The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Twenty-two pairs of green trousers at $11.25 per pair amounts to $247.50. It doesn't take a genius to figure that out, but that is what Master Sergeant J. D. Morgan is going to pay for just that many trousers from the military department.

Stealing from the government is a sport highly developed in the last few years, but stealing from the man is another thing.

Sgt. Morgan is the supply sergeant and financially responsible for the property under his care. If you're a right guy those pants will find their way back to the possession of the gym. Morgan would probably buy a lot of ice cream cones for his two kids with that $200 plus.

If any of you ex-officers have any worn-out greens, Morgan would probably survey those and lighten the load.

Booze News
When Mr. Average Citizen involves himself in a discussion with other Mr. Average Citizens the topics covered invariably include Politics, Religion and ... can't for the life of me think what that third one is. For the sake of this column we'll say it's drinking.

It seems to be a subject that many people sidestep very neatly and look the other way if there is someone around who is suspected of being a tee-totaler.

Jason, with his usual lack of tact, has decided to give some unsolicited advice on the liquor problem.

Another Sidestep
The Twenty-ninth Legislature hit the question of a flanking blow by saying in effect, "Well, it's all right with us, but you folks decide what you want to do about it among yourselves."

It would appear that they didn't want to shoulder the sole responsibility for leaving the peoples' appetites to their own discretion and accordingly passed the bill which puts the retail sale of liquor over the bar up to local option in incorporated communities.

Trial Run
Actually, the bill has presented the liquor question to the people of the state for a trial run. Provisions of the law give the people who wish to oppose liquor-by-the-drink the privilege of petitioning the matter for a vote every two years.

If the people of a particular locality conduct themselves in a manner which would indicate that the presence of easily obtained liquor is wrong, the petition and the vote of the citizens will remedy that wrong.

If Jason has given the impression of sponsoring the introduction of liquor-by-the-drink, that impression should be corrected here. Jason is mainly concerned with the attitude of the students in adapting themselves to the possible introduction in this community of that commodity.

College Education
Despite diversions from the true objective, a college education is designed to prepare an individual to cope with the society he enters, and obtain from that society the greatest possible degree of happiness.

Thus, as an educated member of society, the members of this society.

Femmes Versus Henry's Best

The race of the century, held last Saturday afternoon between six fleet-footed Gamma Phis and one Model T Ford, brought the screaming crowds, to their feet as both parties in the race gasped across the finish line. The women paid off on the bet although some doubted the veracity of the judge's decision.

Gals Go To Polls Again To Decide Six Places

Runoff elections for AWS candidates not receiving a majority vote in last week's elections will be held Wednesday. Polls will be set up in the Administration building and will be open from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m.

Votes will be cast for the following candidates: president, Donna Chapman and Marion Elsenhauer; secretary, Jeanne Hofmann and Mary Sue Tovey; secretary, Pat Colvard and Helen Moulton.

Apparently confused by women's politics last week, the Argonaut staff committed an error. Marge Walters was elected vice-president (instead of Margaret Arnold as was stated in the headline).

Listed as tied for May Fete candidates are: May queen, Betty Ann Craggs and Ann Price; Maid of Honor, Margaret Arnold and Geneva Ferguson; Page, Pamela Harrington and Myrna Ritchey.

No ASUI books will be needed to vote and members of the AWS council will again take charge of the polls.

Visitors Admitted To Infirmary
With only five patients in the infirmary, Dr. H. D. Cramer reports that the flu epidemic has subsided. Visitors are again being admitted daily from 2:30 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 8 p. m.

For several weeks the infirmary has been filled nearly to capacity with cases of a type of contagious flu. Of the 35 beds at the infirmary, 30 were filled March 14. The staff of six nurses was kept busy day and night.

No visitors were allowed due to difficulties encountered while caring for the capacity-filled infirmary. The rule was put in effect to prevent further spread of the contagion.

Meeting Will Hear Buchanan Speak
President J. E. Buchanan will address the school of business Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight at 7:15 p. m. in room 110 of the Science building.

President Buchanan will speak on topics of general interest concerning the university and the things the chamber of commerce can do to better the school system.

An important business meeting will be held before the president's speech to discuss and vote on two amendments. The two amendments are the admission of women students to membership and the election of a nominating committee before next fall.

This will be a short meeting lasting until 8:30 p. m. due to the nine weeks quizzes to be held on Wednesday.

Turn About!

Turn about is fair play—according to Valentino Yurochenko, a university student born in Argentina of Russian parentage.

He studies Spanish under Professor Frederick Frank. Professor Frank is studying fencing. His student fencing coach is Yurochenko.

Result — Professor Frank is learning full meanings of the Spanish words, "y ataque" (attack), "parada" (parry), and the French, "Touche."

SAI Gives Program Honoring Province Officer
Mrs. Helen Tollefson, provincial president of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary, will leave today after spending several days here with the local chapter.

Arriving in Moscow Sunday noon, Mrs. Tollefson was met at the train by all members and pledges of SAI. She was a dinner guest of Polly Howard, recently installed president of the Idaho chapter, at Hays hall Sunday afternoon.

That evening a musical honoring her was held at Hays hall. Polly Howard played the piano solo, "Italian Concerto," by Bach, and Madelyn Sanberg, accompanied by Dona Harding, sang, "C'est Mon Ami" from Marie Antoinette, and "Sure on This Shining Night" by Barber.

The Program
Ruby Harlan, cellist, played Mendelssohn's "Concerto in D major," accompanied by Mary Jasper. Bette Scott sang "Cara Nome" by Verdi. She was accompanied by Rose Ascuaga who then played an original composition, "Spanish Dance." Ruth Anderson, flutist, played Mozart's "Andante" and "Mist," written by Polly Howard, who also accompanied her.

Lalene Cargill, accompanied by Lucille Thompson, sang "O, Thou Billowy Harvest Fields," Rachmaninoff, "Sheep and Lambs," Homer, and "Query," Cargill. Mary Jasper, pianist, concluded with Debussy's "Prelude in A minor."

Monday Mrs. Tollefson held conferences with SAI officers and university faculty members, and attended a formal banquet followed by a formal meeting for members in the evening.

Mrs. Tollefson will be honored at a senior luncheon this noon.

Radio School Ends For Ag Students
Sessions last week ended a four-day agricultural radio school, conducted by Dana Reynolds, representative of the U. S. department of agriculture, radio service, Archie Harney, extension editor, and his assistant Neil Blair of the Boise office.

Friday and Saturday county agents and home demonstration agents received training for radio and in making transcriptions. Monday's and Tuesday's sessions were for extension and experimental station agents and interested students in agriculture.

Big Race Over; Girls And Ford In Photo Close

(By JIM SPOERHUSE)
Amid a cheering throng of students, the race of the century was run Saturday afternoon from the corner of the Kappa Sigma house to the Gamma Phi house.

The contestants were six long-legged women from Gamma Phi Beta versus the "Dark Obsession," otherwise known as the Fiji's 1918 Model T Ford.

Rules for the contest were drawn up and announced by Allen Stanley, who, perched upon the hood of the "T," proclaimed "This is to be a contest of speed between two warring parties ... the winner being the one that gets there the 'fustest with the mostest' ... both parties will commence to function from a halting position and endeavor to their respective utmost to reach the finish line before the other."

Fearing female sabotage to their "priceless" vehicle the Fiji's added this clause, "If any attempt on the part of the physically degenerated challengers to sabotage the working mechanism of the 'Dark Obsession,' they will automatically be eliminated from the race and will forfeit the winner's prize, which is to consist of the choice of liquid refreshment the victors may demand."

Also fearing the Gamma Phi's might be using unfair aids in the running, this section was added, "Before the race both parties undergo inspection by the race officials. This inspection will consist of looking for any hidden devices—springs, alcohol, jet-propulsion or wheats, that would give one party an advantage over the other."

Women Start Fast
As the starting signal was given by the shotgun of Starter "Doc" Watson, the gals and the "T" leaped forward. In the early moments (Cont. on page 2, col. 7)

Chess Tournament Set For April 13

Hugh Pettis, president of the U. of I. Chess Club announced that a formal University chess tournament will be held by the members of the club. Preliminary matches will be held Sunday, April 13, the semi-finals April 20, and the finals April 27. A trophy will be given to the winner, and prizes to the runners up.

Only chess club members are eligible for the tournament. Membership in the club will be open until April 2. Members joining the club after that date will be disqualified from participation in the tournament.

Anyone wishing to join the Chess Club should contact Hugh Pettis or Ed Greef at the Delta Chi house.

It was decided at a meeting of the club recently that the British Chess code of 1893 will be used in the tournament. Also, plans were formulated for a series of lectures on historical chess to be given after the tournament is completed.

Foursome Stirs Sunday Rumpus

The truth of a well-known magazine's slogan was proven by four women on the campus Sunday morning. The slogan: "Never underestimate the power of a woman." The women: Dorothy Geertsen, Barbara Maley, Jan Garber, and Margaret Cranston.

Awakened early by the arrival of a Delta Tau Delta fraternity man, wrapped in a mattress and accompanied by hordes of noisy brothers, the Gamma Phi quartet decided to wreak vengeance on the campus.

Annual Ag Exposition Set For May 3, Student Committee Heads Are Named

Interfrat Dance Saturday Night

The Interfraternity Council is continuing a pre-war custom with the presentation of their annual semi-formal dance Saturday night at 9:00 in the student union ballroom.

The council is importing Fov Pratt and his band from Pullman for the occasion. Pratt is reported to be an exponent of the "sweet and low" type of music. Tickets for the dance can be purchased in all men's houses for $1.50.

Honor Guests
Guests of honor will be President and Mrs. Buchanan, Dean and Mrs. Janssen, Dean and Mrs. Lattig, Dean Louise Carter, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holland.

The dance is given annually to honor new members of the fraternities.

Mine Conference Attracts Many Prominent Figures

Dean A. W. Fahrwald, School of Mines, recently returned from the world conference on mineral resources held in New York last week. The latest trends in the mineral field were presented at the meeting.

Papers and addresses dealt not only with the technology of mining but also with the social, economic, and political problems facing this country and the world.

Among distinguished persons who addressed the conference were Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Interior, Julius Krug, Spruille Braden, and many top-ranking national figures representing all phases of the mining industry, including metals, coal, petroleum, and non-metallic minerals.

Speaks on U. S. Minerals
Secretary Krug, who presented a paper prepared by engineers and economists of the Geological Survey and Bureau of Mines, addressed the conference on "The Mineral Position of the United States." In his speech he pointed out that "production of many of our minerals has not been matched by discoveries for a number of decades and that we must come to realize that our resources are exhaustible."

The secretary stated, "There is little doubt among the well-informed that the era of plenty has rapidly given way to an era of insufficiency. In many of the important metals we have become a 'have-not' nation." He then outlined policies indicated to meet the shortage of ores.

Services Planned
Westminster Forum of the Presbyterian church will hold an early morning Palm Sunday service March 30. Breakfast will be served following the service.

Posters will be displayed on the campus and all persons wishing to attend are asked to sign them. No collections will be taken.

Norman Logan To Appear In Senior Recital Wed. Eve

Norman R. Logan, baritone, will be presented in a graduate recital tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the university auditorium. He will be accompanied by his wife, Margaret Logan.

Annual Little International show of the Idaho Ag club will be held here May 3, according to Prof. H. A. Winner of the school of agriculture.

Russ Lindstrom, general manager of this year's show, announced that entries must sign up at the Ag club bulletin board in Morrill Hall before April 1. He urged that all Ag club members participate in as many events as possible in order to have a bigger show than ever before.

Ralph Joslyn Dies In Auto Crash; J. Meyer Escapes

Ralph Joslyn of Boise, a former university student, was drowned Saturday night when the automobile he was driving veered from the Boise-Idaho City highway and plunged into the turbulent waters of More's creek, swollen by the spring runoff.

Jane Meyer, also a former student, who was riding with Joslyn escaped and was reported "resting well" at St. Luke's hospital at Boise.

Search On
Boise county and Ada county sheriff officers were searching the stream yesterday for Joslyn's body after recovering the automobile.

Joslyn, who graduated from the university in 1945, was home on vacation from Leland Stanford university where he was doing graduate work. While attending the university here he resided at Chrisman hall, was active in ASUI dramatics, a member of the ASUI executive board, Phi Eta Sigma, Curtain club, Attic club, election board, Independent council, and was chosen for Who's Who in American colleges and universities.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. Joslyn of Boise. Miss Meyer, who graduated from the university last June, has been teaching school at Emmett. While attending school here she was secretary of ASUI executive board, president of Hays hall, and president of WAA.

Phi Delts Sponsor Street Dance To Be Topic Of Home Ec Meet

The first street dance of the year is being sponsored tonight by Phi Delta Theta in honor of the boxing team which leaves tomorrow for Madison, Wisconsin, to take part in the National Intercollegiate Boxing tournament.

Spokesmen for the fraternity have extended an invitation to everyone to attend the dance, announcing that it will be held in front of the Phi Delt house beginning at 6:30 and lasting for one hour.

Permission to hold the affair has been granted by Dean Louise S. Carter.

Students Receive $250 Loan Fund
The American Bankers' association has extended a loan fund of $250 to students in business and economics, according to Dean R. H. Farmer. This offer is available especially to those students who are interested in banking.

Any students interested in this loan are asked to apply to Dean Farmer within the next few weeks.

Watkins To Speak On Mental Hygiene
Dr. John G. Watkins, former university student and now associate professor of psychology at WSC, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the University of Idaho Mental Hygiene association tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the coker room of the Blue Bucket Inn.

Dr. Watkins will talk on mental hygiene and its relation to the problems of college students. All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion following Dr. Watkins' talk.

Forty Years Of Affection

With the coming of the "New Order" in Vandal football circles, fans are able to once more look forward to a renewal of the old hostile and sometimes bloody relationship with collegians in Pullman. The true spirit of rivalry has been dormant for the past few years, owing to Idaho's persistence in losing games to the Washington State Cougars.

During the last few door-mat years, eager supporters of both institutions regarded the outcome of the yearly struggle on the turf as an inevitable Cougar victory, and pranks and pre-game activities have sunk to an all time low. There have been a few notable exceptions: big red "W's" on our "T" tower; the seasonal abductions of the Cougar mascot by Moscovites; last year's ten-foot impression of an "I" in the sacred sod of Rogers' Field.

Some students are eagerly awaiting the football season solely for the purpose of renewing the bone-breaking gang fights that took place during the '30s. We have a sneaking suspicion that fans on both sides of the state line are already cleaning their paint-brushes in anticipation of a daub good time.

Such deep-seated affection must have taken decades to nurture. At least, forty years ago this kindred feeling was already in evidence. The leading news story on the front page of the Argonaut of May 15, 1907, tells us all about it.

"The Idaho baseball nine was defeated at Pullman Tuesday by the baseball team of W.S.C., assisted by a thoroughly rotten crowd in the bleachers. From the beginning of the game until after its close, the mobs of 'vets' and preps on the side-lines vied with the members of the former team in abusing and knocking the Idaho team in slanderous language and parlane that should not be repeated in the presence of ladies."

"The treatment of our team by a sister institution was unsportsmanlike and uncalled for. Again we come to the conclusion that after this year all relationships with W.S.C. must 'cease.'"

Times haven't really changed.

—S.H.G.

TIPS FOR VETS

By GEORGE

The Time Element

"Each one of my profs figures that his course is the only cock-eyed one in the university," says the typical married vet who has in addition to his academic studies a few other minor activities which do not interfere with his pursuit of an education. Here is a suggested schedule:

Arise early in the morning, say 5 o'clock, and get two hours head-start on those eager single men in your classes. Between 5 and 7:30 is plenty of time to chop fire-wood, build a fire, clean the house, read five chapters of "Life In a Trailer Village" for your present-day literature class, and cram for a quiz in "Bedroom Engineering."

After finding you forgot to go to the grocery store you and the little one pass it off monochalantly and enjoy a hearty breakfast of burned toast and joe-pot.

On getting ready for school you discover you have three and a half minutes of leisure time so you enjoy it by shaving, washing up, writing home for money, and fixing the broken leg on the kitchen table.

At your 8 o'clock class you find the dear old prof has decided to help you along by giving you one of those spur-of-the-moment hour quizzes. Just what you had dreamed of! Now you have a chance to see how much you don't know so you will know what to study.

Noon hour arrives after a full morning of lively and interesting classes. You're fresh! Your mind aches with the thirst for more knowledge of the life cycle of a degenerate amoeba, but the sociology prof told you that hunger is the basic human desire.

You rush across town, whip up a quick T-bone and some french fries in the kitchen. Before leaving for class you bring in more fire-wood, make the bed, dash off an English theme on "King John's Other Wife's Illegitimate Son," and fix a leaky faucet.

On the way to your 1 o'clock you have a flat-tire. Finally you walk into class to hear the professor warning the students on punctuality. You cheer his words as he tells that to arrive at classes late shows a lack of interest by students who are probably just riding the G.I. gravy-train.

While engrossed in the study of the fifth wife of King Charles the thought of the monthly rent, food, fuel and car bills momentarily flit through your head but they seem inconsequential when you find that free love was popular during the reign of Leonard the Lover. How dull these material problems at hand!

School is over for the day. You fly home, wash-up and plant a big one on the little one's cheek on your way to work. How beautiful this companionship! In the evening, night labs and four-hours of study brings to a close the day of this typical married vet going to college.

When the grades come out these lazy bums always have the highest grades.

Blot Deadline

Set April 11

April 11 has been set by the editors of Blot, the campus magazine, as the deadline for all material for the May issue.

The magazine seeks short stories, humorous features, articles, poetry, candid snapshots, and cartoons. Contributions may be left at the magazine's office with the department of journalism.

The March issue of the magazine will be distributed this week.

Finalists Revealed In Bridge Tourney

Finalists in the National Inter-college Bridge tournament to be held in Chicago in April have been announced. In the University of Idaho's district, zone eight, University of California at Berkeley and Colorado college are winning representatives.

Finalists were selected on the basis of "par" bridge competition. Mrs. R. S. Butterfield arranged the tourney play for the local students.

Representing the university were Dick Newport and Don Ogsbury; Allen Stanley and Jack Ogsbury; Jean Harmon and Steve Blsline; and Ed Greef and Bud Creighton.

Heard . . . . Or Seen

Vein search: Eldon Beus, SAE, hearing that a buried treasure was hidden some place in the house, succeeded in tearing up the floorboards in three rooms before frantic fellow-members could stop him.

Strictly Personal: Earl Pharris, Beta, didn't know this until now, but Hazel Danquist of Forney hall is telling everyone that lucky Earl is exclusively the recipient of her soulful admiration.

Anticipators: Ever since P. J. Allen of Delta Gamma has taken to washing and shining Ray Broadhead's car for him, jealous Willis Sweet buddies of Ray's have been in the habit of parking their own cars near the D. G. house hoping that P. J. gets a sudden ambitious streak.

Bay-window pain: Herman Renrow, T.R.E., disgusted at his over-proportionate stomach, recently adopted the habit of doing pre-breakfast sprints in the Arboretum.

Serenade: John Matmillier, awakened the other night by a bunch of singing drunks who mistook the ATO house for the Phi Phi domicile, indignantly threw beer bottles for a half an hour trying to chase the inebriated visitors away.

Stool Pigeon: Biggest noise of the week was made by Walt Foltz of Lindley Hall, who, while nighting at the Bloody Bucket, slipped from his stool and fell on a burned-out light bulb.

Dr. Stann Will Speak

Dr. Alfred J. Stann, principal chemist of the Forestry Products laboratory of Madison, Wisconsin, will address student and faculty of the school of forestry at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, March 27. Dr. Stann, author of many bulletins dealing with wood products and chemistry of wood, will be one of the principal speakers of the Wood Products Clinic, which will be held in Spokane March 24 to 25.

Prizes Offered For Ag Students' Market Guesses

Ability to forecast the prices of wheat, potatoes, alfalfa hay, hogs, beef cattle, and butterfat according to supply and demand will pay off for members of the college of Agriculture.

In a contest sponsored by Paul A. Eke, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, prizes of $10, $5, and 2.50 for first, second, and third place will be awarded members of the Ag club in the "Commodity Price Forecast Contest." Rex Otley, president of the Ag club, announced that special prizes in addition to these will be offered by the club.

Include Reasons
A form is supplied each contestant by the Ag Department on which price forecasts based on Idaho Bulletins No. 210 and 260 and current copies of "Crops and Markets" are to be filled in. Each price forecast must be substantiated with a set of written reasons on how and why such a price was derived.

In evaluating the entries, 70 percent will be granted for accuracy of forecast. Winning forecasts will be those that come closest to the government price quotation on prices received by farmers in Idaho. Legibility is a necessary factor and points will be deducted for lack of it.

May 1 Close
The contest started March 1 and will end May 1. Entries should be submitted as soon as possible.

Judges and other prizes will be announced later. For further information and details see the bulletin posted in Morrill hall or ask at the Department of Agricultural Economics.

Engineers To Show Sound Picture

Chemical engineers will sponsor the showing of a 16 mm. color sound film, "Steel-Man's Servant," tonight at 7:30 p.m. in room 104 of the Engineering building.

The film portrays the production of steel from the time it comes from the earth as raw ore until the finished product leaves the mills. This will be the only showing of the film and everyone interested is invited to attend.

On The Northwest Circuit

Shirley Dick, tall, blond co-ed from Idaho Falls, was crowned "Queen of the Sweetheart formal" at University of Idaho Southern branch recently. She was attended by Marie Byrne, Rexburg, and Shirley Monroe of Pocatello. Miss Dick's crown, given to her at the ON THE NORTHWEST CIRCUIT ceremony by her escort, Allen Blomquist, consisted of white carnations and sweet peas.

Writing in the Washington State Evergreen, Lewis Edidson tells of the hard luck that veteran student Gene Roth faced the other day. Roth not only had three finals to overcome; he also was forced to pace a hospital corridor between times waiting for the moment when he could joyfully pass out cigars to his friends.

Later in the day his wife, Dorothy, presented Father Gene with a 9 pound blue-eyed baby boy. A campus-wide search is now in effect at Corvallis for a coed to play the feminine lead in the O'Reilly farce.

Foster Addresses Law Honorary

Henry H. Foster, acting professor of law, gave a talk on Civil Liberties and the Law Thursday noon at the Blue Bucket Inn at a luncheon meeting of Phi Alpha Delta, law honorary.

Prof. Foster, in discussing the civil bigotry in the American scene, stressed the part law students should play in combating this evil when they go into private practice.

The next meeting of the honorary will be held March 3 at the Blue Bucket Inn.

AUTHOR ADDRESSES CLASS

Alice Maxwell, Washington writer and author of the article on Farragut college in the current issue of Liberty magazine, spoke Tuesday to William C. Banks' class of literary composition.

She revealed to the writing enthusiasts how she gets ideas for stories, how to obtain a literary agent and selling prices for stories.

Dear Jason

The other day your paper stated that Athletic Director Greene was doing a good job, etc.; now, we should like to know who is responsible for the lack of gymnasium facilities for the students who do not wish to turn professional. (If the Gremlins are responsible, probably there is nothing to be done.) We fail to find satisfactory facilities for individual "workouts." The intramural events are considered only when it is "convenient" as anyone will attest who has participated.

We suggest: First, intramural athletics be handled in a professional manner and with consideration for the teams participating, second, various types of athletic equipment be furnished for the amateurs . . . chinning bars, horizontal bars, etc. Third, 20th century soap containers be substituted for the Elizabethan plumbing which never works.

The team representing the school is important, but it is more important that individuals be permitted to keep their bodies in shape for emergencies. Remember, school athletics originated for the latter reason; the former evolved from it, and the purpose should not be to encourage a few individuals to "beat themselves to a pulp."

Sincerely,
R. T.

Attorney Speaks To Law Students

Therrett Towles, prominent mining attorney from Spokane, lectured on mining locations and titles Thursday. According to acting dean William J. Brockelbank almost the entire law school attended.

Mr. Towles is a member of the Washington and Idaho bar associations and has been working in mining law for forty years. He is accepted as the best authority in the United States on this subject.

Dean Brockelbank announced that there would be further lectures on this subject sometime in April.

Hold Initiation Dances To Honor New Members

Initiation dances continued to hold a prominent place among social events over the weekend as Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, and Pi Beta Phi sororities honored their newest members. Delta Delta Delta staged a banquet in honor of the initiates.

Kappa Kappa Gamma
Virginia Smith and Betty Kimes were Sunday dinner guests.

Delta Delta Delta
Dinner guests last week included Jim and Ruth Wimer, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peterson, and Sam Bowly.

Alpha Phi

Boxers Board Plane For Trip East Tomorrow

Quintet To Carry Idaho Hopes To Wisconsin

The five-man Vandal team, which includes three 1947 Pacific coast champions and a 1942 coast winner, will motor to Spokane tomorrow morning, from where they will fly enroute to the nationals. Along with Butler, they will be accompanied by Don Carlson, ASUI publicity director, and Mike Williamson, team manager. They expect to arrive in Madison tomorrow evening.

Big Five

Vandals making the trip are Ray Engberson, 135 pounds; Bill Williams, 145 pounds; Herb Carlson, 155 pounds; Ted Diehl, 165 pounds, and Laune Erickson, 175 pounds. All fighters have been trimming down to their weights and are in top condition.

The last year that Idahoans fought in the national bouts, 1941, they captured team honors by placing three individual champions. These three titlists were Laune Erickson and Ted and Frank Kara, first and only brothers to win top honors in the same tournament. Erickson will be out for his third national title when he crawls through the ropes.

Since 1937, Idaho has produced six national champions, and 14 coast winners. That year, Rollie Shumway battled his way to the 145-pound Pacific coast championship, and culminated a series of knockouts by taking the national crown.

Strong Contenders

Idaho's quest for their third national team title will not be easy. Among the 17 teams which are entered, the Vandals will be facing such strong contenders as Wisconsin, host team; Syracuse, eastern champs; San Jose, Pacific coast team winners; and Virginia, eastern-intercollegiate runners-up. The boxers are scheduled to weigh in for the tournament Thursday morning. First bouts will begin that afternoon.

LDS Plans Annual Dance March 28

Members of Lambda Delta Sigma will hold their annual semi-formal Sweetheart Dance March 28 at the LDS Institute.

Candidates chosen for election as LDS Sweetheart are Barbara Kitchens, Delta Delta Delta; Lela Gardner, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Lee Bates, Delta Tau Gamma, and Virginia Geddes, Hays hall. The committee in charge is Jewell Tanner, Lafa Allen, Jack Taylor, Ruth Peterson, and Bruce Stucki.

All new and old members are invited to attend.

dent organization should be able to successfully meet the liquor problem and solve it an exemplary manner.

In the countries where the problem of drunkenness has been solved, prohibition or national moderation has been the answer. In America, where the tendency in all fields is towards excess, a path lies open for those who wish to lead the way in establishing themselves as members of society who rule the society rather than allowing the society or its ills to rule them.

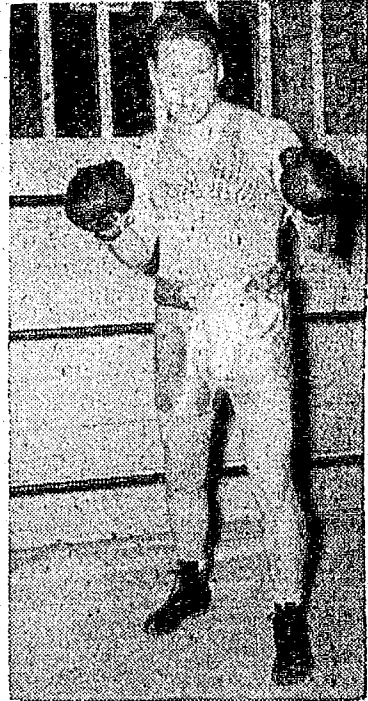

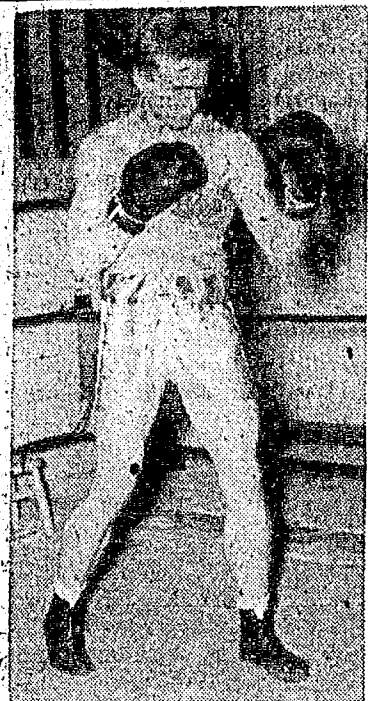

Make it your problem to keep the Idaho campus free from the type of individual who is pointed out because of conspicuous bad conduct as the representative of the group.

Ted Diehl, Billy Williams, Ray Engberson, Herb Carlson and Laune Erickson will constitute the five-man boxing team that boards an east-bound airliner in Spokane tomorrow morning for the national intercollegiate boxing championships which will be held in Madison, Wisconsin, this week. This will be the first time that the Vandals have participated in the national championships since 1941 when they chalked up three individual titles. Of the above five pugilists, Engberson, Carlson and Erickson are unbeaten in ring competition thus far this year. Erickson will be after his third national title, as he captured national laurels both in 1940 and 1941.

Surprising Skiers Capture Top Spot In Ski Meet

Going into the third day of the Pacific Coast conference intercollegiate ski meet, Idaho's skiers moved into the lead with a total of 189 points to replace the University of Washington which has a total of 174 1/2.

At the end of the first day's competition, the Vandals trailed by six points, but they came back strong Sunday in the 5.3-mile across-country run to move ahead of the five-school field.

Washington State moved up within striking distance of Washington as they captured first place in cross-country with 101 1/2 points to up their total to 173 1/2, one point behind the second place Huskies. Idaho with 94, Washington with 73 1/2, Oregon with 30 and Oregon State with 26 finished behind Washington State in the cross-country.

The Coast meet is an all-northern division affair due to the late withdrawals of three California universities which had originally planned to enter teams.

Lou Berriochoa and Larry Remaklus led the Vandals in the second day's competition as they finished second and third respectively. Berriochoa ran the course in 47.54 and Remaklus in 48.09.

McLain; sheep, Merrill Stucki; swine, Paul Wetter; and commercial grain grading, George Hogaboom.

Russ Lindstrom announced that there will be time conflicts between swine and beef fitting and showing contests and between dairy cattle and sheep and asked that no one sign up for conflicting classes.

The Little International had its beginning in 1910 when a three hour weekly lab was held for the judging, fitting and showing of animals. In the 1920's annual Ag Day contests were held for that purpose with farmers and stockmen in the surrounding areas taking interest. The show continued to grow larger each year until 1942 when it was discontinued for the duration of the war. It was resumed in 1946 and is again being planned as an annual affair.

The event was won by Bob Johnson of Washington State in 46.26.

Other Idahoans to finish were: Hal Crawford, ninth; Jack Numbers, twelfth; Don Conley, fourteenth; Jack Robinette, seventeenth.

Mural Dope

With the close of the basketball season last week, ping pong remains the only intramural contests in action.

Sigma Nu is still in top position in League one with six victories and no losses. In League two, ATO and Sigma Chi are still battling for honors, neither having been defeated. They have four and three wins respectively.

Chrisman Hall ping pongers still lead both their leagues, three and four, team one having a 4-1 record to its credit and team two in front with 2-0.

Last Thursday's results include: Kappa Sigma-4, Delta Tau-3; SAE-5, Fijis-3; ATO-4, LDS-0; The Betes won over West Sixth by forfeit, as did the Sigma Nu over the Tekes by the same route.

According to intramural director Leon Green, over 600 men participated in both A and B basketball. Green also reported that track, softball, horseshoe and golf remain on the intramural schedule for the remainder of the year.

Brown Appointed Coach At Nampa

Babe Brown, ski and wrestling coach at Idaho, has been appointed director of athletics at Nampa senior high school.

The former Idaho head coach will resume his new position next September, but is expected to direct the city summer recreational program at Nampa starting in June.

Brown will coach football, basketball, and track at Nampa. He will succeed Bill Cunningham who recently resigned to enter private business.

Babe formerly coached at Lewiston, Burley, and Moscow high schools before coming to the university. He entered the Vandal athletic staff first as an assistant, and later became head football and basketball coach.

Ennis Will Arrive Here Next Week

Ben Ennis, football line coach, will arrive on campus next Monday to assist Coach Dixie Howell in making final preparations for spring football drills which are scheduled to begin early in April. The new line mentor notified Howell this week of his date of arrival and announced that he and Mrs. Ennis were the parents of a baby girl born last week.

No Return Games With Inmates

When the University of Idaho baseball team journeys to Walla Walla to tangle with the Whitman missionaries it will play three games in one day.

The "home and home" series, which is slated to open April 4 and 5, will see the Vandals playing a double header with Whitman College team in the morning and and afternoon session with the Washington State penitentiary on April 5.

Graduate Manager Gale L. Mix, who arranges all Vandal schedules, claims that the Idaho diamond men will meet one of the few satisfied student bodies in this area when they clash with the prison team. It seems that the penitentiary plays all home games!

Squad Game Held Saturday; First Game Next Week

Unhampered by cold weather, Vandal baseballers turned out en masse last Saturday afternoon and held an intra-squad game in preparation for their coming season's opener with Whitman College at Walla Walla April 4th.

The team was under the direction of Jack Newell and Tom Lyda, substituting for regular coach Guy P. Wicks who has been in Pocatello with Athletic Director George Green attending the South Idaho basketball tournament.

Playing over a 12 inning route, Newell and Lyda used eight different pitchers, limiting each to two innings of work apiece. Because of the cold weather, the pitchers were not allowed to use any curve balls, and the game was mainly a hitting practice.

Veterans Frank Viro, catcher, and Hank Crowley, first baseman, led the hitting for the day, both driving out extra-base hits.

Pitching Staff

Among those looking good on the mound were Don Fodrea, Fred Klink, John Robinson, Lefty Auer, Sumner Johnson, Bobby Metzger, and John Dally. From this group of pitchers, a working mound corps of six hurlers will be chosen by Wicks.

According to Newell and Lyda, the team "looks very good defensively, but will be weak at the plate because of the limited practice, time and weather conditions."

Regular Coach Wicks and Director George Green attending the yesterday afternoon, and Wicks will be with the team today.
