Student Union Cafe Reopens Today

The Blue Bucket cafe in the Student Union reopened its doors this morning, following a five-month closure. No change in service from last year is contemplated, said Chet Kerr, manager.

Thanks to the Idaho frosh football team, a new wrinkle and sweet revenge was added to the 1949 walkathon between the prexy and editor of Idaho and Washington State College.

Jason and Bob Moulton, student body president left the Ad building at 1 p.m. following a sendoff which featured several gifts to the hikers. Aided by good weather and many well-wishers along the way the Idaho men reached Cougarville at the half time of the Idaho-WSC frsh game.

Score Encourages
After climbing aboard the convertible provided by the WSC reception committee, Jason's spirits received a decided boost upon looking at the score board. The Vandal Babes were leading 6-0. Not neglecting any possibility for revenge, Jason commented on the score to the WSC delegation. They came back with a return challenge on the final outcome of the game in progress. The men from Vandaville gladly accepted.

The Idaho gridders came back on the field and continued to outplay the Couababs winning the tilt 13-0. Here Wes Foss, WSC student president, and Dale Cook, associate editor of the WSC Evergreen, found that their patriotism had been a little too hasty.

Swift Action
Foss and Cook kept their promise willingly and agreed to walk back that night. Following a dinner at the WSC golf clubhouse, the Cougar backers took to the road.

The men arrived in Moscow at 10:00 p.m. And that is the tale of the first Pullman to Moscow trek made in the six year history of the walkathon between the two schools.

Spirit To Politics
Jumping from school spirit to school politics, Jason turns to the coming class elections. Tomorrow ASUI members will go to the polls to choose their class officers. Many say, "What difference does it make who gets in?" Others who are probably Caucus members would have you believe that the very existence of school activities is being threatened.   - Friday:
    - Gem Secretarial staff will meet from 3 to 5 p.m. in upstairs Bucket.

The cafeteria and kitchen are back in the same quarters which they occupied in the past. As yet none of the new space which the cafeteria will occupy in the remodeled student union building has been completed. At present this space is being used as office area for the general manager, the ASUI, and the Gem.

Steam Installed
Delay in opening the cafe this fall has been caused by the lack of steam and hot water. Last week construction crews finished the roof on the new addition and made possible the supplying of heat and water to the building. Hours of business for the cafe will be from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Lunches will be served at noon. Space is not available to open any part of the student lounge for afternoon dancing, Kerr stated.

Work Through Winter
Gale Mix, general manager said that with the roof completed, the contractors plan to close in the window space and turn heat into the new addition. This will allow workers to continue through the winter in spite of inclement weather. It is hoped that some of the office rooms in the new addition will be complete enough to allow the general manager, the ASUI, and Argonaut to move into the new portion of the building sometime during the winter. Mix concluded.

Until the new space is finished the cafe will operate in its present quarters, Kerr announced. It is hoped that very little interruption of service will be experienced for the remainder of the school year, he said.

Parade And Game Highlights Of Armistice Day Program

Final plans were completed last night for the sponsorship at Neale stadium of the first annual Elks hospital benefit football game between Moscow and Pullman high schools.

A parade throughout the business district of Moscow will open the day's festivities. Five bands, including the University of Idaho band, as well as several marching units from both Moscow and Pullman, will be featured in the parade. An opening program is scheduled before the football game at Neale stadium and half-time entertainment has been planned.

The game will highlight Moscow and campus Armistice day activities and is scheduled for the university's stadium beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Because of the declaration of a national holiday, university classes will not be held during Friday afternoon enabling all students to attend the grid clash. The game which is being billed as "the little civil war" will provide thrills, on a small scale, which grid fans expect when the two teams' big brothers, Idaho and Washington State tangle on the gridiron. All proceeds of the contest will go to directly benefit the State Elks Crippled Children's hospital at Boise. The game is being sponsored by Moscow high school under the auspices of the Moscow Elks lodge and will be an annual affair with next year's game to be held at Rogers field in Pullman.

Tickets for the contest are available at all living groups on the campus and student members of the local Elks lodge are in charge of sales. Tickets also may be purchased at the gate.

Students To Speak Of Foreign Travels

After a two-week inactive period due to the Northwest Regional Conference, which was held on the Idaho campus, the International Relations Club will again resume meetings. The first meeting is slated for Thursday night at 7:30 in the Chrisman hall lounge. The program will consist of those Idaho students who spent the summer in foreign countries. The theme of the program will be "First Impressions of Other Countries." Participants will be Jean Pugh, Don Grogan, Richard Jordan, and Mac Black. The last part of the meeting will be spent in discussion. As there are students on campus who went on tours and whose names are not available to the IRC, they are asked to contact Tom Ribby at Lindley hall.

Awards Presented At Dance; Dads Leave After Full Day

Awards were presented to the Dad's Day contest winners at intermission of the annual all-campus dance Saturday night in the Women's gymnasium, and that, along with the trail left by leaving fathers, marked the end of another successful Dad's Day weekend.

Warehouse Closed

Notice is given that for the approximate period November 7-21, 1949, the war surplus warehouse will be closed as Mr. Sullivan will be at Farragut. For emergency situations contact Mr. Mitchell, telephone 8372.

Vandals Arrive In Pullman

Representatives Will Ask Each Student To Give $1 During Five-Day Drive

The 1949 Campus Chest fund drive begins today. The goal has been set at $3,500, or $1 from every student in the university. Continuing five days, the drive will end at noon Saturday, November 12.

Colonel Abe Goff Explains Justice To ROTC Students

Historical and legal background in the administration of military justice as distinguished from law in civilian life was explained to Idaho Army and Air ROTC students Thursday by Colonel Abe Goff, formerly of the Judge Advocate General's office, NSA. The distinction, Colonel Goff explained, is that in criminal law the concern is only with punishment of the criminal, leaving the individual the greatest amount of freedom. Military law also punishes offenders, but for another purpose. It is used as a means to maintain morale and discipline of troops whose job it is to win wars.

Receipts Issued

As an incentive to the fund raising campaign, each representative will keep a list of the persons in his or her group marking names off as they contribute. Persons charged with the collection of the funds will issue a receipt to each donor. Off-campus students may make their contributions through the ASUI office. All money collected is to be handled through the Graduate Manager's office and will be distributed to several youth, health, and charity organizations. The following tentative percentages of distribution have been set up by Preston Brimhall, this year's drive chairman:

- 45 per cent to the World Student Service fund.
- 20 per cent to the Infantile Paralysis fund.
- 10 per cent to the Cancer fund.
- 10 per cent to Religious Emphasis Week.
- 15 per cent to miscellaneous charitable organizations.

Aids Foreign Students

The World Students Service fund is a fund set up to aid destitute foreign students in war-torn countries, in their efforts to gain some semblance of an education. It also does work comparable to that of the Red Cross. In the entire Northwest area there is only one person being employed on a full time basis in the organization.

Predicts No Peace

Stating that the world cannot look forward with too much confidence to a period of peace which was hoped for at the last war's end, Goff's advice to University men today was to take advantage of the opportunities afforded them in ROTC work and be prepared to serve their country with the same distinction in the future as many Idaho graduates have in past years.

Colonel Goff is a former University of Idaho student and received his original commission through the ROTC program there. He was the first Cadet Colonel at Idaho. He also played football on an Idaho team that beat WSC, and received his law degree here in 1925. Goff will speak to the ROTC unit again November 17 on the subject of composition and jurisdiction of Court-Martial.

Better To Give Once-- Than Always

Do you remember in days gone by when you habitually put the "touch" on Dad (no doubt using of the past tense was an error)? Do you remember, also, when he put you on the allowance basis? Dad wised up to the fact that those frequent "touches" were keeping him broke and, further, that if he allotted you just so much for a certain length of time both you and he would benefit. Dad's decision was a wise one inasmuch as it saved him money and gave you an idea as to how much money you had to use over a certain period of time.

Time has elapsed since the aforementioned days and we are now the parties being "touched." Prior to last year we were being touched almost as frequently as Dad was in days gone by. I am referring, of course, to the numerous charitable organizations which conducted, in some fashion, contribution drives on our campus. Getting off the "touch" basis, and getting on the "allowance" basis, the annual Campus Chest drive was inaugurated last year. Under this plan we give once and only once during the school year.

It is honestly believed that if all organizations were to conduct their drives separately during the course of the year we would all probably contribute somewhere in the neighborhood of about $2 each. That might sound a little high to you, but if ten or fifteen different organizations were to contact a person and ask for a contribution he would probably give that much. In addition to the expense involved, think of the inconvenience. This plan will work better for us all.

In conclusion, we are all having a fairly tough time getting through school. We feel that perhaps we cannot afford the $1 which is being asked of us. Yet, if we consider and reconsider just how much these organizations need help, and just how much these organizations mean to millions and millions of people who need their help so badly, we will see where we can round up our $1 "assessment." In addition, you'll know that this is the last time you'll be "touched" this year. P.B.B.

Does Love Pay Off? Maybe--

For the past week or ten days we have been reading about the trial of Sigmund Engel, in a Chicago courtroom. As the story goes, "Sam the Lover," or "Sad Sam," as he now calls himself, has been accused of wooing a number of elderly widows, who, by a coincidence, happened to possess quite a bit of money. His technique seemed to be wooing them, promising marriage, and in a few cases going through with the wedding, and then taking off for parts unknown with all of their money. At this trial he was convicted of swindling a Chicago widow out of $8700.

Love seems to have a funny effect on some people. You can almost always pick up a newspaper and read about some Romeo, or his female counterpart, doing some rash act after getting cut short, so to speak.

Maybe our newspapers are just grinding out copy to a highly-sentimental American public. After all, the United States is full of soft-hearted people.

Sam must have been quite a Romeo but we can boast of some that are just as smooth, and located right here on the campus. What about our many Don Juans or Miss Don Juans who have passed or received pins numerous times or just gone steady with many others of the opposite sex during tenure at this institution of higher learning? So far there has been no one convicted of swindling or extortion—at least no outward disastrous effects!

What's the difference? An old saying we have heard many times can be said in two ways: "Time heals all wounds," or, "Time wounds all heels."

Times aren't by any means tough. Remember, "Love makes the world go round!" B.H.

Here's More About--
JASON

Activities depended upon getting the right man in office. The right man, of course, is always their man.

Thus the voters go to the polls somewhat bewildered. Perhaps between these two extremes some significance of class elections can be ascertained.

Class elections do make some difference. A glance at the membership of the important student bodies which voice and mirror student opinion will reveal a good many ex-class officers.

It's your vote, your opinion, your representative, and finally your activities — make it your own choice.

Idaho and Washington State Interfraternity Meet Hosts

The University of Idaho and Washington State College will be joint hosts to the 1949 Western Regional Interfraternity Conference Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Dale Benjamin, president of the Interfraternity Council at Idaho.

Delegates will be present from the colleges and universities throughout the western states and British Columbia. They will be guests of the fraternity houses on both campuses.

Idaho delegates are Robert Pond, Beta Theta Pi; Ernest Bedford, Phi Delta Theta; Allen Petrie, Lambda Chi Alpha; and William Sweet, Kappa Sigma.

The following schedule is published to enable any fraternity men to attend all or parts of the conferences.

Wednesday, Nov. 9
 Delegates arrive in Pullman and register at Lambda Chi Alpha chapter house, 806 Colorado. Here they will be assigned to housing and officially welcomed to the Conference.

Thursday, Nov. 10, at Todd Hall Auditorium, WSC
 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Opening business, Fred Snyder presiding.
 10:30 to 12:00: Roundtable discussion, "What should be the relationship of the Interfraternity Council to the fraternity chapter?"
 12:00 to 1:30: Lunch at fraternities at WSC. 1:30 to 3:00: Roundtable discussion, "What constitutes an ideal relationship between the Interfraternity Council and the college administration?" 3:30 to 4:00: Roundtable discussion, "Fraternity rush provides the lifeblood for existence of the fraternity system." 6:30 to 9:00: Dinner and Smoker at the Washington Hotel, Pullman.

Friday, Nov. 11, at Ad Club, Moscow
 9:30 to 10:45: Roundtable discussion, "As Interfraternity Council members, what is our attitude toward the controversial question of discriminatory clauses?"
 10:45 to 12:00: Roundtable discussion, "What about fraternity scholarship, the perennial bugaboo?"
 12:00 to 1:30: Lunch in Fraternities at Idaho. 1:30 to 3:00: Roundtable discussion, "What is the 'lobby potential' of the Western Regional Interfraternity Council?" 3:00 to 4:30: Election of Officers, Report of Committees, Other business, Fred Snyder, presiding. 6:30 to 9:00: Banquet at the Ad Club, Moscow. Dear Charles E. McAllister will speak on the topic: "College Fraternities in American Higher Education."

Saturday, Nov. 12, at Todd Hall Auditorium, WSC
 9:30 to 10:45: "What should we have discussed — and didn't?" Grab bag session. 10:45 to 12:00: Evaluation of the conference. "Has it been worth while?" 12:00 to 1:30: Lunch in Fraternities at WSC.
 The Conference formally ends at noon on Saturday.

However, I contend it is not worth time and effort for all concerned when all students have to do it sit in a seat and hold up a card. The caustic comments hurled at one trying to coordinate the work is to say in the least disgusting. I would like to thank members of the Kappa, Alpha Chi, Beta and Phi Delta houses for providing the necessary people to perform the moving part of card stunts and Alpha Phi Omega for their assistance in passing out the cards.

Perhaps few students realize the amount of time and effort that is put forth in planning out the intricate steps necessary for card stunts. It certainly is no pleasure after spending all this time to stand in front of an Idaho crowd and beg them to fill in the card section.

Several instances happened that would make any person feel like giving up in disgust. I fail to see that these comments were in good taste or in order. I asked the students not to tear up the cards and several in the front row leaned over the rail, tore cards in two, and threw the pieces in the air so that all might see that no one could request anything of an Idaho student and get away with it.

In the first place, card tricks were worked up for the benefit and entertainment of the fathers and were to coordinate with Jack Gregory's speech at half time. The half time would have been quite incomplete without them.

Perhaps I was assuming too much to believe that an Idaho student had the mentality or school spirit to enable him to perform such a difficult operation as holding a card in front of his or her face. I have seen high school groups that could do much better. The question that comes to my mind is whether we here at Idaho are capable of acting as college students or if we are still in the infantile state. From all indication Saturday it appears to be the latter.

As it happened the card tricks worked out very well due to a lot of begging and some strong arm support from a few Spurs.

Four Pledge Dances, And Exchanges Bring Lighter Side To Student Life

"Blue Moon" and "Mountain Magic" were portrayed by Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Theta for dances honoring their pledges this weekend. Tau Kappa Epsilon's dance was characterized by medieval decorations.

Pi Beta Phi also chose "Blue Moon" for the theme of a pledge dance given Saturday evening.

Phi Delta Theta
"Mountain Magic" was the theme of the pledge dance held Saturday night. All of the rooms were decorated resembling life in the mountains. John Holmes and John Ascuaga were co-chairman of the affair.

Ridenbaugh Hall
Dinner guests during the week were E. M. Downing, Dave Downing, John E. and Ruth Karvola, Patty Baker and Jessie Earle were weekend guests.

Delta Chi
A dinner exchange was held last Wednesday with Kappa Alpha Theta.

A buffet dinner was held following the ballgame Saturday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mossman, Cascade; Mr. and Mrs. Matt Shields and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lee, Richland; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Butts, Spokane; Shoebe Schumaker; Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Casey, Mountain Home; Mr. J. B. Nicholas, and Jack Gray, Spokane. The Inter-Fraternity Council met at the Delta Chi house on Thursday. An exchange dinner was held before the meeting.

Pi Beta Phi
A large blue moon set the theme for the annual pledge dance given last Saturday. Fans of dark blue crepe paper graded out to white in the living room. There were abstract clouds with a blue half moon peeking out from behind the fans. Also large pledge pins with the pledges names on them were featured. Evelyn McCandless was chairman of the dance. Russ Andre and his orchestra from Spokane furnished the music.

Wedding Nuptials Performed Sunday

A wedding ceremony solemnized in the Lutheran church at Troy on Sunday, November 6 at 7 p.m. united in marriage Doris Trout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Trout, Troy, and Hildt Edgar, Troy. Pastor John Billd performed the nuptial service.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white fall gown. Her fitted bodice was accented by a gathered fullness in the skirt. Over the off-shoulder gown Mrs. Edgar wore a long-sleeved, fitted lace jacket. A white tiara held her finger-tips veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds gathered about a yellow baby orchid.

Miss Betty Lea Trout, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her gown was a pale green and she carried a pink rosebud bouquet.
James Hardy was best man. Don Edgar, brother of the groom, ushered.

A light background of piano music by Mrs. Billd was played during the candlelight ceremony. Two vocal solos "I Love You Truly" and "I Love You," were also presented by Mrs. Billd.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edgar have been attending the University of Idaho as sophomores. Mrs. Edgar was a home economics major residing at Forney Hall, and Hugh was majoring in agriculture. He lived at Pine Hall. After a honeymoon trip through southern Idaho and Yellowstone Park, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar will reside in Moscow to continue studies.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates New Men

Idaho chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism honorary, held its first initiation since receiving a national charter last Saturday evening. The ceremony was conducted in the Dairy Science building with Newt Cutler, president, presiding.

The local chapter was formally initiated into the national organization by the Washington State College chapter last March. The nucleus for the organization were members of Sigma Delta, a local men's journalism honorary.
Following the initiation, a banquet was held in the Moscow hotel. Archie Harney, university agricultural extension editor, addressed the group with a talk on agricultural journalism.

Initiates included George Horton of the Payette Independent Enterprise, William Marineau and Dan Wakeley of the Daily Idaho Argonaut in Moscow and Burl Hagedone, Coeur d'Alene Press. Others were John Martin, Allen Derr, Earl Costello, Phil Johnson, John Dillon, Orval Hansen and Bob Finlayson, all university students.

A recommendation from the Graduate council that the number of credits which may be allowed toward a Master's degree in extension courses be increased from six to nine semester-hours.

Cut Classes For Four Years And Still Get A Degree? Well!

Even at the University of Oslo in Norway students can cut classes for four years and still get a college degree, according to eight Norwegian students enrolled in the Idaho college of engineering.

These eight students, Magnar Sater from Surna; Haakon Haga, Holmestrand; Kaare Reed, Fluberg; Tor Lyshaug, Oslo; John Houland, Sogn; Paal Myklebust, Sogn; Ole Magar Saatvedt and Sverre Kongsgaard, both of Kongsberg; are continuing their engineering course here after two years of college at Oslo.

Job's Daughters Hold Initiation

Deita Mu, Job's Daughters honorary, initiated 21 women in the Masonic temple Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Velma Lyle, Welsler, and Mrs. George O'Leary, Poatello, were honored guests. Naomi Nokes, accompanied by Ruth Bieber, provided the special music.

Those initiated were Lillian Garner, Roberta Day, Colleen Bickford, Shirley Jackle, Dorothy Lipp, Beverly Garrett, Joyce Garner, Glorlan Maule and Barbara Brockman.
Others initiated were Dawn Bolton, Beth Tunnicliff, Shirley Gregory, Jean Bales, Ruth Wood, Virginia Korn, Donna Burch, Liane Love, Jody Raber, Alice Mae Wilson, Jean Whittemore, and Gloria Badraun.

At the University of Oslo these men were among a student body of 6300. In preparation for future study at Idaho they were enrolled in a general elective course similar to that here. The college system at Oslo as a whole is much the same as in the U. S., claim these foreign students. Classes are in lecture form with no questions asked of students. One can study without attending class and providing he has passed the final quiz, has passed the course.

Women Predominate
The University of Oslo is co-educational and, believe it or not, has more women students enrolled than men. Approximately 20 percent of these students are housed in dormitories, while the remaining live in private homes.

Skiing is naturally the main sport for Norwegian students. As there are no ski teams at the University in Oslo, the students take part in 60 competing city teams. A football game, which is a form of soccer, is also a part of the Norwegian sports program. At Idaho these students have been active in skiing activities with Sverre Kongsgaard setting the North American jumping record at 290 feet last winter.

Meeting People
College social life in Norway according to the students consists mainly of dances, discussion clubs, picnics and skiing. Ski lodges some able to hold over 100 people, are used for after ski meals, dancing and meetings. Various customs and manners of students here differ from those in Norway, the method of introducing people being the most noticeable.

Dress here is somewhat new to the Norwegian students. Upon his arrival on the Idaho campus, Tor Lyshaug wore the knicker's common to Norwegians and claims he's never before "felt so many girls looking at my legs."

Approve of Idaho
This is the first trip to the United States for all eight of these students and none has been back to
