More Of The Same Wanted

A record crowd filed into Memorial gymnasium Wednesday to hear an address by be-whiskered Robert St. John. The audience got its money's worth. In fact, over 200 students gathered in the ballroom of the Student Union building in the afternoon to listen to him for three more hours.

Every public events assembly carries with it a double obligation. First, it is the responsibility of the speaker to have something to say and to know how to say it. It is the obligation of the students to come out to hear the speaker.

This week, for the first time this year, both sides lived up to their obligation. At previous assemblies they did not. In the past it has often been the students who have been delinquent. It is true that some of the speakers, although they did have something to say, were not skilled in speaking to a group of college students.

On the other hand, excellent speakers have come to the campus only to speak to a handful of students. Too often a large part of the audience is composed of pledges from the various houses who come only because they are compelled to attend.

Perhaps the main reason we have been indifferent to public events speakers is because we want to be entertained, not edified. St. John did an excellent job of both. —O.H.

Life Gets Tee-jus

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. When he is little the big girls kiss him, and when he is big the little girls kiss him. If he is active in politics, it is for graft; if he is not interested in politics, he is no good for his country.

If he makes a lot of money, he is dishonest; if he is poor, he is a bad manager. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous everyone wants to do something for him.

If he is religious, he is a hypocrite; if he doesn't go to the temple, he is a hardened sinner. If he gives to charity, he does it for show; if he doesn't, he is a stingy cuss.

If he is affectionate, he is a soft specimen; if he doesn't care for anyone, he is cold-hearted. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; if he lives to a ripe old age, he missed his calling.

If he saves his money, he is a tightwad; if he spends it, he is a spendthrift. If he has money, he is a grafter; if he hasn't got it, he's a bum. So what's the use? —Author Unknown

Poll About A Poll Questions Results Of Questionnaire

Something new!! Here is a poll about a poll! Last Tuesday ASUI officials released an ASUI Student Opinion poll to all living groups on the campus. Questions concerning most functions and activities of the Idaho campus were listed. Spaces for comments offering suggestions to better various items were provided.

Among the most pertinent questions asked were those pertaining to the university grading system, selections of students for honorary memberships, registration procedures, and Idaho musical organizations.

When this poll for the Argonaut was taken, it was quite apparent that many students think the ASUI questionnaire has great possibilities—if its results are put to practical application. Students' views about this matter follow:

Gerry Fox, Delta Gamma: "Some of the questions should have been more explicit. The questionnaire is a good idea, and results from it should be applied."

Dick Horton, Pine Hall: "It was a good thing to get an idea of students' opinions concerning various Idaho activities. Let's have more 'bigger and better' questionnaires."

Ginny Tuttle, Alpha Pi: "The questionnaire was a good idea. Many of the items listed on it definitely need improvement!"

Melvin Brown, Willis Scept: "This ASUI questionnaire was O.K., but there wasn't enough space for comment. It covered the main ASUI functions very well."

Barbara Kitchens, Tri Delta: "It was an excellent idea to put out such a questionnaire and results should be put to use. It also covered the most important aspects of Idaho campus affairs."

Jim Townley, Phi Gamma Delta: "It's a good idea—I guess."

Mamie Jardin, Hays Hall: "It was a very good thing to have such a questionnaire, if anything is actually done about it. Most Idaho campus activities were very well covered."

Bruce Scranton, Beta Theta Pi: "The questionnaire was a good idea if followed up. It should have given more complete explanations and should have provided more space for comments."

Linda Lee Marsyla, Forney Hall: "I believe the questionnaire covers most of the important problems. It will be wonderful if our suggestions are taken and these things are improved, because they certainly do need improvement."

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra To Appear In Pullman Concert Thursday

Dear Jason

The negative of the athletic living group question was given by Bob Dahlstrom last Friday. In all fairness the affirmative should be aired. If we look back to the early 1900's, we remember an Indian boy that grew up chasing wild ponies on the plains of Oklahoma for a free ride—that boy Jim Thorpe—became one of the greatest football players of all time.

Twenty years later there appeared the immortal Red Grange. Today again after twenty years we have another great athlete—Bob Matias of Tulare, Calif. Really great athletes occur few and far between. When football was a virgin sport and the nation was not so sport conscious, only a few schools drew on these few great and near great men.

Today every college has a team and in the true American fashion, they all want a winner. Since the boys cannot pay and play both, they are subsidized.

Alums and students alike have sunk money into these teams and they want them to produce—or else. Coaches who have limited resources must make a good team out of relatively average and mediocre athletes. To do this takes all of the savvy, training, and hard work that a coach can throw at the boys. To keep in winning shape, anyone with any know-how realizes that food, rest, and abstinence from all harmful drugs, etc., plays a big part.

When men live with other men that are in training they don't tend to take the drink or smoke that means a misjudged pass the following Saturday. They don't stay out till 2 a.m. with that blond from across the tracks and unthinkingly cheat those that are

IRC Views Issues Of St. John Talk

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Dimitri Metropoulos, will be heard in a community concert Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Bohler gymnasium, Washington State college. This is their first appearance in this area since the spring of 1947.

The Minneapolis Symphony was founded in 1903 by the late Emil Oberhofer, its first conductor, and Elbert L. Carpenter. Following a course of gradual development through the years, the orchestra now numbers 100 members.

Appears In Eastern Cities

Oberhofer early established the highest musical standards and in thirteen years, the orchestra appeared in New York, Boston, and other eastern cities where it was well received by music critics. Since 1930, orchestra headquarters have been at the University of Minnesota.

Dimitri Metropoulos, the present conductor, is a native of Athens. He attended the Athens conservatory, completed his studies in Berlin, and became assistant conductor at the State Opera.

Many Foreign Engagements

Returning to Athens in 1924, he organized and conducted a symphony orchestra at the conservatory. In 1930, he was guest conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra at the Orchestre Symphonique de Paris.

Engagements followed in Great Britain, Italy, Russia, and other European countries. His American debut was with the Boston Symphony orchestra in 1936. A year later, he became permanent conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Sigma Tau Group Set Dinner-Dance

Sigma Tau engineering honorary will hold their annual spring dinner-dance beginning at 6:30 p. m. April 1, in the Hotel Moscow.

Wilbur King, president of Sigma Tau, announced that Earl Spencer will be in charge of the dance committee and has engaged the Rhythmaires orchestra to play for the dance.

Fred Watson will be master of ceremonies at the banquet and patrons who will attend include President and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Dean and Mrs. Allen Janssen, Prof. and Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, and Prof. and Mrs. Henry F. Gauss.

Saturday Events Include Fireside, Dinner Dance

"Raunchier Than Ever" is the theme of the Lindley hall fireside to be presented tomorrow night. Alpha Phi will hold their annual upperclassmen's dinner dance Saturday.

"Cover Girl" and "Life Gets Tedious" were the themes of the Delta Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega initiation dances held last weekend.

Phi Kappa Tau held a joint Founders Day banquet Sunday with the WSC chapter. An informal fireside will be given by Delta Tau Delta tonight.

Gamma Phi Beta
Dinner guests Thursday were Mrs. Lyle McDermott and Diana Hooper. Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whitcomb, and Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace.

Mrs. D. E. Smith, Barbara Maler, and Shirley Hammond were house guests last weekend.

A big-little-sister fireside was held Saturday. Paddles were given to the big sisters. Carolyn Craddock was in charge of the affair.

Phi Kappa Tau
Beta Gamma of Phi Kappa Tau played host for the annual Founders Day dinner held at the Hotel Moscow, Sunday. The affair was held in conjunction with the WSC chapter.

Ernest Price, Spokane, domain chief of the Northwest, was the guest speaker. Special guests included Homer J. Dana, Douglas Carter, Charles Decker, Joseph Brunzell, and James Newsome.

Kappa Kappa Gamma
Guests for dinner Sunday, March 13, included Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Leavitt, Professor and Mrs. V. A. Cherington, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Casebolt. Wednesday dinner guests, March 16, were Miss Mabel Locke, Billie Steelman, Mary Fram, Mrs. Fred William, Boise, Mrs. Snawver, and Mrs. Lyle McDermott, Boise.

Jeanne McPhail, a Kappa from WSC, was a dinner guest March 18. Mrs. Art Saffia and Marguerite Gandiagio were guests at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Lyle McDermott was a house guest last week.

Wednesday dinner guests included Mary Jones, Nadine Jester, Betty Peters, Helen Doffer, and Wilma Martin.

Delta Chi
Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Frather, Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans, and Wilma Martin.

Vernon Hyland and Chester Harper were recently pledged.

Gene Allen, Harold Boehm, Del Klaus, and Ray McNally went to Spokane last week to contact alumni concerning fall rushing.

A surprise party was given by the pledges at midnight Wednesday. Ben Nicholas and Jerome Kinsey were in charge of arrangements.

Alpha Phi
District governor, Irma Latta, Yakima, is visiting the chapter house this week.

The upper-classmen's dinner dance will be held Saturday.

Delta Tau Delta
Sunday dinner guests were John Christenson, Dave Maule, and Frank Gillette. Pat Arney, University of Washington student, was a dinner guest Wednesday.

Weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kent Undjem.

Plans have been made for an informal fireside to be given tonight.

Delta Gamma
The annual initiation dance was held last Friday evening. The theme chosen was "Cover Girl" and pictures of the new initiates were on the wall in the form of magazine Cover Girls. The sophomores were in charge of the dance.

Dinner guests Sunday were Rae Reid, Norman Siringar, Kathryn Beasley, Elin Silverman, and Mable Locke.

Kay Tometz and Gwen Waltman were weekend guests.

Thursday dinner guests were Mrs. Lon Rundstrom, Joan Lien, and Martha Dorsey of the University of Washington, Jean Kieley, Jaunita Wilson, Marjorie Thomas, Carol Bowlby, Jackie Scott, Leiloni Nock, and Carmelyn McMahon.

Sigma Chi
Sunday dinner guests were Russel L. Tuttle and William J. Nixon.

Guests for dinner Wednesday were Dave Martindale and Don Nepean.

Lindley Hall
"Raunchier than ever" is the theme of the second semester fireside to be presented by Lindley hall, Saturday. All women are urged to contact Ron Muck or Richard Straw for further information about this all-Lindley event.

Tau Kappa Epsilon
Wednesday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Johnson, and daughter Caroline, and Buddy Hagen.

Modern Age Engineers

During pledging week for Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, six new pledges were required to wear paper hats and carry pieces of railroad rails as part of the entrance requirements. It is a new style of headwear that could start a fad (in Lower Slobbovia). Left to right they are Jerry Frick, Rafael Jimenez, Melford Friend, Lonnie Roe, John Mayo, and Torleif Aune.

Kimberling-Barnes Duo Takes Honors In Bridge Tourney

Results were obtained recently from the mail round of the National Intercollegiate Bridge tournament, and 16 colleges and universities are now eligible to compete in the final round at Chicago April 21, according to Geoffrey Mott-Smith, tournament manager.

The University of Idaho placed tenth in the Western Zone run-offs. Candidates for Idaho with highest scores were Marvin Kimberling and Hal Barnes. As it was possible to obtain a par 18, the highest scores in the Western Zone were 8 pars with Idaho garnering a 5 par. Other Idaho students who competed in the mail rounds were Tom Tudder, Bob Leeper, Marge Thomas, Mardelle Nelson, Phil Beeson, and Bert Sorensen.

Sophomores Take Hoop Tourney

With a total of five wins and no losses, the sophomore basketball team won the women's round robin tourney held in the gym during the last two weeks.

Freshman team No. 1 followed with two wins, one tie, and two losses; a total of two wins and three losses was attributed to freshman team No. 2.

Marriage Unites University Couple

A double ring ceremony Friday, March 18, united Jeannette Jensen and Jack Barnes in matrimony at the First Lutheran church with Pastor Neale Nelson officiating.

Mrs. Barnes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric W. Jensen, Jerome. She is a senior, majoring in French, and resided at Forney hall before her marriage. Barnes, a junior in journalism, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnes, Ogden, Utah.

Sigma Chi Initiates

Twelve Sigma Chi pledges were initiated at the chapter house Sunday.

They include Gale Bair, Vernon Caldwell, Richard Field, Jay Green, Wendell Herrett, Richard Iorns, William Jewell, Phillip Johnson, Robert Nixon, Robert Stevenson, Seth Tuttle and Brian Williams.

Writer Voices Suggestions On 'How To Pass A Course'

By DARWIN COGSWELL

As the first day of Spring broke on the Idaho campus, most of the students discovered they were broke right along with it. Taking stock of the past hectic month to try and deduce what had happened to their finances, they made the amazing discovery that the precious "green folding stuff" had disappeared this month the same way it has every month.

Naturally with "the root of all evil" not able to raise his ugly head until April 1, there seemed to be but one alternative left—to study for nine weeks exams.

Helpful Suggestions
For the benefit of those students (all 3000 of them) who will naturally find it difficult to concentrate on school work while Spring is busting out all over, the following suggestions have been submitted by various intellectuals on the campus on "How to Pass a Course That You Haven't Studied For All Semester," (or "Why Don't You Just Give Up, Brother?")

The first suggestion is to try to obtain a seat in the front of the classroom (providing you can keep awake) and agree with everything the instructor says. Be particularly sure to be the first to laugh at all his jokes.

Carry Reference Books
If anyone in class disagrees with the instructor, jump to your feet immediately and denounce him as an idiot, nincompoop, and a WSC student. (You may even go so far as to throw a book at him, providing he is smaller than you.) This will surely gain you recognition from your teacher.

A third tactic is to stagger late into class with your arms loaded with reference books on the subject. Naturally you don't have to read these books. Just drop one on the instructor's toe or attract his attention in some way so he will notice these books and think you are enjoying the subject.

Relax And Wait
It always pays to ask your instructor to dinner at your living group. Some students prefer to do

Official's Ratings Awarded To Seven
Three women were awarded national basketball officials' ratings following practical tests given last Saturday, Miss Natalie Wells of the women's physical education department announced.

They are Jean Wardell, Sue Beardsley, and Valeta Hershberger. Women were tested during games between Idaho and WSC basketball groups and during class tourney matches.

Receiving local ratings were Mike Schou and Rosemary Fitzgerald. Dorothy Gale and Stella Johnson made intramural ratings.

This night before a test. (Several teachers have been known not to attend class the next day.)

Of course, there is always the alternative of "ponying" the whole book but one slip of your "ticker tape pony" and the classroom will look like a V-day parade down Times square in New York. (Not to mention the fire hazard.)

After taking all these measures to make yourself noticed in class and the instructor tells you that you're still going to flunk, you will at least have the satisfaction of a nice try. Pat yourself on the back, prop your feet on a chair and go to sleep. At least you will be resting when your check comes April 1.

Mittslingers Meet EWCE In Season's Final Battle

PCC Tourney Set For Next Friday

Eastern Washington this evening—the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championship tournament at Sacramento, Calif., March 31-April 1. That's the work assignment cut out for Coach Frank Young and his Idaho fighters who start the procedure tonight with a return engagement against EWCE in the Cheney fieldhouse at 7:30.

Savages Seek Revenge
Idaho took a 4-3 decision from Coach Merle Vannoy's highly-rated Easterners in the season opener at Moscow. The battle tonight will be the final appearance for both teams before they enter the PCC and sparks are expected to fly in several of the weights.

For one, Idaho's 125-pounder, DeForrest Tovey, meets Eastern's Bobby Schmidt in a return match that should provide some fast, furious action. Tovey gained a close decision over Schmidt in their first encounter.

Walkers, Johnson to Fight
Kenny Oliver, Nial Worsham and Gene Fixsdal, the three EWCE boys that pounded out decisions at Memorial gym, get their first crack at the Walkers and Thané Johnson. Oliver meets Norm Walker at 130-pounds, Worsham takes on Len Walker at 135-pounds, and Fixsdal opposes Johnson at 145.

Two Forfeits
Idaho will forfeit the 155-pound division and Eastern, the 165-pound bracket. Vern Bahr, Vandal 155-pounder became ill and could not appear on the card. Idaho's intercollegiate champion, Herb Crandall wins the 165-pound division on forfeit, but will be on the bill by fighting an exhibition bout with EWCE's Van Tine.

Ted Diehl's opponent in the light-heavyweight division was as yet unnamed. Don Ellis, Vandal heavy, tackles a heavy assignment when he enters the squared circle against Eastern's Herm Fein in the final match.

Time Out

By DON RICE

Final statistics have just been released from the office of the Pacific Coast conference commissioner in Los Angeles regarding the individual standings of the league's basketball players.

Oregon's big Roger Wiley, of course, rests comfortably in first place in the scoring column with 235 points scored in 16 games. He could learn a little about accuracy under the hoop, however, from Southern Cal's Bill Sharman, who, with 203 points in 12 games, leads the southern division. His average is more than two points per game higher than the lanky Duck center.

No Leaders

As far as northern division figures are concerned, it's interesting to note that three of the ten top scorers in the division are from Idaho. The same is true for Washington, while Oregon has two and OSC and WSC one each. We wonder if some inference can be drawn from the fact that the two top teams in the division placed a single man from each among the top ten point-gainers.

What Gives ???

Can it be that the Cougar and Beaver teams have mastered the art of playing together as a unit, with little emphasis on the individual player? That's hardly likely, since Gayda of WSC rates second among the ten, with OSC's Cliff Crandall right behind him in the third spot.

Maybe Crandall and Gayda lifted their teams into the lead by their bootstraps. Maybe the other teams in the division just aren't very good. Maybe . . . we dunno. You figure it out.

"My girl's faithful. I could trust her with fifty guys."
"With fifty, sure. But how about one?"

Unsung Frosh Sluggers

Because they are freshmen these lads didn't have an opportunity to win big "T" sweaters this year. However, fans who saw them in action during preliminaries this season don't have serious worries about the varsity squad's future. From left to right they add up to Franky Echevarria, 125-pounder from Blackfoot; Frank Flecher, 130 pounds, Boise; Clark (Tiger) Lawson, 145 pounds, of Tekoa, Washington, and Lloyd Schiller, 165 pounds, Emmett.

Cage Coach, Athletic Heads To Attend Seattle Confabs

Head Basketball Coach Chuck Finley left last night for the NCAA coaches' meeting and the NCAA basketball championships in Seattle this week-end.

FOREIGN FILMS SHOWN

The foreign film committee has succeeded in presenting to its WSC audience some of the most outstanding moving pictures ever produced by other nations.

In pleasing style were Nick Speropolus, Weiser, and Woods, Richland, who took second and third in the discus; Jent, Weiser, who won the javelin; Kirk fourth in the 70 yard dash, and Contor third in the 600 yard run.

Henry (Hank) Iba, coach of the Oklahoma A & M team that will meet Kentucky for the national championship, coached Finley when both were with the Marysville teachers. Finley gained high recognition as being a member of this team and thus received All-American bids. He has been a close friend of Iba's since those days and to say that Finley was excited about the coming game and the chance to spend some time with his former coach is putting it mildly.

Coach Finley in his two years at Idaho has been introduced to the Pacific Coast style of ball taught by the famous Iba. Iba has said that Finley is one of the 12 best informed men on basketball in the country. They ought to have quite a session together.

George W. Greene, director of athletics, and Gale L. Mix, general manager for ASUI, left the Idaho campus today for the meet of the northern division athletic heads. Frosh Coach Steve Belko left for the meet Wednesday. This gathering is in conjunction with the NCAA meeting.

Frosh, Varsity Track Teams Plan 'Silver And Gold' Meet

The Idaho varsity and freshman track squads have been divided into two teams and are busy preparing for an intra-squad meet Saturday afternoon, April 9, it was announced by Stan Hiserman.

A pair of seniors was chosen to captain each team. The captains of the Gold team are Warren Keating and Bill Matthews, while John Taylor and Al Denman will lead the Silver aggregation.

WARNINGS GIVEN
The warned status list of the University of Idaho for the past semester was broken down into percentages for the various divisions which are as follows: L-S—4.8 percent; Agr.—7.7; Engr.—11.8; Min.—7.4; Law.—8.1; For.—7.2; Ed.—3.8; Bus.—11.8.

Free Busses To Facilitate Migration To N.D. Ski Meet

Idaho students will have their best opportunity of the season to see top skiers in action when the Northern Division meet is held this Saturday and Sunday at Emida. Free transportation from the Bucket will be offered Sunday morning and spectators are urged to attend; admission is $1.00 per person, WSC will be host team for this, the season's last meet.

3 Squads Remain In Murals Race

Fijis Dunk PDT

In the feature game this week the Fijis continued to roll right on over all competition when they handed the previously unbeaten, Phi Deltas a 28 to 20 setback. The Bellboys held an 11 to 7 lead at the halftime, but the Fijis turned on the pressure during the third quarter and outscored them 18 to 1 during that period, and then coasted to victory and the division championship. Fijis Barstow and Schull, with 7 and 6 points respectively, were high scorers for the winners. Blakely and Burrows paced the losers with 6 points each.

Down The Booby Hatch

The other end of the race shows a very similar situation. Campus Cafe has permanent, uncontested possession of the Division "A" cellar position, which they earned by forfeiture to Phi Kappa Tau in the cellar contest. Tau Kappa Epsilon No. 2 will play Sigma Nu No. 2 for the Division "B" booby prize.
