The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

Seniors, your friends on the campus are interested in what you are going to do after June 2, and where you are going.

The Argonaut has provided a basket in the office to receive a note from you with information that we may pass on to your friends in the last issue. The Arg doesn't have the time or the staff to contact you individually. Monday noon is the deadline.

Not Coming
Again the ridiculous shape of the state has foiled an attempt at unity. In the Salt Lake Tribune Jason reads that the fifth and sixth high school districts will hold their own track meet at Pocatello in preference to making the long jaunt from southeastern Idaho to Moscow for the official state meet on Saturday at MacLean field.

Coming commencement exercises and the distance is given for the non-participation here. Sanctioned by E. F. Grider, high school athletic association secretary, the meet will be held at Idaho State under the name of the "Spud Bowl."

Looks to Jason like this may be a forerunner of Northern and Southern Idaho athletic groups for high schools.

Self Promotion
The fact that the host school is the former Southern Branch, now a four year school in liberal arts, brings to mind the thought that we now have competition within the state for scholars as well as athletes.

An old cry heard around here over the lack of athletes used to be, "The alumni aren't doing anything." Very little notice was given to the university promotion work done by undergraduates while they were home on vacation. Jason would like to see the students set up a promotion scheme of their own under the supervision of the student government. Who should know more about a school than the people attending.

The kid next door just getting out of high school will probably be as much, or more impressed by your statement of what the school is now, than by an alum's statement of what it was four, five or ten years ago.

Still No Pants
Hate to ride a story to death, but Sgt. Morgan hasn't got his pants back yet. You will remember, light-fingered students hooked eleven pairs which will cost Morgan $247.50. If you have a pair of war-weary greens you plan to throw away they will save the Sgt. $11 through the salvage channel.

A Fine Fellow
Jason wishes to report that he has found after an intensive investigation that there is no foundation to the rumor that Dick Crowther is to be ousted from the Sigma Nu house because he won only three athletic letters in high school. Dick is a fine upstanding young social news reporter and does not deserve to be slandered in this manner. As always, Jason is ready to become the champion of the oppressed and downtrodden.

Buchanan To Give Grads Diplomas

On June 2, for the first time in 52 commencements, a graduate of the University of Idaho will present diplomas to graduates of the school. President J. E. Buchanan, class of '27, will be officiating at his first graduation exercises as head of the university.

Also seated on the platform as a member of the board of regents will be, for the first time, a university graduate. He is John D. Remsburg, Jr., class of '24, now of Rupert.

Bachelor and master's degrees will be awarded to about 420 students. This number is more than double that of last year.

ENGINEERS FRY STEAKS

Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, held a steak fry Monday evening at Robinson lake. Approximately 25 students and faculty members attended the affair.

Foreign Study For Idaho Couple

Dean and Carolyn Elder, Idaho music majors, will continue their piano study in Switzerland next year. Mrs. Elder, formerly Carolyn Norris, was recently awarded a $2,000 scholarship for study in the European country.

Gem Editor Hopes For Distribution By Semester End

"The 1947 'Gem of the Mountains' should be distributed by the last of June, at the latest," said Ora White, yearbook editor today. She continued in a more optimistic key, "Hopes are high, however, that we can get it out before the term's end."

Containing more than 400 pages, this year's Gem will be available to all the students, inasmuch as the purchase has been made with the registration fee.

Information for students registered for only one semester, who wish to pay for the half of the yearbook not covered by the registration fee will be released by the Graduate Manager's office Monday. Veterans Gem charges (Cont. on page 2, col. 6)

Cook, Engineer Collaborate On Seven-Minute Dinner

If you're cooking with gas, you're behind the times. Harlow McKinney, engineering instructor, and Charlotte Johnston, home economics major, collaborated recently to put a meal on the table piping hot without the use of conventional heat.

The secret of the story is electronics. In the experiment a pork roast, and fresh rolls were pre-cooked by normal means and quick-frozen. Placed between two aluminum plates of the RF Frequency generator operated by McKinney the roast was brought to serving heat, 170 degrees in four minutes. The rolls were heated in 30 seconds.

Fresh frozen peas were cooked in their original packages in seven minutes. The electronic process cooks the food from the center outward, and as a result, the eye-pleasing brown crust preferred by many is absent. Electronically

Disturbing The Molecules

They're not cooking with gas. They're cooking with electronics. Harlow McKinney, engineering instructor, and Charlotte Johnston, home economics major, are demonstrating the latest methods of cooking without external heat. It's all done with electronics.

Carolyn Norris Elder, pianist and candidate for a B.A. degree this June, has been awarded the $2000 Frank Huntington Beebe fund scholarship for foreign study in piano for one year.

Mrs. Elder received notification of the award in a letter from Wallace Goodrich of Boston, Mass., who is chairman of the fund. The letter also stated that the scholarship will start in September.

Accompanying Mrs. Elder will be her husband, Dean Elder, also a pianist and candidate for a B.A. degree this June. The couple plan to go to Zurich, Switzerland, where Mr. Elder will also continue to study piano under the benefits of the GI bill.

To be eligible to receive the scholarship it is required that the candidate be well advanced in his major field and in supplementary musical subjects; and that in point of general and cultural education his equipment be such as to insure his ability to profit by advantages of foreign study. Abe Goff Calls USMA Applicants

Men interested in military careers will have an opportunity to compete for appointments to the U. S. Military Academy following a message received by President Buchanan from Representative Abe McGreggor Goff, congressman from the first district.

The congressman's telegram reads: "Due to withdrawals or disqualifications have one and possibly two principal and four alternate appointments to West Point. Would welcome names of interested men of my district. Please send birth date and place and present home address. Examination at West Point, June 17. Unfortunately due to emergency examination expenses of trip must be paid by nominee if he fails examination. Abe McGreggor Goff, M. C." Application details can be obtained from Col. B. H. Hensley, commandant of the university ROTC unit.

Beattie Receives Gift From ASTP

Professor Arthur H. Beattie of the foreign language department this week received two volumes bound in red leather with gold printing containing all issues of his war-time newsletter, "La Voix d'Astude."

The gift was sent to him by some of the 80 members of his Army Specialized Training program French class who studied here and then served with the army in the various theaters of war.

Altogether Prof. Beattie sent out 24 letters in mimeographed form, totaling 256 pages. In them he mentioned such items as the girls they had left behind, and the difficulties of a professor in buying a shirt. He wrote some of the notes in French and some in English.

Sweet Smokes

Smoke pouring from the paper chute and windows of Willis Sweet hall brought Moscow firemen to the dormitory shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Firemen found students battling flames in the bricked-in basement room for waste paper. The sprinkler system did not operate because the lead plug had not been replaced since the last fire, several weeks ago.

The fourth blaze in the chute this semester, it was the second for which the fire department was called.

85 Specialists To Conduct Summer School Courses

Four Guests Named To Teach Summer Music Courses

Four outstanding guest musicians from various parts of the country will supplement the university's resident music staff this summer. Dr. George Dasch will come to the university for the first time as professor of music and conductor of the summer school symphony orchestra. He is assistant conductor of the Chicago Civic Orchestra and professor of music at Northwestern university.

Another newcomer will be Theodore F. Normann, associate professor of music at the University of Washington. Professor Normann will teach a course in "Junior High School Methods" and a seminar in "Music Education."

Claude Smith of Evansville, Ind., will replace Harold Bachman as guest professor of music and director of the summer school band. Robert N. Sedore at Baker university, Baldwin, Kans., will return to Idaho this summer as guest professor of music and director of the summer school.

Professor Sedore took the place of Professor Carl Claus last year when he was on leave of absence from the university.

The third annual Summer Music Camp for high school students will be held during the first three weeks of summer school, June 12 to July 3. This year 200 students are expected to enroll, according to the director, Alvah A. Beecher. Beginning this summer an all-state band, an all-state chorus, and an all-state orchestra will be formed. Other music conferences to be held at the university are the Idaho Music Educators' conference, between June 30 and July 3, and the Idaho Music Teachers' conference, July 17-19.

Week Honors Naval Reserve

Naval Reserve Week, May 18-25 was in full swing this week in Moscow with the navy offering a full variety of programs, exhibits and motion pictures to better acquaint the public with the Naval Reserve and its purposes.

Last night two university students, John Mattmiller and Arlin Stover were presented with medals for bravery before a large crowd at the Moscow High school auditorium.

The Naval Reserve is the civilian branch of the navy composed of veterans and non-veterans. Veterans between the ages of 17 and 64 are eligible for enlistment and non-veterans between the ages of 17 and 40 are being accepted as Reservists.

Under the direction of Lieutenant, J.G. James Dalton, USNR, instructor in civil engineering at the university, the local unit of the Naval Reserve is being organized. At present there are 25 ex-navy vets and eight non-vets enrolled in the local unit.

The local group is to be an Electronics unit.

Class Hears Hagan

Chris A. Hagan, retired pioneer Moscow businessman, addressed a university history class Tuesday on former Idaho governors whom he knows personally.

He also discussed the early history of the university and expressed his confidence in Idaho youth.

Argonaut

A short, but important, meeting of all Argonaut workers will be held this noon at 12:30 in the Argonaut office. A group picture will be taken and sign-up sheets for those people interested in working again next year will be posted.

This includes reporters, the copy desk staff, business and circulation workers. Don't miss it!

Envelopes Reveal Important News At Dinner

Wax dripped slowly from the stately white candles which illuminated the Ridenbaugh dining room. Contagious whispers and sly glances at the four nervous Pine hall guests heightened the expectant air. Stiff white envelopes at each plate offered final proof that another engagement was to be announced.

As soon as grace was finished, each girl eagerly opened the tiny envelope sealed with a delicate rosebud. The announcement was revealed: "Only two more weeks 'til vacation!"

Wellington Visits Idaho Campus

Joseph W. Wellington, of the Office of Experiment Stations of U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., is on the campus for the week.

Mr. Wellington is inspecting accounts and projects of Idaho experiment stations, which are financed by federal funds. These funds include the Hatch, Adams, Purnell, Bankhead, Jones and are appropriated to the states for agriculture research.

The departments which Mr. Wellington will inspect are agriculture, engineering, bacteriology, agriculture chemistry, dairy-husbandry, plant pathology, home economics, animal husbandry, poultry, ectomology, agricultural economic, agronomy and horticulture. This is the first time Mr. Wellington has visited this state since 1932.

WRONG ACCOMPANIST

Frances Schodde, rather than Frances Schaplovisky, was the accompanist at the music recital Tuesday night.

Bucket Boss 'Les' To Teach At Montana State Normal

Howard Leslie, known to Bucket-goers as "Les," is leaving Idaho. Concluding his duties as manager of the Blue Bucket Inn immediately following summer school, Les will travel to Montana State Normal school in Dillon. There he will assume the position of instructor in social sciences.

Aside from his duties as boss of the Blue Bucket for the last three years, "Les," also found time to take a few courses. He will receive his M.S. degree in Education this spring.

Summer will still find him around the Bucket, but to put it into his own words, he plans to "take it easy for a while" after he gets his degree.

For over 20 years a pastor in the Christian church, Mr. Leslie graduated from Phillips university in Oklahoma in 1922. He served as a full time pastor until 1943 in Oklahoma, Missouri and Idaho. His Idaho pastoral work included two years in Emmett and one year in Moscow.

"Les" management of the Blue Bucket has made him a part of time to take a few courses. He will receive his M.S. degree in Education this spring.

Summer school will open with registration on June 12, according to information received from the summer staff. Classes will begin June 13 under an 85-member faculty. The six-weeks term is scheduled to end July 23 while the nine-weeks term ends August 13.

Executive Board Announces New Publication Jobs

With incoming executive board in attendance to observe procedure, the present board unanimously accepted the recommendation of the publication board appointing Art Riddle and Stan Godecke as editor and managing editor of the Argonaut for the next school year.

Other appointments for the paper confirmed by the board were Sharon O'Donnell, business manager, Del Klaus, advertising manager, and Bonnie Miller, circulation manager.

Phil Schnell was appointed associate editor of the Gem of the Mountains. Boyd Hansen was selected to represent the University at the college constitutional convention at Madison, Wis., in August.

Jack Krebbiel was promoted by the action of the board from the yell duke position he has held this year to yell king for the 1947-48 school year. The new yell dukes will be selected at a later date.

Seniors May Obtain Graduation Tickets

Reserved seat tickets for parents and visiting friends of seniors for both baccalaureate and commencement exercises will be distributed at the rehearsal in the gymnasium Saturday morning, May 31.

Each member of the graduating class may secure sufficient tickets for relatives coming to the university for the exercises from Ted Sherman, who is in charge of ushering and seating.

Innovations to the summer terms this year include legal studies for those beginning in law, and special social courses.

Extra-curricular activities that will brighten schooling include band concerts, painting excursions for art students, golf, badminton, tennis, archery, handball, and swimming.

The play "George Washington Slept Here," will be presented under the direction of Miss Jean Collette.

Among the distinguished guest professors returning to the Idaho campus will be Claude Smith as director of the summer concert band, Aubrey Haan as director of the curriculum workshop, and Roben Maaske as instructor in education.

Erickson Selected As Trophy Winner

Laune Erickson, captain of the Idaho boxing team and winner of the 175 pound title in the national collegiate matches at Madison, Wisconsin, polled 98 votes in Thursday's general election to win the Dempsey-Adams Hat athletic trophy.

Presentation of the award will be made at the Idaho State High school track meet on MacLean field Saturday afternoon by "I" Club Queen Jane Thompson.

Laune Erickson, Bill Williams, Merrill Barnes, John Taylor, John Evans and Norman Fredelkind were chosen from all Idaho athletes for the competition by a committee appointed by the executive board.

The trophy, a 22-inch giant, is identical with that offered to outstanding athletes at colleges throughout the country by Jack Dempsey and the Adam Hat company.

Blue Key Pledges Fifteen Men

Pledging of 15 men to Blue Key, national service honorary, was announced yesterday by Ivan Woods, secretary-treasurer of the fraternity.

Those chosen were John Taylor, Jay Gano, Dean Dimison, Jack Menge, Bill Barnes, Boy Eyestone, Paul Wetter, Bob Dahlstrom and Bill Williams.

Others are Bill Sweet, Mike Williamson, Bill Eimers, Bob J'Connor, John Morley, and Carl Newirth.

NROTCs To Hold Picnic Sunday

KUOI will resume transmission at the beginning of the summer session, Ted Cady, station manager, announced today.

Students interested in trying out for announcing or staff positions are asked to call the station before the end of this semester or as soon as possible after the summer session begins. Technicians and announcers are especially needed.

KUOI offers a groundwork for advanced radio work in announcing, program planning and direction, technical work, and clerical work pertaining to the field, Cady added.

Howard Leslie, minister, restaurateur, student, takes on a new position next fall as instructor at Montana State Normal school. Known to many as "Les," he ends a three-year term as manager of the Blue Bucket Inn. Norm McFarr is the customer.

'Elmer Goes To College'

An Editorial in the Form of a One-Act Play
 Characters: Elmer Jones, Elmer's mother, A college professor

Scene One: (A farmhouse in Muskrat Gulch, Idaho)
MOTHER: When you get to college—Elmer! Are you listening?
ELMER: Yes, Mama.
MOTHER: When you get up to that college in Moscow next fall, you remember that you will be on your own.
ELMER: What do you mean, Mama?
MOTHER: Nobody will try to make you do your lessons. They don't care at college if you get good grades or bad grades. You better study when you get to the university.
ELMER: Yes, Mama.
Scene Two: (A university classroom, a few weeks later).
PROF: Now class, before we begin this course we must get one thing straight. If you fail to study, you will undoubtedly flunk; and personally, I don't care whether you do. You see, this is college. It's not high school. If you want an education it's squarely up to you.
Scene Three: (The professor's office, a few months later.)
PROF: What's your name?
ELMER: Elmer Jones, sir.
PROF: What seems to be the trouble?
ELMER: I received a D and I have a B average!
PROF: (hesitatingly) Hmmmm... Let me check the book.
 Yes, that's right.
ELMER: How come?
PROF: You missed six classes during the semester.
ELMER: But I have a grade average of 83 per cent!
PROF: I know. Perhaps I should have stressed the importance of attendance earlier. I hope you understand that the practice of lowering grades because of absenteeism is our only way of maintaining student interest.
ELMER: But—
PROF: Indeed, I'm sorry. Now will you excuse me? I have several other conferences this hour.
 (Curtain, slowly drawn.) —S.H.G.

Investment In The Future

The influx of students into American colleges is not over. Educators see a marked increase coming in college enrollments for at least three more years until in 1950 an estimated 3,000,000 students will be attending colleges and universities in the United States. When compared with the pre-war enrollment of 1,500,000 it appears that the big test of education is far from being over.

Some experts say that institutions of higher learning must expand their physical plants by 93 per cent if they are to meet this peak enrollment in the future. Since most colleges and universities are carrying on with the same buildings they had before the war plus a few temporary projects, a large expansion will be necessary. The experts estimate that nearly five and a half billion dollars will have to be spent in providing facilities for the possible 3,000,000 students.

More and more, the American people are realizing that education is the foundation of a true democracy and that the two terms are almost synonymous. The increase in college and university enrollment in the next few years will present a definite challenge to institutions of higher learning. Additions and improvements needed may reach a point where the value of the nation's colleges will be nearly triple the present valuation of $3,000,000,000. Democracy will have invested wisely, for "by their fruits you shall know them."

DON'T QUOTE ME

By GENE ROSE

The excitement created by the arrival of the new football coaching staff from the south (Dixie Howell and assistants) has partially obscured the glories of another new Idaho coach.

Track Coach Stan Hiserman came to Moscow last September via Gonzales Union high school in California. He was selected by President Buchanan and the Board of Regents to guide an inexperienced, untested track team through one of its toughest schedules in many years. Also he was replacing a truly great coach, Mike Ryan.

Look at . . . the schedule the Vandals have had to face this year. Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State, Montana—that's some competition. But to date, the Vandals have fared well on the cinders. After losing their opener to Oregon, the tracksters then nosed out Oregon State in a thriller.

After a week's rest the Vandals were blasted by the powerful Washington Huskies. But, after all, who besides Washington State hasn't been trounced by the Huskies?

Last Saturday the Idaho trackmen downed Montana in another thriller to make their conference record for the season stand at two wins and two losses.

Just credit . . . a large share of this success to Hiserman. From all reports gathered from the tracksters themselves, the handsome young coach has certainly captured the confidence of his track team. This has definitely been indicated by the times that runners have participated in the mile relay after having already run in two or three events previous to the final event.

Anyway, win, lose or draw in Washington State this afternoon, this columnist believes that the addition of Hiserman to the coaching staff has and will prove an asset to future Idaho athletics.

Our neighboring . . . Washington State Cougar baseball team owes a little thanks to the Vandals for helping them to the Northern division pennant.

During the second half of the race, the Vandals have practically assured the Cougars the pennant by defeating Oregon State twice to eliminate them from the race; downing Oregon once and thus lowering their hopes of another title; and then by splitting with the Washington Huskies who were leading the league when they arrived in Moscow.

Dave Chadwick . . . is a boy that you want to watch when you go out to the state interscholastic track meet Saturday. This prep star is a speed merchant that every coach in the Northern division is after.

Chadwick recently broke three records in a single meet for the Snake River Valley conference down in south Idaho. He runs the 100- and 220-yard dashes and broad jumps, so keep your eyes on him.

Trackmen Meet Touted Cougars This Afternoon

University of Idaho trackmen will travel to Pullman this afternoon to meet the undefeated Washington State Cougars in their last dual meet of the season.

The highly-favored Cougars have defeated Washington, Oregon, Oregon State, and Montana; the Vandals have defeated Oregon State, Montana, and Gonzaga, and lost to Oregon and Washington.

The Vandals will be strong in the sprints, high hurdles, 880-yard run, high jump, broad jump, and shotput, but the Cougars will hold an edge in all other events.

Washington State's relay team has the fastest time of any quartet in the conference this season.

Fresh Leads Squad . . . Dick Armstrong, sensation freshman, will lead the Idaho squad today. Two weeks ago, he tied the school record of 9.8 seconds in the 100-yard dash and last week, he broke a thirty-one year old record in the 220-yard dash, touring the distance in 21.5 seconds, and was clocked at 49 seconds in the first lap of the mile relay.

Another freshman, Norman Farnham, will carry the Vandal's hopes in the 880; Jim Merry and Jay Gano in the high jump; Ted Lake and John Taylor in the hurdles; Ross Walker and Lew Williams in the broadjump; and Dean Lewis and Lyle Fagnan in the weights.

Miller Injured . . . Vandal Coach Stan Hiserman announced that the team would be in top strength in all events except the mile. Art Humphrey, Idaho's top miler, is suffering from a leg injury which will probably keep him out of competition for the remainder of the season.

Six Schools Meet Tomorrow In Golf Tourney

Northern division golf will see its last match of the season tomorrow when the visiting teams from Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State, Montana and Idaho tee off in chase of the Northern division championships on the Idaho golf course.

Last year's defending champions, University of Washington will send a strong team as will the University of Oregon who is undefeated in 10 matches to date, and are boasted as potential national champions.

Stafford to Play . . . Leading the great Oregon team will be Lou Stafford and Glen Spivey. Stafford is undefeated to date, and was runner-up to Smiley Guick of the Walker Cup team in last year's National Public Links tourney. Spivey posted a 11 under par 133 total to win the recent Oregon open golf tourney.

Due to the Northern division golf championships which will be held tomorrow on the University golf course, Frank James has announced that regular play will be held up until the final nine holes of the tournament are underway.

Second place team in regular play, Washington, will send a four-man team bolstered by the play of Jim Mallory who recently fired a seven under par 63 to break the course record at Washington State during a match.

The fine play of John Frey and Ralph Dicker has brought the Oregon State team up near the top.

Darkhorse . . . Darkhorse spot in the tournament will be shared by both Idaho and their neighbors from Pullman. The Vandals, who are recent victors over the Cougars, will send an inexperienced but improving team of four men, led by Captain John Morley.

Leading Washington State will be Jack Daniel and Ron Pozzi who alternate at playing number one man for the Cougars.

The championships will all be conducted by medal play scores and will begin at 8 a. m. The afternoon round is scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m.

Over 125 Prepsters Invade Moscow For State Interscholastic Meet

Elaborate plans for Idaho's 1947 state interscholastic track and field championships, which will be held on MacLean field tomorrow, have been made by university athletic officials and Moscow civic leaders.

Over 125 high school athletes—the best from Idaho's six district meets—will converge on the university for the event, and according to commitments, it will be the most colorful ever staged at MacLean field.

Temporary Bleachers . . . George Greene, university athletic director, who is in charge of the affair, has stated that temporary bleachers would be installed on the south bank of the field to accommodate the large crowd expected.

All contestants will be housed in Pine hall, university dormitory, during their stay on campus, and entertainment is being planned for the athletes.

Trophies will be awarded the championship and runner-up teams, the two winning relay teams, and the school with the most participants and the team which boasts the highest individual scorer. Medals will be given individuals scoring firsts, seconds, and thirds in all events.

Awards Offered . . . Jane Thompson, attractive club queen, will present the medals at the conclusion of each event.

Winning relay teams and second place winners in all other events in district meets will be eligible for the state championships, it was reported.

Weiser high school won state honors last year, with Rupert placing second and Lewiston third.

Vandals Meet WSC In Pullman Today

Idaho's baseball Vandals will move to Pullman this afternoon for a game with the league-leading Washington State Cougars.

The two teams will end the 1947 Northern division conference season when they meet in Moscow Monday afternoon.

Coach Guy Wicks has announced that he will start Lefty Auer on the mound for the Vandals today. Auer has a season's record of two wins and four losses.

The red-hot Vandals who started the season with eight straight losses have won four of their last six starts and Wicks is expecting the Vandals to take a game from the Cougars.

Mural Dope

Sigma Nu, placing first in 4 events along with seconds and thirds, completely dominated the intramural track meet, amassing a total of 164 points. Others to finish well up in the running were Willis Sweet, 121; Alpha Tau Omega, 119; Delta Chi, 110; and Phi Delta Theta, 92.

"It was one of the most successful intramural track events ever held on the campus. Nearly 700 spectators were on hand the first evening to witness the meet," asserted Leon Green, intramural director.

Several old records were smashed during the 3 day running. In the 660 yard run, Boyd Freeman, Beta Theta Pi, was timed at 1 minute and 28 seconds, clipping 7 seconds off the old record of 1:35 minutes held by Phinney, PDT.
