Ducks To Invade Palouse For Crucial Cage Series No Decision Made By Regents On Student Union

On February 25, a special session of the state legislature will convene in Boise, and the issue of funds for the university will again arise. An extra appropriation of about $174,000 will be asked to finance veterans' housing. There is little question in the minds of any persons who have seen the available housing that such an appropriation represents a dire need. We are in hopes that the legislature will realize clearly that provision for adequate housing of married veterans is not only desirable, but a duty; a part payment of the debt which society owes the veteran.

Education Under-financed
The state of Idaho, although it enjoys the third highest literacy rate in the United States, is not education minded. Proof of this statement can be found by close examination of the educational system from elementary schools through the higher learning institutions. Grade and high schools are supported by local taxation based on ad valorem property tax systems which leave many sparsely settled districts operating on a financial shoestring. Any attempt to consolidate districts is met with frantic opposition by the respective boards, who hang desperately to the creaky platform of local autonomy. In their self-satisfaction at keeping education at home, they are unwittingly depriving their children of the advantages that a properly financed district would provide.

Teachers Underpaid
Teachers standards have steadily declined, until at the present time a large part of the teaching force of some districts is composed of emergency instructors, many of whom cannot qualify for regular teaching permits. Good teachers are forced out of the state by the pittance wages offered by many districts. Examples of specific cases can be found with ease by looking at the number of instructors the University of Idaho has lost to other colleges who did not offer them exorbitant wages, but did guarantee a decent living salary commensurate with their profession.

Another contributing factor, which discourages followers of the teaching profession in Idaho is the lack of a teacher's retirement plan. Grossly inconsiderate treatment is accorded an educator who spends the greater part of life teaching many school generations of youngsters, and who is dismissed at the retirement age with little more than thanks for the service rendered.

Our state must become more education-conscious before improvements in facilities can be expected. Improvements are expensive. Under our existing tax laws, we have no ear-marked funds for education purposes, and legislators whack $250,000 or so from the submitted university appropriation request at nearly every session to alleviate the beleaguered financial status of the educational budget.

Vets Reorganize Dance Band

A dance band comparable in size to the pre-war article is under process of organization on the campus. The group will be a 15-piece affair with four trumpets, three trombones, five saxes, and a rhythm section. The band is being organized under the direction of Adair Hilligoss and George Hartwell, both former students recently discharged from the coast guard. Business arrangements for the orchestra will be handled by Jack Fury, Lindley Hall.

A wide range of music will be available, as the reporters will include sweet, hot, and novelty numbers. The library compiled by members during their service careers includes 15 scores of Claude Thornhill's arrangements. Rehearsals are being held, and the band will be ready for business about the first of March.

WELTZIN ATTENDS MEET
Dean J. Frederick Weltzin left Sunday by train to attend a meeting of the National Association of Colleges and Departments of Education in Kansas City, Mo., February 20, 21 and 22.

Newsreel Opens First Act Of Play Production

Tonight at 8:15 the newsreel that opens the first act of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize-winning opus, "The Skin of Our Teeth," will flash on the screen in the university auditorium, beginning one of the most unusual plays in recent dramatic history. The colorful production will be repeated Friday and Saturday nights.

Elizabeth Bottum, as the time-honored temptress Sabina, will be seen opposite J. T. Peterson, who takes the role of Mr. Antrobus. Throughout the play she never succeeds in winning him from Mrs. Antrobus, played by Enid Almqvist. Shirley Brandt will play Gladys, and Gubby Mix and Marvin Trigo will portray at different ages Henry, second of the two Antrobus children. Elaine Anderson and Geraldine Merrill promise unusual performances as a baby dinosaur and mammoth, respectively.

Marina Dochlos, the philosopher of the play, appears in brilliant costume as the gypsy fortune-teller. Gene Roth is the announcer and Jay Wilson the stage manager. As refugees, William Gudmundson, Gayle Manion, Jean Kettner, Carolyn Phillips and Patricia Robinson will appear with the refugee chorus from Moscow high school.

Other parts in the play are carried by Bud Hagan, Ned Bowler, Mike Oswald, Robert Booth, Allan Keller, Evan LaFollette, Maurice Paulsen, Donald Swinney, Margaret Arnold, Polly Harris, John Lemire, Arlene Hinchey and Geneva Ferguson.

The play is under the direction of Miss Jean Collette, assisted by Ed Dalva and Betty Smith. Mary Stanek is stage manager. Miss Marion Featherstone, costume advisor, reports the play requires 79 changes of costume and several changes of make-up between acts. Little more would be required in the way of costuming and stage sets to make the production an extravaganza.

Tickets are on sale at the student bookstore and at Hodgins drug store for 50 cents. Students will be admitted on ASUI tickets. First curtain is at 8:15 for all three performances.

Foresters Slate Informal Campus Dance

Associated Foresters will hold their all-campus dance, "Woodchoppers' Ball," in the Student Union ballroom March 9, according to Ray Gardner, president. The dance will be strictly informal. A new 15-piece Idaho band will furnish the music. One o'clock permission will be given to all university students.

Dance committees were appointed at a recent meeting of the group. At that time, all forestry students and forestry staff members were introduced. A steak-fry will be held tomorrow night at the old C.C.C. camp north of Troy at 6 p.m. Plans for a new meeting place were also discussed.

Paul Wykert is general chairman for the dance, and the committees are: Don King and Dave Seaberg, programs; Kyle Bates, checkroom and intermission; Jack Boder and Wrede Brown, decorations; Dick Morse, tickets; Ross Didrickson, publicity; and Jim Mattox, clean-up.

OPENS WORK ROOM
Lyle Rogers, graduate student and director of the Educational Work Room, has announced that it will be open from 3 to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

VETERANS

All veterans who paid for their own registration charges of the first semester, because at the time they were on terminal leave, are requested to call at the bursar's office, Ad. 105, and apply for a refund. The refund is due if the student's terminal leave ended prior to February 9.

To receive reimbursement from the Veterans Administration, veterans who have paid for books for the second semester and received a "letter of eligibility" should follow this procedure: 1. Have receipts from the supplier, showing date and total amount received. 2. Receipts to be checked and approved for payment by the veterans' counselor, who submits them to the bursar. 3. Bursar mails the veteran a check covering total amount of reimbursement.

Jacoby Receives Job In Wyoming

Glenn J. Jacoby, former Idaho university athlete and director of intramural athletics, was recently appointed athletic director at the University of Wyoming with a three-year contract.

A native of Bonners Ferry, Jacoby won 12 letters in three sports at the university and he served as freshman football coach at different times, backfield coach, and head of the physical education department. He is a former coach at Idaho Falls high school.

Jacoby recently separated from the army with the rank of colonel to take over his new duties. He succeeds football coach Bernard F. Oakes who has served as acting athletic director since 1943.

Board Indicates Outlook Good For New S.U.B.

Accepting the recommendation of President Harrison C. Dale that five new points be included in the student report on the need for a Student Union building, the board of regents meeting here this week agreed to again discuss the project at the next meeting of the group.

Among the points recommended by the president to be included in the report were an estimated cost of constructing a suitable building and the cost of converting the present Student Union into use by the music department. He also asked for an estimated cost of acquiring a site for the building and the cost of enlarging the present one. Final recommendation by Dale was to find methods of financing the proposed building.

Following discussion with the board, Dale stated the group was "very much interested" in the report and asked the student committee to prepare the additional material in cooperation with the bursar's office.

While here, the board signed contracts with the Veterans Administration for special vocational rehabilitation courses to be offered veterans. G. C. Sullivan, board secretary, announced the courses will include applied agriculture, mechanics, and similar subjects.

Appointments to instructor positions included Katy Ray Boyer, physical education; J. L. Chapman, agronomy; R. N. Sedore, music; R. C. Thiele, chemistry; Melva Meierhenry, home economics; Leona J. Bledsoe, chemistry; Martin F. Schmitt, associate librarian.

Relative to veterans' housing, the regents set monthly rentals to be charged for various types of dwellings as $20 for one-bedroom prefabricated houses; $26, two bedrooms; $34, three bedrooms. At the special session of the legislature to be called by Gov. Arnold Williams, $174,185 will be asked for improvements in the emergency housing villages.

For the first time in Idaho basketball history, the Vandal squad dropped the Washington Huskies two straight in the Washington Pavilion last week-end. The two wins were the seventh and eighth wins for the silver and gold squad in their last nine starts. Over Corvallis way, the Washington State Cougars dropped a pair of games to the Beaver quintet to tie with the Idaho Vandals for games won and lost, and to take care of the upper berth of the Northern Division race.

New Students

All students who are new to the university this semester are required to take the psychological examination given to entering students. This examination will be given Saturday at 2 p.m.

DuSault Reports New Post-War Enrollment Tabs

University of Idaho registration met a new post-war high when enrollment reached the 2,000 mark Monday, according to D. D. DuSault, registrar. Return of veterans to the university for educational training under the G. I. "bill of rights" has jumped the enrollment figures from 1451 total for the first semester, and 100 or more were in the process of registering yesterday.

Enrollment is 800 less than the peak pre-war figures tabulated at 2800. A year ago there were approximately 850 students registered.

"Of today's enrollment, 850 are war veterans, and I expect the 100 or so late registrants will mostly be veterans," DuSault said. "I am snowed under with telegrams, letters, and applications which I am unable to answer because applicants neglected to include an address. We are planning to publish a new student directory, and any change of address should be given to this office," he added.

Owing to the large influx of veterans, there has been a substantial increase in all divisions, with the largest pre-war colleges regaining their former enrollment. There has also been a slight increase in the number of women registered.

No definite figures have as yet been released from the registrar's office for individual schools and colleges.

Fraternities Hold Annual Ball

Fraternity men and their dates will begin dancing in the Blue Bucket ballroom Friday at 9 p. m. at the annual Interfraternity Ball. The Pullman Cougar men's orchestra will furnish the music for this formal affair.

Crests and pins of each fraternity on the campus will make up the decorations, as has been the custom. Tickets for admission priced at $1 are on sale this week in each fraternity house for fraternity members, pledges, and NROTC students who are members or pledges of Greek groups on this or another campus.

Committee chairmen assisting Herman Renfrew, general chairman, are John Summers, music; Len Pyne, check-room; Bert Dingle, entertainment, and Don Collins, cleanup.

DEAN CARTER MEETS
Dean Louise S. Carter will meet with housemothers Tuesday at 4 p. m., and with house presidents at 11 a. m. in her office.

Monday and Tuesday nights the Idaho quintet will play host to the University of Oregon five when they make their Palouse Empire debut for this season. In Seattle the Oregon State Beavers' invaded the Washington pavilion this week-end for a pair of games with the Huskies. Both Idaho and Oregon State have the same number of games left to play, so a loss would be crucial to either team at this stage of the game.

In facing the Ducks, the Idaho five find a team much improved from early season play. The Oregon quintet rests in the third bracket of the race thus far although they have played only eleven games. The Ducks are coached by Howard Hobson, and Coach Hobson brings with him many veterans of last season's play plus members of his 1941 and '42 seasons. Bobby Hamilton ranks high with scribes in the conference as one of the best guards in the league. Also, Dick Wilkins, tall forward, will be a constant scoring threat to the Vandals in the coming games.

Commenting on the two Washington wins, Coach Brown stated he was glad the games were out of the way. He went on to say he was pleased with the style of play the boys turned in against the Washington team.

Should both Oregon State and Idaho win the remainder of their games, a three-game play-off (Continued on page 2, col. 4)

Seniors Schedule Eventful Week

"Thanks for the Memories" will be the theme of this year's annual senior week, to be held March 1-3. Friday at 8 p. m. there will be an assembly in the auditorium. Beginning at 10:30 a. m. the seniors will serenade all the living groups.

Saturday night will witness the annual Senior Ball. The semi-formal event will be held in the Student Union ballroom. Admission will be $1.50 per couple, tax included, and tickets will be on sale in the men's living groups. A senior at each house will take charge of selling the tickets.

Charles Altmyer has been placed in charge of handling the tickets for the N.R.O.T.C. Programs for the dance will be distributed at the Bucket Friday and Saturday afternoons upon presentation of tickets. The dance will begin at 9:30 p. m. and end at 12:30 a. m.

Senior week committee consists of Fred Keiper, Pat Kulzer, Barbara Twitchell, Vera Anderson, Russ Severn and Arline Durkoop. Others are Audrey Hartman, Lois Deobald, Margaret Gorman, Velma Wilkerson and Cecilia Goodier.

Serenade practice for all seniors will be held in Hays hall at 1:15 Saturday.

Other appointments made by the board included the selection of Bob Smith and Burt Berlin as members of the university disciplinary committee.

AS WE SWING INTO A PEACETIME WORLD, the campus is beginning to assume a new, cosmopolitan atmosphere. In addition to high school graduates with the scale of values they bring to Moscow, we have sailors with different backgrounds and experience—and we have the older veterans, many of them married, and many of them with memories of bloodshed and privation.

However great our differences are, we are grouped together with the common purpose of learning—learning more about ourselves, one another, and the world about us. It appears to be an advantage that these groups should mingle as they do. If the younger students can learn something of patience and new points of view from the veteran, he in turn can profit from their enthusiasm and optimism.

The merger is a desirable one, but our ever-swelling student body—particularly one of this varied type—creates new, urgent problems that must be met. The housing problem is still acute with living space at a premium and the condition is not eased by the continued callous, covetous ways of certain landlords. Our growing classes and understaffed faculty is pointing dangerously toward a lowering of academic standards. New equipment is needed to maintain our self-respect. New buildings must be erected.

The university these days is in a state of flux and never was it so necessary to have our administration aware of the changing conditions, and sympathetic to the student body it represents.

Male Enrollment Increases Coeds' Interest

Men Send Morale Shooting Sky-High

After hearing the views of the returned veterans regarding the campus last week, we became curious about the views of the campus and especially the feminine side of the campus toward the increase in fellows.

The sweet Sals of Idaho were a little coy about revealing their true feelings, but here's what they said and, combined with that new sparkle in their eyes, perhaps it tells the story:

Margaret Burgoyne: "It's definitely improved the campus—the Bucket is always filled, etc."
Mary Jane Hawley: "Swell! It seems good to see the college back like it used to be—some familiar faces."

Anne Ruckman: "It sort of scared me at first but I'm getting used to it! School has a lot more zing than it used to."

Marjorie Ring: "I think it's wonderful to have more people on the campus—all the fellows' houses open. More like a university."

Helen Kerka: "I think it's swell—improves school spirit a hundred per cent!"

Barb Morris: "Seems to have bolstered the spirits of the girls—more of the old school enthusiasm."

Joan Benoit: "They're going to start calling trains in lib pretty soon—it's like Grand Central station!"

Naomi Jensen: "It's fine both in classes and recreation!"

Virginia Transue: "We're certainly having a lot more dances and dates—that's the main improvement."

Lucille Nelson: "Lots of the lost traditions can be brought back and spirits are just generally lifted."

Margaret Deggendorfer: "It makes it a lot harder to get around in the halls but everyone seems happy about it!"

Billie Adamson: "It's swell to see some new male faces—creates more enthusiasm."

Lucille Thompson: "Seems more like the college we heard about before we got here. The fellows don't seem half as interested as the girls!"

CROWDED

Due to crowded conditions in the student union, each person will be asked to show his ASJU book on Friday and Saturday evenings. This is done to ensure your pleasure in your own recreation center. Too many outsiders have crowded out Idaho students.

Debaters Initiate New Members

Delta Sigma Rho, the national honorary forensic fraternity, has initiated Elaine Anderson, Geraldine Merrill, and Clara Beth Young, according to Eleanor Andrew, president of the chapter.

The next debate tournament will be the annual triangular series with Lewiston Normal school and Washington State college and is to be held at Lewiston on March 2. Representatives for the University of Idaho are yet to be selected. Idaho won this tournament last year.

The annual tournament at Linfield college will be held March 7-8-9. Idaho will be represented by six or possibly eight students.

Economist Visits

Home economics foods classes will entertain Mrs. Jeanette Hendricks Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Hendricks is home economist from the Wheat Flour Institute; she will visit the department and give demonstrations.

PROFESSOR GAINS OFFICE

Merrill E. Deters, professor of forestry at the university, was elected president of the Latah County Wildlife association at a meeting held February 14. Deters will succeed R. M. Harland and hold office for the coming year.

We must admit science is successful. It couldn't open the window so it air-conditioned the train.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
The little incident February 11 over the controversial game with Montana is sufficient evidence to me that Idaho needs a scoreboard that is controlled from the officials' desk. I only came from a little Powderdunk Hi, but we had an electric scoreboard that was controlled from the desk by the scorekeeper; and, furthermore, we only had 200 students enrolled in the school. Surely a large institution like the University of Idaho, with a couple thousand students and a winning basketball team, should have a scoreboard that registers the official score. Are we going to stand back and watch the high schools of the state show the University the accepted methods in athletics? Let's don't jeopardize our chances in basketball; the game with Montana was an example of what could happen in a conference game; and, furthermore, it's nice just to know what the official score really is.

—Rex Zobel, L.D.S.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
Heard from a Beta during the modern dance Tuesday morn: "That's the best argument for prohibition I've seen yet."

AAUW Meets

Moscow branch of the American Association of University Women held a meeting February 14 at the Student Union, and had as their guests women students of this year's graduating class.

Following the business session, a program was presented by the students from the university music department.

Over the Hill

with JACK SHURMAN

This is your N. R. O. from Idaho, saying welcome to every B.T.O. with an old A.P.O. or F.P.O., who is reading this column for the first time. It has been an article written chiefly for the benefit of Navy ROTC's at the university, but I think it only fair to warn all that, next week, "Over the Hill" will branch over the campus to cover those in civies as well as skiveys. A word to the wise is sufficient, so let's go to press.

About ten of the thirty fellows who left for discharge last week returned today, "ruptured ducks" occupying a prominent position on their dress jumpers. Was I green with envy. I almost got my discharge too but lost out at the last minute. The Navy flipped a coin with my former employer to see who would get me. The Navy lost, so I have to stay here for another five months. Besides that, I'm told there still is a little matter of points, points, schmoits, my mother brought a pound of used fats to the butcher last week and got more points than I made the first year overseas. I finally got sick and tired of trying to figure out my score and bought a slide rule at the book store. I'll give you the straight dope on my total as soon as I can get hold of somebody who will tell me how to find the cube root of seven.

I wouldn't say I don't have many, but the last time I saw anything that approached my points, it was on a pair of dice, and someone yelled "Snake eyes!"

To the consternation of many, it is my unfortunate duty, as NRO spokesman, to announce the foundation of a new campus organization. "The Broke Bloke Club" or "It's Just As Well I Don't Have Any Money Cause I Probably Couldn't Get a Date Anyway" fraternity. Function of the B.B.C. is to heckle any and all poor swabbies that don't have the foresight to avoid bringing a date into the Blue Bucket on a Sunday evening. The routine is always the same, and after co-ed and escort receive a hearty "Yoo hoo" from the boys as a body. Pres. Jim Black slyly remarks, "That doesn't look like the gal you were stuck on." Vice-Pres. Diek Lee quips, "Is that the same one you have the date with at eight?" Frank Knapp follows through with, "I see you finally got lucky on the third nickel," and Don Ackerman ends the confab by clapping his hands together and shouting after the rapidly retreating victim:

"Hurry back to Willis Sweet. I can't wait to hear how far you got with her this time." Four remaining members, Wayne McNichols, Snuffy Hamilton, Chuck Dresser and Elliot Epstein, are not unemployed and station themselves around the juke box to play waltzes for those who jitterbug and jive tunes for those who don't. I haven't seen a happier bunch of bystanders and onlookers since the announcement of gas rationing.

To Bob Comisky, at Farragut hospital due to injuries received in an auto accident, let's get on the ball fellow and show 'em all that you can't keep a good man down. We expect to see you up and around shortly, and we've got things on ice, awaiting your return. Just shake it easy and don't give those nurses a bad time.

A little more fortunate was Ted Van Bruggen who suffered an injured finger in the collision. Campus cuties breathed a sigh of relief. "Let 'em sigh," said Ted, "I only use this hand for a decoy, anyway. It's the other one they have to worry about."

I went down to Bob's Bistro last Friday night and had a bang up time. The place was crowded to a point of being enjoyable. One thing I couldn't figure out was why ever time the fellow in back of me would start to giggle, the lady in front of me would turn around and slap my face.

Things slowed up a little later in the evening, as two stout unfortunates got jammed between the door adjoining the "Bistro" and "Shorty's," and tied up traffic for an hour.

I finally found peace and sanctity beneath a chair and quietly drained a pitcher or two. "Cookie" Cook, sitting at the table directly over me, was struggling to steal a kiss from his girl. "You'd better stop," she said, "or I'll call my father who sends bar." He came back with, "Don't be silly, there

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
The little incident February 11 over the controversial game with Montana is sufficient evidence to me that Idaho needs a scoreboard that is controlled from the officials' desk. I only came from a little Powderdunk Hi, but we had an electric scoreboard that was controlled from the desk by the scorekeeper; and, furthermore, we only had 200 students enrolled in the school. Surely a large institution like the University of Idaho, with a couple thousand students and a winning basketball team, should have a scoreboard that registers the official score. Are we going to stand back and watch the high schools of the state show the University the accepted methods in athletics? Let's don't jeopardize our chances in basketball; the game with Montana was an example of what could happen in a conference game; and, furthermore, it's nice just to know what the official score really is.

—Rex Zobel, L.D.S.

WHO CARES

Another week—
New names and new faces.
We write this stuff to fill up spaces;

And when the column's neatly filled,
We find the darn-fool thing's been killed!

We wonder what those sounds emitting from the Phi Delta house every night could be? Couldn't be M.B. or C.B. making like Tarzan, could it? Then there's always Dotie Taylor's interest in Spokane. Well, Dot, we'll see what we can do! Sigma Chi Wall Warner proclaiming his scorn of women. "Seems to me, I've heard that song before!" Overheard (in excited feminine voices): "The Betas are back; has anyone heard the 'bigger' gals?" Well, that's a thought. John Rowe's "love 'em and leave 'em" (mostly leave 'em) tactics arousing the ire of several gals down Tri-Delt way! Another Sigma Nu, Sherm Saylor, having the time of the campus; playing the field, too! Everyone to his own taste: just "give me the simple life." Phil Halley's off to southern climes to see John, the Navy O.A.O. And Judy Boone, also of the Gamma Phis, sporting Chuck Luke's ring! John Dailey's been overheard to say of his interest over at the Alpha Chi house, "Well, now I've got someone who'll stick to what they say." What could he mean by that? Maybe Jan could tell you. Kappa Denise Magnuson (and friend) big-talking the Alpha Phi house mother last Saturday night! Tsk, tsk, such goings on! What's this peculiar bridge game of "Jinx" Keaton's with Bob Smith last Sunday? Ask Joyce who won?? Art Nelson regaling his Psych class with descriptions of the Kappa's dorms!! Need we add more?

While on the subject of those slendeh, teindah, an' tall-ikappas, there's always that blond Californian, who seems to hear much from the Pijis 'cross the way. One time when a male-factor is a mal-factor, we'd say! California seems to have made a number of contributions to the "Upstate Camp" in recent weeks, not the least of which is Lee Kendall—tall, tan, terrific Sigma Nu pledge; and what's more, the boy has a past! "Nuf said. . . Following a logical train of thought—we assure you, there's always Huba-Hobza, who could take some advice from "Jenny" (from the song of the same name)! Which reminds us, Leonard Williams, Delt pledge, could really use some spelling lessons. Any volunteers? Why, Ride, imagine seeing you here! Sig pledges Jack Leir, Neil Warner and Bill Lasswell selling a suit for two dollars. No reduction for friends, either! Howabout that, fellas? Marilyn Reed just a little sawed-off over "Nickie's" recent departure the other day! Don't worry, "Mac," it's his dad who's going to China; not him! Katusha Chrisman, over at the D.G. house sporting what looks like an engagement ring. Of course, we could be wrong, but we're giving odds to anyone who's interested! There's something about a marine, they tell me; but where

Gem Pictures

Saturday is the last day pictures may be taken for the Gem. All students who have not made an appointment at Hutchison's studio should do so at once and return the proofs by 6 p.m. Wednesday. If proofs are not received, the studio will select the one to be placed in the yearbook.

Seniors who have not received or completed activity lists for the Gem should contact Elaine Anderson, 8631, or Clara Beth Young, 7296.

At which point, this week's column reaches its sorry end. . . More next week!

does Dick fit into this? Some of the recent returnees to the campus really snow-jobbing the gals. . . Just ask Maybelle Harris about that!!!

Smootheries just arrived from up Spokane-wise are Lois Thome and Gerry Sheperd of Hays Hall! Ed Dalva panicking those of the cast of "Skin of Our Teeth," a couple of nights before it came off, with his interpretation of Sabina, "the eternal enchantress," while Liz Botum was laid up in the infirmary! 'Nother overheard, this time of a number of gals on campus, "Yep, they're all decided blondes, they decided just recently." . . . And howabout that? Then there's the one about the boy whose mother told him about the birds and bees about a month ago and he went with a sparrow for two weeks before he knew what she was talking about. . . But, gee, how could we know?

The itinerary for southern Idaho consists of performances in Boise, March 11; Twin Falls, March 12; Gooding, March 13; Burley, March 14; Montpelier, March 15; Malad, March 16; Preston, March 17; Pocatello, March 18; Idaho Falls, March 19; Blackfoot, March 20; and Rexburg, March 21.

Numbers included in the repertoire of the musical organization are almost without exception special arrangements by members of the music department faculty, while five are original compositions.

"Tomorrow and Tomorrow" was composed by Hall Macklin to words by Geoffrey Coope and T. A. Sherman of the English faculty, and was the hit song of "Gee-Eyes Right," an original musical comedy produced at the university in 1944 by students and army personnel on the campus.

With Joseph Brye composing the music and Dave Stidolph, former student, creating the lyrics, "Suite, Idaho," reviving the spirit of the early west, and "Nancy," a simple ballad in New England style, were also original.

The all-girl singing orchestra was organized in the fall of 1944 for the primary purpose of entertaining military personnel and during its first touring year appeared before audiences exceeding 40,000, exclusive of radio listeners. It is the only group of its kind in the Northwest.

Miss King Gives Dance Program

Expressing the spiritual disintegration that might result from the evil domination of pride, envy and wrath, Miss Eleanor King presented a program of modern interpretive dancing to the student body Tuesday morning at the Memorial gymnasium. Miss King's performance included dances "Roads to Hell," "Song for Heaven," and "American Folk Suite."

Preceding her performance, the dancer explained how the movements of the dance were composed first and were then set to music.

Monday at 4 p.m. the artist gave a lecture and demonstration in the women's gymnasium to interested students and faculty. She outlined briefly the history of modern dance, and following the demonstration an open discussion was held.

FARMER HOLDS DISCUSSION

"ON THE INSIDE"

By JACK GOETZ

Athletes come and go, but seldom do we hear of an athlete who has made a comeback to the top as did our own Wally Shultz, Vandal swimming star. Wally is a swimmer of great renown. During his high school days Wallace swam for the Washington Athletic club, where he made quite a name for himself as a youthful swimmer.

Wally was born in Spokane, Washington, September 17, 1921, and spent most of his time swimming from the age of five on. As a freshman of Roosevelt high school in Seattle, Wally was a member of the United States Olympic team which traveled to Berlin, Germany, in 1936. The silver and gold star swam on a second place relay team in the meet. Following the meet, Wally and some of his companions traveled throughout Europe on a bicycle tour which to Wally was very interesting and educational. Wally declared one of the things which he remembers most clearly concerning the meet was seeing Hitler and listening to one of his speeches. He went on to recall that during one of the events, an American girl slipped up and kissed Hitler while his guards and troops stood dumbfounded and much amazed.

WALLY SHULTZ

Prior to the war, he attended the University of Washington, and it was during his freshman year there that he dropped from school to join the navy.

Deciding to return to college, Wally chose the University of Idaho simply because he liked the school. Here at Idaho Wally has already established a name for himself as a great swimmer. To date he is undefeated in any meet swimming for the colors of silver and gold.

Wally is a married man. His wife, Gloria, is also a graduate of Roosevelt high school. The Shultz family have, as Wally puts it, "a rugged baby boy," who Wally hopes someday will be another great swimmer. I'll bet young Scotty finds his father trying to have him do a back flip in the bath tub each day.

Now that we have become thoroughly acquainted with the Shultz family, let's get down to the highlight of Wally Shultz's life. In 1940, while putting on an exhibition diving event in Seattle, Wally broke his neck when he dived from a 30-foot tower, which was supposed to have had 15 feet of water, to a pool of 8-foot water. Doctors declared Wally would never walk again, let alone even getting near a swimming pool. The following year, after abolishing braces and casts, Wally very diligently began to develop himself so he could again indulge in the sport he loved. Wally did swim again; in fact, he swam as a member of the National Championship 400-meter free style relay team. Yes, Wally made a great comeback. He is an example of one who proved he wasn't going to let a doctor's thoughts hamper him from again going to the top.

It's certainly nice to have seen such as Wally Shultz on athletic teams of our University of Idaho.

Track Meets Only Three Weeks Away

Track practice was in full swing this past week with Coach Mike Ryan training his charges on the gymnasium floor and in the old National Guard stable on Sixth street. However, the Vandal cinder mentor continues to express dissatisfaction with the turnout, explaining that there are still men with track experience in school who would be valuable to the team if they would turn out. If Idaho is to retain her place near the top of the Northern Division in track, these men must turn out.

As the first intercollegiate meet is only three weeks away, the Idaho coach has set this week as the final date for coming out for the team. The only exception will be for men who are now on other teams who won't be available till these sport seasons are completed.

Beginning with the Inland Empire indoor championships in the Pullman field house on March 16, and continuing through to the National Collegiate Championships late in June, the Idaho team will have a full intercollegiate schedule, and with this in mind, Coach Ryan has set March 11 as the date for the Inter-class meet. Coming just a week before the Inland Empire meet, this meet on the gymnasium floor will serve as a trial for that event.

Idaho Drops Huskies Twice For Top Berth

First Idaho Pair Of Victories On Huskie Court

University of Washington pavilion felt the effects of two earthquakes last week, one in the form of a smooth working Vandal basketball team; the other earthquake was the real thing. The Vandals took the two close games 51-48 and 40-38 respectively. At the same time the Vandals were cutting down the Huskies, the Oregon State Beavers were handing Washington State their further deed to the cellar spot, leaving the silver and gold in a deadlock with their co-league leaders.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S GAME

During the first period the local boys were behind before tying the game at 16 all halfway through the period. Again the Huskies forged ahead to put the score at 23-18 and then 30-21. The Vandals started to "operate" by whittling Washington's lead to 31-30 at half-time. From there on, with Quinn as the big wheel, the Vandals kept the lead until the final gun. With the Huskies close behind the Idahoans took the game 51 to 48.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S GAME

Breaking all precedents the Vandals went on to take the second game 40-38 at the Washington pavilion, being something that hasn't been done by a Vandal team in all the years of basketball at Idaho. In a hard fought game Quinn was the high scorer for Idaho with 11 points. Captain Len Pyne made the final basket that broke the tieup of 38-38 to win for Idaho.

Vandal Swimmers To Vie For Conference Honors

Six Vandal tankmen will train tomorrow night for the Northern Division swimming meet being held Saturday at Corvallis. They dunked the Oregon State Beavers 51-23 and suffered a defeat from Oregon last week, Bill Ramsey, swim coach, said today.

Oregon out-splashed Idaho Friday by a score of 53-22 and the next day Vandal mermen victimized the Beavers.

"We are third place in conference standings so we should be optimistic enough to expect a third place at the meet although anything can and usually does happen," Ramsey remarked. "I am taking six men to Corvallis, two of which have not been beaten this year," Ramsey added.

Wally Shultz, 220 and 440 yard event, will lead his teammates Joe Large, Phil Gerberding, Bob Leonard, Jim Crockett and Al Smith into action Saturday. Shultz has won every race he has participated in this year. Joe Large, backstroke ace, is the only other undefeated man on the Vandal team.

EAST

Many thousands of men in uniform have yet to be returned home from the Pacific theatre. That's Union Pacific's first and most important job.

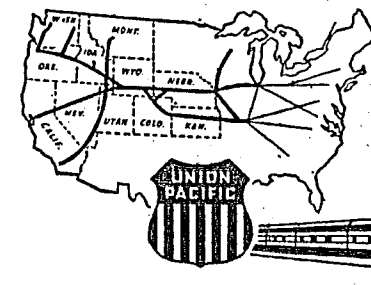

But if you're planning a trip to the East, don't give up the idea. It's worth waiting for. And travel conditions are improving, day by day.

Start your vacation with relaxation. Enjoy "smooth sailing" on a fast Streamliner . . . a world of comfort on a modernly-appointed Limited. Or choose the Challenger—famous for low-cost travel enjoyment.

Your Journey by rail will be the high-spot of your vacation or business trip.

Ask about "stop over" at various interesting points enroute to or from your eastern destination. Union Pacific serves more western scenic regions than any other railroad—the world's greatest travel bargain.
