

KUOI Has First Anniversary

Radio station KUOI will celebrate its first anniversary on Friday with several special broadcasts, according to Ted Cady, pictured above at the controls of the station. Inaugurated last year, the station has furnished students with all types of radio material during its existence. Plans for expansion are being made now.

Program Commemorates Radio Station's Founding

A special remote control broadcast commemorating the first anniversary of KUOI, the campus radio station, will take place Friday from the Blue Bucket Inn. President Buchanan will be the featured speaker of the program.

Bob Olson and his band will provide music while special student skits will round out the program.

Established a year ago by a few radio enthusiasts, the campus station has grown rapidly. A varied schedule of programs is now heard daily. Among them are included the "Paulsen Play-house," an original fantasy series written and produced by Maurice Paulsen. This program is being broadcast each Thursday at 7 p.m., and is complete with musical background and recorded sound effects.

Students Applaud Community Concert Artist

MUSIC LOVERS of Moscow and Pullman were treated Friday night to the expressive and artistic voice of Dorothy Maynor, well known Negro soprano.

Her varied repertoire for the evening's program illustrated the great range of musical literature she has at her command. Six nationalistic composition groups—Spanish, German, Czechoslovakian, French, Modern American, and Negro Spirituals—made up the division of her selections.

Miss Maynor's ability to create a deep feeling of pathos and suffering was illustrated to the fullest in her rendition of the Spanish song, "Alma Cantanos," by Nin. A short andante movement, it contained a powerful urgency well suited to her varied range of singing.

Slick Chins Liked Over Whiskers

"For the second time this century NRA (no razors allowed) has failed," bitterly complained the whiskered gentlemen of this university. The cause, this time, can be attributed to the lack of cooperation between both men and women. The femmes of the campus were supposed to boycott all clean shaven men. Males without five o'clock shadow or more were to be socially ostracized.

The ladies also had quite a bit to say about the situation—mostly bad. "They tickle, they scratch, they look like they should be sprayed with DDT. Besides that, they make the men look like shepherders."

Men Make Plans For Gem Dummy

A few favorable comments were made however. "Beards make many of the men look distinguished and so much more mature." All this without realizing that the human shrubbery is very irritating (especially when the wind blows through it) and a "distinguished bush requires constant and careful weeding. Also, the shaggy lads can't light their fags in the free and easy manner they are wont to use. If they aren't careful—POOF.

"Perhaps the tradition will again be revived next year—perhaps not. If it is however, an all out effort should be made and cooperation insured," added the whiskered one.

STUDENTS

Students desiring work next Saturday during the game will please have their names at the office of the graduate manager between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. before Friday.

Those who have worked formerly will have preference until Wednesday.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS ORGANIZE

Delta Mu, organization open to all college age members of Job's Daughters, initiated 32 women at ceremonies held Thursday night in the Masonic temple. The next meeting of the group will be the first Thursday in December.

Villagers Choose Councilmen With Small Vote

Occupants of Traller Village joined in the election storm that has seized the campus by going to the polls yesterday to elect representatives of a five-precinct organization which will execute the administrative problems of the community.

Although many qualified to vote failed to cast their ballots each candidate won his position by an impressive majority. Less than 50 per cent of those eligible to vote exercised their right.

The students and their wives went to the Housing Operation office to cast their ballots with the following men being officially declared winners: Precinct 1, Charles Bigelow; precinct 2, John T. Larson; precinct 3, LaVerne Buhni; precinct 4, R. T. Moldenhauer; precinct 5, Arthur Una.

Those elected will form the village council and elect a chairman from the group whose title will be "Head Tempore." All members have been elected for a period of one year and if absent during the summer session will appoint an interim substitute from his own precinct.

Purposes

Purposes of the organization are "To organize and delegate authority for the accomplishment of diverse problems and cares common to all living in units within the 'Traller Village,' the organization of defense against fire, solving of special problems, control of traffic, promotion of health and general welfare, and the promotion of common social entertainment."

Democratic ideals of the organization are carried out by requirements of the village constitution that each councilman will be responsible to his constituents and report to them the proceedings of council meetings.

Law Dept. Offers Nine More Hours

Nine hours of law work will be offered to students entering the college of law the second semester of this year. Not offered before during the second semester, these courses will be given to students starting their first semester of law in February.

The nine hours to be given are Contracts 1, 3 hrs.; Real Property, 4 hours; and Agency, 2 hours. Students taking the nine hours will be required to take a minimum of 3 hours in other divisions of the university in order to carry the prescribed 12 hours.

In order to enter the college of law students are required to have had at least 64 credit-hours with a C average.

Visitor Addresses Home Ec Women

Dr. Miriam Lowenberg, child nutritionist and writer associated with the Mayo brothers child health clinic at Rochester, Minn., visited at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Cunningham last weekend.

Saturday afternoon Dr. Lowenberg was entertained at tea at the university home economics department by the Home Majors club. Sunday evening she was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cushman.

Dr. Lowenberg, formerly head child nutritionist for the Kaiser company during the war, has written many articles on child nutrition in popular and scientific magazines. She spoke before home economics students Monday before leaving to continue her Pacific coast tour.

Dickinson To Speak On Food Thursday

Ruth Dickinson, nutritionist, will speak Thursday to the home economics orientation class on opportunities in food nutrition.

Miss Dickinson is the American Red Cross consultant for Idaho and Utah with headquarters at Boise. Formerly an army dietitian and then at the Boston Dispensary, she has also worked in the department of social service.

Men To Face Real Trial With Lena

"I didn't invite her," cried Carl Nelwirth, Dad's day chairman, yesterday when it was revealed that Lena the Hyena will arrive in Moscow Saturday in time to participate in the celebrations (and for her they will be celebrations) Saturday.

Lena, who comes from Lower Slobbovia, will be one of the femmes chasing an unlucky man in the annual Dogpatch race. Men are rumored to be leaving town already and a mass exodus is expected momentarily.

Said Nelwirth, "She came Without Reservations."

Veterans Reveal Plans For Organization

Plans to organize university veterans for the purpose of improving housing and educational facilities are being formulated according to reports made Monday.

The proposed organization, to be developed immediately, would seek to "transcend all religious, political, sectional and other prejudices and... give all students attending this school educational facilities designed to qualify them to take their rightful place as good citizens of our state and country."

According to the report, the group would be governed by a council or committee to avoid having a single head with the possibility of imparting personal religious, political or sectional characteristics. The group is to be controlled entirely by veterans now on the campus and is to exist without outside pressure or influence.

Acting under a recent suggestion, the group would approach each university veteran on the subject to give him an opportunity to affiliate with the organization.

Once organized, the purpose of the group would be to demand education, health and other services for the general welfare of students. Technical assistance for members would be requested from national veterans organizations who have indicated they will render assistance to any worthy cause.

University Gains Chilean Student

Idaho's school of mines has a far-reaching fame, as is shown by an inquiry from Ladislao A. Cespedes, a student associated with the school of mines of La Serena, Chile. The inquiry was received recently by Dean A. W. Fahrenwald.

Mr. Cespedes desires special instruction at the university during the second semester. He will attend the meeting and World Conference of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers at New York in March. Following that, he plans to come to Idaho to take courses in ore dressing and laboratory technique.

Mr. Cespedes selected the Idaho department upon the recommendation of the advisor of mines of the United States embassy.

Law School Revives Mock Court Cases

Another war casualty, the mock court, is being revived by the law school. The second case has been assigned, but is still in the process of being briefed, according to Prof. William J. Brockelbank, acting dean of the college.

The firm of Kingsford will be the counselors for the plaintiff and the firm of Pace and McLaughlin will be the counselor for the defense. The case before the court will relate to the sale of personal property. A jury will not be used and the opponents will argue on the points of the case.

No definite date has been set for the trial.

Dames To Entertain

A party will be given by the university Dames club for members of the WSC Dames club Wednesday at 8 p.m. The party will be held at the Faculty club, according to Mrs. Beverly Becker, publicity chairman. It has been requested that the members wear name tags.

Students To Cast Class Ballots On Wednesday

Politics, politicians and political parties will have a long awaited day Wednesday when students will cast their votes to determine class officers in polls at the Administration building and the Student Union building.

From 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., definite closing time set by election chairman Rex ZoBell, voting will continue for students who present ASUI books and whose names appear on the certified student list.

In connection with tomorrow's voting procedure, ZoBell cautioned students to present ASUI books with the individual's signature and urged each voter to be certain of his class rating. To speed the voting, he asked that ballots be folded before the final stamp which marks the ballot's validity. He also requested that students be ready to turn over ASUI books after voting in order that they may be marked and dual voting prevented.

Results Announced Wednesday

Counting will begin when the polls close with Helen Moulton, chairman, and Bobbie Douglas, vice chairman, in charge of the 16-member election board. No statement could be made as to time of finishing the count, but previous instances indicate the announcement should come around 10 p.m.

On the United party's ticket for senior class officers are Pete Rowell, president; Ray Brookhart, vice president; Ora White, secretary; Joyce McMahon, treasurer. Junior nominees are Kenny Lennon, president; Bonnie Burnsides, vice president; Geneva Ferguson, secretary; Eve Smith, treasurer. Sophomores are Bill Sweet, Bob Dahlstrom, Lois Hart and Joan Young, in the same order of office. Bob Worthington, Dan O'Connell, Marjorie Lampman and Rosemary Fitzgerald are the freshmen.

Independent Nominees

Faculty Club Calls For Dues Payment

Professor Norman Nybroten announced today that the Faculty club has a membership of 100 and there is hope of attaining 160 to 170 members.

Dues, which became delinquent November 5, can be paid to Dr. H. W. Steffens, treasurer, or to Mrs. D. E. Miller at the Commissary.

Big Hunting Trip For Couple

Martin Huff and his wife, Anna Mae, examine a deer which she brought down with one shot on their recent hunting and fishing trip in the Lake Pend Oreille region. The trip was made possible by the Sandpoint chamber of commerce and Kaniksua national forest headquarters. Mr. Huff is studying at the university for his bar examinations.

Vets Should Name Beneficiaries Now Says VA Manager

Idaho veterans who have not designated beneficiaries for their life insurance are urged to do so as soon as possible, Lean F. Fields, manager of the VA in Idaho, said recently.

The new Insurance Act of 1946 has completely changed the situation with respect to beneficiaries and the old provision for an automatic order of succession, in the event no beneficiary was designated, is no longer in effect for insurance maturing after July 31, 1946, Fields said.

Under the new law, if the insured is not survived by a designated beneficiary, the proceeds of his insurance will be paid in a single sum to his estate at his death.

As part of an estate, insurance loses its identity as such and is subject to all the laws governing estates, including claims of creditors, administrators fees and court expenses. It is now quite possible in some cases in which the insurance is payable to the insured's estate that those whom the insured would have chosen will never realize the benefits. In any event, Fields said, the veteran who does not designate beneficiaries may expose his dependents to the risk of unnecessary expense and delay.

Others to be Named

In addition to naming a first beneficiary, it also is important for a veteran to name contingent or secondary beneficiaries because in many cases any unpaid benefits will be paid to the insured's estate after death of the first beneficiary. This might necessitate reopening the veteran's estate many times.

Voters To Choose Blot Cover Girl

"Blot" will name the university woman to grace its initial cover, by popular vote of those making advance purchases of the magazine, Bob Booth, the publication's publicity manager, disclosed yesterday.

Each women's living group of the campus will name its candidate and from this group the final "On the Blot-Girl" will be elected. This cover girl's name will be disclosed simultaneously with the publication, during the magazine's assembly, "No Matter How You Slice It."

Featured in the pseudo-Turkish harem assembly will be Naomi Hobza in the role of Salome, said Booth and Bates Murphy, the musical comedy's co-producers. Murphy reported, when queried about the assembly, "There has never been anything like it before... Never."

Shots Available For Influenza

Influenza immunization shots are still available at the infirmary and students wishing to be immunized against the disease may make arrangements there, according to a recent announcement by Dr. H. D. Cramer.

Explaining that a single shot will protect most individuals for several months, Dr. Cramer stated that an inoculation given now should give protection through the winter months.

A nominal charge is made to cover the cost of the immunizing material.

Scribe Lauds Steve Belko As Inspiring Grid Mentor

By GENE ROSE

The only bright light shining in Idaho football this year comes from the junior varsity football field. Although these baby Vandal gridsters haven't displayed a brilliant record (1 win, 1 loss, and 1 tie) they certainly have done a large share in keeping the Idaho football fan's interest aroused in Vandal gridiron competition this year.

This writer holds that a large share of the credit should be given to Mr. Steve Belko, jayvee coach, who took over the coaching duties this fall. True, he had fairly good material to start with, but he has taken that material and worked it into a hard-fighting team that shows plenty of spirit every time they take the field.

Steve graduated from the University of Idaho in 1939 after winning three letters in both football and basketball. He then went to St. Maries high school where he was assistant coach to Pete Wicks, brother of Idaho's head basketball coach, Guy Wicks.

Steve was not the only athletic representative of the Belko family as he had an older brother, Max Belko, who was an all-coast tackle on the University of Southern California teams of 1933-34-35. Max was killed in Guam while serving as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

A Spokesman-Review popped up in the Arg office the other day in which an unknown Spokane reporter had commended two Idaho linesmen for outstanding work on the Vandal defensive wall during the season.

Jayvees Ready For Second Cougar Tussle

After a week layoff, Coach Steve Belko's Vandal Junior Varsity gridsters will resume practice tonight in preparation for their season finale, November 22, against WSC at Pullman.

In the season opener, they were nosed out by this same Cougar squad by a 24 to 20 score. More recent scores include a 12 to 6 win over Boise Junior College in the mud and a much disputed 6 to 6 tie with the previously unbeaten Montana Junior Varsity.

With the exception of Joe Paris, starting back, who has an injured knee, the entire squad will be at full strength for this game. Paris, however, is slated to see some action.

The JV forward wall has been strong, boasting plenty of ends and guards the entire season. George Ballew and Jack Briggs have both played steady ball at the end spots and coach Steve Belko has been having difficulty selecting a starting combination of guards from Win Bishop, Ken McCormick, Bill Foster and Jerry Burkhalter, all 60 minute ball players.

Foresters Meet For Speech

Prof. Robert E. Hosack of the political science department will address members of the Associated Foresters this evening when they meet in the forestry laboratory at 7 o'clock. Following the speech, which is concerned with the nation's political activity, a film on fires will be shown by Commander Kenneth E. Butler, associate professor of naval science.

David Wilson will preside at the short business meeting to which all forestry students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Appearing against the Vandals in Saturday's Dad's day game will be Jim Burgess, 195-pound Hawaiian line cracker for Portland University. Burgess has been a starter on the Pilot grid team all season.

Wicks Announces Second Cut In Cage Squad

"Competition has been fierce on Idaho's maple court this year and I suppose men will still be fighting for varsity positions until the end of the season," Guy Wicks, basketball coach, said last night while announcing a varsity cage squad cut.

"The remainder of the basketball candidates will be required to turn out on the junior varsity squad the rest of the season. Of course, if style of play warrants movement to the varsity squad from the jayvees I shall not hesitate to do so," Wicks stated.

Junior varsity practice will be held from 8 until 10 in the evening on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday under the direction of Steve Belko, jayvee basketball coach.

Idaho Vandals Point For Portland University Dad's Day Battle

Offensive practice is the order of this afternoon when the Idaho gridsters launch preparations for Saturday's annual Dad's day-grid battle with Portland university at Neale stadium. The Vandals have had a one-day rest from practice since returning from the 34 to 0 shellacking handed out by Oregon State last week.

Losing to Oregon State gave Idaho undisputed claim to the Northern Division cellar position. The Vandals, not playing a full conference schedule, have lost every conference game this year.

The Vandal grid team, however, has an excellent chance to turn in a win this Saturday. Idaho has made a practice of winning Dad's day games and Portland university's defeat last week in the Montana State college game gives the Idahoans a distinct edge over the Pilots.

At Boise in 1942 Idaho defeated Portland in the first game played between the two schools by a 20 to 14 score.

Lose Only One
In eight Dad's day games, the Vandals have lost only one. In 1934 Gonzaga edged Idaho 24 to 20 in the first Dad's day game. Next year, in 1935, the Vandals defeated Montana 14 to 7. Since that time they've beaten North Dakota State 13-12, Montana 6-0, North Dakota State 27-0, Montana State 7-6, Nevada 6-0, and Willamette university 33-0.

"We had a holiday yesterday and today we'll start offensive practice in preparation for our next game," Coach "Babe" Brown said last night.

Brown reported only one injury to the team as a result of the Beaver fracas. Carl Munson hurt his left shoulder. Earlier in the audience in the superb presentation of Gounod's immortal "Ave Maria," and the beloved old melody, "Songs My Mother Taught Me."

Two delightful novelty selections, "The Cat and the Canary," musically told, and a cleverly rendered number dedicated to young mothers and students of psychology, immediately caught the fancy of the audience.

Adding to the performance was Miss Maynor's accompanist, Ludwig Bergman, who is a great artist in his own right.

The finale was an old Irish melody, "Oh, No, John," following which Miss Maynor returned to the stage for many curtain calls.

The Negro artist wore a brown evening gown with orange trains. A bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums was presented to her at the intermission.

There will be an "I" club meeting in the upper student union lounge Thursday night at 7:30. All "I" club members are urged to attend.

Cage Team Claims Proud Family Men

Besides trying to win another Northern Division Championship, a few of the Vandal hoopsters have added responsibilities to which they must attend. Five of the team's members have seen the altar and three of them are proud fathers of future Idaho students. Fred Quinn leads the list with an eight-months-old bouncing baby girl. Second in line is Jack Phoenix with a taller than average six-months-old boy, who Jack claims will be a good center in any casaba game before too long.

Wendell Christiansen with a two-months-old boy is also a proud papa of a future athlete. Mortensen and Dykeman, the other two married men on the team, as yet aren't rocking any tiny bundles to sleep after a tough session on the maples.
