THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1950

"Wearing O' The Green" Features Glenn Henry's Music

Liar's Entries Rolling In; More New Prizes Are Added

A dazzling array of prizes is being offered by Moscow businessmen for champions in the Argonaut's first annual liar's contest. Some are to help make fancier affairs for the winning liar's dates, with Bea Helander and Carl Killsgaard. Others are valuable personal merchandise.

A former Idaho student, Gene M. Jackson, (1947-1949) now studying in Paris, is the author of a story in the Argonaut today depicting the life of an American student in the glamorous French capital.

The Argonaut is glad to print stories by former students studying abroad. Not only are articles such as this of interest to the general public but are also an aid to the person considering taking advantage of one of the many student tours planned this summer.

Another article by Mr. Jackson will follow in a few weeks in which he will give his impressions as an American student of the internal strife in France — the De Gaulle-Communist conflict.

While at the University Jackson was a resident of Pine Hall.

Salesmen on Campus
A recent case on the campus brings Jason to reiterate an old warning — watch out for unauthorized solicitors or salesmen.

Wednesday a group of persons claiming to represent the Crowell Publishing company were on the campus selling magazine subscriptions. Because of their unorthodox approach a suspicious student called the Dean of Men's office, the Moscow chamber of commerce, and the Police department when he discovered they had not gone through the proper channels before attempting to make their sales.

After three calls the police responded and took the names and addresses of the parties in question. They were then told to leave town.

Learned a Lesson
If the representatives were bona fide the students who purchased subscriptions spent their money well. But if they weren't those students have only learned a lesson—but a good one: If a salesman is authorized to sell on the campus or in Moscow he will have a card signed by the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women, or the Moscow chamber of commerce. If he doesn't have that card, don't buy.

Cemetery Gone
Blot magazine has been on the stands a week now and after careful perusal Jason has decided that they deserve congratulations—not only for the rest of their issue but they finally got rid of the cemetery joke.

N. P. Railway Gets Warning Systems In Working Order

Automatic flasher-type warning signals, first of their kind ever used in Moscow, were installed recently by the Union Pacific Railroad at its West Sixth street crossing.

Northern Pacific railway tracks, which run parallel to those of the Union Pacific at West Sixth are also to be signalized.

Installations of warning systems at the South Main crossings are being planned by both railroads. Signals should be operating by May 1. This deadline was set two months ago by the city administration.

Await Further Action

An effort was started by the city in the '30's to have these crossings signalized. Until November, 1947, however, no definite promises were made by the two rail companies to install these flashers.

University and local groups have shown interest in the possibility of extending this program of signalization to other local crossings, but as yet no action has been taken.

John's cafe will provide four steak dinners for the two winners and their dates. Neeley's Taxi will furnish free taxi fares. Scott's Flower and Gift Shop has offered a beautiful arrangement of flowers to the amount of $5.00.

Ties, Gloves Offered
Ben Franklin stores offer a pair of white nylon gloves or a Weavever tri-color ballpoint pen. Thompson's mep's store will give the male winner a Superba silk necktie to wear on the date.

Creightons will give a pair of Theme hose to the best woman liar and a Botany tie to the best man. Del Klaus, campus representative of Philip Morris Company, adds a carton of Philip Morris cigarettes. Herman McDevit, Chesterfield representative, offers four cartons of Chesterfields.

First Lie In
A Desert Flower dusting powder and cologne set will be awarded by the Walgreen Drug Store.

The honor (or distinction) of submitting the first lie, a poem about a killer dying, and the dead flying away, goes to Jose' Roberto Bou, who said, "I never told a lie in my life, but you made me lie." The Argonaut is planning to make many many more liars! The contest will run for two weeks more.

Auditions To Fill Announcing Roles Set For Saturday

Auditions for radio announcing roles on a series of seven radio broadcasts will be held Saturday morning in TC3-101 from 9:00 to 11:30, announced Ross Alm, program director.

Students interested in auditioning for these parts, regardless of previous experience, should attend Saturday morning tryouts. Mr. Alm states that there is a special need for men due to a greater number of male characters.

Stations Get Series
Seven programs, dealing with university research, will be semi-dramatic form. All parts will be read from scripts.

Complete series will be transcribed and sent through the campus radio center to a number of radio stations in Idaho who have professed an interest in them. Broadcasting will commence about April 1.

An introductory program will be first, followed by broadcasts concerning research in agriculture, agricultural engineering, forestry, dairying, wildlife and general engineering.

Irish To Celebrate St. Patrick Day At Newman Ball

Spotlighting an Irishman's day theme, Newman club will sponsor their annual St. Patrick's Day Ball on Saturday evening at 8:30 p. m. in the Women's gym.

Afternoon dresses will be worn for the all-campus dance. Decorations will center around shamrocks, clovers, green hats, and shilleighs. One of the snakes which the good St. Pat drove from Ireland will be featured.

Tickets At Door

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Walenta, Father U. H. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Fitzgerald, and Mr. and Mrs. Rafe Gibbs will be patrons, and patronesses for the affair.

Varsity Crew orchestra members will provide music for dancing.

Representatives in each living group are selling tickets at $1.50 a couple. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

One Will Be "Miss Idaho Coed 1950"

Highlighting the program of the "Tick Tocks of Fashion" second annual style show in Moscow next Wednesday evening will be the selection of "Miss Moscow Coed of 1950" from these 11 university women contestants. Voting for the honor are, left to right, Jean Ottenheimer, MayBelle Gardner, Margaret Stewart, Irene Sims, Carolyn Craddock, Alice Johnson, Colleen Christianson, Sheila Darwin, Coralie Hart, Mary Jo Nelson, and Joan Litchfield.

"Longhair" Play Will Characterize Part Of Program

Including almost everything from Bach to Shostakovich a half hour formal concert will begin the 1950 Pep Band show, March 23 and 24 in the auditorium, at 8 p. m. Directed by John Sheeley, the 23-piece band will present a Jazz Panorama as the second portion of their program.

Numbers selected for the jazz show have been arranged by Don Hannah, Wally Johnson, and Sheeley. Versions from the New Orleans Dixieland era to the latest "bop" innovations will be presented. A finale was composed for the show by Hannah.

The Idaho Pep Band show has been an annual event since the early 1930's, when the group was first organized.

Intermission entertainment between the two portions will be provided by Johnny Powell, Spokane. Powell is a former Idaho student and while on the campus directed the All-Vet Quintet.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the ASUI bookstore.

Contest Deadline Set For 5 Today

Contest deadline for the Little International was released today by David Thacker, manager of this year's show.

Contestants wishing their names in the 1950 Little International program are asked to sign the lists in Morrill hall before 5:00 p. m. today.

Competition in all of the phases and fields of agriculture is included in the contest.

Twenty-seven contests are listed in a wide variety of agricultural and allied fields.

Details regarding contest rules were discussed at an Ag club meeting held last night in the Dairy Science building.

NROTC Professor Will Visit Montana

Capt. A. C. Chappell, professor of Naval science, will leave Sunday for Helena, Montana, to meet with the Montana state NROTC selection committee, and interview candidates for the 1950 school year.

The Idaho state NROTC selection committee will meet in Moscow sometime next week.

Edward Fei Tells Of Native Country In "China's Crisis"

"China's Crisis," was the topic of an address given by Mr. Edward Ching-T'ien Fei, at a college assembly last Wednesday afternoon in UCB 101.

Mr. Fei, a University of Washington community forum speaker, discussed the reasons for the downfall of the Chinese Nationalists and the rising power of the communists in his native country. The speaker stressed the fact that the keynote of America's policy in the far east should be staunch support of democratic government and principles.

About fifty students were on hand to hear Mr. Fei, a native of Peiping, China, who has served the United States foreign economic administration in Chungking, and also as the Peiping representative of UNRRA. Since 1947 he has been a member of the department of economics at the University of Washington.

Three films on Chinese drama, dance, and art were shown to Idaho drama and art students at the radio center after the lecture by the Chinese economist.

Executive Board Asks To Bring SUB To ASUI Auspices

Plans for a student union committee under the ASUI for the formulation of operating policies in the new student union building were approved by the ASUI Executive Board Tuesday evening.

These plans will soon be submitted to the Board of Regents for final approval.

Under the newly proposed system this committee will be responsible to the Executive Board, and bi-partisan in nature. It will function as an ASUI activity, placing responsibility in the hands of the students and not the faculty as in the past.

Membership
Membership in the committee will be:

Five students: Two from the Executive Board and three from the general student body.

Three non-students. One alumni appointed by the state alumni association, the Bursar or one appointed by him, and one faculty member.

Two advisors: The student Union manager and the ASUI general manager. This committee will draw up its own by-laws.

To Give Students Advice
Bob Moulton, ASUI president, said today that this committee is designed to give the students a voice on the operation policies of the building they are paying for, and serve as a sounding ground for student complaints.

The state Board of Regents is expected to appoint a student union manager soon for the new building, who will direct the actual operation of the structure's facilities subject to the supervision of the student union committee, if they are approved.

A separate plan for placing the bookstore under the supervision of this committee was also approved by the Executive Board and will be submitted to the Regents soon.

Trip To Lewiston Planned By ASME

A field trip for undergraduates to the Potlatch sawmill at Lewiston will be discussed at a regular meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Monday evening at 7:00 in Engr. 104.

"Lubrication," is the title of a movie to be shown at the meeting. Election of A.S.M.E. officers will be discussed.

Bucket Survey Reveals More Room

By Orval Hansen

More elbow room is in prospect for the various ASUI functions as the addition to the Student Union building nears completion. Several offices have already been occupied, while staff members of Blot and the Gem are preparing to move in about a week.

Gale Mix, ASUI general manager, and his staff have moved into their new quarters on the north side of the first floor. Ken Hunter, publicity director, has also moved into his office in the same general area. Between the office of the general manager and that of the publicity director will be the office of Jim Lyle alumni secretary.

Arg In New Offices
In the northwest corner of the first floor are the editorial offices of the Idaho Argonaut, now being used by staff members. A third office to be located on the third floor will be used by "Arg" staff writers and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

A mailing room, located between the Argonaut office on the third floor and the general ASUI office, is equipped with machines to address and prepare material for mailing. Facilities of this room are to be used jointly by the Argonaut circulation staff, the publicity office, and the alumni office.

Foreign Customs Compared At Club

Social customs, etiquette, and manners of Norway, Paraguay and America were compared at the Cosmopolitan club program, Sunday, at the Campus club lounge. Tor Lyshaug, Victor Granada, and Larry Morrison gave the comparing views.

Frances Mision opened the program with a piano solo followed by a vocal solo by Marlene Hopkins. Swedish and Danish folk dances were also demonstrated.

Student Dance
Among the folk dance participants were John Blom, Margaret Stewart, Ed. Aschenbrener, Ann Harding, Jim Dunham, Delores Uris, Harry Isaman, and Genette Bertrand.

Approximately 60 guests and members were ushered by Ann Brooks and Tomas Tomasson. Special guests were Prof. Arthur Beattie and Mrs. A. W. Slipp, Moscow.

Eagle And Anchor Will Meet Sunday

Mrs. C. A. Chappell will be guest speaker for the Eagle and Anchor club meeting this Sunday in the NROTC ward room next to the Navy building at 3 p. m.

Birds On Display In Ad Building

Bird specimens, representing a twelve year collection made by students and staff members of the University zoology department, are now on display in the exhibit case in the library.

This collection includes well known song birds observed on the Idaho campus at different seasons of the year. There are also specimens of water fowl and owls.

Information on Hand
Paintings of exotic species of birds by the famous American artist Louis Agassiz Fuertes are featured in the display. Additional material includes several illustrated classics in ornithology, field guides, government publications and pictorial periodicals.

Supplementary information concerning birds is available in the library.

American Veterans Doubt Paris Gayety

By GENE M. JACKSON

Paris, France—Like the 1,700 other American veterans who are studying here this year, I want to know just what's so gay about Paris. I have tramped from the Bois de Boulogne to the Bois de Vincennes, from the top of the Tower Eiffel to the bottom of the catacombs. During the eight months that I have been here, I have met government dignitaries, influential business people, artists-to-be, artists-who-have-been, writers, entertainers, bums, and varied and sundry other types of characters.

So what's so gay about that? It can happen in any large city. What is it that makes Paris a Mecca for gay students?

Class Attendance Not Required
The schools are certainly not the reason. The French school system on the university level is practically non-existent in comparison with the American system.

In most French schools one lecture for each subject is given, a week in a lecture hall that is a cross between a barn and an ice-box. Since class attendance is not required, the hall is always at least one-third empty and usually much more. In one class the professor and I constitute a quorum.

Can Smoke in Class
Even the students that come don't seem particularly interested in the lecture. Those who don't wish to be disturbed by the speaker, always sit at the rear of the class room. The poor lighting (a few 60 watt bulbs twinkling like stars on a foggy night) somewhere in the upper stratus of the high ceilinged room, the haze of foul French cigarette smoke, (few professors have taken the trouble to protest against the student habit of smoking during lectures), plus the fact that all French lecturers seem to enjoy taking off their glasses and winking them about during their lectures, make it impossible for the prof' to see past the first three rows of seats.

There are no text books in French schools. The instructor suggests a bibliography of perhaps 20 books, of which 10 happen to be out of print, 3 are in some language other than French, and 7 are written by the instructor.

One Exam a Year
Examinations, oral as well as written, are given once at the end of each school year. This one week of examinations for the work of the entire year can have some odd effects on a person's nervous system. One American student had to be flown home in a strait-jacket at the end of the school year. It is not definitely known, however, if this was the results of the tests or the celebration parties after the tests.

Maxine Elliott, lovely songstress with Glenn Henry's orchestra, will be on hand tonight to sing a few songs with the orchestra for the dance in Memorial Gymnasium that ends Freshmen Week.

A Fool And His Money

Ben Franklin once observed that "a fool and his money are soon parted." His statement may well be applied to the billions of dollars now being distributed to sixteen million veterans in the form of insurance dividends.

Old Ben would likely turn over in his grave if he could see the flock of veterans who are standing in line to be fleeced by an army of professional gyps.

The show starts when the postman brings the dividend check. Swindlers swoop in from all sides with deals that you just can't afford to pass up. They are all selling bargains, and in each case you must act quickly lest this opportunity of a lifetime pass you by.

You will be told that you have been "selected" and that you should tell no one of your good fortune. If word got around then too many people would try to get in on the deal. But you're no dope. You got your money the hard way and are not in a hurry to see it slip away. On the other hand, you are watching for a wise investment opportunity and some of these propositions do sound enticing.

Where can you turn to find out whether or not a venture is sound? Who will be your friend and give you the straight facts?

You have a faithful friend in the Better Business Bureau. Ask the man with the bill of goods to wait until you can do some checking. If he is legitimate he will not mind waiting. If he is a fraud he will likely lose interest quickly.

Next, contact the Better Business Bureau. If they do not have the facts concerning your prospective investment, they will get them for you. This service is made available to you by legitimate business and is designed to protect you from fakes and frauds.

So . . . before you leap, look up the Better Business Bureau and play it safe.

Brosnan Suggests Pupils Be Prompt In Success Quest

"What can boys and girls do to become the very best citizens of the United States?" This was the query sent to Dr. C. J. Brosnan, Idaho history professor and author at the University of Idaho by young Lee Peterson of the Canyonside school at Jerome.

Lee explained that the fifth and sixth grades of his school "are on a treasure hunt for better citizenship, and we are filling our treasure chest with suggestions from successful citizens." These are the four suggestions that Dr. Brosnan sent today to Lee:

Pointers for Citizens
1. Get as much schooling as you can. Be punctual, regular in attendance, and acquire good habits for study and for doing your daily tasks.

2. Follow the advice of your parents. Your parents are the persons who have the deepest interest in you. Their interest will continue long after many persons you now know have forgotten you.

Friends Important
3. If your parents go to some church in your neighborhood, go to that church and to the Sunday School provided by that church. The churches of our country are on the right side of moral ques-

'Who's Who' Show Features Kinnison From 'Valley Isle'

Frank Kinnison, agricultural student, appeared as guest star on "Who's Who" on the Idaho campus over KUOI Monday evening.

Kinnison came to Idaho three years ago from the "Valley Isle," Maui, one of the eight inhabited Hawaiian Islands.

Centered on the current topic "Should Hawaii be Granted Statehood," interview questions discussed were as follows:

Statehood Discussed

(1) Are the people of Hawaii in favor of statehood?

(2) What will Hawaii gain when it becomes a state?

(3) How will statehood benefit the country as a whole?

"Who's Who" next Monday evening at 8:30 p. m. will feature Tomas Tomasson who will speak on social customs in Iceland.

(4) Choose good companions. Good companions will go with you to the right kind of places for work and play. They will help you to avoid bad habits. These good companions will later go with you to high school and college. They will be your friends when you become a successful citizen of the great tomorrow."

Atom Commission Offers Training In Special Field

Fellowship programs offering training in radiological physics to selected college graduates with degrees in basic science or engineering will be sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission for the academic year 1950-1951.

Two training programs which will be conducted under the administration of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies are:

1. At the University of Rochester, Rochester, New York, in cooperation with the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, Long Island.

2. At Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee.

Program appointments are accredited for graduate-level training leading toward an advanced degree. Appointments will be made for one year with a limited number of extensions granted if warranted by the progress and accomplishments of the fellow during his initial term. Completed applications must be received by March 20, 1950.

Applicants may indicate their choice of training center and, whenever possible, assignment will be made to the requested center. The annual basic stipend for fellows is $1550, with an increment of $500 for a wife and $250 for each of two dependents.

Requests for application blanks or for additional information may be obtained by writing Division of Biology and Medicine, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, 1901 Constitution Avenue, Washington 25, D.C.

WRA LIST

Members of the WRA basketball team will play women's teams from WSC at 9:00 a.m. and NICE at 10:00 a.m. this Saturday in the women's gym.

Results from this week's inter-mural tournament are as follows: Forney over Hays 2, Theta-Alpha over Alpha Phi, and Hays over DG.

Ping-pong and badminton tournaments are also now in progress.

Win Speech Honors

Preliminaries of Alpha Zeta—Ag club's extemporaneous speaking contest were held last night to choose two finalists in this part of the competition.

The two winners were Dale Grove Stallings and Hyde S. Jacobs. They will enter the finals March 28 as a part of the Ag club banquet in the Idaho Ad club.

Idaho Grads In Arts, Sciences Are Now On Road To Fame

The road to fame for more than a few big names in the fields of arts and sciences began with a degree from the College of Letters and Science at the University of Idaho.

Among the top flight men in their field who call Idaho their Alma Mater is Dr. J. A. Almqvist who graduated from Idaho in 1919 and went on to earn a Ph.D. at California. Dr. Almqvist worked several years with the United States Department of Agriculture then took a position with E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Co. At present he is head of the plastics division of the DuPont organization.

Bomb Expert
A more recent graduate, Shull Arms, left Idaho in 1935 and went to England with a Rhodes Scholarship. Upon completion of his work at Oxford, Arms remained in England where he played a prominent part in the British work on the atomic bomb.

Another Rhodes Scholar from the class of '23 is Phillip Ruck, author of several books, and now acting head of the department of political science at Stanford university.

Erma Lewis Cueva graduated in dramatics in 1938 and continued her studies at Pulitzer school, Columbia university, earning a master's degree in journalism. She has served as editor of "Romantic Stories" and the "Reynolds Review," an aluminum trade journal. Now a free lance writer, she contributes regularly to "Red Book," "This Week," "Good Housekeeping" and "Cosmopolitan."

Wrote 'Alma Mater'
Another successful writer, MacKintley Helm, left Idaho with a B. A. in 1917. He has produced several books including "After Pentecost," "Modern Mexican Painters," "Angel Mo' and Her Son," "A Matter of Love," and several others. A regular contributor to Atlantic Monthly, Helm wrote the words to his alma mater song "Here We Have Idaho."

One of the top names in the movie industry has a B. A., Idaho behind it. Talbot Jennings picked up his sheepskin in 1922 and headed for Hollywood where he has been a playwright and screen writer for M.G.M. and Paramount. His long list of scripts include such all time greats as "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Romeo and Juliet," "Anna and the King of Siam," "The Good Earth," and "Northwest Passage."

Also Rhodes Scholar
Ernest K. Lindley was captain of the Idaho basketball team and editor of the Argonaut before he left Idaho and went to England on a Rhodes Scholarship in 1920. He has achieved fame as a newspaper columnist and as Franklin Roosevelt's autobiographer. Lindley

Here's More About—Bucket Survey

Executive board meetings will be held in a special board room on the third floor. It is expected that other school boards such as the student-faculty council, discipline committee, and others will also use the board room for meeting purposes.

Adjoining the board room is the AWS office. Happy over the prospects of moving into their new quarters are members of the Gem staff who will shortly occupy two rooms in the northwest corner of the third floor. Blot staff members, too, will shortly move into their new third floor office to mark the first time in years that Blot has had a home of its own. Editor Marie Hargis is presently putting out the Blot from her office in the old clock room.

Adjoining the board room is the AWS office.

Sigma Chi Sweetheart
A member of the class of 1930, Dr. Clayton Loosli has become Professor of Medicine at the University of Chicago and director of the university health program. Dr. Loosli has attracted nationwide attention to his outstanding research work on the structure of the lung.

Among recent graduates who have begun the long trek to stardom, is Marion Wilson. Named "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" in 1942, she was selected by screen actress Helen Hayes as the only woman winner of the Barter Theater contest upon her graduation in 1945. Miss Wilson toured the country in 1947-48 with this group starring in "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Sigma Alpha Iota

Women pledged include Joan Parks, Gail Graham, Donna Brown, Bernice Bauer, Elizabeth Wilcox and Shirley Churchill.

PiPhi Holds Initiation Ball; Bush New Beta President

A miniature waterfall was the feature attraction of "March Magic," Pi Beta Phi's initiation dance. Walt Disney's "Fantasia" inspired the decorations.

Gene Bush was recently chosen president of Beta Theta Pi for the year of 1950-51.

Delta Tau Delta

Jane Pickman, Jo Ridener, Ann Price, Joan Mitchell, Don Mathews, Eddie Baker, Bob Quinley, Willis Ludlow, Bob Ridener, and Tom McGregor, on their way to the Spokane debate tournament were guests at the chapter house for dinner Wednesday. Debate coach, Leo Mathews, was also a guest at dinner. The Nampa students will return Saturday and again be guests of the chapter.

Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. Vera Bender and Ruth Van Engelen.

Pi Beta Phi

"March Magic" was portrayed at the initiation dance held at the chapter house Saturday evening. Pi Phis and their guests danced around a miniature water fall to the music of Russ Andre's combo. Decorations carried out a Walt Disney "Fantasia" theme with Chinese toadstools, Bambis trees and fish. Here's More About American

If the schools aren't so much, perhaps it is the living conditions that Uncle Sammy's boys can afford on $75 a month that brings so many of them over here. Don't believe it. That dorm or frat room of yours may not be much, but it is heaven to what you could afford in Paris. For $20 a month here, if you are lucky, you can find a room that is fairly light and only up 4 or 5 flights of stairs.

Troubles Too Of course, it will be about 20 degrees cooler than you are used to, the bed will feel as if it were stuffed with corn cobs, and one 60 watt lamp will be the only light, but other than that it will be fine, (except that the sink will stop up continuously, there will not be any bathing facilities, and only an occasional dribble of luke warm water will come from the hot water faucet).

A La Duncan Hines

Paris restaurants, long applauded by the severest of critics, are up to their old standards, but they have stayed right at the crest of the inflationary wave. Most Americans have adopted the French fashion of cooking breakfast and snacks in their rooms on alcohol burners, (electric hot plates, irons and radios, aren't allowed in hotels.) The popularity of one hardy soul slipped drastically after he started storing his food, including camembert cheese, in the same drawer as his shirts!

Restaurant prices, inflated though they may be, are still not as high as those of the U.S. An adequate meal with 2 glasses of wine in a crummy restaurant can be had for $75. In another resaurant a meal fit for a king can be had for $2.75. This includes a dish such as Tournefos, (prime beef, similar in cut to tenderloin, 1 to 2 inches thick, covered with pate de foie, and cooked in a rich brown sauce,) plus all the fixings from soup to coffee and cognac, served faultlessly, accompanied with a quart of good red wine.

Here is truly a source of Parisian joy, but since most G.I.'s are limited to about a dollar a day for food, it is a rare occasion when they can get into one of these better restaurants.

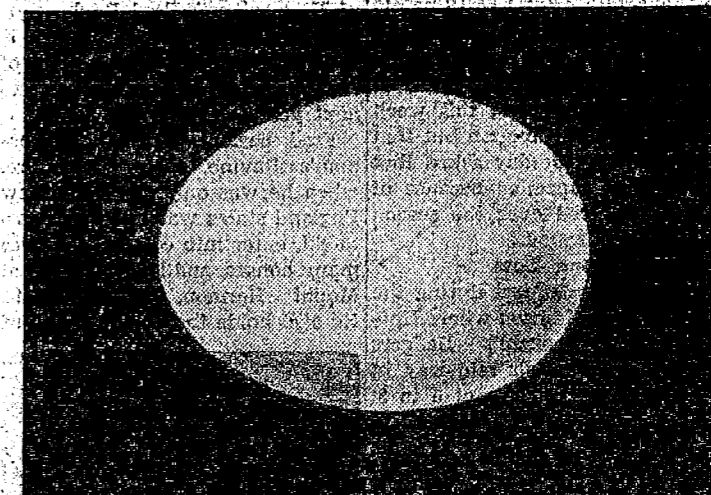

Nightlife for the student is centered around small bars and large beer halls. In the student quarters around Saint Germaine des Pres and Montparnasse, a night spent in a cafe can mean anything from a session of American folk ballads sung by some nostalgic G. I. to an introduction to J. P. Sartre, himself. Bertrand Russell dropped in at one of the small smoky cafes for coffee after giving a lecture here the other evening, but was hardly noticed by the students who were too busy discussing their work or their troubles to be disturbed by a mere celebrity.

These are some of the gay, the interesting, and the not so gay things of Paris. Most G. I.'s who come to find the joy of Paris go home after the first year. They go home because Paris is not as great as it is cracked up to be when you have nearly as little money as the Frenchmen around you. They find that the bright part of Paris life when added up with the material disadvantages comes out with a minus sign. They go home still asking themselves, "What really is so gay about Paris?"

Three things happen when earnings go to work

There has been a growing need in the West for wax... the kind used on milk cartons, bread wrappers and containers of other foods and drugs you buy.

To fill this need, Standard of California recently completed a plant which refines excellent wax from petroleum. The plant cost $3,500,000; the money came out of earnings—or profits—and here's what it meant to you:

Better protected and packaged products, of course. More jobs for construction workers in building the plant; steady employment for the men who work in it today. More sales for small businesses because the money paid to the workers involved has naturally spread to the grocer, the department store, the doctor and every other business and profession.

This is one example—a 3½ million dollar example—of how earnings are put to work and keep our economy running. There are many others, for Standard of California has spent more than $500,000,000 just since the war for plants and facilities to serve you better.

EWCE Contest Cancelled; Vandals Finish Scheduled Dual Meet Winning Six

Spokane Invitational champion Vandal boxers, winners of six out of seven dual meets this season, have concluded dual meets for the season and now head into final training before two all important tournaments.

First, the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championships at Sacramento March 23, 24 and 25, will see Idaho defending the conference crown won last year. The second will be NCAA championships at Penn State. Last season Idaho finished fourth in the latter event with a total of 13 points trailing the winning club, Louisiana State.

Originally the Vandals were to have had a dual meet this week with Eastern Washington but that institution on Tuesday asked that the meet be cancelled because of injuries suffered over the season by the EWCE squad.

Lone Loss
Only dual meet lost during the season was at Madison where University of Wisconsin's Badgers dropped the Vandals mid-way in the season to the tune of 5 to 3. The squad record now stands as follows:

- Jan. 23 — Idaho 7, Eastern Washington 1.
- Jan. 20 — Idaho 6, Gonzaga University 2.
- Jan. 27 — Idaho 5, Washington State 3.
- Feb. 11 — Idaho 7, Washington State 1.
- Feb. 17 — Idaho 3, Wisconsin 5.
- Feb. 24 — Idaho 3, Gonzaga University 3.
- March 1, 2 — Idaho 27, WSC 16, Gonzaga 21, EWCE 0.
- March 11 — Idaho 6½, Eastern Washington 1½.

Dual meet total — 39½ to 16½.

Accompanists were Keith Forney, Gail Graham, and Greta Beck.

Vandal Portraits

By J. H.

Undefeated by any American in collegiate jumping (but by plenty of Norwegians,) Fred Boyle, captain of the Vandal Ski Team, is finishing his sixteenth year of skiing and is looking forward to next year.

Fred began skiing at Tuckerman's Ravine, New Hampshire, when he was only six. The New England states watched him learn to ski, enter into competition, win many honors, and lead his team at Mount Hermon, Massachusetts. He still holds the downhill record at Deerfield in that state and the jumping record at Mount Hermon.

Placed High at Spokane

Just a few weeks ago found Fred in gay spirits over winning sixth place honors in the Pacific Northwest Ski Association's meet held at Spokane. Those who placed ahead of him were all Norwegians. After two successful years skiing for the Vandals, Fred says he will be back next year although he plans on entering Olympic tryouts during the year. He will ski in the classic combined category which consists of jumping and cross country skiing. Lets hope the luck of the Irish is with him then. Surprisingly enough, this Irishman gets along very well with the rest of the team, all Norwegians.

Although Fred was born in Lincoln, New Hampshire, he likes the West very much, especially Idaho. He is a sophomore majoring in forestry and he has indicated that he is more interested in skiing than in studying about the trees.

The jumping hill at Snoqualmie Pass, Washington, near Seattle, will be used by Fred this week end to gain more honors for Idaho. This is the last meet of the season

Utah Teams Added As Grid Opponents

Vandal footballers will meet University of Utah and Utah State Agricultural college in football in the coming four years, according to an announcement made here today by Gale L. Mix, general manager for the AUSI and secretary of the Faculty Athletic committee. Mix said games had been agreed upon for the next four years with Utah and for a two game series beginning in 1952 with Utah State.

"Idaho will open the 1950 football season against Utah in Boise on September 23," said Mix. "In 1951 the Vandals will play Utah in Salt Lake City on Nov. 29, Thanksgiving Day. The 1952 game again will be in Boise and the 1953 contest in Sit Lake."

The Utah State series will open in 1952 in Logan, Utah and the following year Utah State will come to Boise.

The Utah football series is resumed after the two teams ran into schedule difficulties and did not play in 1949. Idaho has not played Utah State since 1941.

Football games with the two Utah institutions are the results of efforts to secure opponents from states adjacent to the Vandals to fill out the regular Pacific Coast Conference schedule.

Utah and Idaho have met 14 times on the gridiron with Idaho winning five and tying one. Utah State has been Idaho's opponent eight times with the Vandals winning five and two games were tied.

The two teams did not meet during war years but resumed football relations in 1947 with a game at Boise. In that contest the Utah team was one of the seven undefeated, untied teams in the nation and Idaho upset all the experts with a 13 to 6 victory. In 1948 the Vandals moved to Salt Lake City and in a night game lost 21 to 6. There has been a heavy demand both in southern Idaho and in Utah for the resumption of football rivalry between the two institutions.

Evenly Matched

Idaho-Utah State gridiron clashes have always been close exciting affairs. The two teams met yearly from 1936 through 1941 and in that period two of the games were scoreless ties. Utah State's only victory in the series came in 1936, 10 to 0. The 1937 and the 1940 games were scoreless. Over that period Idaho's greatest margin of victory was the 16 to 0 game of 1941.

First Practice Tilt On Vandal Slate In Lewiston Today

Baseball spring training will jump from the conditioning to the revealing phase this afternoon—weather permitting. Vandal baseballers journey to Lewiston today for their pre-conference opener against North Idaho college of education.

Rain soaked up the NICE diamond yesterday afternoon and whether the contest will come off as scheduled depends on the weatherman.

Assistant coach Joe Grove has arranged to take a 25 man squad to the "Banana Belt" city. Sophomore pitcher Lloyd Schiller gets the starting nod against the Loggers and Bob Linck will be on the receiving end.

Idaho batting order will probably read: Tobe Masingill, second base; Glenn Darnell, center field; Rod Grider, third base; Harold Hunter, left field; Don Harrison, right field; Bob Linck, catcher; Herb Millard, shortstop; Charles Choules, first base; and Schiller on the mound. Ozzie Kannjkeberg, Don Hunt, Cless Hinckley and Bob Pritchett fill out the hurling staff.

Also making the trip are James Atchison, Bill Bremmer, Van Eriggs, Melvin Brown, Jim Hatch, Richard Merrill, Everett Rice, Ed Riley, Joe Zavenzky and manager, Frank Reich.

Fencers Defeated At WSC Tourney

A large crowd turned out to see WSC's Cougars win a triangular fencing contest between WSC, Gonzaga, and Idaho in Bolder gymnasium Saturday, March 11.

Ed Holt, Walt Ward, and Bob Munson representing Idaho, met the Zags in the tournament's first round. Gonzaga came out on top with a score of 5-1.

In the second match WSC narrowly defeated Gonzaga with a score of 5-4.

Idaho missed their chance to tie up the entire tournament in the third match, dropping the victory to WSC by a score of 5-4. Idaho was ahead of the Cougars by a 4 to 2 margin, but was unable to score one more bout during the remainder of the contest. In two of the last three individual bouts the Vandals lost by only one "touch".
