The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

The climax and anti-climax of another Homecoming have come and gone. The spirit and activity of the event will be long remembered by those who attended. From every office on the campus came words of congratulation to this year's committee. To his deluge of good will, Jason would like to add his word of praise to Morgan Tovey, chairman, and his staff.

Parade Rates Praise
Students who in any way contributed to this Homecoming can be pleased with the product of their labor. The parade, which featured over 75 entries, was widely proclaimed as the finest staged in the area. Despite the inclement weather, the committee and participants continued with the well planned arrangements.

Half time entertainment was timed to perfection. The card section presented a very colorful attraction to the friends and alumni seated across the stadium. Congratulations are in order in a special way for the university band which was able to not only provide music during the game, but present a program on the field during the halftime which was of top flight quality.

Alumni from every part of the state were loud in their praise of the open house functions which every campus living group held. These parties were the melting pots of Idaho alumni.

The 1949 committee has brought forth in time of need a dance band which might well set a precedent for other all campus dances. A good hotel or dance club orchestra can much better provide the type of entertainment wanted by the students. The dance committee was invited by Wyatt Howard to suggest the type of music and program wanted by the audience. This is indeed a far cry from some name bands which have a set pattern and will not deviate from it. Decorations at the gymnasium presented a truly Homecoming theme with murals of crepe about campus scenes. Not only the committee heads, but also all students who gave freely of their time in decorating the campus for the visitors certainly deserve every bouquet they have received.

Jason Will Walk
The tale has been told. Jason and student body president Bob Moulton will make the trek to Pullman at a time designated by their WSC hosts. The trip will not be made in any defeatist attitude. We intend to carry to Cougarville the praise of the Vandals and the school which they represent. The game was played with honor and the pre-game Vandalism was held nil. This is certainly worthy of commendable comment from even the most rabid WSC fan. Perhaps we can give them a lesson or two.

Students Complain Of Staff Parking
Numerous complaints have been received by the Traffic and Safety Committee to the effect that some staff members by careless parking are frequently taking up two parking spaces.

In view of the critical shortage of parking space, staff members are requested to follow parking markers or, where there aren't any, to park carefully so as to make the most efficient use of our limited parking space. To do less is a distinct discourtesy to students and other members who must find a place to park, according to the Traffic and Safety Committee.

University Band Leads Parade

Headed by majorettes and the 90-piece university band, the 1949 Homecoming parade presented university visitors a colorful display of student workmanship. The parade, which had over 75 entries, was termed by many to be the most colorful event of this kind ever held at the university. Despite a stiff, cold breeze, the downtown streets were thronged with spectators as the floats filed past. In the bottom photo are some of the floats which were built by student groups for the parade.

Students Must Register To Enter ASUI Activities

ASUI placement card files will be opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The cards which are used by the executive board when making campus student appointments must be filled out by any student who wishes to participate in ASUI activities.

Executive board members will set up the files in the general manager's office every afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock the remainder of this week. The registrar on duty will give those wanting to register a card and aid them in filling out the desired information. Bob Moulton, ASUI president stated that the files were opened for those wishing to change their previous cards as well as all who have not as yet completed a card in the files. He stressed the fact that the executive board is using the cards almost exclusively in making appointments. Students who register will be given application blanks upon which they will fill in their name, address, curriculum, activities in which they are interested, and experience which they have had. The executive board member handling the registering will interview each applicant briefly and place his comments on the back of each card. Anyone who has filled out a card previously, but wishes to add or delete information on his card should ask the registrar for the old card and make the changes, rather than filling out a new card, officials stated.

Folz At IRC

Dr. William Folz of the University economics department will discuss devaluation of currency at the second meeting of International Relations club Thursday evening at 7:30 in Chrisman Hall. At the last meeting foreign students from Norway, Iceland, China, Canada, Hawaiian Islands and South America were introduced to IRC members.

Women's Debates Scheduled On Intramural Calendar

Women's intramural debate will get underway this week with the first rounds of debate scheduled for the latter part of October, according to word from Shirley Jacobsen and June Schalkau, chairmen for the annual tournament.

All women's living groups wishing to participate in this year's tournament are requested to send a representative to a meeting at the Kappa house this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Sponsored By Honorary
The intramural debate tournament is sponsored each year by Delta Sigma Rho, national debating honorary, to give students interested in debating an opportunity to gain experience and to open the way for future participation in intercollegiate competition. The tournament will be of the double elimination type with two losses eliminating a team from competition. The winning house is awarded a cup which becomes

Exec. Board Makes New Appointments Set Election Date

Class elections will be held November 9. This date was set by the ASUI executive board recently. Nominations for class officers must be made two weeks prior to the date of the election.

Appointments were the main business of the board meeting. Pate Wilson was appointed to the Calendar committee in the first appointment of the evening.

Radio Stations To Broadcast Panel

Radio stations throughout Idaho and the inland empire will receive a fifteen minute weekly discussion program according to Dr. A. E. Whitehead, head of the speech department. The subject for discussion this week will be "Should a federal world government be established?" Panel participants will be Shirley Jacobsen and Tom Rigby with Orval Hansen acting as moderator.

Style sheets will be explained and a reporter's school held. Appointments to assistant post on the staff will be discussed, according to John Martin, editor.

Fijis Win Homecoming Trophy In Total Group Participation

Phi Gamma Delta captured the Homecoming participation trophy for the second consecutive year. The award which is given to the campus living group having the greatest number of credits in all of the various Homecoming activities was presented during the Homecoming dance Saturday night in Memorial gymnasium.

WSC Men Homeless When Fire Sweeps Through Dorm.

Fire struck a 400-man dormitory on the Washington State college campus shortly after 4 a.m. yesterday damaging the rooms of 150 students. According to the report of the college news bureau, none of the students were injured.

College fire chief William Pence said the fire broke out in a ventilating system motor atop the two-story frame dormitory known at the college as North House. The tons of water required to control the blaze, which was confined to two wings of the five-wing structure, caused as much or more damage than the fire, said Pence.

Heavy Damage
Arthur McCarten said the students made homeless by the fire would be placed temporarily in other dormitories in the same area. He also added that no damage estimates were immediately available. The building was not covered by insurance, but the students' personal property is protected by a blanket policy good for $80,000.

Other living groups who rated high in the race for the "yard high" trophy were Beta Theta Pi, 89 points; Willis Sweet Hall, 78 and Delta Gamma and Tri Delta with 87 points each.

Betas Take Second
Other living groups who rated high in the race for the "yard high" trophy were Beta Theta Pi, 89 points; Willis Sweet Hall, 78 and Delta Gamma and Tri Delta with 87 points each.

House decorations trophies were awarded to Tau Kappa Epsilon and Kappa Kappa Gamma with 27 and 26 points respectively. Willis Sweet Hall, 20, and Delta Gamma, 26, won second place honors.

J.C.'s Top Downtown
In the downtown business section Moscow Junior Chamber of Commerce rated highest with Moscow Jewelers, second, and honorable mention going to Powell Plumbing.

A capacity crowd attended the annual Homecoming dance Saturday night in Memorial gym. Wyatt Howard and his orchestra provided music for the all-campus affair.

At a meeting Sunday afternoon, the Homecoming committee chairmen drew up a report of the week's festivities which will be submitted to the executive board and will be used for future reference by Homecoming committees in years to come, according to Morgan Tovey, general chairman.

Portrait Of First Idaho Governor Given University

Presentation to the university of a large portrait of William J. McConnell, first elected governor of the state of Idaho, by E. T. McConnell, Moscow, nephew of the late governor, was announced yesterday by Dr. Boyd Martin, chairman of the Borah foundation of the university.

"The picture is one of few in existence," Martin said. "It will be added to the university's Borah collection."

Daughter Living
Mrs. William Edgar Borah, widow of the late Idaho senator, is the oldest daughter of Governor McConnell. The picture, presented to the university by his nephew was originally owned by Mrs. Ben Bush, Moscow, youngest daughter of the governor. Becoming governor of Idaho shortly after the territory became a state, McConnell also served a short term as the first United States senator from Idaho.

The university Borah collection in which the picture will be placed, is made up of documents, pictures, letters, and scrapbooks pertaining to the life and time of Senator Borah.

FREE RIDE
All Georgia war veterans are now being issued automobile drivers licenses free of charge, in accordance with an act of the 1949 Georgia General Assembly.

Rally Or Burlesque Show? Let The Students Decide, Sir

After last Friday night it is quite evident that the 1949 Idaho yell king has forgotten what is the purpose of a pep rally. Perhaps the executive board has been fortunate enough to get a genius who is capable of looking into the far distant future and finding that the traditional pep rousing talks by the coach and members of the team will give way to a burlesque show.

For the information of the self-found genius, Idaho is a school for ordinary American college students. Those who attend or have attended it, are quite content to go along with established traditions. They still feel that a pep rally is for mixed crowds and has the purpose of building spirit for a coming athletic event. If Gary Neffzger feels that he will be unable to forego his ambition to become an amateur director of second rate burlesque it is suggested that he resign.

Crowd Is Courteous
The only true instiller of pep at the Homecoming pep rally was Mother Nature who kept the crowded spectators stamping their feet and clapping their hands to ward off the chilly blasts which swept across MacLean field. The crowd is to be complimented on the fact that despite what was going on they had the courtesy to applaud each act. One could not help but hear the groans that preceded each new act, however.

Written, directed and produced by Mr. Neffzger, the 1949 rally burlesque is truly the biggest flop in the history of Vandal Homecoming celebrations. It is sad indeed when an entire student body must give up hearing a representative of the football team tell the feelings of the squad. Instead the yell king decreed that the burlesque show must go on. Possibly he has never found out that we have coaches and athletes as well as dime novels and joke books.

Judgment Valued
The ASUI functions have been very fortunate in that at no time has any form of administrative censorship been placed on them. It has been the sentiments of the administrators that at Idaho we have a type of student who is able to present a show or publication which gives the students what they want without incurring any bad publicity. If student projects are to enjoy this privilege, the students must make certain that the person selected to do a job knows what is expected of him.

Thus far this year our yell king has shown himself more deserving of a position as copy boy for a burlesque show than a director of student pep rallies.

Low-Speed Tunnel Built For Special Engineer Project

During the past summer in connection with special research in engineering, a new low-speed wind tunnel was completed at Idaho. The tunnel, built to conduct research on windshields for pre-gages, may later be used in the study of snowdrift problems. Housed in the the Agricultural engineering shops the project is under the sponsorship of the civil engineering department.

Dr. Mark Gurevitch, physics department, and Delbert Robison, a senior in mechanical engineering have built the tunnel in collaboration with the agricultural engineering department. Several test runs have indicated unusual phenomena which occur around precipitation gages due to updrafts of air. The information is being sought by the Weather Bureau and other federal agencies which are also cooperating in this research study.

Snow Hampers Project

In connection with this project a field experiment plot has been set up above Mullan Pass near the Idaho-Montana borderline. In September a number of new gages were installed at this site by Jim Hardie, Calvin Long, Delbert Robison and Clyde Maughan, Idaho engineering students. During the Idaho student's last day at the experimental plot, they were caught in a blizzard.

Ag Students Plan High School Tour

Eight students will be sent to Twin Falls area by the agricultural education department next week, according to D. L. Kindsch, assistant professor of the Ag department, for practice teaching in several high schools of that vicinity.

Men making the trip are Kay Hult, Edwin Rowberry, Lynn Stephenson, Claude Morrow, Max Mortenson, Belno Moore, Fred Beckman, and John Lawrence. The tour will last from Oct. 24 to Nov. 5.

Shortened Classes Friday Morning

Classes will be shortened Friday morning for the annual Awards Assembly at 11 o'clock in the auditorium according to Dean H. E. Lattig. President J. E. Buchanan will announce winners of the various awards.

As a special feature for this event the Idaho Vandaleers under the direction of Glen R. Lockyer are scheduled to present several numbers.

Several dozen of individual awards for scholarships, scholastic standings, and cups will be presented at that time. Also on Friday morning's agenda is the announcement of group grade averages for the campus.

Officer Elected

Greg Potvin, Bench and Bar representative to the American Law Student Association, gave a report of the Asso. organizational meeting. The Asso. elected Potvin as vice-president on the ninth circuit which covers the western states.

Those elected to the Honor Court for this year were Ray Rigby, chief justice; Jim May, Lloyd McClintock, Jack McKinley, and Dick Schou, justices.

Captain Gets Service Plaque

Football Captain Carl Kilsgaard receives a plaque from the ASUI and the alumni association in recognition of service and spirit he has given to the Vandal athletic program. Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, right, makes the presentation. Morgan Tovey, Homecoming chairman, and Bea Helander, queen, look on as the plaque is given at the intermission of the Homecoming dance Saturday night.

Where's The Cooperation?

Honorary organizations on the University of Idaho campus really "goofed" themselves up, socially speaking, last week.

At the beginning of the school year, 1948-49, these organizations presented a plan to the Student Activities Board which would set aside the first three weeks of the present school year as a time for these organizations to submit to the Calendar Committee the dates which they desired to have for their all-campus dances. Such dates would have precedence prior to consideration of these same dates by campus living groups.

This plan was approved and adopted by the SAB and in turn submitted in the board's activity plan for the year to the ASUI Executive Board, which was approved and set up as a recommendation to the Calendar Committee.

The Calendar Committee decided that this would be fair to give the honorary organizations priority for their social function dates.

Where the trouble occurred: The three week deadline was last Friday. At the close of that day, not one-third of these all-campus organizations had submitted to the Calendar Committee the dates which they desired to reserve.

This left the committee in the position of either extending the deadline to organizations which had not cooperated, after doing so much work to gain a chance for good social dates, or going ahead and approving dates submitted by campus living groups.

The latter procedure was the course taken. In the near future, these organizations will be trying to get desired dates for their social functions and will find there are very few openings left on the social calendar.

For this, the groups concerned will complain loud and long but it will be tossed right back into their laps and they will be forced to take a back seat to the living groups and any other organization which has submitted petitions for social function dates.

This puts all organizations on the level with each other as far as obtaining these dates on the social calendar are concerned.

If the organizations who are given a golden opportunity can't get around to petitioning for dates on the social calendar, that calendar should be thrown wide open by the ASUI Executive Board and allow the living groups to schedule all of the social functions for the year that they so desire, if such dates are available, and let each social stand on its own merits. B.H.

Our Mistaken Sense Of Values

The 1949 Homecoming is now history. Whether or not it was the biggest is a matter of record. Whether or not it was the best is a matter of debate. Now that the smoke has cleared it is well to review it carefully with the aim of improving it in future years.

First, of course, it should be examined in the light of the objective of homecoming.

The purpose of any homecoming is to promote friendly relations with alumni of the university and to express appreciation for their past support. The best way to accomplish this is to invite them back to the campus for a football game and to be good hosts when they arrive.

Have our activities been in the furtherance of that purpose or have we lost sight of it? To most of us homecoming means a week of cutting classes, staying up all hours of the night building floats and decorations, "appropriating" lumber and other materials after dark, and spending hundreds of dollars for materials that have practically no salvage value. It means working our heads off to win a cup and then disappointment and animosity if we didn't win.

We try to have more floats in our parade than ever before. We try to build bigger decorations than ever before. We give away more cups than ever before. Is that what we mean by a bigger and better homecoming?

Have we become so busy trying to beat out the house next door for a cup that we have forgotten about our alums? In too many cases we were not prepared to accommodate our alums when they arrived.

Has this thing grown so big that we cannot handle it properly? Would we be wiser to cut all this "side dressing" down in size in favor of more quality and efficiency of organization? O.H.

Many Mums Sold At Homecoming

According to Shirley Tanner, Mortar Board proxy, approximately 1100 Mums were sold during the Homecoming weekend. Mum sales had been going on for a week before Homecoming, and were finished up at the main dance Saturday night in Memorial gym.

Members of the Mortar Board personally delivered Mums between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. Saturday. Mums were also sold at the Moscow Hotel, Elk's club, Ad club, gate of Neale Stadium Saturday, and in several living groups on the campus.

Dear Jason

Thanks to a group of Moscow Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteers, who gave up a Sunday morning for the task, the University of Idaho campus was comparatively clean of debris for its Homecoming weekend.

But in hardly any sense can the campus be called "clean as a pin" or "spic-n' span."

Jaycees, hoping to prepare the campus to such an extent that it would look its best for the expected 25,000 football fans, including Idaho guests and alumni, fell down on their job... but they are not, will not, and should not be held responsible.

Moscow businessmen, townspeople and young men of the community have attempted during the past year to create firm, sound and lasting relations with Idaho students but when cooperation from the other side of the fence is only about fifty percent, such a program is a waste of time.

Living groups on the campus were given advance notice of the Jaycees' "clean-up" campaign... but few heeded the publicity. Consequently the Idaho campus probably lacked the lustre it should have had for a Homecoming week end, or any week end, when 25,000 guests are expected.

Turning garbage collectors for Sunday morning was no fun for the Jaycees who volunteered... but they had a good time until they ran face to face with problems which daily confront the Moscow garbage collection unit.

In some cases, garbage, refuse, leaves and debris were neatly piled awaiting pick-up by the clean-up crew. But more likely than not, the same refuse was strewn without thought in any vacant space. Apparently the students believed having it in plain sight was sufficient to draw the attentions of the Sunday morning pick-up crew.

The crew accomplished its purpose. The Jaycees saw the "mess"... and most of it is still there. Next year the Jaycees plan to attempt the same thing.

Moscow Is Topic Of Gibb's Speech

Raphael S. Gibb, University publications director, chose the topic "Know Your Moscow" when he spoke to the Business & Professional Women's Club Sunday night, carrying out the theme of National Business Women's Week—"Boost Your Town—It Boosts You."

Stresses Moscow

Stressing Moscow's position toward the creation of youth, which he regarded as "contagious," Gibb concluded by referring to his story in "Ford Times" where he told of the advantages of living in a small town and that he had no trouble selecting Moscow as his favorite place to live.

Included on the program was a trio of university students, Margaret Mähl, Phyllis LaRue and Rosie Schmid, who sang two numbers.

C Of C Entertains Board Of Regents

Two informative films were shown at a special meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers Tuesday evening. The first picture, entitled Engineering, concerned different types of work in each phase of engineering. The second film reviewed microscope improvements and new developments on electron guns.

Vision Encouraged By Business Prof.

Encouragement of "Men of Vision" in Idaho's business life was advocated today by Dr. William E. Folz, Professor of Business Administration, at the annual meeting of the North Idaho, Chamber of Commerce.

"A man who invested wisely in Idaho industries was a man of courage and a man of vision," he said. "You can't charge him with being a robber baron." Prof. Folz went on to say that such handicaps as discriminatory taxes against these men should be discouraged.

He advocated a "reinvestigation" of the state tax structure and an intensification of Idaho industry by such means as cooperative action with other states.

Dr. Folz was the first speaker to address the 56 delegates who registered here early for the opening session of the two-day convention.

Art Travels

An art exhibit that has been traveling through the state for over a year is expected at the University of Idaho November 1 to 10.

Selections for the display were chosen from the works presented in the Idaho Art exhibit which was held in Boise last fall.

Mood Music Used In Play Rehearsal

Mood music, written especially for "The Glass Menagerie" was used Wednesday evening during student rehearsal in the U hut.

Fading in and out, the music, written by Paul Bowles for the Williams production, suggests memories which are a part of the actual play.

Cited as "one of the most famous plays of modern theatre," the Glass Menagerie will be presented in the University auditorium, Oct. 28-29 under the direction of Pean Collette.

Production Rehearsal
A continuity rehearsal, held in the U hut last night, saw Lorraine Cole as Amanda the mother and Rich Pennell as Tom, her sensitive son. Colleen Christensen, as the fragile crippled sister, cringes when the Gentleman Caller, Bill Davidson, arrives.

As rehearsals continue in the "hut," stage crews are busy erecting and painting sets for the production which is only two weeks away.

Other schools who have recently staged "The Glass Menagerie" include the University of Oregon and The University of Utah.

Both bride and groom attended the University of Idaho. Mrs. Hansen was a Kappa Kappa Gamma majoring in education while Hansen graduated in business law. He is affiliated with Sigma Chi.

The couple will live in Boise after a wedding trip to San Francisco.

Correct Procedure For withdrawing

Since there has been considerable confusion in procedure for students changing courses or withdrawing from the University, a clarification of the correct method to be followed has been announced by the academic council upon recommendation of H. E. Lattig, dean of men.

In general the withdrawing or changing procedure is as follows: The student must report to his academic dean to confer and secure proper forms; if a veteran, he then goes to the student counselor for approval; the instructors' signatures required must be secured on the blanks.

The blanks must then be returned to the academic dean for final approval after which the student must report to the Registrar's office to file the completed forms.

The Idaho Argonaut

WSC Maintains Precedent With Impressive Victory

The Cougars from W.S.C. kept their pace by trimming the Idaho Vandals before an estimated 21,000 Homecoming fans last Saturday.

The Cougars were up against their own goal the entire first period, but Idaho failed to capitalize on the situation. In the second period the Washington Staters took advantage of Idaho fumbles and scored three touchdowns before the half time gun.

With Bob Mays fumbling on the Idaho forty, the Cougars began their march and eleven plays later Bud Roffler crossed the white strip. Roffler kicked between the uprights and made the score 7 to 0. After the kickoff, Idaho fought up to its own thirty one where King Block fumbled. On a long pass meant for Poltfoot, Johnny Brogan intercepted on the Idaho three. Block fumbled again on the next play and Lavern Torgerson recovered for the Cougars. Gumbold passed to Kofler for the second score, and again Roffler made his kick. 14-0.

Time Out

By COSTELLO
Lots of people were playing over their heads Saturday. We saw boys do things on that field that they've never done before and never will do again. On the Idaho side of scrimmage the team seemed about an even division between guys trying impossible things and succeeding and others trying and falling to do things just too impossible. We are sure there isn't an Idaho fan who saw the WSC game who thinks the team failed because it didn't put enough try into the process. The team wanted that game more than any of us.

Cougars Come Back

Though we'd cringe at the thought of doing such a thing one week ago here are our congratulations to WSC's Cougars. We've never had any love for anything connected with the Pullman institution but credit can't be denied a team that came back the way the Cougars did Saturday. It took a great bunch of men to win a ball game after the licking they took first quarter. Throughout early WSC games it was apparent that the Cougars were a mediocre ball club; they were playing over their heads far more than the Vandals Saturday and won't be seen in such form again. Their spirit however, is not mediocre.

Rooters Shine

One more little citation. The Idaho stands had a spirit that probably has no precedent in the university's history. Everyone including the gals talked bass Sunday morning.

Christian Scores

WSC kicked off and on the second play speedy Glen Christian ran 76 yards for an Idaho score after remaining out of the game up to this point. This time Overgaard's kick was good and the score stayed 36 to 13. Idaho tried desperately through the air for another tally but the final seconds ran out with the score remaining 36 to 13.

Intramurals

Old man weather was the leading figure in the intramural football race last week. Rain canceled all scheduled games from Thursday evening through the remainder of the week. Results of four games played Thursday afternoon were as follows: BTP blanked the PKT 12-0; WSH 2 trounced LH 2 24-0; WSH 1 pulled a one touchdown margin from LH 1 12-8; and CH 1 defeated PH 1 12-0.

New Schedule

Due to weather conditions and the dropping of four teams from the intramural football race a complete revision of the football schedule has been made.

Tuesday, Oct. 18—LDS vs KS; DC vs TKE; PDT vs ATO and SC vs SAE. Wed. Oct. 19—SC vs PGD; BTP vs SN; SAE vs LCA and CH 1 vs PH 3. Tuesday, Oct. 20—WSH 1 vs CH 1; PGD vs TKE; LH 1 vs PH 1 and WSH 2 vs CH 2. Friday, Oct. 21—SC vs LCA; SN vs PKT; SAE vs BTP; KS vs DTD; LH 2 vs PH 2; LDS vs DC; PDT vs KS; and TKE vs ATO. Saturday, Oct. 22—SAE vs SN; BTP vs PGD; WSH 1 vs PH 3 vs ATO vs LDS; CC 2 vs CH 2; WSH 2 vs LH 2; CC 1 vs CH 1 and PDT vs DC.

Monday, Oct. 24—the ATO's tangle with DTD; SC vs BTP; the SAE's vs PGD; and CC 1 vs CH 1. Tuesday, Oct. 25—LCA vs PKT; WSH 1 vs CC 1; LH 1 vs CH 1; WSH 2 vs PH 4. Wednesday, Oct. 26—PH 1 vs PH 3; WSH 2 vs CC 2; LM 2 vs CH 2; PH 2 vs PH 4. and Thursday, Oct. 27, which will be the last day on the regular schedule, it will be LDS vs ATO; and TKE vs DTD.

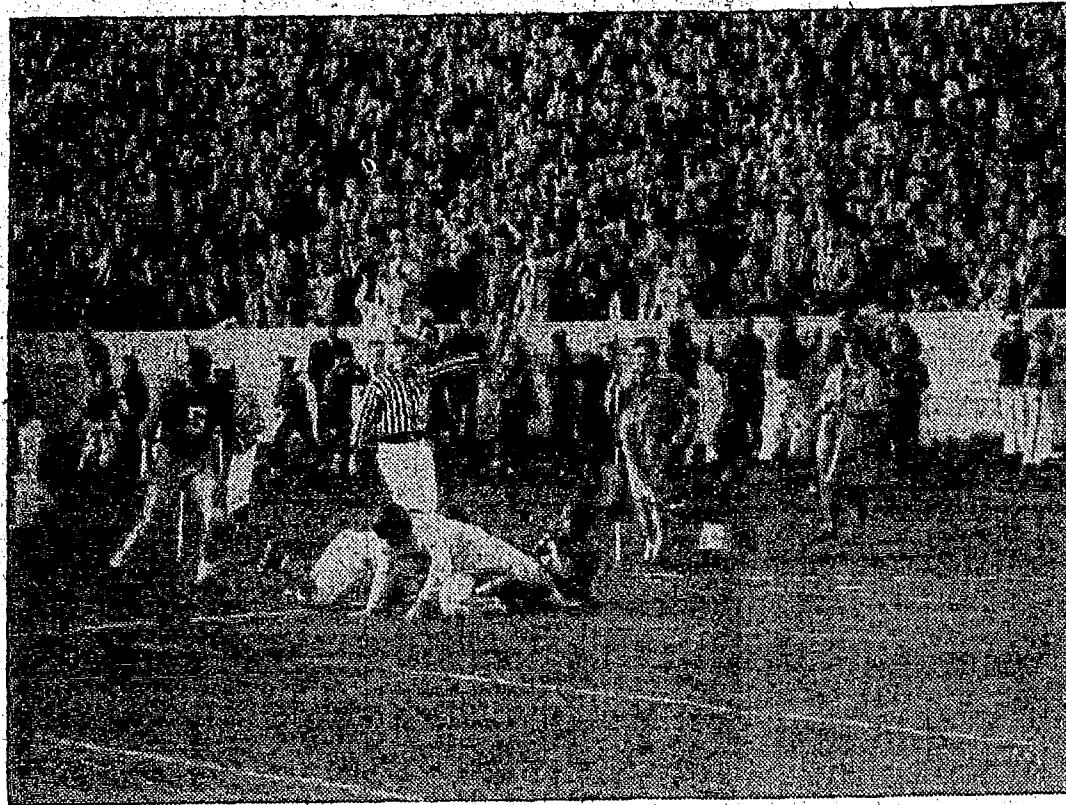

Swimming

Intramural director Leon Greene announced that all those who plan on participating in intramural swimming should begin working out whenever they can find time. A definite date has not been set as yet, but the first week in November has been mentioned in the intramural department. Head swimming coach Eric Kirkland will be at the pool most of the time and will gladly help anyone who wants advice.

Turkey Race

Deadline for entries is Thursday at 4:00 p.m. Sign at intramural office in the Memorial gymnasium.

Why's Everybody Standing Up?

This was what the partisan Idaho stands in the background were waiting for. It wasn't the touchdown they thought but one more play did it. Jerry Diehl (17) has the ball tucked safely in his arms after catching a long pass. WSC's Bob McGuire (20) and an unidentified teammate made the stop. That's Idaho's John Brogan (5) at the left.

Scores Contradict Statistics At Season's Half Way Mark

Statistics really don't mean a & (#) thing. If they did the University of Idaho would have a different record for their 1949 season at the half way mark that they reached in their 35 to 13 loss to Washington State college Saturday.

Winning their first game 79 to 0 against Willamette, the Vandals and their opponents haven't been within less than three touchdowns apart at the final gun all season. While losing the last three games in a row—Oregon 41-0, Texas 56-7, and WSC, the Idaho squad has an edge in the statistics, that is all except in the scoring department, where the enemy has amassed 132 total points to their 99.

In total rushing and passing offense Idaho has gained 1252 yards to their foe's 1081. They have garnered 9 more first downs than the opposition, 56 to 47.

The fumbling department tells another story. The Idahoans have dropped 26 times, and the other team recovered 21 of those drops. Ten times they recovered the opposing eleven's fumbles and caught five of their own.

Perhaps the most outstanding runner the Vandals have is Glen Christian, statistically speaking at least. He has carried the ball 14 times from scrimmage for 168 yards total, or 12 yards per carry. But yardage only counts when it is across a certain line at either end of the field—the opponent's goal.

Thirteen Teams Remain Unbeaten

It would be impossible at this time to pick the top football squad in the nation for there are thirteen major unbeaten teams at this the halfway mark of the 1949 grid campaign.

Schools sporting major football elevens that have gone through their fifth week of football without a defeat or tie include: Notre Dame, Minnesota, Army, California, Kentucky, Cornell, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pittsburgh, Baylor, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Boston University.

Notre Dame toppled previously undefeated Tulane 46-7 in a game that was expected to be somewhat closer. UCLA was knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten by a surprisingly strong Santa Clara eleven, 14-0. Brown absorbed her first setback of the season, bowing to Princeton 27-14, while Southern Methodist lost its perfect state going down before Rice 41-27. Yale, another undefeated squad, dropped a 48-14 verdict to undefeated Cornell.

In other upsets throughout the nation, Wisconsin, suffering a 35-20 loss to California a week earlier, turned back Navy 48-13. Southern California, tied but not defeated, suffered her first loss of the season at the hands of undefeated California, 16-10. The Bears still have to meet UCLA, Oregon and Stanford before the Pacific Coast conference championship is decided.

Minnesota still looms as top prospect for a trip to the Rose Bowl on New Year's day. Michigan was dropped by a surprisingly strong Northwestern eleven 21-0 last Saturday. This weekend Bernie Bierman's Gophers meet twice defeated Michigan in a game that may well decide who will represent the Big Nine at Pasadena on New Year's day.

A 50-hour "Field of Concentration" will replace the present major-minor requirement for students at the University of Nevada.

Vandaleers Make Lewiston Date

Idaho Vandaleers, noted campus vocal group, will make their initial public appearance of the year in a concert at Lewiston Thursday evening, according to Glenn Lockery, faculty director. The trip will be made to Lewiston in University chartered buses Thursday afternoon, returning that evening.

Appearing in the Lewis-Clark Hotel, the choral group will provide the entire entertainment program for the annual banquet of the second district, Idaho Education Association meeting.

This is the second consecutive year the Vandaleers have been a top entertainment feature for the annual three day convention of northern Idaho educators. They will be accompanied by conductor Glenn Lockery and Mrs. Hall M. Macklin, official chaperone.

Lettermen Absent At Cage Turnout

Head University of Idaho basketball coach Charles F. "Cheerful Chuck" Finley cast a gloomy glance at his 1949-50 basketball prospects, this evening as he held first practice for his 16 man squad.

Gone from last year's squad that tied for third place with Oregon in Northern Division play are six stellar players. Pres. Brimhall, who was named to the All-Northern Division first squad at guard the last two years, and gained All-American mention last season graduated and Finley says he has no one to replace him.

Four Leave

Wendell Christenson, who supplied the Vandals cagers with most of their speed last year, has used up his eligibility, and high scoring Jack Rainey decided to graduate last year in lieu of another year of basketball and is now out in the field teaching.

Gerry Gunnels and Stacey Howell revealed their surprise decisions not to return to school this year and Dexter Linck, though in school, recently announced his decision not to turn out for the coming season.

On the profit side of the ledger eight lettermen will bolster Fin-

Frosh Advance

Last year's Vandal frosh squad has produced five prospects who will add much strength to Coach Finley's weakened varsity. They include Stuart Dollinger, Sam Jenkins, Bob White, Joe Miller, and Bill Choules. All were standouts as freshmen last year.

In addition four junior college transfers will be eligible for varsity competition for the 1949-50 season. Ken Barker and Joe Zalesky will furnish plenty of competition for starting spots according to Chuck.

Polonium Poison Found

Studies conducted at the University of California indicate the polonium continuously releases microscopic specks of the metal foil upon which it is plated, carrying alpha particles which can easily be inhaled or swallowed with consequences similar to those of radium poisoning.

Pollard and Boise Junior college flash James Atchison are eligible this season after working out with the squad last year.

The Idaho cage season opens December 1 in Moscow against Eastern Washington and includes a trip during Christmas vacation as far east as Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, for eight games.

Finley's "Cheerful Chuck" Nomer is satirical relative to his attitude as he paints a bleak picture of his team's chances with the loss of so many veterans.
