Living Groups Put Out Welcome Mat For Dad's Arrival

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

The issue of rent control or de-control is not on the agenda of the Moscow City Council for their meeting of November 7th, stated George R. Crane, ASUT representative to the council.

Lifting of rent controls was brought to the council last August by a group of local landlords headed by C. R. Stillinger. This group attempted to prove that there was adequate housing available in the area and therefore, rent control was unnecessary.

Action Postponed
The interests of the university renters, who for the most part were not in Moscow during the summer, was supported by President J. E. Buchanan and Dean H. E. Lattig.

In a statement of August 8, President Buchanan suggested, "Any decision or action on the continuing or discontinuing of rent controls should be postponed for two or three months until the absent teachers and married students are here to represent themselves."

Depending upon which side of the fence one is on, the backers would lead one to believe that the brunt of the rent situation falls either with the renter or the landlord. Without rent controls and in an area without adequate housing, rents could go to proportions beyond the reach of the average student. With rent control the landlord who has a definite rent and no chance to raise it would seem to be the goat.

Issue Clarified
In back of these two situations are the following qualifying statements. Landlords say that competition would keep the prices down. However, with 95 per cent as many married students back this year, it would seem hard to see where this competition would come. Most of the renters are seniors or graduate students who are determined to finish their formal education.

With rent control, the landlord is not up against an absolute stone wall. Under the present regulations it is possible for a landlord to appeal for a readjustment when he feels that his rates do not allow an appreciable return.

Is There Competition?

Since rent control is functioning and adjustments are being made it appears that the availability of housing is the root of the argument. Is there adequate housing to provide fair competition to keep rents down? A glance at the classified sections of the local papers will reveal scarcely a mention of available housing in the area. Basement apartments and garages are still serving as student homes. The university renter has a great interest in the rent issue and should take an active interest in the problem. Any information on the situation will be handled through the Argonaut. Crane has agreed to inform Jason of any inkling of when the situation will be discussed again.

NEW BOOK

Stanley Burnshaw at the Dryden Press has devised a "Dutch door" language textbook with the upper half of the book in the foreign language, giving the lessons; and the lower half of the book containing the vocabulary and notes.

Cast Selected For "Everyman" Shown In Dec.

Tentative cast list for the December 13-14-15 production of "Everyman", 16th century morality play, has been announced by Jean Collette, head of the dramatics department.

Chosen to appear in the John Skot translation of "Everyman" are God, Bruce Tingwall; Death, Bob Bunting; Everyman, Norman Green; Good Fellowship, Kenneth Goldsberry; Goods, Dale Kassel; Knowledge, Janet Robinson; Confession, Sherman Black; Beauty, Bette West; Strength, Morton Grinker; Discretion, Doris Moore; Messenger, Marvin Alexander; and Angel, Colleen Ebbe.

Being Earnest
Meanwhile members of the advanced play production class are in rehearsal for the Oscar Wilde farce, "The Importance of Being Earnest" to be given in the U hut November 15-16-17. Under the student direction of Harry Dalva and Neal Christensen, rehearsals will take place during class periods and in the evening.

Selected for the seven roles of the play are Jack Hoag as John Worthington; Bill Davidson, Algernon Moncreff; Rich Pennell, Rev. Canon Chausable; June Thomas, Lady Bracknell; Marie Hargis, Gwendolen Fairfax; Lois Odberg, Cecily Cardew; and Colleen Christensen, Miss Prism.

Christmas Theme
According to Ronald Kern, technical director, set for the Wilder production will consist mainly of props. For "Everyman" a churchyard set will be made, with an element of Christmas atmosphere. Crews began work for the play in the auditorium last night.

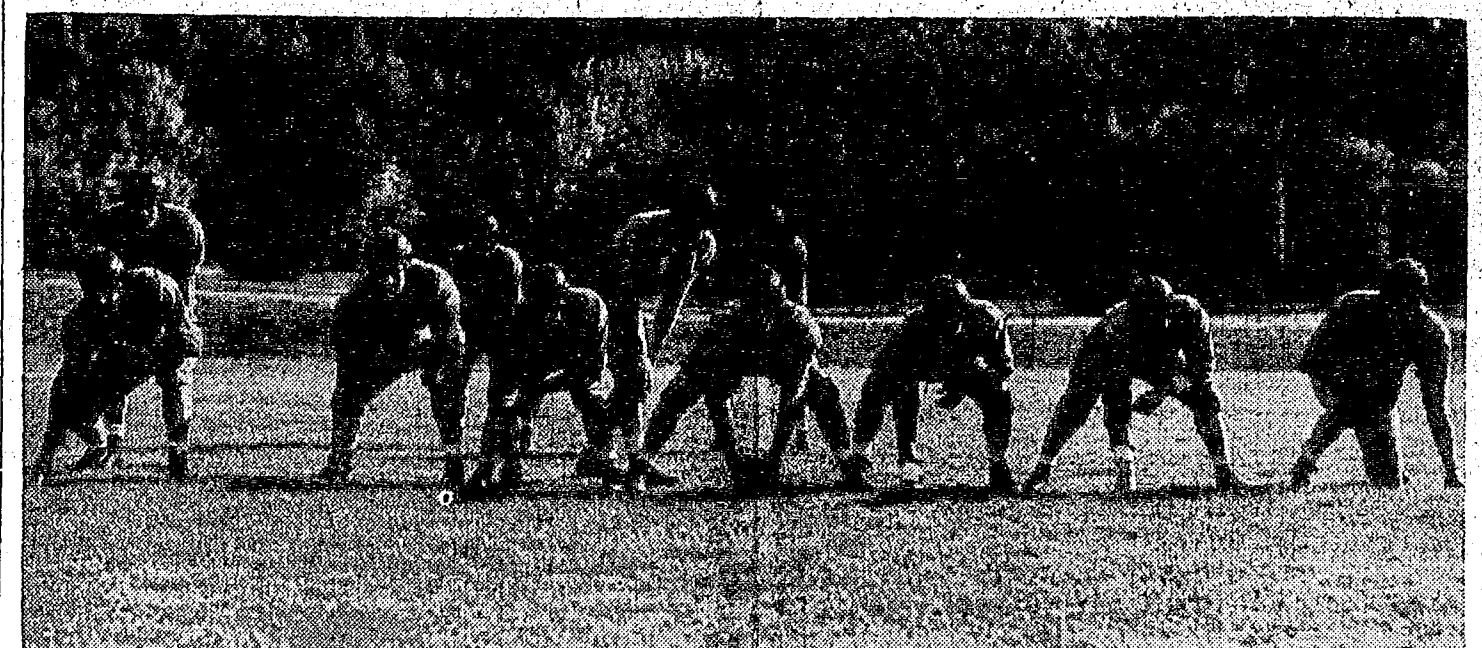

"We hope to have everyone on the crews familiar with props, set, and construction by the end of the year," stated Kern. He added that any student interested in working contact the dramatics department.

Veterans May Lose NSLI Dividends

Some Idaho veterans may find all or part of their share of the forthcoming special dividend payment on National Service Life Insurance deducted because they owe the government money as a result of overpayments on subsistence allowances or other veteran benefits, the Veterans Administration reports.

All of the veterans concerned are aware of their indebtedness to the government and know that it is deductible from other VA payments to which they may be entitled, the VA said. A considerable number of veterans are now repaying indebtedness by having deductions from their monthly checks. When the overpayment is wiped out, as it may be by the dividend deductions, there will be no further monthly withholding.

Six From Starting Idaho Lineup Will Be Playing Their Last Home Game

When the Vandals meet Oregon State in Neale stadium tomorrow six of their starting lineup will be one game from winding up their collegiate football careers. It will be their last home game as they finish the season next week in California against Stanford. Left to right are Rich LeDuc, right end; Jerry Diehl, right half; Carl Killsgaard, right tackle; King Block, fullback; Wilbur Ruleman, right

Each Student Asked To Give Dollar In Drive For Funds

One dollar from each student enrolled in the university is the goal of the "Campus Chest" fund drive which will be held November 8 to 12, according to an announcement made today by Preston Brimhall, drive chairman.

All funds collected will be turned into the Graduate Manager's office from where it will be distributed to some 20 youth, health, and charity organizations, according to need. All these organizations have agreed to combine their individual drives into one large one, and students are asked to donate their dollar with the view in mind that this is the only time during the year that they will be asked to give.

Appointments
Committee appointments, announced by Brimhall, include Orval Hansen, over-all solicitation chairman; Tom Rigby, men's Independent halls; Bob Pond, fraternities; Eleanor Strange, women's Independent halls; and Shirley Gregory, sororities. Ray Rigby will be in charge of the drive in West 6th Vet's village. Publicity chairman is Allen Derr.

Each of the committee members will appoint one person in each living group who will handle the actual collecting in their area. These appointees will be requested to make a barometer for their house or hall on which can be recorded the progress of the drive there. A large barometer will be located in the Administration building to record the daily, overall, progress of the fund raising campaign on the campus.

Plans Completed
At a meeting of all committee members last night final plans were made for the drive and Brimhall announces everything in readiness for Tuesday and the opening of the five day campaign. The $3,500 collected in this drive, if everyone cooperates, can accomplish a great deal.

We Greet You, Dads!!

Hi, Dad!

Glad to see you!

Preparations have been made for your entertainment for several weeks, so we hope you'll find everything to your liking. You're the theme of this weekend—just look around and you'll see "Welcome, Dad," on every front door and pictures of you at the football game and tomorrow's dance.

Don't forget to register, because if you're from Alaska or Georgia, chances are you'll win a trophy for the living group where your son or daughter lives.

Starting time for the game tomorrow is 2 p. m. That's when Idaho will "Deflate Oregon State."

And Saturday night you won't want to miss the all-campus dance in your honor. Don Hannah's orchestra will play, and during intermission awards will be presented for "the most welcome doorman," the most fathers, and the father coming the greatest distance.

It's your weekend, Dad, so have fun!

Culberston Elected APO President

Bob Culberston was elected president of Alpha Phi Omega, national service honorary, at a meeting last Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected were John Evans, vice-president; Cecil Fleck, recording secretary; Don Willis, corresponding secretary; Bill Stemple, treasurer; and Him Schutt, historian.

Plans are being made to send six or eight delegates to the northwest regional meeting in Seattle, November 11, 12, and 13.

No Friday Classes

Classes will be dismissed next Friday afternoon to enable students to participate in a crippled children's benefit game sponsored by the Elks.

The proceeds of the football game held on Armistice day will go to the crippled children's hospital in Boise to help offset the increase in costs caused by the many cases of polio.

SHOOT

ROTC members compete in target shooting in the NRA Rifle team.

Executive Board Approves Revisions In Publications Section Of By-Laws

$1100 In Prizes To Be Awarded College Writers

The fourth annual college writers' short story contest has been announced by "Tomorrow" magazine. First prize is $500; second, $300, and third, $200. Manuscripts will be judged by the editors of "Tomorrow" and the editors of "Creative Age Press."

Prize-winning stories will be published in the spring and summer of 1950. All other manuscripts will be considered for publication as regular contributions and paid for at regular rates.

No Blanks Needed

The contest is open to anyone taking at least one course in any college in the United States. Any number of manuscripts may be submitted by a single student, but no manuscript should exceed 5000 words. No application blanks are necessary.

Each entry must be marked "College Contest" and bear the writer's name, home address, and the name and address of the college he is attending. They should be addressed to College Contest, Tomorrow Magazine, 11 East 44th Street, New York 17, N. Y. All entries must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The deadline is January 15, 1950.

Three major changes in the publications section of the ASUT by-laws were approved Wednesday night by the Executive Board. Both changes were proposed by the Publications board delegates.

Two changes in the general makeup of the board were included in the changes. The new clause states that a faculty member appointed by university president be a member of the board. Previously the head of the journalism department was on the board.

Martin Named

An election of a general coordinator to handle the work of the board and assemble material for group meetings will become a part of the new change. John Martin, Argonaut editor, was selected as the first person to fill this post.

With these changes the board hopes to be able to be of more service to all campus publications and provide a coordinating board for their problems.

Staff Changed

With the exclusion of advertising from the yearbook, publications board members presented a plan to eliminate the position of business manager and create an additional associate editor. Under this plan the technical and editorial sections of the Gem would each be headed by an associate editor. Proponents of the plan pointed out that this would give the editor more time to direct and supervise all work.

Largest Dad's Day Crowd Expected To Fill Stadium

With a "continued fair weather" weather forecast and an increasingly large number of tickets to Saturday's game sold, Dad's Day committee members, headed by Allen Petrie, look forward to one of Idaho's most successful Dad's Day celebrations.

Queen Will Present Gifts To Idaho Hikers

At 12:30 this afternoon Bob Moulton and John Martin, student body president and Argonaut editor respectively, will hit the road for Pullman. These two will be paying off a wager made with the student body president and editor of Washington State college on the outcome of the Idaho-WSC football game earlier this fall.

A large delegation of well wishers are expected to be on hand when the pair leave the Ad building following a send-off rally. During the rally gifts from the merchants of Moscow and Pullman will be given the walkers by the 1949 Idaho Homecoming queen, Bea Helander.

Barring unforeseen circumstances the two men expect to arrive in Pullman shortly before the halftime of the Idaho-WSC frosh game. A delegation of WSC students will be on hand to greet the Idaho men when they arrive on the field.

Included with the ending of the hike will be the introduction of the WSC Harvest Ball queen candidates. Following the game, the Idaho walkers will be guests at a dinner in the WSC golf clubhouse.

Dean Janssen Leaves For Relief Seminar

Dean Allen Janssen of the engineering department left today to attend the 4th Naval Civil engineering corporation disaster relief seminar at the Naval construction Battalion center in Port Hueneme, California. The seminar will be held from November 6 to November 20.

The program will consist of speaker from UCLA, the University of California, and California Institute of Technology. Among the naval speakers will be personnel from the radiological safety school at Treasure Island. Recent developments in advance base construction and disaster relief plans will be discussed.

Variety Of Entertainment

During half-time, entertainment will consist of card tricks, performance by the university band, and skits to be presented to the accompaniment of the band. New types of card tricks include a moving section, with smoke and a pitcher of beer; word writing; and multiple colors.

Burt Humphrey, chairman, requests that students planning to sit in this section wear white blouses and sweaters and urge a large turn-out, to make possible a more spectacular showing. The section of moving cards will be roped off and will consist of members of the Beta, Kappa, Phi Delta and Alpha Chi houses.

Pershing Rifles will parade, as will the university band under the direction of Kermit Hosch. Spurs and IK's will usher for the game. Goal post decorations will be done by Alpha Phi Omega, service honorary, as well as bleacher arrangements and the distributing and collecting of cards.

Present Awards
Participants in the skits are Larry McHan, John Widner, Don Mitchell, Cecil Link, Jo Magee, Barbara Livingston, Eloise Pate, Dorothy Kirby, Bruce Sweeney, John Telling, Bob Beesley, and John Bergeson.

Chuck Williams will be sideline spotter during the skits. Awards will be announced during half-time, cups to be presented during intermission of the game. Three trophies will be awarded to the living groups having the most welcome doorman, the largest number of fathers registered, and the father coming the greatest distance.

Doorman Rules

House decorations, according to Bob Finlayson, awards chairman, must be completed by 11 a. m. Saturday. Expense is limited to $10. Judging will be based on originality and sincerity.

Open house will be held by the living groups immediately after the game. The orchestra of Don Hannah will play for the all-campus dance tomorrow evening. Decorations, around the theme of Dad's Day, will feature caricatures of dad. Dress will be informal and admission will be $1.50, except for fathers, who will be admitted at the door for $.75. Dance chairman is Orval Hansen.

Training Unit Sought By Marine League

The Palouse Detachment of the Marine Corps league will meet this Thursday evening at 7:30 in the O.R.C. building on south main. A discussion will be held concerning the possibility of forming a reserve training unit in this area. All league members are urged to attend this first organized meeting of the fall season.

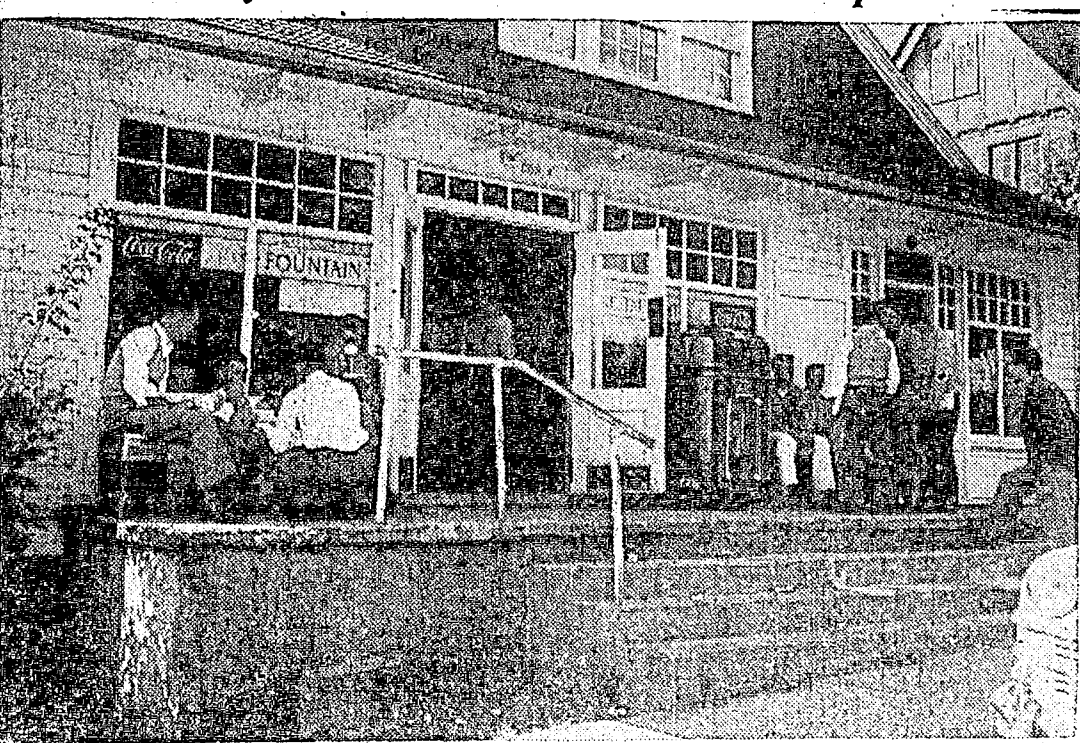

All ex-marines are welcome to the meeting and are invited to join. Regular meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

BROADCAST

The freshman game this afternoon at Rogers field between the Vandal Babes and the Couababes will be broadcast by KRPL, Moscow, at 2:30 p.m.

A total of 17 stations will carry the Varsity game between Idaho and OSC Saturday afternoon. Ten of these stations are in Oregon, five in Idaho and one in Washington. Game time was announced as being at 2:00 p.m. It may be heard locally over KRPL and KUOL.

May In November At Idaho Campus

Even the most optimistic of Moscow weather predictors would have hesitated a month ago to say that students would be sitting on the sidewalks drinking coffee yesterday. With temperatures rising in the high sixties, most students are finding ample time for the outdoors.

Exam Question Grows

A conscientious reporter, a scrap of news, an errant editor—net result: dynamite. That is what happened on the Argonaut nearly two weeks ago. Since that time, little peace has been found in the confines of the Arg office.

An article appeared in the University Staff Newsletter stating that Dean H. E. Lattig had presented a plan for the combining of senior examinations with regular exams. The reporter, trying to give the students the news, rewrote the information and in the haste of meeting a deadline the significance of the information was not captured by the editors.

When the article appeared in the paper the next day, student opinion started to work. Having little to work with except what they read, the earnest students culminated the story into many forms for which it was not intended.

Hoping to give the full picture, both sides of the picture were given space to present their views. This seems to have done little but to gain followers for both sides.

Distorted information has reached the ears of opponents and defendants of the proposed plan. An open meeting with representatives of both sides on hand to discuss the problem would undoubtedly be a great aid in reaching a satisfactory understanding. J.E.M.

Treat Him Like He Does You!

Tomorrow is distinguished visitors day, or as we on the Idaho campus know it—Dad's Day. There is probably no other time during the school year that we shall receive guests as distinguished as those that will be present tomorrow.

"Distinguished?" we say. "Why, Dad's just coming down and I see him quite often." True and granted we do see him quite often, but how often do we appreciate him? How many of us realize that if it weren't for that grand old fellow with the tinge of gray in his hair, we might have starved long ago? Without him many of us would not have the opportunity of education. Yes, without him we would not even be entered in the birth register.

If we extend our hands in greeting instead of grasping for alms, it will be a much more pleasant weekend for our distinguished visitors—our Dads. B.J.

Do Elections Interest You?

Next week, Wednesday to be exact, we will make our "voyage" to the ASUI election booths to vote for our favorite class candidates.

Have you noticed the election signs around the campus boosting the candidates for each party? Do you know the qualifications of any of these candidates, if any are existent? Are they important enough to consider to cast your vote for them?

At the end of that last question, you ask yourself, "What do I care? It ain't a big thing!"

Have you ever looked at this situation in this light? The students who are elected to class offices this year are potential leaders of the student body. Examine the members of the Executive Board, the ASUI president, the heads of the various committees appointed by the Executive Board; you will find many of these people have been class officers in the past.

The object of this short article is not to preach to anyone, but to try to get EVERY student out to vote, no matter whom you vote for.

Why vote straight party lines if you think there is a better person offered by the opposing party? Voting straight tickets shows a person to be narrow minded and lazy. I challenge any person to show me where in any election one party had all the best qualified candidates!

Think it over! Go to the polls next Wednesday and vote for the candidate of your choice, BUT BE SURE TO GO AND VOTE! B.H.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:

We are unfamiliar with the duties of the Academic Council and their methods of legislation. We do know, however, that the results of such legislation should be advantageous to everyone concerned, including the student. Apparently the student's welfare wasn't given ample consideration in the recent issue on senior exams. Therefore, we feel that further legislation would be desirable, providing the student with a voice in determining the final outcome. The students, not the faculty or Academic Council members, are graduating. They have given four years of hard work for the privilege of receiving a diploma and a degree at graduation. If they dislike the method recently installed, why not change to one which they do like. The recent solution is definitely not the best or there would not be such strong student disapproval. Why not let a democracy be a democracy and give the students, who are most affected, a vote in the final ballot? Surely the Academic Council will grant this?

SAEs Will Select Frosh Queen

Unannounced Candidates Are 'Snuck' Into Election Fray

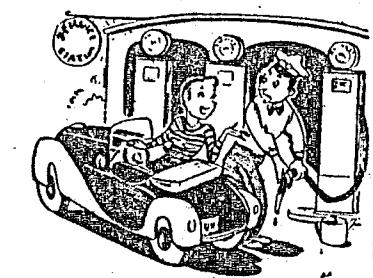

At an indefinite time within the last few days, two relatively insignificant candidates threw their empty fifths into the already crowded class election rings. Their campaign promises are rather vague but the main idea seems to be that they will do even less than class officers have done in the past.

They claim to be backed by SIGMA IOTA MU, the society of insignificant men. . . latest word from that source, however, indicates that they were supported for office merely to eliminate them from the group. S. I. M., as you know, is the one honorary on the campus which not only stands for nothing but does not profess to stand for anything. . . a society not for the outstanding man or the common man, but for the indifferent and forgotten man.

 The candidates half-heartedly promise that if elected they will be experts on putting on Junior week and Senior week, as they believe their abilities to be even lower than those of past officers. They are both in favor of the proposed commencement plan as they have long anticipated receiving a blank diploma, if anything, upon graduation. They expect to receive a good deal of support on this stand from all other students having a cumulative grade average of .0002.

Joe Mediocre and Elmo Phlugg are the erstwhile seekers of office. . . Mediocre is the only nongraduate on the campus with over two hundred credit hours, while Phlugg has undisputed title of being the only 13th semester sophomore. Phlugg has a number of supporters, having been an outstanding athlete in grammar school, and he has continued to make friends ever since. Mediocre is also very poorly qualified, as he has distinguished himself in absolutely nothing. They are both nice people. Everyone thinks they're nice, although a few refuse to admit that they might be people.

Headquarters?
 Further plans have not been thoroughly digested as yet. If anyone knows the date of the election, will they please inform these candidates at their campaign headquarters, the location of which has not been designated. In adjournment as was pointed out that they will not be eligible for running on a ticket but will be write-in candidates. For those supporters who cannot read, merely fill in the probable scores of twenty of the next weekend's intramural shuffleboard matches on a Fatima package.

Vets Are Refused Recreational Ed

Avocational and recreational schools have been banned to the vet by a recent law passed by the 81st congress.

The new procedures made necessary by the passage of Public Law 266 have been announced by the Veterans' Administration. These new procedures will go into effect November 1, 1949. No veteran will get permission to enroll at a school that has not been in existence for at least one year.

The procedures will affect vets who have had GI bill training, and who want additional training and those planning to apply for original or supplementary certificates of eligibility. After November 1st, a vet who has completed a course or discontinued a course will be required to undergo advisement and guidance before a certificate of eligibility will be issued. The vet must list on his application the name of the school he wishes to attend, and after he has received his certificate it is good only for the school and course specified.

WHY DOESN'T SOMEBODY STOP THOSE GUYS?

Dear Jason

November 2, 1949

Dear Jason:

For more than three years we have been attending this University and so far we have been as meek and mild as little lambs. This is our first letter to the editor, but now we feel that we have a legitimate gripe and one which makes our mild blood boil; namely the new order in senior tests. We would like to reply to the Administration's statement of November 1 concerning this plan.

As for the disconcerted juniors are they so short sighted that they cannot see that the following year they will be seniors and have the same privileges? However, it has been our humble experience that we have never heard a complaint from a junior or even a sophomore.

As for embarrassed "non-graduates," which is worse, knowing you won't graduate before you are supposed to graduate or knowing you didn't graduate after you have graduated?

We also believe, at this late date, that we have matured sufficiently to face the fact that if we haven't earned the diploma we won't get it.

We also grant that the faculty has a certain amount of confusion to contend with the last week of school but which is better—a faculty confused for a week or 800 graduates confused for a month? What a way to start our careers as the nation's future executives!

If a diploma is worth no more than a sham commencement then let's skip the whole farce and use the much needed time for packing.

Two June 5th graduates (we hope)

senior and regular final examinations:

We have no desire to finish our senior exams the afternoon before Commencement, in spite of difficulties incurred by the faculty and Registrar's office in fulfillment of their duties to the students.

We have no desire to dictate to the authorities of the University. We feel, however, that the week between senior finals and Commencement is an indispensable right that we have earned.

We sincerely hope that the plan will be retracted, thus earning the gratitude of the seniors of '50 and of future years. We have signed a petition to this effect and, if necessary, will present it to President Buchanan.

In hope that the administration will realize the serious concern that this plan has aroused we remain,

Dad's Day Decorating Fills Living Groups Time

Preparations are under way in all living groups for banquets and door decorations honoring "Our Dads."

"Penitentiary France" was the theme chosen for a dance honoring the pledges of Delta Tau Delta.

Delta Tau Delta "Penitentiary France" was the theme of a novel pledge dance given Saturday night by Delta Tau. Jail bars, spotlights, scaffold, and reward posters gave the house an unique atmosphere. Patrons and patronesses for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Gustafson and Capt. and Mrs. Underdahl. Russ Viehweg and Bob Wheeler were general chairmen and Bryan Lawrence and Al Huggins were in charge of decorations.

Delta Gamma Elizabeth Wilcox was recently elected president of the pledge class and Nancy Weitz was elected social chairman.

Beverly Diamond is in charge of the plans in the house for the Dad's Day entertainment.

Tau Kappa Epsilon The pledge dance will be held Saturday evening at the chapter house. According to Gerald Goedecke, general chairman, the decorations will be centered around the theme of a medieval castle. Stained glass windows, knights in armor and shields will be the central decorations.

One of the main features of the evening will be a page costumed in medieval clothing who will announce each couple as they arrive. Chaperones for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sargent. Dr. and Mrs. Botsford were dinner guests Wednesday.

Hays Hall An exchange dinner was held Wednesday evening with Willis Sweet hall. Mrs. Alice Grosvenor was a dinner guest at the affair.

Fake Front Going On - Out Over 2000 Years Ago

What makes Hollywood glamour girls think that they discover all those things which go to make a figure much more pleasing? In one department they are almost 2,000 years behind.

Fake fronts, according to Paul Bernman, a Hollywood "behind the scenes" man, have been going on, or out, for thousands of years. Even the cavewoman stuffed an extra hunk of fur inside her prehistoric garb.

Falsies were as common in Cleopatra's day as they are today. In those days they were called breast plates, but all they were, were tin falsies. They were made in different sizes and shapes but were always larger than what was underneath.

In the Victorian days, the ladies used muslin and cotton filling inside their long corsets to build their figures up in the right spots.

The women of the early '20s decided to call everything off and flaunted chests which had as much appeal as a silk covered washboard. The swing started back in the 1930's and before anyone thought of manufacturing a falsie, the girls were stuffing their lingerie with sox or rolls of cotton or wool.

Beautiful Leaves Can Be Helpful Or A Bother

Leaves are a charming sort of thing. They don't hang around all year like an unwanted boy friend nor do they muscle their way into show houses like some oysters I've known. But rather they fall gracefully—and without much ado—to snooze the winter out among their brothers.

Leaves have their moments. They cover surveyors markers and hide the familiar campus paths from view. They fall in co-eds' hair and bob along like little bonfires. They lead, in short, a varied though somewhat meteoric existence.

The tragedy is that they are rarely noticed until they have gone the way of all leaves—downward. Admitted a few aspiring leaves will sometimes deck themselves in vivid array and capture for the moment the eye of the student, but in general they are simply here today and gone tomorrow.

Do they miss the birds eye view they command all spring and summer or are they content to be nomadic? Ask any little leaf.

Deadline Involves Disabled Veterans

World War II veterans with service-incurred disabilities are reminded by Veterans Administration of an important deadline in connection with their entitlement to National Service Life Insurance.

Prior to January 1, 1950, such disabilities actually incurred in service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945, if less than total in degree, are disregarded in determining eligibility under the health requirements for NSLI purposes.

This means that veterans who might not otherwise qualify for life insurance for health reasons may reinstate lapsed NSLI or buy new or additional insurance up to the $10,000 maximum if they apply before the end of the year.

A physical examination is required for all insurance applied for under this special provision. Such examinations are made by the VA without cost to the veteran.

Aristotle was a Greek philosopher who taught Alexander the Great how to roll his eyes, among other things.

Kinsey Reports

The average height of a pig (family: suis) is about 38 inches. The average height of a cow (family: bovine) is about 49 inches. Both have four legs and neither bothers men. But these things running around the campus average about 65 inches in height, have only two legs, and bother men something terrible! Therefore they definitely are not either cows or pigs. What are they then? Russ Moffett says maybe they're snakes (family: reptile).

Poor crops and floods in the coffee belt have caused reports that the price of coffee may rise to nearly a buck a pound. It looks like coffee (as well as the Nest and Perch) will follow nickle beer into memories of the "dear, dead days beyond recall."

College graduates are failing to reproduce themselves! If any class of people wants to reproduce itself, it must have an average of 2.1 children per couple. And some incomplete statistics indicate that American college graduates are having only about 1.68 children per couple!

Women graduates of the 1924 class of one university which seems nearly typical, had an average of 1.39 children; and the men of the same class did only slightly better with an average of 1.81.

Brigham Young University graduates of the same year made a noble contribution toward correcting these disgraceful percentages. The women graduates produced an average of 3.47 children each and the men 2.45 children.

Other data indicates that the average non-college woman would have 2.45 children. If she went to school for four years only, she'd have 4.33 children. The old A.B. degree seems to stand for "Abolish Brats."

Members of a British survey in the Falkland Antarctic region decided to cut down on drinking when it became apparent that they were on the way to becoming chronics. Now drinking is restricted to Saturday nights (and afternoons), birthdays, half-birthdays, holidays, and other special occasions such as Midwinter's or Arbor Day.

Nine out of ten United States university coeds are good-looking. The tenth one goes to Idaho.

Beards for Dad's Day are few and far between this year. We think that is a very definite sign of maturation of the elementary mental processes.

Nampa Follows Moscow Lead

One more Idaho community has realized the advantages and necessity of a full-time recreation program and is following the lead taken by Moscow in providing an extensive recreation program for its citizens.

Wendell Christensen, 27, Moscow, has been hired as full-time recreation director for Nampa. Alex Hunter, chairman of the newly organized Nampa recreation commission, told the Associated Press today.

Christensen, who has been aiding Carl Munson with the Moscow program, graduated from the university here last June. He was an active member of the Vandal basketball teams during his college career. His wife, Doris, will assist him in the arts and crafts division of the Nampa program. She has been attending the university.

Christensen is a native of Salt Lake City and was graduated from the high school there. He is Nampa's first full time recreation director and is the third Idaho graduate to hold such a position in Idaho. Munson is director of the Moscow program and Robert Hawthorn, an Idaho graduate of 1948, is director at Weiser. Several other communities are considering the recreation plan started by Moscow.

More Hunters In The Wilds

Fishing and hunting continue to draw more interest among Idahoans and residents of other states, the fish and game department reported today. License sales have shown a steady climb this year, and have jumped into a 9,323 gain over last year at this time, Fay Whitson, license clerk, revealed.

Game tag sales are up from 38,428 last year to 40,309 at the end of October this year.

Dad's Day Traditions End; Many Football Wins In Past

By JEROME KINSEY

The 1949 Dad's Day breaks the old tradition of growing beards to impress the dads with the manliness of their sons and also will mark the first time there has not been a Sadie Hawkins Race. In years gone by, Idaho's loveliest coeds would train for the big race, and, during the half of the football game, would chase after the Idaho men just as if they really were after a prize catch like Li'l Abner.

Besides seeing a good race, the spectators also got an occasional glimpse of Lena the Hyena from Lower Slobovia, the Scrags and some other residents of Dogpatch, including Marryin' Sam who never missed a chance to perform a two dollar, or sometimes the special $3.75 wedding.

Faculty Members Art Is On Display

Paintings by Miss Mary Kirkwood, acting head of the art department, Miss Marian Featherstone of the Home Economics department, and Alfred Dunn, member of the art department, will be included in the art exhibit beginning today, under the sponsorship of the Boise Art Museum. The exhibit consists of 26 paintings selected from the last annual exhibit held in Boise. Each of the above university representatives has two works in the group.

Display will be made in the university art building today through Thursday. Building hours are 8 to 5 daily, 2 to 5 Sunday.

Costume, Design Home Ec. Subject

Costume and design will be the theme of the Home Economics meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the home economics department, under the direction of Barbara Kitchens. It will consist of Hattie Carnegie, Dior and Adrian designs.

Those participating in the program will be Bonnie Scott, Patsy Albertson, and Arlene Talbot. Betty Lee Trout and Rose Ellen Schmid have been elected by the club to attend the Providence Work Shop in Bozeman, Montana, on November 11 and 12.

In the West Indies, glow worms are confined in lanterns to light homes.

STUDENT WINS 4TH PRIZE

Norman Stanley Johnson, senior majoring in mechanical engineering, won fourth prize for his paper on photoelasticity, which was read at the Pacific Northwest student conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held in Seattle May 5 to 7.

Airmen Now

Twenty-Seven Join USAFR

Twenty-seven Idaho students joined the Inland Empire air force reserve unit last Saturday at the Spokane army air force base and thus inaugurated a two-weeks training for the reservists.

The students came to the base as one group to enlist in the 454th Bomb Group, reserve.

Maj. Robert Benesh, director of the reserve training program at the base, said that the enlistments will give the 454th over 60 per cent of its authorized number of enlisted men and will qualify the bomb group for four days pay each month. Members only received two days pay up to, this time.

Major Benesh said Capt. Chester McMullen of Moscow, was primarily responsible for the enlistments. He added that about 100 vacancies still exist in the air reserve. Any man who is over 17 years old, regardless of previous service is eligible to join.

University of Idaho men who are joining the air reserves are:

Don C. Smith, Omaha, Neb.; R. Pflif, Milwaukee, Wis.; Wendell A. Higgins, Hagerman, Ida.; Charles Swain, Johnson City, Tenn.; Warren Peterson, Bonners Ferry, Ida.; Robert Uhrig, Midvale, Ida.; Clayton Harnsworth, Moscow, Ida.; Clyde Gochnour, Burley, Ida.; William M. Scouts Called To Be Ushers

A call was issued today to all Boy Scouts in Latah county, including those at Pottlatch, Troy, Deary and Genesee, to serve as ushers at the Idaho-Oregon State football game at Neale stadium Saturday afternoon.

Scouts, wearing uniforms if possible, should report to the main gate at the stadium between noon and 12:30 p.m., V. S. Casebolt, local scout official said.

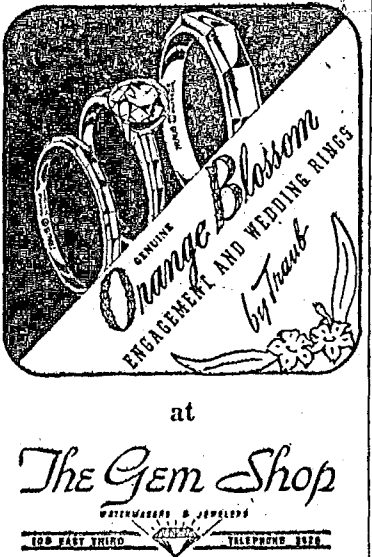

Having Boy Scouts as ushers at all home games was originated several years ago at the university and has proven "very satisfactory," Casebolt said. An invitation is given to Scouts at Genesee, although they are not included in this council, to take part as they are representatives of Latah county.

New Potato Tested

Tests of the Yampa, a new kind of potato, will be made next season to determine its adaptability to Idaho conditions, Robert Felkey, potato specialist of the University of Idaho, said today.

He said the Yampa is a disease-resistant potato, developed and introduced by the U.S. department of agriculture and the Colorado experiment station after nine years of breeding and selection.

Ag School Need Not Apologize For Nationally-Known Alums

By ORVAL HANSEN

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of eight articles on some of the outstanding graduates from the eight schools and colleges in the university. This first article deals with graduates of the college of agriculture.)

The college of agriculture need not apologize for its graduates. Their achievements in the field of agriculture as well as other fields reflects much credit on their alma mater as well as the college of agriculture.

One grad who has gained national prominence in the dairy field is R. E. Everly who received his sheepskin in 1924. As manager of Carnation Milk farms in Western Washington he established several world production records. He is at present manager and operator of Everly Livestock Exporting company in Seattle.

Julius Nordby took a B.S. in animal husbandry in 1915 and then went to the University of Illinois on a scholarship where he received a master's degree the following year. He later began the cattle feeding program at the Caldwell branch experiment station. He has since become director of the United States' sheep breeding station at Dubois, Idaho, where his work has won him nationwide acclaim and marked him as a leader in his field.

Among those who walked down the aisle to graduate with the class of 1924 was John Kemsberg, present member of the University Board of Regents. He has done outstanding work in the development of chemical weed control agents and as a farmer in the Minidoka area.

Dr. A. O. Shaw, head of the department of dairy husbandry at the State College of Washington were the cap and gown at Idaho in 1933 after which he received a Ph. D. at Pennsylvania State college. Before coming west Dr. Shaw served as head of the department of animal industry at North Carolina State college and the university of Maine.

Leon B. Taylor left Idaho in 1921 with a degree in animal husbandry. He has since served with the Idaho department of agriculture and held many important war time posts in the United States Department of Agriculture. At present he is working as chief liaison officer between the USDA and other government agencies in all matters concerning the European Recovery Program.

Graduate Student Research Grant

An award and a grant of $100 each will be won by graduate students in some Northwest college or university, according to an announcement by the Northwest Scientific association.

The award of $100 will be made to the graduate student who presents at the 1949 meeting (December 27-28) the paper judged by the trustees to be the most valuable to the advancement of science in this region.

The research grant of $100 will be made to assist research underway in any one of eight scientific fields represented by sections of the association.

Applications for the grant must be filed with H. T. Gisborne, chairman of the Board of Trustees, Northwest Scientific association, U.S. Forest service, Missoula, before December 1, 1949. The application must describe the purpose, plan and status of the research, and the exact use to be made of the $100 if granted.

The University of Washington's thirty year old dream of a new student union was finally realized this week amid varied comments ranging from "do Romeo and Juliet from the plush balcony" to playing basketball in the huge activity room. The entire structure has been designed along ultra-modern lines with extreme color schemes.

Idaho Vandals To Clash With Orangemen Here; Babes At WSC Today

Crippled Vandals To Meet Beavers For 22nd Time

The injury-riddled University of Idaho Vandals may have a real dark horse ready to go Saturday afternoon in Neale stadium when they square away with the Oregon State Beavers in a Pacific Coast Conference gridiron clash.

Little has been heard all season of Jim Hatch, senior three-year letterman from Coeur d'Alene, Hatch, in fact, had not even carried the ball until the Montana game two weeks ago. In ten efforts during that contest he netted 77 yards, as compared with 25 tries in the 1948 season for a total gain of 53 yards.

There were those who thought perhaps Hatch was lucky against Montana, but those who actually saw him against the Grizzlies failed to perceive anything but good hard running. The doubters waited for the Portland game last Saturday. Then they began to believe that maybe Coach Dixie Howell had something up his sleeve.

Hatch runs 71 yards. It is true that he gained most of that yardage in one jaunt, that of 71 yards for a touchdown, but TDs have never been known to hurt any team.

So perhaps tomorrow Hatch, the 200 pound, five-foot, ten-inch speedster from Coeur d'Alene, may be Idaho's single hope. Injuries to Vandal ball packers may see Hatch alternate at one, or all four backfield posts. He will start at right halfback, then may be shifted to the fullback or left half post. There isn't any doubt among his teammates that he will be able to do the job.

Collegiate football will make its final appearance in Vandalville tomorrow when the Vandals and Beavers meet for the 22nd time. Approximately 15,000 Dad's Day fans are expected to witness the game.

Both Teams Low. Both the Beavers and Vandals have enjoyed mediocre success to date this season. Oregon State boasts a record of four wins and three losses, while Idaho's ledger shows three victories and as many defeats.

The Corvallis Orangemen hold wins over Utah, Washington, Montana and W. S. C. Idaho began the current campaign with a resounding 79-0 triumph over Willamette, followed up with successive losses to Oregon, Texas and Washington State, and breezed through the next two weekends with decisive victories over Montana and Portland.

Barring last-minute injuries, Coach Kip Taylor's Beavers will be at full strength when they make their appearance tomorrow afternoon. Halfback Ken Carpenter has been enjoying one of his best seasons, and in the Washington State game alone piled up a total of 208 yards, 185 of them from scrimmage and 21 through the air. In addition, OSC will make full use of the services of Fullback Dick Twenge, one of the hardest hitting backs on the coast, and Right End Stan McGuire, who besides performing wingman duties has booted 18 consecutive conversion attempts without a miss.

Vandals Injured. Prospects for a full roster in Coach Dixie Howell's ballclub at Idaho are not so favorable. The Vandals may be forced to locomote minus several of their better backs. Fullback Jim Chadband, who received a broken wrist bone against Montana two weeks ago, will definitely watch the game from the bench. On the extremely doubtful list is Halfback Glen Christian. Christian last appeared in uniform against WSC, at which time he galloped 78 yards for one of Idaho's two touchdowns. The following week he hurt his hip in practice.

Howell's backfield mainstay, John Brogan, has been missing from practice since the Portland game because of a wrenched shoulder. Fullback King Block has been confined to his bed for the past week with a twisted shoulder, and End Bill Mullins is nursing a foot injury.

Vandal tacklers Carl Killsgaard and Wil Overgaard are functioning as tackles should, but their immediate replacements, Marv Beguhl and Max Herrington, are in dubious playing condition.

Says Howell: "I hate even to think of them . . . We certainly haven't had any scrimmage lessons this week against Oregon State plays . . . There just haven't been enough players in suit to make a scrimmage session possible."

With the possible exception of Jim Hatch, only the weatherman, who has promised a warm and sunny afternoon, can give Idaho supporters cause to smile.

Time Out

By COSTELLO

We all know what hot shots to look for on the Idaho squad tomorrow. What about Oregon State? Who are the thriller-diller boys in the Orange suits? Number one threat according to newspapers and gossip is Ken Carpenter. His 492 yards in 84 times totting the ball give him an average of 5.8 yards per carry. That is enough to make him third best ground gainer on the coast. He is fifth in total offense and fifth ranking punter.

Another big gun is Dick Gray who has received ten punts and run them back for a total of 191 yards. That makes him number two on the coast in this category.

Bill Sheffield has intercepted six passes for a gain of 129 yards which leaves him second best on the coast on interception statistics.

Then there's the "too," Stan McGuire. He has made 20 of the 22 tries for extra point . . .

London, Idaho

Here are a couple of classics from the Coeur d'Alene Press. One of its datelines the other day read "University of Idaho, London." A football prognosticator pen named "Major Hoople" in the same paper chose USC to beat Stanford 133 to 10. Just about as fantastic was his choice of WSC over California 13 to 6. Which was the typographical error?

Intramurals

Intramural football results for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were as follows: WSH No. 1 was edged out by WSH No. 2 on penetrations. The PDT's and the ATOs played to a stand still both in points and first downs. Wednesday afternoon the ATO's won the right to play for the championship by virtue of a 6-0 victory over the BTP's.

New Gymnastics Coach

Richard J. Smith is one of the newest additions to the staff in the physical education department. Along with coaching the newly formed gymnastics team, he keeps busy teaching freshman and sophomore activity courses, supervising P.E. majors in their student teaching activities and teaching gymnastics courses. While attending college in Springfield, Massachusetts, Smith was a member of the Springfield College gymnastics team which travelled throughout the east and midwest competing against other teams and giving exhibitions. Above he is shown executing a "planch" on the parallel bars.

Willis Sweet Team Two Mural Football Champ

Intramural football came to a close yesterday afternoon with Willis Sweet Hall No. 2 taking a decisive 9-0 victory from the ATOs. Late in the first half the Sweeters began a drive on their own ten and behind the bulls eye passing arm of Tom Mindiola they advanced the ball to the mid-field stripe; on the next play a long pass from Mindiola to end Dex Link, who was streaking down the side line, connected for a penetration and set the ball on the ATO four yard line. Quarterback Mindiola took the ball from center on the next play and flipped a shovel pass to right half Mel Brown and the Sweeters hit pay dirt. On the try for extra point the same combination succeeded again and the score stood 7-0 in the first half. Willis Sweet kicked off and the whistle ended the half with a long desperation pass from ATO quarterback Jim Atkinson. In the second half the boys from the hall scored a safety after blocking a kick.

Idaho's Halfbacks Statistically High After Six Contests

John Brogan, Idaho triple threat halfback, steadily improving as the season progresses, is currently holding down fourth place spot in Pacific Coast Conference rushing statistics. In six games played Brogan has packed the ball 63 times for 403 yards or an average of 6.4 yards per carry.

Bob Mays, another Vandal halfback, has carried the ball 46 times picking up 340 yards. These figures place Mays tenth on the coast in rushing with an average of 7.4 yards per carry. Brogan and Mays, by the way, do not sport top yardage figures on the 1949 Vandal squad. Glen Christian, the Vandals' fleet halfback, who, as a trackman runs the century in 9.7, has averaged better than 12 yards per carry, while his teammate Jerry Diehl stands next in line with an average of 8.1. Neither Christian or Diehl have carried the ball as many times as have the statistical leaders, Brogan and Mays.

Six T.D.'s for Diehl

Diehl does have one satisfaction, however. In six games he has scored six touchdowns for 36 points to fall into a fourth place tie with several other coast stars. Following Diehl in the scoring column for the Vandals are John Brogan and Glen Christian with 22 points apiece. The Vandals to date have chalked up 195 points for a 32.5 average which places them atop the Pacific Coast conference ladder ahead of Southern California, a team that has averaged 30 points in six contests.

Team statistics show that, for the second straight week, Idaho's offensive minded Vandals lead all other conference teams in the rushing department. To date Idaho has pounded out 1,170 yards by way of the ground for an extremely high average of 285 yards per game. Nearest competitors are the Oregon Ducks who have averaged 259.9 yards in seven games.

Idaho also tops the conference in pass defense. The lead, based on least number of completions against a team, favors Idaho for the fourth straight week over Montana State University. The Vandals have had 36 passes completed against them from the 77 attempted. Nine enemy passes have fallen into Idaho hands. Montana's opponents have completed 38 of 103, while eight were intercepted.

termountain Ski association.

Most of these veterans will see action against the Beavers this week and when the Vandals wind up their football for 1949 in Stanford's home ground next week.
