

First Semester Class Officers Nominated Today

Disciplinary Committees Release Regulations

Functions and regulations covering disciplinary committees for men and women were released by the offices of the deans of men and women today.

Committee functions, as determined by the university, are: "To advise on conditions and circumstances contributory to the delinquency of students and recommend corrective measures. In specific cases referred to the committee, investigate facts, and recommend appropriate action, whether formal or informal. When approved, formal action will be recorded on student's permanent record."

Both committees are called by the respective deans when the occasion demands, and each is composed of three faculty members and two students. The organization for women differs slightly from that of the men in that each living group has a "Standard Committee" which handles minor infractions without referring the incident to the Dean of Women.

"So successfully has this scheme operated that it has not been necessary to call the regular Discipline committee for three years," said Dean Louise Carter.

Men's Regulations
Rules and resolutions pertaining to the committees are: For men:

1. That all men students in the university are thought to be gentlemen and will be expected to conduct themselves as such; to conform to the rules and regulations of the university and to the civil laws of the community, state and nation, and to protect the good name of the university at all times.

2. That this committee has jurisdiction and responsibility over the conduct of all University of Idaho men students who are registered in the university.

3. That this jurisdiction extend over the entire period of the school year from the beginning of school in September until the end of school in June, including the period between semesters.

4. That all cases of discipline be cleared through the office of the Dean of Men.

5. That no two cases are alike and therefore should be treated differently, and not merely on the basis of precedent.

6. That all cases of arrest by civil authorities, involving misconduct, automatically become subject to investigation by the committee.

7. That beginning October 28, 1946, the committee be kept strictly confidential within the committee and be reported only to the Dean of Men or to the president of the university.

8. That the facts in each case be thoroughly examined before a decision is reached.

9. That the deliberations of the committee be kept strictly confidential and be reported only to the Dean of Men or to the president of the university.

Rules Governing Women
1. The women's discipline committee will be called upon at the request of the Dean of Women.

2. The Standards Committee in the respective houses for women will handle cases arising insofar as they are able.

Ag Club Elects New President

Rex Ottley, a member of this year's livestock judging team which won top honors at Portland, was elected president of the Ag club at a meeting held Monday evening.

Other officers elected to fill vacancies were Paul Wetter, vice president; Cecil Alldoffer, historian; and John Bretz and Seth Jenkins, members of the publicity committee.

With enrollment topping pre-war records, members of the club are planning various activities starting with the annual Ag Ball scheduled for Nov. 16, the evening of the Dad's Day football game.

All agriculture students are urged to attend meetings which will be announced in the Argonaut and on bulletins in Morrill hall.

New Department Heads

Looking over a new ice cream machine in the Dairy building are these new department heads in the college of agriculture. They are Professors D. L. Fout, Alvin G. Weese, and J. W. Martin. Professor H. A. Winner, not pictured, is the new head of the agricultural education department.

VETERANS
Veterans who do not receive all subsistence allowance payments due for September and October are requested by C. H. Bond to report to the Veterans Administration Guidance Center office on Tuesday, November 5, in order that proper follow-up may be made. The case of each veteran reporting will be sent to the Boise Regional office for investigation.

Idaho Team Goes On Trip Tonight

Students are urged to attend the big rally tonight at 5:15 o'clock to send the team off for their game with the Montana Grizzlies at Missoula tomorrow afternoon according to Jack Grey, chairman of the student activities board. All houses are asked to have banners and signs to show the team 100 per cent support.

The rally will begin at the Administration building and follow the usual course past Forney hall corner, to the Pi Beta Phi corner. From there the group, led by the pep band and cheerleaders, will go to the Beta Theta Pi corner where the remaining houses and halls will be picked up. The fans will then pass the Alpha Phi house and proceed down Sixth street to the depot.

C. Of C. Names Candidates

The board of directors of the School of Business Chamber of Commerce will be elected Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Blue Bucket Inn, announced Kay Belnap, president.

Candidates for vice-president are Keith Stokes, Ed English, Art Una, and Bob Sahlborg.

Nominees for secretary are Dale Winston, Herb Carlson, Bob Adams, and Eugene Kelly. Either Jim Torgenson, Perry Dadds, Ed Bullock, or Clinton Benedict will be elected treasurer.

Lloyd Heap, Joe DeLay, Richard McFadden, and Tom Driscoll are nominees for publicity chairman; Ken Harding, John Martin, Gall Fransen, and Keith Finlayson, for personnel chairman; Richard Ioset, Charles Rohrer, Kenneth Newman, and Jay Gano, for education and information chairman.

Candidates for program chairman are Jim Koutnik, Dane Weeks, John Reid, and Bob Hendren, and John Ikeda, Bill Young, Clay Boyd, and Garth Haddock are nominees for liaison chairman.

FACULTY PLAN PARTY SOON
President and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan will be honored with a party sponsored by the university Faculty club and Faculty Women's club Tuesday at 8 p.m. The party will be held at the Faculty club house, will feature cards and dancing as the evening's entertainment.

Whitehead Calls Prospective Men Debaters

A call to men's houses interested in participation in an intramural debate tourney was issued Thursday by Prof. A. E. Whitehead, debate coach. Each group intending to enter the competition should send a representative to room 205A of the Administration building today, the coach said.

Sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, the orators will discuss "Resolved: That labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." Purpose of today's meeting will be to decide the opening date for the rounds and arrange a schedule of competition.

Winners of the final rounds will receive possession of the new trophy for a year. Three wins of the cup entitles the living group to permanent possession.

Men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon claimed first place honors in the last similar intramural activity held in 1944.

Students Organize New Chess Club

A petition bearing the names of 20 students interested in forming a university chess club was officially approved by the Board of Organizations and the Board of Student Activities, Dr. J. S. Roth announced recently.

Students and faculty members interested in chess, whether beginners or experts, are asked to attend a meeting Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the upstairs lounge of Student Union building for the purpose of organizing the club.

An official extracurricular activity, a chess club organized for recreational and competitive purposes, would be the first activity of its kind on the Idaho campus.

Chem Department Absorbs Huge Total Enrollment

By DICK EIMERS

Science Hall may not give out with the "attar of roses" odor but it makes up for it by housing a huge number of scholarly appearing people. At least we were impressed by the rooms full to the brim with determined looking people peering into optical gadgets and test tubes.

After Dr. L. C. Cady, head of the departments of chemistry and chemical engineering, told us that 1140 students were coming into his classrooms to learn chemistry, we attributed that devotion to learning to a fear that someone on the next shift might edge them out of position.

We were assured that the chemistry department hadn't seen anything like this before or since it moved from its old home on the second floor of the old engineering building in 1925 to the freshly opened science hall. Incidentally, from a standpoint of residence the science building has nothing on

WSC Board Meets With Idaho Executive Board

Members of the WSC executive board will arrive in Moscow at 7 o'clock this evening to attend a semi-formal dinner dance at the Moscow hotel as guests of the student board here.

In connection with the affair, ASUI President Norman Fredekind stated: "The purpose of this annual get together is to become acquainted so that we may exchange ideas and promote a feeling of goodwill between the two schools. In past years this exchange was held in the spring, but at the last one at WSC it was decided to have it in the fall so that we can have the full year to take advantage of this acquaintanceship."

Pullman Guests

Invited to come from Pullman are President and Mrs. Wilson Compton, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Wood, Edward Kundert, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Bury, Dick Downing, Ed Rice, Kermit Pearson, Connie Smith, Lenore Johnson, Virginia Greenlee, Rozanne Sheeley, Helen Yelle, Aerial Pearson, Andy Adams, Betty Gail Kiser, Alf Nelson, Barbara Kennedy, Ruth Simelink, Bob DeVleming, Neil Meyers, and Charles Brayton.

Idaho representatives will be Norman Fredekind, Boyd Hansen, Ann Price, Don Anderson, Frances Rhea, Geraldine Jacobs, Walt Smith, Bob McLaughlin, Sylvan Jeppeson, J. T. Peterson, Romaine Galey, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Mix, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Steffens, Don Carlson, Ethel Jane Kopelman and Ora White.

Honorary To Meet On Wednesday

Men who qualified for Phi Eta Sigma with an average of 3.5 or above their first semester or first year in school will meet with active members of the freshmen men's honorary Wednesday at 5 p.m. at Delta Tau Delta.

Dr. E. T. Graue, chapter adviser, will be present to familiarize pledges with the purposes of the organization, John Taylor, president, said yesterday. He asks men who qualify for membership to contact Rolland Tipword or Maurice Paulsen at Delta Tau Delta.

WORK BADGES WANTED

Any student still holding an official work badge from the Oregon game, must turn it in at the Graduate Manager's office or their pay will be stopped.

"The Executive Board has set November 13 as election day for all class positions," announced Norman Fredekind, ASUI president, today. This announcement and the publication of class candidates for the first semester tickets brought to a full boil the political pot which has been kept simmering by caucus meetings and political promotion by both parties.

James Lyle Takes Over As Idaho Alumni Secretary

James M. Lyle, newly designated secretary of the University of Idaho Alumni association, will take over within the next 10 days the major job of reorganizing the office which was a war casualty. He will assume the duties of secretary as soon as his present position of assistant veterans' counselor at the university can be filled.

Lyle's appointment was announced jointly by George Yost, Emmett, president of the alumni association, and President J. E.

James M. Lyle Buchanan, subject to formal approval of the board of regents.

Lyle fills the vacancy created last spring by the resignation of William Olson, after his return to civilian status from three years in military service.

As the alumni association had no secretary during the war years, Lyle's first job will be to bring up to date the records on the university's more than 10,000 alumni.

"We hope eventually to be in close touch with every alum," said Lyle, "and to be of real service to him."

Lyle was graduated from the university in 1929, and in 1940 received a master's degree in education. He was assistant state superintendent of schools in 1941-42, before entering military service, from which he emerged last June with the rank of captain. He served 49 months with Headquarters, San Francisco Recruiting and Induction District of the Ninth Service Command.

From 1933-1939, he was superintendent of schools at Kendrick, and from 1939 to 1941, superintendent at Grangeville. His home town is Lewiston.

Reinhardt Elected New Advisor

Forest Reinhardt, member of the physics department faculty, was selected as advisor by members of Tau Mem Aleph, downtown men's fraternity, at a meeting Monday night. Mr. Reinhardt, an instructor, has received a fellowship to the university for further work in physics.

"Our squad in intramural swimming should be one of the best," Norm Wood, vice-president, announced, "but there are still openings in a few events. Off campus men interested in any intramurals should contact me at next Monday's meeting at the Blue Bucket Inn, 7:15 sharp."

Recent pledges of the group are Jerry Schultz, Charles Myhre, Roger Spiker, Keith Dewey, Billy H. Davis, Lawrence Hanson, Ray McGraw, and Bob Neely. More than 60 pledges will be honored at next month's pledge dance, for which preparations are underway.

Caucus leaders Bert Dingle, United Students Party, and Walt Smith, Independent Party, presented consolidated tickets to the registrar for certification. With one exception, Freshman president on the Greek list, all nominations have been made and certified for eligibility.

Nominated by the Independents for class officers were:

As specified by the ASUI constitution, the election board will be chosen by examination of applicants for positions. The examination will be held Monday, November 4, in room 207 of the Administration building at 7:00 p.m. Subjects covered by the examination are the ASUI constitution, school tradition and election procedure covering class officers.

Board members will be chosen from those attaining highest grades on the examination. The individual receiving the top mark automatically becomes chairman of the board. Numbers from each (Cont. page 4, col. 5)

Two Days Remain For Registration

Only two more days remain for eligible students to register for the forthcoming election Tuesday, since registration at the five Moscow registration centers ends Saturday at 9 p.m.

Veteran and student votes are expected to swell county ballots to a record total. Basic requirements are residence in Latah county 30 days and in the state six months.

Single students who have no other address or voting place are entitled to vote. Married students who have established a home here are residents of Latah county and entitled to vote under the above requirements if they claim no other place as their permanent residence. Students living in the veteran villages will register and vote in the West Moscow precinct.

Get Proofs

Students who have not yet selected their Gem proofs must do so by Saturday or proofs for Gem publication will be selected for them. Oro White, editor, announced today. Gem deadlines make it absolutely necessary that this be done, Miss White stated.

Students who failed to have their pictures taken with their groups should make appointments to have this done. Individual appointments can be made by calling either of the studios.

Honorary Sponsors Reception

From 8 to 9 p. m. on Thursday the Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary, is sponsoring a reception for all women music majors and minors. Carolyn Norris Elder will play several piano selections.

Dean Louise S. Carter has given special permission to freshman women to attend the reception.

No Robbery Here

The U. S. A. has been emphatically warned time after time during the past few years that it would go on a twisting joyride to doom if the price level ever got completely out of hand. Efforts were made to keep prices under control after the war ended but nation-wide strikes, black markets, and selfish urges to charge "just a little bit more" made the cost of living spiral higher and higher. So today, clothes and food prices have skyrocketed upward, a quart of milk is almost double in price what it was five years ago, and a prospective used car buyer wistfully dreams of 1939 automobile prices before he plunks his lettuce on the dealer's desk.

It was only natural that the cost of education should also have an upward swing. Idaho's out-of-state tuition fees, which had for many years been only $40 a semester, took a $35 jump. Another problem related to the realm of higher finances had to be settled at this university—how should the cost of veterans' instruction be handled? Disabled vets under Public Law 16 were to have only their actual tuition fees paid by the federal government, but a comprehensive study determined that ex-servicemen attending school under Public Law 340 should be handled the same as out-of-state residents and an additional $150 a year for every veteran was obtained from Uncle Sam.

The university is justified in charging the government $75 a semester per veteran, because the regulations of the G. I. Bill state that "the tuition fee of a full-time veteran trainee shall not be less than $60 per semester." In addition, the university had its choice of charging the government a regular tuition fee (as Stanford does), asking for the flat $60; charging the government its non-resident fee per veteran (which Idaho decided to do); or permitting the actual cost of instruction to be paid.

This is not a case of pilfering the taxpayers' funds, or illegally boosting the university's finances. The university was given the discretion of what it considered its interpretation of "proper" education was to be. Furthermore, the $500 limit for any veteran's total tuition costs prohibit skulduggery and graft.

We are able to add, as a final note, that Idaho's non-resident fees are no higher than other northwest institutions, and they are lower than some. All schools of higher education in Oregon charge $150 a year; Wyoming has a non-resident tuition fee of $328.50 a year; California's colleges have always charged out-of-state students enormous fees for tuition (the University of California makes non-residents dig up $900 a year). Remember that these schools have the right to decide their veteran's tuition costs on a non-resident basis—this seems to prove that Idaho is definitely not greasing any palms at the expense of the taxpayer. —S.H.G.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

To the former arm-chair generals of the war who have now turned their talents to criticizing the gravy-train of veterans attending college, as they call it, we might point out that reports from the VA show that almost all of the veterans are receiving passing grades. We have also heard from veterans not taking college training, who say that it is using too much of the taxpayers' money to send millions of veterans to college. It is clear that these objections are not considered carefully by the ones making them, for any veteran with at least six months service is eligible to take training under the G. I. Bill if he thinks he can hack it.

One well-meaning citizen recently wrote in to one of the papers in this area expressing his personal dissatisfaction with the veterans' education program, saying something to the effect that the wild and brutal veteran is now flunking in college while others wait outside because of crowded conditions. It is true that if there are any who are attending college and not producing, the VA will cut off their subsistence. The fact that some persons will take a few cases of unsatisfactory work by veterans (no more than a normal amount in any school) and make wide generalizations as to the work of all veterans, merely shows ignorance of the facts and a lack of any sound reasoning.

A Harvard professor recently made a statement which might show the reaction of universities to the student-veteran. "I've never seen students like them," he said. "They ask as many questions as a child, and have the wisdom of an old man." Whether this is stretching the point or not is a matter for each individual to decide. The point here is that grade reports have shown that the veteran is taking full advantage of the education that he earned and is offered to him.

REGENTS APPOINT TWO

Stayner Brighton and Warren Downing have recently been appointed as service assistants for the school of education by the board of regents.

The husband answering the phone said: "I don't know; call the weather bureau," and hung up. "Who was that?" asked the pointed as service assistants for the school of education by the board of regents.

Women Students Tell Frank Opinions Of Bearded Men

N.R.A. again returns to the campus as the men allow their beards to grow in honor of their dads. This goes on for three weeks, until November 16. This week the question is limited to women only and is stated as follows: "What is your frank opinion of the growing of beards for Dad's Day?" Some of the answers were:

June Vogt, Alpha Phi; "I don't like it. It's too scratchy."
Marina Dochios, Ridenbaugh hall; "It brings out the wolf in them."

Donna Harding, Alpha Chi Omega; "Well, I think it's rather coughy."

Joan Clark, Delta Delta Delta; "I guess it's all right, it promotes spirit and they're having a lot of fun at it. Personally, I really don't like it because it looks so awful."
Bette Scott, Kappa Alpha Theta; "I think it is one tradition that should be forgotten."

Jean Enne, Hays hall; "I think they look dumb, and they make me look about 50 years old."

Joan Kottenbach, Gamma Phi Beta; "I wish we had something with which to get even with them!"

Peggy Harris, Forney hall; "I think it's a good idea. It adds a lot of excitement to campus life, and all the men get a second glance before they are recognized."

Barbara Spaeth, Kappa Kappa Gamma; "For duds, all right; for the fellows, no. It encourages the breeding of lice!"

Dorothy Malo, Delta Tau Gamma; "It's something different. I like it for now but not if they'd have beards all the time."

Mavis Carlson, downtown; "I think it's swell. It's very novel and adds to the spirit of the campus."
Jo Garner, Pi Beta Phi; "I like it because it is tradition, but if they dressed more neatly in contrast and not let the beards make them look so unkempt, I'd like it better."

Barbara Brill, Delta Gamma; "There is nothing that makes a fellow look as uncouth, crude, rude and unattractive as a beard!"

Veterans Appoint Fire Chief

Frank Cannon was named in a meeting of five residents of the North Main veterans village acting as the fire and safety committee last Friday as the temporary "fire chief" in the village.

A full-fledged program of fire fighting with a volunteer fire brigade is expected to be in operation following a general assembly of the village residents Monday in the Grange hall.

Committee members working with Cannon are Ed English, Ken Harding, William Tinniswood, and Roy Brown.

The action of the meeting received the backing of the veterans administration, represented by C. O. Decker, veterans counselor, and Warner H. Cornish, emergency housing director.

Cannon emphasized the fire hazards of careless disposal of hot ashes into garbage containing material or next to the building when the garbage can is full.

Nuptials Announced For Idaho Couple

Miss Ida Mae Peterson became the bride of Alexander Williams in a double-ring ceremony in Lewiston last Saturday.

The bride is a graduate of Moscow high school and attended the university for one year. Williams is of Port Elizabeth, South Africa, and is now studying irrigation at the university.

Club Holds Tryouts

Tryouts for the Helldivers Club were held last Monday at the gym. "There was a large turnout, and several new members were accepted," President John Mattmiller disclosed. Names will be posted later.

For those who were unable to attend the tryouts last week, additional tryouts are scheduled for next Monday evening at 7:30 in the gym. Be there with suits on!

Students Revive Law Fraternity

Phi Alpha Delta, campus legal fraternity, is resuming the active practices that distinguished the organization before the war. The group will meet on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

At one of the twice monthly meetings, a faculty member will be invited to address the fraternity on any subject of his choosing. It was decided at yesterday's meeting that once monthly a member of the organization would give a report on some decision or group of decisions handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court. Nels Stromberg will deliver the first of these reports on November 21.

In the future, Moscow barristers will be invited to address Phi Alpha Delta, using as subjects interesting cases in which they have participated.

Veteran Devises Transit System

Moscow and the university can thank an enterprising veteran for their new transit system.

Robert Saws, who operates the system, was on his way to his home in New Jersey when he passed through Moscow last spring. He noted that there was no city bus line and with the numbers of students that would be living in town without adequate transportation to the campus this fall, he saw the possibility of a good business.

He contacted the city fathers and wound up with the franchise. The former bus service was discontinued with the opening of the war.

He returned to Tacoma, where his wife lived, and obtained two buses. With his father-in-law, A. G. Salisbury, as partner, he returned this fall to begin the runs. The bus routes cover most of the town. The longest run is four miles.

Social Events Highlight Whole Halloween Week

Maybe no one noticed any witches riding their brooms, but the spirit of Halloween prevailed on the campus this week as apple bobbing and "spin the bottle" again found favoritism for party entertainment. Traditional celebrations of the holiday among living groups caused most comment in the social world.

Beta Theta Phi
Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Carney of Twin Falls were dinner guests Friday.

The annual Halloween exchange was held last night with Kappa Alpha Theta.

Phi Delta Theta
The annual Halloween party was held Wednesday night with women of Gamma Phi Beta at the chapter house from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Richard Toeres was a dinner guest Wednesday evening.

Pi Beta Phi
An afternoon exchange was held Tuesday with Delta Tau Delta.

The annual Halloween party with Alpha Tau Omega was held Thursday.

Delta Gamma
An exchange was held Wednesday with the Idaho Club. An informal fireside will be held this evening for pledges and dates.

Saturday evening all active members of Nu chapter will aid in the initiation and installation of the new Delta Gamma chapter at WSC. They will also attend a formal banquet at the Washington hotel in Pullman held in honor of the new chapter. Sunday afternoon all Delta Gammas from Moscow will act as hostesses at a formal reception held at President Compton's home in Pullman for the WSC Delta Gamma chapter.

Alpha Phi
An informal date-dinner was held Tuesday night at which the following guests were present: Chuck Gibb, Ruel Barris, George Follett, Wally Brown, Jim Kevin and Don Baum Gartner.

An exchange was held with Willis Sweet hall Wednesday night.

Program Begins For Church Institute Fund

Initiation of the program of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education begins tonight at 7:30 o'clock with a public meeting of townspeople and students at the Christian church.

The Rev. O. L. Walter, director of the statewide campaign, will be the speaker.

Dean D. S. Jeffers and Dr. J. G. Wilson are chairmen for the Moscow fund drive for the proposed Institute building.

According to views expressed by national church leaders, the Idaho Institute will be able to do what no single church group can accomplish: establish an adequate student center adjacent to the campus where courses in Christianity can be taught and facilities provided for a full student program.

President Says
About the proposed Institute, President J. E. Buchanan says: "The University of Idaho is vitally interested in the development of moral character in its students. The culture of our age has made progress in the mechanical arts beyond that of ideals and philosophy. Religion is recognized historically as one of the greatest forces in the development of moral and ethical character, and therefore is an important factor in the lives of students. We welcome the efforts of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education to expand its program to serve the Protestant students at the university."

SCHOLARSHIP BLANKS HERE

Alumni Return Beta Cane To Phi Deltas

Dad Jenkins' cane rests over the Phi Delta Theta fireplace.

Not too long ago Dad Jenkins was bursar at the university, and his prized possession was a huge cane. He was also interested in Beta Theta Phi, and when he was made an honorary member in the late '20s, he presented his giant cane to the fraternity. The cane became in time a cherished possession, until one morning in 1932 the Betas awoke to find its spot above the fireplace empty.

The actives were in an uproar and to this day any Beta alum will show his indignation whenever the subject is mentioned.

But with the homecoming guests that visited the house this week came Dad Jenkins' cane. It seems two Phikeias, Isaac McDougall and Dick Peterson by name, had discovered the hiding place of the cane, and asked one of the Phi Delt alumni to return it to Moscow—but not to the Betas.

Dad Jenkins' cane now rests over the Phi Delt fireplace.

Idaho After Initial Victory; Jayvees Battle At Kellogg

Vandals Meet Grizzlies Saturday At Missoula

Entraining tonight for Missoula will be Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown and a 35-man Vandal grid squad, who will be in a dangerous mood as far as this Saturday's opponents, the Montana State University Grizzlies, are concerned. The Idahoans are definitely out to win their first game of the season and to make sure the "Little Brown Stein" remains on display in Memorial gymnasium, Brown said last night.

Leaving Moscow Friday night, the up-swinging Vandals will arrive in Missoula Saturday morning prior to the game and will return immediately after the grid battle.

The Idaho vs. Montana State University grid game will be brought to Inland Empire football fans by radio station KGA, Spokane. Broadcast commences at 1 p.m., Graduate Manager Gale L. Mix, announced today.

Symbol of football superiority between the neighbor-state universities of Idaho and Montana is the "little Brown Stein," which was first awarded the winner of the 1938 Vandal-Grizzly grid contest. Idaho was the winner of the "Stein" then, defeating Montana, 19 to 6, at Missoula. The Vandals also won the trophy in 1942 and 1945. Montana held possession in 1939, 1940, and 1941.

Idaho inaugurated football rivalry with Montana in 1903, and in the 30 games played has piled up more than twice as many victories as the Montanans.

Idaho	21	8	1
MSU	8	21	1

However, there is a discrepancy between Idaho and Grizzly statistics. Idaho records show the Vandals with 22 victories to Montana's seven wins, the argument being over a game played in 1916. "The Vandals are without a doubt of the up-grade and we'll win from Montana," Brown stated last night.

Brown also said that Len Zenkevitch, starting guard who has an injured shoulder, will not enter the game against Montana unless it becomes absolutely necessary to play the Vandal "line-wrecker." Jack Dana, center, might not play as his leg was cut open during a practice scrimmage.

Head mentor of the Montana gridsters, Doug Fressenden, has no first and second teams, but has instead a squad divided into units which are reportedly of about equal strength. This would mean that the Grizzlies have no worries concerning reserves.

"Since the last quarter rejuvenation of the Vandals against the University of Oregon, the Idaho team has been going 'great guns,'" Brown asserted, and there is no doubt that there is high morale and we'll be a hard team to stop."

Swimmers Start Intramural Events Tuesday

With over 200 men out for the first three events, the intramural swimming program got off to a successful start last Tuesday evening in the gym. "Due to the heavy turnout, only three of the seven events listed were run off the first night." Those were the 50 yard free style, the 50 yard backstroke, and the 150 yard medley relay. The remaining events, the 100 yard free style, the 200 yard relay, and the 50 yard breast stroke, will hold their first heats Tuesday, Nov. 5. A schedule will be out Tuesday for the remaining meets.

Surviving the first trials which were run off in the form of heats, will enable the men to advance to the quarter finals which will be held next Wednesday night. The winners of the races on Wednesday will advance to the semi-finals, and from there, the individual championships will be determined.

All men will receive points for their participation in the races, with points being figured on the basis of five for first, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth. Everyone competing will earn points, the further the swimmer advances, the more points he receives.

Leon Green, intramural director, says, "We are quite satisfied with the cooperation and interest shown by the group organizations who have backed this program up."

Music Majors Hold Solo Class

A solo class for all music majors and minors was held Thursday in the music building.

Frances Schapowsky, organist, played "Florentine Chimes," by Bingham.

A string quartet including Don Binning, violin; Irene Brewster, violin; Walt Smith, viola; and Maurice Ritchey, cello, played "Larghetto," by Handel.

Betty Thompson, soprano, sang "Caro Mio Ben," by Giordani, and "Tanto Sospirero," by Beocini. She was accompanied by Frances Schodde. Dorothy Monico, soprano, sang "Voi Che Sapete," by Mozart, accompanied by Jean Mack.

Vets To Comment In Housing Probe

Questionnaires distributed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars are now being filled out by married veterans who are living in the emergency housing.

Available at the VA offices on the campus, the Vets' club, and at the apartment of Mr. Sursersain in the Vets Village on North Main, the forms will be gathered Wednesday.

The questionnaire asks for comments on the living quarters now being occupied, what the veteran desires in housing, and similar questions.

The sheets will be tabulated by the VFW national headquarters and presented to a congressional committee investigating veterans housing sometime in the early part of 1947.

"TAKE FIVE"

By CLARK CHANDLER

It was on Tuesday evening with the lights shining brightly upon freshly fallen snow, and Steve Belko's junior varsity was baffled. What had previously been an evenly matched scrimmage with the jayvees winning almost as often as they lost was now the varsity's own show. The junior varsity's bafflement turned into outright surprise when every Vandal ball carrier ripped off huge chunks of yardage, and they found they couldn't do anything about it.

Before the practice was over Coach "Babe" Brown was smiling broadly as he has been since. In fact, Mr. Brown says Vandalville possesses a team when the team wants to play, and in no unmistakable terms stated that Idaho would win her next ball game.

It is rather odd that varsity-jayvee scrimmages are so rugged. Strangely enough the junior varsity will play harder against their big brothers than they will against game opponents—both on the football field and on the maplecourt. This is mostly due to the fact that the prospective grid star knows that he has to look good while playing the varsity if he ever makes the starting eleven when his turn comes.

Idaho's junior Vandals have until the last week been playing nip and tuck with the Vandals, but now the ill-fated varsity runs through the jayvees like water through a sieve! IDAHO WILL BE A SAFE BET SATURDAY!

It seemed very amusing to the Idaho vs. Oregon game spectators when 145-pound 1942 Pacific coast boxing champion, Bill Williams, was taken from the game during a conversion and ordered by Coach Brown to warm up as he was going right back into the game. Williams' sub-conscious idea of warming up was to shadow box—which he did! Team members are still razzing Williams, who is very sheepish about the entire matter.

An "old" tradition of growing beards has been revived at Idaho—it would be much better to revive the tradition of remaining in the stands and singing the Alma Mater as the student bodies of other colleges do.

To Regain Renown Williams Reports Large Turnout

"Although it is too early to name any outstanding boxing candidates, a large turnout is hoped for in an effort to regain the national collegiate boxing fame that was once Idaho's," Bill Williams, 145-pound 1942 Pacific Coast boxing champion and acting boxing coach, said last night.

No meets have yet been scheduled but besides the matches with schools of the Pacific Coast, negotiations are being made now for tentative dates with Wisconsin, Minnesota and San Jose State.

Those who have been conditioning the past two weeks are Joe Schumaker, Herb Carlson, Rex Forman and Ken Clark. It is hoped by Williams that a few workouts can begin soon.

Boxing is a major sport at the University and gives a man the chance to earn a coveted "I" sweater. "There are many chances to make the team yet so let's see all the prospective boxers out," Williams said.

"A large turnout of 40 prospective battlers were on hand for the first practice session," Bill Williams, 145-pound Pacific coast boxing champion and temporary coach of the Idaho boxing team, announced today.

Besides Williams, the squad has only one letterman, Tom Wells. However several boys boast fine records in previous bouts. They are: Joe Schumaker, Ken Clark, Rex Forman and Herb Carlson.

No actual sparring has been done yet. Practices in the fundamentals, rope work and shadow boxing have been the preliminary routine.

"Although the squad is large, all men still wanting to turn out may do so," Williams said. No boxing experience is required.

Belkomen Seek Victory Over Cubs Tonight

Fresh from their 12 to 7 victory over Boise Junior College last week, the Idaho Junior Varsity left this morning for Kellogg, where they will meet a supposedly strong Montana State Jayvee squad tonight. Although this Montana squad is undefeated thus far this season, holding victories over the University of Montana Junior Varsity, 7 to 0, and Dilton Normal, 18 to 6, they will have a tough time showing the baby Vandals into the loss column again, Steve Belko, coach, stated. The Vandals found themselves last Friday night in the fourth quarter of the Boise Junior College game and ran rough-shod over the Broncos.

"We have been improving steadily from the Washington State game, especially in our pass defense," Coach Belko reported. He also added that the numerous fumbles which played havoc with the Vandal attack last Friday night, would probably be lessened considerably if the field is dry at game time.

Other than Jud Paris, regular halfback, the Vandalsmen will be at full strength this week. Paris is still bothered by a shoulder injury and probably will not see much action tonight.
