The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

With final exams prominent in the thoughts of Idaho students, Jason would like to bring up a touchy subject—that of student honesty.

Faculty, members and students both hint that a little cheating in exams, or in lab work, or even in handed-in assignments does go on, but not much is said. The subject is usually skipped over lightly.

People prefer to ignore the cheating, to pretend that such a small minority show dishonesty it doesn't matter.

Furthermore, college students are above the national average in intelligence and in manners. They are above cheating. Or so others are led to believe.

Brought Up Wrong? Jason doesn't agree. The minority that cheats does matter—if it is a minority. It indicates that still another something is wrong in the American's up-bringing. Or that something is wrong with the manner in which he is taught.

A moralist could lecture along the lines "the student is only cheating himself," which is true. Jason would rather hear the psychologist's explanation of "why."

Honor systems of giving final exams have been tried, and are supposedly in operation in some schools. They would fail miserably at this university, unless student attitudes took a sudden and radical change.

Cheating isn't done by students because they consider the professor unfair. Most will admit that the profs lean over backwards to be fair. Jason only knows of one course in which conditions aggravate the student to the point of being dishonest.

Work Isn't Too Hard He took that course three years ago and so can't vouch for present conditions.

Students don't cheat because the work is too hard for them. In most cases, the opposite is apparently true.

Then, why do modern college students—the same students that usually reveal integrity in financial and other matters—attempt to put everything possible over on their instructors? Jason doesn't know. You answer it.

Public Speakers Ted Diehl and Herb Carlson of the Vandal boxing team are thinking of stumping the country on the lecture platform after a remark they received in Louisiana.

The pair, sitting on the sidelines for a change, were watching Will Overgaard struggle with his opponent. They exchanged comments on the progress of the fight when one of the Louisiana students turned to them.

"Boy, ah sure gets a kick out of the way yo Yankees talk," he stated happily.

Minnesotan To Replace Miss Sweet As Librarian

Lee F. Zimmerman of St. Paul, since 1932 state director of libraries for Minnesota, will come to the university in March as university librarian, President J. E. Buchanan announced today.

In this post he will succeed Miss M. Belle Sweet, who recently requested retirement after 43 years as library head. Upon Zimmerman's arrival, Miss Sweet will become consulting librarian until her actual retirement at the end of the present school year. This overlapping of appointments, the president explained, is to give the new librarian the benefit of Miss Sweet's intimate knowledge of the library and its problems.

Gets Around While his specialization has been in the field of books and library writing, Mr. Zimmerman is a man of varied experiences and travel. He has been a farm hand, a coal miner, a brush salesman, time-keeper, bell hop, clerk in an Alaskan gold mine, tobacco and confectionery salesman, and assistant to the superintendent of McKinley national park in Alaska.

The University's new librarian is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin with graduate degrees from the University of Illinois. He has had 17 years of library experience as library assistant at the

Milk-Cooling Specialist

Harold Brevick, graduate in agricultural engineering, is shown here testing water used in a milk-cooling device he designed in connection with a research fellowship given him by the Idaho Power junction with a research fellowship given him by the Idaho Power Co. Brevick will receive his master's degree in June.

Company To Buy Used Textbooks

A representative of the Nebraska Book Company will be on hand in the bookstore Wednesday, Jan. 28, through Saturday noon, Jan. 30, to purchase used textbooks from students, Chet Kerr, bookstore manager, said today.

Because of a lack of store-room space the ASUI bookstore is not able to purchase discontinued texts, but has arranged this outlet for the convenience of students, Kerr said.

The Nebraska Company representative will buy practically any textbook, he added.

Jack Rowe Plays Macbeth on KUOI

Hollywood talent takes the title roll in the Paulsen Playhouse presentation of "Macbeth" over KUOI Wednesday at 9 p. m. Jack Rowe, the Idaho student who played with Edward G. Robinson in "The Red Horse," stars in Shakespeare's famous drama of the Scottish usurper.

Polly Harris, leading actress in the 1945 ASUI play "Night of January 16th," plays Lady Macbeth. Dick Peterson is cast as Macduff, Rolland Tipsword as Banquo, Luke Boyle as Malcolm, and Marvin Aildaffer as the historian Raphael Holinshed, who acts as narrator in the radio version. It was from Holinshed's "Chronicles of Scotland" that Shakespeare borrowed the plot for his play.

Other members of the all-star cast are Jo Anne Elam, Shirley Brandt, and Jean Kittenbach as the Weir Sisters, Harry Dalva, George Brabb, and Gene Compton. The play is directed by Maurice Paulsen, with Grant McDaniels as second technician.

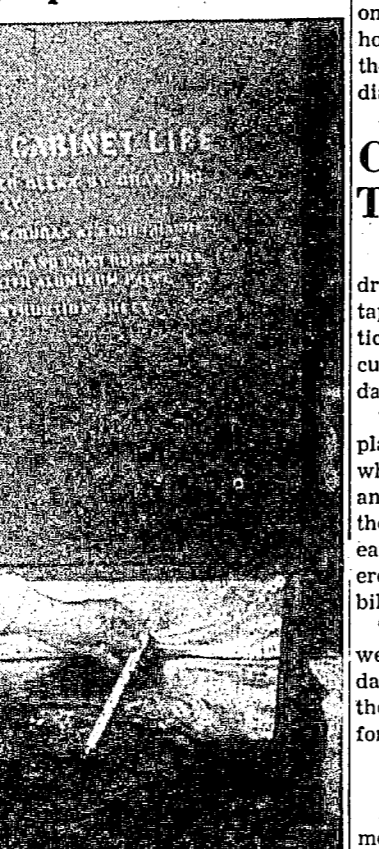

"Macbeth" is the first of several radio adaptations from classics of literature planned for ensuing Playhouse productions. Others will include Ibsen's "Pillars of Society," Mollere's "School for Wives," and Dumas' "Camille."

Students Polled

(ACP) Questionnaires circulated among members of a foreign language class asking why they believed in studying a foreign language polled the following answers: enjoyment of the language, for professional advancement, improvement of their command of the English language, the broadening of their general outlook and the need for reading works in the original language.

Idaho's three favorite selections, as determined by a student poll conducted recently, will be played on the Wednesday "Salute to Idaho" program. Students will hear the show on KRLC, 1430 on the dial, at 10:30 p. m.

Milk-Cooling Specialist

Chess Group Conducts Battles Of Wit

Idaho Debaters Second In Tournament

The University of Idaho tied with Washington State and Oregon State college to take second place honors in the Inland Empire Junior college debate tournament which was held here Friday and Saturday, January 16 and 17.

Gonzaga took first place in the tournament with one of their teams being undefeated. Mary Louise Will and Shirley Jacobsen made up the team from Idaho that lost only one debate which put Idaho in second place. Each team debated six times.

Idaho Judges Representatives from each school that participated in the tournament acted as judges for the debates. Judges from the University of Idaho's faculty were the following professors: Joseph Duffy, Walter Chamberlain, William Banks, Clifford Dobler, Howard Packingham, Gayle Manion, Edward Cebull and George Herring.

Laurence Buckland, William Gudmundson, William McFarlane, John Menge and Frances Rheas senior members of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, also acted as judges.

Forty-Five Teams Forty-five teams from twelve schools participated in this Inland Empire Junior college debate tournament. The schools and the number of teams they had were: Washington State college, eleven; Gonzaga, six; Whitworth, four; Montana, two; Coeur d'Alene Junior college, two; North Idaho Teachers college, one; Whitman, two; College of Idaho, two; Northwest Nazarene college, two; Pacific university, four; Oregon State college, two; and Idaho, seven.

Others were Julius Peterson, Paul Rigrup, Mary Louise Will, Shirley Jacobsen, Shirley Tanner and Helen Means.

The next debate will be a triangular debate with the University of Idaho, Washington State and North Idaho Teachers college which will be held in Lewiston February 7.

Scholarship Given To Olevia Smith Olevia Smith is the winner of the Junior scholarship award which is given annually to a junior student majoring in journalism at the university.

This $50 junior award and also a $100 senior scholarship award are awarded by Mrs. Margaret Allshie, publisher of the Statesman newspapers in Boise.

Miss Smith lives at the Idaho Club and is a member of Delta Tau Gamma. She is rewrite editor on the Argonaut staff.

Money To Be Invested President Buchanan indicated that the $5,000 would be invested in securities and that all income would go to increase the fund.

"No money from the founders fund will be spent for any project until such time as a major capital addition or considerable portion of one can be undertaken," the president explained.

In making the contribution, the unknown donor expressed the hope that his action might inspire other friends of the college of law to add to the fund. The veil of anonymity, he suggested, could be cast off when the capital addition provided by the fund is formally dedicated. At that time a suitable tablet, bearing the names of all contributors to the fund, would be installed.

"It is most gratifying to learn that an individual whose association with the college of law took place 39 years ago is still so deeply interested in its welfare that he has laid the cornerstone for a capital addition that will contribute to the future of legal training in this state," said Dean Edward S. Stimson of the law school.

U. Singers To Present Year's First Concert

Mysterious Man Presents $5000 To College Of Law

The University of Idaho has a "Mr. X." But there is no reward for his identification.

A member of the group interested in the foundation of the college of law at the university in 1909, whose name is known only to the regents of the institution, has started a college of law founders fund with a gift of $5,000. The donor has specifically requested that he remain anonymous.

"This gift will become the nucleus of a fund to finance some major capital addition to the college of law," said President J. E. Buchanan in announcing formal acceptance of the money. "What can be accomplished will, of course, depend upon the amount of additional donations. If the founders fund grows to sufficient size it could finance a new college of law library or even a new law building."

PE Majors Urged To Attend Meet Formation of a student section at the State Conference in Boise, February 17, will be discussed at a meeting of all physical education majors and minors today at 7:30 p. m. in Room 107 at Memorial Gymnasium.

Foreign Policy Paradox

Idaho's Senator Dworshak recently pointed out a fact which seems highly inexplicable to the average college student interested in foreign affairs. In the first nine months of 1947 this country sent $48,000,000 worth of lend-lease and UNRRA supplies to the Soviet government.

During the war our exports to Russia were essential to fighting the axis. The biggest majority of the $11,200,000,000 war-time lend-lease sent to Russia are rightly classed as gifts in the name of freedom, but why did we send aid to Russia while they were openly declaring their intent to fight the Marshall plan?

The fact that the United States sent aid to Russia, as late as last September when $44,000 worth of industrial equipment was exported to the U.S.S.R., seems confusing. That was the same month the new "cominform" was established by Russia and her satellites. They proudly announced it as an organization to prevent the United States from putting Europe back on its feet.

Here's the big question: What type of foreign policy is demonstrated when a country will appropriate money to fight communism abroad and at home, and at the same time send millions of dollars worth of aid to the world's center of communism? —G.D.

Fight Of Fatal Finals

You sit there uncomfortably in your chair as the blue books are being passed out, as if Mr. Jordan had your number and anything you would do would not be enough to keep him away.

You knew exactly how it would be on this fateful Saturday. You've been through it all before. The battle of Fish Harbor down near San Pedro was nothing like this. And the breakers off the coast of Pago Pago never made you as sick as these final examinations.

All week long you tried to concentrate on the review the instructor supplied, just for your benefit, but every time you looked his way your gaze was arrested by that cute little thing in the blue ski sweater just in the row in back of you, about five seats to the left.

Brown eyes, little brown freckles on the ridge of her tilted nose. Oh, God, what's this going to be like when springtime comes! Then she meets your eyes, you blush and turn away, and about ten minutes later you try looking at the instructor again, and the cycle starts all over again.

And so now the first blue book is in front of you. "University of Idaho. Sixteen Pages. Name, Course, Date." You remember that rough general quarters practice in Boot Camp.

Sherman missed his cue—but then women didn't attend college in his day. —S.H.G.

Heard . . . Or Seen

Oh, My Aching Back:

Glen Bradford, Delta Chi, who hails from Sun Valley is supposedly a top skiing teacher. Last year he taught Don Evans how to ski—result one busted leg. This year he showed Bob Newell the art of gelandsprung—result, another broken leg.

Late Resolution:

John B. Dillon, Jr. of SAE has finally started to carry out a New Year's resolution, this week he actually rubbed the deep sleep out of his eyes and attended all his classes.

Hit and Run:

Bert Chamberlain, Phi-Delt, and Dorothy McClun, Theta, were busily engaged in deep "conversation" in the rear of Johnny Ascuaga's Oldsmobile last Friday night when another car, careening down the icy street, rammed the front of the Olds. Result—a bunged up fender and a very surprised couple.

Man or Mouse?

Benny (Sunny) Brooks, Willis Sweet, has been offered the use of a big 1947 Buick convertible, $50 in cash, table service by his "buddies" wherever he eats, and a chauffeur if he so desires. All he has to do is take out a certain Tri-Delt. He even gets an extra $5 if he can show lipstick on his handkerchief—and still he declines.

Men Like Dresses On Other Women

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(ACP)—Here's a confidential tip to the girls—men like daring dresses only on the other fellow's girl—not theirs. That was the essence of opinion expressed by a group of collegians, who served on Cosmopolitan magazine's male-tested fashion jury at the Stork Club, New York.

"Believe it or not they voted consistently for gowns with some covering over shoulder or upper arm or with narrow shoulder straps," Kay Wister, fashion editor of the magazine declared. "The completely bare shoulder decollete was something delightful to them—only on the other fellow's girl."

"Generally the boys approved of dresses that had a sophisticated but not too exposed look," Mrs. Wister said. "In fact it's a look the boys pronounced 'dreamy'."

Semesters Vs. Quarters Is Question Of Arg Pollers

By THELMA KLOBUCHER and COLE MENTEE

Long faces, haggard looks, and blood-shot eyes from sleepless nights prevail over the campus on this week before the finals but Idaho students still can take time out to answer a question for the roving reporters.

At this time of the year, everyone has his own ideas on what should be done to reform the university—new courses, different schedules, new form of registration, and all.

Following this line of thought the question of the week is: "Should Idaho stay on the semester system or should a quarter system be installed?"

Mickey Martin, Sigma Nu: "Idaho should change to the quarter system so we wouldn't have so much to learn for the final exams."
Isabelle Phelan, Hays Hall: "I think that we should go on the quarter system. Then people wouldn't pull out in the middle of a term."
Fati Miller, Pi Phi: "You learn more on the quarter system. At the nine weeks you find out the subjects that you are low in and have a chance to work on them."
Bob Spiker, TMA: "Ugh! Stay on the semester system. Who wants to register more than twice a year?"

John Lovell Scott, Pine Hall: "We should change to the quarter system so that we would be free for the Christmas vacation and not have to come back to final exams."
Betty Leman, Alpha Chi: "Idaho should be on a quarter system. There would be less material to cover between quizzes."
Jean McGuire, Idaho club: "The quarter system. It sure would swell not to have to take books home for Christmas vacation."
Chuck Gilb, Beta: "The quarter system would offer everyone a better chance to get through school without waiting for subjects second semester that are not taught first semester."

Joe Mediere, (No living group): "That would make him significant: 'I like the quarter system because I've always been in favor of cheap education.'"

Authority Assails Coeds' Manners (ACP)—Lack of sleep, "sloppy Joe" shoes, bad posture and coke and coffee diets were listed as common health problems of college women by Dr. Evelyn Rude, University of Oklahoma student infirmary physician, in a recent speech at Dallas before the American Student Health Association of the Southwest.

Dr. Rude said coeds hold too many nocturnal "gab" sessions, stay up too late studying or put off their washing (clothes) until the wee hours of the morning. She recommended 11 p.m. as the very latest for college women to stay up.

She assailed "sloppy Joe" shoes, also known as loafers, as being without adequate support for the ankle or the foot, having to be fitted too short in order to keep them on. Interior arches slowly drop with long use of this type of shoe, she said.

Coke and coffee diets displace an appetite for more nourishing foods. She also pointed out that coles have as much caffeine as coffee, too many calories and too few vitamins.

Vets To Notify VA Of Training Change

Veterans under the G. I. bill were advised to notify VA immediately if they plan to change their place of training, a directive received in the office of the Argonaut stated today.

Failure to do so may cause delay in enrollment and payment of subsistence, W. O. Lemon, chief of the Boise Regional VA office said. Veterans are advised to send letters to Boise so that a supplemental certificate of eligibility may be prepared and case files transferred.

Members of Beta Theta Pi at the U. of Oregon revived an old custom when flood waters again filled the millrace at Eugene. They dug out their canoe and went canudling.

DICK FAIRCHILD. Ed Note—Idaho has advanced academically as well as athletically. The Argonaut will outline some of these gains in a future issue. Scholastic achievements naturally receive less publicity than athletics as newspapers are written for their readers, the majority of whom prefer action in news stories.

Vets Planning School Changes Must Contact VA

Veterans, who are planning transfers for the second semester should be making preparations now. The necessary Veterans Administration forms are available at any VA office.

To enroll properly at a new school, student-veterans must: 1. Obtain a certificate of satisfactory progress from the institution they attended during the first semester.

2. Secure a supplemental certificate of eligibility from VA.

3. Request their present VA office to transfer their files to the regional office having jurisdiction over the new school.

4. Notify VA of their new mailing address.

Change of address forms are available at most colleges, but a letter addressed to the VA regional office holding the veteran's accounts will do. The letter, a copy of which should be sent to the new VA regional office, must contain the old address as well as the new one and must be submitted over the signature of the veteran.

Veterans can help expedite necessary paper work, and checks will be mailed sooner if the above steps are completed by the time they begin studies at the new school.

Re-entering Vets Need Certificates

Veterans presently enrolled for study who discontinue their training under the GI bill before their period of entitlement to training at government expense is used up must obtain what the Veterans Administration calls a "supplemental certificate of eligibility" before they re-enter training.

This "supplemental certificate of eligibility" indicates the amount of additional training the veteran is entitled to at government expense after the amount of time previously used in training has been deducted.

The veteran who re-enters training without first getting a "supplemental certificate of eligibility" is, according to the VA, not officially entered into training, and will not receive his subsistence allowance checks until the new certificate is issued.

If the veteran has satisfactorily completed the previous course, the supplemental certificate can be issued almost immediately. If however, he has failed in his original program, it is necessary that he receive complete professional counseling before a new certificate can be issued.

Wanna Be Rich? Mexican Con Tells How

The old "Spanish Prisoner" hoax is still gathering in its suckers, judging from the letters still being received asking financial aid in recovering fortunes.

Dean A. W. Fahrenwald, of the school of mining, reports one such appeal from a prisoner in Mexico city. Wrote the Mexican, in charge of the prison school and "entirely at liberty."

"I am in prison, sentenced for bankruptcy, and wish to know if you are willing to help me to save the sum of $375,000 which I have hidden in a secret compartment of a trunk that is now deposited in a customhouse in the United States."

In compensation for the trouble gone to, the writer offers a third of the sum hidden and Eggs secrecy on the part of Dean Fahrenwald.

The FBI, in reply to Dean F. A. Giffilan, head of the OSC school of science, who also received such a request, said that it was one of a number of swindles well known to that office. According to the usual routine, after the "sucker" answered, the next step is an advance of expense money—which is the last step!

Revengeful Gals 'Brand' Hashers

"What's cooking?" inquired numerous Tri-Delts last night at dinner time.

But as 5:30 rolled around the tables weren't even set. Wandering into the kitchen a pledge came back babbling: "It's all gone or locked up." After 15 minutes of incoherent interrogation they found that the hashers had taken their sneak and had "stolen" all of the eating utensils.

But the Tri-Delts were not to outdone. About 8:30 the "thieving" hashers returned to the scene of their crime, only to be pounced upon by the waiting women. The hashers were repaid for their stunt by long strokes of lipstick expertly applied by the revengeful Tri-Delts.

Washington Swimmers Sink Vandal Squad In Seattle

The University of Washington swimming squad took all nine first places and bettered five meet and one Pacific Coast Conference records in defeating the Vandal swimmers Saturday night.

George Heany, Washington breast-stroke man, swam the 100-yard breast-stroke race in 1:01.3 bettering his previous Pacific Coast record of 1:03.5. Other Washington swimmers who bettered previous meet marks were: Pete Powlison — 220-yard free style; Gene Zema — 440-yard free style; and the Washington relay team.

Idaho's tank men took three second places against Coach Torney's Huskie squad. They are as follows: Ken Lyons — second in backstroke; Jim Farmer — second in breast-stroke; and John LaFrenz — second in 100-yard free style.

Coach Kirkland stated that his swimmers did as well as could be expected of an inexperienced squad against the touted Washington group. He added that valuable experience was gained in the meet which his boys expect to use to good advantage in this weekend's meets. The Vandal swimmers will meet the University of Montana Friday and Oregon Saturday in the Memorial Gymnasium pool.

Hear Your Voice As Others Hear It

(ACP)—A columnist of the Daily Utah Chronicle asks, "Are you the type of person people shun because of your screeching voice, your nasal voice or your muttering voice?"

"A good voice can be your golden key which will unlock the doors leading to a harmonious home life, happy friendships and successful work. A warm reassuring voice can give tenderness and trust; scold effectively without leaving a scar; command others without fostering resentment. A good voice can act as a wellspring of youth, enthusiasm and gaiety.

"It might be well worth while to learn and follow some basic rules that will add a golden glow to your voice and make you infinitely more attractive.

"Hear your voice as others hear it," Lisa Sergio, radio commentator, suggests reading to a wall. Read aloud, directing your words to the corner in front of you and read with your natural voice. The sounds you hear are the sounds everyone hears.

"Miss Gertrude Folger, Hollywood voice coach, suggests this exercise: Stand erect. Inhale deeply through your nose and feel your stomach pushing forward. Now exhale and feel your stomach receding to its normal position. Repeat this exercise for ten or fifteen minutes.

"Another exercise: Roll your head around and around, completely relaxed, jaw and tongue hanging. Rotate your head in one direction six or eight times. Then reverse, going in the other direction.

P.C.C. To Use 'Sanity Code' In Procuring Players

The Pacific Coast Conference will support the new N.C.A.A. "sanity code" in all respects but at the same time will keep in force its own even-more stringent Conference Athletic Code, according to Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt.

Essential differences between the existing P.C.C. athletic code and the N.C.A.A. code in respect to subsidizing and recruiting are as follows:

1. The N.C.A.A. allows full tuition to be given athletes who satisfy need requirements; the P.C.C. allows part-tuition to be given athletes on the same basis.
2. Under the N.C.A.A. constitution, a coach may interview a prospective student anywhere provided he makes no offer of financial aid; in the P.C.C. a coach may interview prospective students only on the campus of his own institution.
3. No ban is placed by the N. C. A. A. on the recruiting activities of alumni; P.C.C. alumni may interview prospective students only as long as their efforts to induce the student to attend their school do not become "persistent, repeated or offensive." Under the P.C.C. rules an alumnus may not provide transportation or entertainment in any form for a prospective student.

Instructor Finds Students Fear Cats And Ladders

(By Associated College Press)

If a black cat crosses your path or you walk under a ladder you'll have bad luck.

Those are two of the more common superstitions among Iowa State college students according to a survey conducted by Joe M. Bohlen, sociology instructor, and Ruth Patterson, sociology senior.

The survey was conducted to find the prevailing superstitions among students. The students interviewed were asked to name the four superstitions that they were familiar with and those superstitions that they followed.

Besides the black cat and walking under the ladder, the survey showed that breaking a mirror, crossing the zodiac in Memorial Union and three people on one match were superstitions that the students were the most familiar with. Seventy-six different superstitions were mentioned by those interviewed.

Only 20 percent of the students interviewed followed superstitions. In general, men were not as superstitious as women.

Northern Division Basketball Race Tightens As Oregon Captures Lead

Pacific Coast basketball is moving into the third week of a season that promises to be one of the closest races in many years. No team is undefeated, and all claim at least one win.

The University of Oregon Ducks, led by Roger Wiley's nineteen points, topped the Oregon State Beavers from the conference lead with a 42-41 win at Corvallis Saturday night. The win put the Ducks on top with one loss against two wins, a none too impressive lead.

The Washington State College Cougars broke into the win column Friday night by edging the Washington Huskies, 48-47. The following night, the Cougars dropped again into the cellar, spot as the Huskies roared back to a 51-36 win.

Idaho vs. W.S.C.

Excitement will run high at the University of Idaho and Washington State College as the Vandals and Cougars begin their 1948 rivalry at Pullman Friday night, and at Moscow Saturday night.

The Cougars have played four conference games. They lost twice to Oregon State, 49-33, and 43-38; squeezed a win from the Washington Huskies in the first two games, 48-47, and lost the following night, 51-36.

The Vandal hoopsters have played two conference games, both with Oregon State, winning the first of the two, 47-43, only to lose the following night, 59-39.

Finley Worried

Idaho's Coach, "Chuck" Finley, said he was worried over Coach Jack Friel's two team deep outfit. At best, the Idaho mentor can field only about seven men, and Finley feels they can hardly hope to hold off the charging 10 from Pullman. Of course, this remains to be seen.

The Idaho Coach said that he probably would start a different lineup against Washington State than he used against the Beavers. Preston Brimhall, starting guard, suffered a hand injury in practice, and Harold Jaussi, sophomore guard, may replace him. Another change will see Wendell Christensen probably get the starting call over Jack Rainey. Christensen was hurt in a pre-season contest, but now has almost completely recovered.

Intramural Cage Squads Pepper Net

Class "A" intramural basketball games Thursday night at Memorial Gym were highlighted by many high scoring contests.

PH No. 1 led the pack with an impressive 52-19 win over WSH No. 1; and BTP ran over West 6th, 47-32. CC No. 1 walloped LH No. 1, 38-18; while PH No. 2 squeaked past WSH No. 2, 22-17. CH No. 1 outshot PH No. 3, 40-22; as CC No. 2 roared past LH No. 2, 43-30.

TKEs Win Close One

Intramural basketball scores of games played last night are as follows:

TKE 23, DC 21.
ATO 25, PKT 8.
LDS 24, KS 19.
PDT 38, SC 18.
PGD 46, TMA 25.

Young girl at a perfume counter after looking at My Sin, Passion, and other lurid names: "Have you anything for a beginner?"

Vandal Portraits

Wendell Christensen, 5 foot 9, who hails from Salt Lake City, makes up for his lack of height with speed and clever ball handling. Born in the Utah capital February 22, 1923, "Chris" spent his high school days at South High in that city. He was twice named on the All-City basketball squad, in 1940 and again in 1941.

He played for Mesa Junior College in 1942 and came to Idaho three years later. Meanwhile, he spent three years in the army as a P. E. instructor at Walla Walla, Wash. While in the army, "Chris" played baseball and basketball, making the All-Ninth Service Command squad.

Having decided that the coaching field does not offer enough security, Wendell, a junior, is majoring in agriculture economics. His interest in security might well be understood, in view of the fact that he is married and the father of a one and one-half year old son, Dan.

Frosh Hoopsters Prepare For Tilts With WSC Kittens

Coach Steve Belko's Frosh hoopsters are drilling extensively this week in preparation for their coming two game series against the Washington State Frosh this weekend. The Vandal Babes will meet the Cougar Frosh in preliminaries to the varsity tilts in Pullman Friday night and in Memorial Gym Saturday night.

In their previous two games this season, the Idaho Frosh squad has been victorious by decisive margins: Both of these wins were over the Kellogg Town Team in preliminaries to the Idaho-Oregon State series here last week. Monday night, the Vandal Babes trounced the Kellogg quintet 69 to 36. The following night's score was 56-33 in favor of the Idaho Frosh. Bob Wheeler, center from American Falls, and Jack Beach, forward from Boise, led the scoring for the Vandal Babes. In Tuesday night's contest, Tom Hallows, guard from Palouse, Washington, was high point man for the

Time Out

Something new has been added in Memorial gymnasium—a broadcasting booth for KUOI. In the past, the campus station's announcers were forced to scream at the mike to be heard above the noise of the crowd. Now they are all smiles, and those smiles are directed toward Gale Mix in a gesture of sincere gratitude for his efforts in making this improvement possible.

Experience is the best teacher and Friday's boxing card with Frosh. Another consistent scorer in the two games was Dick Reed, guard from Lewiston.

The remaining games on the Frosh schedule are as follows:

Jan. 23—WSC, there.
Jan. 24—WSC, here.
Jan. 31—WSC, there.
Feb. 5 & 6—Boise JC here.
Feb. 10—WSC, here.
Feb. 11—CDA JC there.

Feb. 18—Lewiston Elks, there.
Feb. 23—CDA JC, here.
Feb. 24—Wallace Elks, here.
Feb. 28—Wallace Elks, there.

Louisiana State at Baton Rouge proved just that. The national co-champion Vandals sorely missed the services of such seasoned performers as Laurie Erickson, Bill Williams and Ray Engberson.

Conference Slugfest

This column's prediction of the outcome of this year's northern division conference basketball race is turning out all right in one respect—it is a slugfest this year. Not a single team in the conference has gone winless, and none have been spared the sting of defeat.

Oregon State, Oregon, Washington, and Idaho have all ruled the roost at one point, while the Cougars of Washington State have been unable to emerge from the spot so frequently occupied by

"old look" Vandals. Oregon State and Washington shared the conference lead after the first round of play. Then Oregon State took over, only to be uprooted by a surprising aggregation of Idahoans. Now the Ducks of Oregon are perched on the top limb, but the Huskies carry a sharp saw, and this weekend's tussels might bring about a few more changes.

A banana that leaves the bunch gets skinned.
