Buchanan Calls For Bids On New Ad Building Addition

430 Co-eds Vote In AWS Primary

The $25 contest for naming of three luncheon conference rooms, one dining room, and a theatre in the new Student Union building has five more days to go. Five separate $5 prizes are offered. One student could feasibly win anywhere from $5 to $25 if the names he or she submits are acceptable to the Student Union committee.

It was felt by the committee that this is one chance to let the students have some say as to the decorations and naming of some of the rooms in their student union building.

No entries dated after noon Wednesday will be accepted and in case of ties the entry date marked first will be the winner. All prizes will be in cash.

Teachers

Some professors in our university place nearly as much emphasis on attendance in classes as knowledge acquired in the course. Several students have told Jason of being dropped a letter grade for erratic attendance. In many cases it has been admitted by the professor that the student knew his "stuff" but that he didn't come to class often enough, so he was penalized.

Theoretically speaking students are here to gain an education and are paying money toward that end. They should be conscientious enough to realize that class attendance should be necessary to assure that education. On the other hand some (usually the ones just out of high school and away from home for the first time) need incentive to attend class. But cutting a grade for malattendance seems to Jason to be a negative approach toward a solution to the situation.

If the student knows the material well enough to successfully pass the instructor's test without coming to all lectures, more power to him.

Perhaps the instructor should begin checking himself and his teaching methods rather than condemning the student. Many professors are technical specialists in their field, but do not effectively transmit that knowledge to their classes.

Jason would suggest that instructors take more care to see that their lectures are informative yet interesting enough so as to be conducive to attendance. Instructor rating sheets are available and offer a good means of determining qualities which need improvement, from student suggestions. Secondly, let the grade earned in tests and other work stand as an indication of how much the student knows about the subject, not his attendance.

Jason does not advocate missing classes. If conducted properly, they are invaluable in your quest for education. But he does not like to see so much emphasis placed on attendance in respect to knowledge of subject matter, by the few instructors who are guilty of such practices.

"Spring" A touch of spring has hit the campus. This morning Jason saw and heard the happiest birds he has noticed for months. The snow has melted to the point where grass can be seen in places. Sidewalks are easier to walk on. Students are already being heard reciting that old poem: "Spring is here, the grass has ris, I wonder where the flowers is?"

ARGONAUT STAFF MEMBERS RECEIVE SERVICE AWARDS

Seven veteran Argonaut staff members have been cited to receive Argonaut Service Key awards following ASUI Executive board approval passed last week.

Included among students to receive key recognition awards are Kathy Burleigh, Sheila Darwin, Allan Derr, Colleen Ebbe, Bonnie Graham, Bill Hanson, and Mary Ellen Stefanac.

Service keys are given to staff members who have a total of five semesters experience and work on the Argonaut in any staff positions held during undergraduate years.

Approximately 430 Idaho co-eds voted Tuesday in primary elections for 1950-51 AWS officers, according to Rosemary Jarland, election committee chairman. Voters cast ballots for two nominees for each office.

Final AWS elections are scheduled to be held Wednesday, February 22. Voting booths will again be set up near the main entrance of the Administration building. Polls will be open from 9 a. m. until noon, and from 12:45 p. m. until 4:15 p. m.

Candidates Named
Representatives from each women's living group constitute the election committee and check ASUI books. The same women who served for the primaries will also work in final elections.

Runoff candidates on the AWS slate are: President—Janice McCormick, Mary Louise Will; secretary—Yvonne George, Marcella Minden; treasurer—Terry Carson, Barbara Swanson; and orientation chairman—Elizabeth Fitzgerald, Rose Ellen Schmid.

Other candidates are: May queen—Phyllis LaRue, Rosemary Fitzgerald; maid of honor—Marie Hargis, Joan Rowberry; and page—Christy Sargent, Beverly Benson.

Police Training To Be Increased

FBI police training program in Idaho will be extended during 1950, President J. E. Buchanan was advised today by W. G. Banister, special FBI agent.

"The program of the FBI in providing training in modern law enforcement techniques is one of today's most important weapons in fighting crime," said President Buchanan. "Efficiency of Idaho's police officials has reached new highs, and knowledge gained through the FBI schools has been a major contributing factor."

Faculty Instructors
Although schools are held in different parts of the state, the University serves as headquarters. Certificates are awarded by the university to Idaho police officials who satisfactorily complete 30 or more hours of instruction.

Each summer for the last three years, Idaho has jointly sponsored with the FBI a Law Enforcement Institute on the campus, drawing many instructors from faculty members.

Students Eligible For Semester Jobs

The Moscow local office of the Idaho State Employment service is now accepting applications from students who are interested in securing part-time employment during the present semester. Located at 107 East Second Street in Moscow the office is open from 9:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. on week days, and from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon on Saturdays.

IDAHO RESEARCH
The University of Idaho is carrying on 134 research projects aimed at the problems and needs of Idaho agriculture.

National Contest Sponsored By CBS For TV Writers

Want to be a television writer? If so, there is a nation-wide contest, designed to encourage the emergence of new television writers, to get recognition needed for a start.

Competition, to be known as CBS Awards, is open to students in American colleges and universities. It was launched by a joint announcement of the Columbia Broadcasting System and World Video, Inc., leading independent television producing organization.

Editors Will Choose

The contest will offer four prizes, the first to be awarded March 31, 1950, and the others at monthly intervals during the spring academic semester. Winning check will be $500 if the prize script is of one-hour performance length, or $250 if it is a half-hour script.

Entries will be screened by a panel of editors, with final selections made by a three-man board. Contest rules and required blanks may be obtained by writing to: Director CBS Awards, Headquarters, 15 East 47th Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Idaho Engineers May Receive Coin

Idaho has been listed by the American Institute of Steel Construction, Inc., as one of the schools from which candidates may be chosen for the A.I.S.C. scholarships.

These ten $1000 scholarships are available to any student pursuing the full course in civil engineering at one of the selected colleges who needs financial assistance upon enrolling for the 1950 fall term.

Eligible candidates must be proposed by the executive head of a member company of A.I.S.C. Each company may recommend only two candidates.

Awarding of the ten scholarships will be based on candidates' scores on tests administered by the college entrance examination board, in addition to their secondary school record and evaluation by secondary school principal. The candidates' financial need and status as a company employee or company employee dependent will also be considered.

Member companies must notify the A.I.S.C. committee for education before April 1, 1950, of their scholarship candidates.

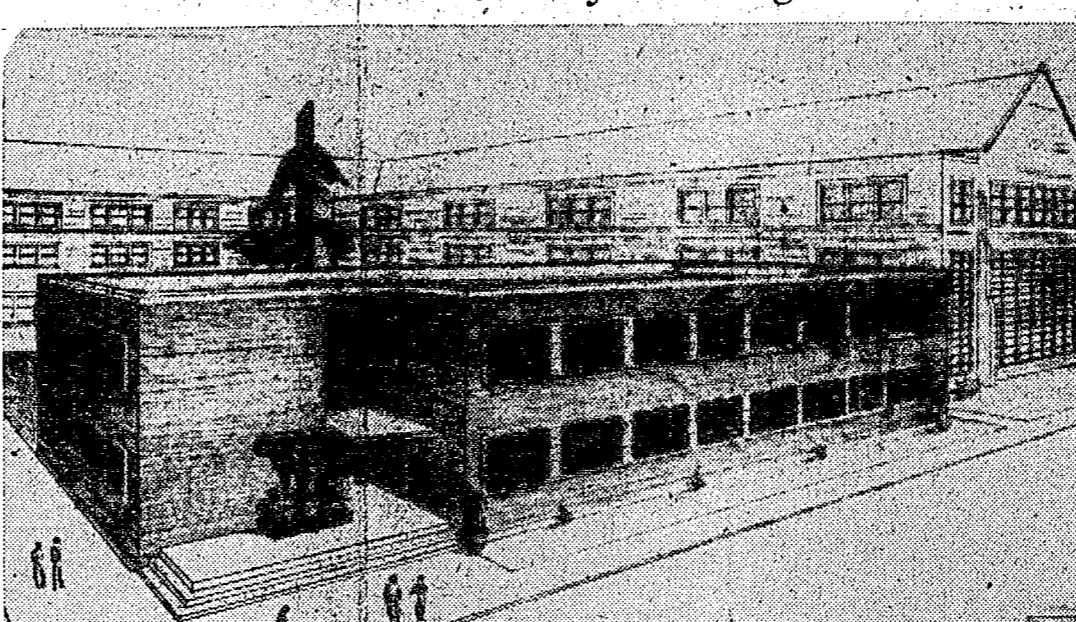

CORRECTION:
A first semester graduate not included in the last issue was Ardelle Sarah Holderress, B. S. in education.

AWS Election Board

The election board receives the votes of two women in the preliminary AWS election Wednesday in which 430 women voted in the Administration building. The election board, left to right is Velva Ailor, Marilyn Dustin, Harriet Walrath, Joyce Fisher, Jackie Mitchell and Betty Lee Trout.

New University Building

This architect's drawing depicts the next major building to go up on the university campus. It will be an administrative office addition to the Administration building—closing in, at the rear, the present "U" shaped main building. The legislature appropriated approximately $300,000 for its erection, equipment, etc. Bids will be opened March 9.

Bridge Tourney Nears End with 40 Students Vying

A second meeting of a three game series for the 1950 intercollegiate bridge tournament was played off at Chrisman hall Wednesday. Forty Idaho students have entered this bridge tourney. Two couples will be selected to represent the University in the International Collegiate Bridge tournament, which begins Wednesday in Chicago.

Team Score Records

Players have been divided into North-South and East-West teams. Six top-scoring couples for Wednesday evening's play and scores follow: E-W teams: Hal Barnes and Dick Johnson, 82½ points; Frank Chalfant, Jr. and Jim Gibler, 82; and Joyce Benson and Jean Pugh, 81½ points.

Scoring for the N-S teams was paced by Allan Atwood and Tom Tudder, 99½ points; Jack McClaren and Ken McCormack, 87½ points, and Ted Baker and Kleal Jones, 87 points. These scores are not highest overall scores for this tournament, but indicate high scoring for the second meeting.

Final Playoff

The last meeting of the all-campus bridge tourney is scheduled for Sunday, February 18, and 2:30 p.m. Marvin Washburn will be in charge of arrangements. At this concluding session of play, four winners eligible for national playoffs will be announced.

Supervision of the bridge tournament is handled by the Student Activities Board. Mrs. Rolston Butterfield is in charge of necessary tournament regulations, scoring and other technical arrangements.

Frank Stanton Passes Away After Long Idaho Service

At 6 a.m. Wednesday at Gritman hospital, Frank Stanton, 74, former bursar, claimed to have had the longest continuous service record in University of Idaho history, died after falling in health for several months.

Stanton's 35 years on the business staff began in 1911 as an accountant. That year the institution's enrollment was 326. He became bursar in 1921, and retired June 30, 1946, with the title of bursar emeritus. The institution then enrolled nearly 3500.

Fraternal Orders
An exalted ruler of the Elks lodge and worthy master of Paradise lodge of Masons, Stanton during his residence in Moscow held membership in other Masonic bodies.

For 20 years he was financial adviser to Delta Gamma sorority, and for nearly that length of time had been president of the holding corporation of Idaho's Sigma Chi fraternity of which he was a member.

Born August 29, 1875, at Garwin, Iowa, Stanton, before coming to Idaho, practiced law nine years in Iowa. He received a law degree from Drake University.

Funeral Services
Stanton is survived by his wife, Mabel; a daughter, Mrs. Helen

Pictorial Bulletin Sums Up Research For Half-Century

"University of Idaho research has paid big dividends, because the institution has stuck to one primary principle for 58 years—aim the research squarely at the needs and problems of Idaho." This is summed up more than a half-century of research at the university in a new pictorial bulletin, "Idaho's Research Center," off the presses this week.

Outlining many projects now under the microscope, the bulletin features accomplishments of past years as well.

Aggies Top List

Agriculture leads with 134 projects, followed by letters and science with 53, and engineering with 32. Forestry projects number 27; mines, 25; education, 17; business, 11; and law, 3. Projects under way vary from probing the cause of cancer to studies of blight diseases in white pine.

Research at the university has returned millions of dollars in dividends to the state, the bulletin points out. Among these accomplishments are developing better yielding grains and vegetables, increasing efficiency of ore processing, determining how to use Idaho rocks and soil for economical road construction, and adding longevity to poles and posts with wood preservation methods.

Spokane Station To Award Prizes At Music Festival

Radio KHQ is offering a series of prizes amounting to $500 for original compositions to be entered in the Spokane annual Music Festival this spring.

Sponsored by the Spokane musical group to further promote creative works by Inland Empire amateur composers, the fourth annual contest is open to all residents of this area.

Manuscripts must be mailed in triplicate not later than March 1, to Miss Peggy Codd, contest chairman, West 910 Sprague Avenue, Spokane 8, Washington. Prominent musicians from other sections of the country will judge the event. Compositions must have been written within two years prior to contest closing date.

Creative Selections

Prizes amounting to $100 and $50 will be awarded to winning works entered in the choral class. Judging will be based on creative exercises suitable for high school, college and church choirs.

Band and orchestration compositions may compete for three prizes in each division amounting to $100, $50 and $25. These selections will also be judged according to appropriateness for high school, college and religious groups.

Trick Photography Will Be Displayed

A photography exhibit of the semester's work of two photography classes will be displayed at the Art building until February 24. This display is open to the public at all times.

Formal Interfraternity Ball Tonight In Women's Gym

It'll be strictly formal tonight when the annual interfraternity ball gets underway. Fellows are renting tuxedos or getting theirs out of mothballs, co-eds are putting new stays in their formals, and excitement is running high.

All-Frat Project

Sponsored jointly by all fraternities on the campus through the Inter-fraternity council, the formal will be held at the Women's Gymnasium. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of Carl Painter and his orchestra from Lewiston.

Decorations for the gala affair will include the crests and colors of each campus fraternity chapter. Entrance to the gymnasium will be beneath two gaily colored archways, decorated with all the various fraternity colors. A huge backdrop will set off the music-maker's platform. Walls have been divided into sections, each de-

Administrative Offices To Be In This New Unit

Fill in the "U" and you have a fourth addition to the overcrowded Administration building whose original structure was built in 1907. With $300,000 appropriated by the state legislature President J. E. Buchanan yesterday called for bids for construction of a modern office unit extension.

Vandal Ski Club Sport Dance Set For Saturday Nite

Vandal ski club will hold its first annual sport dance Saturday night at nine o'clock in the women's gym. Howard Rue, president of the group, announced his week.

Dress for the dance will be informal ski clothes, and sport outfits. Music will be furnished by Jerry White and his orchestra.

Station KUOI will broadcast the presentation of the Winter Carnival trophies during intermission. Traveling trophies will be awarded Delta Delta Delta, for the highest number of points in total competition in the winter carnival, and Tau Kappa Epsilon, who placed second in total competition.

Individual Awards

Cups will also be presented for the best snow sculpture, and for the best racing time in the men and women's competition.

Admission for the dance will be 50 cents for non-members, and 25 cents for members of the ski club.

Faculty Recital Is Well Received

S. Keith Forney, instructor in music, was featured vocalist in a faculty recital Tuesday evening, with Hall Macklin, head of the department of music, as piano accompanist.

Among selections which Forney presented were "Invocation," from "Orpheus," Peri; "Lasciatemi Morire," Monteverdi; "I Attempt," Purcell; "Bois Epais," Lully; and "Preach Not Me Your Musty Rules," Arne.

Several German numbers included "Wie Bist Du Meine Konigin," Brahms; "Der Wanderer," Schubert; "In der Fruhe," Wolf; "Who is Sylvia," Schubert; "Wandering," Wolf; and a group of arias and selections from several famous operas and works.

The vocalist responded to applause with three encores, "When I Have Sung my Songs," by Charles Gershwin's "I Got Plenty of Nothing," and "Mountains."

Vandal Riders Plan Sleigh Ride

The Idaho Vandal Riders, recently organized riding enthusiasts group, have scheduled a sleigh ride for Saturday night. This party will leave Morrill hall at 7 p.m.

All members and students interested in membership are invited to attend. Admission will be 50 cents. Everyone planning to participate should also bring a blanket.

School Benefit

"More different divisions of the university will benefit from the addition than from any other construction in the current building program," stated President Buchanan. "Adding this fifth unit will be like releasing the key log in a river jam."

Centralizing of administrative services in the new two-story extension will release space in the present structure to the library, college of letters and science, college of law, school of education and school of business administration.

President Won't Move

With the exception of the president's office, all administrative and service offices, such as registrar, business manager and director of student affairs, will be housed in the new unit.

The three-story Administration building about which campus life is centered, is now in the form of a "U." The new addition will occupy space inside the "U."

Wings Added

Unit No. 1 of the Administration building, an oblong structure, was built in 1907 to replace the original Ad building destroyed by fire. The university grew so rapidly that just five years later it was necessary to build a wing on the north end to provide more classroom space and an auditorium.

In 1917, a wing had to be added to the south end, primarily to furnish more space for the library. Twenty years later, in 1937, the library was again bulging at the seams, and the south wing was extended to make it equal to the north wing.

Music In The Air

When construction starts on the new addition, work will be under way on five new major structures. Already started are the Agriculture Science, Student Union, Engineering Classroom, and an addition to Kirtley laboratory building. Bids are to be called in two or three weeks on a sixth structure, the new Music building.

Bids are now awaited on a new electric switching station. The present station is inadequate in size for the university's needs, and is also improperly located for balanced and economic distribution of power throughout the campus.

Spurs Pledge Two At Last Fireside

An informal fireside was held at Tri Delta last night by Idaho Spurs to honor last year's alumni members and also to pledge two Spurs recently tapped for membership at 7:30 p.m.

Spotlighting the evening's events was the presentation of Spur alumni emblems to the inactive members. These are smaller replicas of the active emblems.

The two new Spur pledges are Jane Clark, replacing Mary Jean Geertsen, and Ruthella Evans, replacing Margaret Austed. These women were tapped February 1.

Janet Fulton arranged games and other entertainment for the evening. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Helen Church.

Join The March

Picture a crowded infantile paralysis ward. Children, who had never known real pain before, lie suffering and sweating from steaming hot packs. The rhythmic pulse of a respirator can be heard throughout the hospital. In the corridor a frightened youngster slowly feels his way forward—supported by braces and crutches. He is making the great adjustment to a handicapped life that so many of those stricken by polio must face. They are fighting hard, only because you and countless others gave them the chance.

The year 1949 will go down as the worst polio year on record with the total cases estimated at more than 40,000. Still requiring care and treatment, are 17,000 of last summer's victims. In addition there are patients of earlier years who still need assistance. Unknown thousands will be attacked by polio next summer. Provision for their care must also be made, and it is the 1950 March of Dimes that will determine the extent of their recovery.

Polio can strike anywhere. It does not confine itself to one age group or class of people. Any of the patients in the nation's hospitals could have been you or someone close to you.

Your contributions to the 1950 March of Dimes will provide the funds which will enable the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to continue its program of paying medical and hospital bills for the best care available. The money you give will aid the vast research program which is progressing toward the eventual conquering of vicious polio.

Pass up that second cup of coffee and drop your dime in the March of Dimes box. In that way you can help children suffering under hot packs. Help put more children back on their feet, alive and alert, ready to face life with added hope.

Why Are You In College; To Make Money Or What?

By TOM MITCHELL

"The first million's the hardest to earn," is a statement made by many a noteworthy (and wealthy) old codger. Yes, in a great many cases it takes money to make money, and the first dollars help bring in more.

Why are you going to college? Many people are looking forward to their degrees with greediness, feeling that surely this little piece of sheephide will be their key to great fortune.

Extra Curricular Culture

These same people overlook the cultural aspects to be obtained at an institution of higher learning—they study, sleep and eat. What a small world to revolve within. The larger fields beyond beckon to them. True, eating and sleeping are an integral, though wasteful, part of the human's makeup.

But study? A simple solution has recently come to the front. No longer will anyone struggle to earn the first few hundred thousands, salting it away in banks studying to improve his lot, fighting with others for advancements.

Hello Walk Events

This endless struggle will cease. Relax and enjoy your days of schooling. Keep your nose out of that econ book as you walk to class. Do you realize how many times that book has kept from your sight many dear friends? You have snubbed them. They noticed you, and you walked right by them, studying the curve of relative marginal productivity!

No books now in use have covered the new theory of "GET RICH QUICK." Here it is, straight from the mouths of the millionaires. They all agree that the second million is easier than the first, while the third is a snap. So skip those first two million and start on the third with vigor.

Visual Center Reports Services

According to Allan Perry, director, the University audio-visual center performed 35 services to students and faculty during January. These included 22 university departments and 13 campus organizations or individuals.

Anyone desiring to utilize any of the mentioned services can either call the center, 25671, or visit the office in TC 2-117.

Student Takes Trip Home; Later Finds Self In Canada

Charles Swain, Idaho student, left for Memphis, Tennessee, to visit friends during the interim between semesters and ended up taking a 16,000 mile, 12 day tour covering parts of the United States, Alaska, Canada, and Mexico.

Swain, a sophomore Air ROTC student from Johnson City, Tenn., even took part in an aerial search for a military aircraft lost somewhere in Canada. Various aircraft in which he traveled were United States Air Force C-47's, C-54's, B-25's and an F-84.

A member of the Air Force reserve in addition to his Air Force ROTC studies, Swain decided to make the fast trip to Tennessee by taking advantage of the Air Force's "hop" system and also to supplement his theoretical classroom instruction with practical experience.

Hitch-Hiker

February 3, Swain rode aboard Maj. Gen. Olds' private C-47 to Washington D. C. taking a back flight to Omaha, Neb. The next lap was on foot hitch-hiking by highway to Memphis.

After visiting with friends in Memphis until Friday morning, the Idaho student took a flight to Columbus, Miss., then through San Angelo, Tex., to Wichita Falls, Tex., and again resorted to hitch-hiking as far as Oklahoma City, Okla.

From Oklahoma City the next stop was El Paso where Swain caught successive flights to Las Vegas and Sacramento, Calif. He went by car to Hamilton Air Force Base just out of San Francisco where he boarded a plane scheduled on a Tacoma flight.

On Rescue Flight

Adverse weather conditions at Tacoma and beyond, forced the pilot to head on to Fairbanks, Alaska and then to Elmendorf AFB at Anchorage. It was here that he signed on as a C-54 observer to spend two days in unsuccessful search for a missing Air Force plane in nearby Canada.

Swain finally caught a hop back to Tacoma, boarded an F-84 night fighter for Moses Lake, and made the remainder of the trip from Moses Lake to Moscow by bus, arriving in Moscow last Wednesday morning.

"The trip only cost me about $40," said Swain yesterday. "I'll bet that's about as far as anyone ever travelled on that amount of dough, and I learned more about the Air Force than I could have in a similar amount of classroom time."

U. S. Personnel Men Visit Foresters

Personnel representatives, Sidney McLoughlin and Dr. R. Romana, from the U. S. Forestry department regional offices in Ogden, Utah, and Missoula visited Idaho foresters Wednesday.

These men conferred with forestry students concerning temporary summer positions. They also discussed permanent positions for Idaho students who have passed the civil service examinations.

Casaba Prophets Win Chesterfields

The self-styled basketball expert who can predict the correct scores—or come the closest—for the three remaining Idaho home games can receive a prize for his (or her) efforts.

A score picking contest will be conducted for the University of Washington-Idaho series February 24 and 25 in Memorial gymnasium and the March 3 game with WSC here, according to Herman McDevitt, contest manager.

Select Score Sums

Entrants must pick exact scores for each game and the winners will be determined by first adding all total scores and take the ones that check with the actual total score. Entries which are closest to the exact score will be adjudged winners.

All entries must be written on the back of a Chesterfield wrapper, and left in a box provided for them in the Bucket, said McDevitt. Each game is a separate contest.

First place winner for each game will receive a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes. Five packages will go to each runner up.

Naval Instructor Arrives For Duty

Coming from duty aboard the heavy cruiser U.S.S. Helena, Chief Gunner's Mate James P. Agious will be assigned for duty with the NROTC unit here as instructor in Naval ordnance and gunnery.

Agious is from The Dalles, Ore., and will live in West Sixth Vet's Village with his family.

Political Scientist Pens For Magazine

"The Political Philosophy of Young Charles A. Beard," by Bernard C. Borning has been published in the December issue of the American Political Science Review. Borning is an instructor in Political Science at the university.

The author did graduate work at the University of Minnesota before coming to Idaho in September, 1949.

DuVal Foundation Announce Awards In Economics

Three awards to students of finance and economics have been announced by the Pierre A. DuVal Foundation to encourage investment studies by young men and women. The awards of five hundred, three hundred and two hundred dollars each as either tuition or cash will be granted to students on the basis of their "investments."

Students may invest a theoretical $25,000 each in stocks listed on the New York Stock or Curb Exchanges for the year starting March 15, 1950. Determining factors will be maximum dividends and appreciation — with consistent safety. A panel of experts will study all submitted records and will make the yearly awards, Pierre A. DuVal, president of DuVal's Investment Consensus, announced.

Questioned Teachers

Before establishing this program the DuVal Foundation polled educators throughout the country to get their advice about the advisability of such awards. Many educators' suggestions have been incorporated in the rules and applications which may be secured from the Pierre A. DuVal Foundation, 13 West 46th Street, New York 19, N. Y. Awards are open to students of finance and economics at educational institutions throughout the United States. No fees or obligations are charged.

Names of students winning the first Pierre A. DuVal awards in Finance will be announced in the spring of 1951.

Cars Of The Future Discussed At Meet

A talk by P. J. Favre about "The Car of the Future" highlighted the first meeting of the society of automotive engineers Wednesday evening. Paul Hindman also showed a film on the manufacture of the perfect circle piston ring.

Joffre Myers was elected chairman at the business meeting which followed. George Webb is new vice chairman and Bob Drexler will serve as secretary-treasurer. Members of the Inter-mountain Branch of the society presented the program.

Exhibit Features History About Pacific Northwest

What do you know about Idaho? Material pertaining to Idaho and Pacific Northwest history is now on display in the exhibit case in the main hall of the Administration building.

Among items of special interest are two unusual maps of the Pacific Northwest. One was issued in 1860 when Idaho was still a part of Washington territory with the eastern boundary extending to the Rocky Mountain divide, and including a section that is now northwestern Montana. Another map issued in 1865 shows the state borders of Idaho, Oregon and Washington approximating the present boundaries.

Historic Appeal

The Pacific Northwest has become a popular subject for historians, novelists, biographers, and poets; and many interesting books have been written about this region in recent years.

One of the most recent gifts on exhibit is "Pilechuck; Life of a Mountain," from Earl J. Larrison a member of the faculty in the Zoology department and co-author of the book. A study of the wildlife, plants and geology of Mount Pilechuck in western Washington, the book includes a vivid description of the experiences of the authors while camping and living off the land.

Other publications on exhibit are histories, biographies, booklets, pamphlets, and paper back "thrillers" describing the region from pioneer days to the present. Many books are attractively illustrated with photographs and sketches.

To get better oil for you...

To bring you the finest products...

To help him earn a good living...

A Standard Oiler works with $41,073 worth of tools

It has long been known that the better a man's tools, the more he can produce and earn.

The farmer with one plow and a horse cannot produce anywhere near as much as today's farmer with a gang plow and a tractor. And today's oilman is a far more efficient producer of good products than ever in history...because he is backed by a tremendous investment in tools.

Every one of the 29,970 employees of Standard of California and our subsidiary companies has behind him $41,073 worth of equipment. With it, he produces more and earns more than ever before—his average income last year was $4083.81 in wages.

It is our responsibility to keep his "kit of tools" in excellent shape and provide more if he needs them. To that end, $450,000,000 has been invested in new plants and facilities since the close of the war.

Idaho's Brother Act

Following in the footsteps of Idaho's famous Kara brothers of the early 1940's are Len (left) and Norm Walker, who are to represent the university tonight boxing Wisconsin's powerful Badgers.

Boxers In Madison Tonight Meeting Mighty Wisconsin

By DON THEOPHILUS, Jr. "Came a tribe from the North brave and bold, bearing banners of silver and gold." With the words still ringing in their ears, Coach Frank Young and his Vandal boxing squad pulled into Madison, Wisconsin, last night and immediately set up camp in the Park hotel.

A wire to graduate manager Gale Mix yesterday said, "A brief workout had been held in St. Paul, the weather is good and everyone is feeling fine and in the best possible spirits."

The stage has been set then for this evening's slugfest. Idaho is out to snap the Badgers' record of 21 consecutive dual meets at home without defeat. The last time the boys from Madison were bested at home was in February of 1945 when the service personnel of Iowa Pre-Flight slapped them down 4 1/2-3 1/2.

The Idahoans had hoped to take a shot at Wisconsin's unbeaten string of 31 straight bouts but the chance has flown out the window. Last week at Minneapolis the Minnesota Gophers squeezed out a 4 1/2-3 1/2 win in the Badger's 1950 opener.

Two Captains Tonight the Wisconsin team will be led by co-captains elect, for the season, Steve Gremban and Dwaine Dickinson. Gremban fights at 125 pounds and Dickinson at 145. Gremban won the national bantamweight title in 1948 fighting at olympic weights.

Other lettermen back this year include Jim Sreenan at 130 pounds; Gene Fleming at 175 pounds; and Dave Wiseman at 135 pounds. Two returning letterman of other seasons are Vito Parisi, 1948 NCAA champion and Les Paul, at 135 pounds in 1947.

Numeral winners that look good to home fans are Dwight Dickinson, brother of Dwaine, at the 155 pounds, John Murphy in the 165 pound bracket and Don Schuster at 175. All three of these boys won crowns in the Contenders' tournament which is an all-university contest.

WSC Vs. Badgers Wisconsin, in addition to meeting Idaho, will journey to Pullman on March 17 for a bout with the Washington State Cougars. WSC has had a home and home series with the Madison school since 1936, interrupted only during war years.

One highlight of these matches came in 1940 when 15,200 people crowded into the Wisconsin fieldhouse racking up a new school record. The University of Idaho has consistently drawn around the 14,000 mark in its many appearances in the huge structure.

Coach Frank Young will send the same Idaho squad against the Badgers which faced WSC in bouts last Saturday. The first seven of these claimed victory while heavyweight Don Ellis was downed in a split decision loss.

The team consists of Frankie Eschevarria, 125, DeForrest Tovey, 130, Norm Walker, 135, Len Walker, 145, Bud Lawson, 155, Herb Carlson, 165, Ted Diehl, 175, and heavyweight Ellis.

Seldom Defeated Frosh Challenge Gonzagans Again With a string of seven consecutive wins to their credit, Idaho's frosh basketballers are attempting to avenge one of two defeats thus far this season. They tangle with Gonzaga's bullpups tomorrow evening in Spokane.

In their opening game of the season the Vandal Babes were edged by Gonzaga 27-26; since that time Idaho has been victorious in nine contests and has lost one. The latter was dealt by Grady's All-stars, a Colfax team composed of former collegiate players. In a second meeting with Grady's, coach Belko's five defeated the independents.

Results of games played Monday were CC No. 2-44, LH No. 1-2-14; CC No. 1-27, LH No. 1-36; WS No. 2-40, IC No. 2-30; WS No. 1-35, IC No. 1-45; PH No. 2-49, CH No. 2-22; PH No. 1-36; CH No. 1-41.

Tuesday's games: PDT forfeited to TMA; KS won by forfeit from PGD; TKE won by forfeit from LDS, and the ATO's took a forfeit from LCA.

(Editor's note: More complete coverage of individual games is possible if houses follow suggestions put forth in JASON'S column February 14.)

Northern Division Ski Competition Now In Progress

Today, the Vandal slats team is skiing against the top intercollegiate teams of the Pacific Northwest. The Northern Division meet is to continue through Saturday with the giant slalom opening events this morning. Idaho will take the spotlight in the jumping event in the afternoon.

The meet is to continue Saturday with another slalom in the morning and cross country in the afternoon. Idaho's team suffered a great loss this week with Muddy Numbers leaving to train for Olympic tryouts next year. He will be replaced on the team by Dick Iorns who was a Vandal skier last year. His first appearance will be at Emida, today.

Saturday at Mount Spokane, Sverre Kongsgaard is slated to jump in the class "A" event. Class A and B jumping will be held Sunday and Idaho is entering four: Fred Boyle, Paal Myklebust, Ole Saatvedt, and Kongsgaard. All jumping events both Saturday and Sunday, begin at 1 p.m.

Weather forecast for Mexico: Chili today and Hot Tamale.

Idaho's Swimmers Lose To Cougars

The Washington State swimming team did everything but drink the water in the pool Wednesday evening as it laced Vandal merman 63-21. The Cougars, sparked by Canning, jumped off to a lead in the 300 yard medley and were never headed.

Little Joe, Nishimoto, University of Oregon speedster, who just four days before set new pool records in the 220 and the 440, saw his marks shattered by Canning, who was clocked at 2:16.8 for the 220 and 5 minutes flat for the 440.

Jim Farmer, diving specialist for the Vandals, took second in his department. Stewart, Kinney and Gentry showed up well and all pulled seconds in their specialties.

WSC frosh almost matched the score of the varsity by turning back the Idaho's babes 62-15. Loranger of WSC set a new freshman record for Idaho's pool in the 50 yard free style by cutting the surface in 25.2.

She: "I can't marry you, honey, I'm anemic." He: "That's all right, dear, you go to your church and I'll go to mine."

SKIING A limited amount of space is available on the bus that transports the ski team to Emida tomorrow. It will leave from the Bucket at 7:30 in the morning. Only one bus has been chartered, so not more than ten people can be accommodated. Some girls will kiss the first man who comes along, and others the first man who comes across.

Off-Beaten Vandals Heading For Another Try At Oregon

This evening Idaho cagers meet the fourth place University of Oregon Ducks in the first of a two game series. Both squads square away again tomorrow. To date the Vandals hold a two game edge, having defeated Oregon twice in Moscow earlier in the season.

Idaho returns to Moscow Sunday and will begin preparations for that all-important series with Washington. These games are to be played next Friday and Saturday evenings in Memorial gymnasium.

Two Chances For Huskies To date the University of Washington Huskies, and defending champions Oregon State college, are the only teams in the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference who have not fallen prey to the University of Idaho on the basketball court.

Oregon State, with her double victory over Idaho in Corvallis Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, moved to within one game of league leading Washington State College Cougars. Idaho, with the double loss, has regained cellar spot in conference standings.

Clean Sweep The Beavers, boasting the only team thus far to sweep an entire series over a conference representative, handed the Vandals a 48-44 loss in the opener, despite a desperate Vandal rally in the closing minutes. Idaho at one time trailed the Beavers 47-37 some two minutes before the games end.

OSC's Jack Orr and the Vandals' center Bob Wheeler each counted 10 points. Oregon State won the second contest 60-46 on better field accuracy. Although the score was knotted several times in the first half, Idaho was never able to take a lead. The score was tied at 2-2, 4-4, 11-11 and 13-13. Bob Payne, scoring 13 of his game total of 17 points in the first half, sparked a drive that gave his team a 27-23 lead at intermission.

Drive Dies Out Idaho was able to muster only one sustained drive in the second half. The effort, however, amounted to very little. Bob Pritchett, Herb Mead and Dick Geisler combined for a total of 36-29 before the rally died out.

Payne with 17 led the victors in the scoring column. Pritchett topped Vandal scorers garnering 14 points. He was closely followed by teammate Herb Mead who collected 11.
