Price of Coffee To Go Up On Idaho Campus January 1

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

It was the final game of the season. The score stood 13 to 0 at the half. Home college was trailing. As the teams trotted off the field, the halftime entertainment began. Throughout the stands friends were greeting each other. This was a happy occasion for all. Win or lose it would be a good game. Everyone would be pleased. The fans would like to see a win but the most important point was that everyone had an enjoyable time. Players and spectators alike had found real pleasure. How different were the college games of the past season. Few spectators knew the players personally and most of them cared less. They wanted to see the home team win. No game was a success if it wasn't attended by a near capacity crowd. Checkers from the internal revenue department would be on hand. Scouts would be watching every move each player made. Yes, last season saw football assume a business status. Successful! Much of the enjoyment and friendliness of the game has disappeared. Instead of a bunch of boys out giving their all for the alma mater, the team was made up of experts who had one job to perform. The squad now numbered between 75 and 100. Winning the game was essential. Many a coach is now looking for a new job because he lost more games than he won. No season was successful unless it was a winning one and several players were named on all conference squads and given lucrative offers from several professional teams. What will become of the coach that doesn't win? Already we have seen several resign in face of much adverse criticism. Many times it is said that this originated with the students. A look behind the scenes usually fails to bear this out. In most cases it is sources (Continued on page 2, Col. 4)

Eleanor Powell Selected Sigma Chi 'Sweetheart'

Eleanor Powell, 18-year-old Idaho freshman from the University of Idaho, was crowned the 1949 "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" by University President J. E. Buchanan at the annual Sweetheart dance held at the Moscow Legion cabin last Saturday evening. The new Sweetheart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Powell, Moscow, was chosen from a field of 22 contestants by members of the fraternity. Coming with the announcement of the 1949 sweetheart, members sang the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi song as she walked down the aisle to be introduced. Miss Powell was presented the traditional sweetheart pin by Sigma Chi president Jack Lein. She will also have her name engraved on the sweetheart trophy. Eleanor is the second Alpha Phi to be elected Sweetheart of Sigma Chi during its eleven years of existence on the Idaho campus. Pat Nelson, Genesee, received the honor in 1947. Honored at the annual dance along with the new sweetheart were the five other finalists, Shirlee Vorous, Alpha Phi; Bonese Collins, Delta Gamma; Donna Kjosse, Gamma Phi Beta; Marlene Hopkins, Delta Gamma; and Connie Baxter, Pi Beta Phi.

This picture has been acclaimed as a particularly beautiful and stirring avocation of the culture of a people established on the shores of the St. Lawrence for more than 300 years. Visitors Invited Traditional French Christmas songs will be sung, under the direction of Mrs. C. F. Hudson. Members Invited Membership in the French club is open to all persons (students, faculty or townspeople) interested in French. Dues of 25c are payable to Lorraine Johnson, Secretary-treasurer. One Cup For Eight Cents, Two For Fifteen, New Rate

The long discussed raise in the price of a cup of coffee on the Idaho campus will begin January 1. Prices will be increased from the present five cents to eight cents for one and 15 cents for two. The student union committee approved the price rise for the Bucket at their last meeting. Businessmen Heard Action was taken by the committee after hearing Lon Green, representative of private campus cafes. Green stated that at the present price it was impossible for individual owners to realize any profit; and since a great majority of the trade in these establishments was coffee, they were operating for the past year with very little annual profit. Also present at the meeting was Chet Kerr, who is an ex-officio member of the committee and manager of the Bucket. Kerr told board members that it was impossible to realize any profit on serving coffee at the present price. Both Green and Kerr stated that not only had the price of coffee increased, but also had the price of sugar, cream, and labor. The price of coffee has not increased before in the history of the Bucket operation. The new price was set to allow a small margin of profit on each cup and still avoid a rise to ten cents as has happened in many other places. It was pointed out that downtown all cafes were charging ten cents per cup for coffee. This is the price which has prevailed in a majority of cafes and soda fountains since the early 1940's. Two For 15 The committee decided that the two cups for fifteen would be a most acceptable price as Kerr pointed out that most of the coffee sold in the Bucket was in quantities of two or more cups per sale. The "two for fifteen" price will not be applicable to "seconds" the committee stated. Only when two cups are purchased at the same time will the fifteen cent rate apply.

Kappa Sigma Team Meets Lindley Hall In Debate Finals

Men's double-elimination debate tournament will see the unbeaten Kappa Sigmas pitted against the once-beaten Lindley team tonight. If Kappa Sigma wins tonight, the tournament is over with the Kappa Sigs the winner, but if Lindley wins, the finals will be run off tomorrow night. Lengthy Parking Less Expensive For Speedy Motorists take heed! Moscow is offering special rates on overtime parking. Bargains systems, long employed in business, have now been taken on by the Moscow police department. Yesterday they put into effect a new policy for overtime parkers. Offenders posting bond before midnight of the day the ticket is issued need pay only 50 cents rather than the dollar formerly required. Police Chief R. C. Lange stressed, however, that the council's ruling applies only to overtime parkers—those who forget to "feed" parking meters before their time runs out. "Bonds on tickets given for wrong-way parking, or for parking in prohibited zones, etc., will still be one dollar each." The dollar bond continues to apply, also, to those ticketed for overtime parking but delay until the next day or later to square themselves.

Winter Activities Begin

The first real snowfall of the year! This always brings forth a gleam to the eyes of students as they think of having that long-awaited snowfight, sleighride and skiing party.
 Last night, several groups of students were seen loaded with either a pair of skis or a sled, heading for the golf course and surrounding area to get "warmed-up" before heading for the ski lodge this weekend.
Hills Inviting
 The campus hills also received a short work-out as the sleds came whizzing down. Finding that sled down in the basement proved to be a bit of a chore for some, after practically "remodeling" the basement to dig out the "super-cruiser" and put it back in running shape, straightening out those bent runners and repairing the general structure of the vehicle.
 The first snowfall also brings forth some worries for some of the living groups. Last year one sorority received quite a surprise when a loaded sled ended up on the inside of their front door.
Caution Advised
 There is also the bleak side of the picture which we must look at. While everyone is enjoying this snow we should be extra careful when sleighriding or skiing on the campus streets. There is a great deal of traffic moving during the normal hours of the day and in the evening. With packed snow and ice, a car cannot stop any better than a person on a sled or someone on a pair of skis. B.H.

The First Christmas Tree

One Christmas eve, long ago, while traveling alone over the snow-covered country, Martin Luther, a young German, happened to look into the sky filled with thousands of glittering stars. The scene made such a deep impression upon him that after arriving home he tried to explain it to his wife and children. Suddenly, Luther had an idea. He went into the garden, cut off a little fir tree, dragged it into the house, put candles on its branches and lighted them.
 This, according to a German legend passed down through the centuries, is how the first Christmas tree was given to the world.
Legends Told
 However, several other countries have popular legends which claim the Christmas tree as originally theirs.
 A Scandinavian myth tells of a "service tree" which sprang from the blood drenched soil where two lovers had been killed by violence. On certain nights during the Christmas season, mysterious lights were seen flashing in its branches that no wind could extinguish.
Tree Interpretation
 The French also have their legend. In a romance of the thirteenth century, the hero finds a gigantic tree whose branches are covered with burning candles, and on the top a vision of a child with a halo around his curly head. The hero asked the Pope for an explanation, and was told that the tree undoubtedly represented mankind, the child the Savior, and the candles good and bad human beings.
Lighting the Christmas tree with candles grew from the belief that candles appeared miraculously from various trees during the Christmas season.
Christmas Custom
 A little more than a hundred years ago, the first Christmas tree was brought to the U. S. by German immigrants. They are now almost a universal custom at Christmas time. Trimmed with colored lights, tinsel, gay bulbs, candles, and toys, they symbolize Christmas everywhere.

Think For Yourself

Our age seems intent upon crushing the individual. The individual who wishes to think for himself—is particularly affected.
 Yet in the past ten years, the American college student has shown that he is a responsible person. He has handled his own affairs. He has chosen a career. He has worked his way through college. But during these years—young men and women in college—have been treated, for the most part, as intellectual children.
 Students now want more responsibility as adults to run their own affairs. I believe that the present anxiety about the student mind reveals an ignorance of the real situation in which students learn in college, and a lack of respect for the student as a responsible person.
 The present plans for the reform of higher education have been made with too little reference to the individual student and his place in contemporary life. They have been conceived by members of the academic community, meeting in committee, isolated from the student's world, and accordingly have been conceived in conventionally academic terms.
 Unless we think of the individual, and consider carefully the ways in which we make him an independent and responsible person, who thinks and acts for himself, we cannot prepare him to meet his situation in contemporary life. B.H.

 The Oregon State game and Homecoming pictures are in color. According to Vernon Bahr, who arranged the program for Blue Key, highlight of the program is the first half of the Idaho-Texas game.
 There will be only one showing, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

 off the campus which originate the ousting action.
 The school that attempts to do away with this condition which football has brought finds itself out on the limb. To drop football usually means putting the college into a collegiate limbo.
 Is football still for the enjoyment of the students or is it a publicity must? Take a look at action breaking over the nation. The school centers around king football not football around the college.
 Where will this circle end? Is it possible that schools will return to the happy days of collegiate grid classics or are we forever doomed to be the tools of those outsiders some of whom have never seen any more of the campus than the gridiron?

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:
 Noodhick VonStrooodle nearly fell off his chair in ecstasy last Friday upon reading an article expounding the beauties of "Hello Walk" in our dear Argonaut. I heard of this incident and decided to use my journalistic talents to find just what sort of devastating effect this breezy feature had upon our reading public.
 I found several campus femmes trudging up and down the walk, noses up in the air, apparently looking for some of that aesthetic dung which poets love to kick around. Well, since the day was foggy and the trees did not form "a majestic arch of silvery splendor," I decided that either they were exercising a natural instinct toward a university male, or that the fog and crisp air made them lift their noses to scoop in the fragrant scent of moist atmosphere. But darn it, not one of those little coeds were kind enough to show their "curvaceous limbs" in either an awkward or a graceful manner.
 Then there was the chemical engineer who died from drinking shellac. The boys all agreed that he had a fine finish.

Winter

Up the hill to the very top, and onto the toboggan we'll hop. Down past the Fijis we'll ride—slidin' from side to side and around the corner we'll go over the slick and gleaming snow. At last at the Bucket we'll stop for a coffee, good and hot. Then back up the hill to the very top and onto the toboggan again we'll hop.

Religious Emphasis Week Committee Chosen By Interchurch Council

Committee chairman and an executive committee were recently chosen by the Idaho Interchurch Student Council to direct activities during Religious Emphasis week scheduled for February 26 to March 4, 1950.

Dr. Wayne W. Smith, retired from the department of education, heads the organization as honorary chairman. Eric B. Kirkland, assistant professor of physical education and swimming coach, will serve as faculty chairman. Pat Slack and Ralph Miller are student co-vice-chairmen.

Other members of the executive committee are Carlene Hortling, secretary; George Tanner, director LDS Institute, treasurer; and Oscar M. Adam, director Idaho Institute of Christian Education.

Theme Chosen

As the result of a poll taken among students, faculty, and ministers this week will be known as Religious Emphasis week. "A College Student's Religion" is the theme selected according to this poll.

Immediate concerns of the 1950 Religious Emphasis week are: 1) neglect of religion on campus; 2) need of a positive faith that satisfies; and 3) need of a good sense of values. Objectives toward which leaders are striving are to relate religion to life as a value and help clarify religious thinking.

Leading speakers provided by various denominations will lead discussions, conduct conferences and speak in living groups. A part of the necessary funds for the week will be obtained from the campus community chest.

Students in charge of specific phases of the Religious Emphasis program are Dave Thacker, arrangements; Bob Moulton, assemblies; Cleon Kunz, book display; John Cutler, breakfast and retreat; West Holt, classroom; Jeanne Rankin, constitution; Helen Jeanne Terry, faculty; and Howard Morton, hospitality.

Finances will be handled by George Tanner and Allen Ingebrisen. More committee chairmen chosen include Keith Judd, organized house (embassy); Al Denman, personal conference; Virginia Orazem, publicity; Pauline Lawson, seminar; and Frank Morrison, worship.

All members of the executive committee, the general program committee chairmen, and students chosen for these committees are included in a campus committee.

More than 100 meetings were accrued during last year's Design for Living week. Speakers addressed 29 classroom sessions. Dinner discussions were held with 29 Idaho living groups participating.

Purdue Adopts Fraternity Code

Thirty-five fraternities of the Fraternity Presidents' Council of Purdue University have accepted a revised fraternity code which establishes an inter-Fraternity court to operate in conjunction with the Council.

As established the court will be a separate entity from the Student Council and will deal with matters affecting the fraternity system. It will be expected to submit its decision to the President's council for penalties to be assigned by that group.

The court is designed to take care of violations which were formerly handled by the Office of Student Affairs.

Students Granted More Leadership

Greater responsibility has been given student leaders at Illinois Institute of Technology by a recent revision of the student association constitution.

"For the coming year only one faculty member and dean of students will be active on Illinois Tech Student Association board," dean of students said recently.

"Students will fill the other posts on the fifteen-man panel—a radical change from the days when students had a slim two-man majority," the dean stated. "Students activities, properly conceived and directed, serve both as a means of social adjustment and leadership development, and offer an opportunity to apply academic learning," he concluded.

Holly Week Ends As Crowd Hears 'Poet Of Piano'

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at Memorial gym was witnessed Friday night when Carmen Cavallaro and his 10-piece orchestra attended the university for a single engagement. Holly Week 1949, sponsored by the class of '52," drew to a close as Christy Anne Sargent received the queen's wreath at intermission of the all-amp affair.

The "Poet of the Piano" gave his rendition of several concert numbers along with the regular dance arrangements which included rumbas, tangos, and "fast" pieces intertwined with smooth melodies. Bob Lido, featured vocalist with the group, added an extra highlight to the event.

Miss Sargent, a pretty brunette living at Ridenbaugh hall, accepted the holly wreath from sophomore class prexy Bob White at mid-way of the semi-formal. A trophy was presented her by Cavallaro, and Marvin Jagels, dance chairman, gave the new queen a dozen roses.

"Holly Frolics," the theme of the dance, was ornamented with crossed evergreen boughs with ribbons of red cellophane centered at the apexes of the crosses which lined Memorial gymnasium. The bandstand resembled a large half-shell, the sides of which were balanced by decorated Christmas trees.

An archway at the entrance of the gym was colored with holly and mistletoe and placed at the doorway were colored candles resembling silent sentinels. Don Deerkop and Roger Swanstrom headed the decorations committee.

A near blanket sellout of duets for the pre-yuletide affair was estimated by Andy Christensen, ticket sales chairman. He requested that tickets or money that haven't been turned in yet, should be submitted to him or the graduate manager's office as soon as possible.

Herdsmen Course To Begin In Jan.

Dates for the third annual Breeder-Herdsmen short course have been set for January 23, 24 and 25, to be held here at the university.

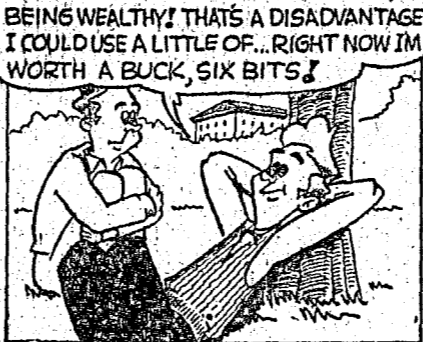

The three day program includes discussions on feeding, breeding, management and selling of registered beef cattle. There will also be work in judging, fitting and showing of sale cattle. Prominent livestock men who are scheduled on the program include: Herb Chandler, Baker Oreg-

"Gesu Bambino," a vocal and violin duet by Margaret Mehl and Lois Bailey, followed with the Christmas story presented and written by Phyllis LaRue in verse. "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" sung by the choir, and a recessional, "Silent Night," with vocal solo by Margaret Mehl concluded the service of lights.

Queens And Name Band Highlight Gay Weekend

Sophomore "Holly Frolics," featuring Carmen Cavallaro, initiated a gay, social weekend. Saturday night brought three formal dances and one costume ball.

Sigma Chi chose Eleanor Powell as its Sweetheart for 1949-50 at a formal "tux and orchid" dinner dance. Gardenias and gifts were distributed at a formal Christmas dance given by the Campus Club.

The Kappa Sigma House Party, "Snow Bound," which lasted from twelve noon to twelve midnight, was climaxed by the Mardi Grass ball. A French underground cafe was portrayed by Tau Kappa Epsilon at the annual "Apache" costume dance.

Campus Club
Gardenia corsages and individual gifts for all placed under the Christmas tree highlighted the Campus Club semiformal "Old Nick's Tricks."

A fireplace and bar, and a fir and cedar bough partition lent a Christmas air to the decorations.

Alan Truesdell, Francis Flerchinger, and Saul Hirschberg were in charge of refreshments. Larry Rappaport took charge of decorations.

Sunday dinner guest was Bob Pritchitt.

A fireside is planned for Wednesday evening with Delta Gamma.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The annual "Apache" Dance was held Saturday night at "1030 Rue Blake." General chairman for the affair was Stan Riggers. The theme was that of a French underground cafe with complete rock walls and ceilings. Candelighted corner tables with burlap bags for covers added to the general atmosphere. Entrance to "Club Apache" was through the back basement entrance and dark hall ways with cobwebs hanging from the ceiling.

Larry Giles and Dallas Fuller were Sunday dinner guests.

Kappa Sigma

"Snow Bound" was the theme of Kappa Sigma's annual House Party held Saturday. The house was decorated to represent a ski lodge, and a snow covered hill and village were depicted in the card room. Lasting from twelve noon to twelve midnight the party began with a Swiss Rendezvous during which according to tradition, the women appeared at the house to meet their dates.

Shmitt's Snack Bar served lunch from 1:00 to 2:00, followed by dancing to Don Hannah's orchestra. A formal banquet was held at the Ad Club in the evening.

John C. Beach acted as Master of Ceremonies at the floor show held after the banquet. The entertainment consisted of jokes from Beach, a skit, and a reading by Mr. Ross Alm. The Party concluded with Mardi Gras at twelve o'clock.

Patrons for Snow Bound were Mr. Robert Garland, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Hatrup, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Alm.

Alpha Chi Omega

A dinner was held at the chapter house honoring Mrs. Kennard Jones, province president from Spokane, Tuesday. Guests were Dean Louise Carter, Mrs. Hall Macklin, Carolyn Craddock, Eleanor Paulson, Laura McVicker, Majorie Lampman, Lucille Driggs, Rosemary, Harland, and Joyce Freeland.

Arlene Harvey, Lewiston; Maxine Turnbull, Nezperce; Joan Mitchell, Nampa; and Barbara Milseith, Spokane, were weekend guests.

Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hagen.

Wednesday evening a Christmas dinner exchange will be held with Beta Theta Pi.

Shopping, Skiing, Parties Will Make Vacations Busy

Two weeks to shop, ski, ice-skate, and hunt; two weeks to eat turkey and fruit cake, drink Tom and Jerries and Brandy. Two weeks to do that and all the other things you've wanted to do but couldn't while going to school.

Parties And Presents

You can go to the city and buy the presents you have been wanting to get for sister and brother, mom and dad. You'll trim the Christmas tree and make a wreath for the window. You'll visit your friends who also have come home for the vacation, and maybe make a few impromptu parties. You'll sleep in as late as you please on the morning after.

The gang will probably organize a hayride, and skating party some night, and a trip to the mountains to ski on another day.

Gads! What a busy vacation! Vacation?

Kinsey Report Denounced By Dr.

Charging that the Kinsey Report is "bad science" and as such cannot be supported by the Catholic faith, Dr. Herbert A. Ratner of the Stritch School of Medicine at Loyola university recently declared "the basic Catholic criticism of Kinsey is simply that the Catholic church supports good science."

"Kinsey not only fails to accumulate an objectively determined body of facts, but throughout his book he introduces unwarranted and opinionated social and moral interpretations."

Gallop Poll Was Wrong

Dr. Ratner said that last year's presidential election proved that polls of an even greater scope than Kinsey's, whose sample was about 12,000 people, could be wrong. "If Gallup and Crossley, with much larger staffs and many more samples, were proved incorrect, it is reasonable to conclude that Kinsey is far from scientific."

Enrollment Down

Enrollment of full-time students in most American universities and colleges is down from 5 to 10 per cent as compared to last year, according to Dr. Daymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati and nationally-known statistician of higher education. Reduction is caused by the graduation of G. I. students with a greater reduction expected this June.

Weltzin Attends School Meeting

Dean Weltzin of the University department of education attended a meeting of the Northwest Association of secondary and higher schools December 8 and 9.

The main topic discussed concerned a general teaching orientation which qualifies holders to teach in both elementary and high schools. Such a credential has just been adopted in Washington.

The Dean served on a panel which discussed problems in elementary teacher education.

Lodgepole Pine Not Neglected In Idaho, Says Forester

Lodgepole pine no longer is a neglected tree in the forests of Idaho, declared Vernon Ravenscroft, Idaho's extension forester, last week.

"Fifty-five gallon oil drums on hundreds of farms are responsible for the new interest in what foresters always have regarded as a secondary or even a weed tree," he explains. "In those drums farmers soak lodgepole pine fence posts in a pentachlorophenol solution to increase their service life."

Good Stuff

Until the new preservative came along, forests with lots of lodgepole pine reported few sales. Now all report a booming lodgepole business. The reason:

Given the right kind of a pentachlorophenol bath, a lodgepole post has amazing longevity. It will outlast at least three or more untreated poles. Extensive use of this wood preservative was preceded by equally extensive research at Idaho. Under the direction of Ernest Wohletz, professor of forestry and associate director of the forestry experiment station, projects developed farm application methods. Through more than 100 farm demonstrations in all parts of the state during the past five years, the agricultural extension service has shown farmers how to use the material.

Many Treated

"During the past five years," Ravenscroft reports, "Idaho farmers have used enough pentachlorophenol to treat 2,125,000 fence posts. More than 700,000 posts were treated each of the last two years. Most of these posts were lodgepole pine."

Highlight of the past two years has been the commercial developments—small local industries. Largest of these are the William Deinhard operations at McCall and the Harold Ball plant at Menan. This year Deinhard treated approximately 30,000 posts. Ball treated around 25,000 posts and lodgepole timbers for six potato cellars.

At Mayfield, Elmore county agent P. M. Jesness assisted farmers in the formation of a community post-treating unit with a capacity of 5,000 to 10,000 posts a year. At Preston, a post-treating operation sponsored by Albert Moser, local Farm Bureau president, has a capacity of around 10,000 posts.

Rexburg Too

The Montana-Idaho Lumber company at Rexburg produces and treats fence posts salvaged from the tops of lodgepole pines cut as power poles for the Utah Power company. Also at Rexburg, the Farmers Co-op Supply company has a custom treating plant to give the "penta" bath to all fence posts and cellar timbers cut and brought in by its members.

'Hoop Shoot' Is Popular Here

Boys 14 years of age and younger, who reside within the circulation area of the Daily Idahoian, were busy this week preparing for the "chance of a lifetime" hoping to be the lucky one in winning the Idahoian's third annual "Hoop Shoot."

Official competition begins this week in all area schools, with district finals held during the week ending December 23. Finals to determine this year's hoop shoot champion will be held January 3. The winner will again accompany the Idaho Vandal cagers to Seattle for the two-game conference series with the Washington Huskies on January 6 and 7.

"Post treating operations are in the formative stage in northern Idaho," Ravenscroft adds. "These are in anticipation of the huge fence post demand coming with the Columbia Basin project. Bureau of Reclamation engineers recently estimated that at least 15,000,000 posts will be needed for the more than 100,000 new farms in the project." Figures on posts treated in Idaho in 1949 are not yet available but Ravenscroft is certain the number will be an all-time high. It might even hit a million posts—quite a jump from the 42,000 posts treated in the state in 1944, the first year the new preservative was used extensively by farmers.

Jerry Bunnell was appointed associate editor of the Gem last week by the ASUI Publication and Executive boards. Bunnell, in charge of scheduling living group Gem portraits this year, will now direct further picture production work. Anne DuSault, appointed associate editor last fall, will handle written copy deadlines and Gem assignments.

The Gem staff will mail opening section and main division pages for 1950 edition this week. A large Vandal Head will be featured as cover design, with the theme carrying out the tradition of Jason, the Golden Fleece, and his adventures with the Argonauts.

Yearbook Candids
Postcards have been mailed to off-campus students urging them to have Gem pictures taken as soon as possible and posters are being distributed in Vets' Villages to contact veterans in an effort to give them information necessary for getting pictures in the yearbook.

Jo Garner, social section editor, asks all living groups to select and hand in candids of social affairs. Amateur photographers with scenic or candid shots of college life are asked to contribute their pictures to the Gem Photographers office upstairs in the Bucket.

Photos Scheduled
Organizations editor, Lee Bath, reports most group pictures have been taken with more scheduled before Christmas. He is assisted by Sally Norris and photographers, Roland Wilde and Leo Freiermuth.

Pictures of living group officers are being taken by Fred Farmer under the direction of co-editors Tom Mitchell and Andy Tozier.

Infirmary
Admitted this week to the infirmary were: Ray Korb and Charles Bonar.
Those discharged were: Keith Adams, Helen Kersey, Keith Riegan, Edrue Smith, Gary Urie, Fred DeFrancesco, and Cecil Fleck.

Hoopsters Cheney Bound For Second EWCE Game

For the fifth game in the pre-conference season, the Vandal hoopsters will travel north today to tangle a second time with Eastern Washington College of Education. In their first game of the season, Idaho swamped the Savages by a 60 to 39 score.

In the Intermountain Intercollegiate basketball tournament played last weekend at Pocatello, EWCE lost to Montana State University but gained second place in the tourney. The Vandals have won two and lost two of their four games played this season.

Pritchett On Top
Top Vandal scorer thus far is last year's record holder Bob Pritchett. He has dumped in a total of 43 points. Last Saturday's game against Seattle University saw him make 18 tallies.

Just a few points behind Pritchett are Idaho's lanky centers, Bob Wheeler and Nick Stallworth with totals of 42 and 41 points respectively.

Review of the figures shows that Idaho has connected for 98 baskets in 329 attempts for an average over .500 percent. From the free throw line, Idaho is hitting at .600 percent with 69 good out of 114 tries. The Vandals have averaged 52.2 points per game while opponents have averaged 43.4 points.

Barnstorming
After playing Eastern Washington, the team returns to Moscow and leaves tomorrow for an eight game jaunt through the middle west and the east where strength will be matched with Wyoming, Iowa State, Drake, Morningside, Lawrence and Duquesne.

Coach Chuck Finley said he would take a traveling squad of 12 men for this eastern swing. The team will return to home grounds December 29.

BROADCAST

The Idaho-EWCE game may be heard over KRPL Moscow tonight at 7:30.

Traditional Foes To Meet Again; Intramurals

Winners of last night's semifinal volleyball matches have met before! For the last three years the same two teams have played for the volleyball championship. Last year ATO won, but this fall the two met on a different field—football, and WSH came out on top.

The ATO team, last year's champion at volleyball, took the fraternity crown from SAE after playing all three frames, last night and WSH No. 2 stole the independent league cup from Idaho Club No. 2 in two tilts. The game tomorrow night will be the deciding factor between these perennial opponents, each having taken one event out of the hands of the other in less than one year of play.

Both teams are undefeated in regular season's play, and both have downed some powerful teams. Each is high in points so far in the intramural system and will be working hard tomorrow night for the honor of all-campus champion. Game time has been set at 7:30 p.m. in the gym.

T CLUB

The usual Wednesday meeting has been cancelled this week.

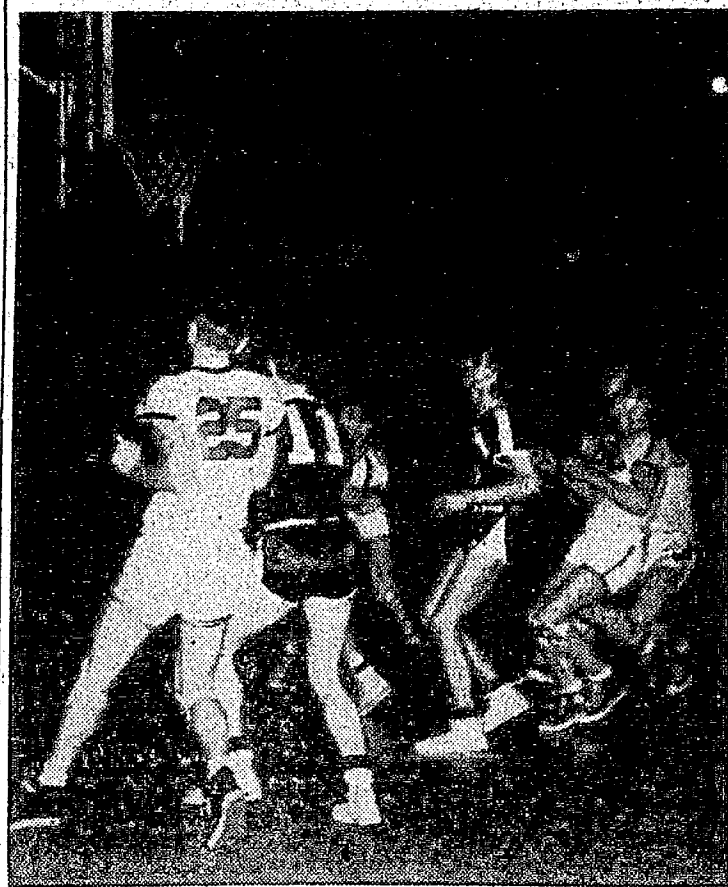

Intramurals

Semifinal games in intramural volleyball last night found ATO and WSH No. 2 finishing as winners of the Fraternity and Independent leagues. Finals will be played off tomorrow night in Memorial gym.

Alpha Tau Omega's team defeated the SAE's after playing the full three games. In the first game ATO managed to stay ahead and the final score was 15-10. Coming back in the second frame, SAE trounced their opponents 15-1. In the final set the ATO's managed to stay ahead and take the championship with a score of 15-6. In the Independent playoffs, a powerful WSH No. 2 team took two straight games from a very good six from Idaho Club. In the first game Willis Sweet was forced to play beyond the usual fifteen point margin but took the game from IC No. 2 by a score of 16-14. The Sweet club squeezed by again in the second game 15-13 to win a berth in the finals.

We Missed This One

An unidentified Vandal missed this shot at Memorial gymnasium Saturday but the 54 to 36 Idaho win over Seattle University proves that many others didn't. Number 25 is Idaho's Bob Pritchett, whose 18 points made him high scorer for the evening.

Varsity Rolls Over Seattle U. Chiefs In Saturday's Tilt

Saturday evening was a good one for Vandal fans. In the final home game of the pre-season schedule they readily dropped Seattle University's Chiefs to the tune of a 54 to 36 score.

Vandal forward Bob Pritchett caught on fire for his first big scoring spree of the season. He dropped in 18 points.

Idaho started slowly but quickly took a lead of 5 to 4 from the visitors. After that the Vandals were never again headed. Halftime score was 23 to 16.

Idaho Score First
Center Nick Stallworth opened scoring after one minute with a free throw but the visitors came right back to take over a 3-1 lead. Pritchett tied the count with a basket from underneath. Then a Seattle free throw gave the Chiefs their final lead of the game. Pritchett's field goal and a free throw after four minutes put Idaho into a lead it never relinquished.

Coach Chuck Finley substituted freely but new men made little difference to Vandal successes.

Vandal Portraits

By Stan Riggers

Versatile Roy Irons, 22-year-old Vandal Basketballer has probably played more basketball than most fans have seen.

Roy started on a hoop career in his home town, Ralston, Oklahoma. He earned 10 letters in high school sports at R.H.S. After graduation from prep school, Roy enrolled at Tishomingo Junior college, Oklahoma. This is when the lad began to bring the honors home.

His first year at T.J.C. won him a rating as the most valuable player in the Southwest regional junior college tournament in Amarillo, Texas. That year his team earned a berth in the national play-offs in Springfield, Oklahoma. By virtue of T.J.C.'s reaching the finals, Roy was placed on the All-National five.

Little wonder that the Junior forward loves the sport and knows how to use his talent on the floor.

Roy is majoring in Agriculture and will be one of the big reasons for that big smile (?) on Coach Chuck Finley's face during the next two years.

Time Out Is Improving

By COSTELLO

While sitting in the Library Monday afternoon we were accosted by a weird giant of a man. He had strawlike hair and was clad in burlap and traction splints; in his hand was a manuscript which he commanded us to publish: He said "No!" and returned to our research work. He pulled a dusty lawbook from his burnoose and with a twinkle in his voice blarneyed us into believing it was our duty to print his prose. We soon learned that he was a ski enthusiast and that the purpose of his turning literary was to promote the sport. It was snowing effectively outside so we figured the story might be appropriate.

One bit of advice, however. Why don't you act just the opposite of this character and do the thing right. Run down to one of those Vandal Ski club meetings and find out what they have to offer.

Manuscript
"Ah, Snowball," I expostulated to my one-and-only darlin'. "This business of slippin' round on a couple of skinny barrel staves is not the sport for me." To explain why my attitude changed, I relate the following story:

"The little woman, you see, has a passion to ski. Being the thoughtful type, I recklessly threw my pocket-book to the winds and purchased skis, boots, poles, earmuffs, first-aid kits, St. Bernard dogs, Canadian Clubs—in fact, the works—and we headed for the golf course.

"Snowball was eager. Her first slalom was something to admire. I was thrilled just watching her superb double-dips, gilet-flips, and gusty sips. (Thank heaven for the St. Bernards!) When she finished showing off and demanded that I also participate in the fun, I shakily attached my skis to the nearest St. Bernard. We both howled as I shoved him off the brink of the hill.

"Four seconds later he spilled all his refreshments and I refused to speak to him after that. Snowball however, was firm. She made me put on my shoes and then pushed me off the hill. For a moment I teetered from side to side, like a sapling in the wind; then I descended, with fear mounting in my heart as I picked up speed.

"Galoondespringing!" I shouted as I swept over and around golf-tees and couples left over from last week's dances. This was fun! Kongsgard, Hjalmar Hvam, and Babe Curfman had nothing on me. At the fifth hole I executed a perfect Christy; at the sixth I performed a herringbone in mid-air, and at the seventh I shot a hole-in-one with a No. 9 iron.

"With a flurry of snow I pulled up in front of the club-house. Snowball was waiting for me, clapping her hands in ecstasy. I bowed modestly. From now on, Mr. Time Out, I shall be a loyal and devoted member of the skiing fraternity."

Signed,
RUSKEY.

Fencing Tourney

The University of Idaho Fencing team will be host to an invitational fencing tournament held in Spokane during the Christmas holidays. Other teams who are to attend the meet, are W.S.C., Gonzaga, Spokane Fencing Club, and Idaho. Definite dates have not been set as yet.

Mittmen's Workouts Intense While Smoker Draws Near

Coach Frank Young's Idaho boxers made Monday a heavy day for ring work.

The Vandal mittmen, picking up action where they left off last week, sparred through three blistering two-minute rounds in respective weights yesterday afternoon.

Three days remain before the boxers move into Memorial gymnasium Friday evening for a corking 10 bout smoker.

The boys are all in good condition even with the hard-hitting that has been taking place in the gym annex.

Frank Eschevarria, 125-pounder from Blackfoot, was the only casualty over the weekend. Eschevarria forgot to duck and as a result got bumped up—when his sled hit a tree trunk.

Babes Accompany Varsity To EWCE For Prelim Game

Idaho's freshman basketball team will play a preliminary tilt tonight at Cheney with the EWCE junior varsity.

This will be the Babes' third game of the season. One win has been registered over Newport high school by a score of 52 to 24. Their season's opener saw them lose to the Gonzaga frosh in a hard fought 27 to 26 contest.

High point man at this time is Hartley Kruger who sunk enough baskets in the Gonzaga game to add up to 15 points. He added seven tallies in the Newport game making a total of 22.

SERENADE
It is a tradition at Montana State University for sorority women to serenade all the men's living groups with Christmas carols.

and Don Miller, Peter Vajda in the 440-yard free style. This meet should be closer than the last one and will help to set up closer competition between team members.

NROTC Tie
In the second touch football game of the NROTC inter-class sports schedule, freshmen and junior teams battled to a scoreless tie on a snow packed field Saturday.

Weather permitting, the game will be replayed, it was announced by Capt. W. J. Sullivan.
