Smith Chosen New ASUI President In Run-off Election

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Jason bows to the demand for space in this issue and brings you only a portion of an article reprinted from the Camas County Courier at Fairfield, Idaho. The column was headed "University Notes" and the following quote is verbatim:
"William Stewart and Tom Wokerslen are carrying on extensive surveys of the human anatomy in the University Arboretum. The study is carried in addition to their regular heavy load on their spare time."
With examinations coming a fellow simply must work a little harder.

Pinky Tomlin Adds Voice To Delt Serenade

Strumming a guitar, Pinky Tomlin stood beneath the Gamma Phi Beta balcony Wednesday night and joined the Deltas in their sweetheart serenade of Darro Ann Brees.

Between the Delt choruses and a solo by Glen Cushman, Pinky sang five of his own tunes, including "The Object of My Affections," and "Pennies from Heaven."

The band arrived late Tuesday from Yakima and discovered their booking agency had informed Gale Mix, graduate manager, that they would not arrive until the following day. They found no rooms available at local hotels, but a call to the Delt house brought quick results.

The fraternity put up 12 tired band members, Pinky and his manager in guest rooms and on the sleeping porch, while displaced Deltas slept in sofas and chairs.

At the dinner held Wednesday night in his honor, Pinky said, "I never realized how much a fraternity meant, until you boys came to the rescue when we were in a tight spot." He was a Delt at Oklahoma.

Pages Increase As Blot Grows

Eight more pages, six more cartoons, and twelve more informal photographs will rate the May issue of Blot, the campus magazine, higher than any previous issue, Editor Maurice Paulsen said yesterday.

The issue will appear without a special campaign this weekend. Blot is now well enough established, he said, to sell itself without the cover contests formerly employed to promote the magazine.

A bathing beauty whose name is being withheld will appear in color on the cover of the issue when it is distributed. The magazines will be sold by representatives in each living group next week.

COMING EVENTS

- Today:
Spurs practice at 12:30 and at 5 p.m. in Women's gymnasium. Formals at afternoon practice.
- Saturday:
Spurs practice for the May fete at 10 a.m. Meet at 1:40 p.m. for May fete.
- Monday:

Is It Yours?
Here is "Linda," a 1927 Model "T" Ford, offered by the freshman class as a prize at their outdoor dance Friday, May 16.
Older than many students on the campus, and reputed to be in better condition than the majority, "Linda" will be driven about the campus by freshmen publicity managers.

Campus Prepares For May Fete, Song Fest; Many Honoraries To Tap

Inspection Staged On MacLean Field By ROTC Students

Highlight of the annual Federal ROTC inspection held yesterday morning on MacLean Field was a formal review presented by the 223 members of the Idaho Cadet Corps.

Parading under threatening skies the unit was inspected by four inspecting officers from the Sixth Army Area command. Following the formal inspection of the assembled battalion the unit was dispersed to various parts of the field where the companies were judged on their ability to drill and obey commands in marching.

The inspection was the marching demonstration staged by Pershing Rifles, underclassmen's military honorary.

In addition to the practical work on the drill field, all military subjects studied during the year. Junior and sophomore students were quizzed preceding the review and the freshmen classes were questioned in the afternoon.

The group of inspecting officers was headed by Colonel J. W. Thompson of the Oregon-Washington military district. Assisting in the job were Colonel Wilson B. Higgins, Major J. K. Walker and Captain John J. Ready.

Students Attend Livestock Show

Students of Animal Husbandry attended the Junior Livestock Show held at the Old Union Stockyards in Spokane Monday. The purpose of the trip was to get training in judging fat steers, and lambs.

Those who made the trip were Clarence Beckman, Warren Barry, Darrell Brown, Albert Erramoust, Rex Fox, Frank Jacobs, James McKahan, Earl McLain, Robert Morrison, Stanley Mortensen, Carl Neiwirth, Merell Stucki, Gordon Toews, Paul Wetter, Wayne Reddekope, Marion Anderson, and Hugh Sorenson.

Wins Engineer Award

Key-Men Report Tomlin Dance A Financial Bust

Almost 300 tickets were sold to the Pinky Tomlin dance last night in Memorial gymnasium. That nearly paid for the cost of music and arrangements, Blue Key members reported Wednesday night.

With the band guaranteed $750, and operating costs not yet tabulated, the honorary spokesman could only estimate that the loss would amount to more than $150.

No More
It was the opinion of the members of the sponsoring organization that they would not attempt to bring in another outside band in the future after what they termed "the disappointing support given the all-campus dance Wednesday night."

The majority of those who attended were pleased with Tomlin's band, and enjoyed the intermission show which the band leader livened up with some jokes apparently from his own book.

Asked if he thought the price of admission was too high, Tomlin replied that he had just come from Wenatchee where the hall was packed at $5 per ticket. He added that $3 was the average admission price for the stops on his tour.

Idaho Men Receive IK Appointments

At the national Intercollegiate Knight convention held here last weekend two members of the Idaho chapter were elected to national offices for the coming year. Larry Stanley and Doug Ellis were chosen for the positions of Royal Chancellor and Royal Viceroy for this region. Stanley has held national offices twice before in the college men's service honorary. Ellis is filling his first national post.

Only one other school, Boise Junior College, will have members holding two national offices. New chapters admitted at the national convention are at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore., and Gray's Harbor college at Gray's Harbor, Wash.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Why is that, though the University of Idaho is noted for its work in developing weed killers, insecticides, etc., its own campus is overrun with millions of dandelions?

Annual Songfest To Climax Mother's Day Festivities

Annual Mother's Day songfest, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, national music honoraries, will be presented from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday on the Memorial steps. Loving caps will be presented to the winning men's and women's groups by Polly Howard, SAI president, and Bud Walters, Phi Mu president.

Each group will present two songs, which will be judged on the presentation and quality of their programs, including intonation, phrasing, accuracy, interpretation, and the musical effect. There will be a five-minute time limit for each living group on actual performance time.

Old, New Prexy Attend Vancouver Meeting

Walt Smith, Independent party candidate and winner of the run-off election last Tuesday, will be ASUI president next year. Of the 923 votes cast, he received 516, and John Evans, the defeated Progressive party candidate, polled 403.

The election of Smith adds to the dominance of the Independent party which holds five of the positions on the executive board.

No votes were invalidated in this selection except four cast for comic character "Anyface." These were especially out of order, since write-in votes are not accepted in a run-off election.

Schools Accept Nine U. Students For Med. Training

Names of nine University of Idaho students accepted for enrollment in medical schools for next year were announced today by Dr. W. H. Steffens, acting director of pre-med curriculum.

Dr. Steffens was encouraged at the number of acceptances in view of the fact that large medical schools now have approximately ten applicants for each place available.

Students are: Robert B. Boomer of Payette accepted by Harvard University medical school; Carolyn Cleare of Pocatello accepted by the University of Chicago medical school; William H. Cone of Grangeville accepted by the University of Oregon medical school at Portland; John D. Erickson of St. Maries accepted by Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia.

Others are Charles Lame of Lewiston accepted by Washington University school of medicine at St. Louis, Missouri; Eugene W. Read of Moscow accepted by University of Oregon medical school at Portland; Ruth S. Rinder of Moscow accepted by Loyola University school of medicine at Chicago; Francis L. Sult of Cascade accepted by the Harvard Medical School; and Marina Dochios of Rathdrum accepted by the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia.

Robinson Named Gem Editor

At a recent meeting of the executive board Elizabeth Robinson was appointed editor of the Gem of the Mountains and Earl Hayes was approved as business manager for the coming term.

The new appointees succeed present editor Ora White and business manager Dona Harding. Consideration of nominations to fill remaining vacancies on the Gem, and other ASUI publications will be announced by the Publications Board at a meeting next week.

Collection of spring material for next year's Gem is already under way, according to the new editor, Miss White is now in Boise conferring with the printers of the current year-book on publication matters. The coming book is the largest to be published at the university and will have almost twice the circulation of any previous Gem, said Graduate Manager Gale Mix.

Applications Open Under Blue Cross

Applications for hospitalization under the Blue Cross plan must be submitted to W. J. Wilde of the faculty staff welfare committee before June 1 in order to be valid for this year.

According to a survey made by Mr. Wilde, a sufficient number of employees of the university have made applications and those who wish to benefit from this plan may do so now, effective July 1.

Further inquiries may be made to Mr. Wilde in room 213-A of the Administration building.

New ASUI President

A True Story Of Seven DGs On An Auto-Swiping Spree

It happened on Wednesday morning. At 4:30 a.m. Chuck Thomas was peacefully snoring in bed on the SAE sleeping porch. He even kept on snoring when fellow-SAE Darrell Irvin tapped him on the shoulder.

"Seven DG seniors want to borrow your car to ride around in until their housecleaning is over. Shall I give them the keys?" Thomas didn't hear him. He kept right on snoring, even though he nodded his permission.

So Irvin gave his car keys to the sorority girls (Billie Odberg, Jean Denman, Romaine Galey, Polly Woodcock, Louise Schlegel, Marilyn Kerby, and Rosemary Meehan). They climbed into Thomas' car and roared off in the direction of the city center.

In another corner of the SAE house Eldon Beus heard the car's tires crackling on the gravel, looked outside, and called the police to inform them of a stolen car.

At 6 a.m. Thomas was called out of bed to answer the phone. "This is the police. We've found your stolen car."

Astonished, Thomas wondered why somebody didn't tell him this before. "We've nabbed the girls who did it," the cop said. "Shall we lock 'em up and fingerprint 'em?"

"Yeah," replied Thomas. Then he went back to bed. Darrell Irvin heard the news one hour later. Frantically, he rushed to the sleeping porch and roused Thomas.

"Those girls are in the cooler!" "What girls?" "The girls you told me to give the car keys to."

Thomas leaped down the stairs and called the police station. "Better let those girls out," he said, "they're friends of mine—uhh, up until now."

And that's the end of this tale of crime, except for mentioning that when the DGs drove back their loot, they were greeted by a chorus of "jailbirds, jailbirds," by the laughing SAEs.

Senior Presents Piano Concert

Carolyn Norris Elder, pianist, presented her senior recital Tuesday evening in the university auditorium. Mrs. Elder is a candidate for the B. A. degree this June.

Tomlin And Company

'Public Office Is A Public Trust'

The State of Idaho is overdue for a change in its method of hiring state employees. It has clung far too long to the "spoils system" of political appointments. The "merit system" of determining qualification for state jobs by examination on a state-wide basis offers an improved and cheaper administration.

In four departments out of 19 (public assistance, public health, unemployment, and the fish and game commission) the merit system is used. It is safe to say that if it were not for federal funds and "grants-in-aid" jobs in three of these four departments would be politically controlled.

The advantages that a civil service commission can give Idaho are many. It would help the people to regard "public office as a public trust." Office holders would not be required (in order to keep their jobs) to "contribute" to party campaign funds. Under the merit system, the state employee would owe his job to no one but himself.

Twenty states now use the merit system more or less extensively, although some of them operate under its name while actually permitting politicians to dictate appointments through the systems' channels. Nearly all of the nation's larger cities employ some part of the merit system in hiring employees.

The Idaho state legislature will not meet again until 1949. A change cannot be effected until then, but now is the time to plan for the introduction of an efficient system. —S.H.G.

Here's More About CAMPUS

Members of Silver Lance will tap men for membership into the honorary. New members of Mortar Board, selected from junior women outstanding in leadership and activities and maintaining an average of 3.0 will also be named.

Freshmen women chosen to be Spurs for next year will be introduced. Blue Key honorary will tap.

Presented to the outstanding senior woman will be the WAA cup awarded annually by that organization. University students selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" will be presented with awards. Alpha Lambda Delta awards will go to the senior women who are outstanding in their respective fields and the IK's will present their Holy Grail award.

Maypole Event

Planned for entertainment on the program is the winding of the Maypole by present members of the Spurs.

Following the ceremonies, mothers will be entertained at a tea on the Administration building lawn. This tea will be sponsored by AWS.

The annual Idaho Song Fest, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternities, will conclude the weekend events, when it is held Sunday.

Martin To Attend UNESCO Meeting

Dr. Boyd A. Martin will attend the UNESCO Conference May 15, 16, and 17 at Denver, Colo., as the University of Idaho representative. This meeting of the Mountain-Plains Regional Conference will be sponsored by the United States Commission for UNESCO.

The organization is striving to maintain better cultural and educational understanding among various peoples of the world under the sponsorship of the United Nations.

Great Event

The whole world may smile during these warm spring days but when Idaho's new and rugged assistant football coach, Perron Shoemaker, grins, it's an event.

At least that's what varsity end candidate George Ballev thinks. "The first time in two weeks" said Ballev, "after Saturday's spring practice, that I saw him smile! And he smiled at me!"

Later, in the evening Ballev was overheard muttering, in between big mouthfuls of roast beef, something about smiles and happy days.

KAPPA SIGS ELECT OFFICERS

Ted McFaul was elected president of Kappa Sigma this week. Other new officers chosen are John Dailey, vice president; Wilbur King, master of ceremonies; Glen Wimer, secretary. Gil Camm and his assistant, Floyd Peterson, remained in office as house managers.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

All students who are now in residence at the University of Idaho for their last semester and who plan to receive their degrees at a later date should file their applications for degrees before they leave the campus in June. Blanks and further instructions are obtainable at their academic dean's offices.

SCOTT TO BE HONORED

Among those to be honored by the Washington State College chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary, at initiation ceremonies at Pullman on May 24 will be Professor Paul T. Scott of the university journalism department.

The governor of Nevada is Vail Pittman, brother of the late Senator Key Pittman.

Heard... Or Seen

Feetstapler? — Chuck Rogers, Lindley hall, was overheard making the remark when reading a notice that beer and soda pop would be served as refreshments at the Lindley hall picnic: "Why the heck waste any money on soda pop?"

Question of the week: Why are they calling Jerry Swanson "Fuzzy" over at the ATO house?

The key to Deary, Don Kamp, Kyle Bates, Fred and Clarence Beckman, all of Chrisman hall, visited Deary on a Saturday night. But several energetic men soon escorted them to the city limits for trying to take over the local women.

Theta Advice: Lucille Nelson was heard giving advice to a couple of male frosh in the Nest: "And if you don't have any money and still want to date a girl, call the girl up and say, I don't have any money, but would you like to go out and play around a little?"

Over Exposure: Reports from the Sigma Nu house indicate the arrival of a new pledge. He is known under the "nom de plume" of "George the Sniffer."

Simultaneous Explosion: When Prof. Floyd Gail's car used eleven gallons of gasoline between Moscow and Lewiston, he stopped for repairs at a Lewiston garage. His passengers were Botany class students going on a field trip with their instructor. While the professor's car was in the garage, the passengers (of low and questionable character) hooked a buzz bomb to the starter of his car. Result—apoplectic professor.

Proper Etiquette: Forney hall frosh demonstrated at midnight last Wednesday to Doris Voth the proper method of "dunking."

Ambitious Farmers: Delta Chi's have planted a victory garden. . . most of the onion seeds seemed to have strayed over to the Kappa Sig's lawn.

It must be Spring: From a Teke window Tuesday night tenor Norris Beasley, plus guitar, serenaded the Gamma Phi's for two hours, rendering everything from "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" to "Temptation."

Class Will Travel Into Cd'A Forest

Thirty-one members in the class of Silviculture went on a field trip, May 2, 3, and 4, to Deception Creek Forest Experiment Station, which is in the Coeur d'Alene National Forest. The experiment station is reputed to have one of the finest demonstrations of white pine silviculture in the country.

A Forest Management field trip will be made May 22, 23, and 24, to the Kanjiku National Forest, in the region of Priest lake in order to review various forest practices, demonstrations, and timber management.

Engineers Meet

Members of the engineering faculty and five students attended a meeting of the Spokane section of the American Society of Engineers in Spokane last night.

Dean A. S. Janssen, F. H. Hall, George Russell, and G. A. Riedesel, faculty members, made the trip, along with Bob Griffiths, George Oslund, Tom Dunn, Jack Peering, and John Cook, students.

HOME EC'S TO DISPLAY WORK

Exhibits of leather work, stenciling, tailoring, and weaving will be on display in the Home Economics department all day Friday and Saturday morning.

Selway Field Trip

Students on an overnight Selway field trip up the Selway river are shown standing around the campfire at the end of the day. The party slept in sleeping bags supplied by the Forest Service.

Botany Students Have Fun, Bears, Pancakes, And Quiz

By MARIE HAMPTON

Students who made the botany field trip up the Selway river in central Idaho last weekend shared more than one unusual experience. Bill Harrington ran faster than the bear that he and fellow students met on a mountain climb, and such things as snakes in sleeping bags are unexplainable.

The pay-off, however, was a flower labeled Botany Gail to be studied by members of the class. The fact that the scientific term and the flower do not really exist other than in a faculty member's mind was unforgivable to the students who searched for the flower.

Gail Wades

While crossing a log, Dr. Floyd Gail slipped and one leg went wading in the creek. "The log was unsteady," explained the botany professor. Some fishing was attempted when the party stopped for lunch, but no records were broken.

Saturday night two industrious students, Chandler and Carter, stayed up all night studying by gas, not oil. They were revived early next morning by hotcakes mixed by Dr. Gail and baked by Miss Yada Allan, Dr. Norman Gillette and Miss Genevieve Lukman.

Sleep Helps

After breakfast Saturday morning, a practical quiz was given over specimens collected and studied. The grades on the quiz ranged from 47 to 99%, the latter being received by Wallace Kenyon, one of the first students to hit the sack Saturday night. Moral: do not burn midnight oil, even when the lanterns hang from trees.

One member of the class will receive an incomplete on the course. He did not hear his alarm clock the morning the group left. When he finally got started, he went north to Chatcolet instead of south to Lewiston.

At the expense of Dr. Floyd Gail, may we finish with this item? Dr. Gail's car began smoking and whistling, much to his dismay. Having had carburetor trouble before, he thought it was a recurrence. The smoke ended with a bang and had been planted by a practical joking forester.

"Tell me, how did you get Junior to eat olives?" "Simple. I started him out on martinis."

Students Frown On Pessimism, Survey Shows

The new, post-war student, in contrast to his 1939 forerunner, is mature, responsible, and dynamic, according to the Philosophy Department.

Professor R. L. Ormsby has been studying this change since September, 1946. He states: "From numerous surveys, reports, and discussions, it has become increasingly obvious that college no longer prolongs infancy."

Students no longer accept education as an accumulation of inert facts. The demand now is practical relation to life. "It is not the education that makes the man—it is the will to reach out for a goal that he has set for himself."

There is a break-down in the old rigidity between students and teachers. The student does not want to be preached at, but wants to be considered an integral part of a cooperative venture.

Grimm Writes Opinion

During a survey, Ed Grimm, a student, wrote "The college students of today have ideals, but these have no existence apart from their lives; instead, they are the results of a mature mind."

Finally, the student begins to feel his destiny as the future leader. Philip Schnell wrote at one time, "College students show a spirit of adventure. They don't believe in sitting around and 'letting George do it.' Generally, they frown upon pessimism. Pessimism and cynicism have no part in college life."

General Giraud escaped from German prison camps during both the first and second world wars.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:

In view of the fact that there are many coming events for which committees must be selected to make the arrangements and work out the details, it would be a much easier proposition if there were available a list of the house presidents which the necessary contacts could be made.

Offered merely as a suggestion, the list could include the name of the president, his or her major in school, the living group which he represents, and the telephone through which he can be reached.

This could be published in some spare spot in the paper in perhaps the next publication and such information could be compiled in a very short time. Its utility would be very great and would be appreciated by those of us who have to make the telephone calls and necessary arrangements for the campus functions.

Thank you for your consideration of the suggestion.

A harried committee member,
 J. R. S.

Jason is glad to oblige this request.

Course To Be Held For 4-H Members

A summer short course will be held here for a selected group of state 4-H club members between the ages of 13 and 17 from June 5 to 10. Various homemaking and agricultural subjects will be offered under the instruction of university extension staff and faculty members.

The students will take part in a candlelight ceremony and pageant on Sunday, June 8th. Advisors for the event are Dan Warren, State 4-H Club Leader, and Martha Opedahl, assistant leader.

Committee members of the University club helping to plan the program are as follows: Helen Thomas, Edna Mooney, Sherman Nesbitt, Bill Woodland, Cecil Alder, Mary Jones, Vance Butler and Betty Base.

Foresters To Meet

Inland Empire Section of the Society of American Foresters will hold a meeting Saturday, May 10, at the Faculty club with James C. Evenden of the Federal Bureau of Entomology acting as chairman. Dean D. S. Jeffers will lead discussions.

Among those attending will be: Roger Billings, president of the Diamond Match Co., and Evenden, who is chairman of the Forest Policy committee.

Senior Women Will Teach

Three graduating seniors, Laine Cargill, June Heller, and Betty Ann Justice, have signed contracts to teach in the Lewiston school system next year. Harlow H. Campbell, placement service head, announced.

Graduate To Hawaii

Roderick W. Hearn, Pullatach, Idaho graduate of 1939, was recently granted a graduate assistantship at the University of Hawaii. A political science major, Hearn plans to obtain his master's degree there, writing a thesis on Japanese political parties.

Spring Dances Add Color To Campus Social Whirl

Social activities of the weekend center around Mother's Day observances with groups participating in the annual May Fete and Song Fest Saturday and Sunday. Tonight and Saturday night mark numerous spring formal in campus residences.

"Manhattan Merry-Go-Round" will carry out the theme of the annual spring formal held at Phi Delta Theta Saturday evening. Each room will be decorated to represent a different club or night spot. Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer and Dr. F. C. Church will be patrons and patronesses. Music will be furnished by Fev Pratt's orchestra.

Sigma Nu Formal
Sigma Nu will hold their Upperclassmen's Formal tonight with Charles Plostin in charge, assisted by Glenn Marshall and Edward J. Woodruff.

"Journey to a Star" will be the theme of the semi-formal dance sponsored by Pine Hall tonight in the Student Union ballroom. LDS will hold their annual semi-formal dinner-dance Saturday evening with the dinner at the Grange hall and dance at the Legion cabin.

The annual theme, "Garden of Rainbows," will be carried out in the decorations at the spring formal at Chrisman hall Saturday night. Music will be furnished by Phil Batt's orchestra.

Delta Delta Delta pledges held their annual "Sunrise" dance for members Saturday morning. Milkman Keep Those Bottles Quiet" was the theme with Marjorie Radermacher acting as general chairman. Breakfast was served at the house.

Decorations
A spraying fountain and live goldfish swimming in the multi-colored waters of a flower bedecked pool carried out the decorations of the annual Delta Chi spring formal last Saturday. Following dinner, music was furnished by Gene Myer's combo, "Three Dukes and a Duchess." Orchid corsages were presented to each guest and leather wallets were given as favors. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Steffens, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyle and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harlow.

A birthday dinner was held at Forney hall Wednesday night honoring Vivian Tarbet, Katherine Armstrong, Thelma Jardine, Mary Sue Tovey, Gladys Funda, Phyllis Powell, Carol Jean Miller, Jean Little, Ruth Wimer, Hazel Danquist, Joan Scofield and Phyllis Williams. A fireside has been planned for Friday evening for the mothers with Dorothy Tibbory in charge.

Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Vogt were Sunday dinner guests at Alpha Phi. An exchange was held with Tau Mem Aleph Wednesday.

Thursday dinner guests at Pi Beta Phi were Gus McKay, Bill Raymond, Chet Timmer, Bob Morrow, Les Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Evestone and Mrs. Charles Wagoner.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Wednesday dinner guests were Gus Stewart, Jack Smith, Norman Lodge and Alton Vogt.

Doug Bush, Grant Siddaway, Wayne Fuller, Jack McGough, Fred Farmer, Chuck Thomas, J. T. Peterson, Hank Behrman and Don Carlson were dinner guests Tuesday at the Delta Gamma house.

Gamma Phi Beta Wednesday dinner guests were Margaret Weitz, Mary Lou Scott, June Gee, Patty McCabe, Dick Turner and Don Bunge.

Basil Engenopolis, native of Greece, and a student at the university, was a Wednesday dinner guest at Tau Kappa Epsilon. Following dinner, he led a discussion on the proposed American loan to Greece and Turkey.

Vocalist Guest
Mauni Drake, vocalist with Pinky Tomlin's band, was a guest at the Tri-Delt house. Gladys Tauffen, Alpha Phi, was a Wednesday dinner guest.

Sunday dinner guests and visitors at Kappa Sigma this week were Mr. W. L. Penick of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Foster, Robert Adams, Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Olive H. Holland, Rigby and Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis.

Reade Brown has been visiting Phil Batt at Chrisman hall for several days.

Dinner guests at Delta Tau Delta Thursday were Pinky Tomlin, Frank Walker, Roy Young, Dale Jones, Art Newman, Carter Russell, Al Horly, Dale Shepard, Bill Bowdin, Phil Strack, Frances Sidor, Joe Franchino, and Bill Dennis.

First dog: "Have you a family tree?"

Women Vets Give Farewell Dinner

A farewell dinner will be given Sunday evening at the Moscow Hotel by members of the Women Veterans association for seniors and others of the group who will not return to school next year, Charlotte Johnston, president, announced today.

Time set for the dinner is 6 p.m., Miss Johnston said, and added, "Any ex-service woman wishing to secure reservations may contact Olevia Smith, 6102."

Nominations for president and vice president were made in Wednesday's meeting of the group. Those nominated were Maxine Barfly, Vivien Tarbot, and Olevia Smith.

Elections will be held at the dinner Sunday evening with the two women receiving the highest and next highest number of votes becoming president and vice president respectively.

Churches Expect Temporary Lull Over Mother's Day

Mother's Day observance on the campus this weekend will cause a temporary lull in church group activities.

The only church group with a meeting scheduled for Sunday evening is Wesley Foundation at six p.m. in the Methodist church after the songfest.

Senior members of the group are in charge of the meeting and mothers are cordially invited to attend.

At the Tuesday evening meeting of LSA plans were made for the annual LSA banquet to be held May 20 at the Lutheran church. Basil Engenopolis, Greek exchange student, spoke at the meeting.

Christian students have announced definite plans for their overnight trip to Zephyr Inn on Liberty Lake. Cars will leave the church at 5 p.m. May 17 and will return Sunday evening. Any students who have not yet made arrangements to go may call David Thacker at Lindley hall.

Members of CSMYF heard a Christian Science lecture Thursday evening at the Methodist church.

Kappa Phi met Tuesday evening for initiation of new members and installation of officers. At a fire-side following the ceremony a gift was presented to Mrs. Norma Dobler, Kappa Phi sponsor.

The following members were chosen to fill appointive offices for next year: Gay Deobald, social chairman; Betty West, membership; Phyllis La Rue, religious efforts; Ruth Reichert, publicity; Bette Thompson, music; Marjorie Thompson, art; Marybelle Carnie, stenographic; and Olive Smith, custodian.

Party Is Planned By SAI Pledges

All music majors and minors and the music faculty members are invited to attend a party to be held in the small ballroom of the Student Union building Tuesday at 7 p.m. to be sponsored by the SAI pledges.

Entertainment for the event will be furnished by the faculty of the music department. Following the evening's entertainment, refreshments will be served. Admission will be 50 cents a person.

All women attending have been granted 9:30 permission.

HOME-EC CLUB WILL ELECT
Election of next year's officers will be held during the Home Economics club meeting Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Home Economics department. Seniors in the club will serve as hostesses.

Concert Presents Original Music By Mary Lou Scott

A concert of original compositions was presented by members of the music department last night in the university auditorium.

Yvonne Whiting, soprano, with Miss Betty Scott as accompanist, sang two of her compositions, "Disillusion" and "The Little Elf." Betty Thompson sang "A Laugh," composed by Mary Beth Kohls, accompanied by Miss Kohls.

Betty Meagher, soprano, with Jean Mack accompanying, sang "Loveliest of Trees," by Charles Harlan, and "Impression," by Meagher. Norman Logan, baritone, sang his composition, "It is a Beauteous Evening," with Margaret Logan accompanist.

Two compositions by Marie Felton, "Lyric" and "Anacreon," were sung by Alice Roberts Bue, with Jean Mack at the piano.

Lalene Cargill, mezzo-soprano, sang her songs, "Quary" and "Starshine and Sawdust." Lucille Thompson accompanied her.

Vocal Ensemble
"The Time Draws Near the Birth of Christ" by Mr. Logan, a vocal ensemble, was sung by Colleen Haag and Marilyn Clark, sopranos; Delmer Bodker and Don Faulkner, tenors; Margaret Burson and Miss Cargill, altos; John Hans and Mr. Logan, basses.

Concluding the concert was "Preludes," (adagio, allegro, and adagio) written by Charles Harlan, and presented by a vocal and string ensemble composed of Pat Jordan, soprano; Madelyn Sanberg, contralto; Norman Logan, baritone; Maurice Ritchey, cello; Donald Binning, violin; Irene Brewster, violin; and Walter Smith, viola.

250 Women Attend Faculty Club Tea

Approximately 250 women attended the annual women's guest day faculty club tea Tuesday at the Faculty Club building, according to Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, president.

Entertainment was furnished by Geneva Valerio, soprano, and Carl Claus, violinist. They were accompanied by Agnes Crawford Schudt, Committee chairmen included Mrs. C. A. Parrott, social chairman; Miss Mary Kirkwood, decorations; Mrs. H. E. Lattig, tea table.

Those pouring were Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Mrs. H. E. Lattig, Mrs. Louise Carter, and Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald.

Engineers To Meet

Professor Timmiswood of the engineering department will report on the activities of the University of Idaho at the 11th annual convention of the American Society for Engineering Education in Pullman Saturday.

The session which is sponsored by the Pacific Northwest section of the society will be attended by members of the Idaho engineering faculty during the meetings Friday and Saturday.

Mural Dope

Leon Green, intramural director, announced today that intramural golf will begin next Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m. and will continue through Friday (matches to be completed by 6 p.m.) The number of participants per house that can be entered is unlimited, but no more than two players in each house may shoot in the same foursome.

Green also said that intramural track will not be scheduled until after spring football training is completed.

In softball last Tuesday, the Idaho club, team two, scored 7 runs in the last inning of their game with Chrisman hall, but their rally fell one run short. Chrisman won, 15-14. Other results were: Vets-15, Willis Sweet, team two, 5; West Sixth-10, Willis Sweet, team one, 8, and Lindley, team two-6, Campus club, 1.

Wednesday, the Phi Delt broke loose with 7 runs in the first inning to provide a narrow margin of victory over the Betas, 13-12. At the end of the regular seven inning tilt between the Law team and LDS, the score was tied at 9 apiece. The Law group pushed over the winning run in their half of the extra eighth and sewed up the game by keeping LDS runless in their half. Scores of other games were: Delta Chi, 10, Fijis, 7; Sigma Chi, 4, Sigma Nu, 1; and ATQ over TMA, forfeit.

Sigma Nu gained another five points toward the third and last leg of the intramural trophy for combined points by placing third in horseshoes. If they finish well up in the remaining intramural events (softball, track and golf), the trophy will remain in their permanent possession. The total points to date are:

Husky-Vandal Meet Marks Third In Coast History

On their first meeting since 1927, the University of Idaho and University of Washington track squads square off in a Northern division dual meet Saturday in Moscow.

The two teams have met only twice in conference history—in 1902, when the meet ended in a 61-61 tie, and in 1927, when the Huskies won the meet, 64-61, by virtue of a victory in the relay.

The Huskies, with easy victories over Oregon and Oregon State already under their belt, will be heavy favorites to add the Vandals to their list of victims.

Brunson Is Injured
Reporting the loss of Steve Brunson, quarter-mile, due to a leg injury, Vandal Coach Stan Hisserman commented that "with a little luck," Idaho can give the Huskies a close meet. Hisserman was counting heavily on Brunson to garner points in the 400-yard run, which he ran in 49.7 seconds two weeks ago, and to bolster the Vandals' chances in the mile relay.

Idaho will be strongest in the javelin, shotput, broad jump, high jump, and sprints, and will rate high in the discus, high hurdles, and 440.

Dick Wilcomb and Art Randall are the Vandals' leading javelin throwers. Wilcomb, who has registered several throws over 180 feet, won the event in the OSC meet two weeks ago.

Weightmen
Dean Lewis and Lyle Fagnan are both capable of over 44 feet in the shotput, and Lewis has puts of over 46 feet to his credit.

Low Williams, who broad-jumped over 22 feet, and Jay Gayno, who clears the bar at 6 feet, will represent the Vandals in the jumping events.

Dick Armstrong, Vandal sprinter, won the 220-yard dash against Oregon State two weeks ago, and finished only inches behind the winner in the century.

Leon Green Elected Vice President

Leon Green, associate professor of physical education at the University of Idaho, was recently elected to co-vice president of the Northwest District association of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He was elected to the 1947 term at the national convention in Seattle, Wash.

Dave and Dan'll Roll In Graves

Dave and Dan'll Boone and Davy Crockett hunted bears for food, but a sextet of university students have gone these two historical sharpshooters one better—they hunt rats by night in the city dump just for fun.

Led by Howard Walk, the self-appointed exterminators include Stan Jensen, Herb Barnes, George Woodruff, Oscar Klempens, and George Komoto. Equipped with flashlights, pistols, and rifles, the six hunters spent three nights straight liquidating rodents by the dozens.

Wednesday night the campaign was temporarily halted by the caretaker of the dump who complained that he couldn't sleep for all the noise. He also added something about "college kids-getting hit with buckshot" if the invaders didn't clear out in a hurry.

The hunters feel, however, that if the rats were left unharmed for a period of time they will increase their population and the sport would prove better in the future.

Sweating This One Out

Members of the Vandal baseball team leaned forward in anticipation in the first game with Oregon State which the Vandals won 6 to 4. By the expressions on the faces of the team, it appears that a Vandal runner is just about to beat out a close play at third base.

Vandals Meet Ducks In Opener Today

Coach Guy Wicks announced earlier this week that he would use the same two hurlers that worked against the Beavers, Lefty Auer and Don Fodrea, in that order.

Victorious Idaho started the second half of the Northern division schedule with a 6-4 victory over Oregon State Monday afternoon. The Vandals whipped the Staters 4-1 Tuesday in the second game of their series.

Fodrea, playing first base, had a field day at the plate during the first game, collecting four hits in four times at bat. He took over pitching duties the second afternoon and stretched his hitting streak to six in a row, before Oregon State pitchers could stop him. His batting for two days was six hits in eight times at bat.

On the mound Fodrea limited OSC to five scattered hits and held the Beavers scoreless until the ninth inning.

Wicks says Idaho will run up against "some of the finest pitchers in the conference" in the Oregon series. Earlier in the season Oregon edged the Vandals 1-0 and 3-0 in two tightly contested games at Eugene.

Auer to Hurl Auer, who will face the Ducks Friday, hurled a four-hitter in the first game, but Idaho could not stop the Oregonians from pushing over the single run which won the game.

Wicks said today Idaho's hitting has improved vastly and that his freshman-studded team had apparently lost some of its early stage fright.

Lineup Idaho's infield lineup includes Fodrea or Henry Crowley, first base; Oswald Kanikkeberg, second base; Cliff Masingill, short stop; and Roland Masingill, third base. Frank Viro is regular catcher.

Weasel Stops Ball

The old saying, "A dead weasel is a good weasel," was aptly proved last Wednesday at the university golf course.

Coming up the eighth hole, Donald Perry of the Vets administration hit a screaming second shot to the green that was stopped short by a tree—so he thought.

After the usual malicious thoughts and profane language, Perry advanced to his ball to find not the ball under the tree, but also a freshly killed weasel.

It seems that the weasel had been seen cavorting in the vicinity of number eight green all afternoon and by chance had gotten in the way of Perry's ball.

DON'T QUOTE ME

By GENE ROSE

Happened to be glancing through a Portland Oregonian the other day when I ran across an editorial of L. H. Gregory, sports editor of that paper, in which he was discussing the performance of Coach Ken Butler's boxing Vandals.

Gregory was high in his acclaim for the Vandal pugilists' record for this year. Writes Gregory, "Because not many colleges give much attention to boxing, only Idaho and Washington State in this conference stressing it, the achievement of Idaho's boxers a few weeks ago in gaining a tie with Wisconsin has passed with little notice, but it was a feat indeed. Wisconsin above all other colleges in the Big Nine, and perhaps above any other in America, goes in for boxing. Except in war period bouts between navy V-12 teams, she has lost only one intercollegiate boxing meet since and including 1938, that to Louisiana State in 1940."

Gregory goes on to say, "So for little Idaho to barge in and gain a tie count was indeed something for the book. This was the background Idaho was up against at Madison and to tie Wisconsin there was about the equivalent, in football, of Washington's beating Notre Dame when the Huskies and Irish meet for the first time in 1948."

We thank you, Mr. Gregory, for the compliment.

Coach Guy Wicks... seems to have turned up a couple of winners in Lefty Auer and Don Fodrea. Fodrea's return to action, both as a pitcher and infielder, is indeed a welcome one. The lanky red-head has played a lot of baseball and his presence in the lineup seems to steady the nervous frosh-studded Vandal squad.

Scouts from the Philadelphia Phillies and Detroit Tigers were on hand for the games with the Beavers and they seemed quite impressed with the performance that Fodrea offered. Not only did he bang out four hits in the first game but then he took his first turn on the mound the next day and limited the Beavers to five scattered hits while garnering two more to run his streak to six straight hits.

While on the subject... of baseball, those superstitious baseball fanatics on the Vandal baseball team had their theory proved wrong just before the first game with OSC. Don Carlson came out just before the game to take a squad picture of the baseball nine. However, several ball players refused in fear that the picture before the game might jinx them. After much persuasion, they all consented. Final result: Idaho downed the Beavers twice for their first conference victories.

Idaho's golf coach... Frank James, is quite well known around the Northern division circuit. While James and his golf team were on their recent road trip, he was asked to speak at the Northwestern greenkeepers' meeting at Corvallis. Incidentally, Mr. James should be aptly qualified to speak on this subject as he has helped to build over 100 golf courses in the Northwest.

Golfers Entertain Washington In Meeting Today

Coach Frank James' Vandal golfers resumed their home season today, when they tangled with the invading Washington Huskies. Tomorrow, the Idahoans entertain Gonzaga's undefeated Bulldogs on the University course.

The match with Washington, which finds the visitors regarded as heavy favorites, started this morning, and will continue throughout the afternoon.

According to James, the Idaho team will remain the same as it has been listed all season. No. 1 man is captain John Morely, who last week held the touted Lou Stafford even until the last hole, and chipped in with a decisive victory at OSC.

Glenn Cushman, Perry Miller, Gene Rodwell, Frank McGinnis and Jack Keenan make up the remainder of the team in that order.
