Firkusny To Give Concert For Moscow Music Lovers

Rudolf Firkusny, internationally known Czech pianist, will present a concert at 8 p. m. March 14 in Memorial gymnasium. The Associated Students and the Moscow Community Concert association will sponsor the appearance.

This year the Czech pianist was chosen by Serge Koussevitsky to play the world premiere performance of Howard Hanson's new piano concerto with the Boston Symphony orchestra. Firkusny was also selected by Leopold Stokowski to perform the New York premiere of a new concerto by Gian-Carlo Menotti with the New York Philharmonic Symphony.

Promotes Czech Music
Firkusny, with a distinctive pianistic personality is one of music's most eligible bachelors. He has done more to promote the popularity of Czech music than any other living Bohemian. He speaks six languages quite fluently with a special fondness for Spanish. He wears a watch given him by Queen Mother Elizabeth of the Belgians.

Program Listed
Rudolf Firkusny's concert Monday evening includes Organ Fugue in A Minor—Cernohorsky-Firkusny; La Consolation, Op. 62—Dussek; Sonata in E, Op. 109—Beethoven; Ballade in A flat, Op. 47, No. 3, Nocturne, and Scherzo No. 3 in C sharp minor, Op. 39—Chopin; two Polkas—Smetana; Funerailles—Liszt; Excursions—Barber; and Prokofiev's Taccata.

Firkusny left Prague the night the Nazis marched into the city. He will shortly become an American citizen, but has not settled down in a permanent home of his own. At present he lives in a small apartment in New York City.

Physician Resigns University Post

The resignation of Dr. Harold D. Cramer, University of Idaho physician and director of the university health service, was accepted today by President J. E. Buchanan.

Dr. Cramer is leaving July 1 to start post-graduate studies in internal medicine. He will begin his studies with a residency at the Veterans Administration hospital, Fort Riley, San Francisco. Announcement of the new university physician will be made later, President Buchanan said.

SPECIAL PROGRAM ON CBS

Student life and activities will be featured in a CBS public service series of five coast-to-coast broadcasts entitled "You and the Campus." The 15-minute programs will be broadcast at 6:15 p.m. EST during the week of March 14.

Robert St. John To Speak Soon

Robert St. John, noted foreign correspondent and news commentator, is scheduled to speak here March 23. It is not yet known what St. John's topic will be.

After finishing high school, the writer spent two years at Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and served in the Navy during the first World War. He spent several years as a newspaper reporter following the war.

St. John and his brother published and edited the "Cicero Tribune," "Berwyn Tribune," and "Riverside Times," Illinois papers. He later represented the Associated Press in the Balkans as a correspondent. In 1942 he was a news commentator for WNC in London and later in Washington, D. C.

Among his publications are "From the Land of Silent People," "It's Always Tomorrow," "The People Speak," and numerous magazine articles.

Over Six Hundred Students Register For Commencement

The 1949 graduating class at the university will be the largest in the history of the institution. D. D. DuSault, university registrar, announced today. A total of 610 students have filed as candidates for bachelor degrees to be granted at commencement May 30.

The college of letters and science has the largest number of candidates with 178 seniors applying for arts degrees and 55 for science degrees. The school of business is next with 139 candidates. Other divisions:

- 30 Lawyers
- Education, 68; agriculture, 57; forestry, 37; law, 30; mechanical engineering, 26; electrical engineering, 23, civil engineering, 21; home economics, 19; chemical engineering, 11; agricultural engineering, 9; musical education, 8; pre-medical, 7; mining engineering, 5; pre-nursing, 4; metallurgical engineering, 3; and geological engineering, 3.

Last year 457 students were awarded bachelor degrees at Commencement. This graduating class is the first one since 1940 to have more than 500 on the rolls.

'It Ain't Easy' Is Chosen Theme Of Senior Ball

Gene Michel, senior class president and chairman of the annual senior ball, has announced that plans are underway for a new and different dance this year.

The date for the dance has been set for March 19. It will be held in the Blue Bucket ballroom from 9 to 12 p.m. Cost per couple will be $1.00. Informal suits and heels will be worn.

The theme of the dance is to be "It Ain't Easy" and it will be carried out with original decorations under the direction of Jack Henricus and Jane Blakely.

Features Carl Painter

Chuck Gibb, music chairman, announced that Carl Painter and his orchestra of Lewiston will be featured.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be President and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Dean and Mrs. H. E. Lattig, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hosack. Dr. F. C. Church, faculty advisor for the senior class, will also be present. Martha Spence is chairman of this committee.

Sigma Delta Chi will be in charge of the cloak room. Proceeds from the dance will go towards something new for the Student Union building.

Fraternities Complete Plans For Annual Formal Dance

"Plans are almost completed now for the Interfraternity Council ball," announced Jack Lein, publicity chairman, yesterday.

Approximately 60 guests will attend a dinner preceding the ball at the Beta Theta Pi house. Special invitations have been extended to Interfraternity Council past presidents, as well as to Dean Louise Carter and Dean H. E. Lattig.

Primaries Planned By Independents

A resolution to hold presidential primaries to select a candidate for the president in the coming school elections was passed in the Independent Caucus Monday evening.

The object of the primary, according to Wilson Churchman, president of the caucus, is to place the selection of the candidate on a more democratic level by allowing each hall to take active part in the nomination.

KUOI Goes On The Air Today

With almost a complete new radio station as far as broadcasting equipment is concerned, KUOI will resume its regular broadcast schedule at noon today, after a week and a half shutdown for repairs. Shown above checking scripts for the programs is Dale Benjamin, left, assistant station director, and Prof. Carl Wermine, faculty advisor. Reception is expected to be much better than ever before.

Student-Businessmen Discuss Problems Survey Reveals

"Moscow students are typical of youth everywhere—restless, dissatisfied, critical, and self-confident," according to a survey recently conducted of Idaho students. The survey, in the form of questionnaires, was prepared and distributed by Kimball Jack, Washington Water Power public relations man, and was primarily designed to get the student's reaction on policies of downtown businessmen.

In a student-businessmen's meeting in the small coke room of the Bucket Tuesday evening Jack discussed the problems he has encountered in taking his still "incomplete" poll and summarized some of the results he has obtained to date.

More Recreation

The cross section of students polled named, among Moscow's good points, the absence of crime, a serious problem in most communities. More than 40% of those polled liked the churches and friendly people in Moscow.

However, they seemed pretty generally agreed, according to results of the questionnaire, that, in order to be an ideal community, Moscow should give more attention to recreational facilities; should make available more business opportunities and should do what they can to increase the size of the town.

Students in Moscow, as well as people all over the nation, would like to see the wartime personality of business people assume a more friendly air. They would also welcome a classroom explanation of constructive business problems by local businessmen. More business visitors would be welcome on the campus, and students would like to see more contests and institutional advertising.

Grades Are Problem

Most students, however, are interested chiefly in immediate personal problems. Over half of those asked thought that their most absorbing problem was better grades. Others listed health, choosing a vocation, doing something important in life, and even their love life.

A large number of males polled were greatly worried over the increasing independence of women.

Three out of every four students were sure that they could do a better job, both in business and marriage, than the 'old folks.'

Jack expects to have the complete results of the poll compiled in the near future and will appear here again at that time to make known the existing problems and help the businessmen and students in ironing out any difficulties. The businessmen present expressed a willingness and desire to cooperate with the students in correcting any problems which the poll indicates to exist.

AIRPORT READY
Improvements on the Moscow-Pullman regional airport are expected to be completed early this summer.

Education Council Votes Membership To Student Group

The United States National Student Association was today notified that it has been voted to associate membership in the American Council on Education.

NSA is the only student organization to hold membership in the Council which has been influential in the shaping of American education policies and practices during the past 30 years. NSA was also invited to send a representative to the Council's annual meeting in Washington, D. C. on May 6 and 7.

Other Affiliations

Representing more than 800,000 students in 281 colleges and universities in the United States, NSA is also the only student organization which has been granted membership in the National Education Association and the U. S. Commission for UNESCO.

Robert S. Smith, NSA's representative on UNESCO, was recently elected to the executive committee of that body.

Top Gert And Ike Will Be Awarded Rolling Pin Prize

In order to raise additional funds for a bronze plaque commemorating Idaho students who lost their lives in World War II, Alpha Phi Omega is once again initiating their annual "Gaudy Gert and Ugly Ike" contest.

Each living group is asked to sponsor a candidate. It should be a full length picture, size 5" x 7"; it should be as ugly or gaudy as possible—no glamour shots; and it should be ready Monday, when a representative from APO will call at living groups for pictures.

Pictures In Bucket

Containers featuring a picture of each candidate will be placed inside the main entrance of the Bucket, Wednesday, March 16, and will remain there until Friday, March 25. Winners will be determined by popular vote. A penny constitutes a vote; the man and woman receiving the most votes or pennies wins.

Prizes consisting of a rolling pin and a ball and chain will be presented to the winners at intermission of the Pep Band show March 25. Trophies will be awarded for one year, and will rotate from winner to winner, with winning names engraved on them each year.

This contest, which was discontinued in 1944 because of lack of members and interest in Alpha Phi Omega, was last won by Marilyn Lester, and Melvin Schwartz.

WSC-U of I Hosts For Conference

The University of Idaho and the State College of Washington will act as host for the annual joint meeting of the Western Dairy Division of the American Dairy Science association and the western section of the American Society of Animal Production.

According to Professor D. L. Fourt, head of the dairy science department, the conference will take place during the summer session of school, on June 27 and 28.

The meetings will bring together the dairy and animal scientists of western colleges and universities, as well as industrial concerns from the eleven western states.

Sectional meetings for those interested in animal production, dairy production, and dairy manufacturing will highlight the conference. Joint meetings for the discussion of problems common to all groups will also be held.

The topics of discussion will center around two main divisions. These concern new research relative to the problems of animal production, dairy production, and dairy manufacturing, and problems of college instruction in those fields.

KUOI Engineers Complete Equipment Installation

The university radio station, KUOI, will return to the air at noon Friday, March 11, after a lapse in broadcasting of over two weeks in which new transmitters, new turntables, and new microphones were installed.

"The Voice of the Vandal," operating on 660 kilocycles, was originally scheduled to resume broadcasting March 6, but because the new turntables were delayed in shipment, KUOI was forced to wait until this later date.

The engineers that helped build and install the new equipment include Earl Donnon, Merlin Smith, Dennis Price, Chick Seeber, Glau Southworth, Pete Bradley, Chuel Hudson, and Carl Stamm. Especially high praise is given to Gle Southworth who was responsible for designing the new transmitter.

Visitors' Day

An open-house in the KUOI studio will be held from noon until midnight Friday, March 11 and from 7 a.m. to midnight Saturday, March 12. "All members of the faculty, student body, and town people are invited to look over KUOI and see exactly how their money was spent for," said Dave Lewis, station director.

Anyone visiting the studio during open house will have an opportunity of having his voice recorded.

During the past few days checks were made in town and on the campus to determine if reception was any better than previous broadcasts. It was reported that reception has improved greatly; however, transmitting programs over water pipes as previously planned is still in the experimental stage.

ASUI Funds

Funds for this project came from the ASUI which recently took KUOI into its publication department. Station officials were given until March 15 to set up the new equipment and put it into operation.

A report on the anticipated operation of the campus broadcasting station will be given to the ASUI executive board in the near future, station officials announced.

Honorary Seeks

Men having a grade average of 3.5 during their first semester in college are eligible to become members of the Idaho chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, announced the national freshman honorary.

President Vernon Bahr said, "The group will hold initiation for new members this spring." Eligible freshmen are asked to contact vice president, Arnold Johnson (2187) or secretary Harold Suchan (25031).

Thursday Showing Granted For 'Kiss And Giggle'

A special presentation of the Pep Band show will be given Thursday, March 24, in the auditorium for the business men and townspeople of Moscow.

Permission for this extra performance was granted by the academic council after weeks of searching for a solution to the problem that has confronted students in the past. This is the problem of crowded conditions forcing many people to be denied admission to the show.

The Friday and Saturday nights, March 25 and 26, will be held primarily for students with Thursday evening reserved for faculty and townspeople.

Swing Fight Song

The show, directed by Greg Potvin, will feature classical and semi-classical numbers along with modern music. Other features will include a comedy, "Kiss and Giggle."

Original music scores, arranged by Jack Percival and Wally Johnson and directed by Bud Walters, will compose the first half of the show. Beverly Benson will present a dance specialty and Mark Barnett and Kathryn Mautz will do a comic dance number. An outstanding swing arrangement of "Go Vandals Go" by Wally Johnson will be presented with the modern music.

Executive Board Will Issue Form For Suggestions

The ASUI executive board is completing a questionnaire which, it is hoped, will clarify and improve problems concerning student government in its program to serve the student body. Suggestions and complaints derived from the questionnaire will be used to improve ASUI assistance to every student.

The effectiveness of present ASUI programs will be judged largely on the questionnaire's effect. ASUI publications such as Argonaut, Gem, Blot, KUOI, ASUI Handbook are examples along with ASUI music which includes Pep Band, U. Band, U. Orchestra, Vandaleers, and Community Concerts. Athletics will also be considered comprising intercollegiate, intramural, and yell team.

Comments Will Clarify

Problems existing in the Student Union bookstore and cafeteria are expected to be greatly clarified through student suggestions and comment as the questionnaire provides space for such comments.

Calendar policy, name bands, class weeks, Dad's day, and Homecoming are activities that will be open for suggestions in the questionnaire.

Other dubious problems in the line of student interest to be included are teacher rating plan, adequacy of building facilities, grading system, honoraries, registration and pre-registration, student directories, campus chest, and quarter versus semester system.

NSA; ASUI departmental improvements which include debate, dramatics, Ag. judging, and rifle team; and Administrative-Student relations are other topics for discussion.

A committee appointed by ASUI will compile and evaluate the information received from the questionnaire, ASUI president Dave Weeks stated.

First Aggie Show In Women's Gym; Horses Featured

Official judges have been selected for all events in the Little International livestock show which is scheduled for April 25 through April 30, according to Francis Flerchinger, publicity chairman.

The three finalists in the show's queen contest will be announced next week, Flerchinger said, and he added that ag students will also draw lots for the animals which they are to exhibit.

An annual event, the Little International was started in 1924 under the supervision of C. W. Hickman, F. W. Atkeson, and S. E. Mardby, of the college of agriculture.

To Gain Experience

The show was patterned after the Chicago International Livestock exposition and was given the name Little International. The first show was held in the old armory, now the women's gym, and featured as the main event a horse show.

Rube Everly was the first manager of the Little International and is now president of the Everly Livestock Exporting company of Seattle.

The purpose of the annual event is to give students of agriculture a chance to gain experience and practical knowledge of fitting and showing livestock. The student draws his animal and begins working on it about a month before the show.

Hex To You

In the hills of Pennsylvania, where life is simple and cares are few, another hex has been broken.

When the widow of a soldier started to waste away, the kin-folks decided that she had been hexed by her husband and that there was only one way to break the hex. So they dug up the soldier's body, removed the uniform in which he was buried, burned it, covered the body with salt and returned it to its grave.

The hex was broken. Presumably the widow will now return to complete normalcy and life in the back country will continue its leisurely pace until someone else gets hexed.

The story seems strangely out of place in the 20th century. Evil spirits have been banished from our world. Their presence would perhaps make our life, like that of the hill country, quite a bit simpler.

It might be possible to eliminate the possibility of flunking a test by eating tadpoles, to banish the powers of a rival in love by writing the letters of his name backward, to prevent rain by carrying the tail of a muskrat, or to get rid of a fever by eating cheese and sauerkraut at the first light of dawn.

To eliminate the worries of war would probably take a bigger hex—something like feeding a gila monster parsnips grown in a dead volcano and planted in the light of the moon.

On the other hand, maybe it is possible. We have never tried eating tadpoles to keep from flunking a test. And surely the hill people will say that burning a soldier's uniform broke a hex very nicely.

Is Experience The Best Teacher? — Take Notice!

By DARWIN COGSWELL

All students owning automobiles, take heed. The day may yet come on the campus when you will stop and think twice before parking on the wrong side of the street or in someone's private parking lot. Although it seems rather far-fetched at the University of Idaho, being expelled from college may yet take the place of a mere warning ticket.

The following article was found in the University of Washington Daily and gives a typical example of what may happen in this "car-owners paradise."

Gets Four Chances

"Two hundred-and-forty-three students completed the first step in being expelled from the University of Washington yesterday when they were arraigned in the first traffic court of the new year. Four offenses and the student is asked to leave.

"Fines ranging from one to fifteen dollars were levied on the over 200 students at regular campus traffic court yesterday.

"Majority of the fines were for 'hedging' on assigned parking spaces. Fines must be paid before registration."

Idaho May Follow

The U. of W., with its 18,000 students, has a much greater parking problem than the U. of I. However, if parking violations are continually imposed upon and the university continues to expand at the present rate, some action is bound to be taken by the administration. Instead of a friendly warning from "Old Fred," a fifteen dollar fine may be the result of a violation. All students owning automobiles, take heed.

Esquire Girl To Be Named Tonite

The winner of the annual Alpha Tau Omega "Esquire Girl" contest will be announced tonight at the intermission of the Esquire dance.

Pictures of the five candidates have been submitted to the artists of Esquire magazine for judging. Their choice will be received by telegram sometime Friday afternoon.

Candidates for "Esquire Girl of 1949" are Shirley Ball, Alpha Chi; Betty Biker, Delta Gamma; Pat Rivett, Gamma Phi; Beta; Christy Ann Sargent, Ridenbaugh hall; and Gayle Slavin, Alpha Phi.

A new five-story dormitory to house 100 girls and designed to combine maximum efficiency with economy is now under construction at Mount Holyoke college.

Completely Shot? Don't Feel Sad; Only Measles

By Spioty

Do you have lumps behind your ears? Does your back ache? Are your eyes tired? Have you been feeling completely shot for the last few days? If so, you, my friend, have the measles. I know about all these things because I have recently escaped from the infirmary after being there four days with the three-day measles. Since I am so well versed on this subject, I feel it is my duty to give you, who will eventually get them, a few hints.

When your face starts to get a little red, don't be offended if no one will come near you. Smile cheerfully and look brave as you are shoved out of your room and your pajamas are thrown after you. One look at your beaming face is enough for the nurse who meets you at the infirmary door. You are rushed up to the third floor where you find two rooms and a hall filled with speckled girls. There are some boys down the hall, but they are awfully quiet.

Many Cases

The measles ward is likely to be overflowing so take my advice and catch them early so you can get there ahead of the crowd and get a good seat. Talking through the window to the people who pass on their way to class provides the entertainment. Evenings aren't too eventful unless there is a fire. Once in a while some kind soul will get you a milk shake which helps break the monotony.

Here's How

One last bit of advice: there is absolutely no need of taking books—you'll never look at them. You will be much too busy jumping in and out of bed, looking out the window, and chewing on a thermometer.

And when the doctor comes around on the third day to check your spots, good luck. I hope you get out some day.

Students Give Opinions About Later Permission

By VIRGINIA ORAZEM

As far as Idaho students are concerned, the Friday night 1 o'clock permission for women is here to stay. This proposal by the student-faculty council was first put into effect last Friday. Continuation of this later permission will depend on whether or not Saturday classes will be affected.

Students polled on this topic gave a variety of reasons as to why the 1 p.m. permission is a good idea. From these opinions, it can be concluded that students do not believe Saturday classes will be unfavorably affected.

Pat Lawson, Forney hall: "Yes, I think it will be successful. It shouldn't affect Saturday classes any more than 12:30 permissions because most of the kids wouldn't get any more sleep anyhow."

Pat Hamilton, Sigma Nu: "I think it's a pretty good idea. It gives the lovers more time to operate."

Mary O'Neill, Alpha Phi: "I think it's silly because there's nothing to do after 12."

Elton Miles, town: "It makes the school more co-educational."

Sue Beardsley, Delta Gamma: "I don't think it will affect Saturday classes because students would stay up as late anyway. That extra half hour comes in handy for settling arguments."

Jerry Green, Tau Kappa Epsilon: "It will give more time to have a better time on Friday nights."

Lou Grider, Kappa Alpha Theta: "It's a good idea because it gives more opportunity for more big dances on Friday nights. It'll be marvelous when spring comes!"

Walt Walton and Robert Drexler, Pine hall: "Let 'em stay out to 1 p.m. We're both engineering students and never see them anyway."

Little Mary's father spanked her, so that night she ended her prayers with:

"And please don't send daddy any more children. He doesn't know how to treat those he has now."

Initiates To Be Honored During Saturday Dances

"Night Club and Cabaret" is the theme of the annual initiation dance to be given tomorrow night by Delta Chi. Tau Kappa Epsilon will honor their new initiates at a dance to be held Saturday night.

Delta Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega held formal initiation banquets recently.

Chrisman Hall
Sunday dinner guests were Margaret Muehlethaler, Lettie Harrington, Helen Higgins, Shirley Henry, Elsie Larson, Bill Bean and Homer Hazelbaker.

Delta Gamma
A formal banquet in honor of the new initiates was held Sunday evening at the Moscow hotel. Each new initiate was presented with roses and a gift from her "big sister."

Elizabeth Raymer, Reardan, Wash.; Mrs. Briggs, St. Anthony; Mrs. J. D. McCullum; and Malul Inkster, Davenport, Wash., were house guests during initiation.

Guests at dinner Thursday were Kathy Burlough, Valeta Hershberger, Louise Blenden and Pat Dwyer.

Delta Tau Delta
Lelani Nock, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kirk were Sunday dinner guests.

Alpha Phi
Thursday dinner guests were Dolores Beadles, Joan Churchman, Beverly Kent, Muriel Shelton, and Ethlyn Calcote.

Delta Chi
Guests at dinner Sunday were Glen Darnall, Chuck Harper, Jody Getty, Helen Kerka, Arlene Hinchie, Mr. and Mrs. Watt Prather, and Mrs. J. H. McNally. Glen Darnall, Chuck Harper, and Vernon Hyland were Wednesday dinner guests.

The annual initiation dance will be presented Saturday, March 12. Tony Galdon is in charge of decorations assisted by Warren Keating, Al Lafferty, and Dan O'Connell. The dance will be centered around the theme "Night Club and Cabaret."

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Christianson, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans were patrons and patronesses at a fireside Friday. A program of songs was presented by Gene Allen, Jack Gray, and Gaylord Andros.

House appointments recently made include Jack Mosman, song leader; Jack Frederikson, social chairman; and Dan O'Connell, rush chairman.

Pi Beta Phi

Publishers Select Award Candidates From Best-Sellers

The ten books which, in the opinion of publishers, have "most progressively influenced American thought in 1948" have been selected and a panel of three judges will select from them the winner of the $1,000 Gutenberg Award offered by the Book Manufacturers' Institute, it has just been announced.

The list included many best-sellers as well as several "dark horses" and the judges (Irita Van Doren, book editor, New York Herald Tribune; Norman Cousins, editor, Saturday Review of Literature; and Dr. Henry C. Link, president, The Psychological Corporation) will select the winner which will be announced at a dinner to be held at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, New York, April 12. Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York will make the presentation and the guest speaker will be announced shortly.

Winners Announced
The ten books which were selected from a field of 59 titles are: "Crusade in Europe" by Dwight D. Eisenhower (Doubleday); "Cry, The Beloved Country" by Alan Paton (Scribner); "Education in a Divided World" by James Bryant Conant (Harvard); "The Gathering Storm" by Winston S. Churchill (Houghton-Mifflin); "The Naked and the Dead" by Norman Mailer (Rinehart).

Also "No Place to Hide" by David Bradley (Little, Brown); "Our Plundered Planet" by Fairfield Osborn (Little, Brown); "Road to Survival" by William Vogt (William Sloane); "Roosevelt and Hopkins" by Robert E. Sherwood (Harper); and "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" by Kinsey, Pomeroy and Martin (Saunders).

Officers Selected By Home Ec Group

Mrs. Jackie Sheild Dahle, president of the Idaho Home Economics club, announced that election of officers was held last Tuesday at the regular March meeting. They will assist this year's officers and take over officially next fall.

Jackie Mitchell will be the new president. Other officers are vice president, Betty Trout; secretary, Joan Jansen; treasurer, Margaret Eke; and historian, Elaine Cope.

The program for the meeting was centered around "Silver and China." Barbara Kitchen was chairman.

A film on the "Story of Sterling" was shown followed by five short talks. Mrs. Jane King Hensel and Mrs. Willa Mae Anderson spoke on china. Pat Jordan and Jo Korter told about silverware. Betty Trout spoke on crystalware. A display of various silver and china patterns was featured in the Home Ec. Department dining room.

"Why does Grandma spend so much time these days reading the Bible?" "I don't know. She must be cramming for her finals."

Officers For AWS Named; To Hold Election March 16

During preliminary balloting Wednesday, the Associated Women students chose runners-up for the final elections to be held Wednesday, March 16.

The finalist must have a majority vote to win an election so two girls with the highest number of votes in each section are placed on the final slate, with the exception of the offices of president and vice president.

Of the two finalists for the office of president, the girl receiving the most votes will become president, and the other girl will receive vice president.

Candidates
The candidates are president, Rosemary Fitzgerald and Pat Sladek; secretary, Helen Means and Rose Ellen Schmidt; treasurer, Janice McCortick and Mary Louise Will.

Orientation chairman candidates are Barbara Swahnstrom and Betty Fetters; May queen, Jan Garbar and Mary Sue Tovey; maid of honor, Clarice Hove and Betty West; page, Josie Link and Joyce Walser.

Tiny Mammal Lives To Eat, Says University Zoologist

The shrew, which hunters in northern Idaho often mistake for a mouse, is not the same kind. Petruccio named in Shakespeare's famous play, but it is still an interesting little critter.

Not do the four-legged species which roam the mountain forest of Latah and other North Idaho counties chatter like Shakespeare's shrew. They would hardly have time. According to Earl J. Larrierson, zoologist at the university, eating is practically the sole occupation of a shrew. If he is not eating, he is looking for something to eat. Size has nothing to do with it. The shrew is a real fruit as mammals go, measuring about two inches fore and aft, not including the tail.

Metabolism High
This chronic appetite does not mean the shrew is greedy. He just can't help it. Larrierson explains that the shrew seemingly lives to eat because his metabolism rate is so high. He burns up his food supply almost as fast as he eats it. As a result, he is required to eat several times his weight daily, to keep going—after more food.

Run To Death
Experiments show how rapidly the shrew uses up his food. Larrierson cites one in which a hungry shrew and a mouse were put into a large glass jar. The shrew immediately set out to attack the mouse and chased him about eight minutes. This was too much for the shrew. He burned up so much energy that he collapsed and died, literally reduced to skin and bones.

The term "shrew" is often applied to women who show a talent for nagging. Larrierson says the comparison is based on appearance, not habits. He points out that the shrew has a sharp-pointed nose which gives him a hatchet-faced look—an expression which has become associated with nagging, quarrelling, and gabbing.

Shooters Choose Driver President

Bill Driver was elected president of Gem State Sharpshooters at the regular meeting Tuesday evening in Memorial gymnasium.

Other new officers include Frank Bruhn, vice president; Joe Fisher, secretary; Bob Sonnenchen, treasurer; Claire Letson, executive officer; Jack Fletcher, chief instructor; and Bill Briggs, publicity manager.

Major S. L. Olson of the ROTC was present at the meeting to explain a reorganization procedure of a rifle marksmanship club. He also stated that much is being done to obtain recognition by ASU for this group, ROTC, NROTC, and the Gem State Sharpshooters.

There will be practice firing every afternoon of the week for Gem State members at Memorial gymnasium armory.

Ball Players Move Out Onto Diamond

This week marked the opening of spring training for the Idaho baseball team. The team yesterday went out on the diamond for the first time with a very satisfying turnout, stated Doc Jacobsen, acting coach while Chuck Finley is at the state basketball tournaments.

Returning to the diamond from the previous year's roster on the varsity team are: Jack Daley, Don Hunt, Arney Beebe and Don Podra on the pitcher's mound; Bill Sweet and Marv Whitecombe will be back in the catcher's position. Coming back for other positions are: Doc Link, who when 17 had a chance to sign with the big leagues; Ozie Kanickberg, Tom Mastigilli, Joe Grove, John Gregory, and Buck Bybee.

Some of the freshman stand-outs last year and moving into the varsity now are: Nick Stallworth, shortstop; Rod Gilder, first base; Glen Darnall, third base; Van Briggs, pitcher and Bob Mays, second base.

An Arg writer has invented an eleven foot pole for the girls who can't be reached with a ten foot pole.

Musicians Choose Clauser President

Barbara Clauser was elected president of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, at a regular meeting held Tuesday evening in the Music hall office. Miss Clauser succeeds Betty Tellin.

Other officers chosen were Joyce Walser, vice president; Rita Reynolds, secretary; Beverly Schupfer, treasurer; Jean Dammarell, chaplain; Jeannie Foster, social chairman.

'B' League Cage Tourney Approaches Final Stages

Two of the eight intramural "B" basketball league championships were decided Tuesday and Wednesday nights, when the Delta Chi and West 6th Vets Village number 1 team won the round robin tournaments in Leagues I and III respectively. The six remaining league championships will be determined by March 18th, and the playoffs will begin to determine the campus champions.

West 6th No. 1, 45; SAE No. 1, 21

This West 6th team has defeated all the other 4 teams in league III to win that championship. In Wednesday night's game, Center Day counted 15 points for high honors, while Stemple and Vergobbi dunked 8 points each for the SAEs. Delta Chi, 10; Delta Tau No. 1, 9. The Delta Taus built up a magnificent 4 to 1 advantage during the first half, but lost it and the league I championship to the Delta Chi quint in a rugged, wrestling ball game. Delta Chi Center Ed Buoy, by crumming 4 points into the basket, was the game's high scorer. Guard Morley paced the losers with 3 points.

PGD, 27; CH No. 1, 14

The Fijis, led by Bob Barstow with 11 points, recorded their 3rd straight victory at the expense of this Christmas hall team. Sperry canned 7 points to pace the losers.

TKE No. 1, 23; ATO No. 1, 21

Teke Cannoner Johnny Mack fired 6 field goals and one free throw through the hoop to lead his team in an overtime victory over the ATO's. Gullfooy, with 8 points, was high for the losers.

Phi Deltas, 18; KS No. 2, 16

"Bellboy" Blakely rang up 8 points in this see-saw battle which saw the Bellboys squeeze out a 2 point victory.

WSH No. 4, 20; DTD No. 2, 15

R. Doupe and T. Doupe set the pace with 6 points each for the men from Willis Sweet. Goodwin, with 5 points, couldn't quite match them, and his team went down to defeat.

WSH No. 3, 24; PKT, 16

Neither team had won a game so far in the tournament, but they couldn't both lose. Willis Sweet amended his record and won a game. Fangrud copped scoring honors by bucketing 13 points. Araquistain was high for the losers with 4.

New Idaho Coach 'Babe' Curfman 'Fine Fella'

Everyone in the Inland Empire will be grateful to the gentleman below when they hear that he alone is responsible for any balmy weather we have enjoyed during the past two weeks. "Brought it straight from Texas," he admits.

Raymond A. (Babe) Curfman, Idaho's new coaching assistant was born 33 years ago in Electra, Tex., and hasn't spent much time away from the south since then.

Curfman went to Texas Tech, where he played a year at "frosch" ball and three years of varsity ball. Babe says he "got smart" in 1938 and 1939. It was in '38 that he married a Texas girl and it was in '39 that he switched to quarterback after three years playing end.

From Texas Tech, Curfman went into high school coaching and spent a year head coaching at Santa Rosa, New Mexico, where he led his team to a regional championship. Then, in 1943, after he reigned for two years as head coach of the high school team in San Cruces, New Mexico, Babe's career was taken in hand by Uncle Sam's army air corps. They made him a first lieutenant in charge of physical training at Barksdale field in Louisiana. His discharge in 1946 was followed by a head coaching job at New Mexico A. & M. Then, finally, this year, he received the Idaho offer and headed north pronto.

Varsity Baseball Prospects Loosen Up

With the coming of spring weather to the campus, the spotlight shifts from swimming and basketball to such outdoor sports as track and baseball. Although damp practice fields make it necessary for the teams to get their training beneath the protective roof of Memorial gymnasium for the present, activity will soon move out-of-doors. Then coaches will be able to single out the outstanding candidates for the varsity squads, and mold them into an effectively co-ordinated unit. Here, varsity baseball prospects lumber up with a fast pepper game. Left to right, they are: George Rey, Don Hunt, Van Briggs, John Gregory, and Bob Fritchett.

Boxers Renew WSC Rivalry In Ring Tonight At Pullman

Two cross-state rivals aim 12-ounce gloves at each other again this evening as Ike Deeter and his Washington State boxers entertain Coach Frank Young's Idaho beltlers at 8 o'clock tonight in Bohler gymnasium at Pullman. And the eleven-hour bill promises to be another keg of dynamite between the state line schools.

DeForrest Tovey, who seems to meet a champion every time he enters the ring, takes on WSC's two-time Pacific Coast champion, Jackie Melson, in the 125-pound varsity opener.

Then come the Walker brothers. Norm tangles Larry McLaughlin of WSC in the 130-pound match and Len follows suit by meeting the Cougars' Jerry McHugh. The two Idaho speed merchants scored unanimous verdicts over McLaughlin and McHugh at Moscow in thrillers that likely will be repeated tonight.

Herb Starts New String. Knocked from his victory climb after scoring 21 consecutive collegiate triumphs, Idaho's two-time intercollegiate champion, Herb Carlson, starts a new string again this evening. Hard hitting Herb will attempt to use WSC's Lou Wellman as the bottom step, although the Cougar fighter looked good in his first ring appearance last week by scoring a TKO in the in the second meeting between these two battlers. Bahr decided Sartz early in the second round of their first fight after cutting the Cougar clouter's eye.

Speaking Contest Held By Ag School

Preliminaries of the Extemporaneous speaking contest sponsored jointly by Alpha Zeta and the Ag club were held Wednesday evening at the Ag club meeting.

Those taking part were Max Martenson, Sherman Nesbitt, Francis Flerchinger, Marvin Joeger, and Ray Hulet.

The two finalists will speak at the Ag club banquet to be held March 17 at the Ad club. The winner's name will be inscribed on a permanent plaque in Morrill hall.

second round over a EWCE opponent. The bout might well be the high-light of the evening.

Diehl May Fight

Either Ted Diehl or Don Ellis will face Jim Aikin of Washington State in the 175 pound go. If Diehl receives the physician's okay when he reports to infirmary to have his injured elbow checked this morning he will definitely face Aikin.

A newcomer on the Idaho varsity, Wayne Hazelbaker, will be matched against Marv Cross of WSC in the heavyweight fight. In the exhibition bouts, Franky Echeverria, Idaho, opposes Catell
