Preparations Are Numerous For Homecoming Committees

With Homecoming less than three weeks away, various committees are in the midst of busy preparation. Nineteen beautiful co-eds vieing for the queen crown have been chosen by the respective men's living groups and will be introduced at the Texas rally Wednesday evening.

In the center of this page you will find a letter from Coach Dixie Howell to the ASUI. This is to every student on the campus. The letter in short means leave the drubbing of the Washington State Cougars to the football team.

Howell has expressed a point which several other Idaho administrative officials have advocated. If we save our concerted efforts to the downing of the Cougars on the gridiron in Neale stadium October 15, we will be able to do a more efficient job.

Save For Victory

Instead of spending needless effort and energy trying to deface the WSC campus, Howell urges Idaho fans to use it to cheer and support the Vandal grid team. A victory over the Cougars would be much more enjoyable and lasting than having the WSC mascot, Butch, in some Idaho home. It is rumored that the pining WSC cougar has developed a bad case of fleas and halitosis.

No doubt most Idaho students have seen the work of some too talented Cougar fan on the "11" tower. This WSC student is probably trying to cement relations with Idaho as many of his colleagues have done in the past by using vandalism in Vandaville. Jason would like to remind the public relations experts from across the line that in Vandaville vandalism is left for use in the athletic contests.

Jason would like to suggest to the Homecoming committee that they don't remove these childish works but leave them for friends and alumni of both school to see. What better comparison could be made of the standing of the two schools? A small scrawled WSC trying to take the scene against a massive artistic I.

Who Will Work

The text of a challenge from the ASSCW president and the editor of Washington State Evergreen to Jason and the ASUI prexy, is printed on page two. The next to last paragraph of this challenge is indeed interesting when closely scrutinized. Either the WSC officials are

Men's Groups Select Homecoming Queen Candidates

Selections for Idaho's 1949 Homecoming queen were announced early this week by the living groups they represent. Choices were made by the men's living groups. From these co-eds, the Vandal grid squad will select the five finalists. Candidates in the upper left are Faye Sargent, Maurine Williams, Bonese Collins, Betty Biker, Shirley Vorous, and Zoe Wendle. Margaret Wills, Margaret AUSTAD, Renee Mathews, Marilyn Pond, Lois Larch, and Jane Walter are in the photo on the lower left. Norma Siple, Connie Baxter, Betty Brock, Gayle Slavin, Willa Shumann, Marilyn Evans, and Beatrice Helander complete the list of choices above.

Colliers Inspired By Buchanan Witticism

A comment by President Buchanan at the 1949 University of Idaho commencement exercises has inspired the lead editorial in Collier's magazine this week.

"The statement, 'Wives who have helped their GI husbands through the university should be given a degree, too — PH. T.' (Pulling Husbands Through) resulted in the Colliers article which concluded 'We are in favor of giving them Mr. Buchanan's PH. T. right away and a good cheer besides.'"

Applauds GI Wives
After lauding the veterans themselves for the way they buckled down to studying, the editorial pointed out "we didn't happen to meet up with any veterans whose impatient wives had forced them out of school and into the first job that came along. We did know a good many GI brides who, with a few scrimped dollars and a lot of ingenuity, converted bare and cheerless dwellings into something resembling a home."

The editorial continued: "These are the wives of what is probably the best-educated college generation in our history. In 15 or 20 years its members will be the leaders of this country. And if someday we hear those leaders say that they owe it all to the little women, we'll believe them. But we don't think the girls should be made to wait that long for recognition. We are in favor of giving them Mr. Buchanan's PH. T. right away..."

Vandaleer Group To Reveal Winners

Try-outs for Idaho Vandaleers closed last evening with approximately 130 students auditioned, according to Glen Lockery, Vandaleer director. A partial list of the 1949-50 Vandaleers will be announced sometime today. Re-auditions for additional members are to be scheduled during the next few days.

Radio Broadcast Course Offered In Fundamentals

Available to Idaho students for the first time this year is a course in "Radio Broadcasting Fundamentals."

Taught by Carl H. Peterson, director of the university's new radio center, the course is a study in broadcasting procedure and the problems associated with recording or the transmission of speech and music.

Study Sound Effects
Consideration will be given to acoustics, sound effects, and program control with practical demonstrations. The course is not intended to provide training for radio engineers, but to acquaint the student with broadcasting and recording techniques.

Prerequisite for the two-credit course which will be given fifth period on Tuesdays and Thursdays is sophomore standing. Although not listed in the time schedule, the course is numbered Physics 93-94. Physics 93 is not a prerequisite to Physics 94.

Idaho Housewives Aided By Electric Water Systems

Five out of every eight Idaho farms have modern automatic, electric water systems to take the drudgery out of kitchen work for their homemakers, according to Bill Knight, university farm electrification director.

"Farm women say that their greatest drudgery ended the day a water pipe was attached to their kitchen sinks," announced Knight. "We have good water systems on 25,000 of our 40,000 Idaho farms now. But that leaves some 15,000 Idaho farm women without the benefits of this modern convenience. We have just that far to go in making this a really modern state for our farm people."

500 Gallons Water

Knight explained the average farm needs at least 500 gallons of water daily. When water has to be pumped and carried, members of the family usually cut down on the amount of water they would use if it were more convenient. This often cuts into both the health and safety of the family as well as adding to the drudgery of the farm work.

Knight recommends starting the water system on a small scale if necessary to bring out the first installment.

"Pipe water into the house first of all," he urges. "That helps the farm wife with her work and makes life more pleasant for her. After that it is usually not long until the family can find the money to install water in barns, pens, and other farm buildings."

Howell Asks 'Leave WSC To Team'

University of Idaho

As the time draws near for the annual football game between the University of Idaho and Washington State College the time also draws near when some few members of the student body of the University of Idaho feel they must express their individuality, ingenuity, animosity, and school spirit. They do this, usually, not on the campus of the University of Idaho but on that of Washington State College.

The coaching staff and the football squad feel these few individuals would be doing more to foster the rivalry between the two institutions if their efforts and spirit were turned to something constructive on their own campus.

I have no suggestion to make along this line and this is not my purpose. I merely wish to state that the coaching staff and the football squad decry the practice of the few individuals who engender bad feeling as well as destroy property.

Don't get us wrong. The football squad and the coaching staff are not trying to tell anybody what should or should not be done. It is our purpose merely to state an attitude on things done by a few thoughtless individuals in the past.

The coaches, the football squad and myself are deeply appreciative of your constant and loyal support. We shall do everything in our power to deserve and maintain that loyalty.

Yours sincerely,
Millard F. (Dixie) Howell,
Head Football Coach

Outdoor Society To Meet on Campus

Birds and mammals of this area will be discussed by experts when the Pacific Northwest Bird and Mammal society holds a regional meeting on campus Saturday, October 1.

The society, composed of both professional and lay persons, contains four regions: western Washington, Oregon, British Columbia, and eastern Washington and Idaho. This will be the first Bird and Mammal society meeting held in Idaho. Earl J. Larrison, assistant professor of biological sciences at the university, will serve as chairman.

Study Local Mammals
Addresses will cover varied subject, including local movements of water ouzels, the grebe family in eastern Washington, ecology of the mammals of Mounty Pilchuck, Wash., pronghorn antelope, and breeding sea birds. Also on the program will be reports of field trips, motion pictures of bird studies, and inspection of the University of Idaho bird and mammal collections.

Sunday morning an auto trip to the summit of Moscow mountain is planned for those attending the conference, according to Larrison.

KUOI Auditions Scheduled Today

Appointments for auditions as announcers on KUOI, ASUI radio station, will be made during the first meeting today at 5 p.m. in room 202, Engineering building. Any interested persons may attend this meeting as no previous experience is necessary in order to be placed on the station staff, according to Dave Lewis, station manager.

There is room at KUOI for announcers, secretaries, engineers and writers. Instructions will be given in these positions.

After the auditions to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Dave Nye, production director, will assign programs. Announcer schools will be held Saturday and Sunday and the station will start broadcasting Monday.

Operatic Idaho Alumnae Singer Anne Bollinger Makes Home Appearance

Miss Anne Bollinger, Idaho's own Metropolitan Opera star, will launch the 1949-50 Moscow community concert series in Memorial gymnasium Thursday, September 29, at 8 p. m. A reception for Miss Bollinger will be held at the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter house immediately following her concert Thursday evening, state Barbara Clauser, SAI president. This reception is being sponsored jointly by Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Air Cadet Society To Be Organized On Idaho Campus

An "Arnold Society of Air Cadets" has been proposed for Air ROTC students at the University with plans now underway for its organization. Named in honor of General of the Army H. H. Arnold, the society will be an Air ROTC honorary composed of junior and senior Air ROTC students.

Aims of the society are to further the mission of the United States Air Force at college or university level by encouraging greater teamwork, technical knowledge, and cooperation among students enrolled in Air ROTC programs. The organization is national and has recognition throughout the Air Force.

Officials Approve
University officials have given their approval to formation of the Arnold society on the campus. A committee composed of Major H. N. Miller and Captain R. L. Jones as faculty advisors, and Allen Derr as student representative are making plans for installation of the organization.

After the society is formed four organizational officers will be selected including a commanding officer, executive officer, operations officer, and a secretary treasurer. The Commanding Officer will attend a convention of representatives from all schools in the Fourth Air Force area some time in October where a regional commander will be elected to represent the region in a national convention this winter. Problems encountered on different campuses in adoption of the society will also be discussed.

Students Enter Poetry Contest

Closing date for submissions to the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, sponsored by the National Poetry Association, has been announced as November 5.

The only requirements for entrance in this college anthology are that each submission be listed on a separate sheet; and that every student's efforts be accompanied by the following statement: "The verse entitled _____ is my own personal effort."

All students are cordially invited to submit their manuscripts for publication in this anthology. All poetry should be sent to National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif. Each entry must bear the author's name, home address and college attended.

VA Gives Expert Vocation Advice
In connection with national Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, being observed October 2-8, the Veterans administration has reminded Idaho employers that it is constantly in need of training opportunities for disabled veterans in business and industry.

Disabled veterans placed in training are given expert vocational counsel by the VA. This assures employer-trainers that the veteran's disability will not be a hindrance in the job for which he is training.

Surveys by the Department of Labor show that physically handicapped persons, especially trained for a particular job, are just as efficient and reliable as able-bodied workers.

Smoker Scheduled By Ag Honorary

Motion pictures of last year's Little International will be shown at the Ag smoker Sept. 28, at 7:30 in Memorial gym armory. Faculty members will be introduced and a pen and pencil set will be presented to last year's outstanding freshman, announced John Turnbull, president of the organization.

All agricultural students are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Look At It This Way!

It is bad enough to kick a man when he is down, but even worse when you are the one who has fallen. To recognize your weakness and then pull yourself up by your bootstraps is much the more satisfactory solution.

Our recent defeat at the hands of the Oregon Ducks was indeed a disappointment. Most of us expected to be beaten but not by such a lop-sided score. Many factors contributed to the wide difference in scores, not the least of which is that Oregon turned up with a much more powerful team than anyone expected. Clearly we were beaten by a better team. We are not apologizing for our team nor are we asking for sympathy.

The point of this article is not to excuse our defeat, but it is to guard against losing the ground we have gained in the past three years. There is danger that we will slip back into the same thinking that until recent months has been so widespread on the Idaho campus. Those who expound that thinking say that Idaho has never had nor will ever have a winning football team. They would point to our recent defeat and deny that we have made progress in the past three years.

The Vandals are playing in a league of giants, schools that have more money and that draw students from much more populous areas. Another hurdle to be overcome before we field a winning team is a psychological barrier in the form of a defeatist attitude that we have inherited from a generation of former Idaho students. Through no fault of their own, the team enters every game with that psychological disadvantage.

When we add all these factors together we see that the road ahead of us is a long, hard one. The tendency is to expect too much too soon, to become over optimistic and then get a defeatist complex when the chips are down.

We don't discourage criticism, but it should be of a constructive nature and based on facts. Too often we are prone to criticize too quickly and irrationally. This not only destroys the morale of our own students, but makes the university look poor and disorganized to outside observers.

Of all the people, our own students should be the most loyal defenders of our football team as well as other university institutions. Too often they are the worst critics.

We have a good football team. We have a good coaching staff. We will not play in the Rose Bowl this year or next year but some day we hope to. Let's recognize that such a day is a long way off yet. Let's realize that we are fighting an uphill battle against big odds. If we know where we are now and where we want to be and work from there without expecting miracles we will ultimately reach our goal. O. H.

That First Day

The first day of classes is over and has brought forth many humorous events. There were instances of unfortunate students wandering into wrong classrooms, such as the sweet young thing who wandered into an algebra class thinking it was shorthand.

Another co-ed, when going through the registration line, was told to abbreviate course names as much as possible. When registering for a course in American History, she wrote down the initials "A.H." The poor gal ended up in animal husbandry lab out in one of the Ag barns.

One of our wily seniors, a former editor of this paper, walked into the wrong history class. Upon discovering his error, he turned to this writer and said, "I'm in the wrong class but I think I'll stay anyhow. This prof is pretty interesting."

There was also the large crowd of new and old students at the Nest and Perch "coffing-up." For many it was like coming home again. Many of these "Nestology" majors will tell you that this is the second best course offered to the students here on the campus.

The situation is normal, not all fouled up. This happens every year and without its humorous events registration and the first few days of classes would be a fairly unhappy time for many. B. H.

They Take A Sip Now And Again (Married Men)

Married men are far more susceptible to "taking a sip now and then" than are those that have so far remained single, according to a report by an unusual clinic taking a new attack in the fight against alcoholism. The report stated that evidently more men are driven to drink by their wives than single men by their sweeties, as 66 per cent of all alkyers are married.

Oldsters Too

If you are between 40 and 44, the same thing is true. That's when you're most likely to see pink elephants dancing on the ceiling. Are you college-bred or just some bloke who couldn't break out of third grade... if you've got a diploma hanging on the wall, that "ole debbil" drink is likely to get you faster than if you're "strictly ignorant."

The report, covering three years of intensive probing into alcoholism—the only "disease" known to come out of a bottle—was released by the E. Dudley Saul clinic of St. Luke's medical center in Philadelphia.

Findings

Bluntly, the report declared: "Alcoholism is a disease—a chronic, progressive disease which is technically incurable. "The disease is incurable in the same sense that the alcoholic patient can never exhibit a normal response to alcohol. "Alcoholism can be arrested, however, and its recurrence prevented by divorcing the patient from alcoholic beverages."

overconfident or not up on the best in social procedure. The item mentions that the losing school's delegates be given a dinner. This means that Mr. Foss and Mr. Berry are either so confident that they are inviting the ASUI delegates to dinner already or on the otherhand perchance they are inviting themselves to dinner.

Here's More About—Exchange Problem

of exchanges. With twice as many men's groups as women, this method has resulted in some groups being able to schedule only two or three exchanges.

Executive board members advocated a plan whereby each men's group would have an exchange every other week; thus, assuring all groups of an opportunity to have an exchange with every other group.

Parsnips Overlook Freezing Weather

Parsnips don't need to be left out in the ground to freeze before they're good, according to J. E. Kraus, Idaho horticulturist. "It's true parsnips left in the ground through late fall are subject to very low temperatures," Kraus declares. "Being left in freezing temperatures the starch turns into sugar giving the parsnips a better taste. However, the same thing happens when parsnips are stored in a cool place inside a building."

It's easier harvesting parsnips with other root crops, than digging through hard, cold ground later on. The horticulturist points out. Storing parsnips for a month in temperatures of about 40 degrees will bring about the same chemical changes.

To The Vandals

Now, therefore, it being that time of year when the Washington State Cougar annually trounces and sends into ignoble defeat the University of Idaho Vandal he hereby known that on this day, Friday, September 23, 1949, at Pullman, Washington, we, H. WESTON FOSS, president of the Associated Students of the State College of Washington, and ROBERT W. BERRY, editor of the Washington State Evergreen, challenge BOB MOULTON, president of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, and JOHN MARTIN, editor of the University of Idaho Argonaut, to enter into an agreement whereby the losing school in the annual Washington State College-University of Idaho football game to be played Saturday, October 15, 1949, at Neale stadium, Moscow, Idaho, send the two above named persons as representatives of the school to walk from its campus to the campus of the winning school.

Be it also stipulated that under no circumstances will hitch-hiking, riding on running boards, or the use of any mechanical means other than the feet of the aforementioned men be considered legal.

The above shall take place at a date agreed upon by the two schools. Be it also suggested that the losing school's representatives be greeted at the outskirts of the city of the winning school by delegates of that school and be honored with a dinner given by the winning school's Associated Students governing board.

Now, therefore, in token of our sincerity we subscribe our names.

H. WESTON FOSS President, ASSCW State College of Washington ROBERT W. BERRY Editor, Evergreen State College of Washington

Here's Our Answer

In acknowledgment of the above printed challenge from H. WESTON FOSS and ROBERT W. BERRY, we, ROBERT MOULTON, president of the ASUI, and JOHN MARTIN, editor of the Idaho Argonaut, do accept all of the terms of said boastful agreement. Being of sound mind we feel that the challenge was made in a fit of patriotic fever, however, we intend to demand that all terms of the agreement be completed within two weeks after the Idaho-WSC grid battle of October 15.

Be it further stipulated that regardless of any desire by Cougar fans to accompany their frenzied leaders no other individuals will be allowed from either party to make the walk in any official capacity whatsoever.

Now, therefore, in official acceptance of the challenge we in good faith and conduct do hereto on the 26th day of September affix our signatures.

Inquiring Reporter Queries Registering Students

By Virginia Orazem
With two tired feet and a handful of registration blanks, permit to register, student handbook, and various other odds and ends, your inquiring reporter went back to the job today.

Freshmen and new students were subject to questioning concerning Idaho's registration facilities and procedure. After some had waited in lines for most of the day opinions did not run very high. Many others, however, more or less sailed through registration and book-buying without a great deal of difficulty.

The Question Is . . .
The poll query was "Do you think registration facilities at the U. of Idaho are adequate to handle the number of students present? Have you any suggestions for improvement?"

Glen Casebolt, Sigma Nu: "Getting through the gym is pretty slow. Otherwise the registration facilities and procedure are fine."
Nancy Hamilton, Forney hall: "Registration could be organized much more efficiently. Music ed majors especially are terribly abused. Ever hear of a music ed major among the first through registration?"

Rich Orme, Delta Tau Delta: "The registration system is pretty well organized, particularly in those departments where schedules are made out ahead of time. Some lines are fairly long."
Marion Wilson, Pi Beta Phi: "Yes I believe that the facilities are adequate — if you can get up

Frosty Evenings Can Injure Pipes

With frosty nights giving warning of winter cold not too far away, Max C. Jensen, university agricultural engineer, suggests giving farm water systems thorough checks now to see that freezing temperatures will not injure the pipes.

"A good check-up now will save trouble later on," Jensen says. "It's easy to do a repair or insulating job while the warm weather holds. Everyone knows the trouble and inconvenience that comes with even a simple breakdown of the water system during winter months."

Deep Water Lines
The engineer warns that water lines must be from three to four feet under ground in warm sections of Idaho and six feet deep in higher elevations to be safe from freezing. Trouble arises when pipes not far enough under the surface are caught by unusual penetrating cold spells.

"Pump houses are another source of worry and trouble during winter cold," Jensen points out. "If there is not enough insulation to prevent freezing there, it is often possible to hang a lantern or electric light bulb by the unit to give extra heat on cold nights."

Copper Tubes Unsafe
Copper tubing does not solve the problem of freezing pipes, the engineer emphasizes. Water will freeze as quickly in copper tubes as in the common iron pipes, but there is less danger of breakage

Engineers Meet To Consider Swimming Leadership Of U.S.

Three hundred Detroit engineers met September 21, to consider what might be done to recover United States' leadership in swimming according to ideas presented to them by Jam Handy, celebrated by Believe-It-or-Not Ripley as the only man ever to compete in two sets of Olympic games 20 years apart.

Handy Warns U.S.
Jam Handy is president of the Jam Handy Organization, producers of industrial and educational motion pictures. Handy stated that regardless of the 1948 American Olympic team supremacy, devastating Japanese victories in recent United States national swimming championships at Los Angeles, may cause international repercussions affecting the ideas of people world-wide concerning acceptability of American leadership in other spheres in which American ideas on efficient systems of operation are in question.

Crawl Outmoded
"We need the moral courage to admit that our sacred six-beat crawl is mechanically wrong as well as improperly fitted to our arm stroke," Jam Handy stated. "The Japs have something that we haven't got. They have nothing that we can't have. Their strokes are recognizably faulty, and only partly streamlined."
The Detroit Automotive Engineers gave consideration to the entire question of how United States sports' prestige could be regained in the eyes of the 61 nations who compete in the Olympics. For these nations represent people all over the world to whom the United States is obliged to sell

Ducks Trample Vandals In Pacific Coast Opener

Worst Loss Since Howell's Arrival

The University of Oregon Ducks, slightly underrated prior to game time, pounded out an easy 41-0 victory over the University of Idaho Vandals last Saturday afternoon in the opening conference tilt for both schools.

The Vandal squad, holding a 70-0 victory over Willamette university a week prior, took the opening kickoff behind their goal line and ran it out to the 21. A series of 11 plays took the Vandals deep into Oregon territory to their 23. There the drive was stopped and Oregon took over. This is the only time in the contest that the Vandals were able to throw a scare into last year's co-champions of the Pacific Coast.

Roses For Oregon

As guard, coach Gene Harlow said after scouting the Ducks last week against St. Mary's, "The team that beats Oregon will go to the Rose Bowl." Idaho's chances of smelling roses this season look slim.

The Duck's first real break of the contest came with less than three minutes left in the first period when quarterback Jim Hammond fumbled on the Idaho 16. In two plays Oregon rammed over for the first touchdown of the contest. Daniels' kick was good and Oregon led 7-0. There was no further scoring in the frame and as the gun sounded Oregon held a slim margin of seven points.

Sanders Scores

Eight minutes into the second quarter, Oregon added another TD to their long string, when Fullback Bob Sanders went all the way from the Idaho 13 unmolested. Daniels once again made good the conversion attempt. Score: Oregon 14, Idaho 0. Only one serious scoring threat resulted in the remaining seven minutes of this period when Oregon penetrated deep into Idaho territory. The drive stopped when Chester Daniels attempted a field goal from the Idaho 25, at which point the kick was low and wide. The half ended with Idaho having possession of the pigskin on the Oregon 32. Score: Oregon 14, Idaho 0.

Third Period

Overgaard's kickoff starting the third period was taken by Oregon's George Bell and returned all the way to the Idaho 10, before he was knocked out of bounds by Johnny Brogan. Three plays later the Duck's had another six pointer as Bob Sanders plunged over from the two. Daniels' kick was good. Score Oregon 21- Idaho 0. Bill Fell, Oregon's speed merchant, tabbed the fastest man in football since Glen Davis skirted right end for the fourth Oregon touchdown some nine minutes later. Daniels once again made good the conversion attempt. Score: Oregon 28 Idaho 0. The third quarter ended with Oregon having possession of the ball on the Idaho 15.

Let's Go Home

Oregon's next score came seven minutes into the fourth period when Bud Boqua went all the way from Idaho's 13 through center. Daniels' kick was good once again. Score Oregon 35 Idaho 0. The Duck's once again had a golden opportunity when John Brogan fumbled on his own 11. Sanders took the ball from that point and went all the way for the final touchdown of the contest. Daniels' kick was blocked by Fray and the score stood at 41-0.

This was the worst defeat handed a Howell coached football squad since he took over the reigns in 1947. Last years 34-7 loss to the University of Washington was high prior to Saturday's contest.

No More Tickets, Reports Manager

Graduate Manager, Gale Mix, today reported that all reserved tickets for the October 15 Idaho-WSC homecoming game have been sold. It is the first time in Idaho history that all reserved seats in Neale stadium have been sold out three weeks prior to a game. All those still wishing tickets for the annual "little civil war of the Palouse" can acquire them by writing for one of 8,000 general admission seats still available. Address cards and letters to Office of Graduate Manager, A.S.U.I., Student Union Building, Moscow.

FIRST ENGINE

The first locomotive built in the U. S. for actual service made its first trip in 1832. On this run the engine fell into a ditch, but held to the tracks fine later on.

The English made their first attempt to settle North America at Roanoke Island, in 1504.

Time Out

By COSTELLO

Bells didn't ring, cannon remained silent and cheers were saved for some other occasion. Ah, yes, there was no joy in Vandalville Saturday. People who just happened to be in the arboretum that afternoon still tremble when they tell of the frightening sound which broke from the bowels of the campus. It sounded like a great "WHOPPEN?"

Vandal teams are known for their habitual fooling of the experts, but as far as we know this is the first time the experts have ever been fooled for choosing Idaho too high.

WSC Looks Bad

In the depression which followed the game one bit of compensating good news was lost to attention. While Idaho was losing to the division's best team, WSC was beating Montana and looking poor all the way. The Cougar line, though it has a few fine players was inferior to their opponent's and even more certainly inferior to the usual WSC product. The backfield as a unit is average. After seeing them in action for the first time we feel even better about Vandal chances when October 15th rolls around. May we suggest, however, that someone take a better look at that Montana squad before October 2. Though the backs weren't spectacular, new coach Shipkey has some pretty fancy plans and no one can tell just what's on tap until it's under way.

The team used at least four formations during the afternoon. Noticeable were the conventional "T", a "W" with man in motion, the single wing and an unorthodox spread formation.

Aiken Gets Mad

Getting back to the Idaho-Oregon affair. Remember when Coach Aiken lost his poise and dashed with a scream to the opposite side of the field to argue with the ref? For those of you who were curious and have been asking about it, we've made inquiries. Guess what. It was only that new substitution ruling again. An exact explanation of the situation only served to confuse us more but that "delaying the game thing" was the culprit again. Incidentally, the reason its causing so much trouble is that the national rules committee hasn't released the clarification yet. Not even the officials know how to interpret it.

Idaho Alums Meet In Oregon Cities

Two major gatherings of University of Idaho alumni and friends were held in Oregon cities Saturday, September 24, in connection with the Idaho-Oregon football game that afternoon, Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, announced today.

The first meeting consisted of a luncheon in the Eugene hotel at Eugene, the home of the Oregon Ducks. An evening alum party was held following the game at the Press Club in Portland.

Lansdon Chairman

Floyd W. Lansdon, president of the Portland alumni group, was in charge of arrangements for the get-togethers.

"More than 350 Idaho alumni from the Portland and Eugene areas, plus students and alums traveling to the game attended the affair according to Lyle.

FAST FREIGHT

Schireman Leads Scorers

That big number eight is carried onto the gridiron by Al Schireman. Though he's just started playing varsity ball this season, Al leads all other Vandal scorers with his 18 points. Fullback Schireman is five feet, nine inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. His home is in Bothell, Washington.

Texas Promises Trouble For Downtrodden Idaho

By K. K.

Somebody better give "Dixie" a dependable, large-size bottle of aspirin tablets that are guaranteed to bring added relief. From all indications, Blair Cherry's Texas playboys at Austin are planning to throw a rip-snorter Saturday afternoon at Memorial stadium and the welcome party might bring Coach Howell his biggest headache of the season.

Texas opened the 1949 season by steamrolling over a scrappy Texas Tech team, 43 to 0. Last Saturday the Longhorns went on a wild 54 to 0 stampede at Philadelphia to hand Temple university its worst football defeat in the history of the school. The powerful Texans amassed the staggering total of 613 yards as they scored in every period for a total of eight touchdowns and six conversions. (Idaho gained a net total of 560 yards in the Willamette game.)

The Longhorns ranked 33rd in the 1948 National Rating. For the last two years they have finished behind Southern Methodist university in the Southwest conference. Coach Blair Cherry has been head football coach at the university for 2 years, succeeding the great D.X. Bible who is now athletic director. Last years squad won 7 out of 11 games, tied one, and defeated the University of Georgia, 41-28 in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

A trio of accurate passers should keep the Idaho pass defense on its toes all afternoon. Working out of the T-formation with emphasis on the flanker and man-in-motion variations, will be quarterback Paul Campbell, a lad who passed Georgia dizzy at Miami, Bobby Coe Lee and Ben Tompkins. Each warmed up his arm against Temple Saturday by passing for a score.

Here is a run down on the games played by other Idaho opponents this fall.

- Washington State 33
 - Utah State 0
 - Washington State 13
 - Montana U. 7
 - Montana U. 33
 - South Dakota 13
 - Montana U. 7
 - Wash. State 13
 - Portland U. 32
 - Central Wash. 0
 - Portland U. 27
 - Nevada 53
 - Oregon State 13
 - UCLA 35
 - Oregon State 27
 - Utah 7
 - Stanford 49
 - San Jose State 0
 - Stanford 44
 - Harvard 0
- Idaho, by losing to Texas Saturday, can gain membership in the Pacific Coast's exclusive, "We got Beat by Texas" Club. At the present, the University of Oregon holds the only membership card. The Ducks dropped a 71-7 decision to Texas in 1941 and lost again to the Longhorns in 1947, 38 to 13.

Montana Threatens Cougars But Loses In Fourth Period

Montana State university's inspired Grizzlies came within one touchdown of pulling the first upset in the Pacific Coast conference this year, as they bowed to WSC, 13-7.

Although rated four touchdown underdogs, the stiff Grizzly line consistently outplayed and outcharged the Cougar forward wall to upset the WSC backs for huge losses.

WSC Scores First

After Bud Roffler, sophomore star for WSC, intercepted a third quarter pass on the Grizzly 43, the Pullmanites, led by Marv Cross, marched down the field to a touchdown from three yards out. Roffler's attempted conversion was wide.

The Grizzlies, engineered by sophomore quarterback Tommy Kingsford, were not to be denied and they scored early in fourth period on a drive which saw Kingsford either running or passing the ball on eleven consecutive plays that carried the Montanans across the WSC goal line.

Montana Ahead

Kingsford's pass to Ray Bauer was the clincher as the Montana end streaked 26 yards for the score. Byrne's try for point was successful and the Grizzlies led, 7-6.

The Cougars, faced with a situation comparable to their 13-12 loss to Montana in 1947, came to life and a minute and one half later Bob Gambold, WSC passing ace, uncorked a spiral to Don Paul, who gathered in the pigskin and raced 42 yards to victory.

Line play for both teams was extremely rough and Ted Shipkey's crew, although rated last in the conference, gave evidence that any afternoon with them will be a dangerous one.

Babes Multiply

"One of the best freshmen squads ever," is predicted of this year's fresh squad. After three weeks' turnout, new recruits are still arriving, according to Coach Steve Belko. The team opens against University of Washington here October 7. The rest of their schedule includes: WSC October 21, Moscow; Utah, October 28, to be played at Twin Falls, and WSC November 4, at Pullman.

Back To Practice Go Gridders; Offense Stressed

Showing no ill signs from their 41 to 0 loss at the hands of Oregon Saturday, the Vandals returned to a heavy practice yesterday afternoon. With the exception of Roy Colquitt, guard, who sprained his elbow, no injuries were reported and the squad was in high spirits preparing for Texas. Coach Dixie Howell said he will stress offense this week, in line with his old saying, "A good offense is the best possible defense."

Commenting on the loss to Oregon, Howell said: "We were beaten by a very good ball club, in my mind the best since the war. They are big, fast and have a lot of man power. In addition they are a great defensive team. That combination is hard to beat."

Howell went on to say: "I'm not at all disappointed in the individual performances of my team out there. But I am disappointed in the score. It isn't truly indicative of the real difference between the two ball clubs. Our team started throwing in the second half and the Oregon boys were lucky enough to intercept seven of our passes. They also recovered several of our fumbles which set them up for touchdowns which explains their big score. They only ran up four more first downs than we did."

Dixie expressed sincere regret in learning that one of Oregon's best ends, Les Hagen, received a fractured leg in a late game play. Tackled by Idaho's Glen Christian after taking a pass from Earl Steele, Hagen was taken from the game. It was not learned until later that his leg was broken.
