Ticket Sellout Predicted For Pep Band's "Kiss And Giggle"

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

In the last issue of the Argonaut, Jason printed a letter written by a student on a highly discussed and little known matter. An editorial note which followed the letter stated that a statement by those favoring the athletic dormitory plan would be appreciated. Considerable verbal controversy has been brought to the attention of the Argonaut staff, but at press time last night no written answer for clarifying statement had reached Jason. No doubt some of those who accused Jason of taking sides in the issue will now intensify their accusations seeing no letter in this edition.

Rumors ???

Perchance this whole affair is nothing more than a rumor. No official statement has been released. Several groups claim to have been consulted, but being a journalist at heart, Jason usually believes only in what he sees or what is on the printed page. However, the rumors have grown to such proportions that they cannot be ignored. Several campus groups have held meetings to discuss and gather a collective viewpoint on the issue. The issue is before the general student body whether it was supposed to be or not. No letter or statement from the backers of the plan has been seen anywhere. Therefore the discussions are taking a decided aversion to the plan since only that side has been presented.

Get The Facts

Jason wishes to promote the wishes and desires of the students and university of which he is a part. Therefore, in the next issue if no clarifying or acceptance statement is available, an effort will be made to contact members of the groups which have discussed the issue, and this column will carry the results obtained. Rumors are serious matters and usually do more harm than good; with this in mind Jason hopes to be able to present the students with the facts of the case or at least a view from the other side. If the students have both sides of the argument as to the feasibility of an athletic dormitory, they will be able to use much better judgment in their conclusions.

Campuswide Issue

This matter will affect all of the students on the campus. Their interest is a natural one. If student opinion is desired, consult all of the groups—not just one or two select persons. In the period of building and progress which is just ahead for the Idaho campus, many issues such as the one alluded to above will arise. If doubting and rumors are to be dispelled and fair honest judgment given, all of the facts must be made available to everyone via official sources, not the grapevine.

Letter Dictation To Be New Course In Summer School

Potential business executives will have an opportunity during the University of Idaho summer school to learn how to dictate letters to a secretary or to mechanical equipment. It was announced today by Ralph H. Farmer, dean of the school of business. The new course was added after many graduates remarked on the difficulty of becoming a supervisor when the secretary finds it necessary to teach the new boss how to dictate.

Need Dictation Training

"It is difficult to be the boss when girls directly out of high school know more about the basic tools of the trade than you do," one graduate remarked. In addition to training in dictation, the prospective business man will be taught the basic principles of operation of all types of mechanical office equipment.

Learn Office Equipment

"This training in the use of office equipment is not with the idea that the executive should become an experienced operator, but that he should know the operating principles in order to command the respect of the employees and be able to give them some training," Dean Farmer said. "The course will also help the executive to observe and develop streamlined techniques for operating procedures, and aid him in the intelligent purchase of equipment."

Commentator To Advance His Belief That Third World War Not Inevitable

Vets Dental Care Exceeds $500,000 In Three Months

Pacific Northwest veterans with service connected dental disabilities received more than half a million dollars worth of dental care through the Veterans Administration during the last three months of 1945, the VA reports. The VA released the dental cost figures in pointing out that nationwide the dental work backlog has been reduced about 60 percent from the 1947 peak. At the beginning of 1945, the VA had a backlog of only 192,000 cases, compared with 508,000 at the beginning of 1948. The reduction will continue for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30, the VA said.

Use Private Dentists

Private dentists cooperating with the VA on a fee basis were credited with handling 84 percent of treatments and 48 percent of the examinations during the three-month period cited. VA staff dentists handled the remainder.

By cost breakdown, private dentists in the Northwest area received $44,262 for examination fees and $536,854 for treatments. VA staff dentists performed examinations valued at $28,486 and treatments valued at $27,366. A total of 5,431 veterans received examinations and 6,786 were given treatments. These costs figures covered only World War II veterans living in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska. Nationwide, during the same period, the VA dental program was valued at some $11,361,000.

Devil And Angel Invade Chorus

The female chorus line for the Pep Band show, "Kiss and Giggle," has two new additions—the angel, Jack Gregory, and the devil, Jack Lein. Chorus includes Bonnie Graham, Beverly Benson, Pat Grey, Joyce Benson, the angel and the devil, Shirley Ball, Pat Lyons, Jeanne Sangster, and Robbie Hale.

University Accepts $20,000 Grant From Sears-Roebuck

The "more beef—less feed" research project in the University of Idaho's agricultural experiment station received a big boost today when President J. E. Buchanan announced formal acceptance by the regents of a $20,000 grant from the Sears-Roebuck foundation toward the study. This money will go to the purchase of selected, purebred Hereford cattle to augment the university herd.

Their Finest Hour New Art Display

"Their Finest Hour," an exhibition based on Winston Churchill's second volume of war memoirs, can now be seen in the art department until March 25. This display, based on the early years of the World War II when Britain stood alone against Nazi Germany, was prepared by the editors of LIFE magazine.

Need Standard Measure

"Producers in other branches of livestock, such as dairy cattle, poultry, sheep, and race horses, already have standards of measurement or achievement to aid in selecting breeding stock," explains Professor C. W. Hickman, head of the animal husbandry department of the agricultural experiment station, who will head the activity. "Beef cattle men do not have such a standard, yet their need is equally great."

Third Major Award

This $20,000 grant is the third major contribution of the Sears-Roebuck foundation to Idaho agriculture through the University of Idaho. For the past 10 years the foundation has offered 25 scholarships, each for $100, to entering freshmen in agriculture. The student making the best record his first year receives a $200 bonus scholarship as a sophomore. The foundation also has, for the past several years, sponsored 4-H leader training courses in various parts of the state and at the 4-H summer short course at the university, and has financed four state champions to the national 4-H camp in Washington, D. C.

Flying Club To Start Lessons

Several flights have been made in the Vandal Flying club's plane during the past week, although a wet field hampers operations somewhat. Use of the plane will expand from now on, with the beginning of student instruction. John Brandt, president of the club, is giving this instruction to members at two dollars per hour, which, plus four dollars per hour for the plane, adds up to instruction at six dollars per hour.

The occasion will be informal, afternoon dresses and heels.

A constitutional amendment providing that flying time shall be paid for at each regular meeting rather than immediately after the flight, was passed at the club's regular meeting last Wednesday evening. Obtaining and showing air education films at the meetings was discussed as a possibility. Plans for a publicity campaign were discussed. There is still room in the club for four new members at present. The club will meet in the Bucket at 7:00 o'clock next Wednesday night.

Original Music Scores

The main speaker of the evening, Professor Paul Mann, assistant professor of electrical engineering, was introduced by Wilbur King, president of Sigma Tau. Professor Mann is a graduate of the University of Idaho and has been employed with the Westinghouse company in Pittsburgh, Pa., and also at Virginia Polytechnical institute. Besides his regular teaching duties, he is acting as technical faculty advisor for the university radio station, KUOI. His talk was entitled "Problems of a Field Engineer."

Miss Rice has served as accompanist to the Vandaleers and his been featured in many student recitals.

Grid Mentor Mum On OSC Job Offer

Although the general opinion on the Oregon State college campus was that Forest Evashevski had the head football coaching job there cinched, he surprised them all by packing up his suit case and heading back to East Lansing, Michigan.

Neither Evashevski nor Roy S. Keene, OSC athletic director, gave a reason for the sudden departure, although Evashevski had stated that he had been very pleased with the setup at the school. Behind it all, however, campus personnel thought they could see that Oregon State wanted Evashevski, but no one would confirm it. While out west, the prospective coach saw Gov. Douglas McKay, an ardent OSC fan, had conferences with OSC President A. L. Strand, met with the board of athletic control, and earlier in Portland had met with alumni and with the manager of the stadium in which OSC plays two games next fall.

OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP

Washington State college is offering counseling fellowships to graduate students in the fields of education, psychology, sociology, social work, and related subjects.

A Bright Future

The graduating college students of today can expect a happy and secure future, if the status of his predecessors is any criterion. A recent survey made by a national magazine shows that the average degree-holder has these characteristics:

He is a professional man or executive with a salary of $4,500 a year. He owns his own home and he has married once and has not been divorced. When married he planned to have three children but only had two.

He reads most of the best-sellers and his magazine reading is largely restricted to "Reader's Digest," "Time," "Life" and "Saturday Evening Post."

He attends church regularly and belongs to three other organizations. These other organizations have to do without him at half of their meetings.

He keeps up with national and international developments, but his active status in politics is confined to voting—a thing he does regularly. He does not affiliate himself with a party but votes according to the issue of the election.

He believes that personal integrity and continuous searching for truth are the most important goals of life. As he ages, he becomes more liberal and believes less and less that satisfaction comes from financial success, influence, or prestige. —H. R.

Memorial Plaque Needed

One of the most thoughtful and beneficial programs to be instituted at the university in a long while is Alpha Phi Omega's Gaudy Gert and Ugly Ike contest. A picture of each house's candidate and a jar to receive "votes" in the form of coins is now located just inside the Bucket entrance. The money received is to be used to erect a plaque in the lounge of the new student union addition in commemoration of those former students of the University of Idaho who gave their lives in World War II.

The purpose of the contest is not to choose another queen or king on the campus but to inspire rivalry among living groups that would bring in more money than a mere collection could. In this way students are spared the unpleasantness of another out and out collection. With such a commendable aim in view there is little doubt that all living groups will devote their fullest efforts to the successful completion of this contest. —A. D.

Pullman-Moscow Highway May Be Closed To Traffic

Highway travel between Moscow and Pullman is practically at a standstill. Highway officials would give no indications when the picture would change. The Pullman-Moscow highway remains closed, officially, and motorists using it are warned they do so at their own risk and chances are they will be forced to call on wrecker service to reach their destination.

J. A. Masterson, district highway engineer at Colfax, said this morning the "highway was in the worst condition of any No. 1 road I have ever seen." Signs have been posted at either end closing the route but no patrol is on duty to stop traffic. Some motorists are going through.

Tow Out Three Cars
Masterson, who made a routine inspection this morning, said he saw three cars being towed out or the short run between the two communities. "It will be a shame to post patrols to stop traffic entirely," the engineer explained, "but we may be forced to do that if the condition gets worse."

In addition, Morrison continued, some motorists were taken unaware by the road conditions when "some one removed the 'road closed' signs during the night." The road was posted again this morning with new signs.

Other Roads Bad
Masterson also said he would call the regional highway engineer at Spokane later today to receive further orders on whether to post a patrol.

There were approaches to Pullman from Moscow, it was reported, but roads being used by some motorists were nearly as hazardous as the main highway. Some persons were traveling over what is known as the old Pullman highway which starts the nine-mile trip near the university's Neale stadium.

Still others were using country roads which connect the two communities. Some motorists were taking the long way around through Uniontown and Colton

Faculty Member Leaves On Tour

Mr. I. L. Snyder, a new member of the faculty in the education department, will tour the southern part of Idaho beginning Monday.

The purpose of his trip is to find the demand for graduate extension courses. This information will be used by the education department in planning next fall's courses. Snyder plans to return to the university campus by the first of the coming month.

The instructor will give a course to the southern Idaho teachers in curriculum construction at Jerome and Burley. Snyder will also represent Harlow Campbell at a conference in Pocatello March 28-29.

Strange Epidemic Threatening Our Peaceful Campus Life

Just recovering from an epidemic of measles, the U. of I. campus is in the first stages of another disease equally disastrous to academic life. A writer on the Ubysee, college paper of the College of Puget Sound, describes the malady in terms common to all institutions of higher education.

Emergency precautions are in operation for the terrible epidemic that has hit the campus this week.

The symptoms are many and varied. The disease usually occurs as a form of "Jackadaism". It is accompanied by absent stares, smirks and smiles at meaningless objects, and a generally strange psychological attitude.

Students Mumble
Frequently the victim is afflicted with mumbling unintelligible phrases and is almost impossible to understand under any circumstances. This dread disease is known as springcoccus or more commonly as spring fever.

Perhaps the strangest effect of this seasonal influence is the emptiness of the Caf. The inmates of this infamous institution can no longer be found propped up at a table between lectures and it is now possible to eat lunch without an anonymous elbow in your sandwich.

Library Empty
Even the library is a forgotten place. For the first time since the Christmas exam results, a person can write an English essay without getting part of their neighbor's Ec. essay moved in with it.

With exams only five and a half weeks away, the only solution for combating this hideous development of spring is the old tried and

Use Of Sprinklers On Idaho Farms Becoming Popular

Seventeen Idaho farmers with 850 acres under sprinkler irrigation in the Coeur d'Alene, Lewiston, Weiser, and Payette districts are making a valuable contribution to basic irrigation research in Idaho. This was recently announced by Max C. Jensen, irrigationist with the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station.

Study Sprinkler System
"By keeping records on sprinkler irrigation systems the cooperating farmers are providing data to help determine the conditions under which sprinkler irrigation is desirable in Idaho," Jensen explains. The study was inaugurated because the Farmers Home Administration and other federal agencies were interested in operational costs of such systems.

Three years ago there were only two sprinkler irrigation installations in the state. Today, the university irrigationist estimates more than 200 farmers have shifted from ditches to overhead systems or brought under sprinkler irrigation new land which could not be watered by ditches.

talked to thousands of people seeking their points of view on present world conditions, and returned with nearly a half million words in notes. From these he wrote his book, "The Silent People Speak," which appeared in the early part of 1948.

From observations during his travels, this noted commentator has been convinced that "the most dangerous trouble spot in the world is the invisible line separating Yugoslavia from Greece. Diplomacy can, and eventually will, solve the problems of the day and prevent obliteration in World War III."

"Peace or Chaos" is based on the speaker's belief that a third world war is not inevitable.

Address Changes Affect Veterans

Thousands of veterans training under the GI Bill did not receive subsistence checks on time last month because they failed to notify Veterans Administration of a change in their address.

Since the Post Office department cannot deliver a government check to addresses not occupied by veteran payees, VA is urging all veterans receiving monthly checks from VA to report promptly all address changes.

An undelivered check is returned to the Treasury department disbursing office. This office notifies VA and the records are reviewed to determine whether the check actually was sent to the address furnished by the veteran.

If the address used was the latest furnished, VA holds the check until it hears from the veteran. VA realizes that prompt delivery of these checks is important to each veteran concerned. So the importance of the veteran cooperating by giving prompt notification of address changes cannot be over-emphasized.

Dodo Bird He Don't Dood It 'Cause What He Was, Isn't

By GORDON GRINDSTAFF

During one of our more geometric moods the other day, we decided to amble over to the top shelf of our bookcase and look up "dodecahedron" the meaning of which was needed in order to finish a math assignment.

While we were casually thumbing through the D's of Doctor I. K. Clappenbuscher's Twentieth Century Senior Combination Dictionary-Encyclopedia, minding our own business, the word "dodo" suddenly jumped out.

Since we had never been acquainted with a dodo, its presence in Clappenbuscher's repertoire aroused our curiosity. We read on, to see what Dr. C. had to say about dodos (or dodoes; you have a choice, says Dr. Clappenbuscher).

The dodo bird, we learned, is now extinct. According to Dr. C.'s T.C.S.C.D.E., the bird with the double "do" is reputed to have been large and clumsy, and unlike our other feathered friends in the same category, the dumb dodo was quite unable to fly. (This was probably due to the fact that he didn't have wings.)

The thing that bothers us is that Clappenbuscher gave so little space to the dodo. It seems sort of sad that such a deserving bird (the dodo, not Clappenbuscher) doesn't have a better build-up. Dr. Clappenbuscher gives twice as much room to divorcees, Doberman pinschers, and Dnepropetrovsk.

It just goes to show that one shouldn't cross his dodos before counting his Clappenbuschers.

How Smooth can a swing song be?

Hear Sam Donahue playing Jippy Love Song (A CAPITOL RECORDING) ... and you'll know!

Sam Donahue's new waxing is a real something. Yes! It's smooth, it's swingy, it's something terrific for a fast Lindy—or what-do-you-do? In music, Sam knows that whether you dance it fast or slow—you'll want it smooth. And when it comes to cigarettes, Sam himself wants a cool, smooth-smoking cigarette. That's why Sam says, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'. Camels are the mildest cigarette I've ever smoked—and they taste great, too!"

How MILD can a cigarette be?

Smoke CAMELS for 30 DAYS —and you'll know!

In a recent coast-to-coast test of hundreds of men and women who smoked only Camels for 30 days—an average of one to two packs a day—noted throat specialists, after making weekly examinations, reported

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION DUE TO SMOKING

Money-Back Guarantee! Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. Here's Sam Donahue and Patsi Mahar, a featured singer with his band, comparing notes on Camel Mildness.

I LEARNED FROM THE 30-DAY TEST THAT CAMELS ARE REALLY MILD AND HAVE A GRAND RICH, FULL FLAVOR, TOO

I'VE KNOWN THAT FOR YEARS, PATSI, THAT'S WHY CAMELS ARE MY FAVORITE CIGARETTE!

'Mural Champions Named In 'B' League Basketball Playing Continues To Decide Places

The intramural "B" basketball tournament advanced into the playoff stage Saturday after all league play was completed and the three remaining titles were won by Lindley Hall number 1, Sigma Chi number 1, Willis Sweet hall number 4. In the first playoffs, Delta Chi was tumbled from the undefeated ranks by Phi Delta Theta, leaving seven teams still running for the campus championship. However, all 42 teams will continue in action—fighting to keep as far from the bottom in the final standings as possible.

SC No. 1, 32; WSH No. 1, 19
The Sigma Chis annexed their 5th straight victory to put their league title safely in the ice tray. McKeivitt, with 13 points, was high scorer for the winners but was topped in the individual department by Anderson of the Willis Sweets who garnered 14.

WSH No. 4, 33; ATO No. 1, 15
This was a playoff between the two top teams who tied for first place in their league play. The Willis Sweet men avenged an earlier defeat by the ATO aggregation and earned the right to compete with the other league champions for the campus championship. T. Doupe, of the Willis Sweet squad, was the game's high scorer as he doped 10 points.

LH No. 1, 19; ATO No. 2, 8
McMasters continued to lead his team to victories as he scored another 6 points and his team won another game and the league championship. Jones, Rigby, and Schmidt tied for high point honors for the losing team with 2 points each.

PDT, 25; DC, 23
Phi Delta's Blakely intercepted a pass, dribbled down the floor and laid in the winning points to win the first game in the playoffs between the league winners. Blakely's 11 points were high for the game, while Buoy's 8 were tops for the losers.

IC No. 1, 27; TKE No. 1, 26
The Idaho club team very narrowly lifted themselves out of a tie for the league I cellar and left the Cannoners there without any competition, coercion, opposition or any other type of force which

Time Out

By DON RICE

WSC's 125-pound battler Jackie Melson, who figured rather prominently in this column last week after winning a split decision over DeForrest Tovey, seems to have been determined to show your Time-Out where to head in at. We thought Tovey got a raw deal, and that Melson had been awarded the decision merely because he was a Pacific Coast champ. Tovey fought a very close bout with Wisconsin's national champion, Steve Gremban, losing by one point. We said Melson didn't compare with Gremban as a fighter.

Then Melson went back to Wisconsin last Friday, and proceeded to whip Gremban, 20-28, leaving us 'way out on a limb with Melson calmly sawing it off.

Our hats are off to you, Mr. Melson, and it's high time we realized that you are as good a fighter as the judges and referee at WSC said you were.

It might try to elevate them. Idaho club center Triggs garnered 17 points to cop scoring honors, while Cannoner Chadband fired 12 for the lonely cellar-dwellers.

SN No. 2, 14; C Club No. 1, 21
This Sigma Nu outfit suffered their 5th straight defeat at the hands of the Campus club team. Waltman of Sigma Nu tied with Clubber Flynn for high point honors with 8 points each.

PH No. 1, 20; TKE No. 2, 18
It looked as if the Cannoners were finally going to win a game after losing 4 straight when they fought to a 10-9 halftime lead. But that was not to be. The Pine men livened up and handed the poor Shooters their 5th straight loss. Garrand bucketed 8 points for the Lumbermen, but was topped by Shooter Horlen who canned 9.

In other games, Berry led the North Main Vet's Village to a 36-9 victory over a hapless LDS quintet; Pine Hall number 3, lost to Sigma Chi number 2, 29-14; Delta Tau Delta number 1 downed Kappa Sigma number 2, 15-11; SAE number 2 scuttled Idaho club number 2, 21-14; and Lindley hall number 2 lost by forfeit to Kappa Sigma number 1.

Robin Hood Gives Nottinghamites False Glory

It is apparent that bad elements have invaded famed old Nottingham, England. For 800 years the city has prospered under the reputation built up by a celebrated Dead-eye Dick called Robin Hood. When they hear the latest flash from Nottingham, certain cynics are bound to tab this British city's reputation as some long deceased press agent's dupe.

WSC Lowers the Boom
Washington State college's varsity rifle team had a terrific psychological barrier to surpass when they scheduled a match with the University of Nottingham recently. Unperturbed, the Cougars fired away to a 590 to 578 triumph. The two institutions now plan to carry on their rivalry in a regular series of yearly matches. A perpetual trophy will probably be set up for future winners.

It seems unfair to award one man such world-wide celebrity before modern communications allowed him to compete with archers from other parts of the globe. Our newspaper will probably be banned from England for it but we desire to go on record as saying that Mr. Hood was probably a dud. He just didn't have any competition.

Vandal Skiers Prepare For Tourney

High-flying Sverre Kongsgaard and Crusty Hamon, captain of the Vandal ski team, look on as Teammate Fred Boyle examines a pair of jumping skis. Kongsgaard, a junior engineering student at Idaho, and an exchange student from Norway, ranks as one of the top jumpers in the country. The Vandal skiers will compete in the northern division ski tournament Saturday and Sunday, March 26-27, at the Emida ski area. WSC will be the host team.

Track Squad Begins Season At WSC; Hiserman 'Pleased'

Coach Stan Hiserman was more than pleased at the showing of the varsity and freshman track squads at the Washington State invitational meet last weekend at Pullman. The event marked the first of the season's competition for both squads.

Coach Hiserman grins quietly as he contemplates the WSC meet results, particularly in the pole vaulting division. And there is little wonder. Dave Martindale, Oakley freshman, not only defeated his freshman competitors but also left varsity members of Idaho and Washington State far behind. Martindale jumped 13 feet to win the frosh vault while Warren Keating of Idaho was taking the varsity event with a jump of 12 feet three inches. It is any wonder Coach Hiserman is smiling.

Frosh Come Through
Other freshmen who came through in pleasing style included: Speropolus and Woods, who took second and third in the discus; Jent who won the javelin; Kirk fourth in the 70 yard dash; and Contor third in the 800 yard run.

On the varsity side Idaho contenders included Christian as a second place winner in the 70 yard dash; Bean and Taylor second and third in the low and high hurdles; Armstrong second in the 300, Farnham third in the 600, Johanson third in the 1900 and the Idaho mile relay team second in that event.

Vandals Suffer Drubbing From San Jose Fighters

The San Jose State scrappers slapped a 5 1/2-2 1/2 decision on the hard-hitting Idaho boxers Friday evening at San Jose. It was the fourth loss in seven outings for the Vandals while the Spartans stretched their boxing string to seven straight.

A strong San Jose outfit made plenty of trouble for Idaho on the California jaunt last week. A series of tough bouts were featured in the card that saw only Len and Norm Walker scoring victories for the Vandals. Idaho's two-time intercollegiate champion, Herb Carlson, lost a close decision to Paul Diez in the 165-pound go, and Ted Diehl battled to a draw with the Spartan PCC champion, Pete Franushich, in a fast moving light-heavyweight fight. Last year Diehl and Franushich each registered a victory in two meetings.

Brothers Make Good
Two speed merchants from Wallace, Idaho, Norm and Len Walker, showed their wares to San Jose's Dave Gray and Ted Ratliff by outpointing both of the Spartan boxers in the 130 and 155-pound weights. The Walker brothers act not only gave the Vandals two points, but made it evident to California fans that both Norm and Len will be trouble-makers in the Pacific Coast championship tournament at Sacramento March 31-April 1.

Pair of Technicals
Two technical knockouts spliced the card witnessed by an overflow crowd of 3,500. Vern Bahr, Idaho 155-pounder, went down in the second round after his opponent, Wayne Fontes, scored to the stomach with a wicked left hook. Mac Martinez Tko'd Idaho's DeForrest Tovey in the second round of their 125-pound match after weathering a storm of leather thrown by Tovey in the first heat. In the 145-pound bout, Thane Johnson of Idaho lost a decision to Jim McDonald, and in the heavyweight fight, Don Ellis, Idaho, was decided by Don Schaeffer.

Idaho Skiers To Participate In ND Tournament Saturday

Sverre Kongsgaard, Idaho's jumping ace, will leave this weekend with Crusty Hamon, captain of the ski team, and Dick Boyle, for Emida, Idaho, to participate in the northern division ski championship.

Six northern division schools will have teams entered in the two-day meet which starts March 26 and consists of four big events: jumping, downhill, slalom and cross-country.

Besides the three men representing Idaho at Washington State college's ski bowl are such top performers as Gustav Rauum, one of the world's best jumpers from the University of Washington; George Thrane, ranking high on the list of top jumpers, and showing his stuff in the meet for Washington State college; Bill Bowes, Oregon State's outstanding slalom skier and many other big names vying for honors in the meet.

All in all it looks like a big event in the northern division with the six entries being the University of Idaho, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, Oregon State college and Montana State college, and Washington State college.

In high school at Kooskia, Idaho, boxing was not offered, however, football, basketball and baseball were, and Don was a three year letterman in all of them.

Don was born in 1929 at Douglas, Wyoming, where he spent all of his primary school years. He attended junior high in Washington and then moved to Kooskia for his high school career. After graduating, he came to the University of Idaho and turned out for freshman football and wrestling, but gave this up after the first year and turned all of his attention to boxing.

Don says he likes boxing and so in order to become an instructor in the sport, he is majoring in physical education. Another year and one-half here at the university and his hopes may be realized.
