Men's Groups To Escort Women To Rally Tonight

Making as much noise as possible, the men's living groups will converge on the women's abodes between 5 and 5:15 tonight to summon them to the rally which will assemble in front of the Kappa Sigma house. The rally invitation will consist of as much noise as possible instead of serenades as was formerly practiced.

Procedure for men's groups will be as follows: Pine, Idaho club and Campus club—Alpha Phi; Chrisman and Willis Sweet—Tri-Delt; Lindley and Delta Tau Delta—Kappa Kappa Gamma; Beta Theta pi and Phi Delta Theta—Delta Gamma; Alpha Tau Omega—Pi Beta Phi; Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi—Alpha Chi Omega; Phi Gamma Delta—Gamma Phi Beta; Phi Kappa Tau and L.D.S.—Kappa Alpha Theta; Tau Kappa Epsilon—Ridenbaugh; Kappa Sigma—Foreney; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Chi—Hays.

Roll to Be Taken
The pep band and a public address system will be stationed in front of the Kappa Sigma house where the groups meet. Rollcall of the living groups will be taken and is to be answered by a loud yelling.

A graduating member of the football team is expected to give a short talk between yells. Following the rally, everyone is requested to take their noise-makers with them.

Contests and "Weeks"
Certainly at Idaho a student puts in as much or more time on the activities of the campus than he does on his books if he takes part in the things that are offered. In the past three years Jason has probably spent twice as much time on activities (including Friday afternoon activity) as he has on school work.

Queen for a Moment
Queen contests have gone to the point where by the time a gal is a senior if she hasn't been "Queen of the Hay Stomper's Ball" she doesn't have enough credit to graduate.

Might Hold Meetings
Jason has no solution to the problem. Something might be worked out if a meeting of house presidents were held when some (Cont. on Page 2, Col. 1)

Final Plans Set For Talent Show

In readiness for tonight's Blue Key-KUOI talent show, members of the committee are shown above as they complete the final plans. Left to right are Bruce Stuecki (with cup), Bob Moulton, and Orval Hansen, chairman. The show will be put on with talent from the various houses on the campus and trophies will go to first and second place winners.

Arrangements have been completed to bring Skinny Ennis' orchestra to the Idaho campus for the sophomore Holly dance December 2. In announcing the dance plans, Bob Mays, class president, stated that the dean of women had granted late permission for women to attend this all-campus affair.

KUOI Talent Show Features Pi Phis With Music Theme
KUOI's second talent show was presented by members of Pi Beta Phi last night at 7 p. m. from the small ballroom of the Bucket. Directed by Harriet Walrath, the show was musical in content, and was presented as a record request program, "Pi Phi Platter Parade."

Queen Will Be Crowned
The assembly will be held in the auditorium as has been customary in the past. Date for the serenade and the assembly have not been set as yet, but both will be climaxed by the crowning of the Holly queen at the dance Thursday night.

ASME TO MEET
A film entitled "Welding Aluminum" will be shown Monday evening at Engineering 104 for all members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The meeting will start at 7 p. m. Gem pictures for the organization will be taken at that time and all members are requested to be present.

Ag Vet Students Hear Federal Man
Dr. T. R. Myers, Coeur d'Alene representative of the US bureau of animal industries, lectured to pre-veterinary orientation students last Tuesday explaining the work of the bureau in Idaho.

Plans Are Complete For Mixer Tonight

Coming University Production Will Feature Original Settings
"Family Portrait," drama of the family life of Jesus Christ, slated for production December 2 and 3, is the first show, in the experience of Miss Jean Collette, director, worthy of revival.

Former Students Played
In reviewing the original cast, many names will be familiar to persons who saw the first production. Lucille Marshall appeared as Mary, Mary Cleophas was played by Mary Lou Sherman, Bud Hagen was cast as Daniel, Gayle Manion portrayed Judas, and Jake Harshbarger was Appius Hadrian.

TIP FOR VETS
A large number of veterans in schools and colleges are not receiving their subsistence allowance regularly because of their failure to identify themselves properly when corresponding with VA.

It Was Mike's Game

On a cold November night back in 1944 we met Mike Ryan. He asked to see two of his cross-country runners. He told them that they could never be runners if they cut practices and at 10 o'clock that night the two men ran two miles.

That was one of the ways that Mike Ryan, Idaho track and field coach for nearly a decade, built great cross-country teams.

In the six years preceding 1943, Idaho won the Pacific coast cross-country championship. In 1943 an entirely new team won six meets and placed second in the coast meet. In 1944 and 1945, using mostly freshmen, Mike Ryan turned out winning teams. Both placed second in the Pacific coast meets.

Working from the premise that all track men must be in condition and that cross-country is the best possible conditioner, Ryan demanded that his track men—not only distance men, but sprinters and weight men—go out for cross-country.

Soon other schools of the northwest followed suit. Pressure from Mike got the Spokane athletic round table to sponsor the Pacific coast meets with between 10 and 15 teams competing at Spokane.

He built his squad up with hard work and love of cross-country. He followed the records of high school runners all over the nation. More than once he wrote to high school seniors telling them that he would make them national champions if they came to Idaho. And he did.

He insisted that his men run twelve miles a day. If they didn't do six miles in the morning and six more in the afternoon, Mike knew about it and Mike found out why.

He insisted that they never run alone. Cross-country, after all, is a team sport, and ability to keep together as a team is one of the most important factors in victory (the total score of the first five men from each team determines the winner of a cross-country meet.)

They were well-trained—so well-trained, in fact, that instead of celebrating with a beer bust they finished the season with a terrific Pepsi-Cola bust. They looked forward to it all season.

Before each race, Mike called his men together and told them just exactly what each man must do. Each was assigned a specific position to finish and they ran as a team.

That was cross-country in the days of Mike Ryan. In 1946, Mike left and with him went cross-country. A young coach came to Idaho to step into the shoes vacated by the man recognized as the dean of cross-country. He could very easily have taken over Mike's place as the force behind cross-country in the Northwest. However, the new coach was a sprint man—and a very good sprint man.

He didn't wake anyone at 10 o'clock to work out; he didn't insist that his runners turn out together. That year Idaho again finished second in the Pacific coast meet. The meet was held in Seattle because there was no one to put the pressure on the athletic round table.

Last year Idaho beat WSC in the first meet, and then later in the season was beaten badly by the WSC harriers. There was no coast meet that year because cross-country had lost Mike Ryan.

Wednesday, Idaho was beaten by WSC by a perfect score. WSC's first four men joined hands and crossed the finish line together.

Idaho cross-country—only a few years ago her top sport and a source of comment all over the country—is very nearly a thing of the past. Runners do not receive credit toward athletic awards, old trophies are gathering dust in the gym basement, the team spirit is gone and Mike is gone. The new coach is a sprint man. —H.R.

Here's More About JASON

thing like the KUOI talent shows, or the Spur-IX boxing tourney, or the Blue Key-KUOI show came up and a vote taken as to whether they wished to carry it out. If queen contests were cut to a minimum a woman might feel slightly honored by the fact she had won the title instead of feeling that she was merely another in the year's campus beauties.

Just Perhaps
Perhaps one of these fair Moscow days someone will come up with a brilliant answer to the whole problem. Perhaps then Idaho will be noted for an educational school as well as merely a "good time" resort.

Good Neighbor Policy
Back to the facts and fun of the past. In recent edition of the local Elks magazine, "The Two Forty Niner," an item stated that WSC and Idaho had had more friendly relations this year than ever before. Quote, "as a token of their esteemed friendship, WSC even allowed several U of I students to broadcast over their radio station KWSC on the Friday morning before the game."

In the recent national election there were nine minor parties entered besides the Republican and Democratic parties.

Harriers Begin Cross-Country Race

Vandal and Cougar runners get off to a chilly start on the snowy, wind-swept Idaho cross-country course in the meet between Idaho and WSC last Wednesday. Four Cougars had it all to themselves as they crossed the finish-line together, clinching the meet for WSC. The ASUI golf club-house appears in the background. The two schools are scheduled to meet again on November 19, on the Washington State course in Pullman.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:

In the first issue of the Argonaut President Buchanan made use of his greeting message to point out that the level of prices, even then above those that necessitated the controversial board increase of last year, were making it increasingly difficult for the university dormitory system to keep its costs even with its income. Rumors received from reliable sources of operating losses in most of the halls' cafes have since reached the Caucus.

To Aid

The Caucus would like to take this opportunity to point out that the students have a vital interest in this situation. If prices should continue their inflationary rise (as seems very possible) and another board increase is foreseen, the Caucus would appreciate notice in advance, in order that the students may have an opportunity to help do something about the situation, in the way of reducing costs.

Increase Unjustified

We believe we have a good basis on which to start, with the recommendations made last year, many of which the administration has endeavored, to carry out. But we feel strongly that another board increase cannot be justified on the grounds of higher prices, until all the possibilities have been exhausted in the direction of lower costs.

About Four Hundred Families Housed In University Units

A total of 395 families of Idaho's married veterans and faculty members are housed in the four university operated housing units—North Main village, West 6th village, trailer village, and pre-fabricated houses east of Pine hall.

The North Main village, West 6th village, and trailer units are part of the emergency housing aid given the university by the federal government under the Lanham act. This act provides for the use and transfer of housing units from war centers where they are no longer needed to other areas where large numbers of veterans are located.

Act Transfers Property
The recent McGregor act has transferred all interests of the federal government in the units to the university which will maintain its original purpose of supplying housing for veteran students.

The trailer village still has a few vacancies, and requests for housing in this unit can be filled. Apartment units have few vacancies.

Rent for the units vary according to size and type of accommodations in accordance with federal requirements. If a veteran's net aggregate income is below a specified amount, with the size of family considered, the rental is lowered proportionally.

Keeping Abreast Is Difficult For British Columbia Student

By DON CUNLIFFE

Editor's note: This story was filched from a recent issue of the Alberta Gateway which in turn filched it from The Daily Ubysses. With the headline, "Low Neckline Bothers Student," our attention was immediately riveted to it and—well, read it for yourself.

The day may come when I shall no longer find myself blushing to the tips of my toes when confronted with one of those "now-low-can-you-get-this-thing" Christian Dior necklines. If it ever does come it will probably be the same day that I discover a quick "gin-mills" my thoughts idly contemplate the cares of the world. My conversation is its usual brilliant self. Then, as I sit there, sipping my ginger ale, my mind slowly becomes aware of my partner or, more specifically, Modern Pointed, size 36. I lose my train of thought. What was once a gay and scintillating conversation becomes a hackneyed and erratic series of grunts, groans, stammers, and blushes.

Now this sort of thing has got to stop. Modern Pointed, size 36, has become a psychological and physiological hazard to a sane and settled life.

Just what these women hope to accomplish by all their designing I can't say. But some of the results are already self-evident. The divorce rate is far too high. The international situation is growing more and more tense by the day. (This is no doubt caused by what happens at night). The sale of alcoholic, stimulant is increasing by leaps and bounds.

Look at it this way. Virtually every time I go to one of the local supper clubs (I believe your editor-in-chief refers to them as I have been downright appreciative.

Vandal's Thane Johnson, John Allyson, Warren Johansen, and Don Harper followed closely behind the winners in that order. Johnson's time was 17 minutes and 28 seconds. Carey of W. S. C. was eleventh; while Idaho's Al Denman placed twelfth. Denman has been a regular on the squad for the past three years.

The two teams will meet each other again in Pullman November 19.

WAA To Sponsor Numerous Sports Second 9 Weeks

"Volleyball, badminton, archery, and swimming will make up the WAA program for the second nine-weeks," president Pete Grant said yesterday.

Women from all living groups are invited to take part in the volleyball practices which will be held in the women's gym from 4 to 5:30 on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons. General practices, open to all women, are planned for the first two weeks. If there is a sufficient turn-out, houses will then be assigned specific times to practice as a group in preparation for the house tournament. "A class tournament will also be held," said Miss Grant.

Archery Planned

Under the direction of Miss Mary Fiam, badminton practices are scheduled at 4 p. m. every Wednesday, open to both men and women. The gym will also be open from 11 to 12 Saturday mornings for practices.

A co-recreational archery program has been set up for every Thursday night in the women's gym. Beginning at 6:45 p. m., practices will continue as long as participants wish. Helen Marshall, archery manager, said practices will help those who plan to engage in the telegraphic meets held later in the year.

And a poor herring catch is predicted for next year.

These are but a few examples of what this sudden and flagrant exposition of sex and, specifically, Modern Pointed, size 36, are doing to the world. It is all tied in. It must be stopped. At once. Let us act together and rid the world of this menace. Let us keep a wary eye on the Modern Pointed, size 36. We must not flag nor fail. We must keep abreast of the times.

Forney Hall Women Cop Hockey Meet

Forney hall, with two wins and no defeats, was judged winner of the field hockey tournament sponsored by WAA. Because of bad weather, the final round of the contest was not played.

Hays-Ridenbaugh eleven and the Pan-Hellenic group were bested by Forney. The game scheduled between the two defeated teams was not played.

DOWN ON THE FARM

Approximately 125,000 Idaho residents now live in cities of 10,000 or more, according to recent census reports. The remaining 405,000 are presumed to live on farms or in cities under 10,000. Idaho is still one of the few predominantly agricultural states.

Golf Clubs Must Go

Students are requested to remove their golf clubs from the caddy-house as soon as possible, according to Frank James, golf coach. James indicated that it is dangerous to leave the clubs unattended in the building, and also said that the old caddy-house will be moved away in the near future.

Lenander Top Shot

Dean Lenander, three-year letterman, scored 382 out of 400 in ROTC rifle team practice last week to head the team in elimination practice matches.

Fifteen men were selected in elimination rounds to compose the competitive rifle team. A match is being fired with the University of Montana this week. Final scores are not yet available.

Injury Plagued Vandals Prepare For P.U. Pilots

Six Idaho Players On Doubtful List

Idaho's Vandal football squad brushed up on pass defense and sharpened rushing plays this week in preparation for tomorrow's game, which Coach Dixie Howell feels will be one of the toughest in the 1948 schedule, against Dan Christianson and his cohorts from up-and-coming Portland University.

Odds for Idaho dropped to a new low yesterday when Coach Dixie Howell announced that Halfback John Brogan, one of the leading offensive players on the team, might be out of action tomorrow with an injured leg. Brogan's injury brings the total of sidelined Vandals to six.

Only one of the six—Keith Bean, a reserve quarterback—is expected to be in shape for tomorrow's game. Others on the injury list are Carl Killsgaard, Ralph Paasch, Ted Diehl, and Bud Riley.

Close Game Played

Last year's game with the Pilots came on Dad's Day, with a near-record crowd in attendance. The two teams battled on nearly even terms throughout the game, and the first half ended in a scoreless tie. The Dads were on the point of heart-failure when Portland moved out in front early in the second half to lead, 7-0. The Vandals knotted up the score a few minutes later, and the game went into the final round with things all tied up 7-7.

Within a few minutes after the fourth quarter opened, both teams scored again, and tension mounted as play continued toward what looked like a draw. During the last minutes of the game, neither team was able to make a significant gain, and the Dads had almost resigned themselves to seeing a photo finish to a terrific ball game.

Pass For Tally

In the final five seconds, however, Idaho's stellar Billy Williams got off a long, long pass from the midfield stripe intended for Halfback Woody Delorme. Delorme took the ball going away on the Portland nine-yard line, juggling the ball on his fingertips until he reached the end-zone for the winning touchdown.

This year's game is anybody's guess, with so many on Idaho's injury list, but Idaho may have the edge, if individual statistics are any indication. Two Vandal offensive left halfbacks, Brogan and Mays, lead the Idaho squad on offense. After seven games, the two rank first and second, respectively, in the conference punting department. Brogan's average of 42.1 yards for 16 boots puts him at the head of the column, while Mays has punted 19 times for an average of 39.3 yards.

Brogan, Mays Lead

Brogan has a net gain of 254 yards in 83 carries, plus 170 yards in 18 pass attempts, for a total of 424 yards in 101 plays—an average of 4.2 yards per play.

Mays is the team leader for all games played. He's carried the ball 46 times for a net gain of 305 yards, or an average of 6.6 yards per carry. He ranks third on the coast in that department, behind Jack Jensen of California with a 7.2 average, and Oregon's McKay, with 6.8 yards per play.

Defensive halfback John Christianson leads the coast in punt returns with an average of 22.9 yards in 14 returns. Jerry Diehl scratched out of the highest yardage for each game he carried the ball. Beginning with the Montana game three weeks ago, Jerry has carried the ball 20 times, for a total of 160 yards—8 yards per carry.

Three Tied In Scoring

Idaho's scabback, Bud Riley, has taken the pigskin 48 times for 239 yards, or an average of 4.97 per trip. Sam Theis, fullback, has an average of 4.45 yards in 26 tries, while his counterpart, King Block, has an average of 3.5 yards in 41 plays.

Brogan, Block, and Diehl are tied for first place in scoring, each having scored three touchdowns for 18 points. Tackle Will Overgaard, who goes in to make the extra point, has racked up nine points in 17 tries, after being blanked for the first four games.

Due to the shortening of daylight hours, the game will begin at 1:30 instead of the usual 2:00 o'clock kick-off.

Probable starting lineup for the game is as follows:

Ballew	LE	J. Sweeney
Beguhl	LT	Ford
McCormack	LG	Hickman
Ambrose	C	Kamblich
Ruleman	RG	Manni

Time Out

By ALLEN DERR

An irate writer in a letter to the editor of the Lewiston Morning Tribune gave a sound verbal tongue lashing to the citizens of Idaho for their poor loyalty—to the University, and to the State. According to that writer's line of reasoning, Idaho's football losses can be attributed, ultimately, to the same source which is responsible for the rough roads and shoddy bridges throughout the State—lack of state spirit, loyalty, and a general indifference by the citizens. A unified Idaho and loyal support for the university, he wrote, could give the Vandals that win attitude they so direly need.

It sounds like a very good point to us, after all, take a look at state loyalty in the winning schools of the nation. True, some of that loyalty was inspired by the victories, but a certain amount of initial loyalty was needed in their building stages.

National Publicity

The Pacific Coast conference gained national publicity in the November 9 issue of Look magazine. Norm Van Brocklin, passing ace for the University of Oregon, is featured in a story entitled "WHAT A FOOTBALL PLAYER GOES THROUGH THE DAY OF THE GAME." It pictures Brocklin with the rest of the team, and their activities prior to the Stanford game this year.

The Score

Five out of six was the score for last week which boosted the old average up to .8035, or 11 misses in 56 times to bat. It's Friday again and with Friday comes more predictions. As we near the end of another helter skelter grid season on the Pacific coast as California and Oregon still hold untied, unbeaten conference records.

Stalwarts In The Portland And Idaho Backfields

Portland fullback Jim "Old Reliable" Connors, left above, and Idaho's fullback Sam Theis, right above, will be doing a lot of ball carrying for their respective teams when they meet in Neale stadium at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. Connors is a hard running 6 foot, 185 pound junior who came to Portland U. from Chicago. Theis hails from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, stands 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 212 pounds, is 24 years old, a junior, and is majoring in physical education.

WSC vs. California

California meets a crucial test against the third ranking Washington State Cougars in Berkeley Saturday. The warm climate and the big Bears should be responsible for a Cougar loss by two T.D.s

Oregon vs. UCLA

Oregon doesn't appear to be placing her record in much jeopardy Friday night at Los Angeles when she takes to the turf against lethargic UCLA. Oregon by 7.

Idaho vs. Portland U.

Idaho could run away with the Portland university game in Neale stadium tomorrow, but considering the way they played last Saturday, it's hard to say. The Idaho squad will have to watch Dan Christianson, star P.U. quarterback, who almost upset their appecart last year, but should end up with a 12 point lead in the scoring department.
