Junior Completing Plans

With only last-minute details remaining to be finished, members of the 1949 Junior Prom committee are looking forward to drawing a large number of students to the large ballroom of the Bucket Saturday night.

"Easter Frolic" Chosen Prom Theme; Decorations To Be Of Spring Design

"Easter Frolic" was chosen as the theme for the semi-formal Junior Prom to be held Saturday, at 9 p.m. in the Blue Bucket ballroom, according to Louise Miller, general chairman.

Because of the already numerous activities on the campus, parades and extra activities of Junior week have been curtailed. All emphasis will be placed on the prom to make it the most elaborately decorated dance of the year.

Feature Painter's Band Pastels and spring colors will cover the ballroom. The band stand, which will feature Carl Painter and his orchestra, will resemble a huge hat box.

To Present Plan "A plan for financing will be presented by the joint Regents-University Student Union committee," President Buchanan added.

Former Enemy Students To Enter American Colleges

The first large-scale government program to bring students from former enemy countries to the United States as a part of the reconstruction effort in those areas has been launched. This announcement was recently released by Donald J. Shank, vice president of the Institute of International Education.

The program is made possible under the terms of a contract signed last week between the Department of the Army and the Institute, providing funds set aside by congress to assist nationals of Germany, Japan, and Austria to come to this country to study. The students will start arriving next fall for the academic year 1949-50.

Expects 300 Students
 A total of 300 students is expected by September, Shank said. Of this number, 150 will be German, 100 Japanese, and 50 Austrian. Both graduates and undergraduates, they will come for one year, returning to their homelands at the end of that time.

About 200 Germans and Austrians are studying in United States educational institutions this year, as well as a few Japanese under private sponsorship. This contract provides the first government support for a wider program of international education for students from these countries.

Students selected to come to the United States will be those who, it is believed, will be able to interpret American democracy to their fellow countrymen on their return home. They will be screened for academic qualifications by civilian selection committees in each country, and for political affiliations by military government officials.

Many of the delegates to this year's William Edgar Borah Outlawry of War conference hope to hear an address such as Dr. Quincy Wright of the University of Chicago gave in his opening address at the 1948 meeting. The title of Dr. Wright's keynote address was "The Causes of War."

Idaho Students Plan To Take Active Part In Peace Mee

By Virginia Orazem
 Next Tuesday morning, April 12, will be held the first general session of the 1949 conferences on the William Borah Foundation for the Outlawry of War. For the ensuing two days conference and open forum discussions are scheduled for both mornings and afternoons.

Last year's meetings dealt with causes of war, and forums next week will be primarily concerned with maintenance of our world peace.

A student opinion poll taken yesterday revealed various viewpoints concerning effectiveness of these conferences, and methods whereby more student interest could be promoted.

Don Haynes, Sigma Nu: "It looks as though the University is doing everything possible to create student interest by obtaining top speakers and leaders of the nation, and then dismissing classes. This problem is so vitally important, it seems as though college students should be keenly interested in such discussions."

Charlotte Powell, Pi Beta Phi: "The Borah Foundation for the Outlawry of War and the annual conferences are excellent and very interesting, but students don't know enough about it. I think classes should definitely be dismissed for those wishing to attend the forums."

Allan Petrie, Lambda Chi: "The forums following each speech offer an excellent chance for student participation. I like the present setup very much. More interest will probably be shown this year because university students are becoming more concerned with international conditions."

Shirley Longley, Forney hall: "The Borah Foundation as now presented for preserving the peace should have its influences felt more in the high schools, as well as the University."

Bob Strom, Sigma Chi: "The idea of discussing peace problems is fine—but we must have action to produce desired results."

NEW CURRICULUM
 Western Michigan College of Education has inaugurated the first pre-service vocational industrial teacher education curriculum in the state of Michigan.

Dogdom Given Independence

The dogs, at last, are having their day. Moscow's city council this week repealed an eight-year-old ordinance requiring dogs to be tied or penned during the summer months.

It seems little enough to do for Man's Best Friend. His faith and friendliness need to be rewarded.

Undoubtedly, someone's garden will be trampled by an oversized, frolicking dog. Probably some will bury bones in a petunia bed, and perhaps the firemen will have to rescue a tree cat seeking refuge from some dog.

It seems little enough sacrifice to see the jaunty bounce of a cocker's ears as he runs across the summer lawn, to watch the joyous play of pups and children, and to hear the deep bark of a mutt playing ball.

They will, we are sure, make the summer more complete. Dogs weren't made to be kept in pens. They were made to love and be loved.

No Exemptions Noted

Trifles, it has been said, make up the sum of human things. America's miserable traffic accident record is, in a sense, the sum of all our trifling human frailties. Most of us know how to drive and walk with safety, but it is so human to let our absurd little personal foibles botch our better judgment.

In their 1949 book of street and highway accident data The Travelers Insurance Companies have recognized this fact. The grim record of traffic deaths and injuries is all there, in tabular form, but the booklet is lightened by a pictorial presentation of the probable cause of many of the accidents. There is the fellow who breaks every ordinance in the book to get home in 28½ minutes flat; only to read a comic book during the minute and a half he saves. There is the teenager who knows every rule in the baseball book but none of the laws on the traffic books. And the woman who can spot a nylon stocking sale from four aisles away but can't see a red traffic light in front of her nose.

We're all there, mirrored in at least one of the cartoons! Let us hope this sly satire will succeed in personalizing the lessons of safety where sterner warnings have failed.

Wave Enlistments Draw To A Close

April 15 is the last day the Navy will accept applications for Wave officer training for the class convening in July, 13 Naval District Headquarters announced today.

Senior women students of colleges and universities in the district, including Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, are eligible to apply for commissions in the Regular Navy Waves. If accepted, June graduates will commence a six-month indoctrination course in July at the Navy General Line School, Newport, Rhode Island.

Interested women are requested to contact personally or by letter the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Arctic building, Seattle, Wash. Upon application candidates should present academic transcripts of completed work, and birth certificates.

Flerchinger Tells Ag Show Slogan

"See the Little International, a Show of Agricultural Progress," has been adopted as the slogan of this year's show, according to Francis Flerchinger, publicity director.

The slogan will be used by all departments in preparing floats and displays. Various ag departments are already planning their floats, Flerchinger said, and preparing to vie for the traveling trophy now held by the animal husbandry department.

Nine Are Selected By Independents For ASUI Election

Nine candidates were chosen last Monday night by Independent caucus to run for executive board posts in the spring elections.

They are Larry Morrison, Idaho club; Bruce Faul, Campis club; Kenneth Briggs, Lindley; Phyllis LaRue, Hays; Bob Jonas, Willis Sweet; Elenore Strange, Ridenbaugh; Dick Geisler, LDS; Betty Peters, Forney; and Keith Judd, Pine.

To this list of Independent candidates is added the name of Bob Moulton, the party's choice for ASUI president. Moulton was winner of the Independent primaries inaugurated by the party this year to give halls a more active voice in choosing their candidate for president.

At the caucus meeting, each living group brought the name of the person chosen within the hall as their preference for executive board. From this group, caucus chose nine to make up the party slate.

Got The Early Rising Blues? Chorus Line's A Suggestion

By Darwin Cogswell

Have you been getting dirty looks from your teachers lately? Have your grades decreased for no apparent reason? Does your stomach growl in class for the want of food? Instructors on the campus have recently complained that perhaps the most class disturbing factor is students who deliberately let their stomachs growl. This has been known to break up several classes and poison teachers on the brink of insanity for a whole class period.

The cause of a growling stomach is largely contributed to students who leap out of bed at 7:59 a. m. to make their 8 o'clock class on time and therefore, miss breakfast. (For those who have forgotten, breakfast is an early morning meal that was all the rage in past years.)

Many Make Suggestions
The problem seems to be how to induce these students to cram down a few mouthfuls of food and thereby prevent the inevitable mayhem that will surely take place if the growling situation continues.

One instructor has even gone so far as to suggest that a chorus line of dancing girls be present at all the men's living groups for breakfast—to promote early rising. (Naturally, this brought up the problem of tardy school attendance and was therefore ruled out.)

No Solution Reached
Rather far fetched ideas like "ejector beds" which will pick a person up at a specified time and throw him head first down the stairs, or a first period class-room breakfast has been suggested but to no avail.

As yet, a solution to curb the "Growlers" activities hasn't been reached but if reliable teachers continue to run screaming from the class room jibbering some nonsense about growling stomachs, the administration will surely take a hand in this affair. Maybe breakfast in bed, isn't too far off.

Faculty Women Attend April Tea
The University of Idaho faculty women's club members and their guests attended the annual April tea in the upstairs room of the Faculty club house.

Entertainment included the reading of a play by Prof. John Cushman. Mrs. H. L. Hogsett, Twin Falls, state president of Idaho federated clubs, spoke on the federation's aims and policies.

Mrs. Hall Macklin, Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald, Mrs. Allen Janssen and Mrs. J. W. Barber presided at the tea table arranged in an Easter theme by Mrs. H. E. Lattig.

A colorful Easter rabbit held the scroll which announced the engagement of Phyllis Halley to Lyle Tapper, at the Gamma Phi Beta chapter house Wednesday evening.

Miss Halley is the daughter of Mrs. Homer Hamblin of Boise, and Tapper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Tapper of Malad.

Tapper, a junior majoring in business, is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega. Miss Halley will graduate in June, majoring in physical education. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Special dinner guests were Mrs. William Helmsworth, Mrs. George Wallace, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. Carl Eisinger and Mrs. Don Bunge.

The wedding has been planned for August and will take place in Boise.

Field Reserved

The women's athletic field is reserved for softball practices each weekday afternoon from 4 to 5 p. m.

Faculty of the women's physical education department ask that other groups will cooperate with this ruling.

ATO's To Present Freshman Award

The local chapter of Alpha Tau Omega has initiated a scholarship award, the Clark Memorial Scholarship, for house freshmen.

The scholarship will be given in the spring to the most worthy freshman member of the year. Basis for the award is scholarship, 50 per cent; need, 30 per cent; and activity, 20 per cent. The scholarship committee is drawn from student, alumni, and faculty members of the fraternity.

The award is a memorial to two former Idaho ATO's, Tim and Jack Clark, who were both killed in airplane crashes.

The amount of the award will vary from $300 to $500, depending on the funds on hand.

Dinosaur's Snout Shows Cancer Sign

The snout of a dinosaur, which has on it the oldest known cancer, was shown on slides to illustrate the talk of Dr. Frank Queen at the University of Oregon April 4.

Dr. Queen is a widely known cancer expert from the University of Oregon Medical school and a member of the medical section of the Atomic Energy commission. Topic of his discussion was "Cancer Control."

PERCENTAGE HIGH

Ninety-eight percent of the World War II veterans who have entered training under laws administered by the veteran's administration are still in the stage of completing training.

Women's "I" Club Plans Open House

Women's "I" club will hold an open house in their newly-finished lounge in the downstairs part of the women's gym Monday evening from 7 to 8.

All women physical education majors and minors are invited, and refreshments will be served.

Approximately a month's work has been done by "I" club members to redecorate and refurbish the room which will be utilized as a study and lounge for majors and minors and "I" club members.

A spring tapping is being planned, according to president Rusty Grant. Eight women now make up "I" club.

New Harvesting Invention Aids Idaho's Potato Crop

The University of Idaho's new experimental potato harvester, which demonstrated exceptional ability to harvest potatoes with a minimum of mechanical injury at the Aberdeen branch station last fall, will get a trial in other major potato-producing districts of the state this year, reports Elmer N. Humphrey, associate agricultural engineer, its designer.

One machine will go into the Homedale-Marsing section of southwestern Idaho for a trial run in the early potato fields in July. Cooperating farmers in the Twin Falls, Blackfoot, and Idaho Falls sections are building machines under Humphrey's guidance for use in Russet harvesting this fall.

Reduces Potato Injuries
"At the end of the 1949 harvest we expect to have data from three or four of the machines operating in various types of soil," explains Humphrey.

This new machine, embodying new ideas in gentle handling of potatoes at harvest time, is one of the first major products of a research program to reduce mechanical injury in all potato handling operations, harvesting, field hauling, cellar handling and sorting. Cooperating with the university's agricultural experiment station in this project to get Idaho's potatoes to consumers throughout the nation with a minimum of injuries is the Idaho advertising commission.

To Patent Machine

"Because this machine represents new ideas in potato harvesting steps have been taken to have it patented," reports Dr. Glenn C. Holm, research director for the agricultural experiment station. "This is being done in the interest of all potato growers of the state. By holding the patents, the university can give plans to every potato grower wanting to build one." Top compliment to the university's experimental machine was relayed back to Idaho by Milton F. Eberhard, association agricultural economist, who has been conducting a consumer preference study on potatoes in Kansas City and Cincinnati. Potatoes used in this study came from the Aberdeen station. All were harvested by the university's new machine.

Tri Delta Sets Up New Scholarship For Idaho Women

Tri Delta sorority will award a local scholarship of $150 which is open to all women at the university. This is the first in a series of annual awards to be presented by the sorority.

Those women who are interested should fill in a local scholarship application blank which is available at the dean of women's office, or from Laura McVicker, president of the local chapter.

Need Official Letters

Applications must be accompanied by a personal letter explaining the student's education and vocational plans, and by three letters of recommendation as to her ability to meet scholastic and community responsibilities. One of these letters should be from a professor in her major field, and one from an administrative official of the school.

Any well-qualified student, working towards a degree in a worthwhile field, who is in need of financial assistance, is eligible to apply for the scholarship. Consideration will be given especially to junior and senior students.

Graduate Exams Offered May 2-3

Graduate record examinations for students who wish to enter graduate schools will be given May 2 and 3 at the Guidance center. Registration deadline for examinations is April 14.

The Graduate record examination is a series of tests designed to show the nature and extent of a student's knowledge and understanding in comparison with that of other college students.

Many leading graduate and professional schools request that whenever possible the examination results be submitted by students seeking admission. Some institutions have used examination results as a partial basis for awarding of assistantships and scholarships, and for counseling students regarding their educational programs.

All students wishing to take these tests or wanting further information can contact Charles O. Decker, at the Guidance center.

Forty Idaho State college students will appear with the A Cappella choir on its spring tour March 14 to April 8.

Spring Weather Aids Heating Plant

Warm spring weather has taken the pressure off the university heating plant so that work can be completed on the project by the first part of July, according to George Gagon, university engineer.

Emphasis is being placed on the roof and overhead coal bunker. Huge steel girders are now in place on top of the structure, and this phase of the project is expected to be completed soon.

Plans also call for an underground room to house an emergency generator as a precaution against power failures. A dozen men are working on the project, according to C. B. Lauch, contractor.

An ash collection system which will move ashes from the boiler to an overhead tank where it can easily be dumped into a truck below is another part of the plant renovation.

Installation work, especially in the pump room where pipes and valves are being put into place is not yet completed.

Truman Requests Government Aid In Public Schools

An appeal to President Truman to push for early action on legislation to provide federal aid to public elementary and secondary schools, was made recently by leaders of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education, whose 247 member institutions prepare most of the nation's school teachers.

Express Concern

In a 440-word telegram to the President and Congressional leaders, Dean W. I. Peik of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, the association president, and his executive committee members expressed deep concern over reports on the "very great gap between the number of new teachers who will graduate and the number required to keep open the schools of the United States."

The association officials, who held a two-day session at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago, told the President a new survey shows that colleges and universities of the nation will turn out this year only 13,500 college graduates prepared to teach in the elementary schools to meet a demand for more than 100,000 new teachers in these lower grades.

Engineers Choose Nomination Slate

J. Hugo Johnson was chosen counselor of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers for the coming year.

The following slate was formed during nominations for next year's officers: chairman, Don Lapray and Don Baumgartner; vice chairman, Joe Eyrich and Lonnie Roe; senior representative, Jerry Erick and Keith Dedrick.

Others include publicity chairman, Mel Friend and Dan McDevitt; secretary, Ted Rosenau and Bill Adams; treasurer and junior representative, Roy Doupe, Jim Henry, Leonard Hartwig, and Fred Hyland.

A Washington Water Power movie, "The Snowshoe Trail," featuring an Idaho Electrical engineering graduate of 1947, Glenn Nogle, was shown to the group after the business meeting. Nogle was making snow surveys to determine the water content in the snow on the water shed of the rivers in the W.W.P. area.

Aggies Will Crown Bressler At Dance

Little International Queen, Beverly Bressler, will be crowned at a dance to be held April 23 in Memorial gymnasium, according to Francis Flerchinger, publicity chairman of the show.

The dance will be sponsored by the American Cancer society and all proceeds will go to that fund. Intermission entertainment will not be disclosed until later, Flerchinger said.

Ford Paintings

Alfred C. Dunn, assistant professor of art, left recently for Enterprise, Oregon, where he will do five water colors and several drawings for the Ford Motor company.

These illustrations will appear in the Ford Times with an article about Enterprise in the series, "My Favorite Town."

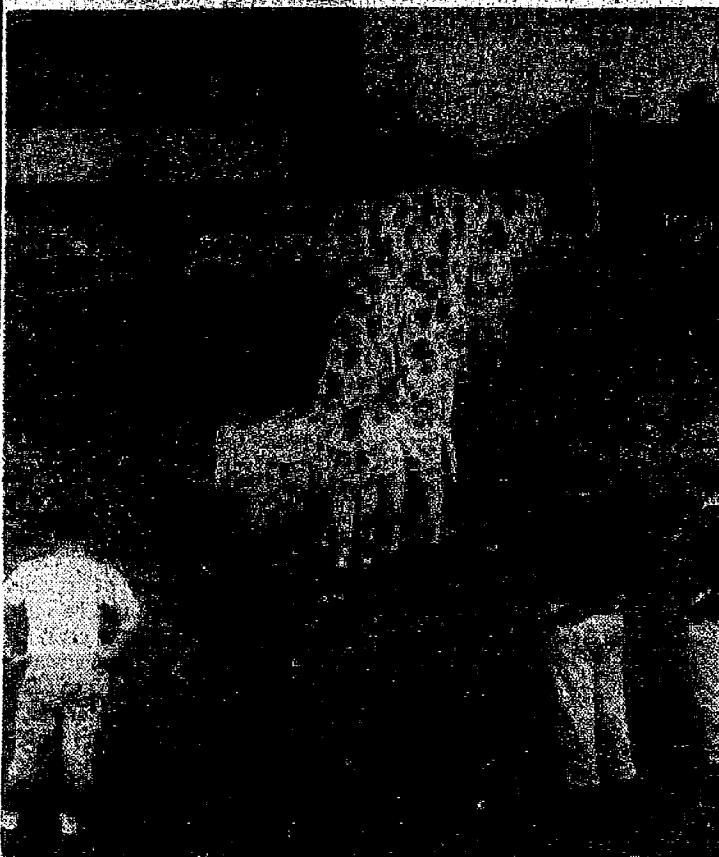

Vegetable Study

Dr. James E. Kraus will accompany the horticulture class in vegetable gardening to Dayton, Washington, May 6, to study commercial growing and processing of vegetables at the Blue Mountain Canning company.

The group will observe asparagus canning operations and go through breeding plots on asparagus and peas, according to Kraus.

Gridders Begin Spring Practice

An optimistic grin was Coach Dixie Howell's only comment as more than fifty Vandal gridder prospects suited up and turned out for the first of 30 rugged spring practice sessions Wednesday afternoon. Howell has at least two lettermen in every line position and an even dozen veteran backfield men. Howell and Assistant Coach Gene Harlow (left foreground) watch as the squad pours into Neale stadium for the opening workout.

Opinion Poll Shows Majority Of Students Favor Argonaut

Three out of four students on the Idaho campus find the Argonaut adequate in its service to the student body, according to the recent student opinion poll. Out of the 1065 students polled who have never been connected with the Arg, 75 per cent found it adequate in its service to the student body, 21 per cent disagreed, and 4 per cent did not answer the question.

Those students who work on the Arg or who have been on its staff in the past, were slightly more critical, but their percentage results did not vary over 2 percent from the above figures.

Needs Wider Coverage
Twenty percent of the students polled commented or gave suggestions. The most popular comment was that the Arg needed wider scope in its news coverage. Other comments made were that more humor is needed, that the Arg staff is doing an excellent job, that the paper should take a definite stand in the discussion of controversial issues, and that wider coverage of social and house news is needed.

Report on other publications are not complete as yet, but a preliminary survey indicates that the Arg ranks second in popularity, with Gem receiving the most favorable comments, and both favored over Blot.

Wood Experts Do Work On Mission
Wood technology experts of the University of Washington aided in making positive identification of old timbers used by Dr. Marcus Whitman when he built the Waiilatpu Mission in 1839.

In rebuilding the national monument, the National Park service called in the college of forestry technicians so the mission can be restored exactly as it was built. From bits of charcoal and pieces of foundation ruins, the forestry men supplied the correct information.

Coach Howell Optimistic As 50 Gridders Turn Out

Kiilsgaard, Diehl To Captain Squad

Head football coach M. F. (Dixie) Howell and his assistants welcomed between 50 and 60 football aspirants last Wednesday in the first call for spring practice. The squad will go through a 30-day session, and to top it off an intrasquad contest will conclude the spring practices early in May.

Coach Howell has expressed optimism over his prospects for next fall and is eagerly awaiting the starting of the rigorous training schedule. Several newcomers are expected to add greatly to the strength of the squad. Idaho's big bruising tackle, Carl Kiilsgaard from Bonners Ferry, was chosen captain for the 1949 season. Ted Diehl, quarterback from Jerome, was elected alternate captain. Diehl is presently with the Idaho boxing team at the NCAA boxing tourney in East Lansing, Mich.

Howell, aided by Assistant Coaches Ray (Babe) Curfman, Gene Harlow, Bill Godwin and Steve Belko, is banking on good weather for the next four weeks in order that his practice sessions would go through unhampered. Two of Idaho's top ends last season have announced intentions of not playing for the Vandals next fall. Ed McPaul, Ione, Wash., last year's captain, announced that he will graduate in June, although he has another year of eligibility remaining. George Smith, rated among the top linemen in the nation last fall will enter dentistry school.

Howell has announced that his squad will hold practice sessions six days a week for the 30-day session allowed by the Pacific Coast conference ruling.

4 Idaho Ringsters Battling Toward NCAA Final Bouts

Key entries from eighteen universities and colleges, the salt of the nation's collegiate fighters, opened up the first chapter of the 1949 NCAA boxing tournament at East Lansing, Michigan yesterday afternoon in Michigan State's capacious Jenison field house.

Thirty back-busting bouts were fought in the quarterfinals Thursday as fighters from all sections of the country punched their way toward the finals Saturday night. Wisconsin's battling Badgers, 1948 NCAA team champions, are defending their laurels from Michigan State, Idaho, Penn State, Louisiana State and Catholic University of Washington, D. C., all of which are strong contenders for the NCAA title.

The University of Gonzaga, South Carolina, and the University of California withdrew their entries. Gonzaga's 175-pound PC champ, Carl Maxey and Jim Riley, PC 130-pound titlist, were the Zag's two entries. Don Brown, 155-pound Pacific Coast champion, was the California entry.

Two lone Washington State fighters, PCC 125-pound Jackie Melson and the Cougar's 145-pound PCC, Nip Long, are fighting in favor of the Cougars. Idaho's entries are in the 130, 135, 165, and 175-pound brackets and wins by Melson and Long have no effect on the Vandals scoring. Herb Carlson, Idaho's two-time NCAA champion drew a bye in the first round of action yesterday.

Michigan Grid Star Named To OSC Post

A bit more of the potent football knowledge of the midwest has been gained by the Pacific Coast conference. Oregon State college has announced the appointment of a new backfield coach—Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, one of the most dangerous members of University of Michigan's great 1948 grid squad. He was chosen by new Beaver head coach, Kip Taylor, former end coach at Michigan State college.

Time Out

By DON RICE

Fans of the fight game in the Northwest are drawing a lot of satisfaction from the knowledge that seven of the eight Pacific Coast intercollegiate boxing champions came from northwestern schools. The boys in the sunny south are probably wondering how the barbarians from the northern hinterland managed to completely dominate the scene at the Sacramento tournament last week.

"How come?" asked Herb Ashlock, sports editor of the Spokane Chronicle, of Idaho's ring coach, Frank Young. "Good talent," Young said. Deeter has good boys at WSC; Joey August has 'em at Gonzaga; Merl Yanny at EWCE—and I've got some fair kids myself."

The latter is probably true, since four of Young's fighters are in Michigan now, gunning for national championships.

Collegiate Joe Louis? Another of Ashlock's questions: "Will collegiate ranks produce a heavyweight contender for the title vacated by Joe Louis?" "It's possible," Young admitted, "but not very probable. When the college kids graduate they're around 23—and that's about five years past the time when good fighters are at their best competitive prime." Louis, for instance, was already going strong at 18.

Something that impressed Ashlock about the tourney was the good sportsmanship displayed by the fighters—particularly in the Diehl-Maxey 175-pound go. When the bell ended the third round, Diehl escorted Maxey to his corner—a courtesy which most tired fighters wouldn't bother to extend.

When the decision was announced, giving Maxey the fight, the Gonzaga boy strolled across the ring. He offered his gloves to Ted, saying "They belong to you. You deserve 'em for a good fight." In the Coast meet, the winner is allowed to keep his gloves, and they are naturally highly prized. Maxey's act was one of the greatest gestures of sportsmanship we've ever seen.

Intramurals

Intramural softball is underway on the Idaho campus. The first round of games in league I were played Wednesday afternoon. Three more leagues will begin competition this weekend.

The first afternoon of play revealed two possible powerhouse teams from the Trailer Village and LDS Institute. Pitcher Church from the Trailer Village hurled a shutout as his team downed the Delta Tau Delta nine, 19 to 0. Every member of the LDS nine scored at least one run while they were piling up 20 runs to their opponent's, Phi Kappa Tau, 9.

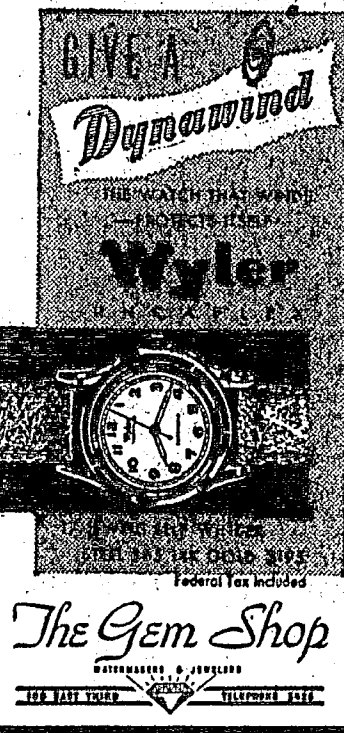

In the other games, Sigma Alpha Epsilon pounded out a 12 to 10 win over Kappa Sigma, and Alpha Tau Omega beat Sigma Chi 11 to 7.

Softball Managers

Softball fields 4 and 5 have been moved from Neale Stadium to the old practice field east of the stadium. Field 4 will be on the south end, and field 5 the north end.

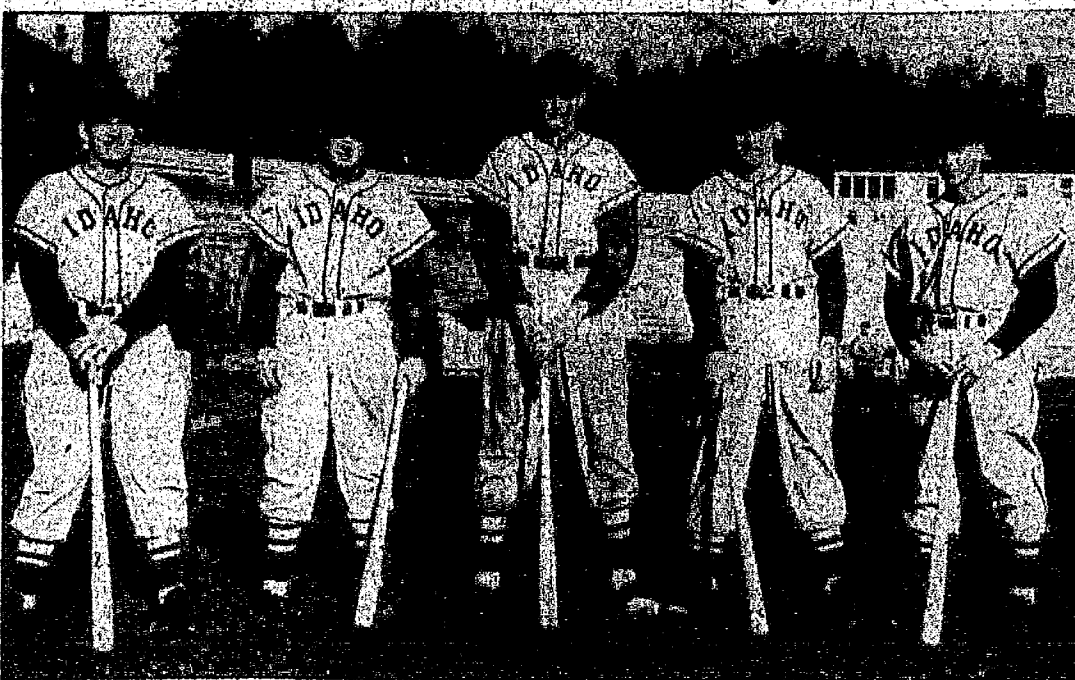

The first Idaho-Oregon football game was held in 1901. The first Idaho victory between these two schools was in 1924.

Possible Vandal Diamond Starters

Coach Chuck Finley's Vandal crew got off to a bad start this season with a record of three losses out of the first four games they played. However, "Cheerful Chuck" is expecting great things from the squad when they meet the EWCE Savages today and Gonzaga tomorrow. Five of the Vandal aggregation who have been showing up well in games and practice sessions thus far in the season are: (left to right) Catcher Joe Whitcomb, a veteran infielder from Lewiston; Rod Grider, a sophomore holding down the hot third base corner; classy shortstop Nick Stallworth of Moscow; John Dally, letterman pitcher from Marsing; and Pitcher Ozzie Kannikeberg, Kendrick, a veteran of two years on the Idaho second bag.

Baseballers Appear In Weekend Tilts

Vandals Tackle EWCE Today; To Meet Gonzaga Tomorrow

Pre-season games today and Saturday will afford Vandal fans their first opportunity to see Idaho baseballers in action. They are scheduled to entertain NICE this afternoon and Gonzaga tomorrow.

In their last game the boys lost to Bremerton's professional Blue-Jackets 15-13 but rung up an encouraging total of eighteen hits, thus showing a strength at the plate which they lacked last season. Another element that is encouraging is a predominance of sophomores on the roster. Four of the starting nine are of that classification.

Dr. Norman Jacobson, filling in for Coach Chuck Finley, who has been ill, lists them as follows: Bob Pritchett, left-hander from Nampa, first base; Bob Mays, Boise, second base; six-foot six-inch Nick Stallworth, of Moscow, shortstop; and Boise's Rod Grider will hold down the hot corner. Three other sophs making strong bids for infield position are Glen Darnall, Rich Jordan, and Bud Riley.

Letterman Back To Be Massingill, Payette, a veteran from last year's squad has been working in both outfield and infield. Two lettermen, Joe Grove, Woodland, and Buck Bybee, Parma, have a fight on their hands to retain outfield spots. Other men

Intrasquad Track Tourney Scheduled For Tomorrow

With the rebuilding of the Idaho track finished, Vandal cindermen will this weekend compete in the first intrasquad meet since before the war. The Idaho varsity and freshman track squads will be divided into two teams and will participate in the sports program planned for Saturday afternoon.

Each squad is captained by a pair of seniors with the teams appropriately named the Silver and Gold. Heading the Gold team will be Warren Keating and Bill Mathews. John Taylor and Al Denman will lead the Silver.

Coach Stan Hiserman said that the teams are divided into about equal competitive talents but one of the highlights of the meet will be in the sprint division with sophomore Glen Christian hooking up in the 100 and 200 yard dashes with freshman Dick Newton. Other promising events are also on the schedule with freshman men promising to show up well. Coach Hiserman said the frosh track squad looked especially well in the meet held at Pullman March 19.

Track Badly Weathered

Winter weather raised havoc with the Idaho cinder layout but the recent good weather has dried out the track and new cinders have been rolled into the weak spots. Although the squad has been on the track but a short time, training has been intensive and prior to this the Vandals worked out on the turf inside of the track and inside the WSC field house. All in all, Coach Hiserman says the team is in good shape and the meet promises to be a good one.

In addition to the captains for each team, the two squads are listed below: 440-Gold (Bill Mathews, Don Miller, Bob Muslitz, John Holmes), Silver—(Dick Armstrong, Fred Bliss, Dan Hopkins, Brian Williams), Sprints—Gold (Larry McEntee, Glen Christian, Calvin Sparks and Dale Eckert), Silver—(Dick Newton, Duane Kirk, and Bill Maxwell).
