Novice Boxers Swing Into Semi-Final Matches Tonight

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

The Argonaut staff came close to losing their jobs this week as the newsprint shortage struck close to home. The Argonaut was almost forced to suspend publication until after the first of the year.

The newsprint—the word refers to paper, incidentally—shortage has been growing more acute throughout the U. S. each month since the middle of the war.

The Daily Idahoian narrowly averted the necessity of closing down December 10 until after New Year's Day.

Because of the shortage of paper, news sheets are operating on quotas. Based on 1945 circulation figures, the allotments are inadequate for most papers.

Quick action by Gale Mix together with the Idahoian publisher procured more paper. Now, the daily and the semi-weekly Arg will be able to continue publication until the new quotas are assigned in January.

The graduate manager's office is located in an unfortunate position in the Student Union building. Or perhaps the lounge is misplaced. Or it could even be that some Idaho students need instruction on good taste.

At any rate, Jason has noticed (and he'll probably catch hell for mentioning it) that certain couples tend to become a little over-ambitious in the lounge.

Visitors enroute to Gale Mix's office have shown embarrassment when faced with the spectacle of embracing couples. Is it a sign of the time that the couples are not bothered in the least?

At any rate, Jason would like to suggest that public display of affections, although interesting to watch, is frowned upon by well-mannered people.

Idaho living groups, which pride themselves on their social niceties, such as telephone, manners, correct introductions, table manners etc., like to be thought of as correct socially.

Perhaps these groups could make some discreet suggestions to a few of their members.

Now, that Jason has mentioned it, he's awaiting the morning mail.

Thousands Hear Pep Band On Southern Idaho Tour

An audience of 11,200 high school and grade school students as well as two dance crowds and ex-GIs in the Boise veterans hospital heard the Idaho Pep Band during its eight-day tour of southern Idaho last week.

Traveling under a stiff schedule, the band played at 22 high schools from Caldwell to Idaho. The tour began November 9, ending last Saturday in Boise. The group returned to the campus Sunday.

Three broadcasts were made by the band. Stations KID, Idaho Falls, KBIO, Burley, and KIDO, Boise, carried the programs.

With a solo, a novelty number, two marches, "Go Vandals Go," a full band swing number, a symphonic arrangement of "Stormy Weather," "Tiger Rag," the "Alma Mater," and an occasional swing number by a five piece combo, the program was well rounded out.

Marring the trip was the loss of three instruments, stolen when band members left them in the Hotel Boise for a short time.

Many comments were received on the spirit of the band members. Playing all day, with several night programs, the Idaho musicians carried an exceptionally heavy schedule, but no complaints were heard.

The NROTC rifle team scoring 894 defeated the University of Wisconsin at Madison scoring 867 and was defeated by the University of California at Berkeley scoring 917 in the second of a series of postal matches.

Out of a possible 200 points, highest scores in the match shot on November 13 were made by Herbert Young, 185; Jerry Rockwood, 181; George Tanner, 180; Ralph Havercamp, 176; and Richard Davey, 171. Greatest individual improvement was shown by Tanner who moved from eighth to third place.

At the present time, the rifle team has defeated University of Rochester, University of Wisconsin and has been defeated by University of California, Ohio State, and University of Illinois.

The third postal match will be shot today with the following schools competing: University of New Mexico, Miami university at Oxford, Ohio; University of Texas at Austin, University of Utah at Salt Lake; University of Colorado at Boulder; Brown university at Providence, R. I.; and Columbia university at New York.

New rifle team equipment consists of a spotting scope and five new rifle jackets. Ten new rifles have also been requested.

Members of Shutter and Lens will meet at 1 p.m. in the art building room 103 to work on the darkroom.

LDS pledging will be held at institute at 11:45 a.m.

Mix Complimented

Between 12 and 15 phone calls were received by Gale Mix, graduate manager, congratulating him as a representative of the university, on the excellent performances staged by the Idaho Pep Band on its southern Idaho tour.

Superintendents and Principals kept asking "When will you give us another program?" Mix stated.

British Debaters Favor Stability Without Weapons

"We should not plan how to win the next war, but rather how to avoid it," was the point stressed by Anthony Neil Wedgwood-Benn at the debate between Oxford and Idaho Tuesday evening in the university auditorium.

Laurence Buckland and Jack Menge, who represented the University of Idaho in the debate, maintained that "the danger of war can best be averted by an all-purpose Anglo-American alliance."

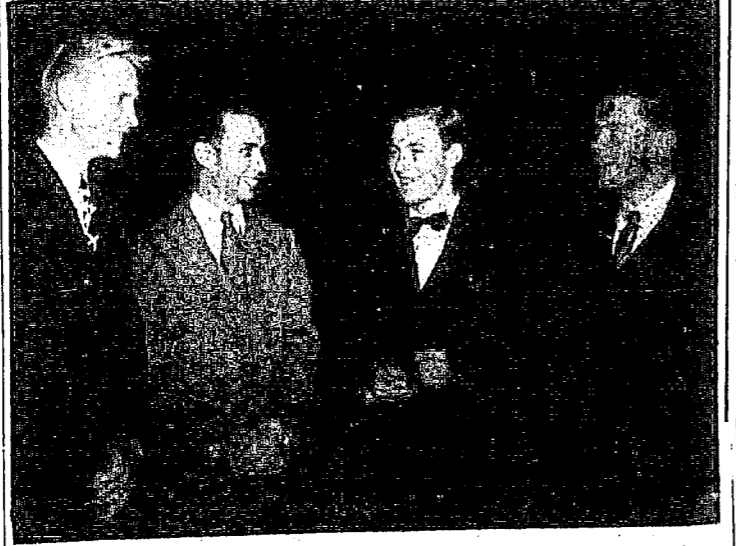

The Oxford debaters answered by asserting that a higher standard of living and greater stability for the people of western Europe will do more for promoting world peace than "all the tanks and howitzers."

Another point of wide difference between the two teams was the matter of "stop-gap" emergency aid to starving Europe. The Britishers felt that the present emergency aid linked with the Marshall plan, if accepted, will suffice Europe's wants while Buckland and Menge maintained that a formal alliance with England would bring these things about with less formality and greater expediency.

All freshmen and sophomore ROTC students who are interested in becoming members of Pershing Rifles, national ROTC honorary, are urged to report to the armory at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, November 25.

Richard Turner, company commander, made this announcement at a recent meeting of the organization.

SUB To Be Scene Of 'Holiday Hop' Thanksgiving Eve

The "Holiday Hop," an all-campus sport dance sponsored by Tau Mem Aleph, has been planned to brighten the Thanksgiving weekend for students remaining in Moscow.

Jack Furey's orchestra has been engaged to play for the dance, which will be held in the ballroom of the Student Union building.

TMA president Bernard Smith says, "We hope the 'Holiday Hop' will help to entertain the students who can't make it home for Thanksgiving. And if it is a success, it will be an annual affair in the future."

Ticket sales started today under the auspices of Keith Dewey. Admission, including tax, is $1.20 per couple. Tickets may still be purchased at the door Wednesday night. Door prizes, to be announced later, will be presented at a drawing during intermission.

The following committee heads were appointed Wednesday night when definite plans for the dance were made by the town men.

Social and general dance chairman, Leo Winegar; publicity, Fred Farmer; music, Don Loofbourrow; tickets, Jack Wing; and intermission entertainment, Bob Vollrath.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Spiker and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ladd.

Bud Walter, Pep Band Leader Sigma Nu University of Idaho Moscow, Idaho Dear Bud:

Since the recent Pep Band tour of Southern Idaho the ASUI has been receiving an innumerable amount of fine comment and praise from the citizens of the state on the excellent showing made by the pep band on this trip.

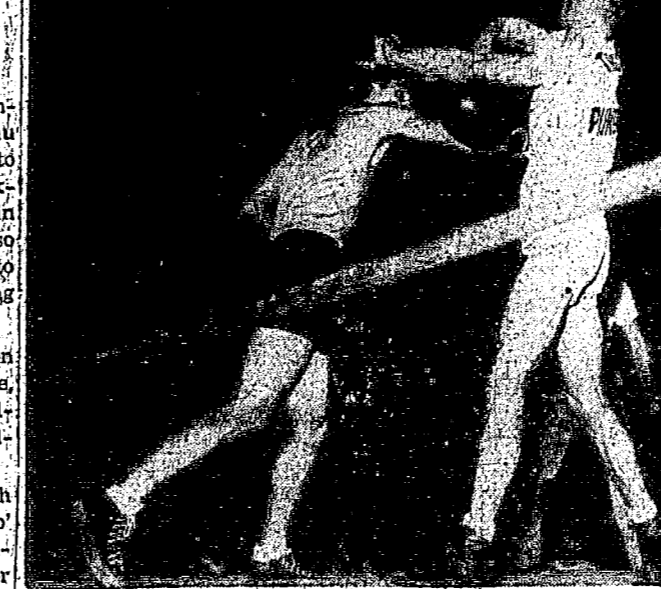

It is indeed a privilege for the ASUI Executive Board to say "thank you" to you, the band members, and your adviser, Mr. Hosch, for representing our student body in such fine style.

May your fine performances stand as a goal for the future pep bands at the university.

Sincerely, WALT SMITH ASUI President

Each women's living group is requested to choose a candidate for Sophomore Holly Queen and turn her name in to the Argonaut office by Monday noon.

Novice Boxers Thrill Crowd

Jack Gooling (right), Tri-Delt sponsored pugilist, is shown above as he engages Don Hayes, Theta team member. Some of the non-professional antics of the pair were apparently enjoyed by the audience. Gooling defeated Hayes, 28-27.

Following a trail from Idaho into Washington and Oregon with leads and a description from the first, police have arrested Floyd Smith, former student at the University of Washington, on the charge of burglarizing the Delta Tau Delta fraternity on November 10.

Smith has admitted to the charges. He was picked up by Portland police on a felony charge. A similar charge is pending against him at Kelso, Wash. Charged with grand larceny, he will be extradited to Idaho when the other states have finished prosecution.

Stolen from the Deltas here were a camera and equipment valued at $150, cash and checks totaling $57, a grey trench coat, a double-breasted suit and a leather suitcase. Police have requested that no publicity be given the theft at the time.

Smith admitted pawing the camera and the suit in Portland. According to the report, he took a taxi to the Delt house early the morning of the tenth. Tracks in the freshly fallen snow were examined by police and a description was obtained from the taxi driver and students who saw him. He had spent the previous night as a guest at a fraternity in Pullman.

Idaho Dairymen Plan Conference December 3

About 200 Idaho dairy producers and milk processors are scheduled to convene here December 3 for the 24th meeting of the Idaho Dairymen's association and dairy conference with their affiliated organizations.

D. L. Fourt, dairy husbandry head and chairman of the conference program committee, stated, "The most vital problems of the industry are on the program for discussion."

On the night of December 4, a banquet will be held for the entire group. Dr. Boyd Martin, occupying the principal speaker's chair, will speak on the United Nations educational, scientific, and cultural organization.

Grad Directs Play June Heller Kramer, university graduate, is directing "January Thaw" which will be presented Friday and Saturday by the Lewiston senior high school.

Mrs. Kramer graduated last spring and was well known on the campus. Her husband, Doug Kramer, is a sophomore in the school of business, and lives at Willis Sweet.

Delta Gamma Sluggers Take Lead In Tourney

Before a crowd estimated at 1200 persons, Herb Carlson's "Delta Gamma Hot Boxers" pounded their way to a six-point lead in the Spur-IK boxing tournament Wednesday night in the Memorial gym, as they slugged away to pile up 12 points.

A woman's touch was felt as the Alpha Chi sluggers entered the ring in their atrocious green and red trunks. Other "canvas-backs" were attired in slightly less gaudy outfits, but sported such names as the "Triple D Punchers" and the "Ridenbaugh Hall Sluggers."

Organized cheering sections from each of the women's houses will be at ringside, Friday and Saturday nights with each house occupying a space four seats across and five deep.

An unannounced celebrity will take over the reins on Saturday night as master of ceremonies for the skits to be presented by the girls' houses between the fights.

Trophies donated by the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce will be presented by Mike Williamson, tournament chairman. Awards will go to the women's house with the top score, the men's group with the highest score, the women's group with the best stunt and to the outstanding coach of the tourney.

Wednesday night's winners in the various weight divisions are as follows: 125 lbs., Phil Batt defeated Gordon Widner, Bill Ogle defeated Durmond Look, and Bill Allen won over George Sangster.

In the 135 lb. class: Allen Derr and Dean Blair, no decision, Blair cut in eye in first round, Ross Smart defeated Raoul Ashby and Don Rice won over Ralph Lemon.

At 145 lbs., Joe Schmit defeated Jim Johnson, while T. Marks won over Terrell Tovey, Bob Day defeated Pete Rosen and Daren Thiel decided P. J. Bailey.

Big Black Stogies And Avoirdupois Make 'Mike'

By SPOERHASE

"I got too fat to box, am too lazy to train and just love big black cigars, consequently I am boxing manager," confided Mike Williamson, Jersey City's No. 1 gift to Idaho in an interview yesterday.

Mike, a campus political bigwig, says he inherits his political background from his hometown, Jersey City, "the land of the politicians." Though a business administration major, Mike said, "I wanna be a politician—I hate working."

Relating his life at Idaho, Mike said he first gazed upon the wet expanses of Moscow in September of 1939, when, though frightened by stories of scalping and other atrocities among the uncivilized settlers of the West he decided to rough it and enrolled at this university.

Spartan Pygmy.
In his freshman year he was known as the "Human Punching Bag," since he was the No. 1 sparring partner for the late Ted Kara, Idaho boxing great. A friend of Mike's, Tom Laurent, says that these beatings explain Mike's short stature, while others say one of his early ancestors was frightened by a pygmy.

This year the "diminutive pugilist" has almost single-handedly handled all of the countless details of the Spur-IX boxing tournament now in progress. Spectators at Wednesday night's bouts may have noticed an "I" sweater running around the gym seemingly attending to last minute details—the man under that "I" sweater was Mike Williamson.

Debaters Pose For Picture With Gowns, Address Books

By MARGARET WEITZ

Proof was discovered yesterday that you can't always judge a man by his picture when Anthony Wedgwood-Benn looked at his picture in the Argonaut and laughed and then explained that when they posed for the picture they were holding not history books but a telephone directory, an address book and a guide book. The photographer had them put on robes, which they rarely wear, and told them that Americans liked intelligent-looking pictures.

The Oxford students, who debated here Tuesday evening, were almost typical Americans in appearance except for a very vivid accent. It is amazing that these unsophisticated men could have brilliant careers and such outstanding social backgrounds. Both of them were amused by such small things as when the Lions club at Missoula, Montana, sang "God Save Our King" in their honor. However, besides being pleased they were amazed when the men sang "Our King" rather than "The King."

American Girls "Nice"
"American girls are very nice indeed," exclaimed Edward Boyle. "They make more of themselves because they have more to make more of." When asked to compare English girls with American girls Anthony Benn explained that English girls dress "scuffy" (that's tacky to us), although they don't dress as sloppily as American girls do. Their typical dress is skirts and zepthers (sweaters). The United States also has more of the tall, lanky, "California" type of men than England does.

Oxford university and American universities have little in comparison, they both agreed. Oxford has neither fraternities nor sororities, but is comprised of twenty-one colleges each founded at a different time and all financially independent. (Colleges in England are the student halls or living places.) The number of students in each college varies from 70 to 400. Boyle then added that 6000 students attend Oxford and 1000 of these students are women. Because very few women attend college in England those that do are called "blue-stockings" because they are usually the scholarly, studious type.

Essays, Not Classes
In regard to classes they said that instead of attending lectures every day they wrote one or two essays every week—requiring about 20 hours of work for each essay. No exams are taken except at the end of the third year and "these last a fortnight."

School is held just six months of the year and the term is divided into three eight-week periods. Boyle later said that "there is very little social life during school months, but starting in May and lasting throughout June the social life is at its peak."

Each college sponsors an "all night dance" which starts about 10:00 in the evening and usually ends the next morning with a boat ride and breakfast on the river anytime after 6:00. Wedgwood-Benn laughed when he told how he had gone to two all-night dances one year and at one of them he fell asleep about 3:00 in the morning. His date was quite offended and when he woke later he found that she had gone home.

Heard . . . Or Seen

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE:

Georgia (Joe) Burgess, DG, received a large advertisement the other day plugging the outstanding personality and upright character of Bill Eastman from WIHS Sweet. The source is unknown but it's a good thing that some faces don't stay as red as they get sometimes.

CONTEST ENDS: Sigma Nus, acting on orders from Jane Thompson, Kappa, announced withdrawal of John (Dip) Evans from the "Evans for Dream Man Contest" which they have been sponsoring for the last two years.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY: It really is too bad that telephones don't have television so that one can see to whom he is talking. This was proved the other night when Bert Sorenson, Willis Sweet, called up Margaret Schwertly, Gamma Phi and told her that he was someone else and was looking for a blind date for himself. How about that?

WANDERLUST: Pandemonium nearly broke loose the other evening at dinner in Hays hall when a husher slipped over and put a large green frog beside the plate of Marvel Albright. We've heard of animal crackers but this is the first time we ever heard of frogs in the salad.

DEBATE SEASON IS HERE: Saturday night Bob Benson and Bumper Lyons, Delta Chis, were seen holding a little debate in front of the local police station. The topic was, "The Advantage of the Police System in the Capitalistic Form of Government." Wonder who had the affirmative?

WAS MY FACE RED: Jack Kelly, Sigma Nu, was making time with a few coeds the other night when in reaching for his handkerchief a certain dainty item of womans wearing apparel dropped from his pocket.

PUNCHY: Novice boxer Dick Benscotter, TKE, after Wednesday evening's fateful bout, was still "charging out of his corner" last night every time he heard the house telephone sound off.

TOMMY MANSVILLE? Bob Finlayson, Chrisman Hall "Blonde Bombshell" is reported by intimate friends to have treaded the fateful road to matrimony three times—and he's only 19.

EDUCATION, PERHAPS: John E. Jones, accounting 81 prof, has been doing a little instructing in the fine art of embezzlement. They say it's for the betterment of the class—the question is financial or educational?

Appropos to the current hot discussion regarding barber-shop prices, it was with considerable interest that we read the following story in the November 15 issue of the Farragut News: "President Bob Franklin announced today that the barber shop in the Village will be operated by the Student Union. A licensed barber will be employed and the shop will remain open six days a week."

The interesting part of the little story comes when the article states that prices will be 50 cents for student union members and 75 cents for non-members.

Why could not a similar arrangement be made at the University of Idaho? Is there any reason that the ASUI could not set up a barbershop of its own, contract a licensed barber and charge the minimum fee consistent with overhead expenses?

An arrangement such as this would eliminate that shaggy-dog look so prevalent on the campus these days with the current dinero shortage common to students training under the GI bill.

WAA Letter Requirements
Under the present WAA letter award system, there are a variety of activities in which women can earn sufficient points to rate the official I emblem.

In the point system, the basis upon which an I is given, 1250 points are required to earn a letter. Of this total, 417 must be in leisure sports, and 417 in team sports. The remaining points can be obtained in either or both sports.

The main divisions in the point system are team sports, individual or dual sports, and leisure sports. For participation in the team sports, volleyball, soccer, basketball, softball, archery and rifle, from 50 to 100 points may be awarded. For participation during the tournaments additional points are given.

In individual and dual sports, tournaments are held for such games as tennis, badminton, golf, swimming, ping pong, horseshoes, shuffleboard, and the free throw. Points, in varying amounts, are awarded for activity in these sports.

Leisure Sports
A maximum of 135 points per semester can be earned by activity in leisure sports. Four points an hour are awarded for horseback riding, bicycling, roller skating, golf, tennis, badminton, ping pong, archery, fencing, bowling, and all winter sports. Design Stressed In Art Display

Finley Releases Player Line-Up For First Hoop Contest Of Year

Head Basketball Coach Charles "Chuck" Finley appeared moderately satisfied as he ran his hustling squad of Vandal hardwood artists through their paces in preparation for their first game of the current season Saturday night against the Northern Idaho College of Education at Lewiston. Finley was reported to be well satisfied with the effort and interest shown by big Jack Phoenix center and outstanding returning letterman to the Idaho team.

Finley's principal problem at the present moment seems to be a lack of forwards. With only one returning forward letterman—John Evans, who will not report for awhile because of his participation in football—Finley is faced with the problem of converting guards into smooth clever operating forwards.

Divided In Units
At the present time the Vandal Hoopsters are divided into different units from which Finley is expected to pick his starting five. At Lewiston the units will consist of: unit A, Rainey and Wallace, forwards; Phoenix, center; Bob Link and Brimhall, guards; unit B, Geisler and Christensen, forwards; Gano, center; Grove and Taylor, guards; unit C, Jaussi and Ellis, forwards; Finlayson, center; and Gunnels and Cushman, guards. Fodrea and Eimers will be used as center and guard replacements respectively.

The game at Lewiston will be followed by one at Moscow the following Saturday. The game at Lewiston will be Coach Finley's first opportunity to see the Vandal squad in real action and will probably give him an idea of the possibilities of the 47-48 team.

Kirkland Requests More Men To Turn Out For Swimming

Twenty men turned out Monday night for the Idaho varsity and frosh swimming teams, according to swimming coach Eric Kirkland. The squad has been divided into two teams, titled Silver and Gold teams, and captained by Kenny Lyons and Z. L. Pearson. An intersquad meet will be held December 3.

Coach Kirkland said he is in need for more men and urges all men with some swimming ability to contact him as soon as possible. Kirkland added that the University of Washington was in his opinion, the team to beat in the Northwest. The Huskies captured a lopsided victory last year.

The most recent prospect is Mary Earl, who is expected to bolster the squad. Other prospects are John La Frenz, Wally Warner, and Chuck Barbee.

BETAS WIN TOURNEY
Defeating the Sigma Alpha Epsilon intramural team, the Oregon State Beta Theta Pi chapter won the school's intramural touch football championship.

Big Jack

Jack Phoenix, six-foot-nine-inch letterman, is back in his stellar role at center on the 1947-48 Vandal basketball squad.

Pacing The Sidelines . . .

By HARRY HOWARD

Fans have started saying "wait 'til next year" with new conviction since the Vandal gridgers closed out their season with a surprising 13-6 upset over undefeated Utah. Idaho, now ranked in a tie with Utah and Rice for twentieth in the nation by the Associated Press, has given them something to look forward to.

Only four men will be lost to the squad next year, but those four men—Bill Williams, John Dana, John Evans, and Ralph Paasch—will be sorely missed. Many people expected to see "The Rifle" set the gridiron afire next year with the passing and running that has elevated him to third in the nation in total offense. Unfortunately for the Vandals, a conference rule makes Billy ineligible. The rule states that a player must complete his eligibility within five years, and Billy will begin his sixth year next fall.

Boxing Changes
Inter-collegiate boxing will undergo a few changes this year. The NCAA will be an Olympic team tryout this year besides deciding the national champion in each weight division. Collegiate boxers will be divided into Olympic weight groups replacing the former college divisions.

A voluntary plan is being proposed for the coming year of Pacific coast boxing, primarily to avoid overmatching which can result in bored spectators and injured fighters. This new plan would classify all fighters on a percentage basis.

No fighter would be matched with an opponent whose classification is twenty-five points higher than his own. His team would automatically forfeit the match and lose two of a possible three points. A match between two other fighters of the same weight class would give the forfeiting team an opportunity to pick up the one remaining point.

Ski Club Arranges For Two Work Parties For Weekend

The University of Idaho Ski club, will have two work parties working on the university winter sports area this weekend. One group will work on the skiing facilities on Saturday afternoon, the other group will leave the campus at 9:30 Sunday morning, to work on the lodge.

Bill Larson, will be in charge of touching up the ski lift, while Jack Numbers, and a group of men, are putting the finishing touches on the jump-hill, in preparation for coming jump meets. Volunteers are needed to help make the area ready for use in the near future. All member are asked to participate and volunteers may call Don Hayes at 2465.

Girls Help Too
Sunday's work party, will give the girls a chance to help the club with its major job, of painting the floor of the lounge, and a general cleaning of the entire lodge. Last Sunday's work party encountered six inches of heavy snow on the practice slope, and four or five inches more should make the area suitable for skiing. The ski tow is in apparently excellent working condition, and with the snow falling continuously, skiers should soon be able to enjoy their favorite sport.

PROGRESS
In 1889 women students at Whitman college received 7:30 permission on week-days and 10:30 on the week-ends, according to the Whitman College Pioneer. This is surely a progressive world that grants 2 hours more—on the week-ends—in 1947.

SC Downs LDS As Intramural Volleyball Begins

The coming winter has moved the university intramural program indoors where thirty teams are competing for volleyball honors. The teams will play a round robin schedule within each league for position, followed by the league playoffs for points. The season will be highlighted by a championship game between the teams winning the league playoffs.

Early turnouts indicate that the Idaho intramural program is having its biggest year of student participation in sports. The battle for the volleyball crown will be hard-fought with each living group struggling to stay in the running for the season's intramural championship.

Just send your stuff to Easy Money Department, Box B, Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y., along with your name, address, school and class. Get dough-heavy! Or start a new hobby—collecting rejection slips. We'll help you out—one way or the other.

Murgatroyd, our massive moron, was observed the other afternoon working out with the girls' archery team. Somewhat unconventionally, however—instead of using bow and arrow, Murgatroyd was drawing a bead on the target with a bottle of Pepsi-Cola. When asked "Why?" by our informant, who should have known better—"Duuuuuuh," responded Murgatroyd brightly, "because Pepsi-Cola hits the spot, stupid!"
$2, legal tender, for any of these we buy. Brother, inflation is really here!

HE-SHE GAGS
Know a He-She gag? If you think it's funny, send it in. If we think it's funny, we'll buy it—for three bucks. We'll even print it. Sheer altruism. Take ten—and see if you don't come up with something sharper than these soggy specimens:
He: Darling, is there nothing I can do to make you care?
She: D. D. T.
He: D. D. T.?
She: Yeah—drop dead twice!
She: Right now I'm interested in something tall, dark and handsome.
He: Gosh! Me?
She: No, silly—Pepsi-Cola!
Yes, we pay three bucks apiece for any of these we print. You never had it so good.
