

The regular Fleece "took five" and I slipped this into the column. She'll be on duty to receive any complaints, though. — JRE.

"These ex-soldiers up there at the university really have it soft! The university has given them everything but the kitchen sink to keep them in school and keep the enrollment up."

"Well, that isn't exactly the way I heard it. Now, I've got a sister whose cousin's wife's nephew works in Genesee just 18 miles from the university and he says that the place is so crowded that they're flunking them out right and left to give everyone the same amount of standing room."

Some Believe 'Em
Those two little bits of wisdom are typical of the rumors making the rounds of the state. The rumors reach into sufficiently high places that the university president is forced to give some of his well filled schedule to refute the untruths.

Considering the lack of money required to operate a stepped up institution of this size and the housing shortage for classes and living accommodations, we would say that President Buchanan had inherited the job of "making a silk purse out of a sow's ear," to quote a homely old saw.

For our money he has, and is making a fine try with the worn out tools left him by his predecessor. What's more he deserves the unstinted support of every student in this school.

We Don't Know
The source of these vicious rumors may be within the school or they may not. Who knows where rumors come from? The person who told you is usually the authentic source of information—second hand, that is.

The particular rumors quoted above were considered authentic enough that they had to be officially denied even if they started with a disgruntled "F" student or some guy who just didn't like someone standing at his elbow all the time. Let's give the President a hand in his effort to keep the Alma Mater right side up by squelching the next rumor that comes your way. At least see if it's true before you pass it on.

We were happy to see Ozzie Welch had lost little of the cheer leading technique that made him a campus figure in the pre-war days. For those of you who couldn't get in to see the game Saturday night, Ozzie wrung a couple of cheers out of the students that would have made you believe we were winning. . . . well, almost.

Who'd of thought the neighborly Cow-gars could have held the Vandal five to 1 solitary point in the first nine and a half minutes of the second half last Saturday nite.

Seniors To Order Announcements

Commencement announcements for graduating seniors have been ordered but will be distributed later in the year by the book store according to a report by class officers.

Chet Kerr, manager of the bookstore, is accepting orders for the announcements from seniors who will graduate and leave at the semester until February 1. Seniors who remain on the campus until June may buy theirs when the shipment arrives at the book store, and that date will be announced later.

Sample announcements as well as samples of personal name cards are expected to be on display at the bookstore within the next few weeks. The former item must be ordered separately.

Conference Closes For Workers Sat.

Idaho extension workers closed their 1947 annual conference on the university campus Saturday with a final business session. C. O. Youngstrom, vice director, closed the conference in the absence of Dean D. R. Theophilus. J. L. McCarthy, Orofino, member of the university board of regents, was the final speaker. Dean Theophilus summed up the meeting by saying he believed it "one of the most highly successful in recent years."

Atom Movie Shown In Navy Building

"Operation Crossroads," a technical motion picture showing the atom bomb test, is being shown for students and faculty members today in room 105 of the Navy building. The film, which lasts 30 minutes, will begin 15 minutes after the hour each hour during the day. Navy personnel requested that professors do not excuse classes to see the picture as there is limited seating space, but welcomed either faculty or students with free periods to attend. This will be the second and final day of showing the movie.

Attention

The library is again open for student use on Sundays from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. It was previously closed because of the coal shortage.

Gray Names First Round Winners In Tournament

Results of preliminary playoffs in the intercollegiate bridge tournament which were held Sunday were announced yesterday by Jack Gray, student activities board chairman. Following is a list of the couples and the scores they made: Sumner Johnson and Sam Kaufman, 113½; Ed Greef and Bud Creighton, 99; Donna Trueblood and Joan Clark, 98½; Jean Harmon and Steve Bristline, 94½; Allen Stanley and Jack Ogsbury, 92½; Mary Beth Garretson and Bib Kohls, 91½; Bob Leeper and Tom Tudder, 89; Don Ogsbury and Dick Newport, 87½.

Blot To Organize Staff For February Issue

Organization of a staff for the second issue of Blot, campus literary magazine, will be initiated today when students interested meet at the university classroom building at 4 p.m.

In order to assure a more complete coverage of the campus and its activities several new departments will be initiated and their staffs named. Among these will be a sports staff, a fashion staff and complete publicity and exchange staffs.

Plans will also be discussed at that time for a proposed dance, in conjunction with the magazine and sponsored by it. The assembly, too, will again go into rehearsal, for presentation to the entire campus after the release of the current issue.

Debaters To Come Here For Meet

Five debate teams will represent the University of Idaho this weekend, when approximately 40 teams will meet on the Idaho campus for participation in the annual Inland Debate tournament of freshmen and sophomore men and women.

Debating for Idaho on the question, "Resolved: That labor should have a direct share in the management of industry," will be Richard Boren and David Weeks, Robert Rignup and Thomas Rigby, Carol Fitch and Jo Anne Elam, Jack Johansen and Don Leeper, and Ted Thompson and Jack Menge. Dr. A. E. Whitehead is debate coach.

Plowman Is Guest Of Idaho 4-H Club

Miss Lillian Plowman, president of the 4-H group at Washington State college, will be the guest of the Idaho 4-H club at their next meeting at 4:30 p.m. today in the Student Union building. A discussion is to be held concerning the formation of a joint party made up of the Idaho and WSC 4-H organizations.

Atom Movie Shown In Navy Building

"Operation Crossroads," a technical motion picture showing the atom bomb test, is being shown for students and faculty members today in room 105 of the Navy building. Action Necessary To Inaugurate Mining Course

Although a bill creating a course in prospecting at the university school of mines was put through the last legislative session, no action has yet been taken to inaugurate the unique course.

Patterned after one at the University of Washington, the course covers practical prospecting as commonly understood and the basic principles of geology, mineralogy, chemistry, and metallurgy.

The course will not be offered second semester and if acted upon at all will begin next fall, according to Dean A. W. Fahrwald of the school of mines. Prime purpose of the new course would be to give each student familiarity with ores and minerals through study and tests in the laboratories and field trips to the region of varied geology within range of the university.

Engineers Leave Idaho For Salary Raises

Higher salaries elsewhere have taken two more University of Idaho faculty members, both from the college of engineering.

President J. E. Buchanan today announced resignations of Herman Blieckensderfer, associate professor of civil engineering, who goes to Bradley University at a salary of $1,000 more than his pay at Idaho.

Vet News

All veterans leaving school at the end of this semester (or any other time) are requested to check with the Veterans Administration at the Guidance Center. This is necessary in order to protect the veteran's rights for further training, and to prevent overpayment of subsistence.

Skiers Place High In Meet Held At Lookout Pass

Thirteen representatives from the Vandal Ski club returned from the Intermountain Ski Meet at Lookout Pass near Wallace Sunday placing moderately high in team standings.

Fund Increases For Institute

The Rev. Willard E. Stanton, executive secretary of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, reported to the trustees of the institute last week that the building fund has passed the $60,000 mark, the goal being $75,000.

Lawyers To Elect Semester Officers

Phi Alpha Delta, law honorary, will elect second semester officers at a meeting Wednesday, January 22.

KUOI Broadcasts Preliminary Game Tonight

KUOI varied its schedule last weekend by carrying the Vandal-WSC junior varsity game which was played as a preliminary to the varsity contest. Preliminaries for the Washington series tonight and tomorrow night will be broadcast by remote control.

Britisher Chooses Forestry School

The fame of the University of Idaho's forestry school has spread across the Atlantic.

In the normal course of events, Henry Charles Fitz Roy of Tavistock, Devon, England, would probably go to Oxford upon finishing at Harrow next July, but he is coming to the university instead.

Club Holds Meeting

A talk on the "Psychology of Fear" was given by Steve Shelton at a meeting of the Roger Williams club Sunday evening.

Smaller Than Cello

During a recent interview, Schuster pointed out that he is smaller than his instrument when he sits down to play. He maintains he had little choice in selection of his career since his two sisters played the piano and violin and to make a trio it was necessary that he play the cello.

Halftime Features Student Talent

A variety of halftime entertainment has been scheduled by the student activities board for presentation at tonight's and Wednesday's basketball games.

King winter is here once again and according to some mythical legend, everyone is of bright faces and gay spirits supposedly in rhyme with the frosty winter season. All we can see are sprained ankles, bruised sacroiliacs, and broken arms. No one thinks of the coming slush and mud when all this beautiful snow melts. Personally, we hate anything moist that comes down out of the sky and that includes dew.

Financial Survey Necessary

Governor Robins, in his inaugural address of last week to the 29th, Republican-controlled Idaho legislature, stated that the "Peabody report on education contained a vast amount of thought-provoking material," but that he thought that the report answers "the question what, but not the question, how?"

The governor was referring to the mass content of information printed in the report which dealt with the sad state of affairs of Idaho's educational system, and he wondered why the report only generally referred to the sources of income.

The whole crux of the matter is that the state paid out $50,000 in good American money to a group of educators who were qualified to speak of schools and teaching problems, but who were not financial experts or tax wizards and thus were not equipped to tell us how to raise the money to carry out the report's recommendations.

So now the newly elected members of the legislature face a dilemma when they attempt to pour oil on this writhing sea of educational adversities. Political scientists throughout the state generally agree that a report on Idaho's delicate financial situation listing the most agreeable methods of taxation to find funds enough to pay for the improvements in Idaho's educational system would be both desirable and necessary.

But an investigation of the state's monetary set-up and a study of the availability for heavier and new taxation methods should have been carried out simultaneously with the Peabody probe. A state-wide financial review would not have cost as much as the educational survey, but in order to do a good job, fiscal authorities concentrating on the problem from an independent angle would have needed at least six months.

Thus the decision of where to let the ax fall is an extremely hard one to make, and one that brand-new legislators supplied with figures compiled several years ago will find indeed critical. If this survey of Idaho's financial problems were undertaken now, its report could not possibly be published by the time this session of the legislature adjourned.

For instance, would a sales tax do more harm than good in this state? Should the property tax be boosted? Should Idaho completely outlaw gambling when some forms of gambling would bring forth greater revenue than other forms of taxation? These and many other questions are perplexing enough to cause any state senator to have gray hair or to suffer from uncontrollable baldness if he doesn't know the answers to them.

It isn't a case of locking the barn door after the horse has escaped. It's a case of deciding whether or not to sell the barn to buy a new horse.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

The big advantage in having a Moscow Sub-Regional office will be the fact that the rating sheet giving the amount of disability and pensions will be kept in Moscow for all north Idaho vets who are classified as disabled. This won't include the whole case file (of which the Boise office has around 85,000) but it will include enough of the medical records to enable the Moscow office to handle the functions which previously have been handled by the Regional office.

If any veteran receiving a pension for disability finds that the trouble that he is drawing a pension for is acting up, he may either phone or write the Moscow office and receive authorization for treatment from a doctor of his own choice. Previously this had to come from Boise. The same procedure will apply to men needing dental treatment and the choice is also open as to the dentist.

With the new semester coming up there will again be the problem of enough textbooks to go around. In the past there has been an acute shortage of texts and many veterans were unable to obtain the required books for their courses. To relieve this situation, the VA has acquired one million and six hundred of such books from the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. They will be made available to schools and colleges for their veterans students.

The VA estimates that distribution of all surplus books now on hand will save the taxpayers at least five million dollars. Already a saving of one million dollars has been accomplished by the distribution of surplus books. The library of Congress will continue to distribute the books, and the VA will pay the cost of handling. Let's hope this fixes it so that no one has to take a course without the text required. If it weren't for the texts in some classes, a person would never learn anything.

Terminal Leave Pay for former enlisted men is rolling out at the rate of about $12,500,000 a day in bonds. The program is budgeted for this fiscal year at $2,418,000,000. Payments in the form of five-year bonds drawing interest at 2 1/2% per year now top $505,600,000. Total cash payments total $14,000,000.

Representative August H. Andresen, Minnesota, has said he will introduce a bill to permit immediate cashing of the bonds.

Graduate Attains Top Recognition

An Idaho graduate received honors in engineering circles last week when he was awarded the Thomas Fitch Rowland prize for his paper, "Unusual Cut-off Problems—Deep Solution Channel, Kentucky Dam, Kentucky."

James B. Hays, the recipient of the prize, graduated from Idaho with a degree in civil engineering in 1911. Now chief engineer for the Commission of Palestine Surveys, Hays has had a varied and active engineering career since his graduation.

Starting in general engineering practice in Boise in 1911, Hays later worked with the Aluminum Company of America, the U. S. bureau of reclamation and the Tennessee valley authority. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Best Tunes Chosen In Campus Poll

"For Sentimental Reasons" topped last week's campus hit parade determined by popular vote of all living groups and broadcast over KUOI radio station last Friday evening at 7:00.

The top tune was followed by "Oh, But I Do," "The Old Lamp-lighter," "The Things We Did Last Summer," "Old Buttermilk Sky," "A Gal In Calico," "The Girl That I Marry," "September Song," "You Keep Coming Back Like a Song," and "If I'm Lucky."

call him "Muscles" at the Beta house. He was the army's key man in the pictorial review of German and Jap atrocities and starvation camps. Well, anyways, after running the length of the floor once (they are using the short courts for the intra-mural games) Reed decided that basketball or beer would have to go. At this point he stopped and picked up the ball to shoot a basket. (He had been kicking it down the floor because it was too heavy.) The weight of the ball was too much—he sprained his ankle. We weren't sure what they do at yon Beestro but we suspect that Reed isn't playing basketball there.

We've heard a lot of peculiar stories lately like the Fiji who stayed up all night to find out where the sun went and then it dawned on him—But up at Christmas hall the boys are still talking about one Don Walker. Now we know a lot of the guys (about 100 per cent) who would like the privilege of going to their girl's dorm and wishing her a pleasant good night and we can see nothing wrong with this—but some people frown on this and don't realize that most guys would take off like an atom rocket if they could see the cold-cream-curler apparatus they once thought was straight from heaven.

It seems that Don is not bothered by this; in fact, when a guy takes his little red slippers to Hays hall with him, nothing could detract him very much. It did seem rather odd to see Don retrieving his slippers the next morning and cursing his forgetfulness. Don maintains that his his all circumstantial evidence and not of the incriminating variety, but we maintain that, as yet, we've had very few opportunities to take our bedroom slippers on dates.

French Astudes Remember; Donate Plaque To Buddies

The French Astudes did not forget.

In 1943-44, 80 students taking foreign language at the university under the Army Specialized Training program formed the group known as the French Astudes. When they left for various parts of the world, they adopted the university as their unofficial alma mater, and promised Prof. Arthur H. Beattie, their French teacher, that they would never forget the school and would keep the group active no matter how scattered the members became.

Prof. Beattie kept up the group's little publication, "la Vieux d'Astude," sending it to Astude members throughout the rest of the war. That's how the Astudes knew that two of their buddies were killed in action—Joseph Dullea of Maryland, who died on the island of Luzon, February 17, 1945, and Robert H. Guy of California, at Frankfurt, Germany, April 17, 1945.

Most of the Astudes have now been discharged, and are living in various parts of the United States. Some are still overseas. But they all remain bound together as a group. They recently took up a collection by mail, and purchased a bronze plaque in memory of Dullea and Guy.

This month, Professor Beattie will place the plaque on a wall of the Administration building near the old French classroom of the Astudes. Around the world, the French Astudes will know that they did not forget. The plaque will read:

"In memory of Bob and Joe. This tablet has been placed here by their former classmates of the French section, A.S.T.U. 3926, University of Idaho, July 1, 1943 to March, 1944. Leurs camarades se souviennent d'eux."

Battle Rages As Females Attack With Snowballs

By JOHN VAN RYN

It can happen here. Monday evening, at precisely 20:12, war with all its attendant horrors came to the Idaho campus. It was at that infamous moment that the advance guard of a column of warlike females from Ridenbaugh hall, heavily armed with the latest in snowballs and ice-crusts, attacked that last refuge of sane, peace-loving men—Willis Sweet hall.

After the first stunned moment the men rallied, but their early attempts to counterattack were repulsed with heavy losses. The feminine enemy, showing certainly no lack of courage, pressed their initial advantage, and for some time were successful in keeping the male victims of their aggression bewildered and disorganized.

Fortunately, for the cause of male freedom everywhere, the greater weight of resources on the Sweet side began to tell and the Ridenbaugh attack floundered.

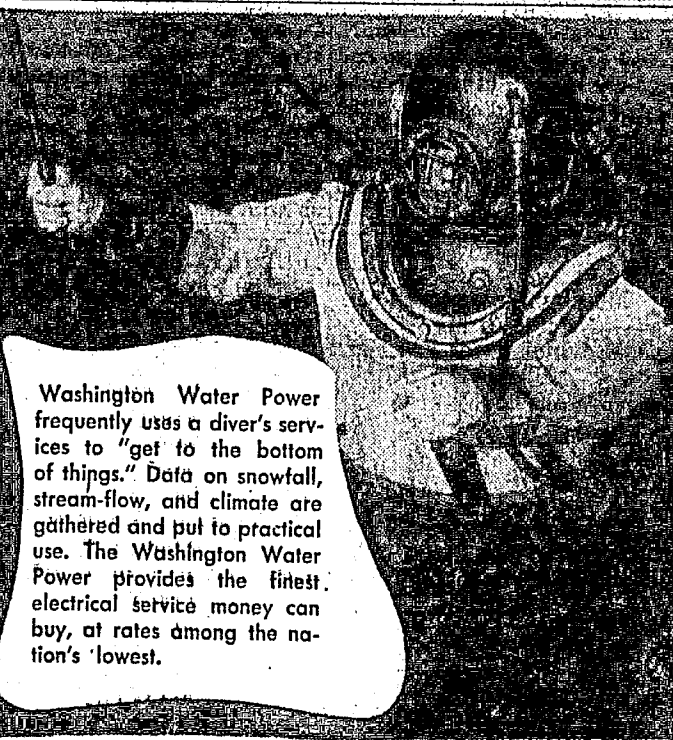

It was at this crucial stage of the battle that many acts of individual heroism were noted on both sides. The plucky courage of Nadine Stank, Ardell Mickelson and Miriam Walker, though all were bleeding from wounds re-celved in the fray, and the well-drilled fighting teamwork of the "Twins" were especially commendable.

An influential third power, the proctor and hostess of Willis Sweet hall, intervened at this time to procure a truce and gain time for both sides to remove the bodies of the fallen from the field of battle.

Peace negotiations, which led to as permanent a peace as may be expected between two parties so widely divergent in their ultimate aims, then followed in the Willis Sweet lounge.

Students Pledge Honor Society

Pledging of 13 students to Kappa Delta Pi, national education honor society, was reported last week by local officers of the group. Among requirements for membership is maintenance of a grade point average in the upper quartile of the institution attended.

Jeanne Graves, Doris Voth, Margaret Jackson, Carol Buescher, Jacqueline Ritchie, Donald Singer, Walter P. Smith, Helen B. Bohner, Kathleen Hammond, Stagner Brighton, Donald Balbert, Geneva Ferguson and Mrs. Ruth Harmsworth were those named as neophytes.

Initiation will take place before the end of the semester. Dr. Ray M. Berry was pledged as a faculty member.

Undeclared Washington Here For Two Conference Games

Scribe Peers Into Future Of Vandals For 1947

By BEN RYAN

Within the next couple of weeks, Idaho sports fans have a variety of events lined up which should suit anyone's sporting taste. It all starts with Idaho-Washington basketball games in Memorial gymnasium tonight and tomorrow night, and will continue this weekend when Don Anderson's swimmers get their first taste of competition in the Pullman pool against Washington State, while Ken Butler's boxers journey to Spokane for their opening bouts. These events will be followed by basketball games next Tuesday and Wednesday with the powerful University of Oregon Ducks. Our ski team already has two meets under their belts, and Babe Brown is molding a wrestling team for the winter competition. All of this brings to mind that the war-torn athletic schedules are a thing of the past.

New Year

What this new year holds for Idaho athletically is unknown, as with the exception of basketball, all other teams are untied. In basketball, we have a defending Northern Division team that has been disappointing to date, however, this is too early to despair, as it should be remembered that our Vandals didn't set the world afire in their early games last year. In fact, our position in the conference is exactly the same today as it was this time last year. It will be remembered that we dropped our first three games, then started our march toward the title.

Cougars Claw Defenders In Sad Saturday Show

Idaho Vandals, already thrice beaten in conference competition, will try to recapture the approval of basketball fans when they meet the University of Washington Huskies tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the first of a two-game series. Vandal Coach Guy Wicks didn't have much to say about the Vandals' poor showing with Washington State last Saturday night, although, he did state that Guard Bill Carbaugh was the only Idaho hoopman that played as well as he was capable of playing. Wicks also, in commenting on the game, reported that the Idaho ball club's shooting was pitiful.

Quinn To Start

In regard to a starting five for the opening game of the Washington series, Wicks said that he did not have, as yet, any definite starting line-up. The only players assured of starting positions are Captain Fred Quinn, John Evans and Bill Carbaugh. In the Washington State game Evans turned in a creditable performance on the backboards while Bill Carbaugh sparked the Idaho attack single-handedly.

At the other forward position, Wicks is expected to start with either Bob Ryan, Grant Mortenson, or Don Dillard.

Norman Fredekind will probably get the other guard slot, but Wicks indicated that he may use either Wendell Christensen or Andy Walsh.

Sure to see a lot of action is John Taylor, letterman in 1944. Taylor was shifted to guard last week and showed up well against Washington State. He had both the speed and height which Wicks says Idaho will need against Washington this week.

Quinn Still Leads Vandal Scorers In Division Race

Fred Quinn, captain and center of the Idaho basketball quintet, is still leading Vandal scorers as he gained five points against Washington State Saturday night. Forward Johnny Evans, who scored a total of four points against the Cougars, is right on the heels of Quinn in the scoring column with a total of 26.

Quinn and Evans also hold the dubious honor of having committed the most fouls, as Quinn has heard the referee's whistle blow at him nine times.

Guard Bill Carbaugh, by virtue of his eight points against Washington State Saturday night, moved up a notch in the scoring list and passed Jack Phoenix. Carbaugh now has a total of 18 points to Phoenix's 13. Bob Ryan now is in the top five Vandal scorers with 11 points in the three games.

Rounding out the Idaho scorers were Norm Fredekind and Wendell Christensen, 4 points each; Grant Mortenson and Jay Gano, 3 each; Don Dillard and John Taylor, 2 points.

Statistics show that the Vandals have scored a total of 110 points to their opposition's 149.

Poor Showing In Their First Northern Division Showing

In their first northern division showing Moscow game the Vandals and Cougars had a tough time proving to the fans that they were capable of division representation. Fans went away from the contest thoroughly disgusted with the type of ball displayed by both teams. Only 26 points were recorded the first entire half as both teams ended the first canto with 13 apiece. The pace of baskets did not increase much in the second half either, as the game ended with the Cougars on the long end of a low 36 to 28 margin.

Guard Bill Carbaugh led Idaho scores with a total of eight points while Eddy Gadya led the Cougars with 10.

Sparks Vandals

Veteran Guard Bill Carbaugh turned in a beautiful game against Washington State last Saturday night as he led the Vandals with eight points. Carbaugh single-handedly sparked the Idaho attack and much will be expected of him in this week's games with the Huskies.

Swimmers To Vie With Cougars

Don Anderson, Idaho swimming coach, has reported that his swimmers are working hard in preparation for their Saturday afternoon meet with Washington State. Anderson stated that although the team would not be in top form for a couple more weeks, they would serve plenty of tough competition to the Cougars in Saturday afternoon's event at Memorial gymnasium.

As yet, the coach has not made the line-up for the event available, and practices have been limited to stressing practice starts together with breathing exercises.

Student Studies In Germany

Beverly Silverthorne, former university student, is now studying at Heidelberg university in Germany, according to a letter written to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sartwell of Moscow.

Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Charles Silverthorne, Beverly arrived at Bremerhaven December 5 after a 14-day crossing from New York City. Mr. Silverthorne is teaching at Heidelberg.

Miss Silverthorne attended the university last year and was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. A music major, she is now continuing her studies at the Heidelberg conservatory of music.

Transformer Built By Ex-Students

Two former University of Idaho students, Charles Miller, 1928, and Paul Mann, 1938, are the designer and builder, respectively, of a new type of high voltage transformer. These transformers, recently installed at the Westinghouse Electric test plant at Sharon, Ohio, are built for the highest voltage transmission line in the world and will step up the current to as much as 500,000 volts. This voltage will be 75 per cent greater than the voltage carried by any power line today.

Idaho Boxers Open Season With Gonzaga Saturday

University of Idaho boxers move into Spokane Friday night to open the 1947 intercollegiate season against the highly rated Gonzaga university Bulldogs.

This week's meet will mark the Vandals' post-war return to intercollegiate boxing circles, which they ruled as national champions in 1940 and 1941.

Coach Ken Butler, new Idaho ring coach who was appointed last fall to succeed Louis August, is building his 1947 squad around two former intercollegiate champions: Laune Erickson, national 165-pound titlist in 1940 and 1941, and Bill Williams, Pacific Coast conference champion in 1942.

Williams may be forced to fight in the 155-pound division this week, Butler said. This would pit him against Gonzaga's Dan Longhrie, who was unbeaten in two seasons before the war, in the feature of the eight-bout card.

Williams' advance to the 155-pound class would leave the 145-pound event open to Freshman Darrell Titus and force Herb Carlson, one of the most promising fighters in Idaho ring history, to move up to the 165-pound class, where Gonzaga is reportedly without a contender.

Erickson Returns

Erickson, heavier since his return from over three years' service in the air corps, is slated to fight at 175 pounds against Paul Gilcrest, a promising Gonzaga newcomer.

Larry Hansen, 203-pound freshman, will probably represent Idaho in the heavyweight go. He holds a slight edge over Warren Briggs, who lacks Hansen's weight.

In the lighter weights, Ken Clark, talented freshman, and Ray Radford are vying for the 125-pound assignment. One of the pair will meet Gonzaga's Art Neumayer, who is rated "one of the classiest" fighters ever to represent Gonzaga in the ring. Neumayer won eight straight bouts in 1943, before going into service.

Ross Won't Go

Gordon Ross, member of pre-war Idaho teams, has joined the Idaho squad at 125 pounds, but will not be ready to go this week. At 139 pounds, Dorsel McClure and Rex Forman are battling on near-even terms for a berth on the Vandal team, while at 135 pounds Ray Engstrom, a transfer from Notre Dame, has a slight edge over other candidates.

Coach Butler said today he would "not venture a prediction on the outcome of this week's fights." The mentor has never

Palouse Five Win As Pyne Coaches

Len Pyne jumped from one winning team right to another—but this time Len is serving in a different capacity. He is now coach of the Palouse high school basketball team. Last Friday night his squad lengthened their victory streak one more game as they downed Farmington high school 45 to 20. This win extended the Farmers' streak to five straight conference victories. Their entire season's record included eight wins against one defeat.

Pyne is a graduate from Idaho and last year was an important member of Idaho's Northern Division team.

Ski Captain Says Team To Compete

The University of Idaho ski team is making plans to participate in both the Northern Division and Pacific Coast conference ski championships at Martin, Wash., in February and March.

Team Captain Jack Numbers said yesterday the Northern Division intercollegiate and invitational meet would be held February 14 and 15, and the coast meet on March 20 and 21. The coast meet is closed to all but conference teams.

The Martin ski area is located on the eastern side of Snoqualmie pass and is used regularly by the University of Washington ski team.

seen any of the Vandals in competition, which, he says, "is the real test of their ability."

Bleachers Delay Mural Basketball

After a week's practice, intramural basketball games were scheduled to start last night but were cancelled due to the bleacher equipment that is now in the gymnasium for the Idaho-Washington series. All cancelled games will be made up at a later date.

Games on schedule for Thursday night at 7 p. m. are: Campus club 1 vs. Chrisman hall 1, court one; Lindley hall 1 vs. Willis Sweet hall 1, court two; Idaho club 1 vs. Vet 1, court three. At 8 p. m., Campus club 2 vs. Chrisman hall 2, court one; Lindley hall 2 vs. Willis Sweet hall 2, court two; Idaho club 2 vs. Vet 2, court two.

No games will be played on Tuesday and Wednesday nights because of the varsity contests.

Jayvees Show Much Life But Drop Close Game

Idaho's junior varsity will meet the Palouse town team tonight, in the first of two games to be played as preliminaries for the Idaho-Washington games.

Len Pyne, captain and guard of last year's Northern division conference champs, is expected to play with the Palouse town team.

The jayvees fell before a rangy Washington State quintet, 39-34, in the baby Vandals' first game of the season at Memorial gymnasium Saturday night.

In a game that saw the lead change hands several times, Washington State took over early, only to have the Vandals knot the score at 15-15 and again at the half 18-18.

The Cougars came back in the second half to go out in front, again, but the Vandals began getting their range and eventually pushed within one point of the Kittens on a field goal by Cushman. Mendiola made good a free throw and the score stood 31-31.

With eight minutes remaining in the ball game, Fike of Idaho sank a charity toss and Idaho forged into the lead 32-31. Pix, sharp-shooting guard, made a free throw and a quick basket to give the Kittens a lead they never relinquished. Cushman, Idaho, scored a field goal as the game ended with the score reading Washington State 39 and Idaho 34.

Cushman Tops Scorers

Pix, Cougar guard, was high for the evening's encounter with 18 points. Cushman, forward, topped Idaho scoring with 13 counters.

'I Club

'I Club President John Evans has announced that there will be a meeting of the organization Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. in the room of 107 of Memorial gymnasium. Evans urged that all members attend and wear their 'I sweaters as group pictures will be taken.

Huskies Arrive To Combat Vandals

Washington's "fire-engine" basketball team, which is currently tied with Oregon State at the top of the Northern division conference standings, arrived in Moscow Sunday night for this week's series with the Vandals.

Coach Hec Edmundson, Trainer, Click Clark, Manager Don Hanson, and 12 cagers compose the Husky traveling party.

Last night the Huskies held a workout at Memorial gymnasium, in final preparation for the series which begins tonight and continues through Wednesday night.

The Huskies will meet Washington State at Pullman next Friday and Saturday nights, but they will make Moscow their headquarters throughout the week.

If left unmolested and given plenty of good food, 350,000,000 rats could be bred from a single pair in three years.

Firesides, Exchanges Are Numerous This Week

Firesides and exchanges are again holding positions of prominence in the society news these days as students settle down after vacation for the final weeks of the semester. Many dinner guests visited the various houses over the week-end.

Willis Sweet Hall

Capt. Rene Krier of Colorado Springs, Colo., was a guest over the week-end.

Sunday dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Murray Davis, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Murray Davis, Jr., and daughter Carrol Ann, all of New Rochelle, N. Y. Other dinner guests were Dr. A. E. Howe and Joseph Malta.

Sunday and Monday evenings, snowball fights were held with the girls from Ridenbaugh and Hays hall respectively.

Forney Hall
An exchange was held Wednesday night with the Delta Chi. Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. R. C. Pence, from Vancouver, Wash., and B. J. Daily.

Beta Theta Pi
Guests at the chapter house for Sunday dinner were Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Snyder and son Dick.

Kappa Sigma
Rubin Johnson of Caldwell was a Monday dinner guest.

A dinner exchange will be held Wednesday with Delta Chi.

Lindley Hall
An exchange will be held with Alpha Phi Wednesday evening.

Sunday dinner guests were Doris Murphy and Wanda Acocok.

Delta Tau Delta
Steve Shelton was a dinner guest of Delta Tau Delta Sunday.

Phi Delta Theta
Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Walch of Kellogg were guests at a fireside Saturday evening.

Tau Kappa Epsilon
The annual Founders' Day banquet celebrating the forty-eighth anniversary, was held Sunday at the Moscow Hotel. About seventy were in attendance, including guest members from Washington State college.

Campus Club
Friday dinner guests were Kenneth Collins, Craigmont, and Bill Toolson from Chrisman hall.

A fireside was held Friday evening with Dean and Mrs. H. E. Lattig as host and hostess. Entertainment was furnished by Vern Achenbach, Jesse Coats, and Joe Hopper.

Miss Elaine Carson was a dinner guest Sunday. Miss Carson is in Moscow attending a home demonstration conference.

Plans are now in progress for the Campus club semi-formal dance to be held January 18.

Pi Beta Phi
Sunday dinner guest was Marjorie Vallad of Emmett.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
A special dinner was held Sunday in honor of the nine men who are leaving the university at the semester. Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Defenbach.

A fireside was held Saturday evening after the basketball game in the lounge.

Gamma Phi Beta
Sunday dinner guests included Mrs. N. B. Meagher, Mrs. Eileen Frampton, Philip Meagher, all of Boise, and Bill Farley.

Idaho Club
The Idaho club held their winter semi-formal last Friday night, and about forty couples were in attendance. The theme, "Let It Snow," was carried out with artificial snow flakes and snowmen. The patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Budge, and Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Manion. The "Quarternotes" furnished music, and refreshments were served at intermission. Rulon Jensen was chairman of the dance committee.

Sigma Nu
A fireside was held last Saturday evening following the game. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Al Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dykeman.

Delta Gamma
Sunday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Baker, Jack Baracrough, Ted Beecher and Art Beecher.

Delta Delta Delta
An exchange was held last Wednesday evening with Tau Kappa Epsilon.

A snowball fight was held Friday night between Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Tau Omega.

Ridenbaugh
The following were Sunday dinner guests of Ridenbaugh hall: Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Bowler, Jim Mackey, Mrs. Minnie Connolly, and Mary Jane Connolly.

A snowball fight between Ridenbaugh hall and Willis Sweet was held Sunday evening. Following the fight, the group was served refreshments at Ridenbaugh.

Crowds Line Up At Bucket

Familiar to nearly all students and faculty members is this picture, taken at the student union building during the noon hour rush. With snow and ice prevalent on the campus, many who ordinarily head for home at noon have chosen to grab a quick bite at the Bucket.

Couples Exchange Wedding Vows During Vacation

Wedding bells rang for several university couples during the Christmas vacation.

Neumayer-King
Miss Dorothy Barbara Neumayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Neumayer of Bonners Ferry, became the bride of Charles Patrick King, son of C. W. King and Mrs. Alma King of Bonners Ferry, in a ceremony performed at St. Ann's Catholic church January 4 with the Rev. F. Bonora officiating.

Miss Germaine Schlum was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Wipperfurth, Joyce Milan, Donna Dawson and Pauline Neumayer, sister of the bride. John Neumayer, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Robert Pace, Leo Jordan, Richard Zimmerman and Arthur Neumayer.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Bonners Ferry high school. For the past two terms she has been a student at Holy Names academy in Spokane.

Mr. King graduated from the Bonners Ferry high school. During the war he served in the U.S. army air corps. Following his discharge he re-entered the university where he is a member of Delta Chi fraternity.

Barks-Lindemood
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barks of Murtaugh announce the marriage of their daughter, Aileen, to George Lindemood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Lindemood of Pocatello.

The marriage took place at the Methodist parsonage in Jerome on December 29 with the Rev. Albert Martin officiating.

The bridesmaid was Miss Rosemary Reese. Rex Lindemood, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents in Murtaugh.

Mrs. Lindemood graduated from

Hays Hall
Entertained as Sunday dinner guests at Hays hall were Duane D. Davis, Don Hatfield and Alvin Richter, all from Washington State college, Joe Dean, Jim Bieker, and Gayle Manion.

Chrisman Hall
Chrisman hall will sponsor a dance Saturday evening, the theme of which will be "Wintertime." Music will be furnished by KUOL.

Murtaugh high school last year and is a freshman at the university where she has been living at Hays hall. Mr. Lindemood attended Pocatello schools and has been in the navy for the past three years. He is also attending the university. The couple plan to make their home in Moscow and will both continue school.

Smith-Crandall
Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Smith of Jerome announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara, to Calvin Crandall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Crandall of Jerome. The wedding took place December 27 at the First Presbyterian church in Jerome.

Attendants were Miss Elaine Smith, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Dale Dykman, as matron of honor.

Wallace Crandall served as best man. Ushers were Howard Jones, Marvin McVey, and Dale Bunkhatter.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors after which the couple left on a short wedding trip. They are now residing in Moscow where Mr. Crandall is completing his schooling.

Fitzsimmons-Lotzenhiser
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons of Spokane announce the marriage of their daughter, Emily, to Robert A. Lotzenhiser on December 21 at the First Presbyterian church in Spokane.

Miss Bette Hopkins, a sorority sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bud Neviers attended the bridegroom as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Following a short wedding trip the couple returned to Spokane where Mr. Lotzenhiser is employed.

The bride attended the university last year where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Students To Get Needed Permits

All students are urgently requested to obtain essential permits to register according to a statement made by the registrar's office recently. The permits are necessary for second semester registration and are available in alphabetical groups. Permits have already been released with registering beginning last Monday.

Remaining permits of students who do not call for their will be handed out during registration days, but the report urged that they be secured prior to that time to prevent delay in the process.

The schedule for release of the permits is: A to D inclusive from January 13 to 15 inclusive; E to H January 16-18; I to M January 20-22; N to R January 22-25; S to Z January 27-29.

Takers

Ticket takers should be at Memorial gymnasium at 5:30 this afternoon and Wednesday.

Engineers Meet

A joint meeting of the Associated Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Agricultural Engineers will be held this evening at 7:30 in room 104 of the Engineering building.

Films will be shown by the Caterpillar Diesel representative of Spokane. All mechanical engineers are urged to attend.

An earthworm is a caterpillar that played strip poker and lost.

2nd Semester O.K. For New Lawyers

Contrary to normal peacetime custom, the college of law will again register a class of beginning students in February. This practice was begun last year to assist veterans enrolling at the second semester, according to Prof. W. J. Brockelbank, acting dean of the college of law.

Beginners will be allowed to carry only nine hours in law. To make up a full schedule, they will have to take three hours from some other school. A nine week summer school will be offered in law so the second semester enrollee may complete nearly a full year before the fall registration.
