The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Students from northern Idaho and the mountainous areas rub their hands with glee and start to wax toboggans and skis, persons from Moscow peer from their windows with a look of question, and the lads from southern California put on an extra overcoat and try to still their chattering teeth. Winter has come to Idaho.

With the coming of winter come a hundred hazards. Autos slide off the road or into other autos. Toboggans run into trees. Snow balls constitute an ever-popular menace. Ice walks present some interesting spectacles. The natives are starving in Lower Slobbovia.

But there is one menace at Idaho that no one but the student himself can be sure of stopping. Automobiles and coasting students do not mix. When they do there is usually a hospital bill. In the past week there have been several bad accidents and many near accidents when a car met careless persons who couldn't stop while careening down a hill on a sled, toboggan, fishpan, shovel, or what-have-you that couldn't stop either.

Perhaps if a street were blocked off from traffic so that one could slide safely it would prevent accidents more severe than a few skinned noses and bruised knees. If some enterprising organization were to work it out with the administration, winter might be enjoyed by all rather than just those who are lucky enough to stay out of the hospital.

Chest Drive
To get away from lectures and warnings, and back to handing out a little news (a thing that this column is famous for not doing) the Campus Chest, under the direction of Shirley Tanager, is beginning to be something of a reality. The Campus Chest, with an all-campus drive sometime in February, is intended to eliminate all other drives for money on the campus during the school year.

The money would be placed in the Campus Chest after one drive and from there dispensed to organizations asking for funds on a basis of their importance as decided by the chest committee.

Requests Help
Miss Tanner was appointed to handle the drive by the ASUI executive board several weeks ago. She requests that all persons who are interested in serving on the chest committee leave their names in the Argonaut box in the General Manager's office.

Care With Xmas Decorations Urged By Safety Committee

The university traffic and safety committee is directing special attention to the presence of increased fire hazards during the coming holiday season. Knowledge of a few simple precautions may make the difference between safe and happy holidays or tragedies, according to L. C. Cady director.

MANY EXEMPTIONS

One out of every five students in the Newcomb college for women of Tulane University is benefiting from scholarship and tuition exemptions, according to a study just completed there.

Do Not Use Lighted Candles

In addition to the above hazards, the following precautions will also aid in lowering the accident and fire toll:

- Under no circumstances should lighted candles be used in decorative schemes.
- Christmas trees and other vegetative decorations should be flame-proofed. This may be done by dipping them in a solution composed of six parts borax powder and five parts boric acid dissolved in 100 parts of luke-warm water until they have absorbed about 10 percent of the weight.
- Dances Prove Hazardous
3. Asbestos, mineral wool, or powdered mica should be used instead of cotton for artificial snow or decorating the tree.
4. Extra precautions should be taken during dances and other entertainments. Aisles should be kept unobstructed at all times and exit doors should not be blocked by chairs, tables, or other objects.

HOUSEMOTHERS ROTATE

Phi Sigma Kappa at Oregon State college will initiate a new part-time house mother program. Under this plan two mothers will be available each weekend on a rotation scheme.

ROTC 1949 Grads Can Compete For Army Commissions

Regular Army second lieutenant commissions are available by application of students named as distinguished military graduates upon completing advanced ROTC courses this spring, announced Col. Chas. F. Hudson, PMS&T, yesterday.

As distinguished military graduates, these former ROTC students are eligible for appointment in the regular Army upon application, provided they are physically qualified. Applications must be mailed within six months after graduation.

Standards Outlined

All men enrolled in the senior division of ROTC are eligible for selection as distinguished military students during their final academic year. Professors of military science and tactics base selections upon the following standards:

- (1) outstanding qualities of military leadership, high moral character, and definite aptitude for military service.
- (2) outstanding academic work or definite leadership in recognized campus activities.
- (3) completion or near completion of advanced senior division ROTC work.
- (4) military standing in the upper third of ROTC class.

Distinguished military students may be named distinguished graduates when they have completed the advanced ROTC course, graduated from a college with a B. S. degree, and maintained the designated undergraduate standards. Applications may be made through military professors.

Universities Plan Summer Sessions

Encouraged by their success in previous years, the British universities and the University of Oslo have announced that their summer school programs for American students will be continued in 1949.

Official headquarters in America for the summer session of the University of Oslo, held from June 27 to August 6, has been established at St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minnesota, where catalogs and applications may be secured. Summer session courses will be conducted in English and will cover sciences, humanities, and a general survey of Norwegian culture.

The British universities, in cooperation with the Institute of International Education, New York, and the British council, are expanding their program of summer schools for overseas students in 1949. The number of courses will be increased and provision made for a larger intake of American students.

Attitude, Projects, No. 1 On Peace Agenda, Says Speaker

"Things That Belong to Our Peace" was the subject of an assembly address by Dr. Angus J. MacQueen, religious emphasis speaker in the Memorial gym Monday morning.

"I am not an expert; I have no special plans for peace. There are as many peace plans as there are planners, but I want to submit weapons of two kinds for peace—certain attitudes and certain projects," stated Dr. MacQueen.

The certain attitudes that MacQueen advanced were continued hatred for war, mental stability, a faith in the possibility of peace, and faith in God as the lord of history.

Projects mentioned by MacQueen as weapons for peace included political, educational, psychological, and spiritual peace programs.

Pastor of the United church of Canada, Edmonton, Alberta, Dr. MacQueen introduced student observation of religious emphasis week on this campus. He will be followed Thursday by another special religious emphasis assembly featuring Raymond Swing.

Directed by Billie Steelman, dance instructor, Orchesis members appearing in the various dances include Sue Beardsley, Bonnie Graham, Katherine Burleigh, Pat Lyons, Shirley Ball, Colleen Christianson, Marjorie Lampman, Phyllis Hawley, Anne Dingle, Betty Loman, and Jeanne Nagel.

Christmas Theme Featured
Silver flutes are danced by Terry Carson, Donna Slavin, Bonnie Butte, Bonnie Schulberg, Jeanne Nagel, Beverly Benson, Marianne Tufts, Lois Wenfield, Elanta Wagner, and Jackie Scott.

"Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" features the entire Pre-Orchesis group. Betty Loman, Valeta Hershberger, Pat West, Louise Blenden, Pat Watson, and Edith Harrop dance the Swedish carol.

"The Juggler of Notre Dame" features all the Orchesis members with solo work by Pat Lyons, and Sheila Darwin appearing as the Virgin Mary statue.

Aggies Make Plans For Spring Show
Plans for the Ag club's annual Little International next spring are under way, according to Chairman Cecil Alldaffer. Dates for the Ag show have been tentatively set for April 26 to 30.

Committees appointed by the group to work on Little International arrangements include: general arrangements, Cecil Alldaffer; assistant managers, Howard Morton and David Thacker; programs, Kay Hult; features, Edward Rowberry; magazine publicity, Sherman Nesbitt; posters, John Lawrence; newspaper publicity, Francis Flerchinger.

Many Transfer

Students transferring to the U. of I. from other Idaho institutions this year totaled 142, according to D. D. DuSault, registrar.

Numbers of students entering from other Idaho schools were: Idaho State college, 30; Boise Junior college, 40; College of Idaho, 15; Farragut, 15; North Idaho College of Education, 11; South Idaho College of Education, 10; North Idaho Junior college, 20; Northwest Nazarene, 1.

NEW STUDY PLAN

Juniors at the College of Wooster, who began under the new "adventure-in-education" plan two years ago are now ready to begin their partially independent study in their elected field. They will spend about nine hours a week independent of lectures.

OSO HONORARY INITIATES
Scabbard and Blade, military honorary society, at Oregon State college recently initiated 21 students into its ranks.

"A Texan entered a saloon with his wife and three year-old son. He ordered two straight whiskeys. "Hey, paw," asked the kid, "Ain't Maw a-drinkin'?"

"Miss Lush" Contest To End

The Argonaut "Miss Lush" contest will officially end at 12 noon Saturday, December 11. The contest, originally scheduled to come to a close on January 19, is being ended at the earlier date due to the long expanse of time between issues of the Argonaut over Christmas vacation.

Entries may be sent in after each issue of the Arg until the contest ends Saturday. Each male on the campus has the chance to try to guess the identity of "Miss Lush" twice more.

Clues in this issue and the Friday issue of the Argonaut will narrow the identity to the point where a correct answer will be inevitable. All entries will be judged by the Argonaut advertising staff and the winner will be announced in the Dec. 14 issue of the paper.

It was decided to close the contest before Christmas vacation since nearly a month will elapse between issues of the paper and it is thought that the effectiveness of the campaign would be lost.

Your last chance is coming up, fellows! Find the clues today and send in your entry. Send after the Friday issue! Yours may be the winning entry!

It's Up To You

Studded with "Skeptical Hours" and with discussion groups, this week's religious emphasis program offers some very real and some very necessary opportunities to the Idaho campus.

A similarly ambitious program last spring—the Borah Foundation—was quite successful. Speakers were worth listening to even though the audience may have disagreed with them. The only real criticism of that series of lectures and seminars was the fact that individuals could do very little about such a thing as world peace.

This week offers us something pretty concrete to tangle with—our own faiths. The program seems to be able to take care of everyone—there is background for the uninformed, discussion for the skeptics, and inspiration for the faithful.

Others of the 22 Christian missions to be held this year have served a definite need. We doubt if the missions are designed to convert university students; the name "Religious Emphasis Week" indicates that its purpose is only to let the students learn, think and talk about their beliefs and disbeliefs.

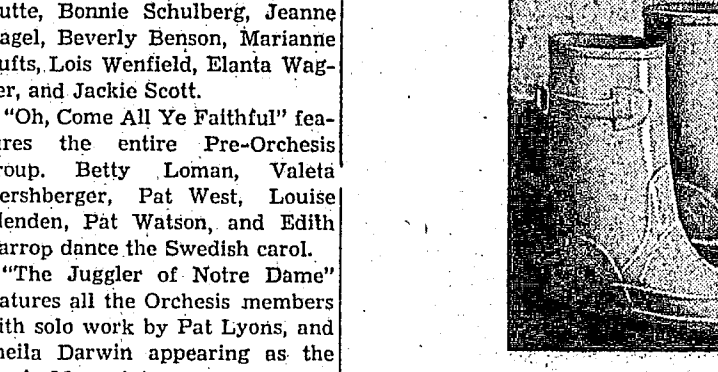

It's something we can afford to do. How about You?
—H. R.

Utah Teams Down Vandals in Dual Meet

Utes Scalp Idaho 62-39 As U. State Edges Past

Idaho's still-ragged Vandal hoopsters dropped their third and fourth pre-conference basketball contests last weekend in a four-team meet that saw the Idahoans bow in defeat on consecutive nights, first to Utah and later to Utah State.

The sizzling Redskins from the University of Utah became the team to beat in the Skyline Six conference as they bowled over an underdog Idaho team 62-39 on Friday night and squelched Oregon State, the fourth team in the four-way tourney, by a score of 53-42 on the following evening. The Beavers had previously swamped the Utah State Farmers 52-38 on Friday night.

Redskins Baffled

Paced by All-American center Vern Gardner, the Utes moved into an early lead which they never relinquished. Idaho's tricky defense baffled the Redskins during the opening minutes, and Idaho's Nick Stallworth at center kept the vaunted Gardner attack from materializing. After ten minutes of play, the Utes held a shaky one-point lead, having scored only two field goals. It was only their accuracy from the foul line which kept them out in front. They put on a spurt, however, which gave them a comfortable lead, and Idaho dragged behind 28-19 at halftime.

Ute Coach Diagnoses Play

Utah Coach Vadal Peterson apparently diagnosed the Idaho defense during the half for the benefit of his Redskins. Immediately following the starting gun for the second half, the Utes abandoned their weaving pattern and made drives for the basket, opening the way for Gardner's long shots.

Gardner dominated second half play, scoring 19 points and leading his team to a 52-28 advantage. Idaho staged a rally late in the game, and narrowed the gap to 61-38. The final gun sounded with only a pair of free-throws added to the score, making it 62-39. Gardner claimed scoring honors with 19, while Stallworth paced Idaho with seven points.

Idaho, U. State See-Saw

Utah State scratched out a win over the Vandals on the following night in a desperate last-second rally of the see-saw contest which saw the Farmers take the lead four times during the game. It was sheer luck that the last of those times happened to occur at the moment the final gun sounded.

Nate Done, Aggie guard, won the game for the Utah State aggregation when, with 37 seconds left to play, he sank a field goal and a free throw to put the Aggies out in front, 36-35. Idaho's Bob Pritchett then caged a lay-up, and the Vandals led, 37-36.

Done Sinks Winner

Then, with 12 seconds remaining to be played, Done took a long pass from Frank Hazen, and moved in to sink the winning basket. Done took high-point honors with 13 tallies, while Brimhall led the Idaho aggregation with seven points.
