All Moscow Jams Station To Welcome Wonderful Team

No one can ever say again that Idaho has no school spirit. Not after yesterday's rally.

Idaho's students have long been looking for an outlet for their high spirits, but it's difficult to arouse enthusiasm for a losing team. Especially when the team loses year after year.

Saturday proved that this year's team is different. It also provided an outlet for Idaho's long pent-up school spirit. Monday's rally was an example of that spirit.

Moscow Scene

For the benefit of the team members who were somewhat busy Saturday afternoon, Jason would like to describe Idaho's campus on that day.

Streets and sidewalks on the University grounds were deserted as if by a pestilence. Scarcely a student was stirring. However, every radio in the Inland Empire must have been tuned to the Idaho-Stanford game.

Jason has yet to discover a student who was not listening to and rooting for his team.

After the Idaho victory, bedlam broke loose in Moscow. The deserted streets were suddenly filled with thousands of honking autos, cheering students, and happy Moscovites.

It will be several weeks before the city returns to its usual calm repose after Saturday's celebration and Monday's rally.

Traditional Challenge

Tom Matthews and Jean Baumgarten, WSC student president and Evergreen editor, respectively, challenged ASUI President Walt Smith and Arg Editor Jason with the possibility of a nine-mile walk this week.

The actual challenge with its answer appears elsewhere in this issue.

Jason is certain, as is Smith, that

One Of These Candidates Will Be Homecoming Queen

Selected by campus men's living groups to vie for the honor of reigning over the Homecoming weekend were these nineteen coeds. One will be chosen queen by the football team. The candidates are: Seated, left to right: Retha Ingraham, Lela Gardner, Barbara Bedwell, Mary Jane Breier, Maxine Galvin, Janet Love, June Reed, Jo Ann Elam; standing, left to right: Lois Winner, Alice Hoobing, Phyllis Moran, Christy Sargent, Daryl Canfield, Rosemary Andries, Beverly Heinrich, Joan Litchfield, Gladys Taufen, Joan Churchman, and Bonnie Scott.

Executive Board Approves $500,000, 3-Story, North Wing For SUB

Plans for an addition to the present student union building, instead of a new building, drawn up by the student-faculty student union committee were approved by the ASUI executive board last week.

H. E. Lattig, chairman of the committee, reported the proposed plan for a new building on Blake avenue, approved by the Board of regents, would cost one million dollars. "Such an outlay seems prohibitive. It would mortgage income from student fees for the next 25 years and rule out any other major student-financed project."

Architects estimate the 160,000 cubic feet of space in the present building would cost between $165,000 and $200,000 in the new building. This cost is being saved by adding a north wing that will double the space in the present building at a minimum expense.

Facilities Provided

Preliminary drawings indicate that such a new structure would provide for the following:

1. Basement—8 bowling alleys, a hobby and crafts room, pool tables, billiard and tennis tables. Storage.
2. First floor—a large foyer, lobby, kitchen with storage, information desk, locker room for town men, powder room, offices for union manager, graduate manager, alumni secretary. Barber shop, if desired.
3. Second floor—a little theater, reading room, small lobby, two large banquet rooms joined to the present ballroom by movable sound-proof doors.
4. Third floor—office space for student offices and publications.

WELTZIN ADDRESSES IEA

Dean J. Frederick Weltzin of the school of education returned this week from Pocatello and Idaho Falls where he addressed the district meetings of the Idaho Education association September 25 and 26.

Sen. Taft Explains Actions Of 80th Congress

Sen. Robert A. Taft addressed a jam-packed crowd of students and townspeople in Memorial gymnasium Monday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Dean T. S. Kerr of the college of letters and sciences was first speaker on the program and explained that this was the first in a series of lectures to be presented at the university. The next one will be a debate November 6, entitled, "Is Russia A Force For Peace?"

Senator Taft was introduced by President J. E. Buchanan. He stated that the main purpose of his speaking tour was to acquaint the people of the West with the record of the 80th congress.

Taft expressed his belief that the people who elected the republican majority in 1946 wanted to: (1) be rid of war regulations, (2) cut the national budget, (3) reduce the taxes and (4) rectify the abuses of labor unions.

The majority of the remainder of his speech was taken up with a defense of the Taft-Hartley labor bill. He stated that the democrats were repudiated in the Al-lentown, Pennsylvania congressional elections when they attempted to make the labor bill an issue. He further added that he did not believe the Taft-Hartley labor bill would be an issue in the 1948 elections.

Mr. Taft criticized the unions for "name-calling" instead of using intelligent arguments in their discussions of the bill. The bill was preceded by two months of congressional hearings, according to Mr. Taft, and only required unions to observe the same restrictions which were placed on management by the Wagner act, the Clayton Anti-trust act and the Norris LaGuardia act.

After his speech, Senator Taft answered questions proffered by the audience and the program was closed by singing the Idaho state song.

Committee Plans Rally Route, Fireworks, Mixer

The rally will start in front of Forney hall at 6:45 p. m. where it will pick up the women from Hays, Forney and Ridenbaugh. From there it will move down Blake avenue, picking up the T. K. E.'s, Gamma Phi, Kappa Sigmas and Delta Chis.

Turning down University avenue they will be joined by the Phi Gamma Deltas, Thetas, SAEs and L. D. S. Down Deakin avenue the Phi Taus and Pi Phis will join. The parade will continue up Idaho avenue to pick up the ATOs on the corner of Elm and Idaho when Delta Gammas, Phi Deltas, Kappas, Lindley Hall, Deltas, Betas and Sigma Chis will enter and will turn down Elm

Dixie And Team Happy; Shoemaker Hungry

Virtually the entire student population of Idaho turned out yesterday morning to welcome home the university's beloved football team, fresh from a 19-16 win over Stanford.

When the train bearing the 36-man traveling squad steamed into the Moscow station at 9:35, a crowd estimated at 5000 including townspeople and high school students worked themselves into a howling frenzy.

M. F. (Dixie) Howell, his assistant coaches, and the victorious Vandals could have named their own tickets in Moscow as they were whisked into waiting convalesces and paraded through the jammed streets.

The Idaho pep band and the Moscow high school band led the parade, ending up at the banner-decked Phi Delta Theta fraternity house.

A temporary platform had been erected in front of the building. Mrs. Dixie Howell, along with Coaches Ben Ennis, Gene Harlow, and Perron Shoemaker spoke a few words to the enthusiastic crowd.

The frenzied students reached a climax of applause when Howell presented his squad. The rugged grid-men appeared bashful and uncertain before the thousands of appreciative students.

Organized cheering was led by Idaho's yell team, mounted high on the Phi Delta rooftop. The university pep band occupied the balcony.

Proceedings were momentarily interrupted at one stage when the TKE cannon blew up again, also in celebration of the victory.

The rally ended with the singing of the Alma Mater song after Coach-Shoemaker indicated that the team had not eaten.

23,000 Seats At Homecoming

Twenty-three thousand people will be able to see the Homecoming game Saturday at Neale stadium.

That figure was released late yesterday afternoon by Gale Mix, graduate manager, as bleachers and other seating facilities began to roll on trucks from Rogers field in Pullman to Moscow.

Arrangement for the extension of seating capacity was made between Mix and Lloyd Bury, graduate manager of Washington State college. The stadium will be completely filled with bleachers and seating facilities by Friday afternoon.

"The way the tickets are selling this afternoon," Mix said, "we will have 23 thousand spectators in the stands and still have others trying to get in."

Permanent seating capacity of the stadium is 17 thousand.

More than 16 thousand tickets for the game, including allowance for student body tickets, had been sold by 8 p.m. yesterday afternoon.

ROTC Still Open To Upperclassmen

Only a few vacancies remain open for either the infantry or air advanced ROTC course for which qualified sophomores and juniors are being taken, Col. B. H. Hensley, professor of military science and tactics, announced recently.

The course is taught second and third periods each day except Thursday when it is held fourth period. Each ROTC student is given a subsistence allowance of 79 cents per day plus a uniform for his use during the course.

Any student interested in either air or infantry ROTC should contact the military department as soon as possible.

Walt Smith Writes Idaho Hymn

University students will have a new song this year with words and music by Walt Smith, Glens Falls, N. Y., president of the Associated Students.

"Our Idaho," a hymn, will be presented for the first time by the Vandaleers chorus at the annual student awards assembly October 8. The composer, a violinist, is a senior majoring in music.

Gem To Appoint Staff Members

Staff assignments for the Gem of the Mountains, Idaho yearbook, will be made this afternoon at a meeting of people interested in working on the book, according to Elizabeth Robinson, editor.

The meeting will be held this afternoon at 5 in the Gem offices on the second floor of the Student Union building. Miss Robinson said that anyone interested would be assigned work on the annual.

Section editors appointed last week include the following: Isabelle Phalen, Jo Garner, Margaret Weitz, Sue Beardsley, Barbara Spaeth, Mary Sue Tovey, Jack Taylor, Donna Lu Taylor, Sally Foskett, Howard Reinhardt, June Thomas, Bill Hanson, Don Robertson, Ted Cowin, Bonnie Burnside, and Phyllis Coon.

Gem photographers have asked that students cooperate with them by not looking at the camera when candid pictures are being taken.

Record Crowd Welcomes Home Victorious Vandals

The above scenes were taken at the rally yesterday morning when an estimated 5000 persons gathered at the railroad depot to welcome home the victorious Vandals from their 19-16 defeat of Stanford at Palo Alto. The rally proceeded from the station to the Phi Delta house where coaches and players received a tremendous ovation. Students and townspeople combined efforts to make the homecoming a warm one.

Challenge!

BE IT HEREBY KNOWN that on this day, Wednesday, September 24, 1947, at Pullman, Washington, we, TOM MATTHEWS, president of the Associated Students State College of Washington, and JEAN BAUMGARTEN, editor of the Washington State EVERGREEN, challenge WALT SMITH, president of the Associated Students University of Idaho, and ART RIDDLE, editor of the University of Idaho ARGONAUT, to enter into an agreement whereby the losing school in the annual Washington State College-University of Idaho football game, to be played Saturday, October 4, 1947, at Moscow, send the two above-mentioned persons as representatives of the school to walk from its campus to the campus of the winning school.

The above shall take place at a date agreed upon by the two schools. Be it also suggested that the losing school's representatives be greeted at the outskirts of the city of the winning school by delegates of that school and be honored with a dinner given by the winning school's Associated Students' governing body.

Be it also stipulated that under no circumstances will hitchhiking or riding on running boards be considered legal.

This challenge is in keeping with a tradition established between the University of Idaho and Washington State College in October, 1945.

Answer!

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The president of the Associated Students, University of Idaho, WALT SMITH, and the editor of the IDAHO ARGONAUT, ART RIDDLE, do hereby accept the challenge presented by TOM MATTHEWS, president of the Associated Students, State College of Washington, and JEAN BAUMGARTEN, editor of the Washington State EVERGREEN concerning the nine-mile campus-to-campus walk between the two schools.

Be it known that we accept the challenge in full, including the stipulated regulations.

Also let it be known that preparations are now underway for a reception and dinner to be provided by the Associated Students, University of Idaho, to the losing school's representatives, namely, TOM MATTHEWS and JEAN BAUMGARTEN.

We will meet you at the Moscow city limits on the date to be arranged after the Cougars' defeat by the Idaho Vandals.

Here's More About JASON

Miss Baumgarten and Mr. Matthews will be doing the hiking this year. The confirmation depends on the outcome of Saturday's Cougar-Vandal game.

The first challenge concerning the campus-to-campus hike between the two schools was issued by WSC in October of 1945. The Cougars smashed a hapless Vandal eleven to the tune of 21-0 that season.

Idaho Students Hike An Idaho trio—Darwin Brown, ASUI president, Pat Miller and Jack Anderson, Argonaut co-editors—consequently covered a long nine miles by foot.

Later in the year another Vandal team, the powerful basketball basketball squad, trounced WSC four times during the maple-court season. Idaho's cagers went to win the Northern Division Conference title while the Cougars remained in the cellar.

And so a footsore WSC trio also covered the nine miles by foot—in the opposite direction. Doris Pearson, WSC student president, June Johnson, Evergreen editor at the time of the Cougar defeats, and Marilyn Johnson, a substitute for Beth Pilkey, Evergreen editor, were the female walkers.

We Walk Again One rainy day in November, 1946, Norm Fredekind and Romaine Galey, representing the ASUI and the Arg, were forced to walk to Pullman after Idaho was defeated 32-0 by the WSC grid team.

WSC President Dick Downing and Evergreen Editor Andy Adams, along with hundreds of rooters, greeted the couple.

That was the last recorded hike between the two cities. No challenge.

Special freshman permission has been granted by the dean of women's office to enable new students to attend these meetings.

Newton Revises Metallurgy Text

Off the press of John Wiley & Sons this week was the mining book, "An Introduction to Metallurgy," by Joseph Newton, professor of metallurgy in the school of mines.

The book is a revision of an earlier edition, which was adopted by more than 50 mining schools throughout the nation. The new book includes an expanded discussion of pyrometallurgy, new material on corrosion, and the addition of a section of powder metallurgy.

Newton is also the co-author of another book on mining, "Metallurgy of Copper."

'Very Different' Says Paraguan V. Granada

By RAMONA BILLS Victor Miguel Granada, a new Latin American student from Asuncion, Paraguay, finds the United States quite a change from his native country.

Victor, a graduate of the University of Paraguay, has come to Idaho to study wood chemistry under the supervision of Dr. E. V. White.

He smiled when asked his opinion of American girls, and said that he thought they were very nice and quite friendly. "They do much of this painting of the face," he added, "more so than Latin American girls."

In Paraguay everyone takes a siesta after the heavy mid-day meal, "but," he said thoughtfully, "it is indeed useful to have the American system—there is much more opportunity to work." There they eat at 8 p.m. and go to bed; here they eat at 6 and work some more. He shook his head and smiled, "You see, it is very different."

He was surprised at the number of styles and colors of clothes on the Idaho campus. If our ordinary clothes were worn down there, "everyone might smile at you," he said seriously.

Here's More About Executive Board

Two meetings rooms, a room for town girls, photographic lab.

Based on present costs of construction, the project will cost $500,000. A club house for the golf course may be made a part of the project. If construction costs do not increase to a marked degree, it may be possible to have the project completed next year.

If, during the coming years, more space is needed it will be possible to replace the south wing of the present building with a new three story wing, the committee added.

The committee is seeking stu-

KUOI Plans New Programs; Chooses Staff

Eight new announcers were added to the KUOI staff over the weekend as a result of auditions held in the Engineering Annex studios. These announcers will begin regular programs as soon as they have passed a satisfactory period of apprenticeship.

Those definitely accepted were Baleta Hershberger, Beverly Powers, Grant Saudie, Al Barlow, Allen Derr, Tony Jausoro, Frank Kettenbach and Dan McDevitt. The two girls accepted will make their appearance on the airways with a fashion show similar to that presented last fall.

Another new program will be aired as soon as rehearsals are completed. Patti Miller, who sang with the Gentlemen of Note last year will air her talented voice while the flying fingers of Bill Hansen will furnish the accompaniment. Bill will also share the spotlight with his distinctive piano solos. A time for the program has not been set as yet.

Two meetings for people interested in the station will be held this week. The first will be at 4 p.m. in the studios this afternoon. The second meeting, for those persons who were unable to attend the last meeting, will be held in the Engineering building this Thursday at 5 p.m. Typists are still needed at the station.

ADULT CLASSES SCHEDULED

The university home economics department adult classes will begin the first week of October. Tentative plans have been set up to offer work in clothing, home furnishings, child guidance, money management, and any other subject which may be desired by the group. Anyone interested can contact Mrs. Wayne A. Reddekopp, phone 8576 in the afternoons.

Comments may be made to Dean Lattig's office, executive board members, or the Argonaut.

Veterans

All veterans who were in training under the V. A. program during the 1946-47 school term and who have been married during the summer vacation or since re-entering training should provide the V. A. with a photostatic copy of their Certificate of Marriage and fill in a declaration as to marital status if they have not already done so. The increased subsistence for a dependent begins with the date the notice is given the V. A. and not the date of marriage.

Veterans who were married at the time of entering training under the V. A. program, if they have not already done so, should immediately furnish the V. A. a photostatic copy of their Certificate of Marriage and fill in a Declaration as to Marital Status.

Recorder Tested

A new sound-mirror, tape-recorder is on trial this week in the office of Archie Harney, agriculture extension editor of the university. If the agriculture department purchases this machine, state radio stations will be furnished with transcriptions concerning farm problems. The tape-recorder would handle the problems of transcriptions until the university buys a disc recorder.

Rev. Adam Named Head Of IICE

The Reverend Oscar M. Adam, D.D., from Madison, Wis., is the new director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education.

Dr. Adam accepted this position at the institute because he is accustomed to and enjoys working with students.

He received his B.A. degree in 1919 at the Ohio Wesleyan and a D.D. degree at the Garrett Biblical Institute the following year. At the latter school he was awarded an honorary doctor's degree in 1943.

Dr. Adams hopes that more students will call at the interdenominational institute located at University and Elm streets, for counsel, and he expects to form a common meeting place for church leaders and university students.

Several religious courses will be taught by the new director, and Dr. Adam would like to remind all students that the time for most of these classes can be rearranged and scheduled to fit the programs of individual students.

Vandals Find They Can Do It, Then Push Hard To Win

Indians Win Moral Victory, Hold Vandals To 19 Points

In a weekend game that stunned the nation's dopsters, the Idaho Vandals under Coach Dixie Howell came from behind at Palo Alto to defeat the Stanford Indians 19 to 16.

Entering the game as 25-point underdogs, the Idaho eleven were beaten down in the first quarter when Indian quarterback Bell completed passes to Martin twice with both resulting in touchdowns and Feldman successfully completed the conversion, making the score 13 to 0. The Vandals outplayed the Stanford team the rest of the game and came from behind to win 19-16.

Idaho came back strong in the second quarter when Jerry Diehl recovered a Stanford fumble on Idaho's 15 yard line which was the beginning of an 85 yard sustained drive for Idaho's first touchdown. Billy Williams, strongly supported by the Vandal team, started with his passing as Idaho moved to the Stanford 10 yard line where Jerry Diehl went into the end zone for a touchdown on a handout from Williams. The first half ended with the score standing Stanford 13, Idaho 6.

Stanford Field Goal
Stanford opened the third period with a drive that was stopped on the Idaho 5 yard line but the Indians salvaged three points with a field goal by Feldman, bringing the score to 16-6.

During the remainder of the third quarter a hard-fighting Vandal team managed to hold the initiative most of the way as Idaho scored again on a pass from Williams to Barnes.

Idaho recovered another Indian fumble on the Stanford 19 yard line in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and Ted Diehl made a touchdown on a pass from Williams. Will Overgaard completed the conversion and the score stood Idaho 19, Stanford 16.

With the game drawing to a close Stanford took to the air but was unable to break through Idaho's brilliant defense and the game ended without further scoring.

Much of the credit for the victory goes to the Idaho line who displayed the same excellent blocking and tackling as was evident in the opening game against College of Puget Sound.

Pacing The Sidelines . . .

By ROY GARRETT

Your sports writers have been spending a large majority of the some 70 odd hours since Idaho's upset of the year in gloating over pre-game predictions written by the nation's dopsters. In order that you may gloat with us, following are some excerpts.

From the Football News comes, "And poor Dixie Howell's Idaho Club, who cakewalked to an easy 27-7 victory over College of Puget Sound in the opener, has a dim future, what with meeting a Stanford team that is rated one of the powerhouses of the PCC. Should be an easy shot to call, for Stanford appears to be quite the better team. Idaho has not presented much in late years. Stanford by 42 points."

Football Previews said, "This junior partner (Idaho) in the conference football schedule had drawn five games, and the 'dope' points to four losses. All of which is a bit hard on Dixie Howell, who has installed the Notre Dame system. Dixie can muster fair size but little depth."

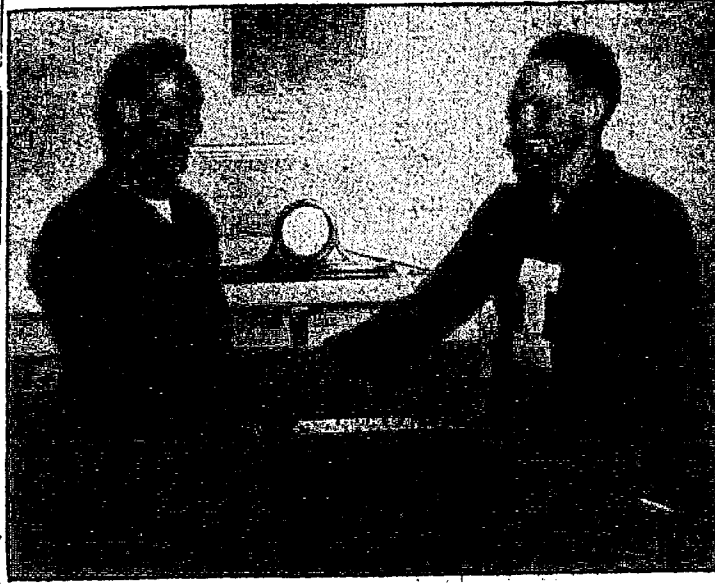

Here are just a few notes picked up from various sources on the Idaho-Stanford game. This year's victory was the first time the Vandals were able to bring home a victory since competition was begun in 1923. In the five previous games the Indians chalked up 166 points to 14 for Idaho. Many California sports writers hailed Bill Williams as one of the best passers seen in the Bay area this year. In fact, his excellent passing seems to have earned him the title of "The Rifle."

Dixie lost no time yesterday afternoon after the team's return in getting them out on the practice field to iron out any kinks the trip may have brought on. Comes next Saturday afternoon and the boys may again exhibit their talent to the local fans. This corner joins the whole campus in praying for another upset. Incidentally, Idaho has not beaten WSC since 1922.

'Feudin' Williams Boys

Jerry Williams, Washington State's star halfback, congratulates his brother Billy, Idaho's star halfback, on the Vandal victory over Stanford. The two brothers meet again Saturday on the gridiron at Neale stadium when the Cougars invade Moscow for the annual Homecoming game. The Williams boys are Spokane residents and both belong to Sigma Nu fraternity. What did they say to each other as the Argonaut staff photographer snapped their picture? Said Billy: "Kid, I'm going to break your leg next Saturday." "Oh no you're not," answered Jerry, "I'm going to break yours!"

Boxing Rules Announced For Novice Tourney

Amateur gloves will fly for the first time on the campus this year in the Spurs and IK's novice boxing tournament, set for November 11-14.

No, the girls won't be in the ring against men. Instead, each women's group may sponsor one team and will be responsible for providing jerseys in the colors they choose for their team.

All university women will be given evening permission to attend these contests.

Each women's group will engage the services of one of the Varsity boxers as a coach, who in turn will sign up a team of eight novices and a manager to compose a boxing team. The coaches will condition and train their teams during a six weeks' training period.

Stunts To Count
The tournament will also feature competitive stunts by each sponsoring group. The house with the best stunt, uniforms, and rooting section will receive a trophy. The men's groups will also compete for a cup by endeavoring to collect the most points through their participating members. Individual prizes will be earned by the coach who has been judged as turning in the best coaching job and by the winner of each weight in the tournament.

On November 11, 24 bouts will be held, each consisting of three two-minute rounds. Twelve additional bouts will be fought on the 12th, six on the 13th, and the finals will be November 14.

Rules for the contest follow:

Morley Leading Field In ASUI Golf Tourney

Defending champion John Morley led 61 other qualifiers into first round matches of the annual ASUI match play golf tourney Sunday, when he carded a 75 to take medalist honors. Jack Rowe breezed in with a 76 to place second behind Morley in the Frank James-sponsored tournament.

Scores soared during the day's qualifying, due to a combination of windy weather and early morning wet greens. Early qualifiers found trouble in the dew dampened fairways and greens and were yestered constantly during the late morning and afternoon rounds by a driving wind.

Steady stroking George Galles needed only 31 putts to go 18 holes and won a special prize of $9. It is suggested that each team be complete with eight men. A squad of no more than 12 men will be allowed. There will be only one man in each weight on each team. Weights run 125, 130, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175, and heavyweight.

The coach and each boxer will sign a contract with the women's group for which they agree to participate.

11. No contracts may be signed until the various lists have been officially published in the Argonaut.

12. No more than three men from any one men's group will be allowed to participate on the same team.

13. Training of each team will be up to the coach, who is a varsity team member. The coach may choose his own member.

14. All participants must pass a physical examination before being allowed in the ring.
