Classmates To Meet Again During Alumni Day, May 28

Friends and former classmates from all walks of life will again meet on Alumni Day, May 28, which will sponsor class reunions for University of Idaho alumni of all the classes graduated in years ending in four or nine.

With the ending of another school year, the "used book" problem has been gaining prominence in the campus "coffee cup" round-table groups.

Between these two stands the student bookstore, trying to serve both of its interests.

This plan, which entails a considerable amount of hurried checking and compiling of instructor's text requests for next year is being accomplished by the bookstore employees.

One of the main advantages of getting this list in the hands of the students before they sell their books will be to give them a chance to swap books with their classmates or to be able to sell them to an underclassman with an assurance that the book will be of value to the one taking the course next semester.

It is true that this will not be a cure-all. It will be a great improvement, though. The essence of the plan is of interest to all concerned as it shows that students and administrative officials are coming to a common understanding in trying to eliminate the problems of both.

Beardsley Named 'I' Club President

Sue Beardsley was formally installed president of women's "I" club following the spring initiation banquet at Forney hall Tuesday night.

Plans for the annual "I" club Snake river trip from Lewiston to the mouth of Hell's canyon were discussed. Because of river conditions, the trip, scheduled this Saturday and Sunday, may be postponed.

Library To Be Rearranged For Greater Convenience

The university library will be given some emergency streamlining this summer from the basement up, it was revealed today by Librarian Lee Zimmerman.

Of particular interest to graduate students and faculty members will be 17 steel cubicles to be installed in the basement for research studies.

Both steel stacks and cubicles are designed to that the major parts could be utilized in and new library building construction on the campus.

Stacks For Reserve Books Also to be installed are eight double-faced adjustable steel stacks behind the serials desk in the Periodical room.

As another speed-up measure, a buzzer system will be installed to expedite page service to faculty and students between second floor and basement.

Microfilming Program A start is also expected to be made during the year on an extensive newspaper microfilming program. The microfilming will release needed storage space, will assure better preservation of the papers, and make them more accessible to researchers.

Emphasis will be placed on the microfilming of files of Idaho newspapers, although it is also planned to purchase the New York Times in microfilm dating from 1911. Space and equipment will be provided in the basement for showing the microfilms.

Registrar To Send Transcripts For $1

A transcript may be obtained by sending $1 and your full name to the Registrar's office, according to D. D. DuSault, registrar.

There is no fee for the first copy, but the Board of Regents has set a fee of $1, payable in advance, for the second copy and any single copy after the first.

Since it is the policy of the university not to furnish transcripts without the knowledge of the student or graduate concerned, it is recommended that they write directly to the Registrar's office enclosing the necessary fee.

Transcripts are sometimes sent C.O.D. if the need appears urgent and necessary fee is not enclosed, but the transcript could not be sent C.O.D. to anyone but the student applying.

"Riders In The Sky"

By campus standards, or any other standards, "Riders in the Sky" is a hit. The song paints a grim picture of a cowboy's hell, but at the same time has something beautiful and fascinating in its lyrics. It is played regularly on the "Coffee Pot Parade" as was "Nature Boy"—a song strangely similar but at the same time vastly different from "Riders in the Sky." "Nature Boy" was written by an eccentric and bearded philosopher. "Riders" was written by San Jones, a young (30-plus) forest ranger. He had written several other songs, which he sang as a traveling entertainer. None of them caught on until Ives listened to "Riders" and recorded it. It wasn't until Ives' record had been cut that the song was published. Since then, the song has been recorded by Vaughn Monroe, Bing Crosby and Peggy Lee. The Monroe record alone is expected to sell two million cuttings. Another big difference between the two songs is content. "Nature Boy" expounds a complete philosophy of life. "Riders" tells a legend of a band of cowboys doomed to chase the devil's herd of cattle. The very simplicity of "Riders in the Sky" has been one of the factors of its success. The simplicity probably also guarantees that "Riders in the Sky" will last longer than "Nature Boy" did. —H. R.

Idaho Students Place High In Good Graduate Schools

By Orval Hansen
One good test of the quality of teaching at any school is the ability of its students to compete for jobs or for acceptance into good graduate schools when they graduate. When this test is applied to the University of Idaho the results are very favorable. The college of engineering and the pre-medical department in particular have earned reputations for thoroughly preparing their students for either jobs or for graduate study.

When jobs are being offered to engineering graduates all over the country, Idaho graduates take a back seat to no one. A graduate from Idaho's college of engineering has as good a chance for a top job in engineering as graduates from any school in the country, and a better chance than many.

Increasing Opportunities
Especially during the last two years have large industrial concerns expressed an increasing interest in employing Idaho graduates. An average of almost two company representatives a week come to the campus to interview students for jobs when they graduate. As a result over 60 per cent of this year's graduating class have already accepted job offers and the rest have had offers but have not yet made a decision. Virtually every student in engineering will be employed shortly after graduation.

Ranks With Best
In the last two years some of the top engineering firms in the country have hired several times as many graduates from Idaho than from any other western institution.

Idaho's undergraduate course in engineering compares favorably with any in the nation, due primarily to its faculty and laboratory equipment. The mechanical and chemical engineering laboratories in particular rate with the best in the country. It is expected that the engineering curriculum at Idaho will be much improved yet with the construction of additional classroom and laboratory units.

The reputation of the college of engineering has been enhanced by the record of many of its graduates who have attracted nationwide attention for their work in engineering. Among them are William Perkins, chief engineer for Union Pacific; Walker Young, chief engineer for Boulder Dam; and Carl P. Clare, president of Clare Relay Company in Chicago. Other notables include Greek Wells, patent attorney in Spokane and advisor for the University of Idaho on patent policy; Russel Tuttle, president of Tuttle Laboratories at Pasco, Wash., and William V. Iorns, head of the Department of the Interior Geological Survey for

Legumes, Grasses Will Cause Wheat Rotation Benefits

Four benefits from legumes and grasses in the wheat rotation are cited by W. A. Moss, superintendent of the University of Idaho's branch experiment station at Teton, and Hugh McKay, soil conservation service cooperater in eastern Idaho rotation studies.

Reporting on trials with alfalfa, sweet clover, and sweet clover-grass mixtures in wheat rotations at the Teton branch station the past three years, Moss and McKay cite the following results:

Yield Is More
Wheat following alfalfa and sweet clover yielded 2 to 3 bushels more to the acre than did wheat following a year of fallow in the rotation. The protein content of the wheat grown on alfalfa and sweet clover ground also was higher. Both legumes and grasses improved the physical condition and fertility of the soil.

"Winter wheat following alfalfa and sweet clover does not winter kill nearly so badly as does wheat in the wheat-fallow rotation," they continue. "Straight grass, however, does not seem to help in preventing winter killing in wheat."

Jane Fisk, chairman of the publication committee, presented final plans on the WRA pamphlet to be given all freshmen women and new students. Managers of all sports are handing in reports to be put in the handbook.

Placement Bureau Good Bet For Student Summer Jobs

By Maribel Schupfer
Most of the students who were asked, "What do you think of a placement bureau to find summer jobs for undergraduates?" agreed that it was an excellent idea. However, when asked, "Why do you think so?" few of them could explain the reason for their approval. Those with definite ideas on the subject include:

Bruce Tingwall, Alpha Tau Omega: "Good idea if handled right. If they had jobs opened in the field of interest instead of just common labor jobs. Anyone can get those kind of jobs without help."

Clinton Clayton, town: "Good idea, because every guy has trouble finding a job. Of course, most of them go home for the summer."

Peggy Pruett, town: "I think it is a swell idea, because the students wouldn't have to waste time looking for a job."

Lonnie Williams, Campus club: "Yes, if the university would work through their alumni and get desirable positions."

Charlotte Powell, Pi Beta Phi: "Yes, but who wants to work? Although, it would certainly solve the problem of bashful people who hate to look for the job themselves."

Grant Radford, Lambda Chi: "Very good idea! It would help a lot of undergraduates in their fields, who don't have connections. It would really help them to find just where the jobs are available."

Marie Hargis, Hays hall: "A real good idea, even though I never work in the summer."

Barbara Ulrich, Alpha Phi: "It would be just fine! I need a job. It's awfully hard to get a job through the town employment agency."

Ohio State Offers Marriage Advice To Troubled Couples

Out of one of the most popular courses of instruction offered on the Ohio State university campus has grown a unique trouble-shooting service—a clinic designed to help married students untangle their marital difficulties and steer about-to-be-marrieds into likely channels of conjugal happiness.

Established as an official student service last fall, the Marriage Counseling clinic now supplements classroom instruction provided in four marriage courses at the university. One such basic course, covering "Factors in Successful Marriage," attracts 1200 students yearly, with sessions held hourly every day of every quarter. Personal questions arising during the classroom lectures have stimulated requests of individual guidance.

Headed By Authority
As chief "marital trouble-shooter" of the clinic, Dr. John F. Cubber, 37-year-old professor of sociology and nationally known marriage education authority heads the activities of a five-man counseling staff two of them specialists in economic and child-parent guidance areas. The director himself, in addition to counseling, interviews each student counselee on his initial visit to the clinic.

One or More Interviews
The marriage center is open to student counselors from 2 to 5 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday. Actual counseling may involve but one interview, or it may require intermittent conferences over a period of a year, sometimes longer. Most important and often extremely difficult is the counselor's task of helping the individual evaluate objectively an intensely personal situation.

The actual remedy is never administered in "here's-what-you-must-do" dosages by the university counselor, who merely assists the student in choosing his own medicine by pointing out advantages and disadvantages of the various selections he may take.

Lambda Chis To Lease House; Will Accommodate Forty

A year-long dream of the Idaho chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity came true when Karl Klehm, president, announced arrangements had been completed for the leasing of a house. The last house occupied by the fraternity in 1943 was on the corner of Seventh and Elm streets.

The new house, owned by Mrs. C. F. Magee of Moscow, is located on the corner of First and Jackson. A two-story frame structure, it was originally built as a hospital. There will be 17 study rooms and a kitchen large enough to accommodate restaurant equipment necessary to feed the 40 men who will live there.

Members Redecorate
Provision has been made for redecoration, with members of the fraternity returning to the campus September 1 for the project. Included in the remodeling plans will be enlargement of the dining and living room facilities.

The fraternity was active on the campus before the war, and was re-activated last spring with Allen Petrie acting as president. Jack Doyle will head the fraternity next year.

Engagements Told By Two Students; Summer Weddings
Mrs. James Murray, Boise, announces the engagement of her daughter, Barbara, to David Edmark, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. William Edmark, Nampa.

Miss Murray is a student at the university, where she is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority. She will be graduated this month, with a degree in pre-nursing. Edmark received his degree from the university last year and studied at the Executive Training Institute, Detroit, Michigan. While at Moscow, he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. During the war, he served three years in the Navy.

Following their marriage September 1, they will make their home in Nampa, where Edmark is associated with his father in the Edmark Automobile company.

Skinner Named To Head French Club
Harold Skinner was elected president of the French club for 1949-50 at the final meeting for this year held at Kappa Alpha Theta house Wednesday evening. Serving with him will be Mrs. C. F. Hudson as vice president, and Lorraine Johnson as secretary-treasurer.

Miss Antoinette Arnold of the WSC faculty, and formerly with the office of War Information in Paris, spoke of her experiences in France. Ellomae Holden provided the musical portion of the program by playing two selections by Debussy.

Retiring officers are Maurice Johnson, president; Carol Fugate, vice president; and Thelma Wetherbee, secretary-treasurer.

'I' Club Elects
Norm Farnham was elected president of I club Wednesday evening. Jim Farmer will be the vice president for the fall semester; Bill Sweet, treasurer; and Bob Linck, secretary.

Carl Killsgaard, president for the past semester, announced that officers will become active at the fall term.

"If safety records were news..."
If safety were spectacular, it would be front-page news that Bill Jones and other telephone men drive 55,000 vehicles more than a million miles a day—with one of the nation's lowest accident rates.
Today, for example, Bill will drive a lot of miles. He'll guide his familiar green telephone truck through the heavy traffic of shopping centers, he'll go along quiet streets where children play, he'll travel lanes and highways at the edge of town. And every mile, every turn, will always be driven steadily and carefully.
You see, Bill and the telephone company consider good driving as much a part of his job as installing a telephone. The truck which Bill drives is checked and serviced regularly, so it's always safety-perfect. And Bill gets a lot of training in safety—training that covers all phases of his work.
Bill has helped put together one of the best safety records in the country. It's a record we're proud of—and so is Bill.
