Blue Key, Pep Band Shows Spark Weekend Activities

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

An observer on the Idaho campus could almost see the army khaki and the navy blue on male students after President Truman's speech Wednesday.

Almost every veteran on the campus thought he could feel the long arm of the service reaching for him. And for some the bugle calls and drill formations seemed close—much too close.

The seriousness of the international situation had its spots of local humor, however. Jason heard one vet moan, "I spent three years in the army. What if I have to go back!" Cracked his buddy, "Think of the college entitlement it will give you!" Jason's only comment following the speech is "Let's hope it never happens."

Mate Selection Survey

A survey taken by a sociology student at the University of Miami interested Arg staff members because of its similarity to Professor Harmsworth's poll taken here earlier in the year.

Both surveys questioned men in their selection of a mate. Although worded differently the end results found many of the same qualities desired in a wife at Miami and at Idaho.

The poll taken at Miami contained 16 questions; Dr. Harmsworth's survey contained 32. For purposes of comparison Jason presents a list of the ten most desirable qualities in a woman at both schools.

At Idaho the list reads:
1. Be domestic, love homelife.
2. Be honest, truthful, dependable.

3. Be neat in appearance.
4. Have a normal attitude toward sex.
5. Be a good cook.
6. Belong to same race.
7. Have a pleasing personality.
8. Love children, parenthood.
9. Be healthy.
10. Be thrifty.

At Miami the list reads:

1. Personality.
2. Moral character.
3. Emotional maturity.
4. Sexual attraction.
5. Appearance.
6. Education.
7. Health.
8. Religious attitudes.
9. Virginity.
10. Family background.

Items on the Miami list that aren't on the Idaho list appeared farther down in the latter. For instance religious attitudes ranked 17th with Idaho students, Virginity ranked 22nd and family background placed 28th.

Jason thinks that had they been given the same quizzes, the two groups would have shown even greater similarity.

Junior Week

No Idaho student has failed to notice the Junior week campaign signs appearing all over the campus. Probably, never has there been such an election, with 31 presidential candidates running against each other.

According to informants in the Home Management house there

Vet's Pay Raise To Come Through First Of April

Subsistence allowance increases, recently authorized by action of Congress and the President, effective April 1, 1948, will be paid automatically on May 1 to most student veterans attending school, college or university full time under the G. I. Bill.

Under the new subsistence schedule, the Veterans Administration will raise subsistence allowances of single veterans with no dependents from $65 to $75 a month. Veterans with one dependent will receive $105 instead of the current $90, and those with two or more dependents $120 a month.

Watch "Dependency"

"However, veterans with two or more dependents will not receive automatically the total authorized subsistence increase of $120," stated Joseph Uberuaga, Contact Representative of the Moscow office. "These veterans must submit to their VA regional office proof of dependency in the form of certified copies of birth records of their children, church records of baptism or other legally acceptable evidence. To establish dependency of parents, veteran students must execute a VA Affidavit of Dependency and submit a certified (Cont. on page 2, col. 6)

Summer Professor

Mr. Elwyn Schwartz, Director of Bands at Fresno State College, California, will be one of the members of Idaho's summer school faculty.

Pine Hall Fire Damage Slight

Fire broke out shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday in Pine hall in the first and second floor phone booths. Damage was slight.

Students acting promptly with fire extinguishers quickly extinguished the flames. Damage was confined to the two phone booths where beams were torn out to gain access to the fire. Panelling in the booths was also removed.

The Moscow volunteer fire department arrived a few minutes after the fire was out.

Cause of the fire has not yet been ascertained.

Vandaleers Present Cantata At Sunday Lenten Services

The University Vandaleers under the direction of Professor Glen R. Lockery, will sing Cantata No. 4, "Christ Lay In Death's Dark Prison," by J. S. Bach in the Lenten Choral services on Palm Sunday at 8 p. m. in the University auditorium.

Miss Marian Frykman, organ and piano instructor, will accompany the choir at the organ, while other instrumental accompanists will include Mary Jasper and Maurice Ritchey, cellists; Jack Gregory, trombonist, and Calvin Lyon, cornetist.

Invocation will be given by Father Stokoe, St. Mary's Catholic church; and Rev. Neale Nelson, First Lutheran church, will read the scripture. The benediction will be pronounced by Mrs. George S. Tanner, L.D.S. Institute.

This cantata was composed for

Young Bossie Likes It Where She Is

The Argonaut staff photographer caught this picture last week as Arg students began preparations for the annual Little International Livestock Show planned for the last week-end in April. Shown persuading a calf to move are Gary Ostler, David Thacker, Floyd Gelphart and Cecil Alldaffer.

Five To Run For May Queen

Collette Selects Production Leads

Bob Miller and Patricia Barnes have been assigned lead parts in "State of the Union" which will be produced in April by the dramatics department, according to Miss Jean Collette, head.

The play is a satire on modern politics and concerns a politician who thinks he is presidential timber. The play closed last summer after a successful two-year run on Broadway where in 1946 it won the Pulitzer prize. It was written by Howard Lindsey and Russell Crouse.

It is scheduled for April 16 and 17 with the following people in the cast: Rich Pennell, Bill Davidson, Caddie Barlow, Nancy Mayo, Willard Barnes, Gene Michel, Neal Christensen, Vic Cooper and Guy Terwilliger.

Others are Roland Tipsword, Colleen Christensen, Virginia Moore, Harry Dalva, Bill McFarlane and June Thomas.

Band Show Gets $200 For Expenses

Two hundred dollars from the Associated Students University of Idaho fund was diverted to pay expenses of the annual pep band show by the ASUI executive board last week.

The diversion of funds was necessary due to the interference of the Gonzaga-Idaho boxing matches Saturday night.

Originally slated to run three nights, the show can not pay expenses on the two-night schedule.

Diversion of ASUI funds allows students to see the show on their ASUI books with no additional fee being charged.

Sayao Won't Appear

Announcement came today from the community concert association that Bidu Sayao slated to appear in Pullman April 1 has been forced to cancel her concert.

A suitable substitute of the same caliber is being sought.

May Queen candidates are Donna Chapman, Elizabeth Robinson, Barbara Spaeth, Eve Smith and Geneva Ferguson, announced Mary Sue Tovey, AWS secretary, today.

Election of AWS officers and May Queen and her attendants will take place in the Administration building March 24, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., she added.

At a meeting March 17, at the Blue Bucket, AWS officers presented the nomination slate. At this time additional candidates were nominated from the floor.

Candidates for AWS officers vying for the AWS presidential office are Jan Garber and Mary Sue Tovey.

Other candidates are as follows: Vice president, Sally Foskett, Pat Dwyer; Carol Fugate, and Jeanne Hoffman; secretary: Phyllis Larue, Rosemary Fitzgerald, Clarice Hove, and Margie Lampman; treasurer: Gerry Johnson, Dorothy Greaves, Bette West, Wanda Merz, and Betty Pyles.

May Queen Attendants

ASUI President Thanks Chairman

Miss Shirley Tanner, Chairman W.S.S.F. Committee Dear Shirley:

On behalf of the Executive Board, may I express our sincere thanks to you and your W.S.S.F. Committee for the excellent work done during the recent W.S.S.F. drive here on our campus.

This has been the first year in which the A.S.U.I. has sponsored this particular drive, and it is gratifying to see the returns reach a new high.

The spirit shown by you and your committee members has been excellent. Thank you again for a job well done.

Sincerely,
WALT SMITH, President
A.S.U.I. Executive Board

Hell Divers Plan Pledging For 12

Initiation plans were made at the meeting of Hell Divers Monday at the university pool. Jan Garber, president appointed committees to take charge of the initiation to be held March 22 at 7:30.

The pledges to be initiated are: Harry Wilson, Ann Dingle, Mary Ellen Stefanak, Jim La Grone, John Harris, Frank Mather, Chase Barbee, Albert Pappenhagen, Norm Green, A. C. Neilson, Robert Wheeler, Pam Gaut.

The pledges, under the direction of Norm Green put on a skit, "Life of a Hell Diver." Zeke Smith reported that the Life Saving Program has gotten under way for Hell Divers and other students desiring to obtain their Senior Life Saving Certificate.

Silver Lance Note

Silver Lance members are urged to meet today at 4:30 in the Coke Room of the Bucket, Walt Smith, ASUI president, said yesterday.

Veterans' Village Obtains New Fire Organization

Outside storage of explosives, organization of Vets' Village fire units and placing of "No Smoking" and "Exit" signs have been recommended by the University Traffic and Safety committee in its fire safety program.

Primary objective of the program is the safeguarding of lives, with protection of university property given secondary importance.

Among the first actions taken in the program was the inspection of university buildings and living houses made by Dr. L. C. Cady, chairman of the committee, and James Dalton and Ernest Wohletz of the subcommittee.

Recommendations were made by the committee that more "No Smoking" and "Exit" signs be placed in conspicuous places throughout the university buildings. The committee also recommended that Vets' Villagers organize fire units and hold periodic fire drills.

In the chemistry department, work has been completed on outside storage tanks for explosives used in the department. The committee advised that all other departments using inflammable materials make the same arrangements.

Fourteen Students Initiated By ATO

Fourteen men were initiated by Alpha Tau Omega Sunday. They include Chuck Scott, Clair Mackay, Dick Fike, Port Wagner, Keith Larson, Dick Smith, Boyd Barker, Job Jordahl, Larry Jones, Jack Gregory, Neil Smiley, Gary Sessions, Cliff Cahill, and Dave Litzbenburger.

Council May Discuss Gripes

Anything about the University of Idaho which "gripes" the students or anything that the faculty has to complain about is discussed at the Student-Faculty Council meetings every other Monday.

The function of this board is to effect coordination and unity of purpose among students, faculty and university officials. It approves of all organizations that are recognized as an activity for gaining activity points. They must also approve of any sorority or fraternity before it can be established on this campus.

Members of this advisory group are from both the faculty and student body at the university. Dean H. E. Lattig is chairman, with Dean L. S. Carter, Dr. Walter Steffens, D. D. DuSault, Gale Mix, Dr. Frederic Church and J. W. Watts as the faculty members.

Governor Earl Warren kept an important committee waiting while he chatted about education and boxing with the team members. The governor offered to do anything for the Idaho men.

"Could you do something about the boxing judges?" Herb Carlson said smiling, thinking of the team's defeats Monday night.

The team members, Herb Carlson, Ted Diehl, Dale Hammond, and Thane Johnson, returned Wednesday, accompanied by coaches Butler, Frank Young and manager Mike Williamson.

Idaho's Ringmen Meet Warren On Trip

Idaho's boxers appeared on the senate floor of the California legislature Tuesday but they took no part in debates on tax laws, Coach Ken Butler said yesterday.

The team was invited by California Senator Maloney who introduced the four boxers. Their names were entered on the official legislative records.

Representatives

'Shoot The Works' Tonite; Talent Show Saturday

KUOI and Blue Key will sponsor the first student-talent show on the Idaho campus this year tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the auditorium. Playing to a near capacity crowd last night, the Pep Band show, "Shoot the Works," will be presented again tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

The people in the Blue Key-KUOI show will provide entertainment for the surrounding communities when they request such entertainment from the university. A spokesman said the talent show is to become an annual or semi-annual affair. Saturday afternoon Harry Howard will be the acting master of ceremonies.

Background Music

The Harmony Five will provide the background music with their five piece band. Vocalists include Louise Miller, Tri Delt, singing "My Hero," and "Without a Song." LDS representative Bruce Stucki will sing "The Desert Song," and "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." Rex Moulton of Pine Hall will offer "One More Tomorrow," and "Serenade of the Bells."

Gamma Phi Jean Taylor will sing "St. Louis Blues," and "Waltz Song." Maurice Ritchey of Lindley hall will do "From Land of the Sky Blue Waters." Along with these vocalists will be the Kappa Trio, the Beta Quintet, and Don Evans and the Delta Chi vocalists. Tony Galdos, Delta Chi accordionist will play "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," "Sharpshooters March," and "Rancho Grande." Piano duet by Betas Don Julian and Earl Hayes. "Ritual Fire Dance" by Jeanne Foster, Kappa pianist.

"Shoot the Works," written by Regg Potvin and Dick Shou, proved to be a success last night. The first part of the program consisted of serious music, played by the formal Pep Band and the latter half of the show was a "Musical extravaganza" which left few people without sore sides from rounds of uproarious laughter. In the comedy angle, Jack Gregory literally stole the show with his jokes and falls.

Music by such artists as Ravel, Grofe, Fillmore and Weber was played in the formal program, thus showing the versatility of the Idaho Pep Band.

Musical arrangements by Weldon Cole, Jack Perciful and John Sheeley, and the musical direction under Bud Walter, filled out the show. Bette Tarr directed the chorus.

Jack Gregory and Jack Lein had the leading parts assisted by such entertainers as Pepper Burns, Jack Reiley, Bill Aimes, Bette Tarr, Don Haynes and the Kappa Trio.

The Combo Pep Band ended the evening's show with a special number on the drums and the vibra-phone by Mark Barnett.

Colonel B. H. Hensley, PMS&T, announces that the cadets of the ROTC unit at the university will participate in the observance of Army Day, April 6. All members of the unit are to be excused from classes between 10 and 12 o'clock on that date in order to appear in a downtown parade.

Appropriate ceremonies in the city of Moscow are being sponsored by the local post of the American Legion.

Executive Board Revision Complete On Constitution

Work on the revision of the ASUI constitution was completed this week by the executive board, Walt Smith, student president, announced today.

The modernized constitution was presented to President J. E. Buchanan for checking along with the "Regulations" section which replaces the former "By-Laws." Following the president's sanction it will be sent to the Board of Regents for approval.

Smith also stated that the teacher-course rating plan is still in the hands of the faculty welfare committee. The group is working on administration plans for the scheme.

Rehearse For Talent Show

Of Campus Appearance

Always bleak, the last few weeks of winter seem doubly so on the Idaho campus. The weather, mid-term exams, and the appearance of the campus contribute to the dismal feelings of anyone walking up "Hello walk" for an eight o'clock.

Bear bottles have been thrown under low-hanging trees, candy and gum wrappers litter the grass, broken glass and papers lie in the streets. Some of last year's leaves still rot on the ground; fences to protect lawns are broken or in need of paint. Vets' villages and parking lots are filled with puddles. Junior week posters have temporarily perked the campus up, but shortly they will join the clutter of trash.

The weather is in the hands of God, the mid-terms are in the hands of the professors, but students can do something about the appearance of the campus.

Last year, Blue Key organized the campus for a clean-up drive. It wasn't completely successful—but a similar drive with everyone participating would be a welcome change from the routine of classes, make the end of winter less dismal and the coming of spring more pleasant. It would also help Idaho live up to its reputation as "one of the most beautiful campuses in the Northwest."

Uncle Sam Wants More Physicists

The U. S. Civil Service commission has announced oral examinations will be conducted for the positions of physicists and public health employees with a salary range of from $3,397 to $9,102.

To qualify for a physicist applicants must have had a four-year course leading to a bachelors degree in physics and completed courses in physics totaling at least 24 semester hours.

Qualifications for the public health service are four years experience in one or a combination of the following: program analysis and survey, teaching graduate courses in public health administration or preventative medicine, and operating a health program or project.

Further information may be obtained by inquiring at the Moscow Post Office.

Farms, Forests Discussion Topic

Foresters from western Montana, northeastern Washington, and northern Idaho will meet in the forestry laboratory at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. They will discuss farms, forests and farm forestry problems.

Dean Jeffers has announced that A. E. Watters, president of the association will lead the discussion. He is a member of the staff of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Participants from Idaho will include Professor Ernest Wohletz, Vernon Ravenscroft, extension forester; and Vernon Vurilison, assistant extension forester.

SONG PRACTICE TIME SET
 A practice for the Junior serenade is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Science 110. Students interested in taking part in the serenade are asked to attend.

Women taking the test are Eileen Brewster, Rusty Grant, Pete Grant, Bernice Evans, Jeanne Graves, Phyllis Halley, Maybelle Harris, Margaret McAuley, Marjorie Morris, Betty Newell, Jackie Ritchie, and Eileen Walton.

Judges To Select Women For Rating

Twelve majors and minors of the women's physical education department will take the National Basketball official rating examinations Saturday, March 20, in the women's gymnasium.

The aspirants will officiate Round Robin tournament games.

Assassination Attempted

Moscow, Mar. 16 — Presidential nominee Calvin Coolidge was saved from almost certain death Tuesday afternoon when a disgruntled rival attempted to "gun him down" as he made his acceptance speech in front of the Ad building. Quick work on the part of the well trained FBI men assigned as bodyguards and a gun that misfired saved the president for future service to his fellow men.

LETTERS TO JASON

Writers to Jason are urged to keep their letters short—not over 200 words. The Arg reserves the right to "cut" longer letters. Only signed letters will be accepted, but initials only will be printed upon request.

I read with considerable interest last Friday's . . . Arg (Incidentally, the word synonymous has no "n" in it), particularly your quotations from difficult texts.

I am enclosing some quotations which I cut . . . from current magazines. Are your text quotations any more difficult than these which most people are reading for pleasure?

. . . I am inclined to think that the difficulty does not lie with the obscurity of either professors or texts, but with the students who come to college practically illiterate and then, rather than go to the trouble of learning to use the English language, prefer to demand that the courses be lowered to their level.

Will Compete
 Since these same students, so-called, will be in competition with trained and disciplined intellects upon graduation . . . it would seem the part of wisdom for them to attempt to correct their deficiency now.

I am neither student nor professor. I am a parent and a taxpayer. Most of us are seriously concerned with the type of education which our children are receiving in the public schools and universities.

We have been blaming the mess that public education is in too long on everything else; we should have been blaming the students. It is still true that: "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink; you can lead a boy to college but you can't make him think."

Raise Standards
 I personally believe that the standards for entrance into the university should be raised, not lowered; that the courses should be made stiffer, not easier; and that college controls should be stricter, not more lax.

And most of all, since the right to use AB after one's name should signify that the person is at least literate if not cultured, I think you should stop campaigning for less and easier study.

America has been accused for many years of being a nation of adolescents emotionally and mentally. Now it seems we must even talk the language of sixteen year olds and have texts only slightly above the comic book level.

D.S.
 Ed. Note—Jason agrees that standards should be raised, courses made stiffer. Jason does not believe that texts written in obscure terms accomplish any useful purpose (except possibly to make the author feel learned). Jason's typewriter put an "n" in synonymous just as D.S.'s typewriter left an "n" out of synonymous.

Dear Jason:

In regards to the recent grade controversy and the idea expressed by some that grades don't mean a thing and that they aren't important—I wish to say that is very true, but just try and get out of this institution without them!

M.R.B.

Dear Jason:

Professor Sereh's last letter to Jason was concerning a subject which I have been wondering about for some time. Namely, this business of grading a student on his memorizing ability.

With the present system, the student who is able to "cram" the largest amount of facts (sometimes questionable) into his head in the shortest amount of time is the more capable student. I ask you: Is that a good measure of the student's over-all ability, in undertaking a subject?

I have heard professors (two to be exact) say, "You will not be able to remember any of these formulas six months from now," and turn right around and grade the students on how many they did remember.

Memorize Formulas
 For the life of me, I can't see why the students in chemistry (who are not majoring in chemistry) must commit all those formulas to memory. Would it not be better if the student thoroughly understood a book of many formulas rather than be able to recite verbatim a few of them? I feel that if less time were spent on the facts and more were spent on what is behind those facts the student would gain tremendously.

Also I believe that the student who had access to the book while taking the exams would remember as much about the subject five years later as the student who memorized.

By access to the book, I do not mean this will always be the text book which explains each thing in detail, but I do mean a book or compilation of facts, formulas or other information which the student could use in conjunction with his own understanding of the subject. This is the way he would do it later on a job where the outcome would be far more important than just passing next week's quiz.

I am not pointing this article at the chemistry department in particular. Most of the courses I have been in have been the same way and chemistry is just an example.

Students Offered Teaching Positions

Any senior or graduate student interested in a teaching position should stop at the Placement Office located on the second floor of the Ad building, Harlow Campbell, educational field service director, said today.

Files and records of the students should be in the Placement Office by March 25 as superintendents will be in Moscow next week for interviews with prospective teachers in order to employ them by April 1.

Mr. Campbell will interview students beforehand in order to find out their preference for special positions, locations and salaries.

Marksmen Qualify For Nat'l. Matches

The university ROTC rifle team, by taking fifth place in the recent Sixth Army Intercollegiate Gallery Matches of 1948, qualifies as an entry in the National Intercollegiate Matches.

Colonel B. H. Hensley, PMS&T, announces the following men will represent the university in this event: Dean Leander, Alex Yarosky, John Wittman, Keith Judd, Dean Stephens, Karl Snyder, Allen Ingebritsen, Rex Moulton, Carl Meserve, Everett Jordan and William Shoup.

Lab Tests Told

Results of tests made in the laboratories of the Idaho bureau of mines and geology in converting raw phosphate rock to superphosphate fertilizer are reported in a pamphlet prepared by Lewis S. Prater, bureau metallurgist.

"The phosphate deposits of southeastern Idaho, now only in their early stages of development as a mineral resource, constitute the largest known reserves in the world," commented Dean A. W. Fahrenwald of the university school of mines.

Binaural-Sound Concert Planned

A demonstration featuring a binaural-sound classical concert to which all are invited will be held this Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Bucklet's small ballroom. Binaural-sound is claimed by the inventor (Glen Southworth, founder of KUOI and a former U. of I. student) to be one of the first successful devices for reproducing sound "naturally."

"The general effect," states Southworth, "is like that of being seated in the center of an orchestra and being played to from all sides."

Forum Schedules Easter Program

The Presbyterian group will present their annual Easter program Sunday morning at 7. Roger Fisk will take charge of the meeting assisted by Jim Walkington and Warren Williams.

The Palm Sunday breakfast will be served immediately after the program in the church.

All Sunday evening meetings have been cancelled because of the Cantata that is being presented by the Vandaleers at 8 p.m.

Donna Chapman, president of A.W.S. and Polly Harris, president of Pan Hellenic, will accompany Dean Carter to Spokane tomorrow for "All College Day," sponsored by A.A.U.W.

Fourteen colleges throughout the northwest will be represented. The sessions will take place at the Davenport hotel.

Mothers and daughters from Spokane and nearby towns will be given an opportunity to interview college students and Deans of Women.

A luncheon will be given at noon for the college representatives and the Deans of women.

High school girls will put on a style show at that time portraying clothes suitable for campus wear.

Interviews will be resumed after luncheon on the Mezzanine floor of the Davenport.

INSURANCE DEADLINE Until July 31, 1948, veterans may reinstate lapsed GI term insurance by filling out a three-question form available at the VA office, according to officials.

Two monthly premiums must be paid at the time of reinstatement. Ordinarily no physical examination is necessary.

Idaho Caucus Will Join Organization

Idaho Independent Caucus has joined the National Independent Students Association, Dave Weeks, caucus president, announced today.

NISA, a non-profit organization, now has a membership of 40 schools, including WSC and the U. of W. A national meeting is held each year.

Bob Moulton, Vernon Bahr, and Wilson Churchman met with NISA representatives in Pullman, March 14, where it was decided that Idaho join the association.

It is the belief of the caucus that NISA will be of distinct benefit to the university.

Membership does not tie the school down, added Moulton.

Accepts Nomination MOSCOW, Tues., Mar. 16 — At an inspiring rally held Tuesday afternoon in front of the Ad building, "Silent Cal" Coolidge signified his acceptance of the nomination for the presidency.

Appearing cool in the face of the tumultuous cheering, Mr. Coolidge made his speech ring with fervor and sincerity.

As his tribute to the "inherent goodness of man," he announced his intention of pushing legislation, when elected, to give each veteran of any war $500 per month subsistence allowance.
