The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

An Ag major has set a goal for journalism and advertising students to beat in campus publicity. Francis Flerchinger, publicity director for the 1949 Little International show, is Jason's choice for the top publicity man on the campus this semester.

When Flerchinger first came into the Arg office in early March with material on the Little International, staff members were quite amazed. Not only the early date but the fact that this Ag major publicity man came to Jason's office to outline his entire campaign and seek advice, seemed like a dream come true.

Steady Worker After speaking with Flerchinger, it became apparent that he was going to be a good worker; however, to extend a well-rounded publicity drive for nearly two months seemed almost unbelievable. The Ag man did just that.

Pictures Planned Pictures and cuts were assembled by the Ag major and his associates for nearly every issue of the paper. They were not still interesting photos, but well-planned and arranged shots publicizing the coming event.

Dormitory Question The outcome of the athletic dormitory question is nearing a final decision. Events of the past week will culminate at Thursday's open forum which the university executive council will hold in the board and conference meeting room.

Dean T. S. Kerr, chairman of the committee, asked Jason to announce to all students that such a meeting would be held. The point of the dean's conversation which was especially interesting to your reporter was that in all probability the upperclassmen in athletics will not be compelled to live in the dormitory. He also stated that the council did not want to support the plan unless the athletes themselves felt that the plan would contribute something to the betterment of Vandal teams.

Interpretation, artistic effect, intonation, and accuracy will be the main points judged in the Annual Song Fest to be held Mother's day, May 8, at 3 p.m. in the Memorial gymnasium.

Appearance of Groups Groups and their song leaders will appear as follows: Alpha Chi Omega, Kathryn Weber, 3 p.m.; Beta Theta Pi, Tom Smith, 3:10; Tri Delta, Beverly Evans, 3:20; Delta Tau Delta, Clark Armstrong, 3:30; Delta Gamma, Mary Jasper, 3:40; Phi Delta Theta, Tom Wilkins, 3:50.

Attic Club Holds Annual Card Party The Attic club's annual card party will be held Friday, May 13, in the Art building, announced Fred Farmer, functions coordinator.

WEDNESDAY: Interfraternity Council meeting at 4:30 p.m. in Bucket Coke room. Student-Businessmen's Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Bucket coke room.

THURSDAY: KUOI general staff meeting at 5 p.m. in room 202 Engr. building.

PHI ETA SIGMA initiation at 5:15 p.m. in the Bucket.

Little International Attracts Many Visitors

Agricultural engineering students were awarded the first place award at Saturday's Little International parade which marched through town and across the campus to Recreation park. First place winners in each of the individual competition events gather with their trophies around Ag Queen Beverly Bressler and top man of the exhibition, Don Wagner. Miss Bressler presented the grand champion award of the show to Wagner Saturday night.

Campus To Join In May Fete Program On Ad Bldg. Lawn Saturday Afternoon

The program for the 40th annual May Fete, a tradition on the Idaho campus, was announced today by Jeanne Hoffmann, chairman of the planning committee. The event is sponsored each year by the Associated Women students and is directed by members of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

Four State IRC Regional Confab Set For Idaho The regional conference of the International Relations clubs of Washington, Oregon, Montana, and Idaho is tentatively scheduled to be held here next November 4 and 5, according to Tom Rigby, president.

Howard Is Selected Top Journalism Graduating Senior Idaho Sigma Delta Chi members have selected Harry Howard as the outstanding journalism major of the 1949 graduating class.

Forty-Six Invitations Given To Women By Mortar Board Forty-six invitations to Narthex Table to be held tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the Ad club were issued following the annual May Day serenade to outstanding junior women by members of Mortar Board Saturday night.

Chemical Engineers Inspect Idaho Processing Industries Senior students in chemical engineering at the University of Idaho left Sunday for a week-long field trip through Southern Idaho to inspect the process industries of these sections.

The Secrets Of Success. . . .

Last week's Little International should be rated among the best in the history of the show. The Little International is the largest and most highly organized function sponsored by any campus organization during the entire year. Other campus groups, in planning their activities, may well take a lesson from the Ag club.

One of the biggest reasons the show is a success is that it is preceded by thorough planning. Almost before the climax of this year's show, plans were in the making for the one next year. Responsibility is delegated effectively so that almost every member of the club has a hand in laying plans for the show.

When show time comes, the turnout by club members is almost one hundred percent. Nearly everyone enters at least one of the dozens of contests and many participate in five or more. Another notable feature is the close cooperation between the Ag club and the faculty of the College of Agriculture. The Little International is not a university activity. It is planned and put on entirely by the Ag club, but with the complete cooperation of the faculty.

The university gains valuable publicity by the annual event. The Little International attracts the attention of individuals and organizations all over the west, many of whom contribute money to the show.

Much of the success of the show can be attributed to the outstanding publicity program. The Argonaut received excellent cooperation from the publicity committee and in turn gave the show complete coverage.

So to the Ag club, for another outstanding Little International, a hearty "well done."

Education Of A Teddy Bear

In his quest for education the American youth does a great deal of unusual things. He is, we think, rather like a teddy bear.

He begins his life at the University much like a new teddy bear. Both have wide eyes and fuzzy pink cheeks. At first the teddy bear has a new squawker. It squawks loud and long and often.

Little by little teddy bear comes to accept all sorts of things—he occasionally stays up all night and rather frequently sleeps on the floor. Various things—mostly liquid— are spilled on him and one of his eyes comes apart making him look a little like he has a hangover.

He begins to notice other teddy bears. Some are older than he and some are younger. Some are smarter (Winnie the Pooh does any number of clever things) but some aren't so well off. The Panda, for instance, is slightly steatopygous. Girl teddy bears are particularly attractive (especially because of the cute way they say "oof" when they are cuffed across the shoulders).

The teddy bear assumes an identity of his own. He catches a foot in the door or a dog bites his leg. He is given an affectionate nickname (no one calls a teddy bear "Teddy")—something like "Mephstophelus" or "Pear-shape."

He becomes more soiled and begins to laugh at the wide-eyed new teddy bears. By now, the other eye looks like it is half closed and sawdust is running out through a hole in his head.

Finally, teddy bear's development is complete. He knows his way around, can sleep wherever he happens to be, and isn't surprised when he meets a teddy bear with a long nose. He still reacts a little strangely when he meets a girl teddy bear (because they do make the nicest "oof" when you cuff them). The pinkness has worn off of his cheeks and his squawker is nearly broken. You have to squeeze him ever so hard to make him squawk.

Teddy bear is then ready for further use. His owner can now do one of two things—put teddy bear on a closet shelf to gather dust or pass him on to a younger generation (remembering to tell the new owner to squeeze him ever so hard to make him squawk).

Students Oppose Racial Bans In Campus Honoraries

Of 1160 university students who answered the ASUI questionnaire, only a passive interest was shown on the question concerning campus honoraries. The breakdown in percentages indicated that 10 per cent of the Greeks were opposed to racial discrimination, 3 per cent opposed to the black ball rule, 4 per cent asked for higher scholastic requirements and 77 per cent of—

Percentages of the Independents were slightly different with 21 per cent expressing opposition to racial discrimination 'clauses' in the constitutions of the honoraries, 10 per cent opposed the black ball rule, 7 per cent requested higher scholastic requirements, and 62 per cent made no contribution to the question, according to Marvin Washburn.

Make Qualifications Public
Individual remarks concerning various phases and conditions of the honoraries were made but the only one which was consistent throughout maintained that qualifications and requirements for the various organizations should be made public in order to give some indication of the preparation required for admittance.

Also suggested, though not so prominent, was the fact that many men and women in honoraries have been guilty of padding membership lists for admittance with names of their personal friends. They say not enough emphasis has been placed on actual requirements. The small percentages of answers are due in large part to the ambiguity of the questions. Committee members believe that more suggestions for the improvement of honoraries would have been made had the questions been worded differently.

Graduate To Lead Sales Activities

H. B. Hodgins, Westinghouse manager at Spokane since 1943, has been transferred to Salt Lake City as manager of sales activities for the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. He succeeds Stanley M. Johns who has been transferred to Los Angeles.

A native of Moscow and a 1923 engineering graduate of the university, Hodgins joined Westinghouse as a graduate student at East Pittsburgh, Pa., soon after receiving his degree. He was transferred to San Francisco in 1925. In early 1935, he was appointed as the company's representative at Grand Coulee Dam, and has served in the Spokane area since that time.

Johnson Receives Clark Scholarship

The Clark Memorial scholarship, established by the University of Idaho chapter of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity in memory of Tim and Jack Clark of Malad, has been granted to Myron E. Johnson, fraternity officials announced today.

The Clark brothers, former members of the fraternity, both met death in the air. Tim, a member of the class of 1944, was killed in an air raid over Japan, and Jack of the class of 1950 died in an airplane accident near Malad. Johnson, the winner of the scholarship, is a freshman majoring in business administration.

A recent poll taken to determine the main reasons why men get up at night brought forth the following vital statistics:
10 per cent to raid the ice box.
15 per cent to visit the bathroom.
75 per cent to go home.

Apply Now

All students who expect to return to the University of Idaho for the fall semester and will not be attending the summer session are requested to come to the Registrar's office and fill in a postcard application form for a Permit to Register leaving the campus in June.

This is especially necessary if you will be at some other address than that given as your home address when you registered this semester.

Twenty Nations Sponsor Seminar

Harry Burks, college secretary of the American Friends Service committee, stated at a meeting of foreign students and faculty yesterday that over 300 foreign and American students from 19 or 20 nations will participate in International Service Seminars sponsored by the organization this summer.

Besides discussing studies from the point of view of theory, the seven-week seminar will also enable the individual person in each group to stress his views in the light of the history, culture, and resources of his or her own country. The program will also include play and participation in the activities of communities near the seminar locations.

Burks stated that there are still a number of openings for foreign students and qualified American students for the Seminars this summer. Further information and application blanks can be obtained from the Dean of Students or the Adviser to Foreign Students.

Atomic Associate Visits On Campus

Dr. Muriel Mathez, associated with the atomic-energy commission in mineralogical laboratories and raw material operations in New York, was a visitor on the campus Friday.

Dr. Mathez's visit was confined to a study of the equipment in the school of mines for detecting radioactive elements, such as uranium and thorium. He offered the cooperation of atomic-energy commission laboratory in the identification of radio-active minerals.

Various members of the school of mines and bureau of mines and geology staffs participated in a conference with Dr. Mathez who lectured for two hours and then answered and discussed questions which were presented on the topic.

Pre-Med Honorary Summons Eleven

Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary, recently tapped 11 members who will be initiated Thursday afternoon at the Science hall. Following ceremonies, the group will be entertained with a banquet where Dr. Clyde Culp, Moscow physician, will be principal speaker.

A scholarship cup will be awarded to the pledge entering with the highest grade point. Incoming pledges include Charles Berry, Mary Elizabeth Bonnet, Verne McGowan, Bruce Powell, George Smith, George Tanner, Dave Ulmer, Robert Webb, Kenneth Briggs, Hollie Hudson, and Dean Dimlek.

Four High Schools Attend Playday Given Saturday

High schools of Troy, Pullman, Lewiston and Moscow were represented Saturday by approximately 12 girls from each school attending the University of Idaho Play day at the women's gymnasium.

The annual event was sponsored by the women's management class in physical education, and is designed to introduce the university to prospective physical education majors in the high schools.

Invitations were extended to other schools also, but conflicts such as musical festivals and other play days prevented a larger attendance.

Following a general assembly, group mixers were held to introduce representatives to each other, and basketball and volley-ball teams were assigned. After the games, lunch and entertainment were provided in the women's gym, and the college class escorted the visitors on a tour of the campus.

General manager of play day was Valeta Hershberger, assisted by Dorothy Galey. Stella Johnson headed the reception committee, Alice Ingebreten provided equipment and Patricia Lyons had charge of hostesses.

HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

Moscow hotel came under new management Monday when Howard Neikirk of Pasco joined T. M. Wright, present owner, in a partnership.

Oregon Students Drink Beer! Down 18,000 Gallons A Year

The Oregon Daily Emerald, organ of the University of Oregon, recently released some staggering figures concerning the beer consumption of the U's student body. Small wonder the winters in Oregon are wet, says the paper, when the annual beer consumption of students is estimated at 18,000 gallons.

This much suds would fill a swimming pool 25 by 40 feet to a depth of three feet, but the paper asserts such a practice would result in a wave of drownings.

Considering that the average automobile radiator holds about four gallons of water, the University of Oregon's beer consumption would fill about 4,500 radiators. And since beer has a very low freezing point it would provide ample insurance against a cracked block during the cold winter months. The result would more likely be a crooked block. However, there is no real need for filling radiators with beer, as there are several commercial preparations on the market for that purpose which contain alcohol unfit to drink.

As final proof of the U's sudswilling supremacy, the Daily Emerald submits this bit of mathematical skulduggery.

The total number of bottles required for the 18,000 gallons of beer is 190,080. If these bottles, approximately two and one-half inches in diameter, were placed side by side they would stretch out for exactly eight miles.

Installation of the new officers will be held at the LDS Institute, April 23 at 7:30.

Plans are being made for the Phi U. Senior breakfast to be held the last of May.

Phi U. will also sponsor a refreshment concession at the Little International April 30.

Sororities Make Final Rush Plans For Next Term

Jean Ottenheimer, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, announced that final plans for fall rushing are incomplete but being discussed in various Greek houses.

Some changes in spring and summer rushing rules which are now in effect, said Miss Ottenheimer, that no girl may attend sorority functions such as exchanges, firesides, parties, dances and weekend visits unless she is ineligible for rushing. This means that sororities can not invite possible rushees up this spring and have them stay at their houses.

No Rush Letters
 Another change going into effect this spring and summer is that no rush letters are to be written to any girl who might be eligible for rush or who is definitely signed up for rush.

Final plans with regards to rush week procedure will be decided on in the next Pan-Hellenic meeting. All sorority women are asked to be back to the campus on September 9 for preparation for rush week.

Hell Diver's Show Rated Success By Reporter

By MARIBEL SCHUPFER
 Hell Diver's water circus, "Porpoise Promenade," a comic ballet, was a success and has likely prospects of being the first run of an annual event of water carnivals, according to Miss Mary Fram, advisor.

Saturday afternoon, a special performance was held of the one-hour water circus for the benefit of Moscow high school students.

All performances had capacity crowds, who were thrilled and fascinated by the splendid display of swimming poise and skill.

A comic ballet featuring eight men, four of whom were dressed like women, was an outstanding attraction of the show. Jan Garber and Ed Feister in their dual swimming ballet act also received much applause from the audience.

University Couples Announce Engagement Plans On Campus

Batts-Wiegele
 Mr. John Batts of Wallace recently announced the engagement of his daughter, Betty LaRue, to Kenneth G. Wiegele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wiegele, Gem.

At a dinner party held Thursday, April 28, at the Tri-Delta house, the announcement was revealed to Miss Batts' sorority sisters and close friends. Tables were colorfully decorated with bouquets of snapdragons, sweet-peas, and iris, and in individual nosegays of sweetpeas a tiny concealed capsule revealed the announcement—"Betty and Kenny."

Special guests at the announcement dinner included Mr. John Batts and Mrs. Joe Neville, Wallace; Mrs. Mike Wiegele and Mrs. Ralph Armbruster, Gem; Mrs. H. E. Faber, Silvertown; and Mrs. Robert Anno, Moscow.

Miss Batts, a senior majoring in education, will graduate in May, and is a member of Tri-Delta sorority. Wiegele, a junior in business administration, is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta.

No definite wedding plans have been made.

Mulrony-Magden
 Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mulrony of Lewiston announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine, to Ronald Magden, son of Zor Magden, Spokane, recently.

Miss Mulrony is a former student at the University of Idaho, majoring in music. She is now residing in Lewiston.

Magden is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and will graduate this spring, receiving a degree in history.

The wedding date has not been set.

Lampman-McClaran
 Gold rings centered in tiny nosegays were presented guests at the announcement dinner of Marjorie Lampman and Jack McClaran, April 21.

"Chicken Every Sunday" Wins Audience Plaudits And Laughs

The drama department completed a successful year Friday and Saturday nights with the presentation of "Chicken Every Sunday." The play, a comedy by Julius and Philip G. Epstein, kept the audience laughing from start to finish.

Marian Sherman, as the mother, was the mainstay of the production. She was on stage the greater part of the time, and gave a remarkable performance. Louis Skeels, as the bungling businessman, father and husband, acted his part very convincingly. Mary Ellen Stefania, as the Blachman's oldest daughter, kept the juvenile love plot interesting, assisted by Norm Green and Neal Christensen as her opposing suitors.

Other Performers
 Colleen Christensen was outstanding in her first juvenile role as the youngest Blachman. Her male counterpart however, who played Oliver Blachman, seemed miscast; from the audience the contrast between his supposed age and his actual state of growth was too harsh a contrast.

Don Jackson, excellent as the old prospector, shared some of the best laugh-getting lines with Dorothy Greaves, who from the first "Oh, Gawd!" in her role of Rita Kirby, was a definite hit. Mary Louise Will, as the old-young widow, in the final act explains her plight in a manner which held the audience to a degree no other part of the show achieved.

Creaks Plainly Heard
 Marie Hargis, as the school teacher, Guy Terwilliger as her husband, Harry Dalva as the streetcar conductor and Barbara Mariner as Millie Moon added considerably to the all-around good effect of the production.

Plaudits go to the inventors of such satisfactory creaks which could be heard audibly in the audience and which were so important to the show.

Supporting actors and actresses deserving credit for convincing performances include June Thomas as Mrs. Lawson, Bruce Tingwall as Mr. Willard, Barbara

Baseballers Tackle Oregon in Double-Header Today

Vandal Squad Seeks Win After 6 Straight Losses

Weekend showers made Idaho's McLean field a perfect spot for ducks, but not for the Oregon baseball species. With home plate floating in the batter's box and the infield a mass of mud, University officials called yesterday's scheduled Idaho-Oregon game in favor of a double-bill this afternoon. The opener is slated to start at 1:30.

The Ducks held a light workout on the outfield grass Monday afternoon. Coach Kirsch said Homer Brobst, a righthander with a 1-0 northern division conference record, will likely toe the rubber for Oregon in the opener. Sid Mills, another righthander, gets the starting call for the second contest. Mills has two N.D. wins against no defeats.

Coach Chuck Finley's Idaho nine will be seeking their first conference win, and at the same time, try to even the series with Oregon.

Weather forecast for today's big afternoon in the baseball world is: showers and windy. High temperature is expected to be 52-62 degrees.

The Webfoots took two from the Vandals at Eugene, 11 to 4 and 9 to 6. Don "Red" Fodrea will be on the hill for Idaho in the first tilt, John Dalley or Arnold Beebe will march on top in the second contest.

Team Bats 300

Strangely enough, after six straight conference losses, Idaho has a 300 team batting average which is second only to Washington's .338. Six Vandals are included among the top 15 batters who have been to the plate at least ten times.

As things stand now Oregon leads the northern division race. WSC's Cougars came within a few percentage points of the leaders with Saturday's 9 to 5 win over the Ducks at Pullman. Oregon's star shortstop, Al Cohen is second in N.D. hitting with a .500 average. Outfielder, Johnny Kovenz is third with a .471. His 11 runs scored lead the division. Despite their top spot, in game standings, the Webfoots team batting average is only fourth best.

Vandal . . . . . Portraits

Glen Christian is the first 1949 trackster to grace this column; if all track interviews are as strenuous as this one, he will be the last. Most reporters lack the health to jog around a track writing down answers from an ambitious guy like Chris.

The 20-year-old speedster has already stacked up enough points at 100 and 200 yard dashes to earn himself a letter, and times have improved at every outing. It's obvious that track participation, which he took up as a sideline to football, is proving worth while.

Born in Calgary
When he was three years old Chris' family moved from his birthplace, Calgary, Alberta, and took him to Sedo Wooley, Wash., where they stayed eight years. He swears it wasn't for a rest in the insane asylum at that city.

After that the Christians moved on to Forks, Wash., a place Chris still calls home. An admittedly unspectacular grade school career entitled Glen to a chance at high school where things began looking up. Along with three years' football and four years' track and basketball, the lad managed to become president of the student body and of the honor society. Graduation came in 1947 and after watching him run four or five touchdowns per football game, the University of Oregon made a nice scholarship offer for Glen's services as halfback.

Sets 'Mural Record'
An ex-Idaho man, Christian's high school coach, Dahlberg, talked him into making the journey

Time Out

By DON RICE

It isn't often that a person can upset the set routine of this column, but it's finally happened—and by a female of the species. This charming person walked into our life the other day, and has completely fouled up the detail. For the record, she's five days old, tips the scales at seven pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes, and her name—Donna Jean Rice.

Netsters Drubbed 6-1 By UW Squad In Seattle Fiasco

Idaho's tennis team came back from Seattle last weekend with one match won and six lost. Five singles matches were dropped and one doubles match. In the other doubles match played, Berger and Barnes downed Bostic and Fisher of the University of Washington (6-0) (6-1).

Although the team lost, Coach Kirkland said they played one of their best matches this year against the strong Huskies. The Huskies are expected to be on top of the ladder at the end of the season.

In the singles, Brink won over Rainey (6-0) (6-1), Lowe defeated Barnes (6-0) (6-1), Fisher downed Dollinger (6-0) (6-1), Berger dropped his singles match to Bostic (6-0) (6-0), and Preston beat Idaho's Bater (6-1) (6-1).

The doubles match played by Rainey and Dollinger was lost to Brink and Lowe (6-0) (6-1).

According to the tennis team's calendar, they will meet the University of Oregon here Friday afternoon and on Saturday they tangle with OSC. The time concerning these matches will be published in the Friday issue of the Argonaut.

INTRAMURAL

In the feature softball game of the week, Sigma Nu defeated the league 2 leaders, Phi Gamma Delta, to climb into a first place tie with that team. The score was 8 to 5 and gave each team a record of 4 wins and 1 loss. Tau Kappa Epsilon is still in the position of strong contender after downing Phi Delta Theta 16 to 15. They have lost only 1 game, but have played 1 less game than the Phijs or Sigma Nus.

Notice To Intramural Mgrs.
Entries for the golf tournament must be submitted to the intramural director's office by Thursday night. The 4 best golfers from each men's living group should be entered as a team.

Willis Sweet hall No. 2 trounced Campus club No. 2, 18 to 2 to keep their undefeated status and the leadership in league IV. Chrisman hall No. 2 was dropped from a first place tie with the Willis Sweets by Pine hall No. 4 in a close contest 8 to 7. The Pine and Chrisman lads are tied for second place with records of 3 wins and 1 loss.

ROTC Inspection Monday Afternoons

Outstanding military students will be cited and presented awards by the reviewing officer when air and infantry ROTC units are inspected Monday.

The entire cadet corps will participate in a parade and review between 4 and 5 p.m. Monday afternoon in Neale stadium. Afternoon classes will be shortened to enable students and faculty to attend the program.

to Moscow. Along with being a starter on the Vandals' frosh football team, Glen took to intramural track for the TKE house and did a century in ten flat, breaking the intra-mural record. He is a sophomore business major and keeps in shape through summers working in the woods as a lumberjack.

Jinx Shadows Idaho Track Men

Everything in the book went wrong for the Vandal track team in Saturday's meet with Washington, as a soggy field and injuries to key Idaho men combined to take most of the steam from the squad. The shortened 220-yard dash added a bright spot to the events, however, as Idaho's Glen Christian (left) edged out Washington's Brewer at the tape. Christian was clocked at 19.8. The final tally was 86-45 in favor of Washington.

Soggy Track, Idaho Injuries Hand Huskies 86-45 Victory

A strong University of Washington track and field squad, garnering 11 first places in the 15 events, handed the University of Idaho their second loss of the season in Pacific Coast competition 86-45 last Saturday afternoon on the Idaho track.

The Vandals suffered greatly from the loss of their sensational hurdler, Keith Bean, who was unable to compete in the meet because of a leg injury. Bean, undefeated in conference competition, may have been the needed spark for a Vandal victory. A heavy wind and a wet track combined, kept the times down although Washington's Phil Brewer managed to breeze through the 100-yard dash in 9.8. Several of the events were shortened in length, since the starting pits were under water.

Glen Christian, Idaho's sophomore speed demon, ran a remarkable time in the 200-yard dash, being clocked at 19.8. Washington's Brewer came in second.

One Two-timer
There was but one double win-

Vandal Foils Crew Registers 1st Win Over Touted Zags

Idaho fencers failed to treat Gonzaga's Herb Denny with respect as they dumped the northwest international champ in two matches out of three in Memorial gymnasium Saturday afternoon. The Vandals copped their first fencing victory of the season 5 to 4. Val Yurchenco, hampered by a sore arm, won one bout while Ward and Munson scored two victories each for the victorious Vandals. The individual star was Gonzaga's Henry Huttenbach with three victories. Huttenbach, not much over 5 feet in height, was by far the fastest man on the floor.

The results: Yurchenco, lost to Huttenbach, 5-3; Munson defeated Denny, 5-3; Ward won from Douglas, 5-2; Huttenbach defeated Munson, 5-1; Ward defeated Denny, 5-3; Yurchenco decided Douglas, 5-1; Huttenbach defeated Ward, 5-1; Denny defeated Yurchenco, 5-2; Munson defeated Douglas, 5-1.

Nelson To Replace Regional Director

Harold T. Nelson, honor graduate of the University of Idaho, will become regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation for the Pacific Northwest on July 1, replacing the retiring director. While enrolled at the university, Nelson was a member of Sigma Tau and Sigma Xi, and has been assistant regional director of the bureau since 1946.

Frosh Baseballers Lose 7-6 To Cougar Yearling Squad

Last Friday afternoon under a drizzling sky Idaho's freshman baseballers turned in a brilliant performance against the WSC Kittens, and gave Idaho fans a bright look into the future. Although the Babe came in on the short end of a 7-6 score they scored more hits and committed less errors than did the Kittens.

In the first inning the Cougars scored four runs when Roffler, centerfielder, belted a 400-foot line drive over second base, with the bags loaded. The Vandals came back to score one run and end the first inning 4-1. After this wild first inning, Schiller, hurling for Idaho, hit his stride and pitched a four hit ball game. In the fourth inning the Babe made a bid for the lead by scoring two runs on two walks and a single. The top of the sixth proved to be costly to the Babe as a result of an error, and the Kittens brought in two runs, making the score 6-4.

The seventh inning went to the Vandals as shortstop Eller banged out a four bagger with two on to tie the score at 6 all. The Kittens, however, scored the winning run in the top of the eighth on a double and single. The lineup for the Idaho team was as follows: 1st, Scholles; 2nd, Brown; 3rd, Millard; ss, Eller; rf, Crowder; cf, Kirk; lf, Pearson; Jenkins; c, Merrill; p, Schiller.

Babes, Kittens Vie In Track Contest

Idaho and WSC freshmen met last Saturday at Pullman in a dual track meet, although no running score was kept. And even though the rain was pouring down and the track was in poor condition, there were several notable achievements.

Among these was Dick Newton's fast time in the 220-yard dash. The speedy Vandal broke the tape 21.4 seconds after the starter's gun sounded.

WSC, represented by frosh

Ward Morgan, won the broad jump with a 22 foot, 3 inch jump, and WSC also won the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 2 inches, but they had to import a Californian to do it. Idaho's soaring star, Dave Martindale, won the pole vault after everyone else dropped out at 11' 6".
