THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1947

Vandal Eleven, 1947 Edition, Faces Opener Tomorrow

News reached Jason today that Vandal Boosters, Inc., have collected over $10,000 for Idaho's football fund. An organization formed within the last few months, Vandal Boosters, Inc., is going all-out for Idaho, for the Vandals, and for Dixie Howell. How can we remain at the bottom of the conference ladder long with an organization like that behind us?

The Vandal team will have the lightest backfield and line in the Pacific coast circuit according to tentative "first teams" lists announced by conference coaches. Dixie's "first" line averages 194, while his backs average 176.

Southern Cal boasts the heaviest line with the Trojans weighing in at 221 pounds per man.

Defense Measures

The Argonaut was reminded of Idaho's "military" expansion yesterday when it sent a reporter to cover the school's armed forces. Sent from one office to another, he ended up by "going through channels." And, believe it or not, he was finally sent to see the PRO. That's Public Relations Officer to the non-veterans on the campus.

Jason and his staff are awaiting the decision of the Associated Women Students under President Donna Chapman as to whether freshmen women may take part in activities during their first nine weeks.

The efficiency of the Argonaut, as well as many other campus organizations, depends upon these eager newcomers.

Army Assigns Nine To Idaho ROTC

Colonel B. H. Hensley, Professor of Military Science and Tactics has announced that the War Department has assigned the following personnel to the newly activated air ROTC unit at the university: Major Edward E. Lundak, asst. PMS & T for air, Captains Robert L. Jones and S. L. Olson, assistant professors. New military instructors include, M/Sgt. Theodore H. Johnson, T/Sgt. Glen K. Devereaux, and S/Sgt. Robert J. Goin.

In addition to the newly assigned air corps personnel, the following officer and enlisted men have been assigned to the infantry ROTC: Captain Conrad R. Underdahl, a graduate of this university in the class of 1940 and a resident of Moscow, M/Sgt. Douglas M. Clure and T/Sgt. Elvin C. Hopper, who replaces M/Sgt. Jefferson D. Morgan, who taught here for ten years and who has been reassigned to duty in Hawaii.

All ROTC training in the first and second year elementary courses is at present being conducted in Branch Immaterial. Upon completion of the elementary course or if the student has had one year of military service he may now elect to take the advanced course in infantry or air corps. Upon graduation from the advanced course (air) students may elect to be commissioned in the air corps Administrative and Military Management branch of the Officer's Reserve Corps.

TKE Cannon Booms

The desecrated TKE cannon, long a campus menace, will blow up again on October 4 at the Homecoming game in the pre-game ceremonies when it will salute the raising of Old Glory.

Homecoming officials hope the cannon will boom forth again later in the day to herald a Vandal victory.

NAVY DOCTOR HERE

Lieutenant Ambuel, here from the Bremerton navy yard in connection with examination of NROTC students, was the guest of Dr. Harold Cramer, university physician, at a dinner meeting of the north Idaho district medical association at Lewiston Wednesday.

New Annual Editor Announces Plans

Elizabeth Robinson, editor of the Gem announces that in accordance with a new policy the Gem staff hopes to have the year-books out before school is out next spring.

Anyone interested in taking snapshots or photographs for the Gem should contact Don Roberts at the SAE house as soon as possible.

New staff appointments will be announced in the next week or so. Work will start on the class and house pictures beginning September 25 at Hutchinson's and Sterners' studios. When the sign-up schedules are released it is hoped that every student will sign up, keep his appointment and choose his proofs as soon as possible. This will enable the deadlines to be met. If pictures are not taken by the deadline times, students' pictures will not appear in the book.

Veterans To Pay Insurance Here

University veterans who are keeping the G.I. insurance may now pay their premiums each month at the sub-regional office in downtown Moscow and avoid the delay in getting their receipts, according to word received from the Veterans Administration.

The VA maintains a staff of two bonded secretaries to receive insurance premiums and to issue receipts upon payment. To avoid mistakes it is necessary that the veteran come in to the office in person to make his premium payment.

Arnold Appointed

Margaret Arnold, secretary of the ASUI executive board, was appointed to the publications board Wednesday by Walt Smith, ASUI president.

Other members of the publications board, which controls all ASUI publications are Paul Scott, head of the department of journalism, Gale Mix, graduate manager, and Smith.

Student Spirit Promises Elaborate Homecoming

Homecoming Chairman Bert Sorenson yesterday announced the names of chairmen for seven homecoming committees. A meeting was held Wednesday in the Blue Bucket Inn to discuss plans for the Queen contest to get underway immediately.

Committee chairmen named were as follows: general chairman, Bert Sorenson; assistant chairman, Roland Fournay Tipsworth; publicity co-chairmen, Newton Cutler and George Dehman; house decorations, Betty Tellin; dance decorations, Mary Sue Tovey; parade, Barbara Bedwell; queen contest, Joe Shinn; dance tickets, Jack Taylor; and rally, Keith Adams.

Request Candidates

Candidates for Homecoming Queen will be chosen by the men's living groups and turned into Joe Shinn, contest chairman before Wednesday September 24. The committee requests that these names be in as soon as possible in order that pictures may be taken for publication in the Argonaut. A beauty parade of queen candidates will be held before the fireworks at Neale stadium, Friday, October 3. Dixie Howell and the Vandals will be there at that time to choose the winning candidate.

Floats and house decorations for homecoming celebrations must be completed by Friday, October 3. Winning decorations will be chosen Saturday, October 4 during the parade. Judging of winning decorations will be based upon ingenuity and participation rather than on how closely the theme is followed.

Villagers To Hold Safety, Health Meeting Soon

A meeting for all residents of the West Sixth Veterans Village to be held in Navy 105 is tentatively scheduled for the second week of school. A notice of the final date of this meeting will be mailed in the near future.

The purpose of the meeting is the election of directors and consideration of new projects in Safety and health. Steps taken last year to meet the menace of speeders in the village included the reporting of license numbers of violators to W. H. Cornish, housing director and the maintenance of a voluntary safety campaign with the slogan "10 Miles Per Hour—Children Must Be Seen, Not Hurt."

Lt. Jack Carver, chairman of the board requests the cooperation of all visitors and village residents in regard to the speed limit of 10 miles per hour within the village.

The board of directors, composed of Mrs. Sue Christiansen, Lt. Jack Carver and Harold Barnes, extends a welcome "Hello" to all newcomers to the village in behalf of former residents.

Autos Oughta All Be Austins

There may be a national shortage of automobiles, but it wasn't apparent yesterday morning on the campus.

Anyone who gets to work as early as President Buchanan ordinarily has his choice of parking spots in back of the Administration building. Yesterday, the university head parked his vehicle down by the Memorial gymnasium and was fortunate to find a spot that close.

Automobiles lined the curbs throughout the residence area and past the gymnasium up the road to the golf course. The actual count of vehicles owned by students won't be available until registration is completed, but the figure may assume the same ratio as at Washington State college where they estimate 1500 cars for the 750 parking spaces available.

Trial Run

"The university, which has long prided itself in providing board for its students at the lowest cost of any institution in this part of the country, isn't going to raise board bills until a trial run this fall proves beyond any question that we just can't make it on $1.25 a day," said President J. E. Buchanan following a discussion of board rates by the university operations council. "The operations council recommended that we operate at the present rate for a sufficient test period to obtain a complete analysis under the current food costs."

"In dormitory operation a nickel a day amounts to big money during the year," explains Robert F. Greene, director of dormitories. "In our case, an increase of five cents per day would mean more than $1,500 a month. We will try to operate at the present rates, and will not increase them unless the trial run clearly shows it is necessary to avoid a deficit."

A recent survey of board costs at other institutions in the northwest indicates the University of Idaho is entering the fall term with a dormitory board schedule 10 to 25 cents a day below the others.

Spurs To Finish Year Of Service

Last year's Spurs made plans for rounding off their year's service at a meeting called by Jan Garber, president, at Gamma Phi Beta last Wednesday. The Spurs will assist the I club in selling refreshments at the game this Saturday.

Plans are under way for initiation of the new Spurs on Sunday, Sept. 28. Initiation will be followed by an afternoon party in honor of the initiates. Election of new Spur officers will take place some time during the preceding week.

Possible Starters For Vandal Season Opener

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Neale stadium this group of Idaho footballers may be the starting lineup which Coach Dixie Howell will pit against the College of Puget Sound. The line reads from left to right, Ed McPaul, end; Carl Killsgaard, tackle; Jack Dana, guard; Ralph Paasch, center; Win Bishop, guard; Will Overgard, tackle; and Orville Barnes, end. The backs include Carl Munson, behind Paasch, who has been shifted from quarterback to right halfback; Gerry Diehl, Willard Beitz and John Christensen.

High Prices Fail To Stop Low-Cost, High-Class Chow

Steadily rising food costs may win a victory this fall over the university's low-cost dormitory feeding program—but Idaho hasn't thrown in the towel yet.

In setting up the schedule for the coming year, dormitory board was placed at $1.25 per day. This rate is the same as last year for men, and a 25 cent daily increase for women, who previously have enjoyed the differential on the theory they ate less than men.

Last year, the men's halls barely broke even at $1.25 a day—the women's halls were forced to draw on cafe operating reserves.

At the time the original $1.25 rate was set, food costs were still under control of the OPA. It was felt that following a sharp temporary rise in prices after the release from OPA control, food costs would decline to the control level or lower. Experience has proved this theory false, and recent price increases have disrupted the original planning basis.

Delts Robbed Second Time

Although many of the returning students have barely had time to unpack their bags, a night prowler got away with $163 at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity early yesterday morning.

Police officials investigating the theft placed the time of the theft between 2 a.m. when a rushing chapter meeting was concluded and 6 a.m. when a number of men rose to begin registration. The money was taken from a room at the head of the stairway.

KUOI Finds Donor In Emergency

Harry Lamson had just placed a record on the turn-table when he received an emergency call to KUOI from alumni secretary Jim Lyle, asking that a special announcement be put on the air that a volunteer blood donor was needed at Gritman hospital immediately.

The announcement had been on the air but an hour when the hospital requested that the call for blood donors be ended. The wife of a former student with the proper blood type had been found and the transfusion had been given.

This was the second successful KUOI broadcast for a blood donor. The first was in February.

Boilers Retired After 35 Years

The antique market is due for a boost soon with the retirement of two 35-year-old boilers from the university central heating plant.

To replace the ancient equipment, the school has advertised for bids on the construction of a new boiler which will nearly double the present heating capacity.

When the availability of the type of boiler desired is assured, the building housing the heating plant will be re-designed and altered to accommodate this and future expansion on a $250,000 long range planning basis.

Miss Collette Urges Dramatists Tryout

With three major productions in the planning, Miss Jean Collette has issued a call for all those interested in acting, make-up, stage crew or other theatrical work to report to the university auditorium on September 24 and 25 at 7 p.m.

The cast for the fall play which is to be started about October 1, as well as the casts for the other two productions this year, will be chosen from those attending these tryouts.

Dixie Howell Honored By School Tomorrow

Idaho's gridiron season will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Neale stadium when Dixie Howell's Vandals clash with the College of Puget Sound's 35-man squad. Saturday has been declared "Dixie Howell Day" in honor of the university's head football coach.

'Blot' To Receive ASUI Backing; Staff Approved

Executive board action Wednesday made Blot, the campus magazine, another ASUI publication. The magazine will continue with ASUI backing for one year.

One year subscriptions to the quarterly are being sold in registration line this week. Copies will be delivered after each publication date directly by representatives in the living groups and by mail.

This year's staff, as approved by the publications board, includes Maurice Paulsen, editor; Newton Cutler, managing editor; Henry Behrman, business manager; Don Utter, circulation manager; Dick Dell, fiction editor; June Thomas, feature editor. Rafe Gibbs of the university publications department, is faculty adviser.

A meeting of staff members and others interested in working on the magazine is being called Tuesday, September 23, at 4 p.m. in the Argonaut office in the student union building. Additional staff positions will be filled, assignments made, and plans mapped for the coming year.

Deadline for material for the first issue, which will appear October 17, is September 26.

Blue Bucket Boasts New Co-managers

"Idaho students will receive better, more efficient service" at the Blue Bucket Inn, one of the campus' favorite eating places, voiced Jack Maguire, Norman and Roger McHan, new co-managers of the famed Inn.

The change of management was a result of the resignation of H. W. Leslie, former energetic manager of the Bucket who is now teaching sociology at Montana State Normal school.

Checks Arrive November 1

First G.I. checks to veterans attending the university are not expected until early in November, the VA has announced.

The time lapse between date of enrollment and receipt of the first subsistence check involves two factors: a veteran is not entitled to subsistence allowance until he has been in training for 30 days, and all checks are mailed on the first of the month, covering allowances due for the previous month.

Vandal Halfback Injured

The three men have the Bucket running smoothly enough to satisfy even the Vandal training table which they are serving.

Dept. Revises Education Booklet

"Preparation For Educational Service in the School of Education" is the title of a new booklet published by the education department. The book is a complete revision to meet the new Idaho state teacher certification requirements.

Major teaching programs have been revised to provide for an optional fifth year. Four year programs lead to the standard certificate. Completion of the optional fifth year will give the student a certified and administrator's credentials.

VA Changes Policy For Summer Terms

New leave policies of the Veterans Administration will permit unbroken subsistence payments to veterans going to college after September 1 and continuing their studies under an accelerated program.

Veterans will be paid full subsistence pay during time between terms, provided there are no more than 15 days between such terms. Such leaves will be charged against their entitlement.

On the Vandal doubtful list is Halfback John Christensen, above, who may sit out the game tomorrow because of a knee injury suffered in practice. The shifty Christensen was slated to start for Dixie Howell's boys at the left halfback spot.

Watch Out For Optimism

The University of Idaho? Oh yes, they are supposed to have a new coach this year. So goes the main topic of conversation these days. Whether or not a new coach can make a winning team with the same material we had last year isn't the point we're thinking of. We shouldn't lose sight of the fact that the rating of any university should not depend entirely on its ability to turn out winning athletic teams.

A condition exists in this country at the present time where potential athletes as well as students judge a school too much by its conference rating rather than by its academic rating.

We're not apologizing for the facts at all. It is hard to hold back the ever-present optimism that is so prevalent around the campus this year. One point everyone should take into consideration is that it takes time to build a winning team.

With all the publicity Dixie is getting we still say we wouldn't want to be in his shoes. His biggest and loudest boosters now will be his biggest and loudest critics if things remain the way they have been for Idaho teams. —G.D.

'Women In Sleeping Cars'

When traveling on the railway cars, a man can get into a berth and snuck himself very comfortably. He can stand on his knees and duck his head and take off some of his clothes, and then he can lie down on his shoulders or the back of his neck and kick off other articles of wearing apparel, because when the buttons are unbuttoned his clothes are as liable to come off in the dark as in the light.

But it is different with a woman. Her clothes are pinned on with all kinds of pins, from the safety pin to the darned needle, tied on with strings, hooked on with hooks and eyes, buckled on with buckles, and put on in many ways only known to the fair sex.

Give her a large enough room, three or four gas lamps and a large mirror, and plenty of time, and she can find nearly all the pins, strings, hooks and eyes, buckles, etc., and what she can't find she can break at night and tie up in the morning; but place her in a small berth, in the dark, with only one or two eyes to watch all the holes in the curtain to see if anybody is looking, and only two small hands to find things to unfasten, and she is in a bad box.

Heard . . . Or Seen

Gus Stewart of the Fijis is still in like Flynn with KKG Joan Litchfield but he is still modest when his "pals" dub him LOVAH as he meanders down the street with his sweetie.

If the present situation continues very long the married population will certainly outnumber the singles. Frinstance, ever since we returned from our pleasant summer all we've been reading are the engagement or wedding announcements of our beloved schoolmates.

If you've been watching the bus terminal lately you probably saw a cute little trick come in from Helena, Montana. Right now she's staying at the Idaho Club (Remember, it's for women now) and was overheard saying, "Gosh, I wish I knew someone around here." There's a clue for you, you lonely sleuths.

Bob Briggs of the Tekes has an antidote for the women and their early twenties styles. He advocates for Sunday dress: Long skirts for the women, sockless feet for the gents.

Hawkshaw Lou Dunson of Chrisman hall has been tearing his hair out recently trying to trace down the gal who's been calling Jim Reid on the wireless (phone to you newcomers.) What's the scoop, Lou?

 Col. Lewis Norman, of the university military staff in the late '30s, is professor of military science and tactics at the University of Toledo, and is organizing the first reserve officers training corps the university has had.

UNIVERSITY COW IS CHAMP
 A state production record has been made by a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by the university, the Holstein-Friesian Association of America announced recently.

Idaho Fobes Alda is the new champion, with the production of 537 pounds of butterfat from 15,284 pounds of milk a year.

New Students Find Campus 'Swell,' 'Beautiful,' 'Rainy'

To determine the general opinion held by new students of the university campus, the Argonaut recently conducted a poll among several of the fraternities, sororities, men's and women's halls. The question asked was as follows: "What do you think of the Idaho campus?" Below is the list of answers obtained:

Ann Schwertley of Boise, who is staying at the Gamma Phi house, says—"I think it is very lovely here. There is an extra friendly spirit among the students."

However, Ed Neal, also of Boise, and who is living with the Kappa Sigis, expresses a slightly different opinion—"It is rather wet. I suppose the campus would be a beautiful place if the sun would shine."

Third in the group questioned was Mickey Martin of Burke who has made his present headquarters at the Sigma Nu house. He volunteered the following: "I think it is very nice. The buildings are situated in a fine spot where everything is convenient."

When asked what she thought of the campus, Jackie Mitchell of Idaho Falls, who is living in the Kappa Kappa Gamma house, said very bluntly: "I like it a lot and it is very pretty."

Mildred Sprute, Grangeville, who is now at Hays hall, stated her opinion in two very descriptive sentences: "I think it is swell. Everything is swell and everything."

George Doolittle, Twin Falls, who has taken up living quarters at Sweet hall, answered the reporter thusly: "I think the campus is a pretty one and I really like it."

Patty Baker of Orofino, who is residing at Biddenbaugh hall, gives out with the following: "I think it is fine and I'm looking forward to meeting a lot of new kids."

GRAD IS MISSIONARY
 Alumnus Des Maraid, 1927, is going strong since the war in missionary work in the jungles of Burma. A classmate of President Buchanan's, he wrote that if the president had visited any one of the three Burmese jails while he was overseas, he would have found him there, imprisoned by the Japanese.

Large Field To Enter ASUI Golf Tourney; Morley Defending Champ

James Urges Participants To Register Early

Qualifying rounds for the ASUI flight golf tournament will get underway Sunday, September 28 at 8:30 a.m., it was announced today by university pro Frank James. James was expecting a large turnout for the annual event, and stressed the fact that anyone entering should signify his intentions of doing so beforehand.

"The tournament is an annual affair, and is open to any person attending the University of Idaho, regardless of intercollegiate eligibility or what school class they are in," James said. James indicated that the tourney would be run off as soon as qualifying rounds are over. "We are rushing the tournament this year because of the coming cold weather, and this will require the cooperation of everybody planning to enter," he added.

The dapper little professional who has constructed over 100 golf courses in the West, requested that everyone interested in golf enter the tournament regardless of skill. There will be as many flights as players, and prizes in all flights. Last year, there were five flights.

Morley Back

Defending champion, John Morley of Idaho Falls will be on hand to turn back all comers as will be last year's runnerup, Don Bullock. Morley and Bullock will be pressed by such leading golfers as Moscow's Perry Miller, Frank McGinnis and Jack Walton. Another leading Moscow contender will be diminutive Bud Brown, the little giant of the North Idaho links. Leading the South Idaho contingent will be such link stars as Gene Rodwell and the Idaho State American Legion junior champion, Dale Faylor of Nampa.

There will be 32 players in the championship flight, and all championship matches are scheduled to go 36 holes. James has an individual trophy and a permanent possession trophy for the winner of the championship flight. The champ will receive the individual trophy and have his name inscribed on the James trophy donated by the pro. Former champions beside Morley include Wally Schultz, Tom Ryan and Bullock.

New Coaches Visit Group

The Moscow or Latah county unit of the state-wide Vandal Booster organization today heard reports on the fund raising committee activity after the first few days of a drive to raise money for the support of Idaho athletic teams at a meeting at the Moscow hotel this noon.

In addition, talks by two members of the university's athletic faculty—Charles (Chuck) Finley, basketball coach, and Dr. Norman Jacobson, trainer—were on the program. Both discussed their activities in their new positions and were introduced by George Greene, Idaho director of athletics. About 50 local businessmen were on hand for the weekly meeting, which was conducted by President Joseph McCown.

Green Enlarging Mural Program

Ken Butler

Pictured above is Ken Butler, who last year led the University of Idaho boxers to a tie for the national title at the NCAA boxing meet.

An extensive program in intramurals is being planned by Leon Green, intramural director. Toward this end a meeting of all intramural managers will be held Tuesday, September 23 at 4:15 in Memorial gym, Room 107. A representative from each living group must be present to enter a team for his group and to obtain group eligibility sheets plus other information. Touch football is slated to get underway September 29 with volleyball following later in the fall.

In last year's competition, Sigma Nu emerged top dog and thereby claimed the intramural trophy for the third consecutive time. This gave them permanent possession of the trophy. Sigma Chi, Delta Chi, Kappa Sigma, ATO, and Willis Sweet gave the winners a close chase last year and each is determined to come out on top this year. In winning the trophy last year the Sigma Nus won touch football, volley ball, basketball and track. Sigma Chi won the swimming meet; Delta Chi won horseshoes with Lindley Hall; Kappa Sigma won softball; Phi Delta Theta won the golf tournament; and Alpha Tau Omega and Chrisman hall shared first place in table tennis. Plaques will be awarded to the teams winning each sport as soon as they arrive.

Idaho Swim Coach Producer Of Fine Washington Teams

Idaho students are welcoming a new addition to their athletic department. He is Eric Kirkland who last year was chief recreation director at Port Townsend, Washington. During the war Kirkland was coach at the University of Washington and had charge of that school's V-12 swimming program. Although he was not with the Huskies last year, nearly half of the men to give that team the conference championship were trained by Kirkland the year before.

Since he is planning a strenuous intermural swimming program he will not start team practice until later in the year. However, he is extremely interested in talking to any aspirant who hopes to turn out. Kirkland expressed hope that many freshmen who have a desire to swim will contact him in the near future. Kirkland does not know who will be returning from last year's team, but said that the team would probably be led by Moscow's Kenny Lyons, a fine spring and distance freestyler, who also can be called upon to garner points in the backstroke races. Tom Edvard of Nampa who won the senior 40, 80 and 100 yard backstroke events at Nampa this summer is also enrolled in school and will swim as a freshman.

... Pacing The Sidelines ...

By THE TEXAN

Notre Dame, Michigan and Penn! That's the way the top football teams of the country will finish the 1947 season, according to Francis Wallace, the athletic director of the University of Idaho. He makes his Saturday Evening Post's gridiron "prophet." He makes his annual forecast of football trends, leading teams and players in "Pigskin Preview" in the September 14 issue of the Saturday Evening Post with the help of a panel of more than 200 coaches, writers, publicists and other football specialists. After Penn in the national rating Mr. Wallace places in order: L.S.U., Rice, Yale, U.C.L.A., North Carolina University, Georgia, Texas, Alabama, Ohio State, Tennessee, Illinois, Stanford, Iowa University, Georgia Tech, Army, Navy and Oregon State.

West Coast That gives the west coast a very small representation in the top brackets. U.C.L.A. is the only team rated by Mr. Wallace in the top ten. Stanford and O.S.C. are floundering around way down the line, in positions that at one time would have been an insult. This brings back the old argument about abandoning football during the war completely like most of the Pacific coast schools elected to do. The results were forecast by many, and it will take just that many more years of hard work to bring the Pacific coast up to the rest of the nation in football power.

Another interesting feature of Mr. Wallace's article states that he rates Utah as the leading contender in the Rocky Mountain area. Dixie Howell and his Idaho Vandals play an engagement at Boise November 22 against this same Utah team.

All Men Speaking of Dixie Howell, the former Alabama All-American and his staff have really separated the men from the boys on the varsity football team. Last spring they started on something like 90 men and boys, and by game time will have thinned the ranks to something like 40 players, all men. And those men left out are the kind that come out of their caves only for football practice and games. But seriously, Howell said that he was well satisfied with the spirit and enthusiasm shown by his players.

John Christensen, Vandal halfback who wears No. 7, has acquired the name of "Dreamboy." According to Fullback Sam Theis, Chris even looks like Ned Brant, the dream boy of the comic strip.

Basketball Coach Chuck Finley will take his Vandal court stars to Los Angeles during the Christmas holidays to play in the first annual Los Angeles Interscholastic Basketball tournament, December 26, 27 and 29. The Idaho boys will run into some of the nation's finest teams, including Brigham Young, West Texas State, Marshall college, University of Nevada, and host Pepperdine College of Los Angeles.

Carrot Crop Saved By U. Action

Carrot bacterial blight, which threatened the state's growing carrot seed industry in 1942 and 1943, has fallen before the action of university agricultural experiment stations and the state's seed companies.

Seed treated in hot water to kill bacteria and planted on ground that had not been used for carrots before produced a clean seed crop. Fields formerly used for carrots produced a crop with 15 to 60 per cent of the heads infected, even when treated seed was used.

TECH MEN WIN AWARDS Farragut Tech recently presented award sweaters to 14 athletes and similar awards were presented to four members of the Farragut News, school paper.

All-American Chuck Finley To Coach Vandal Hoopers

The University of Idaho added another All-American player with a flair for developing championship teams to its athletic coaching staff last summer. He is Charles L. (Chuck) Finley, whose naval air station basketball team, composed of recruits with only high school training, in 1944 beat the famous Oklahoma Aggies two games out of three. During the past 10 years he has coached at high school, college and professional levels.

Idaho's new basketball coach is one of the country's leading "students" of the game. He is author of the booklet, "A Basketball Scouting Chart," widely used in appraising the other fellow's team. One eastern basketball official who has handled national intercollegiate basketball tournaments for years, handed Finley this bouquet: "I've seen Chuck put all the hot-shot basketball experts to shame with his analysis of games." "For several months George Greene, our director of athletics, has been corresponding with coaches, college officials, sports writers, and others to get a line on the best possible candidates for the Idaho position. We had dozens of applications. The field narrowoutstanding, the university athletic committee was equally influenced by the many testimonials to his ability as a teacher and to his wholesome influence on youth. He certainly would blush if he could read all the flattering things his former players, coaching associates and sports writers said about him." His life time record shows that as a player and coach he was on the winning side 772 times, on the losing side 106 times. He has never associated with a losing club.
