

New York traffic jams are little compared to the Argonaut office on the days the paper goes to press. Besides reporters, copy desk staffs, rewrite editors, interviewers and various snoopers, there are always a few people wandering in who are trying to deposit a story where it will be sure to get printed. The problem for this is: where, in the midst of this confusion, will the story be noticed?

Jason attempts to answer this question. If you wish to put a notice of a meeting in the paper, call the Argonaut, 4046, and explain the importance of the notice to whoever answers the telephone—or bring it down and deposit the item in the inner office. Don't just lay it down on the first available table or it will merely have a 50-50 chance of publication. If we are notified verbally or by a penciled inscription on the top of the notice that the meeting will be held before the next issue of the paper, the chances move up to 95-100 proportion.

The Argonaut attempts to give fair breaks to all types of stories on meetings, speeches, etc., but can do this only if we receive the information in time for publication. Therefore, give us your message before 6 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays, if possible. Since the Argonaut is the main method of news dissemination on the campus, Jason regrets cancellation of meetings due to the fact that students interested were not notified in our issues. The best way to avoid such happenings is to submit an article in the above manner.

Another musical tradition will be revived tonight (for sure, this time) when Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha sponsor the first Moonlight Sing that has been held for several years. The organizations have scheduled the gathering early enough so that students may keep their other engagements afterward. Jason congratulates these groups for finding a way in which the students can unite in singing and learning Idaho songs.

There are a great many of these old songs which are unfamiliar to us. "Come! Fellows Now and Join the Chorus" brings only a few vocal chords into action at the football games and other examples of negligence in learning our songs are numerous. The music groups have given us a way in which we can learn them, sing them, and have fun at the same time.

Town Men Revive Tau Mem Aleph

Reviving Tau Mem Aleph, off-campus men's fraternity, on Monday, were an estimated 65 town men interested in taking part in campus social, intramural, and political activities.

Jack Wing, newly-elected president, greeted members with an introduction to the fraternity's history and previous activities from the founding of the original chapter at Idaho in 1925 until its temporary inactivation in 1943 because of the dearth of eligible males. From Idaho's original chapter, the organization spread throughout the west and efforts are being made to contact other recently reactivated groups to institute national headquarters.

Vice president and intramural Manager Norm Wood was designated to organize an athletic program, commencing with basketball next month.

Other officers to be installed are Fred Arrasmith, secretary, and John Heilman, treasurer. Francis Caplan and Fred Tarbox are the group's nominees for Intercollegiate Knights.

A joint meeting and fireside with the sister organization, Delta Tau Gamma, is scheduled for Oct. 14, Vernon Nalley, social chairman, announced. All students who live off-campus are invited to attend.

McKINNEY IS SAE HEAD
At a chapter meeting Monday night Harlow McKinney was elected president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity to serve for one semester.

Dr. Lemon Gives Graduate Exams

Graduate record examinations, conducted under the auspices of the American Council on Education, will be given at the university on Oct. 28 and 29. Dr. Allan C. Lemon, professor of educational psychology, has been designated as the official examiner.

A large number of graduate schools of the United States and Canada, recommend, and some require, that the results of the graduate record examinations be submitted as one of the credentials for admission. In some instances it is necessary for applicants who apply for fellowships or other financial aid to support their applications with the scores on these examinations.

The complete examination is a measure of the general education in eight fields with an advanced test in the major subject.

Any student wishing to take these examinations should consult Dr. Lemon at once as the last date for mailing applications is Oct. 14.

Honoraries Revive All-University Moonlight Sing

A revival of the traditional all-university Moonlight Sing will be held tonight from 7:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the lot adjacent to the Tau Kappa Epsilon house, renamed the Moonlight Bowl. Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, campus music organizations, are sponsoring the sing, which was formerly staged in the arboretum.

With a full moon overhead and a large bonfire in the middle of the bowl, students will sing old all-time favorites led by Prof. A. A. Beecher, music department head. "Here We Have Idaho," will be led by Pres. J. E. Buchanan if it is possible for him to be on hand for the occasion.

In Tuesday's Argonaut it was erroneously stated that the sing was to have been Tuesday night.

Students are advised to bring blankets on which to sit and may come with or without dates. A large turnout of students is anticipated for the traditional sing, according to Lalene Cargill and Don Singer, presidents of the music organizations.

Joe Schmidt will be in charge of the bonfire committee; at the head of the inter-organization committee are Fred Watson and Don Binning. The sound truck will be managed by Steve Shelton. Sigma Alpha Iota is in charge of publicity.

AWS Council Aids Women Students

Orientation of approximately 200 new women students of the University of Idaho began Tuesday evening at the Administration building under the direction of orientation chairman, Lucile Thompson, and 30 council members of the Associated Women Students.

Members from the AWS council, composed of two representatives from each women's house, held panel discussion on three topics covering campus rules and regulations, Idaho traditions, and social life.

Idaho Co-ed handbooks, published by the AWS under the editorship of Evelyn Fisher were presented to each new student.

The next orientation meeting will be October 22 at the Administration building. Panel discussion will be on activities and honoraries, explanation of AWS and scholarship.

All male students not enrolled in ROTC, interested in trying out for this team, are requested to report to M/Sgt. J. D. Morgan, team coach, or the rifle range in the armory of the Memorial gymnasium at 2 p.m. Monday.

One match has already been scheduled for this team during the first week in December with the University of Pittsburgh. Other matches will be scheduled as available. In addition to matches with other schools, the team will compete with the ROTC team and the women's team here.

The call for the women's team will be issued in a short time.

WOMEN VETS HONORED
Home Management House will be hostess at an informal tea and muster for women veterans on the campus on Tuesday from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m.

University Applies For New Buildings

Bent on obtaining additional temporary building facilities for the university, President Buchanan, C. A. Truitt, and L. C. Warner left Wednesday to see government officials in Seattle.

The university, President Buchanan said, has applications filed for six Farragut and Baxter general hospital buildings. These include temporary classroom buildings, field house, and a hanger for the Navy plane presented the school of engineering last spring.

The buildings will be re-erected at federal expense on the campus, with the university furnishing the ground and utility services.

If the requests are granted, some of the classroom buildings may be ready for use by the opening of the second semester, President Buchanan explained.

Court To Be Held By Students

Psych Department Shows Big Increase Since 1920

By DICK EIMERS

Though we don't ordinarily tamper with the intangibles, Dr. J. W. Barton's psychology department was, our goal for this issue. He immediately calmed our fears about nebulousness of the science of the mind by issuing some interesting facts and figures about his realm.

Too far back for us to remember, in 1920 to be exact, J. W. Barton relieved one R. B. Reid as head of the department of philosophy.

Included in the list of philosophical studies were the few psychology courses taught at that time. Since study of the mind in the psychological light was not well established it remained within philosophical sponsorship until 1928 when Dr. Barton made good the struggle to establish psychology as a full department and have it accorded the recognition of a natural science. He left the philosophy department under the able supervision of the late Prof. C. W. Chenoweth who was known and respected by thousands of Idaho students.

Students Protest In Petition

Through the years, the general consensus of opinion among the university's students and faculty members has been that the architect who designed the auditorium in the Administration building was embraced in the last throes of a regrettable hangover. Confronting the acoustical possibilities of Room 102, Ad. for the first time, prospective speakers have been known to break down completely and wail for sunny climes so they could hold their lectures outdoors.

"Dead spots" are numerous—as indicated last Wednesday afternoon when 12 students jotted their names on the following petition and handed it to their professor, who was conducting the class.

"We, the members of the rear row in our class of psychology, do hereby set our hands on this eighth day of October, nineteen hundred and forty-six, to ask if it would be too inconvenient for our instructor to speak a little more clearly, and with a little more volume so that we could comprehend all that is being discussed in our class." Realizing the validity of this plea, the prof. immediately complied.

At present, we are "stuck" with the auditorium—there will be just cause for celebration when, and if, a new one is built. Courses which have the largest enrollment in the school are being taught in it simply because there is no room elsewhere. Perhaps the proper use of a loudspeaker system would aid in getting material into students' heads; otherwise cognizance should be taken by teachers of the fact that several hundred students seated in a vacuum-like enclosure cannot hope to obtain much information from a lecturer merely employing a normal speaking voice.—S.H.G.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

The first man to enter college training here at the U. of I. lost his leg at Pearl Harbor. He has been joined since then by over 2100 other veterans. In the early days of the establishment of the college training program in Idaho, the entire personnel of the Veterans Administration consisted of a small staff in the Boise headquarters. The real organization of the VA on a state-wide basis did not begin until the passage of Public Laws 16 and 346 which necessitated a large number of executives, guidance and counseling experts, and clerical personnel. The total personnel of the veterans administration now numbers over 400 with offices located in all Idaho cities with populations of 3,000 to 4,000 or over.

With a good percentage of the personnel of the VA veterans themselves, it was realized from the beginning that there must be as much decentralization as possible. The service proved that too much red-tape is not only slow and irksome but in many cases burdensome and inefficient. The present trend is to decentralize as much as possible and this is helping to speed-up the handling of veterans' affairs.

It is hoped that with the establishment of the VA sub-regional office here in Moscow, veterans will be able to transact business directly with the VA and get things done sooner. This is particularly true of medical service which has been a little mysterious in the past and has seen some veterans paying for medical treatment out of their own pockets when they may have gotten treatment from the VA because of a service-connected disability, or from the fact that Public Law 16 men are entitled to receive free treatment for any sickness or illness which may be interrupting their training. The ways of obtaining the treatment are not clear. Now that the procedures for obtaining dental treatment have been simplified, veterans would like to see some deciphering of the laws concerning medical service.

Students Mourn Apparent Death Of F.A. Club

By James Spoerhase

Almost as sacred to Idaho alumni as the "I tank" is that famous group of non-teetotaling campus characters which comprise the assemblage known as the Friday Afternoon club.

This group has almost become a war casualty, because of the unfortunate shortage of malt extract beverages, and today it remains only a shadow of its traditional past. Formerly, this organization met every fifth day of the week to discuss world affairs over scuds of suds, but today meetings are sometimes postponed because of the low quota of brew allotted to local imbibing parlors.

The Friday Afternoon club is not without sound aims—one of the projects interrupted by the outbreak of war was the plan to obtain a separate mug for each member of the club, with his name engraved in old English letters.

Before hoisting their steins skyward, prospective members learn to cherish in their hearts the motto of this famous group:

Just the thing for me and you—Is a mug of 3.2.

He: "Count me in. I'll bring the soap."

RUMOR ROSTER

Once again those masterminds of wit and wisdom are here to plague you with a few old jokes and also to fill up several inches of ye Olde Arg. We've always tried to look at the brighter side of life through the Vets club glasses and herein we try to jot down the humorous occurrences that take place around the old up-state "U." However, after reading last week's Arg (which incidentally was sent to each and every WCTU chapter in this great nation) we feel that it's high time to take the pledge. We wish to inform you students that we are probably two of the better double "A" boys now.

If there's a shortage of gardeners this year we can all blame it on the high morals of the DELTA GAMMA house. For several years in the past the DG porch has been the swap spot for more lipstick at 12:29 a.m. than F. W. Woolworth ever had on his counters at one time. Nowadays the girls on the other end of the anchor are taking to the shrubbery with their males. Ah, well, the Spot Shop will take care of everything. We heard J. T. PETERSON of the PHI DELT house is going around with a scowl and grass-stains because he thought prexy LUCILE THOMPSON had a hand in the dirty deal. The KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA house has also inaugurated this policy and look what it led to—a receding front lawn.

THERESA RIVET, PI PHI pledge, probably has more dates than a Varga calendar. As a matter of fact, you just don't get a date with Theresa anymore—you have to get an appointment! We overheard her pleading with her FIJI man of the minute to get her back home in a hurry so she could keep a date with a lucky ATO. That was the same night she had a dinner engagement at the BETA house. Well, girls you've all got it, but her's seems to show more—personality.

"Ooogoo, there are so many men here!" seems to be a fairly common exclamation among the fairer sex this year and ZELVA HODGE, down FORNEY way, can really confirm that. The other night just as she was in the last stages of getting ready for a date (we aren't sure just what those stages are) that was waiting downstairs for her, she was informed that another young man had just arrived to take over the date he had with her. Apparently neither of the two swains knew that the other had a date with the same girl as they both were sitting in all their male smugness, complacently reading last year's Life magazines. Meanwhile ZELVA was on the verge of a nervous breakdown trying to find a solution to the problem. We don't know how it all came out but we sure would like to. That was probably a piece of diplomacy that should go down in the annals of Idaho.

Here is a piece of material for you characters who are pushing the banishment of showers for men who pass the bourgeois bauble. We were among the few who were lucky enough to see the biggest skin show ever to hit the old campus. It seems that HARVEY BUTTS, of DELTA CHI, passed his pin to MARGE RING, of ALPHA CHI OMEGA, one day and the very next day the brothers decided to shower the happy man. According to tradition, he was stripped of unnecessary clothing (this showering is hard on clothes), wrapped in a mattress, and securely tied. While the boys were amusing themselves by running the hose full blast through the mattress, HARVEY was slyly wriggling out of the thing—the mattress that is. About the time that MARGE arrived to cut him loose, he managed to wriggle completely out of the mattress. But his shorts, being obstinate about the whole thing, decided to stay in the mattress. That would have

Positions Wanted By Students On Idaho Campus

Reminiscent of prewar days is the report from the office of James M. Lyle, assistant veterans counselor, that many University of Idaho students want employment. In recent years student finances have been so good that few were interested in employment. During depression years, however, several hundred students worked all or part of their way through college.

Following are Lyle's statistics on students now wanting work. Men—26 available for general work such as washing windows, yard or garden work; six salesmen or clerks; one farm worker; two electrical workers; one man wanting drafting work; one service station helper; two carpenter helpers; two typists (also are able to take shorthand).

For women there are 12 veteran's wives want full-time employment; 11 part-time stenographers; eight full-time stenographers; three typing, filing, and general clerical workers; four general miscellaneous workers; seven typists; one business machine operator; one registered nurse.

Moscow people interested in employing university students should call Mr. Lyle at the veterans office, 210 Ad building, phone 8191.

New Record Set In De-ticking

A new world's record was set October 4 when 6600 sheep were administered the de-ticking spray in six and one-half hours. More than 150 sheep men, along with scientists and spectators, watched the event.

The spray is a mixture of 8 pounds of DDT to 100 gallons of water administered with a pressure of 400 pounds at the rate of 10 gallons per minute.

Chief Entomologist H. E. Manis declared ticks are very costly to sheepmen as they tend to make sheep lose vitality, weight and wool.

Old time sheepmen say the new method is much superior to the old way of dipping sheep and much more efficient.

DDT has proven itself satisfactory in the university's experiment station and therefore the spray gun and new chute arrangement bring the method within the reach of all sheepmen.

Holm Will Discuss Swine Diseases

Two of the Idaho swine producer's most common herd disease problems will find their places in discussions at the Idaho swine type conference at Moscow October 17. Dr. Glenn C. Holm, university veterinarian, will take up control of internal worms and infectious enteritis as a major part of his discussion when the group meets for its fifth annual session this year.

Holm gave enteritis as an almost universal disease of swine where permanent pastures are a part of the owner's rearing methods.

At the same time, the veterinarian said he expects other disease questions to be raised when he returns the discussion over for the usual question and answer panel.

Cattle Club Elects Fourt As Judge

D. L. Fourt, professor of dairy husbandry, was selected by the American Guernsey Cattle club to be official judge for Guernsey cattle at the recent Portland show of the Pacific International Livestock exposition.

Prof. and Mrs. Fourt returned from Portland Wednesday night. He reported that since this was the first show since 1941 the number of livestock exhibits were not as great as before the war but that the quality was excellent.

Prof. Fourt is recognized as one of the leading judges of dairy cattle in the West. He is at present one of 17 official classifiers for the American Jersey Cattle club, and is on the list of approved judges for the four breeds: Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernsey, and Ayrshires.

Enjoying its most successful season since pre-war days, intramural football ended its regularly scheduled games last night with the pre-season favorites at the top of the standings where they were expected to end. The play-offs determining the undisputed champions will take place next week.

Last night the Sigma Nus, league two champions, garnered their fifth straight win with a decisive 32 to 9 victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. In the other league two games the Delta Chis clinched their second place position as they overwhelmed the Phi Gamma Deltas 31 to 6. Delta Tau Delta ended in the league cellar even though they defeated the Tau Kappa Epsilon 13 to 6 in the season's finale.

In the two league three games Willis Sweet Hall team one moved into a first place tie with Campus Club team as the result of a 25 to 0 victory over the Chrisman Hall team one. Lindley Hall team one acquired a tie for second place with Idaho Club team one by defeating them 12 to 9. In the only league one game the Phi Delta Thetas were defeated by Beta Theta Pi 12 to 7.

Sigma Chi Upset

Wednesday night's games saw the major upset of the 1946 intramural football season as the Alpha Tau Omegas led by the brilliant passing of Mel Weipert ran over the previously undefeated Sigma Chis 12 to 0. This defeat moved the Sigma Chis into a first place tie with the Kappa Sigmas who defeated the Latter Day Saints 6 to 0. The playoff between the Kappa Sigmas and the Sigma Chis will take place next week.

In league three games Wednesday Lindley Hall team one defeated Chrisman team one 12 to 6 while Campus Club team one was losing to Willis Sweet Hall team one 6 to 0. League four games saw the undefeated Willis Sweet Hall team two clinch their league's title with a 19 to 6 win from the Campus Club team two. ## Freshmen Prepare For Game With Nearby Cougars

An important scrimmage is in store for the junior varsity football team tonight, Steve Belko, junior varsity coach, announced this morning. From this intrasquad game Belko will pick a team to take the field against the Washington State junior varsity next Friday in the baby Vandal's homecoming.

The past week has been spent in learning fundamentals and perfecting plays in order that the new men who have recently turned out may become acquainted with Idaho's system, Belko added.

"I believe we have a few good backs and linemen, but this scrimmage will put the boys under actual fire and it should determine my starting lineup for the Washington State opener," Belko reported yesterday.

Kappa Sigma Wins Close Contest

The Kappa Sigmas gained revenge for the previous night's defeat at the hands of Sigma Chi by disposing of the LDS Institute by a close six to 0 score last Wednesday to firmly entrench themselves in second place in league standings.

Their lone score came late in the second canto on a series of pass completions from Dennis Scheey to big end Bud Lyda. After coming from their own 20 yard line to the LDS 15, the Kappa Sigmas were held for three downs, but on the fourth try, Scheey faded and hit Lyda in the end zone for the game's only tally.

Although their defeat came at the hands of the opponent's strong aerial attack, the LDS team showed one of the intramurals stronger running attacks, several times penetrating deep into Kappa Sig territory only to have the defense tighten and hold. The victor's main reason for a tight defense was Bill Hardin, stalwart guard, who was a rock on his side of the line.

This was the last game of the season for the Kappa Sigmas who ended the regular league play with a four won, one lost record.

'Big Mack'

Mack Nelbur, 214-pound Vandal right tackle from Newdale, Idaho, is a powerful lineman deeply involved in Coach Babe Brown's strategy against Marquette University this Saturday. He is shown here demonstrating how to put a shoulder into an opponent's midriff and move him out of the play.

Idaho Gridmen In Snow; Hotter Saturday Eve.

The University of Idaho Vandal football team, enroute to its inter-sectional grid battle with Marquette University Saturday night, was delayed at Bozeman, Montana, by a breakdown on the locomotive pulling the Vandals' train and were prevented from practicing as planned on Montana State University's flood-lighted field by a snowstorm, it was learned here today from a wire by Graduate Manager Gale L. Mix.

Due to the bad weather Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown had to be satisfied with a chalk talk instead of the intended drill on the pass defense in which the Vandals have been woefully weak. Mix reported the team in good spirits in spite of being in the snow all day and several bad colds.

The Idahoans' travel schedule calls for one more practice in Milwaukee Friday night before meeting the highly touted aerial attack expected from the Hilltoppers. According to this week's statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, the twice beaten

AWARD

The Ronald White Memorial plaque, a basketball award, will be presented to the University of Idaho by the Sigma Nu fraternity, John Evans, house president, announced today.

The plaque is dedicated to the memory of Ronald White, a member of the 1945-46 Vandal basketball team. Each year, the most valuable and outstanding basketball player will be selected by the team and coach, and his name engraved on the plaque. White's name is on the plaque for 1946.

Mattmiller Is New Hell-Diver Head

John Mattmiller was elected president of Hell-Divers at a meeting held Monday night at the Memorial gymnasium. Other officers include Jack Mallory, vice president; Gwen McKay, secretary-treasurer; John Sundeen, social and publicity chairman.

Appointed to the calendar committee are Don Anderson, Marguerite Dore and George W. Green, athletic director. Pledge requirements committee will be Dick Salladay, John Mattmiller, Ted Kinnison, and Pat Green.

fifth highest passing offense in the nation. In three games the Marquette Hilltoppers have attempted 87 passes, completed 44, had 7 intercepted, for a neat 508 percent. Passes have netted the team from the brewery town 523 yards or 174.3 yards per game.

A sticky fingered gentleman named Palesse, a Marquette end was rated the 15th best pass snagger in the nation by the same statistics, and will probably prove a thorn in the Vandals all Saturday night. Palesse in three games has caught six passes for a total of 57 yards.

Idaho has little to boast except that she has so far fattened Stanford's and Washington State's average considerably. However, Idaho has a fast, tricky backfield and a big, strong line that may any day come alive and chalk up a big upset.

Distance Men Meet Whitman Oct. 25

Idaho's cross-country team has been rounding into shape for their first meet with Whitman college on October 25, reports Track Coach Hiserman today. Hiserman enjoyed a large turnout for fall practice in both track and cross-country.

On hand to help him in his first year as track coach at Idaho is Vic Drygall, top man on the 1942 team. Also available are Al Denman, Art Humphrey, Bob Anno, Bob Eystone and Lee Balderson, who are all working hard and developing into fine runners. Hiserman also said he has several others who may round up later.

"Not much activity has been shown by the track team—just practice and getting into condition for the spring meets," Hiserman asserted.

ASUI Appoints Bier

Dick Beier was appointed the representative to the men's discipline committee at a meeting of ASUI executive board Tuesday night. Named to serve in the women's corresponding post was Margaret Justice.

Q. How long is a second?
A. Sometimes it's 3 2/3 YEARS

One second is not always one-sixtieth of a minute—not in telephone mathematics. Suppose, for example, you find a new method that clips just one second from the time it takes to process a toll ticket. Then apply that saving throughout the Bell System where some 115,000,000 toll tickets are handled a month. The time saved every thirty days equals 3 2/3 years!

Important? From seemingly minor changes or savings frequently come the major improvements which mean better working conditions for telephone men and women and better telephone service for everyone.

In this industry, even long established methods of operation are never considered beyond improvement. For men with ideas and ability, that viewpoint is a stimulating challenge.
