Vandals To Meet WSC In Second Game Of Season

Tentative plans for development of the university during the next 25 years were announced at the weekly press conference held in President J. E. Buchanan's office Tuesday. Present at the meeting were Victor Jones and Lloyd Lovegren, members of an architectural firm from Boise, who have been formulating a long-range plan for the university.

Definite plans cannot be announced until approval is given by the planning board and the board of regents. The tentative plans have been made in order to find space for new buildings on the campus by enlarging it and removing obsolete buildings. The architects have surveyed buildings which will be removed by then, temporary structures, and permanent buildings. These are all indicated on the plans along with those which are to be erected during this period.

As the situation now stands, a new agricultural building is the only structure which will definitely be added. The others remain only temporary and include such items as a field house for track, a new women's gymnasium, library buildings and other structures. The results of this work depend upon securing the necessary approval and financial backing before actual construction can be started.

However, Jason feels that the fact that such plans are under consideration means some future improvements will be made. The enlarging of the campus and utilization of available space in the plans should be of some benefit in planning the erection of even the smallest building in the future. They prove that there is still plenty of "elbow" room here so that in a few years students won't have to ride bicycles to classes.

Lunch at most group living houses on the campus is served at 12 noon—on the dot—but many professors will not excuse their students from classes so that they have time to make it the several blocks to lunch. Even after the bell has rung the instructors continue their talks when the actual class period is over. Long-winded lecturers could easily adjourn their classes at the correct time so that house lunches could proceed uninterrupted by late-comers.

Printed in today's Argonaut are the amendments to the constitution of the ASUI which will be presented to the voters at the future election. Jason suggests that all students read these over and take them into consideration instead of utilizing the easier practice of just marking them according to their mood.

Unless history repeats itself and the special train to Pullman is cancelled again, students will board the Northern Pacific cars Saturday to ride to Pullman for the football game. Train officials were forced to cancel the original plans but, recognizing the students' needs, went to a great deal of trouble and expense to bring cars from the East for our transportation. If tickets sell for 45 cents round trip, with a capacity crowd of 1000, the railroad will earn only $450 out of the deal. This is not even enough to cover the expense of bringing the cars to Idaho.

Jason believes that the Idaho students owe a vote of thanks to these railroad officials who, being forced to cancel their original special train, nevertheless kept their agreement and furnished transportation. We hope that there will be 1000 Vandal-rooters boarding the train after all.

Honorary Gives Freshman Tea

At a meeting of Mortar Board Tuesday, the members made plans for the annual activity tea which will be held October 24, for the incoming freshmen in order to acquaint the women with different activities and honoraries on the campus.

The tea this year is planned as a follow-up of the round table discussions which are sponsored by the Associated Women Students as an orientation course for the freshmen.

Students Wear Pajamas At Rally Tonight

Plans have been set for a gala evening tonight, starting with the pajama rally and ending with a special swing session donated by the "Men of Note" dance band in the gymnasium, according to Sherman Francis Furey, manager of the band. Also during the dance, the pep band will present a selection of new numbers, arranged especially for the occasion.

The entire show has been scheduled for one hour reported Furey. Also on hand will be KUOI with a public address system and a sound truck to sponsor the rally. "Jama sessions" will be personally interviewed by means of a remote control hook-up.

From the office of Dean Louise S. Carter came the announcement that no rule prohibiting the wearing of nightgowns during the rally had come from there, and that it was permissible.

Art Humphrey, yell king, reports that the parade will start at 7 p.m. at the Administration building, and will pass the women's halls and the Gamma Phi house, continuing down Elm street to the Delta Chi house, where it will turn down the adjacent street to pick up the Thetas. Turning again at the L.D.S. Institute, the ATO's and Pi Phi's can join as it passes their houses. The route will then swing up the hill past the Phi Delt, Delta Gamma and Beta house to the gymnasium.

Students Charter Special Train

A special train chartered for Idaho students attending the Idaho-Washington State game Saturday will chug out of the Northern Pacific railroad station at 12:30 p.m. laden with students and town football fans bound for Pullman.

Immediately following the game the train will reload and leave Pullman at approximately 5 p.m. Round trip tickets have been selling for $45 each at living groups and at the Student Union building during the week.

Some confusion resulted concerning the train when the Northern Pacific agent, A. J. Schneider, was advised by the Seattle railway office Monday that the special train that had been chartered the previous week would not be available.

Tuesday, however, he received another call from Seattle that equipment had been found—cars to haul 900 passengers to Pullman and back again.

Political Science Dept. Faces 'Full-To-Bursting' Semester

Press time today found us chatting amiably with Dr. Boyd A. Martin in the political science headquarters on the third deck of the Ad building. While Dean of the College of Letters and Science T. S. Kerr is head of the political science department, his pressing duties as dean of the college necessitate delegation of practically all department head activities to Dr. Martin.

Like all other sections of this humming education mill, Dr. Martin and his assistants are confronted with a maximum number of students with a minimum number of instructors. Spread among the various courses offered are approximately 684 students.

The division of instructing responsibilities among the department faculty is this: Dr. Martin, politics and administration of government; Dr. Richard Reath, political theory; Prof. Robert Hosack, international relations and far eastern affairs; Clifford Dobler, legal courses.

Architects Confer With Officials

Long-range plans for campus development are being discussed here by these members of the development committee and architects. Seated are Lloyd Lovegren and Victor Jones, Boise architects; Dean J. F. Weltzin, chairman of the committee; and T. J. Pritchard, C. A. Trull, Kenneth Dick, Robert Greene, and D. D. DuSault, who are all members of the committee, are looking on.

Students To Vote On Amendments To ASUI Constitution At Polls

Two amendments to the ASUI constitution will be presented for a student vote when the class elections are held. The first, submitted by the executive board of last year, would provide a sweater award to members of the governing body. Provisions of the second amendment would eliminate award of minor Is, making a major I the only award for sports. Under the amendment, new point systems involving more work to secure an award are set up.

Prior to approval given the second amendment by the executive board Tuesday, the document received assent from the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference and the campus I club.

First amendment reads: "The executive board award to include a grey coat sweater with an executive board emblem."

Second amendment is: Article I, Department of Athletics.

Section 1. Major sports at the University of Idaho are hereby designated as football, baseball, basketball, track, swimming, boxing, wrestling, tennis, golf, fencing, and skiing.

Clause 1. The ASUI shall present the major athletic awards only to those men who have fulfilled the following requirements (Cont. on page 2, col. 7)

ATTENTION

All students must have their ASUI books with them to get into Idaho's student section at the WSC-Idaho football game Saturday. All coupon books must bear the name and signature of the student.

Engineers To Hold First Meeting

Dr. L. C. Cady and Dr. E. B. Christiansen will be guest speakers at the first meeting of the Idaho student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers Tuesday evening in Kirtley Laboratory at 7:30.

The chemical engineering laboratory will be open for inspection. Refreshments will be served. All chemical engineers are invited.

Lions Club Gives Prizes To Vets

Beautifulizing homes and trailers in Veteran's Village was the main objective of veterans who competed for $80.00 given as prizes in a contest sponsored by the Lion's Club.

First prize of $20.00 on prefab houses was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sliger. Other prefab prize winners included second prize of $15.00, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilde; $10.00 for third prize to Mr. and Mrs. George Lee; $5.00 for fourth and fifth places respectively, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hostello, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rowland won first prize of $10.00 in the trailer division. Second, third and fourth winners were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Taylor, $7.50; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grisham, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham, $2.50.

Student Number 3400

Breaking an all-time record for enrollment in the university, Charles R. Stevens became number 3400 to register this week. A forestry major, he is pictured standing by another record-breaker in that department—Paul Bunyon.

AWS Schedules First Program For Tuesday

Idaho traditions, aspects of campus social life, and the rules and regulations from the Coed Code will be included as discussion points in the first women's orientation program scheduled for Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in the Administration building.

Members of the AWS council, under the direction of chairman Lucile Thompson, will carry on a series of panel discussions aimed at familiarizing new students with all aspects of campus life at the University of Idaho. All new women students will be required to attend.

Following each panel discussion, the meetings will be opened for questions from the audience. The women will be divided into groups of 40 to add convenience and informality.

Denise Magnuson and Beverly Abbey will be in charge of the information desk set up in the front hall of the Ad building to direct women to their prospective discussion groups.

AWS functions, activities, honoraries, and scholarship standards are on the program for the second orientation meeting October 22.

Debate Club Sets Tentative Forensic Dates

Eighteen prospective contenders for this year's debate awards were present at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing the intramural and intercollegiate debate season.

The intramural debates for both men and women, which will be held during the latter part of October and the first part of November, are being organized by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, next week. Practice schedules will be posted in room 204 of the Administration building at that time.

The first intercollegiate debate will be held at Walla Walla, with Washington State college and Whitman college.

Anyone interested in debating who did not attend the meeting may leave his name with Dr. Albert Whitehead of the public speaking department, in room 204 of the Administration building.

Students Choose Two Committees

Chamber of Commerce members of the university met in the Science hall Wednesday to elect a membership and nominating committee.

Elected to the committee are chairman Ted Lake, Ed English, Keith Finlayson and Tom Moore. Others chosen are John Reid, Art Una, Ken Newman and Ed Bullock.

The committee will select candidates for the board of directors who will be elected at the next meeting of the organization. President A. K. Belnap stated that the Chamber of Commerce will meet at a smoker next month and at that time a prominent businessman will speak to the group.

Future program and outline of work were also discussed at the meeting. There are at present approximately 225 members of the school of business administration Chamber of Commerce.

Staff Completed

Mrs. Isabelle Tullis will complete the library staff as the new assistant cataloguer. Mrs. Tullis is formerly from Ohio State university library.

FACULTY!

First meeting of the faculty square dance group for the year will be held tonight at the Faculty club from 8 to 10 p.m., according to Mrs. M. B. Connolly, substitute director. The group will hold regular meetings on the first Friday and third Thursday of each month.

Kaye To Play For Homecoming Dance Oct. 26

George Kaye's orchestra, featuring Helen Car, as vocalist, will play at the Homecoming dance to be held Saturday, October 26. Chairman Chuck Gibb announced yesterday. Kaye, who recently concluded a successful engagement at the Hollywood Palladium, will make the Moscow stop one of the highlights of his tour through the Northwest.

Further arrangements for Homecoming weekend were completed at a general committee meeting Wednesday evening. All living groups are reminded that house decorations, which must be completed and ready to be judged by 5 p.m. October 26, must carry out the theme, "Roast the Ducks—Brown." These decorations will be judged on a percentage basis in the following manner: originality, 30 per cent; carrying out the theme, 30 per cent; color scheme, 20 per cent; and workmanship, 20 per cent.

The judging team will be composed of two men and one woman, and will select winners of house decorations and floats. The judging trio has not yet been chosen. Several names are now before a committee for consideration and the three people chosen will have no affiliation or connection with any of the living groups on the campus.

Ike Lanter, George Walsh, Gene Kelly, and Laurence Peretti were named to assume charge of a window display in Jackle's Jewellery store on Main Street. This display will feature the prize awards and publicize the Homecoming queen nominees.

Situation Worries Book Manager

Supplies that are becoming impossible to obtain are replacing out-of-print books in the ever-increasing worries of Chet Kerr, manager of the student union bookstore.

"Though books are trickling in, a few each day," Mr. Kerr said, "there is no relief in sight as far as supplies are concerned. Certain sizes of notebook paper, drafting sets, and laboratory sets are impossible to get, and there seems to be no hope of obtaining any."

The bookstore ordered over 31,000 books last spring, 1000 Webster dictionaries alone, and most of these arrived in time for registration. Mr. Kerr is even probing second-hand bookstores for certain out-of-print textbooks.

Ticket Sale

Train tickets for the WSC train Saturday are on sale today in the SUB lounge. Round trip tickets are 45 cents. The train will leave the Northern Pacific depot at 12:30 p.m.

to attend the game, bearing out the statement that anything can happen.

Probable starting lineups are as follows:

Hard work has been the Vandals diet all week after a 45-0 drubbing at the hands of Stanford university. Better timing, pass defense, and fundamental blocking and tackling have been stressed by Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown. "The team is in an excellent frame of mind and its morale is high, every member wishing to atone for last week's loss," Brown said last night when asked about his charges.

In addition to stressing fundamentals, Brown has held lengthy scrimmages with the junior varsity, which employed Washington State plays and formations. Both the Vandals and the Cougars use the increasingly popular T formation.

Outstanding Players

Stand outs in last week's game were John Christensen and "Andy" Walsh. Walsh, a newcomer having previously played for Washington, plays an exceptionally good defensive game. The line was strengthened this week by the return of Jack Dana, 1942 letterman center. Dana and Walsh are certain to see plenty of action tomorrow. Francis (Lefty) Auer and Warren Briggs have been moved up to the varsity squad from the junior varsity and Auer may help solve Brown's difficulty at the ends of the forward wall. Auer is slated for a starting end (Cont. on page 2, col. 6)

Beckman Accepts Ag Club Position

With the resignation of Marshall LeBaron as president of the Ag club, the reins of the organization have been taken over by Clarence Beckman. Mr. LeBaron resigned from the position due to pressure from several business ventures.

Immediately after taking over the leadership of the club Beckman announced that plans are being made for the first Ag club meeting, which is to be held October 14, and will be the annual Faculty-Fresh get-together. This promises to be an important affair as nearly 300 men are enrolled in the school of agriculture this fall.

Assisting Beckman with the leadership of the Ag club this fall will be: Ross Lindstrom, secretary; Harry Judd, treasurer; Russell Lindstrom, Little International chairman; and Norman Holen, publicity chairman.

Also being revived this year will be many Ag club activities dropped during the year; these include: Harvest Ball, Ag club banquet, Little International, and the Home Ec-Ag club mixer.

Vandalism Plays Havoc

Nine miles is the shortest distance between any two major colleges or universities in the West, and consequently it is natural that a distinct and rather unusual rivalry should exist between the sport fans of Washington State college and the University of Idaho. We say that it is "unusual" because we pull for the Cougars to win when they play and they root for us when we meet opposing teams, but when the Vandals and W.S.C. mix it up in athletic contests, especially in football clashes, all fury is liable to break loose.

In the past, pre-game activities on Idaho's part consisted of sneaking to Pullman in the dead of night, swiping their feline mascot (the current pet cougar grows his answer to the name of "Butch the Third") and carrying him back to Moscow, usually staking him on the damp lawn of one of the sororities where he grunted his displeasure until rescued. Washington State frequently reciprocated by either removing our "Blue Bucket" from its customary position in front of the student union building, or by lavishly painting big red "W's" on the various Idaho campus sidewalks.

Such outright vandalism often led to undisguised bitter feeling and personal display of physical prowess whenever members of the two factions chanced to meet. Not only that occurred, but on occasion exuberant Vandal fans inflicted severe damage upon themselves. Years ago, before anyone even considered modern plumbing necessary, Idaho freshmen went on city-wide raids to secure wood for the rally bonfire and returned with assortments of lumber ordinarily not designed for burning in revelry—thereby causing stern consternation on the part of the general public.

Recently efforts have been made by both schools to cut down on the hostile spirit that has long been in effect. Last year, the marathon hikes between Pullman and Moscow by the losing student body president and school newspaper editor were initiated to help replace the existing outlaws. A more "friendly" rivalry is the goal of student leaders.

But, as this paper goes to press, a few of the local fraternities report new outrages against their properties, and some quarters believe that the culprits are irresponsible characters from across the border. It may be that all the good work has gone for no gain at all, or that all students over at Cougarville are not as devoted toward promoting a kindly-disposed rivalry as we hope we are. But we can be assured of one outstanding fact: we will be just as sincere, or more so, as the Washington State fans in cheering for our football squad as they are in yelling for their standard bearers. The number one way in which we can help our team win tomorrow is to make Rogers Field ring with unrestrained vocal effort in admiration, respect and honest backing of the Vandals.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

In this column last Tuesday a little information was given on the new policies concerning National Service Life Insurance. Since that time I have received more information on the subject which may serve as further interest to veterans. The first point is that many insurance policies have lapsed because veterans failed to properly identify correspondence in which premium payments were sent to the Veterans Administration in Seattle.

According to Ross L. Rowe, VA contact representative, many checks and money orders are received each week along with some currency and cash, representing, in all, many hundreds of dollars, coming in to the VA Branch insurance office in Seattle. Much of this correspondence is received with no accompanying identification marks. Because of this reason it is impossible to credit these funds to the rightful policy holder's account.

The following five points should be remembered by all veterans to insure proper posting of premium payments by the VA:

1. Pay NSLI premiums on or before the due date.
2. Write the "N" or "V" number of NSLI policies on all items of correspondence, money orders, or personal checks, if known.
3. Be certain full name, military serial number, and correct address is included on all correspondence.
4. Make all personal checks or money orders out payable to the Treasurer of the United States. Never send currency or cash through the mail.
5. Address premium payments to the Veterans Administration, Branch No. 11, Exchange Building, Seattle 4, Washington, Attention: Insurance Collections Unit. All other inquiries should be made to regional or local VA officers.

Wrecks Increase At University

Chief Ray Harter of the Moscow police force in a recent interview stated that traffic accidents have been increasing all over the United States, with Moscow proving to be no exception.

Harter emphasized the campus ruling for a speed limit on campus of 15 miles per hour as compared with the town speed limit of 25 miles per hour. Offenders of this ruling shall be turned in to the superintendent of buildings and grounds. At the present time, the city council is attempting to make this rule a law.

The chief pointed out that university accidents seem to be localized at two intersections, Idaho and Elm, and at Idaho and University. Three simple rules should be followed in order to minimize accidents: if you are driving, hold your own speed; if you are a pedestrian, walk; don't run; and avoid the foolish mistake of overloading your car.

RUMOR ROSTER

Now that pre-school hangers are nothing but a sad memory and the long lines of registration have moved from the Ad building to the Vets club, it looks like a big year for the Vandal backers. The old campus characters are once again gracing the up-state "U" with their usual boisterous spirits. The only trouble is, a twin bed was never intended to sleep four. After rush week, most houses were well populated, to say the least, and the new pledges were cordially shown just what part of the rug they could share for a night of solid sleep.

Did you hear how JERRY RIDGLE of the Phi Delt house tried to lure the Beta cook over to "Ptoimaine Tavern" to cook for them? Well, it's more than just an unfounded rumor because it seems that GENE CORNWALL can't fry anything but eggs.

With reference to the date situation, we will have to say that it doesn't seem to bother that Sigma Nu, LEE KENDALL, who seems to be motoring around more than a well lubricated Chris-Craft. Lee in the red shirt, that is. We'd sure like to find out if the rumor about Lee being engaged to ANN RUTHERFORD is fact or fiction. If it really is a rumor, we hope the guy that started it will be at ease and forever hold his peace.

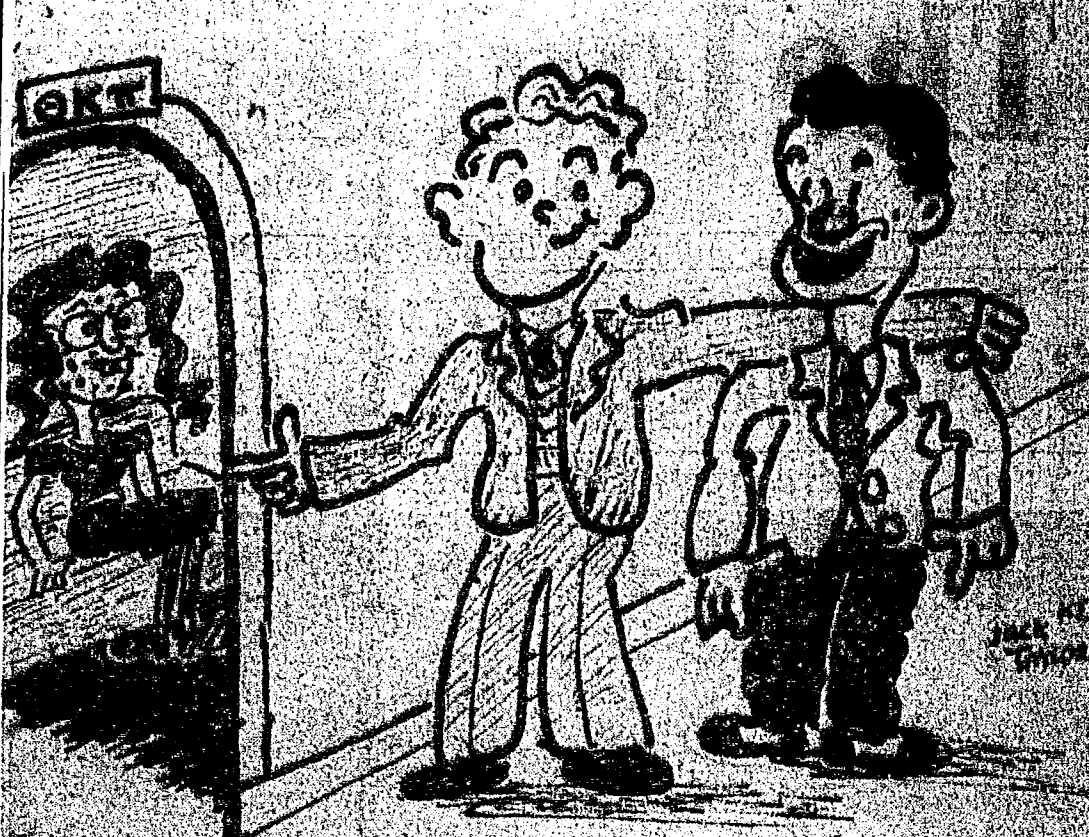

And speaking of women (well, what if we weren't speaking of women? Who the hell is writing this column?), you chucks had better get on the old stick because the latest statistics show there will be a chick for every third man and, chum, that ain't inflation! Our advice is this: if you have a pin, pass it; if no pin, get it; if you don't feel like going to that extreme, get a car! The latter is infallible. Incidentally, did you know that the birth rate of the United States increases proportionately with the increase in car sales? Stick with us and you'll become learned. Learned, that is!

If BARBARA SPAETH of KKG seems "different" this fall, please don't whisper behind her back. We can explain all. While returning to your ever-lovin' campus aboard a bus this fall, a suitcase fell out of the rack and completely cooled the aforementioned. Now, every time she hears "Love on a Greyhound Bus," she thinks her head is a jig-saw puzzle and tries to piece it together.

The class was asked, during a discussion of "Forever Amber" in modern literature class the other day, what they thought of the book. TOM QUILFOY of ATO completely floored the class by saying he enjoyed it because it gave him a good picture of the English caste system of that period! We would like to know, is he kidding? He went on to say that, other than that, the book got a little monotonous. All we have to say is, when the subject matter of that book gets monotonous, we are calling it quits and are breaking out the old cyanide bottle!

The housing situation, among other things, is rough. We know this comes as a jolt, but we feel you are old enough to know. We must face the facts and carry over onward. CURLEY NIXON, over at the Phi Delt house, has been sleeping on a couch so long he has a permanent wrinkle at the base of his spine from the sharp edges of the leather cushions. Horizontally, that is. TOM TOBIN claims the Fijis have remodeled their fireplace and now have two pledges sleeping there. The youngest one is afraid Santa Claus might step on his face come Christmas.

Now we know why women worry about gap-osis so much. Until the other day, we had always connected gap-osis with the snaps at the waist of a skirt, but now we are enlightened. We were sitting at the counter of a local cafe, enjoying a cup of coffee, when the waitress, who was in a low-cut dress, bent over toward us to make a tuna-fish sandwich.

MISSION TO MOSCOW

By CHARLEY SUGAR

One of the fastest growing departments at the university is the newly inaugurated domestic literature department. This department strives to present literature which is familiar to many but understood by few. In short, the purposes include a better understanding of domestic literature WITH A MORAL.

We registered for the elementary course offered in this department. The name of the course is Dom. Lit. I. It is taught by an elderly professor with a kind expression and a friendly manner named Poe Allen Edgar who formerly taught at Topeka Teachers college, and before that was connected with the office of Inter-digitation control in Washington, D. C.

Our first day in class was most exciting as well as enlightening. The class has been quite popular with both men and women students and the room was filled to capacity.

As the students, waited for the professor to arrive, they talked to each other concerning what the course was going to be like and other related subjects — such as nuclear fission and contour plowing.

Just as the bell rang, Professor Edgar started into the room, picked himself up, opened the door and made it. "I suppose," he began, "that a lot of you have been wondering about the integral constituents of this course. I have too. They assigned it to me only yesterday and we have no text and I'm really supposed to be teaching organic chemistry but the registrar lost my I.D. card so they assigned me to this course."

"The first story we will take up is the famous old favorite 'Goldie Locks and the Three Bears'." We are not so particularly interested in the plot of the story as we are in the sociological, political, and lastly and most especially—the MORAL concepts which are so dramatically expressed.

(Cheers from the class.) "Thank you. But I digress—we must first review briefly the plot. Before we do that, however, we must know something of the environmental background of Miss Locks."

"She was born of rather well-to-do parents in a small town. Turning to expectorate the china cup I was nonchalantly munching, I was saved continued strain and uncertainty when she straightened up to check the toaster.

in northern Vermont. Her father was a solid citizen who earned his living from the sale of reconditioned tank cars to the Pennsylvania railroad for carrying oil to Newcastle.

"Her mother was an uneducated hypochondriac who continually took liver extract and phenomint because, as she put it, 'I ain't at all well!'"

"Goldie was educated at the regular schools for children of her social position and at the age of twelve entered Mrs. Figaro Odalisque's Finishing School for Girls at Orn-on-the-Hudson.

"It was there that the story takes place. One day Goldie was out in the woods trying to find four specimens of fuzzeless caterpillars for a biology class when she saw a small brown bear which she realized at once was too damn big for a caterpillar, fuzzi or no fuzzi."

"You're cute," she said. "You probably tell that to every bear that comes down the pigke," said the bear. "But you might as well come over to the house. The folks aren't home and maybe we can find some oatmeal much or something. The folks are crazy about mush. I never did like the damn stuff but ya' can't tell parents anything."

"So they went over to the bears' house. Goldie later professed it was her first unchaperoned party. They didn't find any oatmeal but there was a bottle of Three Feathers in the victrola so they had a few rounds and Goldie fixed some canapes."

"The Three Feathers tasted better than the canapes so pretty soon Goldie and the young bear were jitterbugging to some hot records and feeling no pain. Soon Goldie was trying the polois glide, a fancy step she had learned at a resort in Maine the summer before, and she lost her balance, falling against the china closet, and breaking a couple of mush bowls.

"Just as is always the case when things go wrong, the parent bears arrived."

"What's the story on those busted dishes?" asked the pappa bear.

"Well, I'll tell ya pop," said Junior, "we were gonna make some mush and I just dropped 'em by accident. I'm sorry."

"Who the hell has been tapping that jug, the upstairs maid?" asked the head of the bear family with the air of a confirmed believer in legalized infanticide.

"The Younger bear didn't answer quickly enough so, in spite of Mrs. Bear's pleading not to berth tomorrow afternoon. Briggs is a lineman.

Another end who will probably help during the season is Bill Kummer, 8'2", 190-pound ex-marine from Farbat, Minn. Mack Nelbaur, 214-pound right tackle, has been looking good all week and will start against the Cougars.

WSC Players
On the Stater's team are two fast halfbacks who will probably cause Idaho much trouble. They are Williams and Lippincott. Williams is a brother to Bill Williams, Idaho 145-pound boxing champion, and was a star on the Idaho freshman team in 1942.

Idaho will furnish halftime entertainment, because school has not yet started at W.S.C. Feature of the halftime program will be the welcoming of Idaho's new president, Jesse E. Buchanan, into the conference by W.S.C. President Wilson Compton.

The Idaho rooting section is preparing a card display for the program, and the newly organized Idaho pep band, led by Jack Furey, will provide music.

University Plans New Campus Developments

The University of Idaho's long-range campus development plan will be ready for presentation to the board of regents at its homecoming meeting October 26, announces Dean J. F. Weltzin, chairman of the university development committee.

During the past week, Victor N. Jones, Boise architect, and his associate, Lloyd Lovegren, have been in Moscow conferring with the development committee and with deans of university divisions.

Members of the development committee, appointed by President Buchanan to recommend immediate and long-range plans for orderly development of the campus and physical plant and to be the contact agency with consulting architects, includes Dean Weltzin, chairman; C. A. Truitt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, vice-chairman; T. J. Prichard, head of the department of art and architecture; Kenneth Dick, bursar; D. D. DuSault, registrar; Robert Greene, director of dormitories; and O. A. Fitzgerald, director of information.

Following board of regents approval of the long-range campus plan, the university will determine its immediate building requirements and will submit them for review and approval to the state planning board. President Buchanan emphasized that the Agricultural Sciences building now has top priority but beyond that no commitments have been made on other buildings pending the outcome of this study.

The district planning board will be host to the state planning board at a meeting planned for Moscow some time this fall, at which time it will study the university's plan and requests for submission to the next session of the state legislature.

Lafrenz' Friends Keep Lafrenz In Frenzy

Members of the student body have recently been amused and somewhat confounded as to the sub-mechanical antics of a somewhat battered but colorful (red and blue) Ford seen chugging its rascous way around the campus and town. The puzzle seems to lie in the direction of ownership rather than just exactly what makes the hunk of stuff move (although on lifting the hood, we saw two Sigma Chi pledges jumping up and down on the pistons for locomotion).

To clear up any mystery in that direction, Johnny Lafrenz wishes to state that it still belongs to him. He has had numerous offers to buy but so far has turned them all down.

The long, rakish job has certainly led a nomadic life, too. The last time that it decided to take off on its own, it was returned with curious markings on it in loud yellow and blue hues. Three triangles and feminine names covered the once proud and smooth exterior. Also, says Johnny, the coils were missing and the contraption was found overturned on the Tri-Delta lawn.

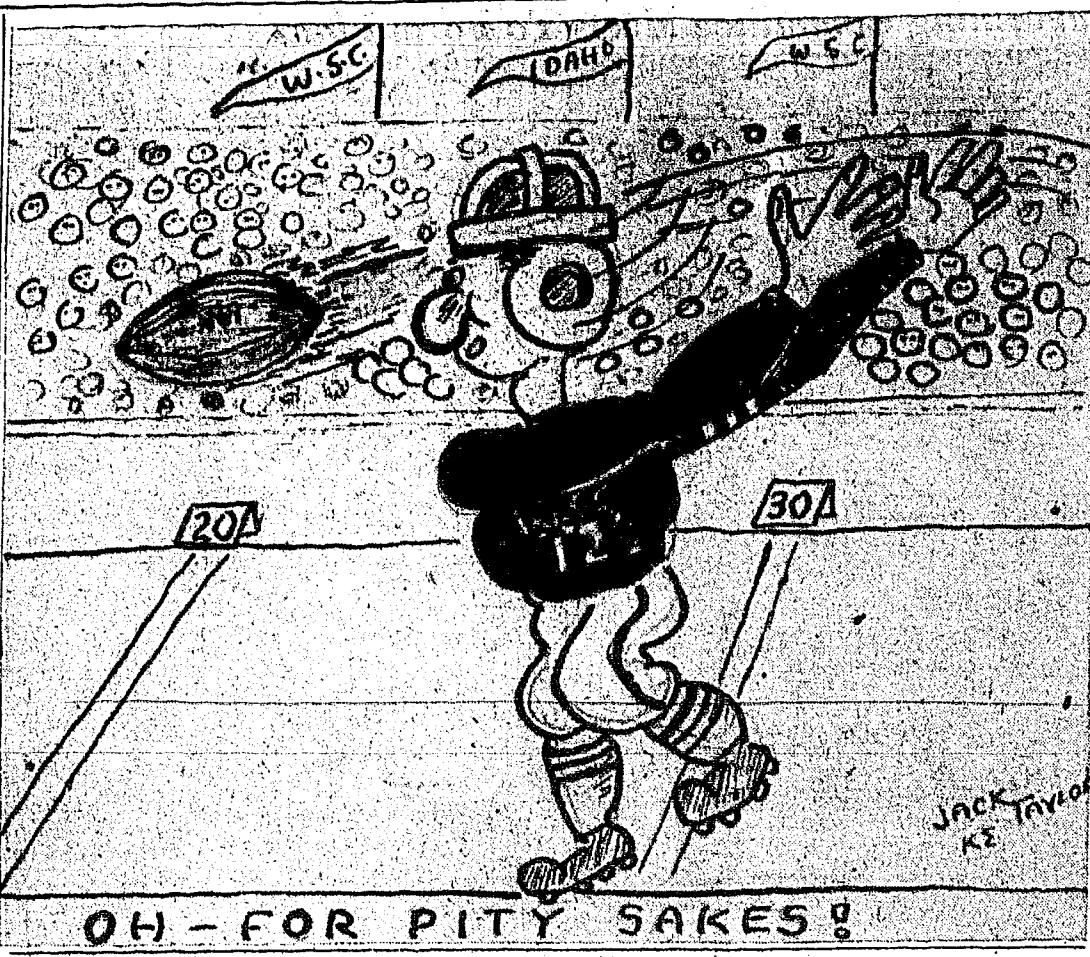

But the weather is turning cold now, Johnny, so our advice is to sell it unless you install a heater (blonde) or make a top to resist the arctic blasts to begin soon.

And before it can wander again, the best thing to do would be to slap enough 3-cent stamps on it to cover the cost of postage from any place in the country to the Sigma Chi house.

Eighteen Men Join Naval Reserve

Yesterday 18 men were sworn in as Midshipmen, USNR, by Capt. S. H. Ambruster. Three of these men, James Crockett, John Linnenkamp, and Nels Kans are former students who were attached to the navy unit last year, while the other 15 men are freshmen.

During their first year they will be required to take three hours of naval history, seamanship, and damage control per week. The navy will pay their tuition and will give them $50 a month to cover living expenses.

Cook Gains Credit For Recruiting Texan For School Of Forestry

Midnight arguments on a Japanese ship over the respective merits of Texas and the Northwest were responsible for Charles R. Stevens becoming Student No. 3400 and Veteran No. 2110 at the University of Idaho this week.

From Texas Stevens hailed from Pampa, Texas, and talked like a Texan which means he talked a lot about Texas. The ship's cook, name of "Wally," was from Tacoma, Wash., which means he thought the Northwest was the original "God's country."

Stevens never admitted that the tall timber of the Northwest had anything over the tall seagrass of Texas, but whenever the ship docked at an American port, he would secretly slip off to a public library and read up on Wally's country. Wally, who had worked in the woods, had also extolled the wonders of being a forester, and so Stevens checked up on forestry schools. He decided that there were three outstanding forestry schools in the United States, and wrote for their catalogs.

In his swaying hammock as the ship plowed through Pacific waters, Stevens studied the catalogs. He decided the University of Idaho School of Forestry was for him.

Getting out of the service last March, he returned to Texas, but got worried about the possibility of the University of Idaho putting up the bars against out-of-state students because of heavy registration. Stevens decided to get out of Texas fast and came immediately to Moscow, where he established a residence. Then he got a job with the Forest Service, working out of Princeton.

Sure enough, the University regents ruled during the summer that new students must have been residents of the state for at least six months. Stevens' six months were up this week and he registered as a freshman in forestry. Wherever he is, "Wally" doubtless would be happy to know about this.

"What color bathing suit was she wearing?" "I couldn't tell. She had her back turned."

"Darn it, leftovers again," said the cannibal as he gnawed on the two old maids.

Rifle Team Begins Training On Marksmanship

With three returning lettermen and 68 prospective marksmen turning out, the ROTC rifle team this week started extensive training on the range in the armory of Memorial gymnasium.

The team is coached this year, as in past years, by M/Sgt. Jefferson D. Morgan. The first few days were taken up with the sighting bar, and preliminary shooting exercises and actual shooting started during the middle of this week.

According to Col. B. H. Hensley, professor of military science and tactics, the main object of the rifle team this year will be to win the Hearst trophy match. Any university winning this match three times is given permanent possession of the trophy. With one win already under their belts, the Idaho squad is out to secure another toward possession of the trophy.

Colonel Hensley also announced that two civilian rifle teams will be organized in the near future. These two teams, one of which is to be composed of male students and the other of women students, will participate in shoulder to shoulder matches between each other and with the ROTC team, with medals or ribbons being given to the most proficient marksman.

Scott Speaks To Kiwanis Club

Paul Scott, new head of the university journalism department, spoke to members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night in connection with national newspaper week.

Pointing out influences that might bias a newspaper editor, Mr. Scott stated that he thought newspapermen among the most honest in the world. Answering Mr. Scott's statements was Louis A. Boas, editor of The Daily Idahoan.

Dean W. J. Brockelbank introduced the two speakers.

The address was made in connection with the seventh annual Newspaper Week, October 1-8. Slogan of the week is "A Free Press—Voice of Freedom, Guardian of Liberty." Emphasis is being placed on service to the community and the country by press associations and journalism students throughout the United States.

Kilroy Here, Kilroy There-- That Guy Is Everywhere

By CARL HARDIN
It was on an early morn in southern Mindanao that I first saw Kilroy. His name, that is. It was scribbled on the entrance of the chow-hall in a crude, deep-cut print. I had never heard of the name; I knew it was new, but questioning my buddies proved of no value. No one knew Kilroy. I assumed that, under the ingenious lid of some G.I., Kilroy was being born.

For the next 16 months, Kilroy was everywhere. He was carved on trees; he was in the showers; he was the title of bombers; he was on the ships, and even in the native homes. The most disappointing fact was—Kilroy had always been there but had always just left. Everyone wanted to know Kilroy but apparently no one was that fortunate.

Then came the time that all G.I.'s dreamed of most. It was all over; we were being discharged. Now don't get the idea that the separation centers have everything but Kilroy, because the land of the Ruptured Duck held more remarks of Kilroy than any island in the Pacific, any battlefronts of Europe, or any States-side camps and centers. He was everywhere in the discharge centers, the recreation hall, the administration center, and even had been under my place of rest—but had just left. This aggravating pronoun soon became a very nauseating figure, and when the final moment arrived that I walked away from the navy a free man, I thought at last that Kilroy was gone.

Now, it so happens that my older brother was in the navy. He was discharged before I, and, arriving home, I found that Kilroy was still in existence. Throughout our humble home he had been there but, again, had just left. In the garage, in my room, behind the chicken hoosts, and even in the establishment where his name was ever so popular in the navy and army.

Now I'm attending the University of Idaho. Upon bidding farewell to my home, I remember distinctly asking myself if this would be the end of Kilroy. During the first few days of registration, it seemed as though it would be. Kilroy was nowhere in sight, and a sigh of relief was being formed inside of me. But Wednesday morning took me back to that sorrowful day in Mindanao when I had my first glimpse of that eventful character. There, on the steps of dear old Delta Tau was the sickening phrase in paint, "Kilroy was here."

When I was being discharged, the chaplain stated to me in his farewell address, "Good luck, may God be with you always." I hope He is too; but I hope, too—that He may find some leisure moments to take care of Kilroy.

Idaho Hopes WSC Will Win Beautiful Prizes

Who is going to win, Idaho or WSC? This is the big question among the dopesters and the wagers of currency and the top topic of conversation in the Palouse hills and will be until the final whistle.

Also interested and already biting their finger nails are Romaine Galey, editor of the Argonaut, Norman Fredekind, ASUI president, Andy Adams, editor of the WSC Evergreen, and Dick Downing, WSC student body president. The reason they are losing considerable sleep is that a wager was made recently that the backers of the losing team would walk the nine miles to the victorious team's campus where they would humbly admit defeat.

A bit of consolation has been added this year, however, and so now the principles may relax.

George Klein, owner of Moscow Florists, announced today that he would present the walkers with a consolation prize at the end of their journey. Jack Detter, manager of Moscow Florists, is in charge of the details and it is hoped by this scribe that it will be the representatives from WSC who receive the fine gifts not yet selected.

Last year Pat Miller, Jack Anderson and Darwin Brown of Idaho walked after the football game, while June Johnson, Marilyn Johnson and Doris Pearson from WSC walked in colder weather after the final basketball game.

SPURS TAP NEW PLEDGES

Lois Hart, Marguerite Dore, and Rose Marie Vogel were summoned by Spurs, sophomore women's honorary during the dinner hour Wednesday night. These women will replace Spur pledges who did not return to the campus this fall.

Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi Loom As Strong Intramural Teams

Intra-Murals Initiated With Large Turnouts

Intra-mural football started with a bang this week as 298 players participated in games the first two days. The games were marked by brilliant passing attacks, especially those in which the Sigma Nus participated.

In Tuesday night's games, the Kappa Sigmas made it two in a row in a league one game with a 12 to 0 victory over the Beta Theta Phis. In league three games Campus Club team one defeated Idaho Club one 12 to 0, while Lindley hall team one was losing to Willis Sweet team one 18 to 0. In league four games Campus Club team two romped over Idaho Club team two by a score of 12 to 0, and Willis Sweet team two barely edged out Lindley hall team two 6 to 0. In the league two game, the Phi Delta Thetas and the Alpha Tau Omegas battled to a 6 to 6 tie, but the win was given to the Phi Dells on the basis of more penetrations.

In Wednesday's night's encounters, the Sigma Nus gave further warning of their powerful strength by trouncing the Delta Tau Deltas 27 to 14. In other league two games the Delta Chis defeated the Tau Kappa Epsilons 15 to 0, while the Sigma Alpha Epsilons won their game from the Phi Gamma Deltas by having two more penetrations. In the two league three games the Idaho Club team one defeated Chrisman Hall team one by a score of 14 to 6, while Lindley hall team one was losing to Campus Club team one 6 to 0. The Sigma Chis garnered their second straight victory Wednesday by defeating the Latter Day Saints 9 to 0.

Sigma Chis Win
Continuing with Thursday night games, the Sigma Chis made it three straight with a 21 to 7 victory over the Beta Theta Phis, while the Kappa Sigmas also chalked up their third straight with a 7 to 0 win over the Phi Delta Thetas. In the other league one game the Alpha Tau Omegas narrowly edged the Latter Day Saints 14 to 12. Although the Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Delta Chi game ended in a 6 to 6 tie, the win was credited to the S.A.E.'s because of their greater number of penetrations. This was the only league two game. In the two league four games the Lindley hall team two defeated the Campus Club team two 13 to 7, while Chrisman hall team two was losing a hard-fought game to the Idaho Club team two by a score of 10 to 13.

The standings for the season thus far are as follows:

League No. 1	W.	L.	T.

Sigma Chis Romp On Delta Taus

Coming back in the second half with a stiff rally sparked by a hard-charging line and a strong aerial attack, the Sigma Chis, who trailed through the first half by a 7 to 0 score, ran across three big tallies in the third and fourth cantos to win over the Betas 21 to 7 yesterday afternoon.

A rejuvenated Sigma Chi line led by Warner, Remaklus, Spear, Hunter, and Dimickin added to the combined efforts of Hansen, Campbell and McKeivitt in the backfield to produce an exciting second half victory for the Sigma Chis.

The Betas' lone score came after an exchange of downs in the first half when McEntee fired a long strike to Wright who galloped across standing up.

The Sigma Chi markers came largely due to pass interceptions featured by the wide-open game played in the intramural league. The game ended with McKeivitt intercepting a Beta pass deep in Beta territory to score the last touchdown.

Delta Tau Downed By Sigma Nus

Showing a brilliant and accurate aerial attack, sparked by the rifle-like passes of Bill Williams, the Sigma Nus gained their second straight victory of the current football season last Wednesday with a hard-fought 21 to 14 win over Delta Tau Delta.

The Dells battled all the way, but the superior passing of Williams enabled the Sigma Nus to take a halftime 14 to 0 lead. A pass interception set up the first Sigma Nu score, a toss, Williams to Holder, and after gaining the ball on downs, they lost eight yards, only to have Don Otteson come from nowhere to pick a pass out of the air and score.

The Dells, however, opened the second half with a drive that ended with Ace Leaf passing to Bill Farley in the end zone for a score. With their lead threatened, Sigma Nu put on the pressure and scored on another Williams to Otteson completion.

The final score was made by the Dells who received, marched to midfield, and scored from there on a long throw by Bob Metzger. Paul Laughlin, giant Delt guard, was the only casualty, an injured head.

Town Men Renew Old Fidelities

Inactive since 1943, Tau Mem Aleph, an organization for town men, will be reorganized beginning with a meeting at 7:30 Monday evening in room 207 of the Administration building. All university men living off the campus are invited to attend the meeting.

The three returning members, Walt Gugoni, Thomas Tweedy, and Jack Wing, have announced that all offices are open in the organization. TMA will continue its pre-war purpose of providing entertainment, such as participation in intramural sports, exchanges, and dances.

An advisor for the group will be selected at the meeting.

SAE Makes Plans For A Reception

Sigma Alpha Iota, music group, made plans at their first meeting Monday for a reception for new students to be held sometime in November, according to President Lalene Cargill.

Bette Scott, social chairman, assisted by Lucille Thompson, is in charge of the reception.

Tentative plans were also made for a departmental mixer which will be given jointly with Phi Mu Alpha, men's music group. Dorothy Monaco is in charge of preparations.

Officers elected this year include Mary Louise Scott, vice president, and Rosie Ascuaga, treasurer. Other officers are Lalene Cargill, president, and Madelyn Sandberg, secretary.

Starting Center

Jr. Varsity Plays Montana Soon

The University of Idaho junior varsity will play Montana junior varsity football team November 4, at Kellogg, Idaho, announced Coach Steve Belko this afternoon.

"The team has had no practice games yet, but are holding scrimmages every day; some of the boys show plenty of promise. The team has good spirit, and two or three more players turn out daily," Belko added.

Coach Belko is assisted by line coaches Irvin Konopka and Tony Aschenbrenner, former tackle and center respectively of the 1942 Idaho Vandals. Some of the outstanding backfield men on the squad are Joe Paris, Don Underkofler, and Dale Whiteman. Outstanding punter is Marvin Earl, while Robert Irving, Dale Harwood are competing for the fullback position. Jack Rainey is recovering from a shoulder injury and will be ready for scrimmage next week. Rainey alternates at fullback and quarterback.

Promising charges of Konopka and Aschenbrenner are George Ballew, end; Bert Sorenson, tackle; small but rugged Richard Goodman, guard; and Rusty Larson, guard.

Officials Contest Football Costly

College football has been labeled a 20th century slave mart" by two officials of American university (enrollment 3850). These officials, President Paul F. Douglass and Robert V. Fletcher, chairman of the board of trustees, declared that football players are knocked down to the highest bidder as human chattels who "surrender their complete freedom to the coaches, today's slave drivers."

American university, located at Washington, D.C., stopped playing football in 1941, and Douglass estimates it would cost his school $50,000 to field a decent team at current prices. "Instead," he said, "we intend to spend that money to enlarge our art and music schools."

Honorary Elects Year's Officers

Bill Cone was elected president; Betty Ingraham, vice president; Denise Magnison, secretary-treasurer, and Carolyn Clear; historian, at the first meeting of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical honorary, held Tuesday in the office of Dr. H. Walter Steffens.

The group plans to hold a luncheon meeting on the first Thursday of each month at the Blue Bucket Inn. Occasional meetings are to be held on Thursday night also.

Hell Divers Plan Swimming Team

Hell Divers' water pageant, first major post-war activity of the group held at the university since Pearl Harbor, will be produced this spring by the swimming team, Don Anderson, president of the organization, announced today.

The aquatic team will meet in room 107 at the gymnasium Monday evening at 8 p.m. to organize and elect officers.

"Our goal is to be organized and ready to go. This group was the outstanding organization on the campus and we want to see it hit pre-war strength," said Anderson, adding, "All skilled swimmers are invited to join the team."

Wicks Says Idaho Has It Tough; Ninety-One Meet

With ninety-one varsity basketball aspirants attending, a new, all-time high, Coach Guy Wicks and his defending Northern Division Champion Vandal basketballers held their first meeting of the new season Tuesday evening in Memorial gymnasium. Regular practice will start officially October 21 with the first game scheduled at Walla Walla, Wash., against Whitman college on the 23rd of November.

Heading the list of maple court stars, new and old, is Fred Quinn, veteran Idaho court wizard and winner of a berth on Helms Foundation all-American basketball squad last year. Also back are regulars from last year, Grant Mortensen, forward; Jack Phoenix, six foot nine inch pivot man; and Bill Carbaugh, lefty guard on the champion team.

Letter winners turning out this year from last year's team will include Bob Ryan, Dale Dykeman, Warren Shepherd, George Wetz, and Chuck Schiffl. Returning veterans who were previous team members include John Evans, Norm Fredekind, Jay Gano, John Taylor, Dick Sodorff, Ted Thompson, Rich Morse, and Jeff Overholser.

The official opening of the Vandal schedule will see a long trip east with the Idaho boys opening at Madison Square Garden against City College of New York, December 3, and ending the 19th of December with two games in south Idaho. From there, the Vandals will go into rigid training in preparation to defending their first Northern Division basketball title, won by the five "Iron Men" of last year.

The varsity casaba squad will carry 20 men throughout the regular season, with the traveling squad limited to 11 players. Taking the place of the freshmen team will be a 20-man junior varsity composed of freshmen and sophomores and tutored by Steve Belko, Vandal great of 10 years ago, who was recently hired as freshman coach.

Commenting on the season's schedule, Coach Wicks says, "This is probably the toughest pre-season schedule in the country. That means the entire season's schedule is the toughest because no conference is any harder to win than the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast."

Never throw away anything. There may be another war and you can sell it to the government!

BOXING

Bill Williams, varsity boxing coach, announced yesterday that a meeting will be held in Memorial gymnasium, room 107, at 7:30 p.m. Monday for all men interested in turning out for the university's 1946-47 boxing team. Williams, Pacific Coast champion in his division in 1942, added that a full schedule had been made and asserted that it was his hope to see Idaho once again at the top of the West's boxing circles.

Laune Erickson, National Collegiate Boxing champion in the 165 pound division in 1940 and 1941, will assist Williams as coach when he turns in his helmet at the end of the football season.

Greene Appointed Navy Day Head

George W. Greene, athletic director, was notified recently that he has been appointed as Navy Day Chairman for Moscow. The appointment was made by Ted W. Turner, of Boise, State Navy Day Chairman. Navy Day was originally selected in 1975 when the Continental Congress established the first fleet.

Complete plans for observance of Navy Day in Moscow will be announced by Greene, a former lieutenant commander, in the near future.
