

Regardless of repeated failures in re-establishing old traditions, some enterprising students are willing to make another try at it.

Rumors about the expected arrival of beards have been spreading thick and fast — so have the beards, as some individuals are beginning their life of ease immediately after Homecoming.

Jason received so many letters in connection with student attitude at the game, etc., that a new column will be formed in succeeding issues of the Argonaut. In order to give all persons wishing to express their opinion an equal chance, we would like to request a limitation of about 100 words for each letter.

Gripes against student attitude at the game Saturday are the most numerous this week. Writes one attendant, "...the way that so many students who were left at the game deserted their seats in the last few minutes was close to treason."

Jason agrees that the card tricks were poorly planned and that a dictatorial attitude on the part of those in charge won't work—but our loyalty should go first to the school and the team which plays the ball game.

Concerning the attitude of the students toward the Pep band Saturday a meeting was called yesterday which is reported in the news section of this issue. Not included in this article are the comments of several Idahoans who wrote their ideas to Jason.

Band leaders had been misinformed on the amount of time they were to play. There was not time allotted to the Pep band. Unaware of this, the group continued to play—until the loyal student body made it obvious that something was wrong.

Those who are responsible for this conduct have been censured in a letter which Jason received which says: "...this fine bunch of ladies and gentlemen who are our student body should take a look in a mirror, and see the finest assortment of corny characters it is possible for any university to assemble."

INFORMAL CHANGES HOURS Afternoon visiting hours at the infirmary have been changed this year, visitors now being allowed from 2:30 to 4 p.m. The evening hours will continue to be from 7 to 8 p.m. as was the ruling last year.

Students Give Pep Band Bad Conduct At Game

Unmannerly action on the part of a relatively small group of students at the San Jose State-Vandal game Saturday afternoon has resulted in a movement among the members of the Pep band toward disbandment of that organization.

The Pep band, which continued to play when the high school bands had marched onto the field, was urged by this unthinking group of students to stop playing by booing and the throwing of apple cores into the band's midst.

This unfortunate situation was a result of poor coordination on the part of those responsible for arranging the entertainment program and was in no way attributable to the desire of the Pep band or its leader to show inconsideration to the guest bands which had taken their positions on the playing field.

At a meeting held in the office of the graduate manager with the purpose in view of preventing future occurrences of this type, rather than fixing responsibility for the past fiasco, E. J. Marty, faculty advisor to the Pep band was named to coordinate the band appearances with other events on the program at future games.

The attitude of the members of the Pep band is that the consideration given them at Saturday's game amounted to a display of appreciation for their efforts and as such would not warrant any future effort on their part. A meeting will be held by the band members today to settle the problem among themselves.

Final explanation of the event was that coordination of the administrative details of the program had not been completely carried out and that the Pep band had been allotted more time than was compatible with the total time available before the football teams returned to the field. All concerned felt that appointment of Marty as coordinator would result in a smooth working program if the band decided to continue.

Magazine Chooses College Board

November 1 is the deadline for applications to Mademoiselle magazine's college board this year. Outstanding board members will receive the opportunity of being a guest editor during June, 1947, as well as participating in Mademoiselle's first career forum, sponsored by the Jobs and Futures department and designed to help college girls clarify their aims and ambitions.

To become a college board editor applicants must submit a trial report, consisting of approximately two typewritten, double-spaced pages on any new phase of campus life, a snapshot and complete data regarding college and home addresses, class year, college major, interests and extracurricular activities. To be eligible for this year's competition, the above material must be sent to the College Board Editor, MLE, 122 E. 42 St., New York City, before November 1.

Mrs. Mary Shepherd Murphy, former Idaho student, is working as a secretary for the European Air Transport Service in Weisbaden, Germany, it was learned here recently.

The wife of Robert Keith Murphy, one of the famous Flying Tigers until his death, Mrs. Murphy was an air dispatcher at March Field, Calif. Later she worked in Panama and Alaska.

Planning to stay in Europe for a year, Mrs. Murphy then hopes to settle somewhere in the United States.

WOMEN

The final AWS orientation meeting will be held in the Administration building tonight at 7 p.m. instead of 7:15 p.m. as had been previously announced.

VETERANS

Veterans should not withdraw from the university without properly checking out with the university officials and the veterans' administration guidance center.

By withdrawing without properly checking out with the university officials and the veterans' administration guidance center, you run a risk of losing your remaining entitlement. It is very important that the proper procedure be followed for the protection of your entitlement to future training.

VanIda Becomes 'Blot' In Mag Reorganization

"Blot" will supercede the name "VanIda" as the university feature magazine, it was disclosed yesterday by the editorial board.

This is the initial act in the magazine's reorganization, which will include a restatement of editorial policy, in order to reach a broader audience among student readers.

Beginning with the current issue, Blot will be published four times a year, featuring a cover girl to be named from candidates proffered by each living group. She will be chosen by vote of those making advance purchases, and will be announced in the Blot sponsored assembly December 5.

Sales slips for advance purchases will provide admission to this assembly, which is being co-authored by Bates Murphy and Bob Booth. Purchases made at the time of the assembly will also serve as admission tickets.

The first distribution of the magazine will be made at that time, and later in the houses and at designated stands. At the assembly the identity of the "Blot-girl" will be revealed.

As has been announced on KUOI and in the Argonaut the deadline for material for the December issue is only a week away, October 30. Contributions are not limited to members of the staff, but will be received by representatives in each living group, or by members of the staff.

Blot will carry all types of features, short stories, poetry, cartoons, and will have a definite editorial policy of critically analyzing the campus situation. It will have, according to Bob Booth, publicity manager, two aims as its objectives.

The first is to develop in Idaho students the desire to write and to provide a medium through which this desire can be realized. The second is to give the students a magazine which will be rich in humor, as well as serious articles and stories, and with "on the Blot" coverage of Idaho activities," said Booth.

Georgie Kaye Plays For Homecoming

Annual Homecoming ball will feature Georgie Kaye and his orchestra.

Kaye, one of America's better saxophone stylists, served as leader and featured soloist of the 78th army air force band during the war. Before the war, he and his orchestra appeared in engagements on the west coast.

Ralph Kaye, Georgie's brother and featured saxophonist, was formerly featured with Glenn Miller's AAF band in Europe and left that organization upon his return to civilian life to rejoin his brother's orchestra.

Another featured performer is Andy Mello who handles the vocal assignments. Mello was leader of the 9th air corps orchestra which was stationed in Frankfurt, Germany. Art Wilkinson, one of America's foremost pianists, also appears with the group.

The orchestra features music that is sweet and smooth, and in the words of Kaye himself, "mel-low and romantic."

Planes To Cruise Saturday At Halftime

Approximately 30 Navy planes will cruise over the university football stadium during halftime ceremonies of the Homecoming game Saturday to stage a mock air attack and demonstration preliminary to observation of Navy Day Sunday. Hellcats, Corsairs and PB4Y2s are the types of planes expected for the show which will be presented with the cooperation of the university NROTC unit, the Navy Fleet Air Wing 4 and the Naval Aviation Reserve Training unit from Seattle.

After the attack, Captain H. D. Young, commander of Fleet Air Wing 4, will broadcast from his plane, a PB4Y2, through the public address system on the field. Reserve Pilots Piloting the fighter planes in the demonstration will be former Navy fliers now on inactive reserve status while regular Navy pilots will be at the controls of the remainder of the unit.

In line with the air attack, a Navy fighter plane will be displayed to the public on the practice field next to the stadium.

Continuous showings of World War II combat films will be the feature of an open house in the Navy building which will begin after the game and continue until 9 p.m. Sunday from 1 to 9 p.m. the open house will be continued according to present plans.

Various events scheduled this week in Moscow will observe Navy Day according to Robert Greene, chairman of local participation.

Thursday morning Moscow high school students will see a film picturing the fleet in operation, and speeches in connection with the event have been made to Moscow service organizations.

National observation of the day is conducted in every Naval seaport in the United States and by U. S. Naval forces on foreign service. At the services, the Navy Prayer is spoken and wreaths of flowers commemorating the Navy war dead are cast into the sea.

People in this area desiring to participate in the ceremonies are invited to send flowers to the NROTC unit here. The offerings will then be sent to various ports on the west coast for use Sunday.

Doctors Speak At IRC Meeting

A panel discussion on "socialized medicine" was attended by almost 100 university students and faculty members Thursday night at the third weekly meeting of the International Relations Club.

Three guest speakers, Dr. Harold Cramer, university physician; Dr. J. C. Braddock, university faculty member, and Dr. R. E. Carlisle, state bacteriologist, presented their views on the subject and then opened the question for group discussion.

Dr. Braddock, strongly in favor of socialized medicine, expressed his opinion that the poor in this country have the opportunity to obtain medical attention under the existing system, "but too often that help is too late. Under a socialized plan where every person paid a fair share through taxes for medical care, the element of pride would not keep people from going to seek medical attention until absolutely driven to it, too late."

Dr. Carlisle asserted that at (Cont. on Page 2, Col. 4)

Father Conducts Catholic Mission

Father J. J. Maier, former navy chaplain, now of Portland, Ore., will hold a mission for all Roman Catholic students beginning Sunday, October 27, in the large ballroom of the student union building.

The mission will begin Sunday with masses at 8 and 10 a.m., continuing with lectures at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. At 5:10 p.m. Monday, Father Maier will speak to the women for a short time and to the men at 5:10 p.m. on Tuesday.

Mass will be held Monday and Tuesday at 6:30 a.m.

Ramon Lavelle To Be First Speaker At Idaho Public Event Assemblies

Group Works Hard On Homecoming

Plans for the premier event of the football season, Homecoming, are rapidly taking shape to provide both students and old grads with a program full to the brim with excitement and entertainment.

Homecoming chairman Chuck Gill's crew have been hard at work to insure that no hitch develops in the sequence of events which lead off Friday evening with the women's serpentine through the men's houses and halls and wind up at MacLean Field for the mammoth display of fireworks. The fireworks show is being furnished by a Spokane firm which will provide an expert crew to handle the pyrotechnical splurge. For those late comers who can't join the serpentine to the field entry to the field will be through gates in the rear of the administration building.

The customary parade on Saturday morning and the living group decorations will be judged by a committee picked from the faculty. Prizes will be awarded at the half interval of the game. A feature of the entertainment at the game will be the participation by the Navy ROTC. A squadron of navy planes will give an air to ground broadcast over special receiving facilities to be set up in Neale Stadium.

The celebration of the Vandals "Roasting the Ducks Brown" will be the big Homecoming dance at the Memorial gymnasium. Selection of the Queen will be announced at the intermission and the award made. Tickets for the dance are now on sale in all group residences.

Veterans Select Committees

A committee of three was elected to work out fire prevention methods in the Veteran's Village at a meeting held last night in the student union building. The committee, which consists of three men, will work with university authorities to study safety measures and the placing of fire carts, fire extinguishers and other safety devices.

Cash prizes were presented to the winners of the recent contest, sponsored by the Lion's club, for the most attractive pre-fabs and trailers.

Appointed to revise the constitution for a village government drawn up last spring, a committee of five will also divide the village into five voting precincts.

Approximately 40 veterans and their wives attended the meeting which was presided over by Harold D. Mohn Jr. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 4. Councilmen will be elected and the revised constitution will be voted upon.

KNOW YOUR UNIVERSITY—Music School Proves Active On Campus

Our favorite illusion that musicians and artists are consumed by their callings to the extent that they wish to know about music as an avocation. It doesn't stop there, however. Service to the high schools and music organizations of the state occupy as much time as can be spared from an already crowded schedule.

Space permits us to mention only a few of the activities of the students and faculty, but prominent among those was the wartime gathering of the All-Girl Singing Orchestra. The shortage of males on the campus caused by military demands brought about the formation of this group which appeared before more than 60,000 people in tours up and down the state and was acclaimed at every stop, including the Southern Branch, for its excellence. This has given way to the reorganized Vandaleers which allows both men

"The Latin American Maelstrom" will be the subject of a speech by Ramon Lavelle when the South American journalist and diplomat addresses university students in the Memorial gymnasium Monday at 11 a. m. Lavelle appears as the first speaker in the series of public events assemblies.

In developing the topic, Mr. Lavelle will discuss and analyze the cultural structure of the Latin American countries and changes he believes are necessary to create improved political systems there.

Mr. Lavelle, an advocate of democratic government, has declared that political development and economic changes to insure freedom, education and higher standards of living are essential preliminary steps to formation of democracies. He maintains that a long period of time will be required to overcome totalitarian ideas which he feels constitute the root of all wars.

Traveling Correspondent The young lecturer has been traveling correspondent for La-Nacion, largest Spanish newspaper in South America, and in this position covered assignments in Manchuria, China, Malaya, Indonesia and the Philippines. He has also worked in the United States and Europe.

During the Spanish Civil war, Mr. Lavelle was a member of the Argentine embassy in Madrid.

Following this he was transferred to Scotland and later to Hongkong as consul. Sent to Japan by the Argentine government; he was one of the few Westerners to observe psychological effects upon Japanese civilians of Doolittle's first air raid over Tokyo.

OWI Consultant

Mr. Lavelle has also served with the Office of War Information as consultant on Japan and has lectured on the Far East for the Army Orientation program. At the present time he is a political and economic consultant with the International Information Service, the peacetime outgrowth of the OWI.

Students and townspeople may attend the program which will conclude at noon.

Department Gains Surplus Property

Army and navy surplus property for instructional purposes was added last year to the expanding facilities of the college of engineering.

"The university in general and the mechanical engineering department in particular have been favored with several pieces of equipment of high quality and exceptional usefulness," Prof. Henry F. Gauss, head of the department of mechanical engineering, stated Saturday.

Among these additions are four diesel engines—a Fairbanks-Morse engine, a D-13000 Caterpillar diesel engine, an 18-horsepower Superior full-diesel engine, and a 20-horsepower Buda diesel. Other acquisitions include a Gault steam engine, a Pratt and Whitney twinrow, 18 cylinder airplane engine, and a Fellows gear shaper, two Edlund drill presses, a Cincinnati hydraulic milling machine, a Brown and Sharpe milling machine, a Cincinnati tool grinder, and light sheet-metal-working machines.

Honorary To Hold Tea Thursday

Mortar Board will hold its annual activities tea for all freshmen and new students Thursday between 3 and 5 p. m. in the upstairs lounge of the Student Union building.

Displays for all honoraries and activities on the campus are being planned. Members of the organization will be present to answer any questions regarding activities or campus organizations.

Matthews Heads Independents

Ralph Matthews was named president of the independent council Thursday evening at Forney hall when the group met for the first meeting of the year. Elected to serve with Matthews were Keith Adams, vice president; Marge Walters, secretary; and Anita Hamilton, treasurer.

Two representatives from each independent men's and women's living group attended the meeting. Purpose of the council is to promote social functions among the independent living groups.

HICKMAN TO JUDGE CATTLE Professor C. W. Hickman will leave Friday for Twin Falls where he will judge the sale of cattle at the annual Futurity and Range Bull sale of the Idaho Cattleman's Association Saturday. One hundred and seventy head of cattle are consigned to the sale.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

As the new semester gets under way it might be a good time to bring up one very important matter in regard to veterans' education. That is the existence of the grading system which is, due to the lack of a better method, the only way students can be judged on progress made. Its competitive nature provides incentives to better work, reward for efficiency and a method of classifying those who study harder than others. But one thing it fails to take into consideration is the fact that there are differences in individual students themselves.

The problem under consideration is one which came about because of the war, and to state it simply, it is the fact that some of the students have been away from books, study habits and routines for sometimes as long as four years while other students have the decided advantage of having been in school for several years without interruption. For one familiar with psychology it would be easy to point out that the student going to college directly from high school can carry on the habits and thoughts he has been using recently, while to those who have been gone for a while, high school seems quite far in the past along with many of the subjects that were learned.

A large number of authorization slips for insurance failed to show the insurance account number, some failed to show the plan of insurance or the due date of the first premium to be deducted, and still others have illegible signatures, the VA pointed out to campus vets recently. Requests for insurance payments to be deducted from compensation, pension or other benefits can be speeded up by correctly filling out these forms.

ATTENTION

All students in Greek houses who have not yet had their class pictures taken for the Gem should do so at once, Ora White, editor, has announced. Students doing this should call their assigned studio to make appointments.

Anyone who has not yet seen proofs of their class pictures and made selections should do this as soon as possible, Miss White stated.

Well, here we are again with our little attempt at humor and hilarious happenings. This week has been rather unproductive up until now, but we feel sure that this situation will be remedied this week-end. The American Legion dance tonight should prove to be worth several chuckles and then there's always the football game Saturday. Last week-end was chocked full of pledge dances but we feel that the majority of these dances would probably fit in better if they were written up on the sports page.

If Pat Kjosness, KKG, is having a hard time with her bank account, it isn't because of lack of funds. In fact Pat has been having trouble keeping her bank roll from expanding to the point of suspicion. It seems that Pat's did sent his wandering daughter with the necessary amount to have glasses made and also an appointment with a certain optometrist in Spokane. Pat got to Spokane all right, but with bad eyes and everything she ended up at the race track and put her doctor's fee on the nose of a favorite. She ended up about $75 to the good and thoughtfully put it in the bank without realizing that the bank statements are usually sent home. If you are ever in need of explaining a NSF statement to the old man just think how Pat tried to explain that extra $75.

If anyone is in doubt about the power of the ballot may we suggest that you talk it over with the better beer joints in Moscow, in case you didn't know (rather, in case you haven't stocked up) the city of Moscow is going to run out of beer about the 28th of this month and we doubt if you'll see any malt until the "fifth" of November. Jason's WCTU issue must have been pretty far reaching to get this far. Anyway, to impress the more liberal minded there's going to be a shortage in the hope that everyone will poll a great big wet vote come election time.

There are alcoholics, there are gin fiends, there are beer hounds, and then there are winos. Winos, though comparatively harmless, must be handled with tact and understanding. This brief paragraph is being written in hopes that it will make it easier for such a one who is in our midst. It seems that a light wine is served Alpha Pits during serious initiation and during the recent ceremony they had down there, Joyce Keblon was assigned the task of pouring the wine. Joyce, who always tries to do a little more than is asked of her, took it upon herself to act as official wine taster as well as wine pourer. She finally ended up pouring the goblets, tasting the bottle, and serving the cork.

Dan O'Connors of the Sigma Nu house has one of the nicest German shepherds we've seen and then there's the hound of the Phi Delta house who is affectionately known as "Bar" to the members. But the deal we can't seem to understand, is the strange love that Jacque Falls has for every yardward animal that strays along the Tri-Delt way. Her latest addition is a rather mangy looking mut who seems to enjoy a meal a lot more than the shower of affection that Jacque puts out.

If you'll pardon us for a while, we'll run out and get ready to go to the big game Saturday. We'll see you there and let's all give out with a big "T" for the valiant Vandals.

Graduate Attains Great Record

Titus G. LeClair, an Idaho engineering graduate in the class of 1921, has achieved high recognition in the field of electrical engineering with the Commonwealth Edison company.

On leaving Idaho, LeClair spent two years with the General Electric staff before joining Edison, where he authored numerous technical papers, which were widely acknowledged. He is also credited with the invention of an automatic printing meter, relay and switching devices, and special conductors.

He holds the high rank of chief staff engineer with Edison and has been honored many times for his work. Elected last June to the presidency of the Western Society of Engineers, he is a director and past president of the Illinois Engineering Council, holds membership in the Illinois Society of Engineers and is a member of the National Society of Professional Engineers. He is a fellow and vice president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Men To Attend C. Of C. Meetings

Members of the chamber of commerce of the university's school of business will attend meetings of the two Moscow chambers of commerce beginning Wednesday noon. Completion of arrangements for the plans were announced Saturday.

Men who will visit the Wednesday noon meeting of the senior chamber of commerce are Ed English, John Reid, Tom Moore, Gail Fransen and Keith Stokes.

In the evening at 6:30 o'clock, Ted Lake, Keith Finlayson, Kenneth Newman, Ed Bullock and Jack Taylor will attend the junior chamber of commerce meeting.

Doctors Speak

present there was no answer to this question except possibly by some "compromise plan."

Dr. Cramer favored the small-group cooperative plan, warning that a change to socialized medicine would "involve a mass of red tape," lead to "complex administrative problems," and place "unqualified persons" in the position of administering medical care.

The topic for this week's discussion, to be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Student Union building, will be Chinese Communism.

Students Guzzle Quantities Of Mud

The fact that students are not as bright as little evening stars when they sluggishly stumble into early 8 o'clock classes is evident by the volume of coffee they drink to keep awake throughout the morning. A cup of "mud" seems to be necessary in order to keep droopy eyelids at an angle of at least 20 degrees.

During a talkfest one noon last week, an angular gentleman who operates a hideaway on this campus revealed that no less than 13 turns of coffee had been made and guzzled that morning in his cafe. Thus 754 cupfuls were drunk, because his uri holds 58 cups of coffee. Assuming that one person in three drinks two cups at a time, the number of people downing the stimulating fluid in this particular establishment at that particular time can be estimated at 565, or nearly one-sixth of the student body.

There is no warning, lesson, or moral to this story. It is offered merely as proof that Idaho's students are strictly on the beam.

Cushman Judges Book Contest

Publication by E. P. Dutton and Co. and $3000 towards royalties is first prize in the third Lewis and Clark Northwest award for the most outstanding book manuscript submitted by an author of this region.

Prof. John Cushman is the Idaho division judge for the contest. Other judges are Prof. Grant H. Redford, University of Washington; Dr. H. G. Merriam, Montana State university; Dean Alfred Power, Oregon State system of higher education; and Prof. George Savage, University of Washington.

Students and residents may enter fiction or non-fiction book manuscripts of at least 50,000 words. All entries recommended by the judges will be considered for publication. Manuscripts from the Idaho district should be sent to Prof. Cushman before February 1, 1947.

Spur Prexy Fills Regional Office

University of Idaho Spur president Marge Walters was elected a regional director at the national convention of the college sophomore-honorary held at the University of California, Los Angeles, in June. Miss Walters attended as a delegate for the local Spur chapter.

The territory of which she will have jurisdiction includes Spur chapters at Washington State college, University of Idaho, University of Montana, Montana State university, and the College of Puget Sound.

The installation of new officers was held at "A Bit of Sweden" in Hollywood. Rosa Mae Monger of the College of Puget Sound will be national president of Spurs.

Delegates from chapters throughout the country met at discussion group meetings and formulated plans which include a regional meet to be held some time this year, as well as the organization of new Spur chapters expanding eastward across the United States.

Registration Rises In Law School

Registration in the law school of the university has jumped more than 900 per cent since 1943 with 78 students now enrolled. In 1943 there were eight.

During the first semester of the school year 1945-46, there were 28 students studying law. The second semester of that year claimed 53. The 1946 summer session of the school enrolled more than four times as many law students as there were during the war years.

The Bench and Bar, law student association, was revived last semester as was Phi Alpha Delta, law honorary. These organizations hold their meetings every Friday. The Bench and Bar meetings are held third period in the law library, while Phi Alpha Delta's meetings are held during the noon hour in the Bucket.

GROUP PLANS SMOKER

Associated Engineers activities this year will include a smoker this fall, a ball during the winter and a picnic next spring, according to President Frank Ross. In addition the club will publish two editions of the Idaho Engineer, a magazine which will appear once during each semester.

Idahoans Make Up 90% Of Students

Ninety per cent of the students registered at the University of Idaho this year are Idahoans, according to figures released recently by Registrar D. D. DuSault.

Of the total of 3,451 students, 2,969 are from the state. All counties are represented.

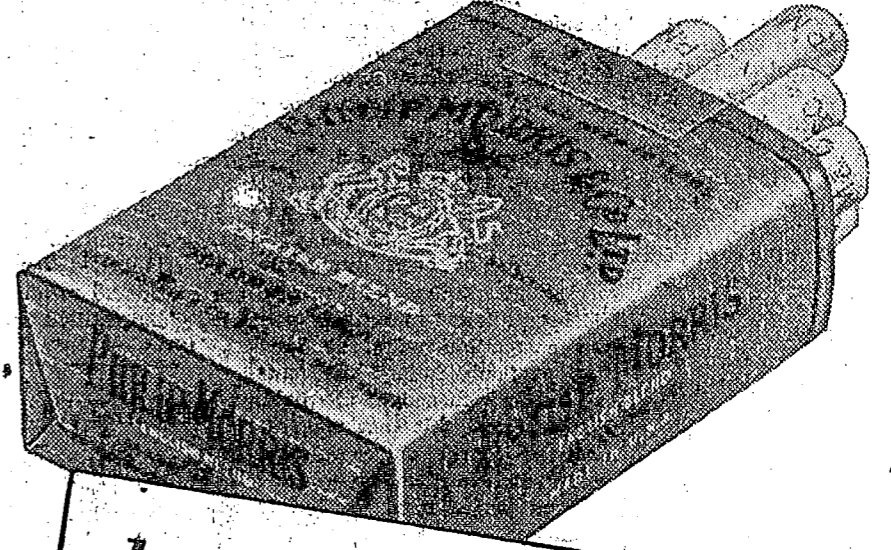

Only former students from outside the state were admitted this year due to the limited housing facilities. All sections of the nation, however, are represented at the university among the returning old students who hail from 38 different states. There are also students from Alaska, Hawaii, China, Egypt, South Africa and Turkey.

Studies In Arizona

Edmund E. Tomlinson, Blackfoot, class of '42, yesterday started his third week of study at the recently established American Institute of Foreign Trade in Phoenix, Ariz., in training for government and business positions in Latin America.

An intensive study of the Spanish and Portuguese languages and the customs and culture of the Latin American nations highlights his course. Equal emphasis is placed on the banking, business methods, personnel management, markets and marketing applicable to Latin America.

New Perch Meets With Approval On Opening

The "Perch," both literally and figuratively a branch from the "Nest," accepted its first student approval Thursday night between the hours of 8 and 10. The consumption of 50 gallons of gratis coffee, plus cookies to match, indicated the success of the long-awaited opening.

Credit for naming the eatery belongs to last summer's patrons of the "Nest," who suggested that if they could not "Nest" in that place, they could "Perch" across the street. "Long" Greene, well known owner of the "Nest," approved and consequently his new establishment bears the appropriate name.

"Long," continuing in his effort to satisfy the student demand, hopes in the near future to be able to keep at least one of his two places open all day both Saturday and Sunday, as well as to 12 o'clock every night. It all depends upon the help situation.

Dean's Car Victim Of Wedding-day Mistortune

By Carl Hardin

Don't be overly optimistic if you chance to see Dean Louise A. Carter cruising about the campus with a "Just Married" inscription in orange paint marring up the aft end of her automobile. The dean of women was merely a victim of misfortune, brought on by miscalculating men of Alpha Tau Omega.

It seems that Miss Lorraine Stewart and Phil Litzengerger were being united in marriage at the Alpha Phi house Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. During the ceremony, a group of ATO men proceeded to decorate the presumed car of the newlyweds. Since Dean Carter was a guest, her car, almost identically the same as the groom's, was marked up by mistake.

It is understood that Dean Carter has had to answer many embarrassing questions and give numerous explanations over the week-end. Rumors have been overheard as to whether or not a shower should be given for the unlucky victim of wrong doing.

Lecture Stresses Good Grooming

Sylvia Auger, holder of the lucky card, 931, at a lecture on good grooming which was given by Miss Gladys Bliss, of New York City on Friday afternoon, received as her prize a box of creams.

The informal lecture, sponsored by the home economics department, stressed the correct method of cleansing the face and applying makeup. "It seems like the baker and the well dressed woman have one thing in common," observed the speaker, "they both start with a well greased pan."

Miss Bliss also stated that questionnaires in men's colleges revealed three common faults in the way women are groomed. Crooked stocking seams, dandruff or loose hairs on dresses and the application of either too much or too little perfume were the objectionable faults. Miss Bliss advised that these three brushes should be used daily: clothes brush, shoe brush, and tooth brush after each meal.

Another thing that Miss Bliss stressed was the importance of good physical health as a part of good grooming. She emphasized the importance of drinking eight to ten glasses of water daily as a means of attaining and maintaining good health.

Crippled Vandal Grid Team Drills For Second Place Ducks

Junior Varsity To Entrain For Boise Thursday

The Idaho junior varsity, scheduled to entrain Thursday for the game with the Boise Junior college, gave evidence last Friday that they will be tough to beat. Even though they were defeated by the Washington State junior varsity 24 to 20, Coach Steve Belko's eleven had a well timed backfield and a hard-charging line.

The Kittens opened the scoring in the first quarter as quarterback Martin threw a perfect strike to Streeter who ran it over from the 10 yards line. Their try for the extra point was wide.

Idaho immediately countered with a touchdown after Underkoffler, Vandal quarterback, unleashed a 35 yard run deep into the Kittens' territory. Following a series of line plays, halfback George Whiteman plunged over from the one yard line.

In a fourth quarter jammed with excitement each team scored two of its touchdowns. Idaho's final score coming in the last minute of play. Both teams scored in the first quarter and Washington State scored again late in the second quarter.

Champions

Brown Reshuffles Men To Find Halfbacks

An injury-ridden Vandal grid team will be busy preparing for a hard battle against the Oregon Webfoots Saturday in Idaho's annual Homecoming game, Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown said last night. Oregon is now second in Pacific Coast conference standings. Idaho lost to the San Jose Spartans last Saturday in a tough, free scoring game.

Taking everything in his stride, Brown reported, "We have the problem of reshuffling our available men in an effort to supply enough halfbacks for Saturday's game."

On the out of action list are at least seven players who will probably be unable to play against the high riding Oregon Ducks. Both Jack and Jim Hatch, brother swivel-hipped, fast moving halfbacks are out. Jack was injured during the WSC game and brother Jim while playing against San Jose. Bill Miklich, fullback, is out with a broken hand; John Kivus, halfback, has an injured back; "Andy" Walsh, halfback, is hurt, and both Ralph Paasch, center, and Frank Viro, right tackle, have bad legs and remain in the "doubtful stage" concerning the oncoming fracas.

"We are going to drill on an offense to be used against Oregon and develop a defense for the Duck attack in addition to shuffling team positions," Brown stated. He added that although "Jake" Leicht, Oregon speed merchant, played very little against Washington State last Saturday, he expected to see action from him at Neale stadium. Leicht was second quarter after halfback Jim Hatch galloped 45 yards to the San Jose eight yard marker. Miklich, Vandal fullback, plucked the remaining eight yards in one play.

Not being satisfied with being ahead 7 to 6 Idaho immediately scored her last tally when Munson passed eight yards to Lynam in the end zone. Plastino kicked the conversion for Idaho after both touchdowns.

Roaring back in the last half the Spartans took to the air and, after a series of passes, scored on a shovel pass from Denevi to Schemel. This was the only score in the third quarter although Idaho had a touchdown nullified with a backfield in motion penalty.

In the fourth canto Idaho's punt was blocked and San Jose scored in two plays from the Idaho 14 yard line. Final score was 26 to 14.

Webfoots Down Idaho 27-21 —In 1908

By Don H. Carlson

Only those who saw believe, but back in 1908 the University of Oregon football team—Idaho's homecoming opponent this Saturday afternoon—moved into Moscow and defeated the Vandals, 27 to 21, without gaining a single yard from scrimmage.

A fact which makes the outcome sound even more incredible is that while holding Oregon for no gain, the losing Idahoans were rolling up a total of 347 yards by rushing and passes.

The game was such a football parody Robert (Believe It or Not) Ripley featured it in his column.

Wrote Ripley: "On October 31, 1908, the University of Oregon defeated the University of Idaho by a score of 27 to 21, although the Oregon team failed to gain a single yard from scrimmage while Idaho ran up a total of 347 yards. In fact, Oregon didn't even gain a yard from passes."

"The individual playing of Dud Clark and Fred Moulten of the Webfoots, both remarkable kickers, accounted for the victory. Moulten kicked four goals, each counting four points at that time. Clark made a touchdown from an intercepted pass, and Moulten kicked the extra point. Kiltz of Oregon made another touchdown from a fumble."

Man Shortage

To top off the oddity, Oregon ran out of substitutes and played the last 15 minutes of the game with only 10 players on the field.

Old timers in Moscow who have been following Vandal football for these many seasons can still spin yarns about the 1908 Vandal-Duck game.

"It seems the air was full of footballs that afternoon," they say. "And either Clark or Moulten was booting the ball all the time."

Idaho would advance the ball deep into Oregon territory and lose it on downs. Then Clark would kick a long, high punt and put the ball back to the Idaho goal line. Clark had an average of 60 yards per kick that afternoon, one old timer says.

If Oregon ever got the ball in the vicinity of the goal posts, Moulten would boot it through for a score. He could split the up-rights from almost any distance or angle.

There's one thing, however, old fans can't seem to recall: "Where did Idaho get its 21 points?"

Buchanan Speaks At Legion Dance

President J. E. Buchanan spoke briefly to the approximately 1500 veterans and their wives who attended the dance Saturday evening in the Memorial gymnasium sponsored by Dudley Loomis Post of the American Legion.

President Buchanan was introduced by Commander Jack McQuade of the local post who also announced that a social event of some kind would be given once a month for veterans by the American Legion.

Touch Ball Ends; Swimming Is Next In 'Murals'

With Jack Black, stellar pass receiver of Delta Chi, winning high point honors with a total of 38 points, one of the most successful and widely-watched intramural touch football playoffs in recent years came to a close last night as the independents finished up their regular season play. Closely following Black for high point honors was shifty Bill Campbell, Sigma Chi, with 37 big counters.

There were a total of 408 students competing in touch football and 70 games were played throughout the regular season. The Sigma Nu rolled to their second straight football title, with Willis Sweet hall's representatives emerging as victors in the independent league play.

The next sport activity will be swimming which is scheduled to start the 28th of October. This will again be directed by Alpha Phi Chi, intramural managers and Leon Green, director in charge of all intramural activities. Alpha Phi Chi will hold their next meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the gymnasium.

Morley Captures Title In Rain

John Morley, displaying the type of golf he is noted for, defeated Don Bullock four up in a steady downpour of rain Sunday afternoon to become the newly crowned golf champion of the University of Idaho.

Don Bullock, the runner up of last year's tourney, came in off the first nine all even with John Morley but after that Morley, who is the number two amateur of the state, took a four up lead and held it until the end of the match.

Morley will receive a ten inch bronze statuette as campus champion and he will have his name engraved on an 18 inch loving cup. The big loving cup is in permanent possession of the golf club and will be on display at the club house the year around. Every champion has the honor of having his name and the year he won the championship engraved on this cup.

In the other flights Jack Keenan has yet to play Taylor to determine the winner of the first flight while Mack Harris tees off against Jack Peterson for the championship of the second flight. In the third round Bill Jones meets Roland Jensen and Chuck Thomas is matched against Lowell Scott to determine the finalists in that flight. Bob Rosenberry took top honors last week in the fourth flight.

The prizes will be the bronze statuette mentioned above for John Morley and the winners of each flight will receive golf balls.
