The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Campus cafes and fountains are enjoying a booming business these cold winter days. During certain favorite coffee hours, such as third period, it is virtually impossible to procure a booth.

Probably handling the most business for its size is the Oriole Nest. Sometimes it is almost impossible to find a place to stand and drink a coffee, let alone sit at the bar or in a booth.

The larger, student-owned Bucket, almost empty during many class periods, is nearly full if it's cold enough outside. Jason wonders why the Bucket, although owned by the students, often seems to do less business than privately owned eating places.

Long Lines

One reason may be the slow service usually provided at the Bucket. A student hates to stand in a twenty-minute line to purchase a fifteen-minute cup of java.

Also a curiosity is the apparent fact that the newly-opened Perch, almost luxurious, does less business than the beat-up, but popular Nest. Tommy Matthews can probably explain that one.

The Campus Cafe, hindered somewhat by a less central location, is apparently thriving under the new management of Mrs. Brogan and her sons.

Gleaned From A Text

In regard to snack bars, Jason will reveal why most people prefer a booth to the stools at the bar. According to the teachings of Business 175 (last year), people on a stool feel inferior to people enclosed in a booth.

So if that frustrated, inferior feeling comes on you, don't rush off to see Dr. Boyer. Just move into a booth.

Newt Cutler, Arg and Ebot staff member, can usually be found in a booth at the Nest, Bucket, Perch, or Campus Cafe. When questioned, he is usually found to be gathering material for Blot or the Arg. It says here.

Recently he stated that he is going to write a book on Idaho college life. So far, he has picked the title, which seems peculiarly appropriate to Jason. The name: "Four Years in a Booth."

We're Sorry

As head of the Arg staff, Jason wishes to extend the Arg's apologies to Theta Gamma Stonemets and SAE George Skinner. A "Heard or Seen" item last issue combined the two names into George Stonemets. Both parties are beginning to wish they had never seen an Argonaut, thanks to the kidding of their friends.

Library Features Jewish Exhibition

The library display case in the main hall of the Ad building featured an exhibit of Jewish books and symbols from November 7 to December 7.

The exhibition was in recognition of Jewish Book Month which is sponsored by the Jewish Book Council.

Don Rankin, former art student at the university, conducted the Star of David and the Tables of Law which symbolize the Jewish religion. He also arranged the draperies in the case, located at the entrance to the main library.

Carlson Studying For Scholarship

Don H. Carlson, university graduate now studying under a fellowship at Stanford, was the winner of state competition for a Rhodes scholarship.

He will appear before a district board in Spokane, Saturday, to compete with candidates from Washington, Oregon, Montana and North Dakota. Winner of this competition will receive a Rhodes scholarship, providing a year's study at Oxford university in England.

Charles H. Owens, Jr., graduate student doing advanced work here, also represented the university of Idaho in the competition at Boise.

PERMITS TO BE ISSUED

Permits to register for second semester are now being made up. A schedule will be published January 8-9 stating when they may be picked up by the students at the registrar's office.

Service Honoraries To Choose Spur, Knight At Ski Dance

Highlighting the all-campus Ski Dance tonight, co-sponsored by Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights, will be the announcement of the "Spur of the Moment" and "Knight of the Nights." The announcement will be made during intermission, when the Spur and IK selected will each receive a gold cup and will reign over the remainder of the dance.

The "Spur of the Moment" was chosen by the IK's at their meeting this week, and the "Knight of the Night" was selected by the Spurs. The winners, chosen on the basis of service rendered in each honorary, as well as popularity, will not be previously known to the candidates.

The dance will be held in the Student Union ballroom immediately following the Portland university basketball game here. Larry Spencer's orchestra will furnish the music. The ski motif will be carried out in decorations throughout the ballroom and ski sweaters will be the attire for the evening.

Tickets are on sale now and will be sold at the door for 75 cents a couple. Co-chairmen who have arranged the plans for the dance are Shirley Tanner and Jack Peters. Other committee members are Marian Hartwell Bette West, Eleanor Strange, and Al Denman.

Vandal Women Prove Sharpshooters

Vandaleers Rehearse For Candlelight Concert

Above is an informal rehearsal shot of the University of Idaho Vandaleers as they put the finishing touches on their annual Christmas Candlelight service. The program, which is traditional to the Idaho campus, will be presented December 16 and 17 at 8 p. m. in the university auditorium. Professor Glen R. Lockery, foreground, is the director of the group of sixty university students.

Houses To Make Donations Tomorrow

Donations for the Spur-ik sponsored Latah Overseas Relief Drive will be collected at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Boxes from each house and hall will be taken and sent with other supplies of money, food and clothing from the Northwestern states of Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Idaho to ports in Seattle and Portland. Here Christmas ships will leave to sail this month carrying the supplies to reach the needy countries as soon as possible.

Church World Service is the agency through which the supplies will be distributed overseas. It is the official agency of 28 Protestant denominations and several Orthodox churches, which maintains a cooperative program on relief and reconstruction on a large scale, distributing materials in forty different countries, a larger area than any other volunteer agency.

Though Church World Service has handled over 18 million pounds of relief supplies in its less than two years of operation, the overhead has been but 1.43 percent with less than 1 percent loss. Volunteer workers, pastors, and missionaries distribute materials in both Europe and Asia on the basis of greatest need, without regard for race, creed or political affiliations.

Every shipment of Church World Service is followed to its destination by the shipping department and reports are carefully compiled as to whether and how each shipment has been handled by the local committee. On the spot committees investigate all applicants prior to distribution of supplies and distribute wholly on the basis of personal and family needs.

The drive is sponsored to show that the citizens of Latah county do care and do wish to share this Christmas season with those less fortunate people throughout the world. The donor may make his gift a personal one by putting a good-will message into the gar-

Editors Announce December Blot Out Next Week

Blot has gone to press. The exact day when the December issue will appear is now up to the printers, Editor Maurice Paulsen said yesterday, but it will be out before the Christmas vacation.

Subscribers will receive their copies through representative and mail first. Remaining copies will be placed on sale at the Perch, Student Union bookstore and downtown magazine stands.

Sporting a full color cover, the December issue emphasizes humor and art work. Dick Munkwitz, Catherine Duncan, and Guy Terwilliger have short stories appearing.

Special Features

Special features include a double page photo-spread of "One Day's Daze," with Jean Knudson as the typical Idaho coed. The basketball squad is subject of another spread, "Hoop and Holler" by Pat Hamilton. Six sophomores appear as Blot's December queens.

Boise is the second in the magazine's "Cities of Idaho" series with an article by Art Riddle. In an insignificant corner is an article on Idaho's Society of Insignificant Men, as told to "Joe Mediocore." Paul Lonardo, French instructor, is subject of a "profile" by Ramona Bills. Humorous features are contributed by Marjan Morris, Oscar Trepin, and June Thomas. Miss Thomas is also author of an article on the dramatics department.

A listing of the KUOI program schedule, fashion notes, cartoons, gossip, and three pages of jokes complete the magazine.

Chess Club Plans Tourney With WSC

According to John Cosho, president of the University Chess club, the first inter-collegiate chess tournament of the year will be held Sunday, December 14, between the University of Idaho and Washington State college. The tourney, which will be played at the temporary student union building in Pullman, will start at 2:30 p.m.

All members desiring transportation to Pullman are requested to meet at the Bucket at 1:45, Sunday afternoon. Anyone having club chess sets are urged to bring them.

Mysterious 'Gal' From Hunger To Appear

The much-talked-about candidate for Holly Queen, Miss L. Toe, was greeted last night by the Committee for Unforseen Events, who tried without avail to discourage her appearance on the campus.

Her first statement to the press was typical of the average Idaho coed, "I'm hungry!" The statement was quickly rectified since it was evident that she was 'strictly from hunger.'

President Morgan Tovey, sophomore class, announced that a special committee has been appointed to keep Miss L. Toe from being mobbed by eager Idaho men before she can get to the Sophomore assembly at 7:30 Monday night.

Miss L. Toe believes herself to have 'that new look' and may be quoted as saying, "Mon livre est sur la table," which it is believed means that she is confident that she will win the queen contest, during Holly Week.

'Life In Dorm' Theme Of Sophomore Assembly

Snowflights OK. Snow flights have not been outlawed, according to Dean Louise Carter.

Rumors of such a rule started when she cautioned students to eliminate unnecessary roughness, after Aris Peterson, Tri-Delt received a sprained knee and facial lacerations in the annual Tri-Delta Tau Delta snow fight Tuesday night.

Students To Cast Votes For Queen At Monday Show

An assembly, featuring a variety show on the theme, "Life in a Co-ed Dorm," will open the pre-Christmas festivities scheduled by sophomores on their annual Holly week program.

Gene Bush will act as master of ceremonies at the show held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the auditorium, according to Morgan Tovey, sophomore president. Ballots on which students will name their favorite candidate for Holly Queen will be passed out at the door and will be collected on completion of the show.

The queen will be crowned during the intermission of the semi-formal dance beginning at 9 p.m. Thursday in Memorial gymnasium. The theme of the dance is Moonlight and Mistletoe and the Rhythm-Aires will play.

Special To Leave 19th For S. Idaho

The special train, carrying between 200 and 300 students to southern Idaho for Christmas vacation, will leave Moscow December 19 at 4:45 p.m. It is scheduled to arrive in Boise at 11 a.m. Saturday and Pocatello at 5:25 p.m.

Twelve cars will make up the special, including a baggage car, two diners, a sleeper for married couples, three sleepers and a coach for women, and three sleepers and a coach for men. Part of the sleepers will go as far as Boise, and the rest will go to Pocatello.

Mrs. Katherine Chrisman, Foreney hall housemother, will act as chaperone. A traffic representative from this district will also accompany the train from Moscow and on the return trip.

The special will leave Pocatello on the return trip January 3 at 11 a.m., will arrive at Boise at 5:15 p.m. and return to Moscow January 4 at 11 a.m.

Executive Board Honored At Dinner

Members of the executive board and their guests were honored at a semi-formal dinner dance given by the Board of Control of Washington State college Friday, December 5.

Dr. Walter Steffens, faculty advisor of the executive board, and Mrs. Steffens accompanied the group.

Home Ec Teacher Addresses Frosh

Virginia Geddes Eyestone, home economics instructor at Moscow Junior high school, addressed members of the home economics freshman orientation class at 11 a.m. Thursday in the home economics department.

Subject of her speech was "Teaching Home Economics," one of a series of talks on opportunities in home economics.

Executive Board 'T' Club Defends Seating Section In Gymnasium

The ASUI executive board voted to back the World Service Fund drive slated tentatively for March 1, at its Tuesday night meeting, according to Orrin Saunders, board member.

Ed Gronneberg, Inter-Church council president, requested that the board sponsor the drive this year. The ICC carried out the drive last year raising approximately $900.

Marvin Churchill was approved as senior basketball manager after a recommendation by coach Chas. L. Finley.

John Dailey, "T" club advisor, presented arguments to the board concerning the club's seating section in Memorial gymnasium. The matter was tabled until more student opinion could be gathered.

More 'Ts' Awarded

Other board business included approval of Phil Litzenger and Richard LeDuc for Varsity and Fresh football awards, respectively. Their names had been omitted from the previous list of approvals.

B. J. Ingraham was provided a $10 expense fund for a trip to Walla Walla in connection with her duties as traveling representative of the Pacific Northwest College Congress. She will leave Sunday evening.

Miss L. Toe Arrives For Queen Contest

Miss L. Toe, mysterious beauty, arrived this week to vie for the crown during the coming Holly Queen contest. Idaho males were so struck by the attractive candidate that few were able to whistle as she swayed by. Spokesmen say Miss L. Toe should attract votes during the Sophomores' Monday night assembly.

Author Slams 'Co-eds'

"Neither Miss America nor her community will be much better off for what she has 'learned' in her four years of college education," states Philip Wylie in an article entitled "What's Wrong With College for Women?" published in the December issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Mr. Wylie claims that the one major, visible use that the woman college graduate makes of her status lies in the realm of vanity, and that she is more likely to turn out a spinster than her non-collegiate sister. When she does marry, she is a total failure as a mother, for American women college graduates do not bear enough children to replace themselves or their husbands, says Wylie.

This seems to be the main essence of Mr. Wylie's article. One hears every day of women coming to college to find a husband. Perhaps it is a good place at that, with two or three men to every woman. But, in dispute of Philip Wylie's piece, some women college graduates are indeed outstanding figures in their fields.

In answer to the blast of education for women by Wylie, a piece was written by Carol Lieberman, a typical University of Michigan co-ed. In her article she says, "Mr. Wylie's article is misguided. He does not object to COLLEGE for women, he objects to WOMEN." She extends an invitation to Mr. Wylie to visit Ann Arbor and see the several hundred educated women who are earning the family bread to enable their husbands to finish school.

As both Mr. Wylie and Miss Lieberman point out, more than half of the population of the United States is made up of women. Looks like about even odds—should be a good battle.

SAI Prexy Visits Local Sigma Zeta; Feted At Banquet

Helen Tollefson, president of Epsilon Province of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's international music fraternity, was a weekend guest of the Sigma Zeta chapter at the University of Idaho. Mrs. Tollefson is from Des Moines, Ia., where her husband is dean of the school of law at Drake University.

Conferences were held Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Tollefson and SAI officers and the annual Founder's Day banquet was held at Johnnie's Cafe Saturday night. Among those present at the banquet besides the visiting guest and chapter members were Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin and Mrs. Louise Carter. The evening came to a climax with the members singing "A Song for SAI," written by Jean Armour, former president of Sigma Zeta chapter, "The Rose Song," "Whistle Song" and "Farewell Song."

Women of Delta Gamma entertained Mrs. Tollefson at dinner Sunday, and a short recital followed by a business meeting was held at Hays Hall Sunday evening.

The recital program was as follows: Mary Jasper, piano, "Prelude and Fugue," by Bach; Yvonne Whiting, voice, "Faith in Spring," by Schubert; Lois Stone, violin, "Arioso" by Bach; Dorothy Gillette, voice, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," by Haydn; and Polly Howard, piano, "Scharzo C-sharp Minor," by Chopin.

Mrs. Tollefson's visit was brought to a close with a luncheon Monday noon at the Blue Bucket.

Mysterious Men Frighten Pledge

Fog swept in over the campus, making the night dark and dismal. Two dark, disreputable figures, dressed in overcoats, slouch hats and dark glasses, stood on the porch of the Gamma Phi house ringing the door bell.

Beverly Strike, Gamma Phi pledge, answered the door and was greeted by one of the men remarking to the other, "Is this the girl?" "Yeah, that looks like her," the other answered in a deep muffled voice. Beverly, noticing the hands in pockets that could be holding anything from pipes to 45 automatics, quickly slammed the door and retreated up the stairs.

The identity of the dark, forboding looking men has never been revealed, but it is believed that they were college men out on a masquerade.

Here's More About Gridiron Movies

Students can emphasize in contacting prospective new students in their home towns.

Since the Board of Regents has lifted the ban on out-of-state enrollees, students from other states now attending Idaho will have the opportunity to help in the campaign to "bring one back alive." University officials have indicated that sons or daughters of Idaho graduates will receive special consideration in the processing of applications from out of state.

ANSWER: They certainly do. For example, the Washington Water Power Company in 1946 paid $3,107,331.77 in taxes to federal, state, county, and municipal governments, and still maintained low rates. The schools received a good percentage of this large sum, helping to educate a free people in a free country.

Lettermen, Others Debate Section

Dear Jason:
In answer to the letter by D. F. regarding the "I" section in the gym, we of the "I" club feel that an explanation of the facts would help to clear up some of the misunderstanding about it.

The section is situated in the middle of the south balcony and is marked off by ropes. It is reserved for "I" club members with one lady friend each, and former members who are no longer in school. It is reserved for them only until the start of the game and is then open to anyone who can find a seat in it.

It has been said a university is made up not only of its buildings, teachers, and students, but also of the ivy on its walls and its traditions. Say Its a Tradition. The "I" section is a tradition on the Idaho campus and as such has had good reasons for its establishment. Idaho has been losing its traditions very fast. What has happened to the "Hume" fight, the "I" caps, the green caps, the tradition surrounding the senior bench, the Idaho "Hello"? They have all gone with the "wind".

About the last one left is the "I" section at the games, which has remained for a period of a great many years. In fact, this section existed probably before most of the students now here were ever born.

All conference schools, and to the best of our knowledge, most all other schools have a letterman's section such as ours. Formerly on Main Floor. You may not know it, but the "I" section used to be under the balcony on the main floor. It had to give way to cash customers then; now, a few individuals want to do away with it entirely because they think we don't deserve a privilege we are exercising.

Mr. L. D. and D. F.: If you wish to see why we think we deserve the seats in the "illustrious" "I" club section, come out to the gym and watch the boxers earn their money. They are there from 3:30 until 5:30 every day except Sunday. Or follow them around the campus while they run 3 miles each morning. You can stand on a high point and observe.

Watch Practices. Come out every afternoon from March on with the track and cross-country teams. You are invited to come out to participate in or observe spring football practice and then come back to school several weeks early in the fall to practice.

If you are physically fit and lucky and get by the scholastic hazard, you may earn your varsity "I". Now if this procedure is too strenuous or takes you away from your studies, girl, or boy friend, Bucket, Nest, or bridge table, you may insure yourself of a good seat by coming to the game a little early and helping to cheer the freshman team on to victory.

We don't think we are getting an unfair privilege, and other schools don't think their lettermen are. Do you really think so?

John Dalley, President
Bill Williams

SEWING AND ALTERING. MRS. H. W. Comstock, 113 S. Lilly. 2t

Dear Jason:
Alas! Once again we have that ever-familiar question raging over our campus, namely, "Why a special I-club section at the basketball games?" Yes, and with the same protests as we heard and read in the Arg many times last year during basketball season, only to be forgotten when the season closed.

Why should a condition which is so obviously disapproved of be allowed to continue? Is this question to be used again this year as merely a topic for discussion at dinner tables, exchanges, social gatherings, and boring dates when we have the urge to liven the conversation?

Must Take Action. Last year when this controversy was raging among the students, the executive board sat idly by and took absolutely no action. Are we to see the same thing happen again this year so that in future years we may constantly refer back to the question?

Some action should be taken immediately! Therefore, would it seem too impractical for our enthusiastic basketball fans and all others who protest so emphatically, to suggest some worth-while solutions to our caucuses and executive board, and furthermore, see to it that they are acted upon? From past experience, we know that letters to Jason and similar articles printed in the Arg will not remove the I-club from that "special section". So fellows, why not put those complaints where they will carry some weight and get some action from our executive board?

R. T.
Dear Jason:
In the last issue of the Arg we read letters from two writers regarding the reserved section in the gym for "I" club members. In discussing this problem we have devised two remedial plans.

This is a public institution and as such should sponsor democratic ideals, but let's face the facts. There is now a very strange caste system on this campus; therefore our idea is (1), to destroy the caste system by doing away with all reserved sections and eliminating the discrimination against the majority for a few.

Our alternate plan is a more complete caste system based on merit of service to the university. By this arrangement the most select group—football lettermen—would have the seats on the main floor behind the players bench, and possibly a few outstanding stars sitting on the bench. We would, of course, consider those men who barely made their letters. They would sit directly behind the stars.

Basketball lettermen would have the center section on the balcony according to rank as with football lettermen. Flanking them would be sections for baseball lettermen, and farther down the side we

Breeders Offered Three-Day Course

A three-day short course for beef cattle breeders will begin January 26 on the university campus under direction of the department of animal husbandry, according to an announcement made here today by C. W. Hickman, department head.

We have frequent requests from breeders for this kind of course," Hickman said in making the announcement. "This year we are finding it possible to offer three full days of instruction to those who would like to attend the classes."

The animal husbandman said instruction would center around feeding, fitting, and showing, with additional information given in care of the cattle's feet, breeding problems, disease control, and registration and herd records. The development of beef calves is another problem that will get full attention.

Outstanding workers in the beef cattle industry outside the university will contribute to the program, Hickman said. John Burns, well known Lewiston herdsman, and John Mathiason, herdsman at Sandpoint, will assist W. J. "Bill" Florence in giving pointers in fitting and showing cattle. R. R. Miller, Spokane, formerly with the American Hereford association, will discuss procedure in keeping herd records.

HARMSWORTH MAKES NEWS. An Associated Press account of the recent marriage survey made by Professor Harry Harmsworth on "The Family" has reached statewide publication.

Icy Streets Raise Accident Rate

The ice and snow coated streets have left their mark on several of the campus vehicles. Records show a toll of seven accidents for the first 11 days in December.

Moscow police department termed the damage to the cars slight and said that no one was injured, but one house in town had its front window enlarged when a car, parked inoffensively on a hill, was pushed into it.

Although most accidents occur on corners, police said that the corner was a "worst offender." Corners cited as being particularly bad were ninth and seventh on University Drive and the Park Lot road.

Accidents also occurred on street east of Morrill hall and the sixteenth block on seventh, police said. Drivers were warned to drive slowly and put chains on their cars if possible.

Holidays Bring Excess Of Duz; Trip To Moon

By CHUCK MAHER
Well, gang, Christmas is almost here! With Christmas comes snow, and with snow comes head colds, and with head colds comes pneumonia. This leads us to believe that Christmas should fall some time in July when everybody could be up and around enjoying themselves.

By the way, you know that it would take a fast train six months to reach the moon! Think of the enormous fare.

I suppose everyone is wondering what they are going to get for Christmas—and with only twenty dollars, too! You may not realize it, but twenty dollars will buy a lot of things—for instance: one pair of pants or two sweaters, or four hundred cans of chlorinated lime, or forty cans of very expensive sardines. Incidentally where did we pick up twenty dollars?

Busy Mr. Claus
Well, it appears that the jolly old man with the corpulent physique is going to have a busy time again this year. One thing has always puzzled me—how does the old guy manage to cover such a great distance in one night? I've heard rumors to the effect that he feeds his reindeer Duz! (Not very good really, but I have to fill up space somehow). Another thing—how does he manage to squeeze down the smaller chimneys? But come now, we must be narrow-minded. There is a Santa Claus and he does bring us presents, and that is all there is to it.

All of which leads us to the French revolution, or is it the Spanish civil war? Frankly, I am very confused so I shall stop here.

Bertrand Schedules Moscow Speeches
M. Raoul Bertrand, consul general of France at San Francisco, will come to the university in the spring to speak before various faculty and student groups, it was reported last week by Prof. Arthur H. Beattie of the department of foreign languages.

Beattie had just returned from the conference at the University of Oregon of the Northwest Pacific Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French. M. Bertrand was a principal speaker at the conference.

Beattie was elected vice-president of the chapter of French teachers at the conference.

Not Injurious
Though it makes good propaganda for WSC the water is not injurious to health. The unusual taste is given by the large amount of minerals it contains. Because of this, the pipes fill up with sediment making it necessary to clean them occasionally. The pipes in the post office building have just been cleaned.

Considering that the present system has been in continual use since long before 1930, and that the majority of students have felt

Well To Provide Sludgeless Coffee, Tasteless Water

By MARY LOUISE WILL
"Poison piped direct to consumer." "Kickapoo joy-juice provided gratis." "Only university in world which tries to eliminate own students." These and similar remarks can be heard whenever some unfortunate student, being only protoplasm, takes a drink of water in the Ad building, Memorial gym or other university-owned building.

Complaints have been voiced for a long time about the water system of the university. Those people airing their views on the subject seem to consider the fact that the drinking water tastes rather peculiar, a personal insult. It is said bitterly that nothing ever has been done to correct the situation and nothing ever will be done. Some have expressed the opinion that anyone who could tolerate that water could with safety drink carboic acid. Coffee drinkers of the campus (99 percent of the student body) state that they would appreciate hot coffee occasionally instead of the hot sludge they are used to.

Water Committee
Contrary to popular opinion, the administration is working to install a new water system. C. A. Truitt, superintendent of buildings and grounds revealed that a water committee including George Gragon, Vernon E. Scheide, William W. Tinniswood, and himself are working on the problem now. The contract has been let to Lincoln Bouillon and association of Seattle. As soon as the committee decides where to locate the new well and what kind of purifying plant to install, construction will be considered.

With next summer as their goal for installation of the new system, Mr. Truitt stated that in addition to the new water-softening plant, a one-thousand gallon pump would be installed. The present pump has only a five hundred gallon capacity and is housed across the street from the post office. In case you've wondered about the frame tower which looks as though it has no purpose in this world—that is the pump.

Actors Develop Southern Drawl
"Ah' neber had no father no' mother, Ah don't reckon nobody eber made me. Ah jest growed!" This line of Topsy's in the comic opera "Uncle Tom's Cabin" gives only a taste of the difficulties Miss Jean Collette's actors are having in assuming Southern accents for their roles in the January 15, 16 and 17 production.

False accents may be easy to acquire, but Miss Collette is a perfectionist in her work, and requires authenticity equal to Broadway plays.

It would be much simpler if all the accents were alike, but the parts call for inflections typical of the nineteenth century Louisiana genteel folk, the Kentucky townpeople, New Englanders, as well as Negroes. No wonder accents change radically during each rehearsal.

But with the diligent coaching the actors are now receiving the rhythms and fluctuations of the nineteenth century speech will soon be so firmly entrenched that even away from the stage they will find themselves lapsing into a Louisiana drawl.

Plenty Of Room For Single Students Here Next Term

"For the first time in two years, there will be plenty of room for single out-of-state students who wish to enroll at the University of Idaho when the second semester opens in January," announced President J. E. Buchanan as he made the opening address to Idaho's 90 county agents, club agents, and home demonstration agents, specialists and others gathered for the annual extension service conference here this week.

President Buchanan, who based his talk on questions sent to him by extension service personnel at his request, spoke openly and frankly on problems of the university.

"You and I and all of us on the faculty have a job to do for Idaho," Buchanan emphasized. "The high cost of living may have nullified much of the increase in pay voted us by the last legislature, but it is still up to us to see that the job is done."

Dean D. R. Theophilus of the college of agriculture followed the president in talking before the group, choosing as his topic, "The Agricultural College — Its Challenge and Opportunity."

Theophilus cited better farming methods and better farm living in farm homes as the ultimate goal of the college.

Two-Way Street

"It is our job to help form a sound program for Idaho through teaching, research and extension," the dean said. "We are going to have to develop good leadership, sound soil conservation practices, better marketing outlets for our products, and develop better social status for our rural people to accomplish that job. We have a definite challenge to help farm people not only to a better way of living."

"As members of the extension service, we have a two-way street to travel," Theophilus continued. "By giving the best service of which we are capable to the people of this state we are going to gain not only their support for ourselves and our program but we will also gain the respect we so much desire and the unlimited opportunity for further service."

"We have to realize that as time goes on there are more and more problems of agriculture that lie outside the direct realm of the science of agriculture," he declared. "We cannot disregard such important matters as education, health, and public policy as we form our program for service to the farm people of Idaho."

Glenn C. Holm, vice-director of the experiment stations, outlined the policy and program of his department for the next year. Holm stressed cooperation with other agencies and with the farm population of the state as the experiment station's first goal.

Wilson-Day Vows Exchanged Dec. 6

The marriage of Sarah Joan Wilson of Lapwai and Paul Joseph Day, of Boise, took place at 11 a.m. Saturday, December 6, at St. Mary's church. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Farmer's club and 125 guests and friends were in attendance.

Mrs. Day was a former student of the university and resided at Hays hall. Mr. Day is a sophomore majoring in business and is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The couple are making their home in Moscow.

Infirmiry Admits Twelve Students

The infirmiry admitted 12 students this week and released four. Those admitted were Florence Smith, Ramona Bills, Lucille Cooper, Joyce Snyder, Robert Leonard, Alta Humphreys, Ray Kinnouth, John Linnemkamp, Edith Tortel, Phyllis Andrew, Donald Cox and Stanley Thomas. The last four named have been released. Margaret Foley was also discharged.

Green Considers Board Increase To Meet Expenses

Faced with rapidly rising food costs, Robert F. Greene, director of dormitories, began a study last fall to determine exactly what would be necessary in the adjustment of board rates paid by students.

He is still working on the study and would gladly finish it if food costs would stay in one place long enough to get the figures down on paper.

After comparing financial operating reports from the various dining halls on the campus, Greene commented, "It was obvious at the end of the last school year that some adjustment would have to be made in the rates charged the students if we were to operate without a loss. We felt, however, that the entire cost should be analyzed thoroughly before the adjustment was made."

"The analysis has shown that where we operated last year at a slight surplus for the first two months, it was necessary this year during the same period to dip heavily into cafe operating reserves in order to maintain the quality of food and service."

The present inventory of food and supplies, purchased before the latest rise in prices, will probably enable continued operation at the present board rates until after Christmas, or possibly until the beginning of the second semester. New price quotations available soon after the first of the year will have a direct bearing on the adjusted board rate.

Since the rates now charged the students in the university operated dining halls are abnormally low, the adjustment will probably not put the rate higher than the minimum now charged at the major schools in the Northwest.

U. Of I. Rifle Team Defeats Clemson

The University of Idaho rifle team defeated Clemson college of Clemson, South Carolina, last week, by a score of 1830 to 1733. Five high scores of a ten-man team counted.

The University of Alabama won over Idaho by a score of 3641 to 3617. Ten high scores of a fifteen-man team counted.

The high five men for last week were Alex Yarosky 373, Keith Jueld 369, Dean Lenander 365, John Wittenman 363, Floyd Moulton 360.

Scores from Montana State and the University of Arizona have not been received. Colonel B. H. Hensley announced today.

Camera Club Plans Picture Contest

Rules for a photo contest for members of the Shutter and Lens were drawn up at a meeting of that group Tuesday evening. Bob Spiker, president said. Pictures for the contest must be submitted by January 6, he said. Judging will take place on January 15.

A pictorial scavenger hunt, scheduled to end next week, was cancelled because of its conflict with Holly week activities.

Women Serenaded By Betas

Beta Theta Pi fraternity is serenading women's living groups on the campus this week with a program unusual to the Idaho campus. Singing to two groups each evening, the men present a half-hour program. Above, the men serenade Alpha Chi sorority despite falling snow. Earl Hayes can be seen directing the group.

175 Idaho Dairy Men Attend Three-Day Conference Here

Approximately 175 county agents and dairy men from all over the state attended the Idaho Dairy Association conference held on the campus last week.

High light of the conference was a banquet at the Grange hall Thursday evening at which Cecil Hagen, associate editor of the Idaho Farmer, presided as toastmaster.

Dr. Boyd Martin, assistant dean of Letters and Science, spoke on UNESCO, United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural organization.

Idaho Considers Joining National Student Group

Members of the ASUI executive board are considering the possibilities of Idaho joining the National Student Association according to Walt Smith, ASUI president.

Boyd Hansen, Idaho delegate to the association's constitutional convention held at the University of Wisconsin last August, reported to the board recently on the organization.

The National Student Association, according to Hansen, was formed at the suggestion of 25 American students who attended the World Student congress in Prague in August of 1946.

The students found that most delegates attending the congress were representing national unions of students. U.S. colleges and universities had no single organization which could present unified U.S. opinion.

Convention Held Accordingly, a convention was called when the delegates returned. Over 700 delegates representing 300 U.S. colleges formed a continuations committee which did the spade work for the new association and drafted a constitution.

A year later 750 delegates, representing 356 colleges, met and after numerous changes, adopted the constitution, thus establishing the National Students Association. Hansen represented Idaho.

Aims of the new organization are to aid American college students in maintaining academic freedom and student rights. Other purposes are to stimulate and improve student governments, to develop educational standards, to promote international understanding, and to guarantee all students equal educational rights.

Important to U.S. students is the association's goal to standardize accreditation of college courses throughout the U.S.

Volleyball Challenge Issued

Knowing full well that there is probably no better volleyball team in the entire northwest, we, Willis Sweet hall, do hereby challenge any living group on the campus to a three-game volleyball tournament.

We think it only fair to warn anyone wishing to accept that the Willis Sweet team is far superior to any team that can be brought to face us. The tallest men, the fastest set-ups, and the hottest servers are to be found on the team. Some of the team members have been offered huge salaries to play for the Curly Creek Purple Sox but they have declined. At present we are petitioning to become a Varsity team.

In view of these facts, if we should get any challenge, the play-off would be the best two out of three games with the losers to buy the winners an adequate supply of liquid refreshments. These details are to be arranged at the time the challenge is accepted.

Anyone interested in exposing their team to this whirlwind of ball-playing should call Jack Vassar at 25-011 to make arrangements for the games.

Idaho Miners Meet With WSC Group

A joint meeting of the WSC Associated Muckers and the Idaho Associated Miners was held at the Pullman golf club house on the evening of December 10. Approximately 30 muckers and 20 Idaho miners were present.

"The Story of an Ore Sample," a technicolor motion picture explained and illustrated the ore testing processes used in the laboratories of the American Cyanamid company.

After the picture, the group was served coffee and doughnuts at Morrill hall. A visit to the various laboratories concluded the evening.

An official invitation to attend the Idaho Miners picnic next spring was extended to the WSC group.

Withdrawal Less Than Last Year

Fewer students had withdrawn from the university by the tenth week this year than during the same period last year contrary to recent campus rumors, figures released by President J. E. Buchanan showed.

A total of 88 students had dropped school by the tenth week compared to a total of 150 last year. This represented a 2.3 per cent drop for 1947-48 as against a 4.3 per cent withdrawal for 1946-47.

The heaviest withdrawal of the current year came during the seventh week when 15 students left school. During the seventh week last year 13 men and women withdrew, but the preceding week had seen 23 leave.

Figures of drops for this year week by week, are: second, 10; third, 9; fourth, 13; fifth, 4; sixth, 9; seventh, 15; eighth, 13; ninth, and tenth, 4.

Idaho's Williams Picked for East-West Classic

Grid Star to Play in Annual Shrine Game

Billy "The Rifle" Williams, Idaho's stellar halfback, accepted yesterday an invitation to play in the annual East-West Shrine game in San Francisco's Kezar stadium on New Year's Day. Williams was picked on the Associated Press All-Coast third team, and was rated on the All-Coast second team by conference coaches.

At the end of the Vandal's season, Williams placed third in the nation in total yardage gained with 1148 yards. He tossed 138 passes and completed 50 for 816 yards and six touchdowns, to rank 17th in the nation in aerial competition. On the ground, Billy drove for 332 yards. In national statistics, he figured as second in number of plays with 237.

Leads Coast
In the Pacific Coast Conference Williams led easily in total offense. His nearest rival, Van Brocklin of Oregon, lagged 290 yards behind. Billy is eighth on the coast in rushing, second in passing, and third in punt returns.

When asked what he thought of playing against the East's Johnny Lujack, All-American from Notre Dame, Billy commented seriously that he thought it would be fun to see how west coast players stacked up against some of the eastern stars. Then with a laugh, he declared, "As for Lujack, I don't know whether I'll get in the game or not. I've just got an invitation."

Vesser, ISC Coach Was Idaho 'Great'

Johnny Vesser, football coach at Idaho State college, probably came closer to being called an "All-American" than any other player who ever donned a University of Idaho football uniform and called himself a Vandal.

Interviewed by the Idaho-Bengal, Idaho State college newspaper, Vesser (who was rated All-American end by Liberty magazine in 1925 and who made all-Pacific Coast conference the same year) listed a couple of Idaho games as the "most interesting in my career."

One of these games was between the Vandals and the Stanford Indians. "Idaho had Stanford backed up against their own goal all day," said Vesser, "but we just couldn't seem to score. The game was played in Portland, Oregon, and there was a lot of mud. Then Stanford got the ball down in our territory once (about the 20 yard line) and made a field goal. The score ended, Stanford 3; Idaho 0."

Stivers Was Star
The other game starred a little 140 lb. back named Skippy Stivers. The game was against Oregon State of Corvallis, and there was about six inches of mud on that field. The ball was wet and slippery but Skippy passed just as if he had a dry ball. The big psychological moment came when Skippy attempted and completed a pass from behind his own goal."

TEAM PAYS OWN EXPENSES
The Farragut Junior Varsity basketball squad has been footing their own bills on basketball trips, and has won every game. Recently, however, the faculty contributed sufficient money and gasoline to transport the team to Cheney for tonight's game.

Vandals Will Play Five PCC Schools

The University of Idaho hereafter will be guaranteed a minimum of five conference games each year, one of which must be either with the University of Washington or one of the four California members.

Other Pacific Coast Conference football formulas, decided upon by the Pacific Coast Conference, guarantees schools in Oregon and Washington a minimum of three contests each year with California schools.

The games will be on an "un-deviating rotating basis." The ruling means that Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, and Washington State each year automatically will schedule three games each among California, Stanford, UCLA and USC.

Upon recommendation of the coaches, September 1 was established as the permanent opening date for football practice.

Frosh Limited
Freshman football competition among members was limited to the period between the first Saturday in October and the next to the last Saturday before Thanksgiving.

The 1950 Idaho football schedule has been released by the Pacific Coast Conference, and is as follows: October 14—Oregon State at Corvallis; October 21—Washington State at Pullman; November 4—Montana at Moscow; November 11—Oregon at Moscow; and November 18—California at Berkeley.

Co-ed Marksmen Receive Medals

Five members of the girls' rifle team were awarded medals for excellence in marksmanship Tuesday by Col. B. H. Hensley, professor of military science and tactics, under whose supervision the women were shooting.

Mary Ellen Edwards, Forney, and Mildred Tuller, Alpha Phi, won gold medals for first place, both trying for that position with scores of 477 out of a possible 500. Placing second were Jean Dammarell, Forney, and Audrey Miller, Idaho club, each with a score of 474. Valeta Hershberger, Delta Delta Delta, was third with a score of 471.

The girls' rifle team recently defeated the Montana girls' team by a score of 974 to 958. Challenges have been issued to other girls' teams and it is hoped by the members to establish a record, Colonel Hensley said.

Of the 45 girls starting in October approximately 20 are left in the group. The team developed rapidly under the coaching of Capt. C. R. Underdahl and M/Sgt. D. M. Clure. Basis for the competition was high total score in two positions, prone and sitting, computed over a five week period.

Ski Team Tryouts

Tryouts for the University of Idaho ski team which will participate in the sixth annual Sun Valley Intercollegiate meet December 28-31 will be held Sunday, December 14, on Mt. Spokane.

Returning lettermen who paced the Vandals to eighth in the nation last year are: Lou Berriochoa, Jack Robinette, and Hal Crawford.

New men trying out for the squad are Crusty Hammon, Dave Olmar, and Al Truesdel.

Those who make the team must be able to jump over 100 feet, run downhill and slalom, and finish a five-mile cross-country race.

And then there's the tragic tale of the hunter whose total bag for the day—one field mouse.

Idaho Hoopsters To Meet Portland Pilots Tonight

The Idaho Vandals will play host to the University of Portland Pilots in a basketball game in Memorial gymnasium tonight at 7:30.

The Vandals have made a better showing in their games so far this year by winning four games and losing two, but the Pilots have forced Oregon State, Oregon, and Washington State to work for their victories. The Portland aggregation lost to the Cougars December 10 by a slim margin of four points, 55-51.

High point man for the Pilots in the WSC game was Grosjacques who tallied 13 points.

The Portland team presents an unusual lineup, fielding two standouts in Jack Winners, six foot-four Negro at center, and Fred "Happy" Lee, five foot-five inch Chinese boy at a guard position.

Vandals Lose
Idaho dropped a hotly contested game to the Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney Tuesday evening, 44 to 43. The score was tied 43-all with 15 seconds left to play when EWCE tallied with a free throw to win.

It was the Vandals' second loss against 4 victories and the eighth straight time the Cheney five has defeated the Idaho team in seven seasons. The Vandals will attempt to break the "jinx" when the two meet at Memorial gymnasium January 3.

George Gablehouse was high man for the winners with 19 points, including the deciding free throw which came as a result of a foul by Idaho forward John Evans.

The halftime score was 24 to 20 in Eastern Washington's favor. They maintained the lead until seven minutes before the final bell when Idaho moved ahead with a field goal. After this the game seasawed back and forth until Gablehouse tallied the winning point by virtue of a gift toss in the final fifteen seconds of the contest.

Idaho Ring Squad Slates New Cards

The University of Idaho boxing squad, with 40 representative pugilists battling for team positions, is again pointing toward National recognition. The boxers, coached by Commander Ken Butler with the assistance of Frank Young, includes 5 of last year's Vandal fighters who tied with Wisconsin for the National Intercollegiate boxing title.

The season opens with a non-conference bout with Southwestern Louisiana Institute January 14, there, followed January 16 by a match with Louisiana State, also away.

Except in the 160 pound class where Herb Carlson, last year's national intercollegiate champion, is back, competition is keen, and who will go to Louisiana is still a question.

Two New Meets
In addition to the regularly scheduled bouts which appeared in the December 5 issue of the Argonaut, two meets have been scheduled with Eastern Washington College of Education, one with the Orofino Lions Club, and a possibility of one or more with a school which has a boxing team this year for the first time in several years. E.W.C.E. has just returned to the boxing ranks after a forced wartime discontinuance due to lack of men and material and is coached by Bud N. Beloit, a former U. of I. mittman and 1935 Pacific coast and national intercollegiate champion in the 135 pound division. These bouts are intended to give all members of the team who do not participate in conference meets a chance to gain valuable experience.

Two tentative bouts, one of them with the WSC frosh, has been scheduled for the freshman boxers. There is presently only one 118-pounder on the freshman team, and coach Butler said there are still many openings for both frosh and varsity positions. It still isn't too late to turn out.

GLOBE TROTTERS TO PLAY
The Harlem Globe Trotters, one-time professional basketball champions of the world, will cavort in Bohler gymnasium January 5th against a Pullman All-Star team.

She was only the banker's daughter, but she certainly held their interest.

Volleyball Leagues To Play Off Ties

Inter-league volleyball playoffs will begin next week in the battle for points and the university championship. Volleyball ties will be played off before inter-league playoffs.

Basketball will not begin until January 1 to allow a week of practice preceding league play. To obtain the floor, which will be available from January 5 to January 9, team managers should contact the intramural office.

In all, 798 men have participated in intramural activities so far this year. The living group with the greatest number of participants to date is Pine Hall with 116 men. Delta Chi leads the fraternities with 49.

Results
Results of December 10 volleyball games are as follows: WSH No. 2 defeated LH No. 2, CH No. 1 defeated Pine No. 1, LH No. 1

Ski Bus

There will be a ski bus leaving from the Blue Bucket at 1 p.m. Saturday for the Vandal Ski Club area. This bus can carry 29 people. A bus will leave at 9 a.m. Sunday and if enough people are interested there will be another at noon. These buses will be back in time for dinner. Bring your own lunches Sunday.

Vandaleers Will Present Annual Candlelight Service

(By SALLY MORRIS)
For the last quarter of a century, the presentation of the Vandaleer Christmas Candlelight Service has been as much a part of the university Christmas season as the decoration of the live Christmas tree in front of the Administration building.

To be presented December 16 and 17 in cathedral serenity, the Vandaleer service will be lighted only by the glow of the tapers which the choir members carry. The university auditorium will be set with pines against a solemn cathedral stage from which the sixty students, robed in black, will sing. A silent processional to the strains of a Christmas processional will open the program at eight p.m.

The use of the candle in carol services is steeped in tradition, having originated many years ago among the Celtic peoples of the Isle of Man. On Mary's Eve, now called Christmas Eve, the people of the village gathered to sing carols, each person holding a lighted taper. As the candles burned low, the carolling died away.

In Norway, the use of the candle is believed to radiate blessings upon those who share its rays. In Ireland, a candle burning in a window symbolizes the thought of the Christ Child, alone in the darkness and cold, pleading for a light to show His way.

The second of these concerts to be presented since the war has reached near completion under the direction of Professor Glen R. Lockery, who came to Idaho this year after two years in New York City. Featured soloists appearing on the concert will be Professor Hall Macklin, at the organ, and Professor Carl Claus, violin.

Appearance Vital In Purebred Cattle Business

A good looking "show window" is as important to the purebred cattle farm as to the city department store—that was the opinion expressed here Friday by three field representatives of purebred associations.

Heading up the panel discussion at the annual conference of Idaho dairymen, were field representatives J. W. Slater, American Jersey Cattle club, Boise; Elmer Meadows, American Guernsey Cattle club, Portland, and H. Allen Shumate, Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Helena, Mont. M. B. Nichols, extension dairyman, Washington State college, served as moderator.

Stressing the appearance of a purebred cattle farm as a factor in good business, the field representatives pointed out that a buyer should not have to trip over a harrow to inspect a bull for sale. Cattle often bring higher prices when buyers are impressed with the establishment as a first-rate place.

New breeders were urged to pick a good name for their farm, and then erect an attractive sign bearing the name.

Senior Columnist Yearns To Be A Frosh

NORMAN, Okla. (ACP)—Here is what I would do if I were a freshman again," says a senior columnist. "First, I'd never overload on hours. I'd resist that urge to go through the university's Sears and Roebuck catalog and add an extra hour or two just for good measure. I'd take it easier even if it meant another semester.

"Secondly, I'd not buck for A's. An A is a great reward but when you're going all out for an A and you sack a B, you're lower than the Oklahoma Aggies on a Williamson rating.

"That doesn't mean that I'd enroll only in snap courses or shoot paper wads in class instead of paying attention—it just means that you can get what the professor's paid to put across without having a 3-point grade average.

"Thirdly, I'd look around at all the time-sapping organizations on the campus before putting in my bid for membership. Then I'd join big enough that I could be of service to them and they could be of service to me.

"And lastly, I'd call time out every so often and realize that these are the greatest years of my life. I'd try to recognize that this is the time of my life, to which I'd forever after refer nostalgically, as 'the good old days.'

"I'd make myself realize that all the colorful, exciting life didn't exist, as the movies make believe, in the gay 90's or the roaring 20's or in any other historical past. . . . I'd rather that NOW is the time that future generations will refer to enviously and say, 'I wish I could've lived back then!'"

Williamson Speaks To Lewistonites

Five members of the School of Business Chamber of Commerce were guests of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce at their annual banquet Tuesday evening, December 9.

Reporter Finds Some Women Not Looking For A Husband

"Men should pick wives who are not as intelligent as themselves if they are to have a happy married life" is an oft-heard comment. Philip Wylie, America's own self-styled critic, says that college women do not make good wives and that American colleges are merely modern marriage bureaus.

Many people on the campus have been heard to say that the university is nothing but a good matrimonial bureau while others believe that most people come to school to concentrate on academic studies. This is probably a debatable question.

The question of the week is: Do you believe that most students come to college to concentrate on the matrimonial benefits offered or do they come to concentrate on studies?

Betty Tellin, Hays, blinked her eyes and answered, "Why, that depends on the kind of men that I meet."

Chuck Blanton, Kappa Sig, didn't even hesitate, "Just concentrate."

Roger McHan, downtown, said, "Everyone knows what the women are here for but I'm here to study."

Verda Mylander, Alpha Chi, winked and said, "I came to study, of course."

Eleanor Strange, Ridenbaugh, took a little time to think and remarked, "Sure it's a good matrimonial bureau but some people should study too, don't you think?"

Roy Magden, SAE, glanced about the room as if he were about to release an atomic bomb secret and whispered, "Why do you think they put that little ring on a sorority pin if it isn't to hook a fraternity pin on?"

AP0 To Initiate Sixteen Men

Alpha Phi Omega, boy scout honorary, will initiate sixteen men 9 a.m. Sunday in the Blue Bucket upper lounge, according to George Lee, secretary. The ritual team of the WSC chapter will perform the ceremony.

Those who will be initiated are: Bob Pettygrove, John W. Jones, Lindley Hall; Reed Hanson, Robert Strom, Orval Hansen, Sigma Chi; Fred Troweh, Willis Sweet; Bernarr Peter, Moscow; Richard Patrick, Richard Johnson, Cecil True, C. B. Sweet, Alan Maxwell, Don Hunter, Gordon Larson, Paul Dallinger, Phi Gamma Delta; and Alvard Kiler, Vets Village.

At a meeting of the group Tuesday the following committee members were elected: Bill Larson, social; Robert Strom, service; Jean Bobin, indoor; and Bob Pettygrove, outdoor.

Plans for a student directory are underway, Lee said, and added that the group might join forces with Blue Key in this project.

Other plans discussed was that of a Gaudy Girt and Ugly Ike contest and dance, the date of which will be set later.

NROTC Marksmen Outshoot 'Old Eli'

The NROTC rifle team scoring 1745 defeated Yale university scoring 1670 in a ten shot postal match on November 29.

High scores out of a possible 400 were made by Jerry Rockwood, 363; Herbert Young, 363; Ralph Havercamp, 366; George Tanner, 341; and Richard Davey, 322.

A ten shot postal match will be shot on December 13 with Alabama Tech at Auburn, Purdue at Lafayette, Indiana; Cornell at Ithica, New York; Pennsylvania State at State college; and Harvard at Cambridge.

Speeches Slated For Conference

The annual conference of the Northwestern Scientific association will be held December 29-30 in Spokane, according to Chairman Walter Stephens, acting head of the university biological sciences department.

University men scheduled to speak are Prof. Lowell A. Jobe, chemical engineering department, who will talk on "Removal of iron and hardness from water," Dr. Vernon E. Scheid, of the school of mines, who will talk on "Deary High-Alumina Clay Deposit," and George J. Neurenburg, of the school of mines, speaking on "Optical Figures Obtained with the Reflecting Microscope."

Prof. E. W. Tisdale, school of mines, is scheduled to speak on "The Relationship of Certain Biological Characteristics of Northern Plains." Dr. Thomas E. Buchanan, school of forestry, will talk on "Poria Weirii, Its Occurrence and Behavior on Species other than Cedars," and Dr. Norman Nybroten, agricultural economist will speak on "Some Techniques and Results of Land Value Research."

A cute little blonde from St. Paul wore a newspaper dress to a ball. The dress caught fire and burned her entire Sport section, editorial page and all.

EASY MONEY DEPT.

Are you dough-shy? Get us! We give the stuff away. Folding money, too. Yes sir, Pepsi-Cola Co. pays from $1 to $15 for gags you send in and we print. Why worry about an honest living? This is easier. Just send your stuff, along with your name, address, school and class, to Easy Money Department, Box B, Pepsi-Cola Co., Long Island City, N. Y. All contributions become the property of Pepsi-Cola Co. We pay only for those we print.

There's nothing to it—as you can see from the samples below. If, by coincidence, the words "Pepsi-Cola" turn up somewhere in your gag, don't worry about it. We don't mind. (Matter of fact, we kind of like it.) So start your stuff in now—for Easy Money.

GOOD DEAL ANNEX

Sharpen up those gags, gagsters! At the end of the year (if we haven't laughed ourselves to death) we're going to pick the one best item we've bought and award it a fat extra $100.00

LITTLE MORON CORNER

Our well-known moron-about-campus, Murgatroyd—now a student in the school of agriculture—has developed a new theory on sheep-feeding. He makes a daily ration of Pepsi-Cola an important part of their diet. "Duuuuuuuuh, of course," said Murgatroyd recently, when questioned as to his reasoning, "everybody knows that Pepsi-Cola is the drink for ovel!"

$2 apiece, believe it or not, for any of these we buy!

Get Funny . . . Win Money . . . Write a Title

This is easy as falling off a log. A small log, that is. Just send us a caption for this cartoon. The best line gets $5. Or you can send in cartoon ideas of your own. For cartoon ideas we buy, we pay $10 apiece . . . $15 if you draw them.

HE-SHE GAGS

If you're a He, and know a She—or vice versa—this should be your meat. Here's your chance to strike a blow for the home team in the battle between the sexes—and maybe win three bucks besides!

He Uhangi: I hear that Mhongo has left his wife.
She Uhangi: Really? Why?
He Uhangi: He says that every time she drinks a Pepsi, she smacks her lips, and he can't stand the clatter.

He: Why do you call my date "Pepsi," when her name is Betty?
She: Oh, we all call her "Pepsi" because she goes with anything!

He: I never knew what real happiness was until I married you.
She: Darling!
He: Yes, and by then it was too late.

Three bucks apiece for each of these we print. Let your conscience be your guide.

Daffy Definitions

Here's a column that must have some deep underlying significance. Darned if we know what, though. All we know is that these rate a buck each—and the daffier, the better.

Frustration—having a Pepsi-Cola and no bottle-opener.
Stork—bird with a big bill.
Professor—textbook wired for sound.

Thirst—obsolete term; dates back to pre-Pepsi-Cola era.
Cooperation—one bottle of Pepsi with two straws.

Paying $1 apiece for these is like giving you a license to commit burglary. But—$1 apiece for those we buy.

Let's Get Together
