Executive Board Approves Additional Calendar Functions

Members Heed SAB Plea For Further Emphasis On Activities Question

Action on the campus activities problem reached its peak during the ASUI executive board meeting Tuesday night. Ralph Crane and Gerry Johnson, Student Activity board representatives, opened the discussion by presenting the views of the SAB on the activities question. Following the discussions, several major recommendations to alleviate the situation were passed by the board.

Crane stated that the SAB thought that the problem of activities on the Idaho campus was one of improper emphasis and regulation rather than an issue of having too many campus projects. Both he and Miss Johnson cited the example of a weekend in December when nine functions were scheduled on Saturday night and seven on Friday, while the week before was relatively vacant.

One On Friday

The first measure approved by the board was one calling for the limiting of each living group to four major social functions each year, two each semester. This ruling further provides that one of these each semester be held on a Friday night and one on Saturday night.

Limit Number

Under the above plan, activities would be restricted to four including the all-campus affair on nights when such is anticipated. On other nights the limit was set at six. All groups must submit their requests three weeks in advance of the date wanted.

New Activities

Board members passed on a recommendation that any activity desiring campus-wide participation petition the approval of the SAB before carrying out the plan. Appeal to the executive board would be possible. This measure will be presented to the administration for their consideration.

A recommendation favoring that the Calendar committee be made up of two faculty members and three students—two appointed by the executive board and one from the AWS—was approved.

Hillman Group Offers $1,000

A $1,000 prize dissertation award for a scholarly work on trade union development, race relations or world peace, including related educational, economic and political problems, is being offered by the Sidney Hillman foundation.

The award was founded by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, CIO, in memory of the late labor leader who led the union for 32 years until his death in 1946.

To qualify, a student must have fulfilled requirements for Ph.D. degree from a recognized university, or be engaged with a recognized university in a teaching or research capacity which requires the equivalent of a Ph.D.

The dissertation must be forwarded to the Sidney Hillman Foundation, Inc., 15 Union Square, New York 3, N. Y., by the dean of the appropriate graduate school and not later than July 1, 1949. The dissertation will be published by the Foundation.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Bill Gasman, sports editor of the WSC EVERGREEN has lowered the dying feud between himself and Jason to the "bulldog level." The Cougar editor has decided to abandon his pen and seek a different field of battle upon which to display his talents.

Gives Up Pen

The challenge which Mr. Gasman has flung at your writer in a final "saving of face" attempt has been printed on page two of this issue. It is evident that Gasman has decided to give up the literary battle; however, Jason is extremely disappointed that the Cougar fan could not devise a more original scheme.

One walkathon between the two schools is fine. It promotes both publicity and good will for both parties. Any additional walks quickly lose their individuality. Why not bet a boat ride down Paradise creek or a newsprint eating contest? Leave the walkathon for the editor and student body president in the fall.

Be that as it may; the glove has been thrown. With confidence in the ability of the Vandal five, Jason accepts and promises to provide a fitting reception for Mr. Gasman when he arrives in Moscow in the near future to fulfill the challenge.

In accepting this "duel" as Mr. Gasman calls it, Jason believes that it is only appropriate that the EVERGREEN sports editor answer the literary challenge which was given him in the initial round of the controversy. "Produce the names of the Idaho fans who spoke in protest against Nick Stallworth at the Idaho-WSC game on January 23."

If You Please, Mr. Gasman

Certainly Mr. Gasman will be able to back up his statement that some Idaho fans did do as he stated. Facts are the backbone of any columnist. As the Pullmanites think that some outward evidence of a victory is necessary, Jason will publish the names and admit defeat if Mr. Gasman can supply the names. However, if the reverse might happen by some outside chance, Jason will expect Mr. Gasman to print the fact in his column of March 4.

Jason feels certain that Mr. Gasman will welcome this chance to return the controversy to a more dignified plane.

Graduates Needed For Scout Work

The Boy Scouts of America will recruit approximately 200 men to fill Field Scout Executive positions in almost every section of the country during the months of February, March, and April.

These positions should appeal to college graduates who have had some background in Scouting and like to work with people.

The starting salaries now range from $2400 to $3200. In some sections of the country they have already adopted minimum starting salaries of $3000.

Any University of Idaho graduate interested in scouting professionally, should see Harlow H. Campbell, director of university placement service, Administration building, room 204.

University Is Given $750 To Encourage 4-H Work

Continuing its policy of encouraging 4-H club work in better electrification, the Washington Water Power company has given the University of Idaho $750 to provide awards for club leaders and members. Formal acceptance of the gift by the board of regents was announced today by President J. E. Buchanan of the university.

The fund will pay the expenses of numerous outstanding 4-H youths in attending the summer short course at the university. It will also provide gold medals for blue-ribbon winners.

Additional Gifts

Other gifts accepted by the regents included $50 from L. C. Garrigus, Portland, Ore., as an addition to the Richard Garrigus White Memorial Loan fund. White, a former forestry student at the University of Idaho, was killed in World War II. The fund was established by his father with an initial contribution of money saved by the son.

New contributions to the Alumni Student Loan fund and the Alumni Scholarship fund were made by Eugene Lipka, Salt Lake City, and William S. Campbell, Boise, respectively.

ASUI Play Relies On Type Variety Instead Of Plot

"The Time of Your Life" to be presented March 4-6 has no conventional plot but rather relies on a wide variety of characters, who, as they drift through Nick's Bar, express themselves so as to develop the typically Saroyan theme.

Saroyan tells people, "In the time of your life, live... so that in that good time there shall be no ugliness or death for yourself or for any life your life touches."

Portray All Kinds

The philosophy of the play revolves around the central character, Joe, who is a wealthy young man extremely perceptive of the problems of those around him.

Outstanding characters in Joe's little drama are Tom, his friend and errandboy, as played by Rich Pennell; and the girl he falls in love with, Kitty Duval, as portrayed by Colleen Christensen.

Joe meets and helps those of the "lowest" and "highest" classes, from the drunkard, as played by Harry Dalva, and the newsboy, Jack Gregory, to the society gentleman and lady, Roger Hartman and Jo Kortner.

Comedy, "Kiss And Giggle" Will Be Given By Pep Band

More lavish sets, costumes and a larger cast and show are in line for "Kiss and Giggle," the 1949 Pep Band show scheduled for March 25 and 26. A liberalized budget has made possible these more elaborate plans.

A program of popular music under the direction of Bud Walter will begin the production, occupying about a third of the total two hours. Musical comedy based on a parody of college life will make up the remainder of the show.

Centers Love Affair

The story is woven about the love affair of two students, Beverly and Dave, played by Carol Shaffer and John Caple. Comedy leads are portrayed by Jack Lein, as an angel, and Jack Gregory, as the devil.

Music for the comedy is original, written by Mark Barnett, Jack Percival, Bill Ames, Bud Walter and Wally Johnson, a teaching assistant at the university.

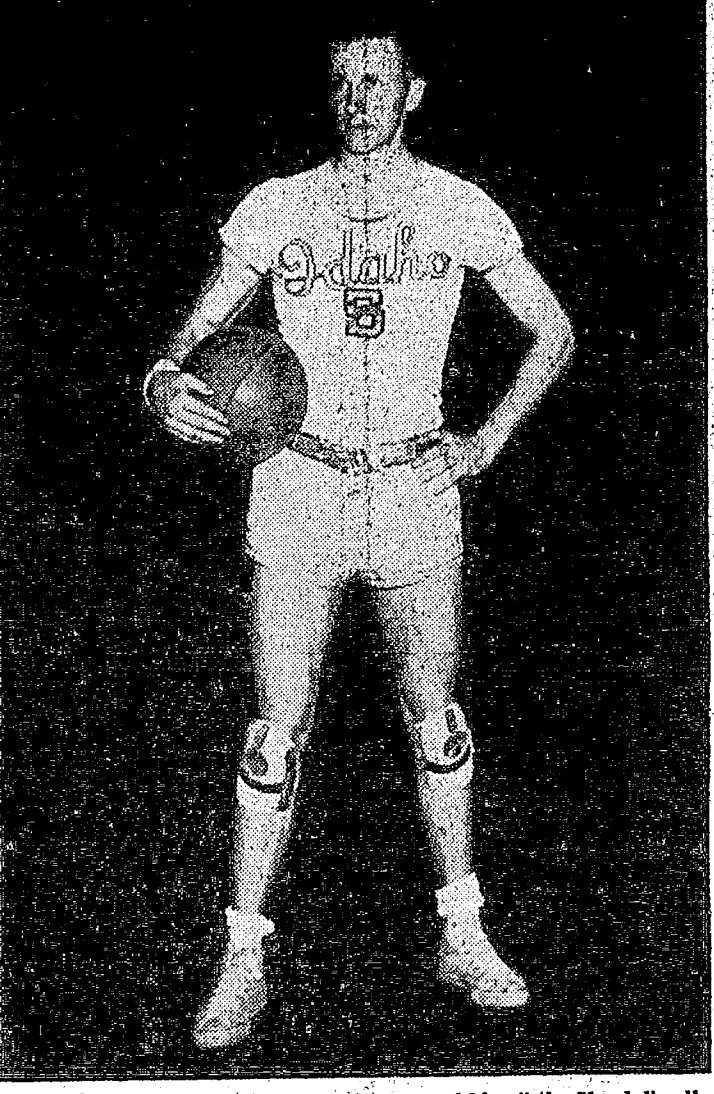

Writers and Directors

Writers of the script and producers and directors of the show are Gregg Potvin and Jack Lein. Dick Parsell is publicity chairman and Fred Willett, business manager.

Bette Tarr, who danced in last year's show, will handle this year's chorus of eight and do several specialty numbers.

Special effects in the hands of Herb Dodge will have new ideas that have never before been tried out at the university.

Well Done Mr. Brimhall!

Preston Brimhall, "6 foot two with eyes of blue," the Vandal's all-time second string guard last year, and leading contender for the first team selection this year, will be playing his last home game for Idaho when the Vandals meet WSC in Memorial gymnasium Friday night. Brimhall led Vandal scorers last year and is third on the team for the current season. He will turn in his suit following the Saturday night WSC-Idaho basketball game in Pullman in which he will wear the Idaho colors for the last time.

NSA Members Investigate Chinese Financial Condition

"A recent government regulation has affected several exchange students on this campus. The NSA committee is in the process of investigating the Chinese students' status further and urges that anyone knowing of available employment contact one of the following members of NSA: Shirley Jacobsen, 2425; Vernon Bahr, 2187; and Dave Ulmer, 2186," said Bob Dahlstrom, NSA president.

U. S. Rulings

The National Student association reports a critical financial condition of Chinese students in the U. S. A government regulation has prohibited employment of Chinese students unless it does not interfere with their full course of study. This regulation prevents many students from engaging in employment adequate to supply their needs.

Seek Scholarships

NSA requested of the Immigration and Naturalization Service that attention be given to the Chinese students, who will be obliged to discontinue their studies and face deportation unless they are permitted employment during the school term.

Attempts are being made through the NSA to find part-time employment for the Chinese students, to seek scholarships, and to acquire community support for them.

Group To Present 1949 Spur Waddle At Friday Game

Spurs, the sophomore women's service honorary, will present their Spur Waddle at the WSC basketball game Friday night. This annual event will be held during the half time in Memorial gym.

Marching in drill formation to the music of the Pep Band, the group will do a series of precision figures. Climaxing the routine will be the formation of the letters WSC while the band plays the Washington State fight song and the outline of the State of Idaho saluting our alma mater with "Here We Have Idaho."

Will Darken Gym

Mary Louise Will, president, said that additional interest would be added to the drill by the wearing of individual lights on the hats of each Spur. The gymnasium will be darkened.

Following the game a joint party will be given by this year's Spur group in co-operation with last year's Spur group. Rosemary Fitzgerald, past president of Spurs announced that a slumber party will be held at the Tri Delta house. All members of both Spur groups are urged to attend. Permission that night will be 12:45.

Business Women Plan Spring Rush

The Phi Chi Theta members have started plans for spring rushing. Girls eligible are those enrolled in the school of business, who have completed three semesters at the university with a 2.8 grade average.

Barbara Schaff and Marge Lampman are in charge of rushing plans.

Margaret Barron was elected vice-president at a recent meeting, replacing Marion Forrey who moved into the president's position when last year's president did not return to school.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Attic club dance which is to be held Friday, March 4, from 9 p.m. to 12, will be on sale Friday, February 25.

The Western section of the American Society of Animal Production will meet jointly with the University of Idaho and Washington State college on June 27, 28 and 29, announces C. W. Hickman, head of the department of animal husbandry.

The regular meeting of the American Society of Animal Production is held in Chicago at the time of the International Livestock Exposition. The western section meetings are held so that a larger local group may attend, Hickman said.

At the meeting in June the western section of the American Dairy Science association is meeting jointly with the western section of American Society of Animal Production.

KUOI Leaves Air Tomorrow For Installation And Repair

KUOI will leave the air midnight, February 26, and not return until 7 a.m. March 7, for the purpose of installing a new transmitter, repairing the console, and installing new turntables.

The new equipment was purchased with money obtained from ASUI appropriations. Chuck Hudson, chief engineer, will be in charge of the installation.

Transmit By Pines

Upon returning to the air, an experiment of transmitting programs over water pipes rather than the existing telephone lines will be instituted.

"Such a system has been used with a high degree of success by other stations similar to ours. Every possible effort is being made to insure good reception from KUOI in living groups on the campus as well as the city of Moscow," said Dave Lewis, station director.

Take Survey

To help KUOI improve its coverage of what people want to hear, a Hooper type survey, which attempts to find what percent of people with radios are listening to or to Fraternity Month. He is the author of a text book on legal Latin.

Who Is Your Brother's Keeper?

"Am I my brother's keeper?" Without thinking about the question, most people would answer yes. The answer is almost implied by the question and is almost certainly demanded by the apparent nature of things. Every theory of the origin of man—from the Bible to Darwinism—leads to put one conclusion—the equality of man.

After thinking about the question for a while, most people's answers would probably be a more dubious "yes" with some mental reservations.

Generalities are fine, but when it comes to interpreting the generalities in terms of particular situations it is a different thing. Man in his irrational way, always sees himself as the exception that proves a rule. Brotherhood, for him, becomes something to talk about and something for others to practice. He, being superior, doesn't need to worry about such things.

His practice of brotherhood is too often restricted to words. "Full belly child says to hungry-belly child, 'Be of good cheer,'" says the proverb of an African tribe. It expresses the general attitude quite well.

Acceptance of a theory of brotherhood leaves no room for exceptions. "Am I my brother's keeper?" demands an affirmative answer with no hedging, no exceptions. It demands proof of the answer in action, and in a feeling of compassion for all peoples and for all people.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason,
 Enclosed you will find an article clipped from The Daily Idahoonian. It looks to me that this is definitely university news and should have been printed in the school paper. Since my first day on the Idaho campus, I've heard stories of the great rivalry between the two schools of the Palouse empire. Idaho in the past has had a little difficulty in winning its share of the contests the two schools engage in. Lately the basketball team and the boxing team have been doing their share to change this. The intra-mural volleyball champions do the same but in spite of their efforts don't even get recognition.

I think any time an Idaho team beats a WSC team in anything the student body should hear about it. An article was turned in to the Arg office but apparently ignored. Maybe I'm wrong.

Bill Last
 (Jason is certainly red-faced about this one. Any defeat of a WSC squad is music to these ears. The article mentioned by Mr. Last will be found on the sports page of this issue. Apologies are in order and extended.)
 Casper, Wyoming
 February 16, 1940

Dear Jason,
 The Arg. for January finally reached this isolated part of the country and parts of them were very funny, at least to me.

I am referring to the complaints about the weather you are having. Compared to last year at this time you are having some bad weather. At least I presume that from the descriptions in the paper.

However, compared to Casper you might as well be living in Florida. Since the first of the year it has been almost completely isolated here. Occasionally "Operations Snow-bound" will succeed in opening the roads for a whole day and sometimes may be two. Mail is delayed both coming and going.

As for the temperature, sixteen below is warm. It has been between 25 and 40 below for the last month in and around Casper, with a 20 to 50 mile wind.

When you have lived through two months of weather such as this, the weather that Moscow has been having sounds wonderful.

Hope you won't consider your lot such a bad one now.

Doris Paasch

Wicks To Present Films To Schools In South Idaho

Guy P. Wicks, field agent for the University of Idaho, left on a trip by car, February 21, to meet with the senior classes of various high schools throughout southern Idaho.

Wicks is taking with him several campus films to show high school students and numerous alumni and booster groups. "The main idea is to let the prospective students know what the university is and what they can get here," said Wicks.

Take In Tournaments

The A basketball tournaments at Boise, Twin Falls, and Pocatello; the B class tournaments at Kimberly and Rexburg, and the annual athletic banquet at Buhl, March 6, are also in line with the tour.

Coach Chuck Finley is planning to join Wicks for the B tournaments at Kimberly and Rexburg. During this same period, freshman coach Steve Belko will be attending the Panhandle tournament held at Wallace.

Wicks met 88 senior classes during his tour last year and is planning to equal the number this year.

Kongsgaard Jumps Fourth In Meet

Sverre Kongsgaard, Norwegian exchange student and a member of the Idaho ski club here at the University of Idaho, rated fourth place in the national ski jumping tournament at Salt Lake City this week. Kongsgaard made twin jumps of 262 feet.

First place was taken by Pether Hugsted, last year's Olympic ski-jumping champion from Norway. Hugsted made leaps of 262 and 263 feet, with near perfect form. The net two places were taken by Art Devlin of Lake Placid, N. Y., and George Thane, a Norwegian exchange student at Washington State college. Art Devlin placed second with jumps of 257 and 264 feet. Both of Thane's leaps measured 253 feet which gave him third place honors.

Art Tokle, last year's national winner, followed Kongsgaard in fifth place. Tokle made the longest jump in the meet, measuring 265 feet.

Gasman Challenges, Jason Accepts

Honorable John Martin, Editor THE IDAHO ARGONAUT U. OF IDAHO, Moscow, Idaho Mr. Fleecer:

WHEREAS: The Honorable John Martin, Editor of the IDAHO ARGONAUT, has, in his column devoted to pulling the wool over the Idaho student body, repeatedly made unfair remarks about the Sports Editor of the WSC EVERGREEN over the "Stallworth affair," the aforementioned Sports Editor of the WSC EVERGREEN, Bill Gasman, does hereby challenge said Martin to defend his honor in a walking duel. Acceptance of said duel will be upon the following terms:

Yours for friendly relations,
BILL GAMAN

Quarter vs. Semester Plan Topic Of Much Controversy

A controversy has been stirred up among people in the field of education over the quarter or the semester system of school attendance. According to some educators, there is a great waste of students' time as a result of the arrangement of the university calendar for the academic year. Due to long vacations the average college student attends classes from 30 to 33 weeks a year.

Exponents of the quarter system say that a semester is defined as a period of six months but in reality it amounts to only four months. However, the quarter system makes it possible for the student to attend college for four quarters, or a full year, to hasten the day of graduation. Because many professional fields require a baccalaureate degree for entrance, the quarter system would seem more advantageous.

To get the opinions of the people that are most affected by the school calendar, the following poll was taken among various students on the campus:

Rose Marie Whitney, Tri Delta: "I'm all for the semester system because vacations seem to be longer. I'm in no hurry to get through school."

Del Stelljes, Town: "I'm all for instituting the quarter system. The advantages of a continued summer school appeal to me."

Jim Hanson, Kappa Sig: "The quarter system has many more advantages. Tests at the quarter wouldn't cover so great an amount of material."

James Burns, Tau Kappa Epsilon: "I like the vacations of the semester system but the quarter system has the marked advantage of a year around school. However, school is school no matter how you look at it."

Bob Knudson, Phi Delta: "I think we should obliterate both systems. Pass everyone with a doctor's degree the first year. What this country needs is more learned men."

Joyce Becker, Gamma Phi: "A quarter system is better all the way around. For one thing, when you go home at Christmas you're through with your tests and ready to relax with no worries."

Pat O'Leary, Kappa Alpha Theta: "Don't ask me about the school system. I liked the poll about what was wrong with men best. That's one subject I know something about."

SAI's Install Two New Patronesses

Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, held installation of patronesses Thursday noon at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

VANDALEERS TO PRESENT

The Vandaleers will present a 15-minute program at the Moscow Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, March 7. This will be their second annual performance for the C. of C.

Winter Of '49, Moscow

Tactics Of Old Man Winter Include Snow, Rain, Floods

Old Man Winter hit the Idaho campus right on the chin during the past four months with a combination of snow, freezing temperatures, rain and the threat of possible future floods.

Winter weather was ushered in early in November when the campus was blanketed with snow several weeks earlier than normal. Within a few days, scores of cars on the campus were blocked in their parking places.

January Coldest Perhaps the worst damage came with the extremely low temperatures in January—the coldest month on record in the Moscow area. During most of January, Moscow, along with the rest of the northwest, suffered from a critical power shortage caused by a lack of water flowing down from the mountains to turn power generators.

Several houses on the campus were damaged as a result of severe stresses caused by freezing temperatures. In one house an entire brick wall began to bow and pull away from the floor.

Heavy Snowfall More than 100 inches of snow have fallen on the campus since November, with almost 40 inches recorded so far in February. Residents of the trailer village and other low areas in the city are more than a little worried about the prospect of flood waters sweeping down on them if a heavy rain or extremely warm weather should melt the remaining snow.

Students admitted to the infirmary this week include Charles Richardson, Jamie Rollier, Robert Suddaway, Whitman Symmes, Leonard Lundstrom, Donald White-man, Henry Holt, Gerald Weaver, Stewart Ailor, Violette Grant, Janet Fulton, Maralee McReynolds, Donald Culhane, Harold Johnson, Charles Vogelsong, Carl Kenney, Meade Kohl, Donald Dirke, and Barbara Hurd.

Lester Hutchinson, Carolyn Craddock, Gerald Stevenson, Thane Johnson, Robert Uhrig, Richard Merrill, and Brent Harris were discharged. Students both admitted and discharged include Allen Cranston, James Haynes, William Malpass, Alene Kelley, John Miller, and Gordon Fuller.

There were 403 graduates at mid-year commencement at St. Louis University.

Cagers Tangle With WSC In Last Vandal Contests

Two Top Defenses To Clash Tonight

The University of Idaho basketball quintet, with a firm grip on fourth place in the northern division conference standings, tangle with the second place Washington State college Cougars in a home and home series this weekend.

Tonight the Vandals will entertain their Palouse rival in the Memorial gymnasium, while tomorrow night's contest will be switched over to Pullman's Bohler gym.

Idaho, fresh from a double victory over last year's conference champion Washington Huskies last weekend, will be in top shape for the last two contests of the season. The Cougars and the Vandals split their two-game series earlier in the season, with WSC winning here but losing in Pullman.

Vandals Set For Gayda.
The Vandal defense will be set for WSC's All-American candidate Ed Gayda, according to reports by Chuck Finley, mentor of the Idaho quintet.

The Cougars will have to win both of the contests from Idaho in order to stay in the running for contention as champions of the northern division. Oregon State defeated the Staters twice last weekend, thus handing the Friel-coached Cougars their fifth loss in the last seven contests.

Good Defensive Play
This week's battle between the two rivals will bring together two of the finest defensive clubs in the nation. To date WSC holds a slight edge over the Vandals, ranking seventh, allowing their opponents only an average of 43.5 points per contest in 24 games. Idaho, on the other hand, has played in a total of 28 contests and have allowed their opposition 44.9 points per contest, for 10th spot nationally.

Vandal Portraits

Herb Carlson, Idaho's two time intercollegiate champion is back in the ring again this season giving his opponents nothing but trouble.

The blonde hurricane from Wallace began his successful boxing career at the age of five when he received a pair of boxing gloves for Christmas.

Herb took up the sport for enjoyment and just to meet him you would never guess him to be a champion boxer. Action however, speaks louder than words and Herb has proved this with his impressive string of victories. During his high school career at Wallace, Herb fought thirty bouts, losing only one. After graduation from high school he entered the service. This did not change his style however for he won five bouts before he was discharged.

Upon discharge from the army he enrolled for the 1948 fall semester at the University of Idaho as a business major.

Herb went out for boxing in college, earning a varsity position on the team, and has lost but one bout in his college career, that being in the Olympic tryouts.

Time Out

By DON RICE

A week ago, comment appeared in this column regarding the fact that no local radio station with the exception of KUOI would carry the broadcast of the Idaho-Washington basketball games which took place last Friday and Saturday nights.

The column brought attention to the fact that several thousand Vandal fans would be unable either to see or hear the games, due to the limited seating capacity of the gym, and to the failure of Tidewater Associated Oil company to schedule the broadcast over any commercial station in the local area.

The comment was not directed toward any one person or group of individuals, but was merely a note which would be of interest to readers of the column. As such, it served the purpose of informing the general public that KUOI would be the only local station broadcasting the game.

One Dissenter
Only one person among more than 4500 readers of the Argonaut failed to understand the import of the column, and this person, a radio station manager, took it as a personal affront. As a result, he broadcast over the air a letter to Arg Editor John Martin, implying that Your Mentor lacked accuracy in this column.

Every fact in the column in question was absolutely accurate, with the possible exception of the statement that "it's the obligation of the station to carry the account of the home-town team rather than that of two teams from out of town." And this person, who has "been in radio over 20 years," may eventually find that he actually does have an obligation to the town in which he broadcasts.

Furthermore, with 20 years of broadcasting behind him, he should realize that his cue is not to broadcast a personal attack against anyone, whether a critic or not. Rather, his cue is to confine himself to broadcasting the facts of the case—the reasons why.

Here Are the Facts
1) The local station would be violating its contract with Tidewater by not broadcasting the WSC-OSC game. 2) KWSC in Pullman is prohibited from broadcasting commercially sponsored games. (KUOI can broadcast such games by using its own facilities and giving credit to the sponsor.) 3) It was impossible for a station to make a separate broadcast of the game, since KREM in Spokane and KING in Seattle were using the broadcasting booth in the gym. 4) The local station did attempt to change the broadcast schedule prepared by Tidewater.

New Sport Looms For Idaho, WSC

A new competitive sport between the University of Idaho and Washington State college may catch hold this year and become a part of the athletic programs of the two schools in the near future. It is volleyball.

A team of Washington State college athletes recently challenged a team from Idaho and the two met at the Idaho court with the Vandal representatives taking two games in a three-game series by scores of 12-5, 15-8 and 15-11. A return series is slated for Pullman March 5.

Making up the Idaho team, captained and managed by Bill Last, include Carl Munson, Jim Guy, Ted Baker, Jim Atchison, Phil Litzberger, and Warren Shepherd. The Cougar squad, coached by Russ Turner, San Diego, Calif., has also arranged matches with other area teams.

The Pershing Rifles, honor military organization, has been reactivated at the University of South Dakota.

For relaxation Herb likes to spend a week-end at his favorite fishing or hunting grounds and live in the great out-doors.

"Sweet Williams"

Willis Sweet Defeats KS To Annex 'Mural Crown

Willis Sweet's team number two blasted into Kappa Sigma Wednesday night to outshoot, outrun, and outjump the house league champs into a 44 to 32 loss. Bob Mays of Kappa Sig opened scoring with a push shot soon after the game's beginning but Willis Sweet retaliated with a barrage that remained consistent throughout the remainder of the game. At halftime the score was 34 to 20.

Mendiola of Willis Sweet led scorers with 20 while McFaul was high for the losers with 10. The hall boys won with 12 field goals to 8 and 16 free throws to the Kappa Sig's 12.

Elimination Names Champs
The two champions were decided by elimination from two house leagues and two hall leagues. Total league standings are listed below. Played off to decide listed positions.

With the opening of intramural "B" basketball last night, a new record for the university was established. 42 registered "B" teams plus the 30 "A" teams who have just completed their schedule make a total of 70 teams, or approximately 800 men, competing in intramural basketball.

Excluding points made in play-off games, high point man for the schedule is Sperm Heazlett. His 88 points were easily enough to beat out the nearest challengers, Ed McFaul of Kappa Sigma and Jerry Perrich of Idaho club's team No 2; each hung up 74 points in six games. Dale Eckert tallied 31 points in one game while playing for Campus club team No. 1.

Idaho, Wisconsin Battlers Meet In Madison Tonight

By the time Idaho and WSC courtmen complete their first half hoop-shooting formalities at the Memorial gymnasium buckets this evening, an Associated Press release will deliver to Vandal boxing fans the results of Idaho's fistic exploits in Madison, Wisconsin, tonight, against the highly touted University of Wisconsin Badger bellers.

Idaho Swim Team Ends Cycle Today Against Montana

Wisconsin annexed the National Collegiate Athletic association boxing crown last season, a feat that now seems habitual with the Big Nine school, and this year the Badgers have three of their four NCAA champions back dancing on the canvas. In addition, the Wisconsin squad is currently operating with a string of twenty-one straight consecutive dual victories.

Still pitching leather for the Badgers are Steve Gremban, NCAA 125-pound champion, Don Dickinson, NCAA 145-pound champ, and John Lendenski, 1947 NCAA 165-pound title holder. Lendenski will face Idaho's 1948, 165-pound NCAA champion, Herb Carlson, in a fight that should highlight the eight bout varsity bill. Carlson won the NCAA 155-pound title the same year the Wisconsin lad was chopping out his 165-pound crown.

Ted Diehl, Idaho's sharp shooting light-heavyweight, lately having more than his share of hard luck in the ring, receives another disappointment when he crawls into the Madison roped square this evening. Diehl, fully recovered from an injured optic which forced him out of action in the Gonzaga match last week, will not be given an opportunity to square things with a Badger rival named Calvin Vernon. Vernon, Wisconsin's 1948 NCAA light-heavyweight champion, cut Diehl's troublesome eye in the first round of their national collegiate bout last year, a cut which knocked Diehl out of a possible NCAA championship. This season the junior Negro NCAA champion from Milwaukee flunked a history course and is ineligible for competition.

Idaho fighters that made the mid-west trip with Coach Frank Young and team manager, George Doolittle, are DeForrest Tovey, 125; Norm Walker, 130; Len Walker, 135; Tudy Marks, 145, substituting for varsity regular Thane Johnson; Vern Bahr, 155; Herb Carlson, 165; Ted Diehl, 175, and heavyweight Don Ellis.

Two Men Out
On the darker side, two Idaho tankers will be out of action because of injuries. Winston Bishop has an injured shoulder and will leave the diving chores to Jack Smith, who came through to win first place against Oregon last week. Carl Kinney, regular anchor man on the relay team, will have his role reduced to that of a spectator because of a boil on his neck.

A dual meet with EWCE, scheduled for last Tuesday, was cancelled on account of the poor road conditions.

Peck Heads P.M.A.
Ron Peck was elected president of Phi Mu Alpha, men's national music honorary, at a recent meeting. Other officers elected were Henry Si John, vice president; Harold Nokes, secretary; Dick Atwood, treasurer.
