Center fielder Charlie Couper swung on pitcher Ellingston's first pitch and drove a single into center with Klink going to third. Klink scored as the next batter Tobe Masingill advanced to first on a fielders choice.

Two errors by the Cougars' second and first baseman enabled Couper and Frank Viro, Idaho catcher, to cross the plate later in the inning.

Freshman Johnny Robinson started on the mound for the Vandals but the young portsider's wildness kept him in hot water all of the way. Robinson was removed from the game in the third inning after loading the bases with none away. Following Robinson to the mound were right-handers Arnold Beebe and John Daily. Big Inning

The Cougars big inning came in the fourth when they combined two free passes and three hits to case in five runs. They sewed the ball game up in the sixth inning when they chased across four runs on three hits and one error.

Fertilizers Studied

Influence of fertilzer practices on soil microorganisms is under study in the College of Agriculture by Dr. H. E. Dregne, Dr. R. E. Carlyle, G. O. Baker, and R. S. Snyder. Observation of difference in crop yield with various practices led to the studies. Straw, sawdust, and manure are being compared in their relative decomposition.
