The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

After long waiting, something concrete has finally been accomplished so that work may begin on the much-needed addition to the Student Union building. The university has been given full "go ahead" for the contracts and financing.

Plans were drawn up and worked on by both student groups and administration committees last year with the hope of starting construction on the building last spring but building costs climbed to a peak and the project was tabled. This winter, with construction costs taking a slight drop, or at least leveling off slightly, the matter was again brought to the attention of the Board of Regents. The matter was brought to a vote at a meeting in Boise December 10 and passed.

Underground Streams
Plans are for the work to begin as soon as weather permits in the spring. As Jason understands the situation, this does not necessarily mean that carpenters and workmen will be swarming around as soon as the snow is gone. Difficulties have arisen concerning shifting underground water streams which hamper construction. Test holes were dug last spring and the matter is being studied carefully so that the earth work and foundation may be put in when the area is driest, thereby cutting the cost of construction.

Chairman Needs Help
In the more immediate future, plans have been laid by the ASUI Executive Board for a campus community chest drive. Shirley Tanner was appointed chairman of the drive at a meeting several weeks before Christmas. At that time Jason asked that all persons interested in taking part in the drive leave their names at the General Manager's office. To this date there have been no volunteers. Jason again renews the plea.

The drive, to begin shortly after the second semester begins, would eliminate having persons soliciting for this fund and that stopping at a person's doorstep every week. Funds would be collected by the campus chest committee and put into a general fund. Then, if an organization came on the campus wishing to solicit money, they would go directly to the chest committee. The committee, with the aid of the executive board would allot a certain amount and (Cont. on page 3, col. 7)

New Ruling Permits Coaching Time

Fifty Teams To Participate In Junior College Debate

Idaho will be host to ten schools in the annual Inland Empire Junior college debate tournament Friday and Saturday. Approximately 50 teams made up of freshman and sophomore first place honorees.

Debate question will be "Federal Aid to Education." Two rounds will take place Friday evening and four rounds will be held Saturday. Judges for the tournament are faculty advisors from the participating schools. Dr. A. E. Whitehead, faculty member of Idaho's debate squad, is in charge of general details for the tournament.

Competing Schools
Schools competing here this weekend are Idaho State college, College of Idaho, Northwest Nazarene college, North Idaho College of Education, Whitman College, Gonzaga University, Whitworth College, University of Montana, Coeur d'Alene Junior college, Washington State college and Idaho.

Students Asked To Save On Electricity

University living groups and all off campus students are urged to conserve electric power during extreme cold weather by the Washington Water Power Company. Requesting that every light and electric power unit not absolutely necessary be turned off between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30 each afternoon, the power company announced that the current northwest power pool crisis had reached a potentially dangerous stage.

DR. HOLM TO SPEAK

Dr. Glenn C. Holm, vice director of the Idaho agricultural experiment station will speak tonight at a meeting of the ASUA student branch in Engineering Building, room 300, at 7 p.m.

Research Council Reports Changes At Recent Meeting

President J. E. Buchanan made the following announcements after the regular monthly meeting of the university research council in his office last Thursday: A clearance of classified materials for the university is being arranged by the Air Material Command. Staff members may obtain such materials through Dr. L. C. Cady. A list of possible graduate thesis subjects will also be sent to the university when cleared.

License Granted

A license to obtain 1000 pounds of raw source materials has also been granted the university. These raw materials (uranium and/or thorium) will permit the university to obtain samples for its studies on Idaho monazite sands.

Dr. Holm reported on a USDA study concerning the movement, fixation, and release of radioactive elements in soil. He also indicated that special training in this field may be made available. Dean Janssen agreed to investigate techniques and work at the Radsafe School in San Francisco on radioactive materials.

Jeffers Presents Proposal

Dean Jeffers presented a proposal for a project to deal with coding, punching, and sorting IBM blister rust data cards. Several other university divisions could profitably use such material if it were available.

Women's Honorary Initiates Scholars

Regular classes will be held through Friday, Jan. 21, and examinations will begin Saturday, Jan. 22, and end Saturday, Jan. 29, 1949.

Race Clause Dropped

We were a little surprised, but very happy, to hear that Blue Key fraternity had stricken the race clause from their national constitution at their convention last month.

The race clauses which limit membership to "Caucasians" have often brought criticism to secret and semi-secret groups in general, and to college fraternities in particular. Few phases of American life are free from discriminatory practices.

Blue Key's act is more than a ray of hope. It is action. In past years there has been a great deal of talk, but not much of that action.

We were particularly pleased to see the vote on the matter. The recommendation of a committee to amend the constitution was passed with 59 "ayes" and four "nays." And Blue Key was founded in and has always been strong in the South.

Just because the clause has been eliminated doesn't mean that discrimination will cease. But it is at least a start. The fraternity has finally agreed with the sociologists and psychologists that skin color has nothing to do with other human traits.

We liked best of all the way the clause was removed. It started with letters among the chapters. There was no high-pressure and no forcing of the policy. It came voluntarily from within the group.

We feel sure that this is the only way democracy will ever function properly. It can't be forced on a person or a group. We have agreed with what is apparently a minority—we can not force discrimination out by legislation or by pressure.

All groups—professional or social fraternities, sections of a country, nations or a world—must decide for themselves to do away with discrimination. We are quite sure that they will. —H.R.

Air Force Team Will Interview Single Students

A two-man Army Air Force officer-pilot team will interview students qualifying for a 12-month flight training course leading to pilot's rating and officer's commission January 17, 18, and 19, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., military department, Memorial gym.

Unmarried men between 20 and 26 years of age, who are in good physical condition and meet educational requirements, are eligible to apply for the air force aptitude examination.

Successful applicants receive flight training at air force bases in Texas, Arizona, and Louisiana, and upon graduation are given 2nd Lieutenant commissions in the air force reserve and aeronautical ratings as pilots and are assigned to active flying duty.

Top Grads Commissioned
Aviation cadet classes begin March 1, July 1, and October 15 of each year, and the top graduates of each class are given direct commissions in the regular air force. All graduates are asked to agree to serve a minimum of three years on active duty, and during the active duty period all have the opportunity to qualify for regular commission.

Basic phases of the training are given at four air force bases in Texas. Cadets learn to fly in the two-place single-engine trainer known as the T-6 Texan, a modern modification of the advanced trainer used during the war. The final stage of the training is divided into single-engine and multiple-engine instruction. The former in F-51 Mustangs and F-80 Shooting Stars at Williams Air Force Base, Arizona; and the latter in B-25's at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, Louisiana.

Founder Watches KUOI Increase In Members

The University of Idaho's own radio station, KUOI, began its operations October 29, 1945, under the direction of Glen Rae Southworth, who at that time was financier and founder.

Glen, having been interested in the functions of radio for the past six years, is also engaged in research on radio electronics. Glen has developed independently, several devices of his own that are now being used at KUOI station and is technical advisor to the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System.

Southworth has done recent research work in the field of magnetic recording for the Empire Office and Equipment Co., a local concern.

During the past semester, Glen has produced with the cooperation of other students a series of Sunday afternoon recorded music concerts with the use of new record playing equipment of special design.

Glen wrote an article for the Radio News on record playing equipment and other technical articles that have appeared in both the Radio News and Radio Craft magazines.

During the past three years station KUOI has increased its staff from three men to its present capacity of over 50.

When the station first started, only three programs were scheduled each day. Programs are now presented between the hours of 7 and 8 in the morning and from 3 in the afternoon to 12 midnight.

Dear Jason

In dedicating the 1949 Gem of the Mountains, what could be more appropriate than to dedicate it to, and include in the dedication, Charley Diamond, who for so many years contributed so much toward making the annual a success with his camera. He has been a familiar figure at many school functions through the years including those trying registration lines which he so ably photographed.

A sufficient dedication to him can be found in the 1943 Gem. He suffered a heart attack December 10, 1948 and passed away January 3.

Kappa Fire Causes Slight Damages

Hot coals against a plywood wall was the cause of a fire scare at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house last Saturday afternoon. Frank Bales and Bob Percell discovered the fire at three p. m. and obtained fire extinguishers from the upstairs hall and the Phi Delta Theta house.

The blaze was out before the fire department arrived. Clothing hanging on the laundry line was burned, but other damage was slight.

Athletic Heads Return From Tour

Graduate Manager Gale L. Mix, Director of Athletics George Green, Head Football coach M. F. (Dixie) Howell, and faculty representative T. S. Kerr returned to Moscow yesterday after attending the Pacific Coast conference meeting at San Francisco.

The men also attended the Rose Bowl football game in Pasadena New Year's day.

'One Drive, One Collector' Plan Favored By Students

The movement to combine all charity drives which the students are asked to contribute to each year is being given favorable consideration on the campus. Although some feel that the "Community Chest Drive" might not net enough money, the general opinion is acceptable to the executive board action to hold a drive on the Idaho campus.

Student answers to the poll-takers' question "Do you favor a Community Chest drive" bear out these conclusions.

Betty Hooper, Forney: "I think it is a good idea if enough money can be raised in one drive."

Maurie Quinn, Beta: "I believe if we get enough cooperation on the first drive, there should be no further use for another drive."

Everette Rice, LDS: "I don't believe that enough can be collected to cover all the other drives. People favor some fund drives more than others."

Bill Mizer, Lindley hall: "I think it is a good idea to cut these drives down to one instead of somebody asking for donations all year long."

Donna Norton, Hays: "I'm all in favor of cutting the drives down to one."

Rod Grider, Kappa Sigma: "One well organized drive will be more beneficial to all the organizations."

Ski Enthusiasts Add Tow Facilities

Towlines are operating in two regions of Latah county this winter for those sporting students whose favorite pastime is gliding over the snow on a pair of hard wood strips.

Phil Kinnison, president of the Vandal Ski Club, reports that some 27 students traveled on the university bus to the Emida area east of Harvard Sunday, where two towlines are in operation.

A good 47 inches of snow was on hand and a powdery five- or six-inch blanket falling between Monday and Friday would make skiing excellent this weekend.

Another ski lift is operating every afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00 o'clock on the crest of the hill northwest of the University golf course, on the old Pullman highway.

The snow is reported fast and a new landing has been constructed for beginners. Tow charge is 25c.

Weekend skiing plans for Saturday and Sunday will be announced in the Friday issue of the Argonaut. The local lift is expected to be in full operation and Kinnison said a bus might also be taken to the Emida area.

Sigma Xi's To Hear Agriculture Prof

Musicians To Aid Maladjusted To Face Reality

Michigan State college now offers a course in music therapy as the treatment of physical and mental ills by the use of music.

A woman is brought into the hospital suffering from a mental maladjustment. Since 80 per cent of all mental patients are suffering from environmental disorders, we will attribute her behavior to this cause.

Withdrawal from all reality, she is now living in a world of the unconscious. She cannot perform even the simplest voluntary action.

Folk Songs Played
 It is an exceedingly difficult task for a psychiatrist to aid her while she remains in this state.

At this stage the music therapist brings various types of music from his file. A study of the patient's background has revealed that she is a descendant of foreign born parents.

Folk songs are played repeatedly. Suddenly one of them causes her to weep bitterly. It was a song that her mother sang to her as a child.

Although this little incident seems insignificant, it is a very important advancement. It has forced the patient to momentarily face reality. The psychiatrist takes it from there.

Relations Club To Discuss U.S. Aid

Pertinent questions acted upon by the International Relations northwest conference round tables held recently in Eugene, Oregon, will be discussed at a local chapter meeting Thursday in the Bucket at 3:30 p. m.

Included among the topics will be a discussion concerning U. S. support of any government which may be set up in China.

Membership in the north Atlantic alliance and its bearing on promotion of the American foreign policy will also be considered.

The extent to which the U. S. should extend aid to Latin American countries and debates on a proper peace settlement for Japan will complete the evening's program.

Club members and any other interested faculty members or students are invited to attend.

Sigma Chi Elect

Dwight Akers was elected president of the Sigma Chi fraternity at an election held last night.

Akers will replace Howard Reinhardt, who has held this post the past semester. Other officers selected for the coming semester include Jack Lein, vice president; John Cothorn, secretary; and Charles Story, house manager.

Last Opportunity To Order Skis

"A last order for skiing equipment will be sent in January 12," Chet Kerr, manager of the student book store, said yesterday.

Kerr asked that students desiring skis, cable bindings, and tonkin poles bring their money to the bookstore no later than Wednesday afternoon.

Prices for reasonably good skis with edges, bindings, and tonkin poles will run between $25 and $30, according to Mrs. Janet Taylor, skiing instructor.

Harvard Scholar Discusses History

"The Archaeology of New Architecture" was the topic discussed by Dr. Kenneth J. Conant, Harvard university school of design, at a banquet sponsored by the art department Monday evening at the Ad club.

Members of the Idaho art faculty were among over 100 people who attended.

Dr. Conant, a nationally known scholar and popular lecturer in architectural history traced the background of new styles in his field and showed their historical validity.

Dr. Conant is a specialist in medieval art and is famous for his researches on the Monastery of Cluny and his part in its restoration.

A guest of the department of art and architecture, Conant is making a lecture tour as the Charles Elliot Norton lecturer for 1948-49 through the courtesy and under the sponsorship of the Archaeological Institute of America.

He gazed admiringly at the beautiful dress of the leading chorine.

"Who made her dress?" he asked his companion.
 "I'm not sure, but I think it was the police."

Dateless Doe Dials Dozens; Campus Coeds Can't Comply

"On the North country is a cold country" ever down to the women, according to survey conducted recently at the University of Idaho.

An energetic Idaho student whom we shall call John Doe (short for John Doe), undaunted by the 8 to 1 ratio of men to women at Idaho, set out last Sunday via the telephone to get a date for the coming weekend.

After an all day session with Bell's wonderful invention he reported the following results: Number of women contacted—50. Number of women busy for the weekend—50.

Reasons Offered
 Further tabulating his statistics he found 14, or 28 per cent of them, claiming to be going steady; 4, or 8 per cent of them, dated for one week or less ahead; 12, or 24 per cent, dated for two weeks or less; and 20, or 40 whole per cent of them, dated already for a whole month ahead.

Excuses offered included one girl who claimed she already had two dates for one night and didn't feel like taking on any more just now. Another was going home, and others were going to study, said to call back later, refused because caller wasn't old enough, and besides he had no car, or was hoping for a call from another fellow but "keep in touch with me if he doesn't call."

It all goes to show, according to our "has had it" poll taker that "women are beastly, aren't they?"

Wives' Basketball To Be Friday Nites

The women's gymnasium will be open from 7:30 to 9 every Friday evening for student wives' basketball.

Natalie Wells, instructor for the group, said that a tournament will be played off if a sufficient number of women participate.

Other activities offered this year to student wives were badminton, table tennis, and shuffleboard. Another schedule of activities will be set up next semester.

Vandals Lead Conference In Early Season Scoring Cagers Rank High In Defensive Play

Idaho's surprising Vandal basketball world a few days ago when the word got around that they ranked fourth in the nation on defensive play. Now they've got another accomplishment to add to their laurels by leading the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference on offense.

After each of the teams has played two conference games, Idaho has nosed out the University of Washington by a scarce one-point per-game margin. There are only a few instances in basketball annals when a team has ranked high in both offensive and defensive ratings.

Whether this is just an indication of the earliness of the season or an unusual event in cage history may be demonstrated to some extent this weekend when the Vandals meet Oregon in Eugene, and last year's conference championship Huskies tackle the WSC quintet, current leaders of the northern division, at Pullman.

WSC Leads Northern Division
The Cougars seized top honors last weekend at the expense of Oregon by dropping the Ducks on two consecutive evenings. Washington contrived a three-way tie with OSC and Idaho for second place by tripping Oregon State, 54-43, after the Beavers had sneaked past, 52-50, on the preceding night. Idaho had already gained a second-place berth by splitting a series earlier in the week with Oregon, the team which now occupies the cellar position.

Coach Jack Friel's main problem is a lack of height among his pivots, although six-foot two-inch Eddie Gayda has been doing fairly well as a transfer from his forward position. Unless the Cougars can unearth a lanky center to replace Vince Hanson, Friel must depend on a rapid style of play and a fast-breaking squad to keep the team in the lead.

The loss of six-foot, eight-inch Hanson was a great blow to the cage hopes of WSC, for he was named to last year's all-northern division team, along with Jack Nichols and Sam White of Washington, Cliff Crandall of OSC, Stan Williamson from Oregon, and Idaho's Prestor Brimhall.

Oregon State Favored
Oregon State boomed as potentially the strongest team on the Pacific coast this season, has four men returning from last year's first five, and Coach Slats Gill has made no trouble in filling the fifth position. Cliff Crandall, Alex Peterson, Len Rinearson, Dick Ballantyne, and Jim Catterall, while lacking extreme height, combine to make up the speediest and most experienced team in the conference.

Five veterans returning from last year's squad may make up in added experience for the loss of tall Jack Nichols, who sank 285 counters in 16 conference games in the '48 season—39 of them in a single contest. Sam White is returning for his third year as a Husky forward, along with Capt. Bill Vanderburgh, Jim Mallory, Andy Opaich, and Bob Engstrom also moved up, from last year's squad into the starting positions.

Tallest Center
The University of Oregon has the advantage of having the tallest center in the northern division, big Roger Wiley, who lacks just four inches of being seven feet tall. The Ducks have a lot of know-how and speed in Jim Bartelt, Ken Seeborg, Bob Lavey, and Lynn Hamilton, but so far the aggregation has not been able to catch fire.

In the southern division, the team to beat, up until the Cow Palace Invitational, was the Stanford Indians. However, the pre-season under-dog California Bears swept all opposition aside at the tourney to become the walk-away winners. Only one man—Bob Walker—is back from the 1948 first string, but a group of tough, enterprising sophomores and four returning reserves appear to have brought this team into the limelight.

Stanford Dark Horse
Stanford has pinned its hopes on the ability of lanky center Bill Stevenson, for two years an outstanding player in the tough southern division. Coach Everett Dean has at least six other veterans whom he can juggle back and forth in the forward and guard spots.

Time Out

By ALLEN DERR

Idaho's hunters put up their guns for the winter (theoretically, at least) after the close of the duck season which ended Saturday. During the 1948-49 season records show that 14 Idaho sportsmen were slain. Two others died of exposure or exhaustion after becoming lost, and two more died of heart attacks while hunting. The 14 hunters killed by gunshot was the same as for the 1947 season, but nine of the 1948-49 fatalities occurred during the big game season, as compared to five in 1947.

Manslaughter
Taking into consideration these unwarranted deaths, the Idaho wildlife federation, in its 14th annual meeting, recently ended, passed a resolution asking the filing of manslaughter charges in hunting deaths. Though some of these accidents could be termed unavoidable, most of them were caused by pure carelessness. Perhaps, though the hunters have little regard for the lives of others, they will attempt to keep out of jail.

Sanity Code
The year old "sanity code" adopted to keep college football amateur recently came under fire from the outgoing president of the American football coaches' association who likened it to the prohibition act. The president, Harvey Harman of Rutgers, said "one college president (not my president) recently said 'this sanity code will make liars of us all'." The college coaches as a whole seem to think that this code places too stringent regulation upon them, by regulatory bodies composed of men who knew little or nothing about the game and conditions. Also they seem to see little difference between aiding athletes and the regular scholarship committee's power to give a boy, with leadership qualities and with need, help toward his board and room.

The idea and aims of the sanity code are fine but there are too many schools disregarding it and too many ways to get around its provisions. As long as the spirited competition between colleges remains at its present high level the completely virtuous school doesn't get athletes, and athletic reputation, and consequently suffers in enrollment.

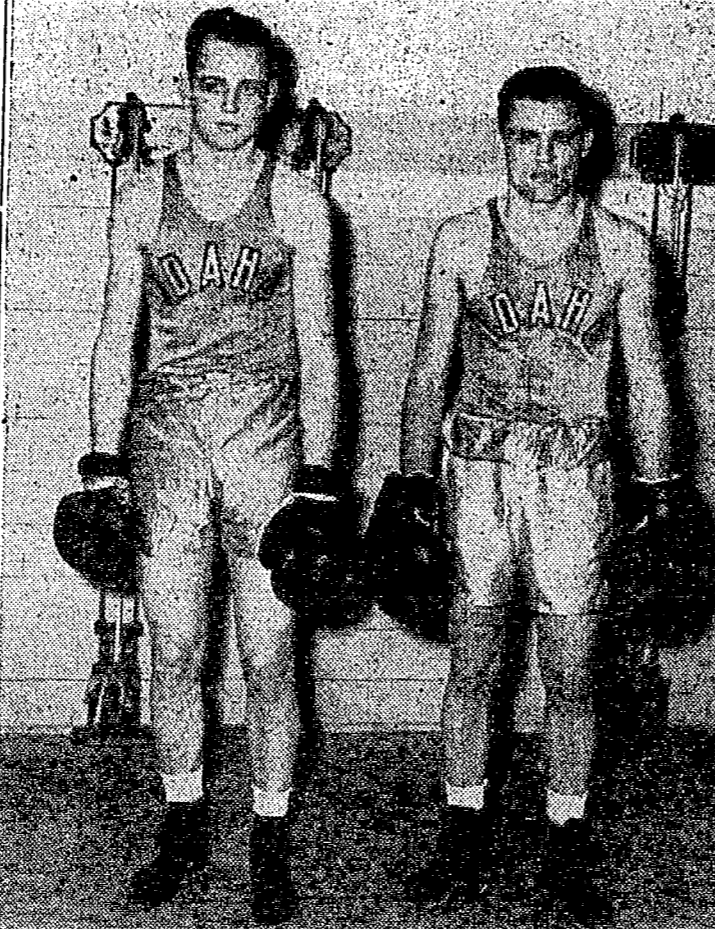

Basketball
Checking back 23 years in Idaho's conference basketball records, we find them on top of the Northern Division heap in 1946, Pacific Coast champions in 1923, second in the Northern Division two times, third three times, fourth four times, and fifth (last) fifteen times.

Cal, has four first-stringers returning this year, and the loss of Center Alex Hannum may not be too heavy a blow. Meanwhile, UCLA, the Trojans' cross-town rivals, have a new coach this year in John Wooden. The Bruins have quite a number of varsity players back from last year, but only one of which—Center George Stanich—was on the starting lineup. Stanich is a former Olympic Games high jump competitor.

Conference Playoff In March
Hoop fans in the San Francisco area were able to get a preview of the PCC prospects when the conference invitational tournament was held two weeks ago. The eight-team meet was the first of its kind ever held in the west, and may become an annual pre-season event among conference teams. The conference playoffs will be held this year at the home of the northern division winner on March 11, 12, and 14.

An intelligent girl is one who can refuse a kiss without being deprived of it.

Spell Trouble For Opponents

They grow them tough in Wallace. That's the home town of Norman (left) and Leonard (right) Walker, brothers on the Idaho boxing squad, as well as Herb Carlson, Idaho's two-time national intercollegiate middleweight boxing champ. The Walkers fought for the Vandal freshman squad last year and are expected to give the varsity a lot of added strength this year. Leonard, who fights at 135, drey with WSC's touted Lip Long last year, and lost one fight to Gonzaga's Eli Thomas last year. Norman, who weighs in at 130, won all his fights as a freshman.

Howell Named Coaches Head

The new president of the Pacific Coast Conference Football Coaches association is one of the youngest of the ten PCC mentors, in both tenure and age.

Idaho's M. F. (Dixie) Howell confirmed reports that he had been named president of the group at a recent meeting in San Francisco, when he returned to Moscow at 1 p.m. today from the California meetings. He said he would comment if he had later because of the intensely cold weather upon his arrival at home and his desire to get to his home for a few minutes before "talking shop."

'Mural Hoopsters Continue Action

Basketball, one of the most popular of intra-mural sports, entered its first full week of play last night with six scheduled games. TV defeated SAE, 38-33; IC No. 1 beat LH No. 1, 26 to 29; CC No. 2 lost to WSH No. 2, 34 to 30; WSH No. 1 downed CC No. 1, 26 to 24; PH No. 3 won over CH No. 1, 29 to 21; and TKE overpowered DC, 40 to 32.

Basketball Squad Travels During Christmas Holidays

Idaho's basketmen didn't have a chance to take much time out for Christmas—they were too busy gaining national recognition for their brilliant application of "Finley" style of defensive play. Previous to the Oregon series, the Vandals rated fourth in the nation on defense.

Coast Tour
Coach Finley's lads left for a six-day invasion of the Pacific coast on December 16, and ranged up and down the coast from California to British Columbia, winning four out of six contests before returning to Moscow on the 23rd.

On the night of Thursday, December 16, the Vandals barely squeezed past the Malsuns of San Jose with a close 52-50 decision. Lanky Nick Stallworth led the team to an early lead, and Idaho was out in front with a scarce one-point margin at the half. The Malsuns moved into the lead in the opening minutes of the second half, and the Vandals, fighting for possession of the ball, knotted the score three times before gaining the winning two points just before the final gun.

Lose to Loyola
The Idahoans received a sharp rebuff on the following night, when a rugged Loyola of Los Angeles quintet handed them a 58-49 defeat at San Francisco's Cow Palace. Loyola came from behind after several minutes of the first half, and led at intermission with a score of 34-28. Stallworth again paced the Idaho contingent with 12 points.

Bouncing back on Saturday, December 18, the Vandals took the measure of San Francisco's Young Men's Institute, 50-46. Although the lead see-sawed back and forth during the first half, Idaho led 27-26 at halftime. Brimhall led the scoring with 15 points.

Portland Surprises
The Pilots from the University of Portland wrote basketball history on Monday, December 20, when they dished out a stiff 57-40 set-back to the invaders, scoring the first win of the season for a non-conference team over a conference squad. Portland led at the half, 27-18. Stallworth claimed scoring honors with 10 counters.

Quickly recovering from the defeat, the Vandals journeyed to New Westminster, B.C., where they trimmed the Thunderbirds of UBC by nearly identical scores of 55-52 and 57-52 on successive nights. Brimhall and Pritchett paced the victors with 13 points each on Tuesday night, and Geisler tallied 12 points for the scoring honors on the following evening.

Following a short four-day Christmas vacation, the Idaho club again appeared on the local court on Monday, December 27, for the first game of a two-game home-and-home series with the Savages of EWCE. Brimhall's one-handed push-shots were feature attractions of the evening, as he racked up 16 points in leading his teammates to a 53-43 win. The second game was held on the following Wednesday night, and the Vandals survived a rough and rugged contest to come out on top, 45-35, when the final gun sounded. Wheeler led the scoring with 12 counters.

Vandals Down Gonzaga
Finally, on the following evening, the Idaho quintet settled an old score by edging past the Gonzaga Bulldogs with the bare two-point advantage of 45-43. The Vandals had previously defeated the thriller. Pritchett shaded the competition by sinking 20 buckets.
