

Over 3500 Expected To Gather For 53rd Commencement

Financial Loss Negligible On Spivak Dance, Says Mix

Approximately 660 tickets were sold for the Senior Ball, according to incomplete information available yesterday. Costs were not met, but the loss will not exceed $50, it was estimated.

Another school year will be torn from the calendar in the next few days. Suitcases and trunks will be packed. Student autos will be gassed up and jammed with personal belongings. Textbooks will be sold or left to gather dust as their owners begin the mass exodus from Moscow.

For the majority of students, the vacation will mean a summer job, fishing, hiking, swimming, riding, or just plain sleeping. But for the seniors, school year's end is the beginning of a new phase in their lives.

The summer job of former years will take a back seat for the career job. Vacationing will be confined to two or three weeks in the year. Theoretical work will be replaced by the real thing.

Arg Writes "30"
With the end of the school year approaching, the Argonaut finishes its task with this issue. Arg staff members must cease their newspaper work to do some last minute booking. The deadlines have become "final" deadlines.

And with this last Arg, Jason wishes to thank the University, the administration, the faculty, the students, and the Arg staff for their part, both in Jason's education and in putting out the paper twice each week.

The university has probably added a deeper perspective to Jason's somewhat conservative views. The faculty and students have added to Jason's knowledge of true friendship. Arg staffers have shown the meaning of true loyalty and hard work.

Sunshine Helpers
All through the year, the Arg, in common with other campus organizations, has had its share of drifters—students who help when it means no work, or when it means a name prominently displayed.

The Arg has also had a score of faithful staff members, who have never let the paper down. The work has been hard at times with little reward, except the inner feeling of satisfaction Jason humbly thanks and salutes this nucleus of Arg workers, at the same time hoping that Idaho students have enjoyed the paper they published.

New Chapter
Also with this issue, Jason is putting a new sheet of copy paper in the editor's Underwood. The name appearing on the upper left corner will be Newt Cutler. Another "Jason" has joined the growing list of Arg editors.

Tall, friendly Newt Cutler will make a better paper of the Argonaut. If he receives the same cooperation from the campus that the present Jason received, he will provide Idaho students with an accurate, lively, readable news-sheet.

Newt appeared at Idaho in February of 1946, after a voluntary training period with the U. S. Air Corps. He intended to be an engineer until the math problems came his way.

COMING EVENTS

Tuesday
Blue Key will hold a luncheon in the coker room of the Blue Bucket Inn today at 12 noon.

Inter-Fraternity Council will have a short meeting at 5 p.m. at the Delta house.

Friday
Sigma Delta will hold a luncheon meeting at the Blue Bucket Inn at noon Friday.

Gale Mix, Graduate Manager, stated that his office was well satisfied with the financial results. Name bands will definitely be hired under the right conditions in the future, he said.

Total costs cannot be computed until the end of the month when all bills are in, Mix said, but incomplete figures are as follows:

- $1500 for band
- 330 Federal tax
- 85 for programs
- 90 miscellaneous

$2005 Total

Miscellaneous costs include an estimated $20 for publicity, $40 for janitor fees and moving (piano, band stand, etc.), and $30 for decorations.

Income totaled $1980 leaving a total deficit of $25. The senior class fund of $85 more than covered the deficit.

The Spivak band, consisting of 18 pieces, played from 8:15 until midnight Saturday night. Judging from applause accorded the players, students enjoyed the music.

Held at Gym
Memorial gymnasium, decorated with flood lights, crepe paper, flowers, and silhouettes, was the scene of the Ball. The floor was well-filled with the 660 couples, but the side-line seats provided ample room for sitting students.

Mix stated last night that negotiations are underway for a name band to furnish the music for Homecoming next year. All agencies have been contacted, he stated, to find a band that will at least equal Spivak's.

Band Members Say Thanks

Blot Summer Issue Distributed Today Reveals 1948 Coed

Revealing Miss Idaho Coed of 1948 on the cover, the summer issue of Blot will be distributed this afternoon, according to Walt Jain, newly appointed editor for next year.

Town subscribers will receive their copies in the mail tomorrow, he said.

The magazine, four pages larger than usual, contains short stories by Lois Day, Dick Dell, May Burkhardt and Bill Pettijohn. Pocatello is under current spotlight in Blot's Cities of Idaho series. Other articles feature Dr. Erwin Grau, national politics, a Blot current event poll, and a confession article by Don Robertson, Gem photographer.

Regular features included in the year's final issue are the center personality spread, a satirical advertisement, gossip, fashion, and joke columns, and a satirical review of current motion pictures.

File For Permits For Next Semester

Students who are planning to return to the university for the first semester of the 1948-49 academic year may file applications for permits to register in the Registrar's office before they leave the campus in June.

In order to avoid the rush of picking the permits up at registration time, addresses should be left so that they can be mailed out this summer.

Outstanding Achievement Award Winners

Betty Jean Ingraham, University of Idaho representative to the Pacific Northwest College Conference, member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary, was named for the feminine half of the Argonaut Outstanding Achievement Award.

Bert Sorensen, 1947 Homecoming chairman, president of the Business school chamber of commerce, member of Willis Sweet hall, received the Argonaut commendation for the most outstanding senior man of the year.

Arg Selects Man And Woman Of Year

Ivan Brink To Head Engineering Council

Ivan Brink was elected president and Max Ririe, secretary-treasurer, of the Council of Associated Engineers at a recent meeting.

New council members approved the appointments of Bates Murphy and Dick Toews as co-editors of the Idaho Engineer. R. F. Hughes will be business manager of the publication.

Betty Jean Ingraham and Bert Sorensen were chosen by the Argonaut staff to receive the Argonaut Outstanding Achievement Award for the year 1947-48.

The persons to receive the award were picked on the basis of their activity contributions to the university during the past year. They were chosen by a secret ballot of the Arg staff from a list of outstanding senior men and women. The names of persons receiving the award will be placed on the Argonaut plaque in the Bucket younge.

Dean Of Men Says University Is On Upswing

To All Students:
This issue of the Argonaut marks the closing of another school year. In many respects, it has been a good year. We can point to the solution of some major problems and to progress made in solving others. All over the state there has been increased interest in and support for the university. More and more the citizens of Idaho are realizing this is the State University, created to serve all the people. With that belief firmly established, the institution is bound to grow and prosper.

Loyalty Brings Respect
Have you noticed how loyalty to ones family, community, or school, engenders respect in others. Remember this in the coming months when you will have many opportunities to tell your friends and neighbors that yours is a good University.

This is the season when there is much talk among high school seniors about college scholarships. Some institutions, especially those which are not public-supported, pass them out rather freely each spring and as a result, receive much favorable publicity. Actually, the majority of such awards merely cover part, or all, tuition charged all students.

No Tuition Fees
Unfortunately, the public is not always aware that every high school graduate in Idaho already has a scholarship to the University of Idaho. Our state constitution prohibits tuition charges to residents. Therefore every resident has the equivalent of scholarship to his state university, 3500 willing ambassadors can accomplish a lot of good by seeing that such information is passed on to prospective students.

Dean H. E. Lattig
Director of Student Affairs.

Pres. Buchanan Has Close Call

"It was a close call." These were the words used by President J. E. Buchanan in describing a near-accident that occurred on the North-and-South highway Saturday noon.

Returning from a speaking tour in southern Idaho, President Buchanan, driving alone, had reached a point two miles north of Lucile when a large rock hurtling down from the rain-loosened canyon wall crashed to the pavement directly in front of the automobile. The president investigated, found that the highway was blocked by a large rock-slide, and finally turned around and made his way home through Weiser and Pendleton.

Executive Board To Name Heads

Main item of business at the meeting of the newly elected executive board tonight, will be the naming of heads of various activities for the fall semester.

Dave Weeks, ASUI president, says that this will be the board's last meeting this semester. Homecoming chairman, Dad's day chairman, and student activity board chairman will be named at this meeting.

A NEW TRIANGLE

The University of Idaho, WSC and the University of Montana will form a new debate triangle to replace the old triangle which included Idaho, WSC and Whitman. The growth of the Montana school prompted the move.

Rehearsal Plans For Graduation Are Announced

Seniors and all other candidates for degrees are required to attend Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises, unless excused by the president, according to university regulations.

In a directive recently mailed out to seniors, D. D. DuSault, registrar, outlined the final week's procedure for candidates for degrees.

Clearance of all accounts is essential to graduation and seniors are requested to check with the cashier's office Friday, the directive stated.

Candidates for Master's degrees are asked to leave their hoods in the Registrar's office before noon Saturday. Hoods should be tagged with the student's name and the degree he will receive.

Saturday Rehearsal
Rehearsal for commencement, at which all candidates for degrees are expected, is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Candidates will meet with their deans in the following places:

Letters and Science, North-west section of Memorial gymnasium; Agriculture, 218 Morrill hall; Engineering, 206 Engineering building; Law, Ad, 204; Mines, Geology 1; Forestry 335 Morrill hall; Education, Auditorium; Business Ad.

ASUI Thanked

To All University Students:
I want to take this opportunity to thank this year's student body for the fine spirit and cooperation shown me throughout the past year.

We can justly say that this has been a very successful year—in that a new spirit (one more conducive to success) has shown itself on our campus.

Our school can and will continue to prosper in the years to come if the students will continue to support the many activities with as much vigor and enthusiasm as has been shown this year.

Those who are graduating shall watch the activities of our school with eagerness and in doing so shall take great pride in the fact that we are "Vandals" of the U. of I.

Sincerely,
Walt Smith, ASUI president.

Today Is Deadline For AWS Awards

"Today is the last day for women to apply for AWS scholarships," stated Donna Chapman, outgoing president.

The scholarships, amounting to $400, will be awarded to two or three deserving college women by the Associated Women Students. Application blanks may be obtained in Dean Louise Carter's office. Awards will be made after the applications are considered by the faculty scholarship committee.

Those applying can be from any class.

New Jason, Helper Take Arg Helm

Newt Cutler and John Martin, new editor and managing editor respectively, will head the Argonaut staff next year. The pair was appointed by the publications board recently. Cutler moved up from the position of news editor while Martin left the assistant sports editor's post.

Dr. Sproul To Deliver Address To Graduates

An estimated 3500 parents, alumni and students are expected to attend the 1948 graduation exercises on the Idaho campus next week when the master's degrees will be made to about 458 students.

The baccalaureate services will be held at the Memorial gymnasium at 11 a.m. Sunday, and commencement exercises at the gymnasium at 10 a.m. Monday.

"God and Chaos" will be the topic of the baccalaureate address by Father Francis E. Corkery, president of Gonzaga university at Spokane. Preceding the speaker, an academic procession will begin at 10:45 at the Administration building.

On Monday, May 31, at 10 a.m., President Gordon Sproul, LL.D., University of California, Berkeley, will speak on "Opportunities—Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow", following a procession at 9:45 from the Ad building.

"The general public is welcome to attend the baccalaureate services or commencement exercises at the University of Idaho", President J. E. Buchanan stressed today.

Alumni day, which is scheduled for Saturday, May 29, will begin with a luncheon and annual Association Business meeting at the Hotel Moscow at noon. A "Blind Bogey" golf tournament will take place at 2 p.m. at the university golf course.

At 6:15 an alumni dinner will be held at the Grange hall. Approximately 250 guests are expected to attend, among whom will be three members from the class of 1898.

Ignored guests will be the Board of Regents, members of the coaching staff, ASUI and AWS presidents and the Argonaut editor. Invitations have been sent to Gov. and Mrs. Robins and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Whitehead.

Band Concert Sunday
A luncheon for the Board of Regents, and official guests is slated for 12:15 at Hays' hall on Sunday, May 30. An informal university reception to the class of 1948, their parents, the Board of Regents, the faculty, alumni, and friends of the university will be held at 4 p.m. at Hays, with the

Symptoms Due to Emotions
Dr. Hodgson said the initial split between medicine and psychiatry is being mended rapidly as advances in both branches show an increased number of physical symptoms due to emotional disturbances.

Dean T. S. Kerr spoke on the university's high standards as judged by his recent tour of western colleges. Mrs. Earl David, former English instructor at the university gave a vivid reminiscence of university life 20 years ago.

Arg Editors Finish Year's Work

LETTERS TO JASON

Dear Jason:
 I feel that a great mistake was recently made by the university publications board in naming Newt Cutler as the editor for next year. Why didn't they consider the real journalistic talent on the Idaho campus.
 No, he's not a Greek or an Independent. He doesn't even attend classes. Nope, I don't mean Fearless Fosdick, the campus gendarme.
 I mean none other than that eminent journalistic philosopher—LEO SEREN—the physicist that is! Looking through my files of old Args, I find that he has authored seven journalistic gems since his arrival on this pine-studded campus last February.
 Yes, fellow students, rise and put the right man in the editor's post.
 I nominate his "two-year liberal artistry" Leo Seren!
 Yours truly,
 J. F. Spoorhase

Dear Jason:
 I believe that it might be well to clarify the story in the issue of May 21 of the Argonaut concerning scholarship ratings. This story has given the wrong impression in that it reads that the L.D.S. group is not first in scholarship rating because they do not maintain common dining facilities. This is correct only in the application of scholarship averages for awarding of the scholarship cups.
 The L.D.S. group ranks first in the university scholarship list as far as group scholarship is concerned and the Phi Gamma Delta group ranks second.
 In the awarding of the cups, common dining facilities is considered. I believe a re-statement of the story would be of benefit to the university and all of the groups concerned, since there has been so much discussion on scholarship so far this year.
 Thank you,
 D. D. DuSault,
 Registrar.

Dear Jason:
 "Phi Gamma Delta has been named first among men's living groups in scholarship rating for the first semester in place of the L.D.S. House as previously announced." What has suddenly transpired to make a grade average of 2.60 higher than 2.70? We wish to remind everyone that Phi Gamma Delta does not, repeat not, surpass the L.D.S. House in scholarship rating.
 We congratulate the Fiji's for winning the Scholarship Cup. However, we do not feel they are justified in claiming first place for "scholarship" among men's living groups.
 First Come First Served
 Our house has frequently been accused of picking members on the basis of their scholastic ability. Nothing could be further from the truth. The Institute Director admits men strictly on a first foot ten-inch senior majoring in Zoology.

 She started her higher education at McGill college in Montreal and also attended Vassar before coming to the University of Idaho. Active on one board or another all through her college career, she has been a member of the activities board and held a seat on the disciplinary board.
 This year, Miss Ingraham has represented Idaho as a member of the Pacific Northwest College Congress board of directors. As secretary for the group, she traveled to campuses all over the Northwest, helping to carry on the work of the organization.

 Holding a four-point grade average for the last two semesters, Miss Ingraham finished her work for the bachelor's degree at the end of last semester. Since that time she has been working on her master's. She is planning to travel to New York during the summer for work with UNESCO.

Well Done - Idaho!

Favorable comments are all that have been heard on the campus concerning the Senior Ball, co-sponsored by the ASUI, featuring Charlie Spivak and his orchestra.
 Some of the few unlucky students that did not attend have missed one of the biggest dances ever given at the U of I, and are not at all hesitant in admitting the fact.
 After the small attendance at Blue Key's dance last year, which featured Pinky Tomlin's orchestra, many expressed fear at coming anywhere near meeting expenses for another name band. It was said that the ASUI would be footing another large bill. This did not happen.
 According to latest word from General Manager Gale Mix, the loss on the dance will only be around $60.
 After the huge success, with thanks to the Senior Class and the ASUI for a swell dance, we can look to the future for having more name bands appearing on the campus and making a more brilliant social calendar. —B.H.

Fish For Sale!

There are a lot of possibilities for an editorial for this final issue. We might write a "Thank you" to Walt Smith, about finals, the Oregon primary, the dandelions in the Ad lawn, or the effects of psudotsuga taxifolia on the price of beans in Afghanistan.
 But all those subjects require research or thought, and nobody is very interested in either this late in the year. Everybody is looking forward to vacation.
 A great deal of the anticipation is being done by fishermen. For most of the winter they have been thinking of some favorite pool where the water spills over a red rock and under a big log into a fast ripple.
 The fever starts early in the year when new calendars showing fishing scenes are distributed. It mounts steadily through February and March. In May it is usually relieved a little by visits to nearby streams, but rains have prevented it this year. Nobody has done much steelhead fishing, so the fever has continued to mount.
 Now the followers of Isaac Walton are ready for vacation. They are hoping for a "giant" to sail out from under that log or for a "grand-daddy" bass to hit the new plug.
 Whatever they are hoping for, they will be satisfied with a few perch caught from a small slough. The non-fishers class fishing as a disease, but anyone who has ever seen a fish breaking water in the first light of morning is convinced that it is a way of life. —H.R.

Idaho Adds Eleven Females To Role Of Campus Royalty

Not long ago a prominent faculty member remarked: "When Little Orphan Annie from Podunk comes to this university, she can't settle down to study until she has been crowned queen at least once."
 If Orphan Annie did enroll at Idaho she would have a good chance of collecting at least one title—they ranged this year from Homecoming Queen to "Miss Lips of 1948."

Living Groups Pick
 Four men's living groups picked individual beauties to reign at their annual dances. Women honored were Pat Nelson, Alpha Phi, chosen "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," Shirley Perrigo, Idaho Club, selected "SAE Freshman Queen," Beverly Gordon, Delta Gamma, picked "ATO Esquire Girl," and Mary Jones, Forney hall, who garnered the Campus Club title of "Miss Lips."
 Jo Anne Elam, Gamma Phi Beta, was chosen "Spur of the Moment" by the IKs during the Ski Dance held last December. This school year's Sophomore Holly Queen was Gladys Taufen, Alpha Phi.
 Reigning as May Queen at the May Day festivities was Donna Chapman, Ridenbaugh hall. Miss Chapman was selected by the AWS at the annual election.

Selection of three other queens brought the year's total up to eleven. Ruth Sandmeyer was crowned Queen of the Little International Livestock Show; Daryl Canfield, Delta Gamma, was chosen LDS Sweetheart, and Jo Ann Horton, Delta Gamma, became 1948 1-club queen.

George Edgar Vaughn, British consul at Seattle, spoke at ISC last week on "Postwar Britain and the Empire." The address was scheduled primarily for history students and members of the IRC club.
 On Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. a flower show will be held at the botany department in Science hall; an exhibition will be held in the department of art and architecture in the art building; and a library exhibit will be held in the Ad building.

1947-48 Closes With Spivak At Senior Ball

Phil Schnell, above, was named Editor of the 1948-49 Gem by the publications board recently. Schnell headed the photo-mounting staff in 1947, and was associate editor this year.

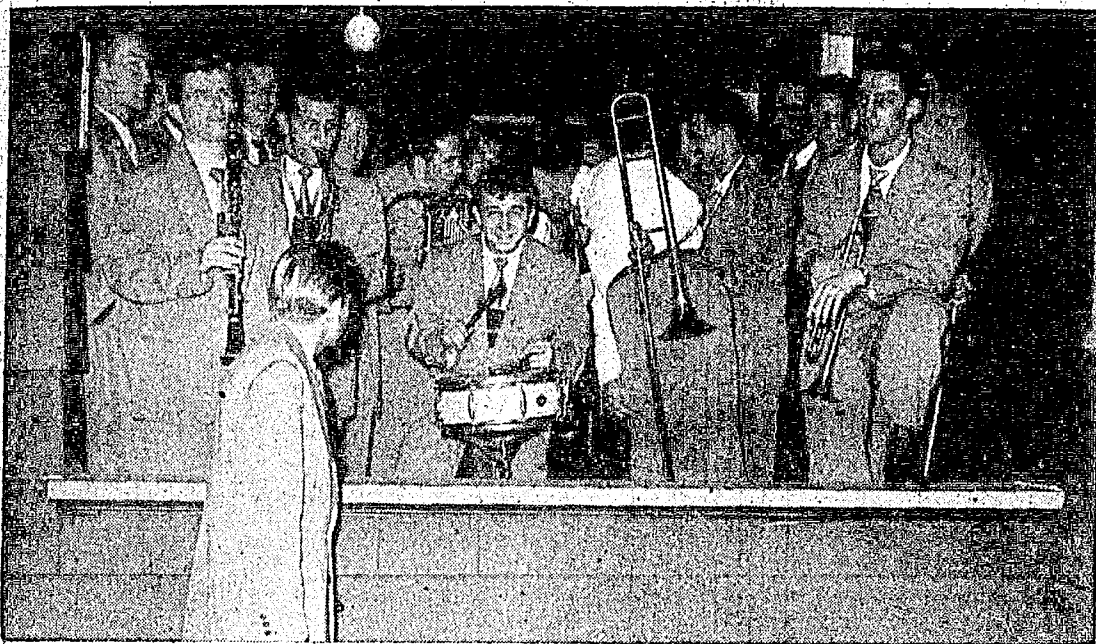

Above are shown some of the more reliable Arg workers. These are the people that have made possible the publication of your paper. Editorial staff members have scouted out the news, written it up, and edited it. The circulation staff has delivered the news sheets over the campus and to living groups. Over 200 copies have been mailed out each publication day. The advertising staff has reported for work each Wednesday and Friday afternoon to harass local merchants for Argonaut advertisements. Each day of the week finds students working to put out your campus newspaper.

One of the impressive spectacles of Springtime at Idaho is the annual May Fete. Inclement weather on Saturday, May 8, moved the festival into Memorial gymnasium this year, but events proceeded according to schedule. Above, Donna Chapman, May Queen, is shown occupying her throne. Donald Scheid and Edward Whitehead, train-bearers, are on the left. Helen Rice, Maid of Honor is next. On the right is Page Wilma Hodge. In front of Miss Hodge are the flower girls, Sharon Dobler and Harriet Hosack. Miss Chapman wore a crown of white sweetpeas and red rose buds.

Herb Carlson, twice national intercollegiate boxing champion, is shown above. Carlson, who fights at 160 pounds, is a strong contender for the U. S. Olympic team. Tryouts are this summer.

Bobby Rickey, Charlie Spivak's sensational drummer, was featured above when the band serenaded the Gamma Phis from the front porch of the TKE house late Saturday night. The TKEs were host to most of the band at a jam session which lasted far into the night. Band members played "hot" music and gave comedy skits for an enthusiastic audience. Spivak and his band were also guests of the ATOs for Sunday dinner and a picnic. The ATO softball team was beaten by the Spivak "Blowhards" with a score of 47 to 48. A musical jam session was held at the ATO house Sunday night. Guests from all over the campus were present.

Ted Cady (left), program director of KUOI, is shown accepting a Schaeffer desk set awarded to him by the station staff in appreciation of outstanding services during the past two years. Cady served as station manager during 1946 and through the first semester of 1947, and as program director for the past semester. The presentation was made by Harry T. Howard, station manager, at the final meeting of the KUOI staff last Thursday.

Queen Contests, Sports, Climax Year's Activities

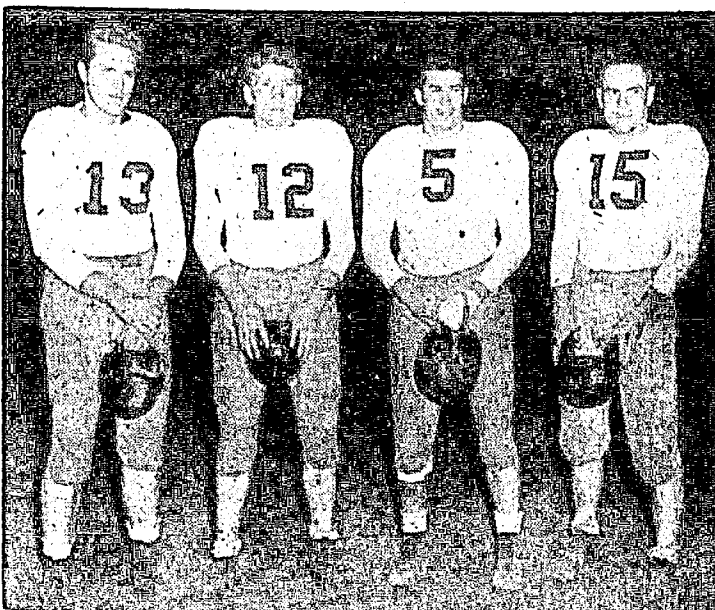

Homecoming 1947 constituted Idaho's first big event of the year. Late in September men's living groups nominated the 19 coeds shown above as Homecoming Queen candidates. From the group the football team selected Lois Winner, Kappa Kappa Gamma, to reign over the weekend. Miss Winner is standing on the extreme left. Approximately 22,500 people packed Neale stadium to watch WSC defeat Idaho 7-0 on Saturday, October 4. Hays hall and Delta Tau Delta won first-place trophies for house decorations during the weekend. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Tau Delta were declared winners in the parade float contest.

Ruth Sandmeyer, Kappa Alpha Theta, was chosen Queen of the Little International on Friday, April 23, as the Ag club and college of agriculture went "all out" to provide a memorable weekend. Miss Sandmeyer (second row, extreme right) was selected from the candidates above. The Queen reigned over the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund dance, the Ag college parade, and the Little International Stock show.

Pat Nelson, Alpha Phi, was chosen Sweetheart of Sigma Chi early in the month of December from the above pictured 24 women. The contestants, two from each house, were picked by the women in the various living groups. One of the outstanding queen contests of the year, the women were taken to breakfasts, luncheons, and firesides, and the queen, picked from six finalists, was crowned at the Sigma Chi "Sweetheart Ball" on December 6. Miss Nelson is third from the right in the second row. During the week following the Sigma Chi ball, the contestants for the Sophomore Holly Week queen were chosen. Gladys Taufen, another Alpha Phi, was picked as Holly Queen.

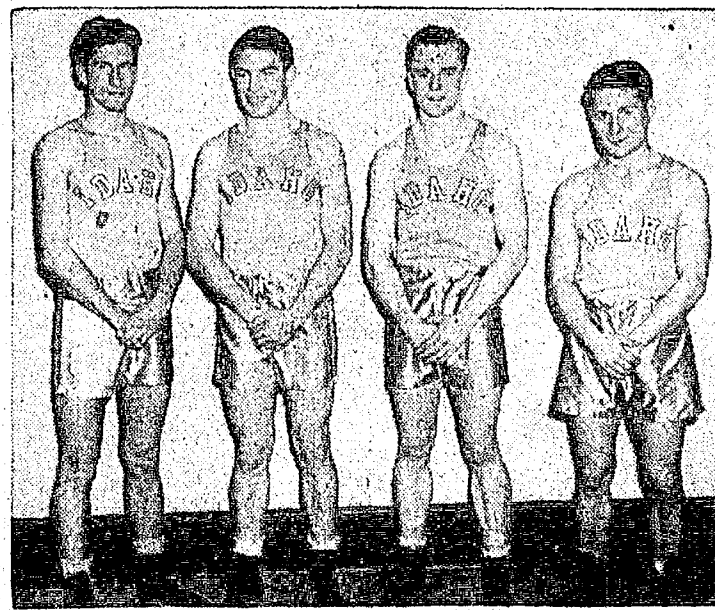

The Idaho Vandal football team was led into action by each of these gridsters on different occasions last fall. Left to right are: Ralph Paasch, center; Bill Beltz, fullback; Jack Dana, guard; and Billy Williams, halfback. That their generalship was successful is shown by the record which the revitalized Vandals built up last season—four wins and four defeats. The wins included upsets over Stanford and Utah.

One of the outstanding events of the year, Junior Week consisted of campaigning for past presidents, speech making, and rallies with all living groups turning out in full force. Pictured above are five tramps, campaigning for Calvin Coolidge, at a tea given in honor of Zachary Taylor. Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Kappa Gamma won the trophies for the men's and women's groups having the most outstanding participation in the campaign.

Each year the university dramatic department puts on four ASUI play productions. The above scene is taken from the political comedy, "State of the Union," produced in the university auditorium on April 15, 16 and 17. In the production, Bob Miller plays the part of a candidate for the U. S. presidency and Pat Barnes takes the role of his wife. The scene, cut by many schools, was given in its entirety.

Experienced Shoemaker Aids Dixie In Kamloops Battle

By JOHN MARTIN
Kamloops in Pend Oreille lake had best beware. The north Idaho fishing enthusiasts were not aware of the deep water they were stirring, when they proposed a fishing duel between Idaho's head football coach Dixie Howell and Phil Sorboe, Washington State grid mentor.

Upon hearing of the proposed duel, Vandal end coach, Perron Shoemaker stepped into the scene. Perron is an experienced Kamloops fisherman, having caught one of the famed trout last year. To prove that he is not telling an Isaac Walton fable, the Idaho end mentor has a picture of himself holding the 20-pounder he hooked at Pend Oreille.

Picture Proof
Anyone who has wandered into the Idaho coaches' office and innocently started talking of Kamloops has witnessed the following scene: As the visitor reached his pitch, Shoemaker glances at the picture above his desk as if to say, "Where is your proof, brother?"

When plans were made to stage the meet between the state line rival grid coaches, Shoemaker became a self appointed champion for the Idaho cause. He suggested in his modest way that if Howell expected to have a chance, Howell would need an expert in the boat with him. Shoemaker even suggested that he take over. This conflict on the Idaho bench was ironed out when it was suggested that Sorboe select one of his assistants and Howell pair up with Shoemaker for the boating foray.

All for Idaho
"I have already qualified myself as an expert," said Shoemaker. "These other guys are amateurs in every sense of the word. Under ordinary circumstances, I could demand that they qualify themselves before I would consent to such an arrangement. But this is no ordinary thing. I will submerge my own feelings for the good of Idaho. You can't blame me for feeling a little as though O' Dix was getting on unfamiliar waters. I'll see it through."

When the differences were being ironed out for the fishing duel, Dixie maintained that he was no smaller timer in the sport himself. Howell told of several big fish he caught in Florida's deep sea areas. Perron gazes at his picture and asks for evidence. Silence.

"How do I know he can fish?" says Shoemaker. "I can't even spell the names of the fish he claims to have caught. Now don't get me wrong on this thing. Me and O' Dix will work together as a team in this fish thing, but I just want it understood as to who is the fisherman and who is the boy going for the boat side."

Bailey to Scare Fish
So far Coach Sorboe hasn't named his partner, although he did say he hoped he could station Buck Bailey, baseball coach, as an observer in the Idaho boat. Whether this is distrust or sabotage, Sorboe has hastened to deny. He just wanted Bailey to scare away prospective Kamloops from Idaho lures.

However, Shoemaker is not too worried by the WSC plans. He answered, "Shucks them folks at Pullman better go into training. Bailey couldn't bother an expert fisherman like myself."

Farmer To Head Swimming Group

Jim Farmer was elected president of Hell Divers at the last meeting of the year held Monday. Out-going President, Jan Garber, state that other officer posts will be filled next year.

Ann Dingle and Irene Meeks were selected to attend an aquatic school at Camp Swayolakan on Lake Coeur d'Alene this summer. George Vajda was chosen as alternate.

The pair will take charge of Hell Diver demonstrations and the life-saving program next year.

Last WAA Meeting To Be Held Tonight

The meeting pertains to the WAA program next fall.

Quizzing System For Physicists Revolutionary

(ACP)—One U.S. college has found the answer to a question that has been in the thoughts of college students since time immemorial. Texas Christian University has started an experiment which could result in a revolution against traditional university examination procedures.

The idea came from Dr. Newton Gaines discovering that physics students do just as much thinking, and disclose about as much knowledge in devising a first-class exam as in taking one.

"Most of my tests are coded multiple choice," says Dr. Gaines. "When a student doesn't know the answer to one of my questions, I give him the privilege of omitting it if he can write a better or at least as good a question in its stead."

"This method may be unusual, but it requires a comprehensive knowledge of the subject plus ingenuity and application on the part of the student.

"The good students like the new system," Gaines reports. "The poor students like nothing about examinations, no matter what the system."

Former Diplomat To Teach At Summer School

Dr. Leon Hubbard Ellis, world traveler and former member of the U.S. diplomatic service, will be back in familiar surroundings when he comes to the University of Idaho to teach at the Summer School, opening June 10.

Dr. Ellis, who spent his early boyhood at Colfax, Wash., was graduated from South Central high school at Spokane in 1910. His college degrees were received from Stanford and the University of Washington. Now a professor of political science at Duke university in North Carolina, he is coming to Idaho for the summer to teach courses in "World Politics", "International Law," and to conduct a seminar in "Problems of Peace."

With a diplomatic background of many years' service in the Far East, Europe and Latin America, Dr. Ellis is an authority on Oriental culture and politics. After practicing law in Spokane, he accepted an appointment in the Chinese Maritime Customs Service and served in Mukden and Canton. He resigned to spend three years traveling as market assistant for a major American oil company. In 1920, he spent a year of travel around the world, visiting most of the countries of Asia and Europe.

Joining the U. S. diplomatic service, he was stationed in Guatemala, San Salvador, Switzerland, Hungary, Costa Rica and China. Since 1933, he has been a college professor and lecturer.

Here's More About JASON

Meantime the Argonaut entered his life when he was appointed publicity chairman for Homecoming last year under Bert Sorenson. Close contact with Arg staff members during the publicity period whetted his journalistic fervor at the same time sine curves were jimmieing his enthusiasm for engineering.

And so the Journalism department received a new student. In rapid succession Newt became Managing editor of Blot magazine, editor of the ASUI handbook, and feature editor of the Arg.

Later he moved up to the key position of news editor. The publications board named Newt editor this month.

Knows People

Cutler has gained more friends in his two and a half years at Idaho than most aspiring ASUI presidents manage to gather. Living for a few hours each night at Willis Sweet, Cutler is as well known by Greek students as by Independents.

Calling Pasco, Washington, his home now, Newt had previously nalled from Libby, Montana. Next year he will probably call the Argonaut office his home.

To the 1948-49 editor of the Argonaut, Jason wishes the best of everything. Good luck.

And now that Jason is turning the office Underwood, the door keys, the headaches, and the pleasures of the editor's position over to a new Jason, he also wishes the University of Idaho, its students, and its faculty the best of luck.

Committee Presents Spivak And Senior Ball Saturday

The committee pictured above is responsible for the Senior Ball held Saturday night in Memorial gymnasium. Charlie Spivak and his band furnished the music. Seated around the able are Jane Griffin, Senior Week chairman; John Grimmer, Eileen Brewster, Nola Whybark, Vivian McLaughlin, and Betty Kimes. In the rear are Pat Dobberlein, Paula Renard, Shirley Oakley, Jean Kettenbach, Ted Cady, and Olive Ritchey.

Praise, Slams And Advice, Students' Opinions Of Arg

By Jack Taylor

At the end of a year of putting the campus newspaper together, it seems a good time to stop and take stock of what has been accomplished, and of how the people who the paper is written for, feel about the efforts of the Arg staff.

"The question in our minds now is:

What criticisms do the student have of the Argonaut?"

Roger Hungerford, Fiji: "What ever happened to this student's instructor rating idea. Why doesn't the Arg investigate it, and similar projects. There should be more news of local interest, not national, although a student news analysis might not be a bad idea."

Bob Parrotte, Pine: "It could use more 'gossip' columns, and better jokes. Cartoons that depict campus life would liveen it up a great deal, and add a great deal of interest."

Betty Wood, Tri Delt: "They've done a marvelous job. I think there should be more news that is of personal interest to the students; gossip and cartoons and jokes about student life, that is really true to life."

Keith Adams, Lindley: "The Jason column should take a more controversial position, deal more with campus affairs (not the petting ones—leave the Econ professors alone). It should stimulate student interest in such things as the A.S.U.I. constitution, Homecoming, because the Arg can magnify the importance of any campus activity or though. The policy of printing student opinions is very good."

Gene Kelly, Phi Delt: "Should have more national and international news. Now it's strictly Idaho stuff. Maybe they could get AP or some other news service or publish commentators columns."

Lorene Millsay, Ridenbaugh: "It's a pretty good paper—for a college paper. It could use more news about different activities of the individual groups on the campus."

Dave Litzberger, ATO: "They cater to some houses more than they do others, in their social and other news. They should have more news and commentary on current events and world problems."

Norm Tilley, Sweet: "It could stand more feature stories like "Mission to Moscow," and either a syndicated cartoon service or cartoons by local talent. Local cartoons strike closer to home."

Chuck Schiferl, Sigma Chi: "It's a good paper in general, but it gets too serious. Other college papers have more life and imagination."

Mission To Moscow

By RUSSKI

Odessa being just a little too far to go during the summer, I decided last week to search for summertime employment in Idaho. One of the deans was kind enough to help me with my problem.

"Several job opportunities are open for bright, industrious young students like yourself," he said. "For instance, you might join the special work-crew which will stop the Shenanigans the Seven Devils are sure to cause during July and August, or you might leave for South Idaho and help the craters crate up the moon."

"Both jobs pay well," he added. Sounds Like Work

"Ummm," replied, "that sounds like hard work. A friend of mine named Ventino Yuochenko is going to hatch boobies down at the Orofino Hatchery—some job like that would be more along my line."

The dean dipped a little snuff and looked at me broadside. "You're lazy, kid," he stated. "I didn't create any moons when I was young but I'll have you know that my old man had me create a lot of moonshine back in the 'twenties."

I could see that his temper was rising and I knew that the only thing to do was to ask him about other available jobs. He handed me a list which read:

- Oarsman, Bonners Ferry, $12.50 (mo.)
- Life-Saving Crew, American Falls, $45.
- File Sharpener, Sawtooth Mts., $18.75.
- Tom-Tom Beater, Council, $51.
- Socket Adjuster, Plummer, $40.

Also included on the last were a number of unions which employees were expected to join. They included the Musicians' Union at Viola, the Riflemakers' Union at Winchester, and a utensil-

Pamphlets Tell How To Grab Easy Credits This Summer

By HOWARD REINHARDT
"Explore Rugged Idaho while attending the University of Idaho summer school," advises the summer school bulletin of the university.

Other schools throughout the Northwest are using similar—and sometimes different—advertising to attract summer school students.

Before the war, summer schools offered courses designed for teachers working for advanced degrees. During the war, summer school helped students finish school—or at least get started—before they got drafted.

Since the war, summer school has become a big business with a lot of big business advertising methods.

Summer Brighter Than Winter
Summer school bulletins covers are usually much brighter than their winter counterparts—ranging from the University of Utah's bright red to WSC's turquoise and lavender.

The University of Oregon's bulletin shows a man and woman—obviously college students—standing barefooted on an ocean beach. Montana State college's publication pictures a small lake sheltered by snow-covered peaks.

Janitors' Classes, Too
All the schools are offering special trips and conferences. WSC offers a janitors' conference, a cooks' institute and a botany field trip; University of Montana is offering field study at Flathead lake;

Railway Express To Ease Shipping
The shipment of suitcases and trunks by Railway Express will be easier this year, the company said yesterday, in promising that a special representative will be on the campus after May 27 to reduce confusion.

Students are requested to ship their personal belongings as early as possible to avoid congestion.

In preparing trunks or suitcases for shipment, Railway Express suggests that all old tags be removed, that two new tags be placed on each article, and that tags show shipper's name as well as the home address and valuation.

The company suggested also, that as an added precaution, the address should be placed inside the baggage.

Free pickup service is offered by Railway Express.

GIs On Part-Time Basis Can Qualify For Increased Pay

Veterans attending school on a part-time basis, are now eligible for the benefits of increased allowance now allowed fulltime students by Public Law 411.

A new law, Public Law 512, revises rates, ceilings and allowances for dependents. Benefits are retroactive to April 1, 1948.

Increases in subsistence extend also to veterans combining school and job training, on a basis of the percentage of a full time course of institutional training that the veteran's school work represents. None will be paid for school training less than 25 per cent of full-time study.

Income Ceiling Also Raised
Earned income plus subsistence shall not exceed $210 a month for a veteran without dependents, $270 for a veteran with one dependent and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Another provision states that only wages for the standard work week, exclusive of overtime pay, will be considered earned income in computing subsistence.

The VA has urged that veterans do not write or contact VA offices for information on the increases, as explanation of the new law will be sent each veteran in training, with the May subsistence check.

First adjustments that possibly can be made will be in the June subsistence allowances payable on or shortly after July 1. It is more likely that most of the initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July checks are sent out about August 1, and will include retroactive pay at the adjusted rate, as of April 1, 1948.

Kappa Sigma Track Team Wins Intra-Squad Meet

Records Smashed In Seven Events

The Kappa Sigma cinder squad garnered 93 points and top spot in the intra-mural track meet on MacLean field yesterday, bringing to an end one of the most successful years in the history of the University of Idaho intra-mural program. Second place in the event went to the Delta Chis with 159 points.

Records were a dime a dozen, seven falling by the wayside. Probably the most outstanding performance was turned in by Glen Christian of the TKE team. He broke the 100-yard dash record formerly held by Smith of LH by clipping one-tenth of a second off the mark. He stepped the distance in 10 seconds flat. Christian also breezed to a first in the 50-yard dash in 5.5 and ran anchor on the TKE relay team which broke the old relay record of 1:39.3 se. last year by the Sigma Nus. The new time was 1:38.8 but it didn't stand long. The Kappa Sigs broke it in the finals with the new official record time of 1:38.7.

Muddy Track

The Delta Chi's Keith Bean clipped a full second off the high hurdle record, running it in 15.8. Another outstanding performance was turned in by Johnson, SAE, who broke two intramural records. He won the 1320-yard run in the record-breaking time of 3:30.5, and also ran the 660-yard run in the new record time of 1:25.6.

The 220-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles records were not placed jeopardy due to the muddy condition of the track which caused both events to be shortened 20 yards.

In the field events, two more records were broken. Jaussi of Trailer Village broke the discus record, heaving the platter 115 feet 8 inches. The high jump record was beaten badly by Pollard, KS, who jumped 5 feet 11 inches.

ATOs Win Plaque

One fact which impressed most people, especially the track coach, was the outstanding performances of the contestants, most of them freshmen.

The ATOs captures the yearly intramural plaque for the most outstanding performance in intramural sports, piling up a total of 1373 points. The Sigma Nus were second with 1313 points. A total of 1366 students participated in the intramural program on the University of Idaho campus during this last school year.

Washington Snags Division Golf Title

The University of Washington golf team captured the Pacific Coast northern division title Saturday, with a score of 585 in 36 holes of medly play at the Eugene Country club, Eugene, Oregon.

The University of Oregon team, defending champions, and the only other team in the running, was second with 594. Oregon's Lou Stafford fired a 140, four under par, for the 36 hole course to take individual honors. Washington's Jim Mallory was the runner up with a two-under-par 142.

Idaho's four man team took fifth place in the tournament with 667. Individual scoring for the Vandals

Time Out

By Harry Howard

In one more week, another graduating class will make the long-awaited journey away from campus life. They will carry memories with them—memories of hoarse voice after basketball games—oh's and ah's after Idaho's national boxing champions stalk from their corners—yelling at the umpire—spikes flying through the mud. They will carry another memory with them too—a memory of Vandal football triumphs over teams like Stanford and Utah.

Happy Smiles

That memory will not soon be forgotten. In a few short months, Idaho's grads will crowd around radios to hear Dixie's "new" Vandals battle Oregon State, Utah and UCLA. By the thousands they'll stream into Neale stadium to watch the Idahoans lock horns with Oregon and Montana. Then will come the big day when the Vandals meet their cross-line rivals at Pullman.

It's rather early for prognosticating, but this "time out taker" would like to predict a host of happy smiles on the faces of both the students who will be returning to the Idaho campus on the evening of October 30 and the grads who will be proud to say, "I went to Idaho."

Improving Vandals Make Battle Of Net Championships

The underdog Vandal tennis squad proved an almost insurmountable obstacle to the other teams participating in the Pacific Coast conference tennis tournament in Pullman Saturday, forcing three of the four games to go three sets and losing no set by more than two games. Idaho's Jack Rainey and Montana's Jardine played for two hours and 15 minutes before Jardine finally took the nod (4-6), (10-8), (6-4). In the other singles match, Barnes, Idaho, lost to Soth, WSC, (7-5), (8-6).

Oregon defeated both the Vandals' doubles teams in close games. In the first doubles match, Bretz and Rainey, Idaho, lost to Lesser and Bowman (6-4), (5-7), (6-4), and in the second, Barnes and Johnson, Idaho, lost to Van Zand and Carpenter (2-6), (8-6), (6-4).

Idaho has been consistently losing to the other conference teams throughout the season, and their performance in the tournament caused the participating teams coaches to name the Vandals the most improved team in the conference.

Finals Postponed

Rain forced the postponement of the finals matches and the championship is still undecided. The play off will come at some future date between the University of Washington and Oregon State college who hold all the remaining positions in the unplayed semi-final rounds. Portland has been named as the possible site.

The Vandals ended at the bottom of the conference this year, below Montana, Oregon State, Oregon, Washington State, and Washington, but Coach Kirkland is looking forward to a better season next year. He loses only Captain John Bretz by graduation this year. With the consent of the athletic department, an intra-mural tennis program will be adopted next fall to give the players experience and to choose some men for next year's squad.

was as follows: John Morley, 160; Glen Cushman, 170; Jack Keenan, 168; Chuck Menstus, 169.

Though the Oregon Ducks continued their winning ways with a 13-10 slugfest victory over the Oregon State Beavers in their conference finale, the Washington State Cougars won the northern division baseball crown and the right to meet the Southern California Trojans for the Pacific Coast championship. Buck Bailey's nine turned back the Idaho Vandals in Pullman Tuesday with an emphatic 12-0 shutout, and the season's final encounter for the two teams, slated for Wednesday at Moscow, was rained out.

Cougars Potent

The Cougar bats gave Dick Stiles plenty of backing as he pitched three-hit ball. Fifteen times the Washington Staters rapped the offerings of "Lefty" Auer for base hits. Bobby McGuire collected four hits in five trips to the plate, and Joe Whitcomb led Vandal hitters with a triple in three times at bat.

Washington State has a season record of eight wins and three losses in conference play, while the Oregon Ducks finished with 10 victories and five defeats.

The Trojans, surprise champions in the southern division, will meet the Cougars in Pullman in a best two out of three series Friday and Saturday. The power-laden California team won 13 of their first 15 league games, hitting .269, including 15 doubles, seven triples and seven home runs. Five of the Trojan batting order have been hitting over .300.

Winners to NCAA

Against this array of power, the Washington State nine will counter with some of their own. They boast four batsmen who are pounding the ball at a better than .300 clip, including Gordy Brunswick's .500 plus.

The Friday title game will start at 2:30 p. m., while the Saturday contest will get under way at 1:30. If a third game is necessary to decide the championship, a

Cougar Trackmen Division Champs; Five Records Fall

The Cougars of WSC raced off with point-scoring honors in the annual northern division Pacific Coast track and field meet held Saturday at Dornblaser Field on the University of Montana campus in Missoula.

Amassing 63 points in the runaway meet, the Cougars finished 35 points ahead of the University of Washington, their nearest rivals. Montana university made a surprisingly strong showing by finishing third with 25 1/2 points, 2 1/2 points behind the second-place Huskies.

The University of Oregon seized fourth place with 23 tallies, followed by Oregon State with 17 1/2. Idaho finished in last place with 8 points.

Records Blasted

The meet produced two new northern division records and shattered three Dornblaser Field marks, while still another of the latter were tied. Oregon's George Rasmussen soared an inch and a half over the 1939 pole vault record by leaping 14 feet 2 1/4 inches, long after the rest of the field had fallen out at 13 feet.

In the mile relay, the flashy Cougar quartet of Clem Eischen, Dick Keniston, Austin Whelihan, and Joe Nebolon wiped out a 1940 Huskie mark by breaking the tape in 3:17.2. Eischen and Dick Paeth came in in a dead heat for first place in the mile at 4:23.1 to tie a record which has stood since 1928. Nebolon raced to a new stadium record in the 440 with a time of 47.5.

Five Vandals Place

Laidlaw of Oregon State, the northern division champion in the broad-jump, leaped 24 feet 2 feet (I), 5-1; Denny (G), 5-4; Anderson (WSC), 5-4; Miller (WSC), 5-2; lost to Mead (WSC), 5-3; Martin (WSC), 5-4; Gilmore (WSC), 5-2; and Huttenbach (G), 5-3.

Dick Kloefer—defeated Gilmore (WSC), 5-2; Miller (WSC), 5-3; lost to Mead (WSC), 5-4; Bryan (I), 5-1; Denny (G), 5-0; Martin (WSC), 5-3; Anderson (WSC), 5-1; and Huttenbach (G), 5-0.

Since this is the first fencing meet which an Idaho team has engaged in since 1941 the men all lacked experience but Coach Ray Weston was well pleased with his team's performance.

Fencers Defeated In Opening Match

Three University of Idaho fencers, competing in the northwest individual foils tournament at Washington State last weekend, won nine bouts and lost 12. The match was sponsored by the Foil and Mask Intercollegiate Fencing Society. Washington State's chapter of Foil and Mask was host to the match, which also featured fencers from Gonzaga.

Idaho team members individual scoring is as follows: Walt Ward—defeated Schulz (WSC), 5-2; Lambert (G), 5-4; Jensen (WSC), 5-4; and Schesveter (WSC), 5-2; lost to Drumheller (G), 5-0; Rice (WSC), 5-4; and Saccomanno (G), 5-3.

Dennis Bryan—defeated Kloefer—doubleheader will be played on Saturday. The winning team will represent the Pacific Coast conference in the western regional NCAA playoffs at Denver.

inches, blasting the Dornblaser mark by nearly six inches.

Washington's Jack Hensey edged out Washington State in the half mile, cutting .7 seconds off the previous stadium record set by the Huskies in 1928. Hensey made the trip in 1:54.3.

Five Vandals placed in the track and field events. Dick Wilcomb was second in the javelin; Norm Farnham third in the 880-yard run; Dave Hiner fourth in the discus throw; John Taylor tied for fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles; and Max Lattig tied for second in the pole vault.
