THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1949

GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Announcements that the calendar committee will adopt the recent recommendations of the ASUI executive board in their policy and that the administration will give a student proposal for 1 p.m. permission a trial are indicative of the high point student-faculty relations have attained on the campus.

With such a cooperative feeling and the desire to aid and further both groups and the university as a whole, students can be assured that other beneficial measures are in the offing. From constructive suggestion and criticism, everyone gains.

Good Management

A well-rounded social weekend awaits Idaho students this weekend. Despite the number of events, each is arranged so that any student can enjoy one or all of the functions. House and hall functions are practically nil Friday and Saturday. With the ASUI play being given on two consecutive nights, students who wish to attend the boxing matches with Gonzaga will be able to do so Friday night and attend the play on Saturday, if they desire.

Two all-campus dances have been planned, one for Friday and the other on Saturday. Both the annual "Woodchoppers Ball" and the Attic club's "Abstraction Personified" will be able to draw all who wish to attend.

On to Pullman

In a note of appreciation and for enlightenment, Jason will endeavor to explain the reason why he must trek to Pullman this afternoon.

As was stated in the challenge printed in last Friday's ARGONAUT, the bet was to be based on the Idaho-WSC series. Further explanation was not given because the challenge had already been printed when final arrangements were completed.

The actual challenge issued by the WSC sports editor was to be based on the Idaho-WSC game in Pullman Saturday night. Not wanting to have the game here go without notice, Jason placed a call to Mr. Gasman to have the challenge center on the series.

Challenge Changed

It was nearly press time when the call was completed. Therefore both Gasman and Jason decided to make the wager more inclusive by having the winner be decided by the team which had the larger total score. With the copy already set, it was much easier to eliminate the clause "centered around the Idaho-WSC game Saturday February 26" and insert "centered around the Idaho-WSC series this weekend."

The Cougar total was higher than the Vandals; therefore Jason will leave the ARGONAUT office on foot at 1 p.m. today. Barring any unforeseen interruptions, Jason hopes to get to the EVERGREEN office by nightfall.

Gem Needs Lists

Seniors may still turn in their activity lists at the Gem office, according to a statement by Phil Schnell, editor.

Many students in the schools of Letters and Science and Business have not done this, while a high percentage of Engineering and Agriculture majors have informed the Gem of their activities.

COMING EVENTS

- SUNDAY: Foreign students meet at 4 p.m. in the upstairs lounge of the Blue Bucket. MONDAY: Independent Caucus meets at 7:30 p.m. in Willis Sweet hall. The student chapter of the A.I. Ch.E. will convene in room 102 of Kirtley Laboratory at 7:30 p.m. TUESDAY: Ag Engineers' meeting at 7 p.m. in room 300 of the Engineering building. All living group song leaders will meet in room 3 of the music hall at 7 p.m. Attendance is required to obtain rules of song fest.

Women's Late Permission Extension Begins Tonight

Executive Board Policies Adopted By Calendar Group

Campus coeds will have their late permission on Friday nights extended to 1 a.m. beginning tonight. Members of the student-faculty council announced that the executive board sponsored proposal will depend upon attendance at Saturday classes remaining unaffected, it was announced.

The academic council will determine whether or not the permission is being abused. This is the second such extension of women's permission in recent years. In the fall of 1947, Saturday night permission was prolonged to 1 p.m.

Calendar Committee

The recommendations passed by the ASUI executive board to alleviate the activities problem on the campus will become a part of the calendar committee's program effective immediately, a spokesman for that body stated yesterday.

Foremost among these recommendations was one limiting each living group to four major social functions each year, two of which must be held Friday nights. A further limitation measure states that major social functions be limited to six on any one night. When an all-campus event is scheduled, the maximum number is lowered to four.

Changes Adopted

Under the new changes in policy, the calendar committee will get a list of athletic dates at the beginning of the fall semester, and put them on the calendar. Within three weeks of the opening of school, all other campus events must be scheduled. If the people in charge of such functions fail to notify the calendar committee, they will be given no preference for their dates.

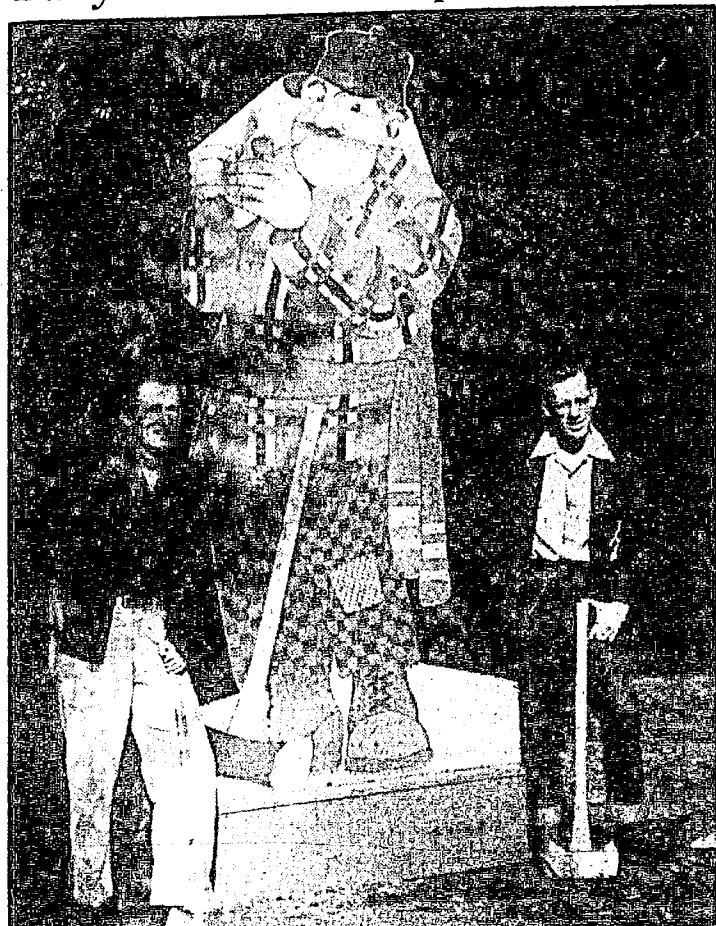

A further recommendation will make mandatory the securing of student activity board approval before any new all-campus event can get authorization and a date from the calendar committee.

Riflemen Second In College Meet

University of Idaho riflemen placed second in competition with 17 colleges and universities in this area in Sixth Army Intercollegiate Gallery matches fired last month.

University of San Francisco garnered 10 more points than Idaho to take first place. University of California took third, followed by WSC, University of Arizona, and UCLA. These six teams will now compete in the National ROTC intercollegiate and interscholastic matches.

Bunyan and Aides Prepare for Dance

Minus his "Blue Ox" which he has promised will be at the annual "Woodchopper's Ball" to be held in the Blue Bucket tomorrow night, Paul Bunyan takes time out to light his pipe. He is flanked on the left by woodsman Loren Robinson and on the right by woodsman Lorin Welker.

NSA Makes Plans For Exchange Of Idaho Students

Word has been released by Bob Dahlstrom, NSA president, that the National Student's Association at the University of Idaho is engaged in trying to locate jobs for Chinese exchange students here.

At the present time Idaho's NSA group is in the process of formulating a plan whereby the University of Idaho will exchange students with foreign universities in Europe or South America. Thus far, only a bare groundwork has been laid.

Sponsors Listed

It must be pointed out, stated Dahlstrom, that the university itself does not sponsor the exchange students. This procedure will be sponsored by social groups throughout the state of Idaho, such as women's clubs, Kiwanis, or Rotary. Students will be selected, however, said Dahlstrom, by a university academic council on scholastic ability.

Four additional members have been appointed recently to NSA by the university executive board.

Abstract Clothing To Be Reviewed At Artists' Dance

"Abstraction Personified," the theme of the annual Attic Club Dance, to be held tonight in the Art building, is being strictly adhered to by the decoration committee, taking full advantage of all three dimensions in the colorful free-form abstracts that will decorate the room.

The "New Look" weather, and the elements are in for it, too, when the club presents its fashion show during the intermission. The models, in place of wearing the latest Parisian fashions, will wear clothing with an abstract theme. Norman Carothers will emcee the show.

Dress for the dance is informal, and tickets are now on sale for $1.20 at the various living groups and at the Art building. The B and K Combo will provide the music. Door prizes will be two water articles.

University To Confer Honorary Degrees On Three

ARKANSAS HIGH

Fraternity men at the University of Arkansas accounted for the highest grade point of any state university in the nation in 1947-48.

Scholarship Given Former RAF Pilot For Study Here

A $750 graduate scholarship at the University of Idaho has been granted to Kenneth Frederick Parkin, a former RAF member and now a student at the University College of North Wales, it was announced today by Dean C. W. Hungerford of the graduate school.

The scholarship is one of two provided by the Idaho State Federation of Women's Clubs for deserving and qualified foreign students to promote better international understanding.

Choosing Committee A committee consisting of Hungerford, H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, and Arthur H. Beattie, chairman of languages, was appointed by President J. E. Buchanan to select students for the scholarships. Winner of the second scholarship will be announced later.

Parkin was a member of the Royal Air Force from 1942 to 1946, and will graduate from the University College of North Wales in forestry. He will begin his graduate work at the University of Idaho in September.

BOOKS "DARNED HIGH"

According to E. O. Fuller, manager of the University of Wyoming bookstore, "Textbooks are too darned high. Students are being hi-jacked—but we can do nothing. We are forced to sell books at list price. If we do not, the publishers will not send the books to us."

Action Begins At 8:15 p.m. Tonight

Tension is sure to mount as the audience views the above scene from the ASUI play "The Time of Your Life" which will be presented in the auditorium tonight. Tom, the errand boy (Rich Pennell) stands, fingering a pistol, as Joe (Neal Christensen) nervously explains things.

Woodsmen Complete Plans For Annual Forestry Dance

Weekend festivities of the Associated Foresters will be centered around the annual visit of "Paul Bunyan" and "Babe, the Blue Ox." Celebration of the occasion will take place at the Woodchoppers Ball, Saturday from 9 to 12 in the Student Union ballroom.

Music will be furnished by Norm Herzinger and his orchestra; admission is $1.50. Tickets may be obtained from living group representatives or from Merle Stratton, Chrisman hall.

Punch Served

Accompanying the appearance of Paul and Babe will be the famous well, from which punch will be served. In charge of refreshments are Paul Hoskins and Joe Venishnik.

John Tkach and the decoration committee, under the direction of Bruce Colwell, general chairman, are arranging the ballroom in the style to which the giant forester is accustomed, but details have not yet been revealed.

Dress for the affair will be levis and plaid shirts and similar appropriate to a "denizen of the woods."

IK's Expect 400 At Annual Meet

Several organization functions were discussed at IK meeting held Wednesday night.

Plans for the national convention to be held at Pullman April 21-23 are progressing, and between 350 and 400 men are expected to attend. As part of the program for the convention, there will be a banquet and dance held at the Washington hotel on Friday evening, April 22.

Other business discussed at the meeting was the formation of a committee to plan the spring picnic. The date has not been set.

Formal initiation will take place the first part of April for pledges who are eligible for membership.

Curtain Rises On "Time Of Your Life" Tonight; Christensen Takes Lead Role

Tux Attire Reigns At Fraternities' Ball On March 12

Tuxedos will be in style again when the Interfraternity council presents its annual formal ball March 12. Dancing to Fev Pratt and his orchestra will highlight the evening, which begins at 9 p.m. in the Blue Bucket ballroom.

Jack Lein, publicity chairman, stated yesterday that admission is $2.00 per couple. Corsages will be in order. Each fraternity will invite one patron and one patroness to attend the ball.

Committee Heads

Other committee chairmen included Bill Garten, tickets; Bob Pond, decorations, and Gene Michaels, orchestra. Dick Boyle, president of the Interfraternity council, is general chairman for this event.

Flags and plaques representing the various fraternity houses will be utilized in a decorative scheme. A dinner for all council members only will be held at the Beta Theta Pi house preceding the ball. Each fraternity sponsors two council members.

Flying Club Gets New Piper Cub J-3

The Vandal Flying Club's long awaited Piper Cub J-3 arrived Wednesday afternoon. It was test flown by President John Brandt and vice president Wally Schmidt, and will be put into full time operation next week.

Flying will be done under a contract with Pete Fountain, manager of the Moscow Sky ranch.

At the club's regular meeting in the upstairs lounge of the Blue Bucket last Wednesday, members were reminded that everyone flying in the state of Idaho must have an Idaho state pilot's license.

These can be obtained by sending $1.00 and name, age, rating, sex, and license number to the Department of Aeronautics, State of Idaho, Boise, Idaho.

All members are encouraged to be at the next meeting in the Bucket, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Conference Head To Visit North

Victor O. Schmidt, Pacific Coast conference commissioner, left Los Angeles a week ago accompanied by his assistant, H. D. Thoreau, on a three-week tour of northern division schools.

Schmidt will discuss conference policies with university officials and coaches, interview students, and examine athletic department records.

Madison Hospitality A Treat For Boxing Team Members

The boxing team, many of whom had never been east before the Wisconsin trip are still praising the hospitality shown in Madison. Another first for all the boys except Carlson and Diehl was the experience of flying. The geography lesson they gained was accentuated by perfect weather encountered during the day they flew.

Upon arrival in Madison, the team checked into their hotel and were met by John Walsh, Wisconsin's boxing coach, and a committee from the university. Among committee members was former world's middleweight wrestling champ Jim DeMeret, who opened the doors of his well-equipped massage room to the Idaho boys.

A barrage of newspaper photographers had plenty of exercise when Herb Carlson presented Coach Walsh with a sixteen-inch rainbow trout "to show him the kind of fishing we have in Idaho."

Photographers Attend

Fourteen thousand people saw the fights and a surprising number backed Idaho. Life magazine was on hand and a number of pictures were taken. After the Neal Christensen as Joe takes the lead in "Time of Your Life," which will be presented tonight and tomorrow by the drama department under the direction of Miss Jean Collette.

Educational Tours Offered Students In Summer Months

The United States National Student's association is offering 11 separate travel-study tours through foreign countries to students of American colleges who can qualify.

The tours are primarily to increase individual friendship between students of this country and abroad, and to contribute to a fuller understanding among peoples of the world.

Included in the NSA program is a tri-nation tour, with visits in Holland, England, and France; a Northern study tour of England, Scandinavia, and Holland; a Southern study tour of France, Italy and Switzerland; a Switzerland-Italy study tour with visits throughout the two countries; an international study tour of the centers of culture, commerce, and political life in Western and Southern Europe; a Scandinavian tour through Denmark, Norway, and Sweden; a Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland study tour; a Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria study tour; and a series of Latin American study tours.

Each tour is made for a blanket price and is restricted as to the number of students allowed. A short length of time is set aside on the tours for independent travel and study.

The deadline on application for one of these study-tours has been advanced to March 29. Application-blanks and further information can be obtained at the ASUI office in the Bucket.

Plans To Convert Lounge Revealed

First project of the newly-organized women's "I" club will be the renovation of a room in the women's gymnasium.

At a meeting last Monday night members decided to partition off a section of the room and convert it into a lounge for physical education majors and "I" club members.

President Rusty Grant said that furniture, a bookcase, and other material will be placed in the room. It is hoped a reference library can be built up.

"The room will be mainly a place to relax and hold meetings," Miss Grant said. Women's "I" club meets the first Monday of each month.

Miss Grant also announced that the organization had officially adopted grey for their sweater color. Gold "I's" will be worn.

NO COLOR LINE

No new fraternity with a discriminatory clause in its constitution will be allowed at the University of New Mexico.

The play was written by William Saroyan and the story is set in Nick's Pacific Street Bar and Entertainment Palace in San Francisco. Joe is a wealthy, sophisticated philosopher sits back and observes the behavior of the bar's patrons and occasionally puts out a hand to alter their lives.

Cast List

Other characters in the play are Nick, the bartender, played by Jim Ford; Harry the Hooper, Tom Robinson; Wesley, the colored piano player, Donald MacDonald; Willie, the pinball maniac, Marvin Alexander; Kit Carson, the old-timer; Bob Forster; and the villain-of-the-play, Blick, is played by J. T. Peterson.

The love interest in the play centers around Kitty Duval, who is played by Colleen Christensen and Tom, the errand boy, whose part is taken by Rich Pennell. Joe acts as cupid in this romance.

Others in the cast include Will Overgaard as McCarthy, the longshoreman; Don Stilson as Krupp; Don Miller as Dudley; Lois Winner as Elsie; Barbara Mariner as Lorene; Harry Dalva as the Drunkard; Jack Gregory as the newsboy; and Roger Hartman and Jo Korter as the society lady and gentleman.

Broadway Production

The play was a successful Broadway production and received the Pulitzer prize and the Critic Circle award. The main character, Joe, is used to present the author's philosophy that all humans are possessed with an innate goodness.

Street noises, typical bay sounds and the tin-panishness of the honky-tonk create a San Francisco atmosphere.

The play will be presented in the University auditorium and tickets are on sale at the student book store. Students may obtain them by presenting their ASUI books.

Student Is Injured By Accidental Shot Fired By Partner

Jefferson E. Overholser, 22, received slight arm and side wounds yesterday afternoon in a shooting accident at a rock-crushing pit two miles southwest of here. Overholser is from Davenport, Iowa.

The accident occurred at 2:30 p.m. as Overholser and two of his fraternity brothers, Donald Ferguson of Wallace and Carlos Milner of Elkhart, Ind., were shooting a .22 calibre pistol. The men were using the gravel pit on South Palouse creek as a background.

How It Happened

Milner reported his finger was on the trigger when either Overholser or Ferguson spoke to him. The gun accidentally discharged as Milner turned around. The bullet pierced Overholser's left arm one inch above the elbow and passed through his left side.

Overholser's condition was "not serious," said the local physician attending him and he was released from Gritman hospital yesterday morning.

Seniors Can Win Washington Jobs

Opportunities to win a position with the State of Washington are now being offered graduate students and seniors who will have their degrees by June. The State Personnel Board announces that competitive written examinations will be conducted throughout the state on April 2nd for a variety of professional, technical and business positions.

In addition to these openings applications are now being accepted for a number of positions for which no written examination is required.

Application for the positions requiring a written examination must be submitted by March 21st. Applications and information may be obtained from the State of Washington Personnel Board, 1209 Smith Tower, Seattle 4, Washington.

R. R. Crossing Signs Promised

After tossing the buck back and forth for four months, a meeting of civic, university, and state highway department representatives was held in Moscow last Monday afternoon. Quoted from the Daily Idahoian of March 2, "Allen S. Ramstedt, city council president and presiding officer in the absence of Mayor R. K. Bonnett, indicated the crossings situation would be reviewed at the council's March meeting next Monday, and that a definite and written stand would be forthcoming.

"Flasher warning devices for West Sixth and South Main crossings were promised by representatives of both railroads at a city council meeting November 4, 1947.

Now that, we hope, the winter of 1948 has passed and spring is just around the corner, the city council will really "lower the boom" on the railroads.

The city council could lay down a date, in the not too far distant future, when the flasher signals should be installed and in working order. If these haven't been installed, some safety restrictions would automatically go into effect. Such restrictions on the railroads are very much in order.

The cost of a single life can't be measured as if it were a commodity which can be bought at will, but a program of safety, although the price can be ascertained, would bring about a great saving, even if it were the saving of only one life.

A Smile For Cheerful Chuck

Probably the greatest thrill basketball at Idaho has ever given us was learning in 1945 that Idaho had won the Northwestern Division championship. Surely the second greatest thrill was watching the Vandals beat WSC last Friday night.

That team was a winning team, a team that played like a team and a team that the fans were behind. This week, assured of finishing out of the conference cellar, "Cheerful Chuck" Finley could look about him and smile.

Since coming to Idaho two seasons ago, Finley—with little balley-hoo—had accomplished a great deal. With a renewed contract in his pocket and only one of his starting five graduating, he could well hope for better seasons in the years to come.

Cheerful Chuck could indeed afford a smile. As far as we know he didn't. He signed his contract without the hint of a smile and started to worry about his basketball prospects.

Should Seniors Take Finals? Students Have Their Ideas

By Virginia Orazem
A topic of current interest to seniors receiving degrees this June has been recently aroused as a prominent poll question. This is one concerning whether graduating seniors should be compelled to take final examinations.

Another important phase of this problem rests in what grade average instructors should employ in determining exemptions. A varied assortment of suggestions have been received from this poll, but it has been rather generally agreed that at least a 2.00 average should be attained, or possibly no specific average should be necessary.

Most Idaho seniors contacted for this poll responded in an affirmative manner as to whether or not finals should be abolished. It may be pointed out that many lower-classmen who heard of the question also approved of this plan.

Student opinions representing senior views follow:
Jack Lein, Sigma Chi: "A senior with above a 3.00 grade average shouldn't have to take finals. I think it's a darn good idea. They could also abolish all other quizzes as far as I'm concerned."

Jeannette Jensen, Forney hall: "I think final exams should definitely be abolished for all second semester seniors who have the minimum grade average required for a degree."

Richard Kramer, Willis Sweet hall: "I think the grade average should be based on the various schools. I believe final exams for seniors should be abolished."

Caroline Jenkins, Alpha Chi Omega: "I think it would be wonderful. I think every senior should be exempt regardless of his grade average."

Bill Reagan, Tau Kappa Epsilon: "When a person reaches his senior year in college it should be assumed that he has grasped the subject matter in his final semester of instruction; therefore,

Traditions Grow Around Statue Of War Heroes

Almost 50 years have passed since the statue of a Spanish-American War veteran was first erected on the Idaho campus. During that time almost as many tales and traditions have grown up around the monument.

The statue is dedicated to two members of the "Old Guard" who lost their lives during, or as a result of, the war with Spain. The "Old Guard", the thirty-nine Idaho students who fought in the war, was so named in a dedicatory address by Dr. Joseph P. Blanton, president of the university, shortly after their return. Two of their number, Ole Gabriel Hagberg and Paul Draper, failed to return.

First To Die
Hagberg, the first to die, was a member of the class of '98. He enlisted as a private in the First Regiment of Idaho volunteers early in the year he was supposed to have graduated. Within six months he had been promoted to a sergeant and had been killed in the Philippine Islands. He died on November 20, 1898.

Draper entered the University of Idaho in September 1893, barely a year after it swung its doors open to the citizens of the state. In July 1897 he enlisted in the 16th Infantry, U.S. Army, and served in Cuba during the war. He participated in the famous battle of San Juan Hill. His regiment was then ordered to the Philippine Islands where he was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant and served with 22nd Infantry. His untimely death came on June 28, 1900, on Luzon Island in the Philippines.

In Memoriam
A bronze plate with the names of all members of the "Old Guard" can be seen in the administration building. It was first placed in the hall of the old Ad building at the close of the war. The statue was erected on what is now the Ad lawn a short time later in honor of Idaho's first two war heroes.

Registrar Requests Residence Blanks

Blanks requesting residents have been mailed to all living groups on the campus by the registrar's office, announced D. D. DuSault yesterday.

The scholarship chairman of each group will list the name of each person in his living group time they reach the second semester. The lists are to be made up March 11 and in the Registrar's files by March 21.

"Honorable" Bench & Bar Boys Accept "Pig Stysters" Challenge

The Ag Club's s Know all men by these presents, that:

Whereas a certain inferior species of male animal has arisen from the muck, filth and slime of the pig sty, and;

Whereas said animal so arisen as aforesaid has come forth blubbering, stuttering and stammering certain slanderous, libelous, and defamatory matter, attempting to conceal the truth of such slanderous, libelous and defamatory matter by using the tongue and manner of speaking of Elsie, a common law born heifer cow, and;

Whereas said species of low born male animal is polluting and permeating the air of this campus with certain odors and stenches best known to and akin to stockyards, manure piles, Ag students, and other such equally offensive places and things, and threatens to continue to so permeate and pollute the said air unless relegated, forced, and driven back to their pig sty, and;

Whereas, the aforesaid species has had the lack of intelligence and good sense to come forth and challenge the honorable members of the Bench & Bar to a basketball game in a futile attempt to gain equality with our gentle fraternity, now therefore;

Be it resolved that in order to relegate the Aggies to their proper plane, and to once and for all rid the campus of their obnoxious presence among the elite we, the Bench & Bar, do hereby and herewith accept the challenge so improvidently extended and do declare that with their own tools will play them asunder.

Experiment Station Releases Information On Weed Killers

Two-Four-D may have stolen the headlines in weed control news in recent years but sodium chlorate, carbon bisulfide, and borax still are dependable old standbys on perennial weeds.

Latest information on these weed killers, the conditions under which they are most effective, their limitations, and how to use them is contained in a new bulletin just issued by the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station.

Seely And Klages
In this publication, bulletin 271, C. I. Seely and K. H. Klages, agronomists at the experiment station, reported on field trials carried on from 1936 to 1945 at a special field station near Genesee. In addition to sodium chlorate which Idaho farmers have been using extensively since about 1927, carbon bisulfide, and borax, the Genesee tests involved arsenicals, sulfamates, and thiocyanates.

Weeds involved in this 10-year study included bindweed (wild morning glory), white top, Canada thistle, Russian knapweed, yellow toadflax, leafy spurge, blue flowering lettuce, and St. Johnswort (goatweed).

General Control Methods
"As a result of these tests, sodium chlorate and carbon bisulfide are being recommended for general non-selective control of perennial weeds, and borax for the control of goatweed," the agronomists report.

One of the new tricks in weed control, suggested in this bulletin is the protective furrow—an inverted V—on the uphill side of a weed patch being treated with sodium chlorate. This protective furrow catches runoff water and drains it away from the chlorate-treated area, resulting in a more effective weed kill and less danger of damage to crops on the downhill side from the washed-off chlorates.

SPORTS FOR FUN
A non-commercial, intercollegiate sports program has been adopted by Roosevelt College. It is designed to eliminate all aspects of commercialism and to insure protection of the players in cast of accident.

Journalists Make Newspaper Study

Paul T. Scott, head of the journalism department, announced that a detailed study of the prominent metropolitan daily newspapers of the nation is being made in the news editing class.

Over 180 metropolitan newspapers will be analyzed for content, makeup and readability. Each student will choose several of these newspapers to study and will report to the class the results of his study.

Editorial policies, advertising procedures, descriptions of personnel with brief biographies of the editors will be included in the reports. Purpose of the project is to assist the entire class in becoming familiar with the nation's leading newspapers.

Library Lists 100 Significant Books

Lists of the 100 significant books now on exhibit at the entrance of the university library can be obtained at the loan, reference, or periodical desks, according to library display.

The display of books, selected by the committee on college reading of the National Council of Teachers of English, is intended to present a representative selection of significant books. Acting upon requests of students for listings of the volumes, the library staff had over 1,000 copies of the lists mimeographed.

Spring Activities, WRA Publication Passed By Board

Activities for the coming nine weeks, the basketball tournament, and possibilities of a WRA publication were among topics discussed at the WRA executive board meeting last Tuesday evening in the women's gym.

The group, composed of both officers and team managers, proposed archery, softball, golf, tennis, swimming, horseshoes and possibly fencing for the spring sports program.

Tournaments in archery, softball, and horseshoes were discussed; it was decided softball practices would be held Monday through Thursday on the women's athletic field.

Basketball Ratings
Basketball ratings will be given March 19 in the women's gym. At this time ten women will take both written and practical tests in basketball officiating. The board agreed to invite two teams from WSC to play in the games. A food committee, headed by Pam Gaut, will make arrangements for entertaining the visiting teams.

Pete Grant, WRA president, was appointed to replace Joyce Freeland as golf manager.

WRA executive board also discussed the possibilities of putting out a publication which would explain the constitution and club activities of the organization. Jane Fisk will head the committee, aided by Pete Grant and Betty Peters.

WRA Board Plans Hoop Tournament

Blanche Erickson was appointed basketball manager for the remainder of the season at a WRA executive board meeting in the women's gym last Tuesday night.

She will replace Jean Dammarell who is unable to participate because of an ankle injury.

This year the basketball tournament will be round-robin class competition instead of the living group play-offs of last year. Every woman who turns out for three practices will be allowed to play in the "tournament," according to Pete Grant, president.

The play-offs will take place March 14-21. Each class may divide into as many teams as desired. Miss Grant suggested that a captain be chosen for each team that unit practices may be held the week preceding the tournament. After-school practices are continuing in the women's gym every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evening from 4 to 5 p.m.

14 Rivers Flow Through Lab In Half-Gallon Jar Parade

Water from 14 rivers used for irrigation in Idaho is flowing through the university agricultural chemistry laboratory in a steady parade of half-gallon jars.

In that laboratory, Glenn C. Lewis, analyst, and two student assistants, Cliff Thomas of Filer and Carol Tyler of Twin Falls, analyze the water samples for mineral salt content.

"Securing accurate data on mineral salt content of Idaho rivers supplying irrigation water is part of a research project to provide data for measuring water quality and to make recommendations on drainage," explained Max C. Jensen, irrigationist with the experiment station.

1,500 Samples
River water samples come from 18 sampling stations, four on the Snake river, two on the Boise river, and one each on 12 other streams. Three times a week from April to October, water masters and ditch riders for the cooperating irrigation companies collected two-pint samples. During winter and early spring, samples are being taken weekly. Approximately 1,500 samples were taken during the main runoff and irrigation season last year.

Effect of Minerals
The second phase of the project will move into the soils field. Under the direction of G. O. Baker, soils technologist, studies will be made throughout the irrigated sections to determine the effect of continual use of waters of various mineral salt content upon the basic character of the soils.

The third phase of the study will be in the field of drainage. Goals will be (1) how to avoid excess accumulation of certain salts in soil on new projects and (2) how to reclaim land where the productivity has declined as a result of salt accumulation due to over-irrigation and poor drainage.

Science Degree
Turnbow, who was graduated from the university's college of agriculture in 1916, will now be awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree by the university.

Early in his career, Turnbow taught at Washington State college and the University of California, and worked for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Since 1927, he has been engaged in commercial dairying enterprises. In 1930, he became vice-president and a director of Creameries of America, Inc. Leaving in 1938, he was named general manager of Golden State Company, Ltd. While with this company, he developed one of the country's most outstanding dairy laboratories employing about 100 researchers.

Since 1945, he has been president of the International Dairy association, a group organized to develop dairy plants throughout the world on American standards.

Ringmen Tackle Gonzaga In Return Meet Tonight

Diehl-Maxey Fight To Highlight Card Time Out

By DON RICE

Enthusiastic Idaho boxing fans will get their last view of Coach Frank Young's Vandal mittmen in action on the Memorial gymnasium canvas at 8 o'clock tonight, when the Idaho fighters re-encounter a tough bunch of Gonzaga belters in the final home appearance of the 1949 campaign. Joey August's Boone avenue outfit slapped a 4-3 verdict on the Vandals earlier this season and tonight, Idaho will attempt to overshadow that decision.

Tough Competition

Headliner on the 10 bout card will be the scheduled go between the Zags' much-heralded Carl Maxey and Idaho's sharp hitting Ted Diehl. It will be the first meeting between the two fighters, who are labeled by ring experts as two of the best collegiate 175-pounders in the nation. Last week Diehl administered rough treatment to Ted Kozuszek, Wisconsin's classy light-heavyweight, and is reported by Young to be in top condition for his match with the Gonzaga Negro.

Hope for Revenge

Three Idaho boxers will be given an opportunity to seek revenge on Gonzaga opponents who beat them in the first dual meeting between the two schools at Spokane. DeForest Tovey, Idaho 125-pounder, will again oppose Bill Macy who scored a TKO on the Idaho lad in their first match. Last week Tovey showed little respect for Wisconsin's 125-pound NCAA champion, Steve Gremban, and looked good in losing the bout.

Walkers Try Again

Norm Walker will try to even the count with Jim Riley in the 130-pound pairing. Riley defeated Walker at Spokane, but since then, Norm won in Madison against a good boy and the fight tonight shows every promise of being a true slugfest.

Vern Bahr is another Vandal who wants to square things with a Zag opponent. Bahr lost to Eli Thomas in a close decision and will meet the same lad again tonight.

In the 135-pound bracket, Len Walker, a Vandal puncher who has whipped Cougars and Badgers, again takes on Bulldog Ralph Mauro. Their last fight was declared no contest, Mauro suffering from a cut chin in round one.

Carlson Won't Fight

Idaho's NCAA 165-pound champion, Herb Carlson wins by a forfeit and will not be on tonight's bill.

In a 145-pound go, Tudy Marks will face Ed Sullivan. In the heavyweight bout, Don Ellis will likely face Red O'Connor although there is a possibility of Gonzaga forfeiting the match.

Three Exhibitions

Three exhibition battles will also be fought. Frank Echevarria meets Gonzaga's Ned Boyle at 125-

With basketball tournaments and play-offs underway all over the country, fans of the cage teams can just about take their pick of the games they want to read about or listen to.

At least seven high school tournaments are in progress throughout Idaho. These youngsters play with as much vigor and a lot more spirit than many college teams display, and several of the games have seen more than 100 points tallied during the contest. In one game in particular, between Burley and Oakley, the two squads totalled 126 points for the evening—a high score even among college teams.

Knot or Not?

In the blistering hot battle for the leadership of the Skyline Six conference, Utah may or may not be in the lead, with the Cowboys from Wyoming a half-game behind. And thereby hangs a tale. On Monday night the Utes recaptured the lead from Wyoming by virtue of a Utah win over Colorado A. & M. while the Cowboys were losing a close game to Denver.

Denver and Wyoming played again Tuesday night. With 20 seconds left to go, and the score knotted at 34-34, a double foul was committed, and a player from each team sank a free throw, resulting in an additional point added to each score.

Belated Decision

Wyoming officials protested that the Denver man's point was invalid, since the foul was his fifth, and referees belatedly disallowed the point, bringing Denver fans out of their seats in a melee of protest which lasted half an hour. Denver officials took the position that regardless of whether the man was technically eligible to shoot the foul shot, the point should count once he had put it through the hoop.

On Wednesday, Denver university lodged an official protest over the game. If the contest is replayed and Denver wins, it will place the Cowboys a full game behind Utah, and may mean the loss of the championship. At any rate, if the decision stands Utah and Wyoming are all tied up.

DOUBLE DUTY

Funds sent to aid Chinese university students do double duty, since the Chinese National Student Relief Committee gives assistance in the form of work scholarships through which university students work in the summer on village rehabilitation and medical aid projects.

pounds; Jack McIntyre meets Bond of the Bulldogs at 130 pounds; and Morgan of Idaho is matched with Seamont on at 127.

Individual Scoring Figures Place Pritchett In Front

Final statistics concerning the University of Idaho basketball squad have been released by Ken Hunter, publicity director for the Vandal athletic teams.

Idaho, a team that was given the underdog role in almost every contest they played, surprised the basketball world as they compiled a total of 1470 points in 32 contests for an average of 45.9. Idaho's opponents, however, were hard pressed, as one of the best teams on defense in the nation held their opposition to a 43 point average on 1395 points.

Herb Mead was declared the winner of the free throw shooting award that was presented by Murphy's Men's Apparel store in Moscow. The award is presented to the basketball player on the Vandal team compiling the best average from the free throw line. Mead dumped in 13 out of 18 attempts during the past conference and non-conference season to lead his team mates with a .722 average.

Key Second

George Rey, Idaho's diminutive 5-foot 8-inch forward was close on the heels of Mead as he converted on 15 of 21 tries for a .714 average. As a team in general, the Vandals in their 32 contests converted on 418 out of 695 shots from the foul circle for a team average of .598.

Seek Ring Revenge Tonight

Idaho's tough Vandal boxing squad will be seeking revenge when the Gonzaga mittmen appear here tonight for a return ring engagement. The Bulldogs pulled out a 4-3 victory over Idaho when the two squads met last February 18 in Spokane. Two of the Vandal fighters who hope to defeat Gonzaga tonight are 125-pound DeForest Tovey (left), who will meet Zag Bill Macy in the opening varsity bout, and Thane Johnson (right) slated to tangle with Ed Sullivan in the 145-pound clash.

Goodywin of the Delta Taus missed 5 of 6 free throw attempts, but came through with 12 points from the floor to lead his team to victory. Mack's 5 points was high for the Cannaneers.

Fijis 40, Sigma Chi No. 3 6

JOHNNY HELPS VERA VAULT TO SARTORIAL IMPECCABILITY

IF THESE CLUMSY BELDAMES CAN'T FIT ME ANY BETTER, I WON'T TAKE PART IN THE SCHOOL FASHION SHOW

GRACIOUS, VERA! SUCH A HOYDENISH DIATRIBE! STOP IT AT ONCE!

REALLY VERA, YOU MUST RESTRAIN THOSE XENOPHOBIC RAGES OR YOU CAN'T APPEAR IN THE SHOW AT ALL!

I CAN'T SAVE YOU AGAIN, DUCKLING, YOU'D BETTER GET SWEET FAST

SOUNDS LIKE CIGARETTE HANGOVER TO ME. THAT CAN MAKE YOU IRRITABLE AND MAKE YOUR THROAT FEEL SMOKED-OUT. WHY NOT CHANGE TO PHILIP MORRIS, THE ONE LEADING CIGARETTE PRODUCED DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING?

OH, I'M SORRY! BUT THOSE AWFUL WOMEN SIMPLY DROVE ME WILD

SHE'S BEEN WORKING SO HARD! PLEASE GIVE HER ANOTHER CHANCE, MISS JOHNNY

OH, I'VE BEEN STUDYING A LOT AND SMOKING HEAVILY. MY THROATS SO IRRITATED, I GET CRANKY WITH PEOPLE

OKAY—I'LL TRY THEM

OH THANK YOU! EVER SINCE I SWITCHED TO PHILIP MORRIS MY DISPOSITION HAS BEEN AS NICE AS YOU LADIES HAVE MADE ME LOOK!

MADEMOISELLE, YOU ARE THE VERY CREME DE LA CREME OF THE HAUTE COUTURE

MY DEAR, YOU'LL BE A PAPHIAN SENSATION!

SHE'S QUITE THE LOVELIEST GIRL I EVER SAW!

IT WAS A PLEASURE TO HELP HER!

AND THE BEST-NATURED NOW—THANKS TO PHILIP MORRIS AND JOHNNY

CIGARETTE HANGOVER—(Don't articulate it—eliminate it.) That stale smoked-out taste; that tight dry feeling in your throat due to smoking. CREME DE LA CREME (krém de la kromm)—The cherry on the Charlotte Russe.
DIATRIBE (di-ah-tribe)—A verbal blast.
HAUTE COUTURE (ot-ko-toor)—"high fashion" to you.
HOYDENISH (hoy-den-ish)—Like a tom-boy, a tom-girl.
IMPECCABILITY (im-pék-ah-bil-ee)—Elegance above compare.
PAPHIAN (pay-foe-an)—Paphos Isle was Venus' birthplace.
SARTORIAL (sar-to-ree-ah)—Pertaining to the tailor.
XENOPHOBIC (zen-no-fo-bik)—In fear of being choked.

Every Good Story Points A Moral—

Behind our playful plot, our intentions are serious: we want you to discover for yourself the welcome DIFFERENCE in cigarettes that PHILIP MORRIS can bring you.

Established PROOF of that difference is too extensive to be detailed here—but pre-medical and chemistry students, who will be especially interested can get it in published form FREE, by writing our Research Dept., Philip Morris Co., 119 Fifth Ave., N. Y.
