Idaho Athletes Shine On Grid, Diamond And Track 'Maybe-T' Vs. Good Defense; Tilt Ends In Scoreless Tie

Unexpectedly, the annual intra-squad football contest between the Reds and the Whites turned out to be a scoreless tie. Head Coach Dixie Howell's new football formation failed to materialize last Saturday afternoon as both squads pushed each other up and down the field for 60 solid minutes. The "Maybe-T," the formation to be used by Howell for the coming season, was in the contest all the way, and many liked its looks, but the defense was there first.

Figures indicate that the contest was no one-sided show. The Whites gained the edge on first downs as they racked up seven to the Reds' five, but the Reds had the best in the yardage depart ment as they rolled up 90, while holding the Whites to 83. Whites Threaten

Fencers Defeated In Final Contest

In the last match of the season played by the Vandal fencing squad, they were nosed out by a WSC squad which won 6 of the 9 bouts played at Pullman. Representing Idaho at Pullman were Bob Munson, Walt Ward, and Val Yurchenco. Out of the three matches won, two of them were in Yurchenco's favor and the other was squeezed out by Bob Munson. Idaho has played three matches this season, winning one and losing two for a total of 11 bouts won and 16 lost. Next year's team looks even bet ter as the Vandals lose only one of their men, Darren Theil, who is among the graduating seniors.
