

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Gagon

Idaho's future looks good athletically, scholastically, and physically, but in one respect the outlook isn't bright. In fact, it is downright dismal. During the next few years, unless something unforeseen occurs, the old campus will be over-run with livid red Communists. Soap-boxers will appear in front of the Ad building and before the Buckle's front door. Pamphlets will turn up in the Campus Cafe, the Nest, the Perch, and possibly in a few downtown student hang-outs. Political orations will reach a new acme of perfection as radical ideas are bandied back and forth from speakers to hearers.

Schulman Character
Cominform members, young, long-haired, and ragged will appear in classrooms, almost as though out of a Max Schulman book. This is sad to predict, but is almost inevitable unless some sophomore steps up to take the place of a certain senior graduating in June. That senior is George Denman, Idaho's champion Red character.

Guards Freedom
A stolid believer in Democracy, Denman is always on the alert against any infringement of American freedom. The U. S. government's tentacles, slowly creeping around more and more private businesses such as the TVA power project, the NSLA life insurance, and the synthetic rubber processes, give him that creepy feeling.

The cost of the new roof has not been estimated but to repair the glass will amount to over $500 not including labor. Building will probably take place this summer

Four Autos Involved In Freak Crash

Three of four automobiles damaged in an unusual accident yesterday noon were caught by the Arg photographer in this picture. The trouble occurred when a car (not shown) driven by Eugene McGough, Moscow high school student, traveling south on Washington, struck the auto (right) of Vern Sweat, Moscow, causing it to spin and slam backwards into the cars (center and left) of H. J. Proctor, university instructor, and Max Call, university student. The latter two cars were standing still approximately fifty feet from the intersection at the time of impact.

Chrisman Hall Scene Of Snatch

With a gag in his mouth, a blanket over his head and his hands and legs securely bound, Don Buck, Chrisman hall, was tossed from a car into the ditch along the Moscow-Pullman road last Saturday afternoon.

Cops Act
Instantly the police radio blared with the description of the "kidnapped" youth. Squad cars sprung into action and sirens wailed. Just as the local gendarmes were tracking down a hot clue, Buck came dragging himself up Line street to the rear door of Chrisman. After a cup of hot broth and a mustard plaster he was able to gasp out short bits of the ordeal. Strangely enough Buck seems to think that his abductors were five of his buddies who thought he shouldn't have a date last Saturday afternoon.

A series of six one-act plays, "Curtain Time" will be given public performance March 12 and 13. Because of its nature, larger number of actors than is ordinarily employed for a three-act play will be used. Each play will be under the direction of a member of the Advanced Play Production class.

Because the casting will be done by the student directors, those who read parts at the regular fall tryouts for the year's productions are invited to read again tomorrow, Miss Collette added. Of Crashes and Clover

A big topic for discussion these days is the oncoming depression—are we going to have one? If we are, how far off is it, and can we avert it? Economically, those are hard questions to answer, but we are able to compare the social life of our times and the years preceding the last depression and find striking similarities.

The "New Look" is an example. Women wore long skirts in the twenties, fashion in dresses emphasized the small waist and the "hour glass" effect. Today the same trend in "style" is noticeable—even old-fashioned hair-dos are coming in for a revival in popularity.

Partially caused by the Petrillo ban on new records, the nation's music makers and recording companies are bringing back old songs, and old ways of playing them, to the entertainment world. For instance, the "new" hit, "I'm Looking Over for a Four-Leaf Clover" was a rip-roarer back in Coolidge's day—today we can hear the old-style banjo background by listening to Art Mooney's recording of the tune. A depression is caused by inflation, over-speculation, and the desire on the part of too many people to "get rich quick and not to worry about any rainy days." America seems to be hastening the advance of the lower curve of the economic cycle by the swing back to life in the days before '29.

Allowance and Price Increases

An interesting experiment in economics is bound to result right here in Moscow if President Truman signs the bill to increase subsistence payments to veterans which now awaits his signature. The little test will be in seeing if the cost of living will also rise.

Some veterans on the campus are now of the opinion that just as soon as there is any raise in veterans payments there will likewise be a raise in prices by local merchants. This is the old story of charging as much as the traffic will bear.

Designed by its backers to help the veterans attending college under the G.I. Bill to offset soaring prices, the bill will raise single veterans' allowances from $65 to $75, married vets from $95 to $105, and married vets with one or more children to approximately $120.

It's sincerely hoped by ex-G.I.s, especially married vets, that final approval of the subsistence raise will not be a signal for a corresponding raise in the cost of living by local merchants. The little experiment in economics will be something to watch if and when President Truman signs the bill.

Pine-Tree Lads Fail To Help Buddy

Rumors via the campus grapevine report that the foresters who failed to show up at the Mucker's Ball last Saturday night were this week impermeating the usual murky Moscow air.

Of course a certain minority group on the campus (the foresters) have been circulating a tale to the effect that the underground tussle was a flop.

To counterbalance this state-the MINORS have made known that the pine-tree scouts (complete in their flashy forest-green garb-age) failed to make an appearance and engage in a free-for-all battle to rescue their exalted hero—(them's really Muskles)—Paul Bunyan from the "high" time he has been enjoying with his tunneling companions.

Bunyan In Dungeon

Braving almost certain death an Argonaut reporter sneaked into an untimbered shaft below the Metallurgy building where he found Bunyan in a cold dungeon.

This teeth chattering with cold, Bunyan told the nosy newsy of

To Honor Dads

The University of Oregon campus will be the scene of many reunions between dads and their college-bred offspring as the school plays the role of host during the annual Dad's Weekend February 14 and 15.

Highlighting the events of the weekend will be the basketball tilt between Oregon and Idaho next Saturday. Previous to the big game the Dads will all attend a special luncheon, at which Oregon's Governor Hall will speak. For those more interested in drama, a play, "The Adding Machine," will also be presented on that evening. Dinners will be given at all houses on the following day.

Hanson Eulogized At W.S.C.

In its Friday issue, the Washington State Evergreen printed the following poem, written by Ken Maurer, about Vince Hanson, the Cougars' star basketball center:

"What! Him make the team? Hasn't a chance, Guy's too awkward, too unsteady, too slow."
"Yea, he's a product of those years of the war, His spot on the team'll go to some other Joe."

"Feet are too small," the sportswriters yelled,
"All-American then—just a has-been now."
The crowds giggled as he first took the floor,
"He's just a tall guy with no basketball know-how."

But the tall guy felt different—he wanted to play.
Sure he skipped a year, but just to practice some more,
First few games and he didn't do much,
Maybe I even laughed at the tall guy on the floor.

Then something happened. Maybe just the guy's will to play,
But the people were behind him, urging him on.
The "has been" started slow, 3, 6, a few points per game,
He was improving and they forgot what was by gone.

The game with the neighbor-five was stiff at hand,
The local team lagged one point—three seconds to go.
A long shot missed, but the tall guy was there,
The "too slow" man tipped it in and won that show.

A few nights later, the locals needed a basket bad.
The guy "who couldn't make it" was in there again.
His shot tied it—then the overtime period,
The tall guy didn't let down, and helped with that game.

No, he's not a star—just one of the five,
He's not out to prove those people wrong,
The tall guy plays because he wants to for sport,
He made his comeback against the best all along.

Next game, as the team takes to the floor,
I'll stand and applaud—I'm not hard to convince.
Sure, I'll salute those four others, but this one night,
My personal tribute will be just for Vince.

Dear Jason:

I was quite peeved at the editorial on the February 6 issue of the Argonaut entitled "Communists at College" and signed —G. D.

G. D. says American youth should study democracy only, and should regard as highly dangerous, the study of Communism or any other form of government different from democracy. Of course I believe we should all study democracy, but I believe we should study all other forms of government also and compare them to democracy. Only in this way can we find out that democracy is really superior to the other forms.

Ignorance of Communism and other forms of government will just make us poor citizens: It will not make us more appreciative of democracy.

Calls G. D. Ignorant

The best argument I can give, that ignorance of Communism makes us poor citizens in a democracy, is that G. D. himself is so ignorant about Communism that his suppositions are entirely misleading. G. D. thinks that "a little community property ownership constitutes Communism." Let me remind G. D. that all of the highways of the state of Idaho are owned by the community of the people of the State of Idaho.

According to G. D.'s ignorant definition, we have Communism right in our state! Of course this is not so, and just shows that G. D. has not studied Communism.

I am not a Communist and I do not like Communism, but I believe we should study it and other forms of government to be more appreciative of our democracy.

Leo Seren, Asst. Prof. of Physics.

Dear Jason:

According to LS, I wrote "American youth should study democracy only, and should regard as highly dangerous; the study of communism or any other form of government different from democracy."

My article said "It shows the need for American youth to know and understand the basic principles of democracy in order to form his own ideas on government."

LS further mis-quoted my article when he states that I said "a little community property ownership constitutes Communism." Nowhere did I make such a statement as LS, erstwhile assistant of physics, states above. In the Communistic Creed Communism is characterized as "complete State ownership and control of productive property." I was thinking only of complete state ownership when the article was written.

I only hope that Professor LS does not twist his atomic theories as he has twisted the meaning in my article or we'll not only have communism in Idaho (as he mistakenly quoted me as saying) but a series of bombardments of high speed electrons and high speed alpha particles which will render any type of government useless.

Dear Jason:

I believe that there is a situation staring us in the face that too many of us are refusing to recognize and are trying to hide from. It seems that many of the students here are afraid to face it and do something about it. I am thinking about the "neat" reputation we are receiving for our "fine" sense of decency and fair play. Maybe some people will recall reading in a recent issue of the Spokesman-Review, on the sports page concerning the conduct of Vandal fans at recent basketball contests.

I think that the situation is almost completely out of hand. It is getting to the point that when a referee calls a foul against our team, whether obvious or not, there are certain people who have to boo their heads off and then gripe until "Hell just about freezes over."

I think that one thing that could be done is to ask the I. K.'s to have another half time program to explain to the crowds what constitutes fouling and what is legal. The last time that the referees explained these things, everyone liked it and we had a temporary lull in the storm.

Another thing that has been said, time and time again is that the referees can't watch all ten players at once and do miss a few shady occurrences but they try to do as well as they can.

If the referees call a foul that you don't agree with, you can boo your head off and they won't change their minds. If they did, the rest of the crowd would probably boo them out of the gym.

Just stop and think a minute. These referees are hired by the Northern Division Conference and they must know something about what goes on.

I have got out of line on a few occasions with a lot of others but what say we get together and run this poor sporting attitude clear off the campus. We certainly can't lose anything by such an action.

Poll Shows Students Hold Different Opinions On Govt.

By The Inquiring Reporter

To get a reaction you need only to ask a question. This week's question, submitted by the Arg Inquiring Reporter, involves the federal government, and the federal government involves the people. The inhabitants of the Idaho campus are people, and the reactions of U of I people reveal the following thoughts on the question:

"What do you think of the government of the United States of America?"

Ted Beecher, Beta Theta Pi, decided that "Campus-life liberties allowed by the U. S. government make practically everything free."

Phyllis Bertrand, Ridenbaugh hall, advised, "I think it's underrated by the rest of the world and over-rated by the U. S."

Lois Nodell of Alpha Chi Omega cooperated with "My opinion won't matter because I can't vote yet anyway."

R. C. Ward, Idaho club, voiced a strong "We've had it almost 200 years, and will have it awhile longer."

Ridenbaugh hall's Rosemary Andres said quietly, "I want more rights for women."

Jack "MacKenzie" Wallace, Idaho club, thought a minute and said, "The U. S. is too large today to be ruled by its present government. There is not true representation of the people as a result. I have no solution for the problem, for if I did have, I would unquestionably be a crooked politician."

Phi Gamma Delta Ken Erickson thinks "There is too much haggling between and within congressional groups."

Maxine Minimum, bicc, stated, "The U. S. government is like Joe Mediocre, noisy, publicity-seeking but usually not a big thing."

Nursery Classes To Start March 1

Dex Linck Supplies Punch In 55-52 Win Over Ducks

IDAHO	2	5	.286	302	365

The "never say die" Idaho Vandals came back into the conference picture Saturday night when they downed the University of Oregon 55-52 in Memorial gymnasium. After losing to the Ducks 64 to 46 Friday night Coach Chuck Finley reorganized his team and came up with a hard fighting squad that turned back the Oregonians in the second game of the series.

Tonight the Vandals take on the Washington State basketball crew in the final game of a four game series between the two squads. The Cougars have defeated the Vandals three times, but the fast-improving Idaho quintet gave the Cougars plenty of trouble before losing the last one 41-40.

Dex Linck Stars

Idaho's hopes to salvage a final win in the series were dampened when scholastic difficulties and injuries crippled the Vandal quintet, but the stellar playing of Dex Linck has given new hope to Idaho followers. Displaying speed and expert ball handling as well as scoring ability, Linck tallied 33 points in the two games with Oregon here last week. He has been the spark which Idaho fans hope will lead the Vandals to victory tonight.

Time Out

By Harry Howard

THE VICIOUS VANDAL seems to have made himself notorious overnight. Bob Miller's column in the SPOKESMAN-REVIEW devoted three column inches to comment on the literary achievements of this defender of Idaho.

Although the loss of Phoenix definitely crippled the Idaho squad, Jay Gano and Dick Geisler alternated at the center slot to hold Roger Wiley, Oregon's six foot, eight inch center to 16 points. The Idahoans also got their share of the rebounds from the backboard.

Wilkins Opens

Dick Wilkins, Oregon forward, opened the scoring in Saturday night's contest with a lay-up in the opening seconds of the game, but the Duck's lead was snapped short as the Vandals ran the count 7 to 2 on a free throw by Dick Geisler followed by six successive points by Dex Linck. The Oregonians were not able to overcome this lead until midway in the second half when they knocked the score at 40 to 40.

At this point the Idaho team caught fire and put in three baskets while holding the Duck's to a basket and a free throw. Midway in the first half the Vandals were ahead, 15 to 10. The game developed into a nip and tuck battle with both teams leveling off on the basket. At the half the Idaho quintet was in the lead 29-23.

Vandals Lead

Jay Gano pushed one in and Jack Rainey made a gift toss to stretch the Vandals lead to nine points early in the second half. Oregon's Stan Williamson made two free throws and a basket, but Linck matched these with three points. Geisler fouled out with 12 minutes to go and the Ducks began to move.

The Vandals were only able to get one goal while the Oregonians piled up nine points to tie the score at 40 to 40 with ten minutes to go. Preston Brimhall scored three points to put the Idaho team back in the lead. Bob Lavey sank a free throw for the Ducks.

A basket by Linck and three points by Christianson widened the Vandal lead to seven points with five minutes remaining. The Ducks spurted again in the next three minutes and with 2 minutes left in the game the score was 52-50 in favor of Idaho.

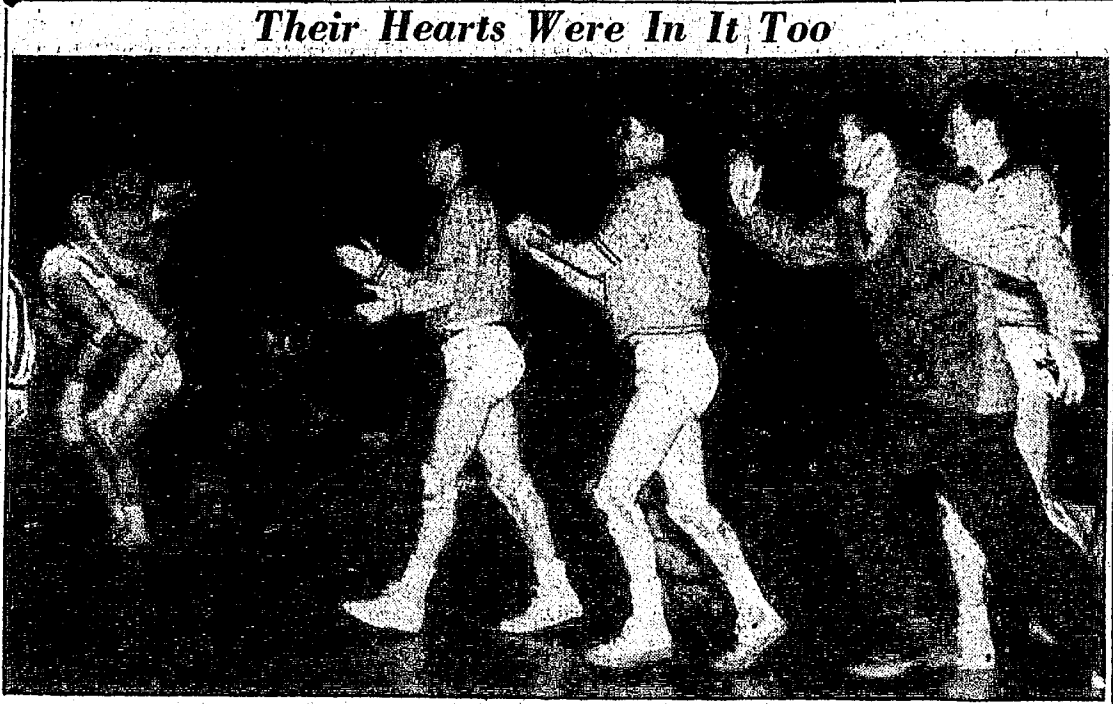

Final Score

Joe Grove got a lay-in and made a free throw with less than one minute of play left. A tip-in by Wiley left the score 55-52 at the final gun.

The Oregon squad completely outclassed the Vandals Friday night in the first game of the series. Taking a seven point lead in the opening minutes of the game, the Duck's margin was never threatened seriously. At half time the score read 38 to 25 in favor of the Oregon quintet. The second half play was also dominated by the Ducks, who ran up a 20 point margin of victory by the finish of the game.

SPORTS CALL 600

Montana State University's intramural program includes nearly 600 students. Sports under the program are touch football, basketball, bowling, swimming and softball.

There was jubilation galore at the Idaho bench Saturday night following the Vandals' 55-52 victory over the Oregon Ducks. Forward Harold Jaussi leaps high into the air as Gerry Gunnels and Bill Eimers applaud and Team Manager Marv Churchill dashes past Glen Cushman on his way somewhere in a big hurry.

Idaho Skiers Cop Second In Weekend Hickory Tourneys

After winning firsts in the eight-mile cross country and the slalom events, the Idaho Vandal ski team dropped to third in the ski jump and were edged out by Washington State College in the second annual Inland Empire Intercollegiate ski meet at Emida last weekend. The top teams were followed by Gonzaga, Montana and Boise Junior College.

Scoring Punch Plus

Idaho fans are all smiles after watching Dex Linck perform in the Oregon series. He has appeared in only three games thus far, but has averaged more than 12 points per game. In his first game against Washington State, he picked up only 4 points, but his ball handling was something to watch. Friday night against Oregon he found the hoop for 11 points. He hit his stride the following night, and foxed the Ducks at every turn to grab scoring honors with 22 points.

Chuck Finley, Idaho basketball coach, deserves a big slap on the back for his fine sportsmanship. He personally asked the public address system to request less noise in the recent Idaho-Oregon game. In Pullman during the last Idaho-WSC game, he appeared to be restraining an official from venting his wrath on the leader of his own opposition.

Idaho Debaters Win At Lewiston

The University of Idaho's debate team defeated North Idaho College of Education and Washington State College to win the Tri-Angular debate tournament which was held in Lewiston Saturday, February 7.

Represented by three teams, Idaho won five and lost three of its debates. North Idaho College of Education took second place honors with four wins and four losses. Washington State won three and lost five of its debates.

Idaho Engineer To Be Published Soon

A meeting of the staff of the Idaho Engineer magazine will be held at the Engineering building today at 4 p. m. to make plans for the March issue, Zig Lash, Engineer editor, said.

The meeting will be held in the "Engineer" office and all engineers who are interested in working on the staff are invited. All old staff members are urged to be present and those who are not there will be dropped, Lash remarked.

Gonzaga Mittmen Outpoint Idaho In Conference Opener

The Gonzaga University boxers defeated the Idaho Vandal squad before a capacity crowd in Gonzaga gymnasium in Spokane Friday night. It was the third victory in three starts for the Bulldogs.

The feature bout of the evening was an exhibition bout between Idaho's National Intercollegiate Boxing champion, Herb Carlson, and Gonzaga's hard hitting Carl Maxey. The bout, which was marked by many solid blows and clever boxing technique, was acclaimed by the crowd to be one of the best collegiate matches witnessed by northwest ring fans in some time. Maxey had the reach over Carlson, but the Vandal mittman was able to do some of his well known "action boxing." The bout was a no decision bout as Maxey is not eligible for collegiate competition until next year.

Another crowd-pleaser was the Leonard Walker-Thompson bout. Walker, an Idaho freshman, threw an amazing array of punches throughout the fight, but was unable to get a decision over the Bulldog freshman. Thompson was given the nod by one point.

Summary:
Tony Ventre (G), flyweight, forfeit.
Art Neumayer (G), bantamweight, forfeit. (Neumayer then fought a no-decision exhibition with DeForest Tovey, (I).
Dale Hammond (I), featherweight, decision over Bill Wessel (G).
John Crandall (G), lightweight, decision over Darrel Titus (I).
Jim Sullivan (G), welterweight, and Thane Johnson (I), no contest.

Don Ellis (I), lightweight, decision over Art Halpin (G).
Don Jabbora (G), heavyweight, decision over Ted Diehl (I).
Other exhibition bouts included: Howard Morton (I), decision over Joe Stephens (G), middleweight. Bill Lesmeister (G), featherweight, decision over Ken Clark (I). Eli Thomas (G), welterweight, decision over Len Walker (I). Norman Walker (I), lightweight, decision over Jim Reilly (G).

Vandal Swim Team To Face Beavers

The Idaho swim team will be host to the Oregon State aquatic squad in a tank meet to be held Friday afternoon in the Memorial gymnasium pool. The Vandals have won one meet while losing three in previous meets this year.

The Beavers have a Northern Division champion in Ray Staub, who topped the diving events last year, and is expected to have entries in all events. Both teams have been beaten by the University of Oregon by nearly the same scores. The Ducks dropped Oregon State, 52-23 and downed the Vandals, 52-22. In commenting on the meet, Coach Kirkland of the Vandals said that the teams are very even and the final results will probably hinge on the outcome of the relay events.

KS Wins Over DTD

Kappa Sigma downed Delta Tau Delta, 32-20, in the opening game of last night's Class A basketball play. Close victories by SC and WSH highlighted the evening's games.

PH No. 2 downed CH No. 2, 54 to 26. The SC edged out TMA, 25-24. Trailer Village No. 2 over-ran PH No. 4; and LH No. 2 lost to WSH No. 2, 30 to 32. In the final game of the night, LH No. 1 downed WSH No. 1, 37-23.

Vandal Frosh Basketball Squad Takes Two From BJC

The Vandal Babes took both games of their series with Boise Junior College last weekend in preliminaries to the Oregon-Idaho contests. The Frosh downed the Boise quintet 54 to 44 in the game Friday night, and on Saturday night the Babes were victorious, 46-35.

Beach Leads

Jack Beach, rangy forward, led the scoring for the Idaho Frosh in Friday night's contest with 15 points. Other high scorers for the Vandal Babes in the first game were Dick Reed with 13 points and Rod Grider with 11. In Saturday night's game, Herb Mead topped the Idaho Frosh scoring, making four field goals and five free throws for a total of 13 points. Outstanding men on the Boise Junior College five were Atchison who tallied 14 points Saturday night to be high point man in that contest, and Coley who made a total of 19 points in the two games.

Belko Pleased

Coach Steve Belko stated that he was pleased with the steady improvement his squad has shown in both shooting and getting the rebounds. The backboard work of the Vandal Babes was the deciding factor in both games with the Boise squad.

Tonight the Frosh will meet the Washington State Frosh team in the last game of their cross-border rivalry this season. The Cougar Kittens have won two games from the Idaho Frosh, 55-49 and 48-44. The steadily improving Vandal Babes took the last game, 55 to 49, and are expected to be out for a second win tonight.
