Apologies And Beliefs

Virtually every sound or semi-sound view appearing lately in the Argonaut has been apologetic in nature—the apology being offered to an individual who has achieved a rather frothy reputation for "red-baiting." (This person and those like him take the place of the Chamber of Commerce on the Idaho campus.) A typical example of an apology following a good letter appeared under "Dear Jason" in an Argonaut dated March 5. "Contrary to what G. D. probably thinks.] am not a Communist."

This type of qualification, minus G. D., is typical of apologies attached of current viewpoints (sound or otherwise)apologies offered fearfully to some "all powerful" group.

These two recent policies (that of stating one's political views before one speaks, and that of being held to answer for one's views) we would like to challenge,

First off: one's political beliefs. Why pick on the person who thinks his own thoughts and believes his own beliefs? This is not the person who takes every opportunity to cry: "I am not a Communist."

Secondly: Why should citizens answer for their beliefs to
