments of the material resulting from the atomic bombing of Nagasaki.

These pieces seem to be made up of fused glass. One has a bottle cap in it, and the other, a length of copper wire.

The fusing took place in an estimated one millionth of a second, and each piece is still found to be radio-active, according to Dr. Cone. The material is still covered with a fine volcanic ash.

Burpee Company Presents Award

Through the W. Atlee Burpee company, seed growers, Philadelphia, Pa., and Clinton, Iowa, an annual award of $100 will be made to an outstanding student in horticulture at the University of Idaho. According to the company's announcement, the award is to be made "on the basis of scholarship, practical experience, and interest in flower and vegetable growing."

The recipient will be selected by the head of the department of horticulture with the approval of the dean of the college of agriculture.

Last, Ed "plutonic friendship" Manthey, Bill "chug-a-lug" Brewer, Joe "vodka" Martin, Frank Salkowski, Freddy Jonas, Jack Dowling, and so many more—too numerous to mention—all—we wish you the very best of luck in your new civilian environment.

We expect to hear big things of you fellows, and if you'll just leave your addresses with me, I promise to send each and every one of you a sack of genuine Idaho potatoes.

I've got to take off now. I promised my girl-friend that I'd teach her another game this evening. It's called "Airmail," but all it is is "Post Office" on a higher plane. I wish that I could find a sweetheart like mine for Midshipman Nodgard, Midshipman Olsen, and Karl Kaufmann. They'd soon stop boycotting the Idaho women.

Shouts Becomes Vice President

D. Roy Shouts, university graduate in electrical engineering, is vice president in charge of engineering for the Bell Aircraft corporation, Buffalo, N.Y., according to recent word. During his student days here he was known for his outstanding exhibitions with the Tesla coil.

After graduation he worked with the General Electric company. He contributed the mysterious "floating bowl" in the G.E. "House of Magic" at the 1940 world's fair. As a special representative, he was sent to London where he persuaded the British to adopt the "supercharger" on their Spitfire planes, enabling them to get altitude to beat off the Messerschmitts that were bombing London.

They were single and went walking. And her heart did skip a beat: As she stumbled on the sidewalk, He murmured, "Careful, sweet." Now the wedding bells have rung, And they walk the self-same street: When she stumbles on the sidewalk, He just yells, "Pick up your feet!"

Good News for Unsuspecting T. B. Victims

HERE is news that marks another step ahead in the fight against t. b.—news about free tests and new x-ray equipment.

As a means of locating possibly one and a half million undetected cases of tuberculosis, the U. S. Public Health Service plans to offer chest x-ray tests to nearly every American during the next five years. This survey is made possible through the use of new equipment which produces chest x-rays on small film, thus permitting mass examinations at reduced cost.

The development of the new film and the special fluoroscopic screen was not accomplished overnight. Organic chemists, physical chemists, physicists, and other technically trained men were required to make exhaustive studies before the problem was solved. Special sensitizers had to be found. Phosphors and activators had to be formulated for the screen. Both screen and film had to be of ultra-fine grain, and the spectral emission of the screen had to be adjusted to the spectral sensitivity of the film.

Men of Du Pont are proud of their part in the development of this new aid to medical science. The fact that their efforts helped to contribute a new benefit to society is a heart-warming inspiration.

Chemical Pest Control for more and better food

"Eating"—somebody has remarked—"is a habit." It certainly is! Men, women and children all have a firm, fixed habit of eating . . . so enough food must be grown for them to eat.

Du Pont chemists, plant pathologists, entomologists and engineers have helped the farmer to increase the nation's food supply through their never-ending search for better ways of protecting crops. The development of new fungicides is a typical example.

Du Pont men were faced with the problem of finding chemicals to be used in treating fungus diseases of plants, under conditions in which the use of copper and sulfur proved harmful. After long and intensive research they found the answer in the salts and organic derivatives of dithiocarbamic acid—such as the iron and zinc salts of dimethylthiocarbamic acid, and tetramethylthiuramdisulfide.

Agriculturists now know Du Pont's iron salt of dimethylthiocarbamic acid as "Fermate," and the zinc salt of the same acid as "Zerlate." These fungicides are products of Du Pont research—research that is helping the farmer to bigger crops of better quality.

Now—Faster Dry Cleaning

Two Du Pont products—"Perclene" perchlorethylene and "Triclene" trichlorethylene—have made dry cleaning quick and safe. These fluids clean clothes speedily, so that delicate garments need remain in the machine only a few minutes. They leave no telltale cleaning odor.

Questions College Men Ask about working with Du Pont

"WILL I GET LOST IN A BIG COMPANY?"

At Du Pont, every effort is made to see that individual ability is recognized and rewarded. New chemists and engineers work in small groups under experienced supervisors. As aptitude is shown, they are given more responsibility. While offering the broad avenues of promotion that go with size, Du Pont's group system assures college men of the sympathetic, friendly conditions of employment commonly associated with smaller organizations.

"ON THE INSIDE"

By JACK GOETZ

It is fitting that the spotlight turns on Bill "Lefty" Carbaugh, Idaho's speed merchant guard. The bolt of lightning hails from Spokane Valley, and received his prep school training at Gonzaga high school, where he was a four-letter winner in baseball. Bill played a little basketball on the side, winning three awards. Playing his senior year at Gonzaga, "Lefty" was chosen on the all-Spokane city team. The sturdy guard registered at Idaho the second semester of the 1944 season and turned in some mighty fine performances as a freshman for the duration of the season.

BILL CARBAUGH

"Lefty" is a P.E. major and plans to coach when he is graduated. Baseball is Bill's main line, and his diamond performance speaks for this. A southpaw pitcher is the role Bill plays on the baseball field and when he isn't on the mound he very capably holds down an outfielder's position.

In basketball, "Lefty" is noted for his swiftness and his peculiar, accurate shooting. When a tight spot appears for the Vandals on the maplecourt, Bill can always be counted on to come through with that old ball in one way or another.

Being a junior, we will be seeing more of Bill the rest of the year, and it's mighty nice to know he'll be coming back to hold down that guard spot on the maplecourt next year.

Thanks for dropping in, Bill, and lots of good luck.

It was announced on the Washington State campus last week that the University of Idaho would not enter swimming competition for the remainder of this swimming season. This writer is wondering how such an announcement could be made when the Washington State tankmen won a meet here two weeks ago by forfeit. Maybe the Cow college across the line thinks we haven't a swim team; but it's a bet they will find out the real answer this Saturday when the silver and gold team enter the Cougar pool.

Negotiations For Team To Go East

It was made known today by Graduate Manager Gale Mix that the Idaho Vandal football machine will travel to Milwaukee, Wis., for a football game with Marquette university, October 12 of next season. Mix related that all negotiations have been made for the game.

Marquette, who plays a number of Big Ten schools, is coached by Tom Stidham, a graduate of Haskell Institute, and who was former assistant to Coach Dick Hanley, of Northwestern university. Stidham coached the Oklahoma Aggies before entering the service. Mix stated that all negotiations were made with Conrad Jennings, athletic director. Mix went on to relate that the game might be played at night since the Marquette stadium is so facilitated.

Mix went on to say he was pleased with next year's schedule and was happy to be able to add the Marquette game to the schedule.

Commenting on the game Coach Babe Brown considers the game as a step forward in football for the University of Idaho. He went on to say he was hoping for a good squad so as to put a good showing on the field in the midwestern league.

A game has also been scheduled with Portland university, here next November 16. Portland is coached by Hal Moe, former line coach to Lon Stiner of Oregon State. Portland will also meet Oregon State in a game next fall.

The following games have been arranged for next year's season: The Vandals open their season at Palo Alto, Calif., September 28 when they play Stanford university; Washington State at Pullman, October 5; Marquette, October 12; October 26 Oregon at Moscow; Montana at Missoula November 2; Oregon State at Corvallis, November 9 and Portland in Moscow, November 16.

Mix also related that a Thanksgiving day game is being sought, to be played in a warmer climate. Also, negotiations have been made for a home game October 19. No school was named in relation with the home game date.

A golfer sent this testimonial to the hosiery manufacturer: "Fifteen minutes after putting on a pair of your socks I made a hole in one."

Swimmers To Meet Cougars Saturday

After forfeiting the first meet with the Washington State swimmers the Vandal tankmen will seek their first win of the season when they tangle with the Cougar swimmers Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in the Washington State pool.

Coach Ramsey states the Vandal team is in much better shape than the previous meet between the two schools. Ramsey went on to add that the entire Idaho squad would be eligible for the meet and would be all out to capture the meet.

Probable men participating in the meet include Large, Shultz, Gerberding, Smith, Crockett, Leonard, Adams and Haglin. From all indications the brunt of the silver and gold threat will be on the shoulders of Wally Shultz and Joe Large.

Idaho Purchases Surplus Items

A jeep, a trailer and two navy trucks were among the items procured by Mrs. Milton Albrecht, purchasing agent, on her trip to the Seattle area last week when she attended a "sixteen million dollar" surplus military commodities sale in Tacoma January 28. Mrs. Albrecht spent January 29 working with the federal public housing authority in Seattle.

The jeep and trailer will be used on the golf course, where the jeep is to be employed for hauling lawn mowers. The two navy trucks, which stood the test of wear when driven here from Tacoma over icy highways, will be operated on the university farm. The trailer is a former "ski" trailer used to rescue
