PCC Boxing Champions Leave Tonight For NCAA Bouts

Three Plays Start Tonight In U-Hut

Curtain time for three one-act plays written by Betty Peters, junior drama major, is scheduled for 8:00 tonight in the U-hut studio theatre.

The political pot is again boiling on the campus.

Elections are still a month away but both parties must consider now the candidates they will run for office and plan their campaigns.

Yesterday the Independent paper announced three candidates for ASUI president. Thursday night the Independent student will select one from these three to represent them in the general elections, through a primary system set up last year by the Independent Caucus.

Sometime this week the United party will start the ball rolling to select their candidate for ASUI president. They will use a preferential ballot.

Nominate Soon

A little later both parties will select their candidates for the nine other positions on the ASUI Executive Board, student governing body. Elections will be held the last week of April.

For the past three years Jason has watched these events transpire. He has too often watched students idly by during this period only to become the bitterest "grippers" later when they thought something was wrong.

"Grippers" have never learned the lesson that they must act now, or later hold their peace. It can theoretically be assumed that the person elected should represent the views of those who elected him, for they comprise the majority.

Every student will do well to remember that if he takes no part, pro or con in the elections of your leaders, he will have no real right to do or say anything about how they administer student government later.

The political system at Idaho, like that of most other colleges and universities, is maintained with competition between Independent and United parties. The Independent party comprises students who live in dormitories and halls. The United party is composed of students who live in Greek letter houses.

Do Your Part

In Jason's mind this is the only logical way which two parties of nearly equal size could be set up on the campus. No issues are of a permanent enough nature to warrant a separation on that basis, partly because of the rapid turnover of student bodies.

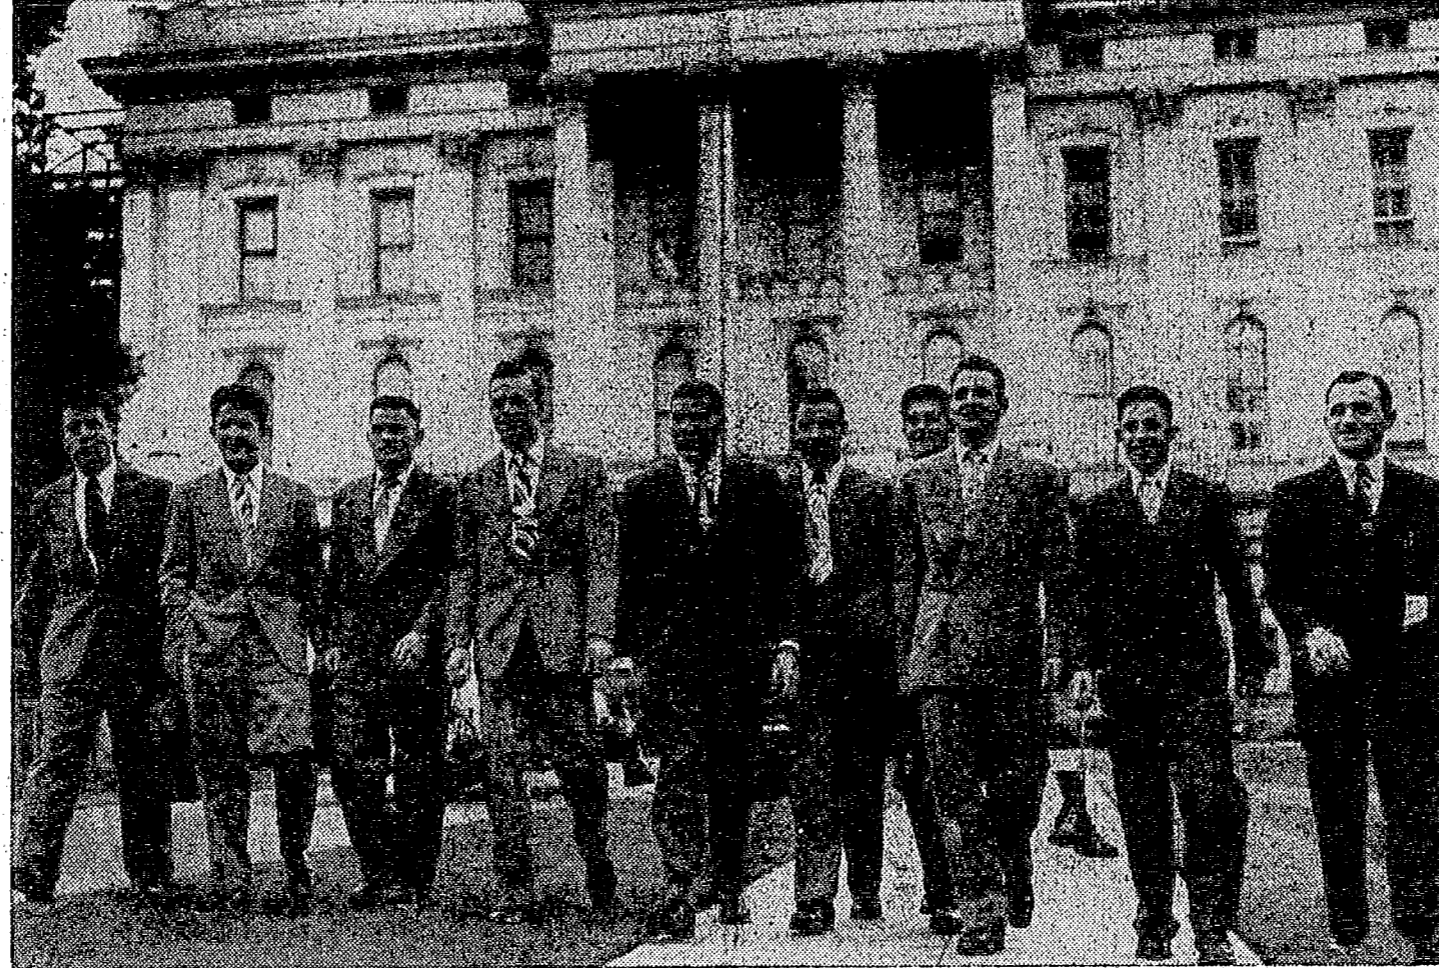

However each student should remember that this system was set up as a matter of expediency, so that our democratic two-party system could operate. It is not, nor ever was meant to denote that where a student lived should determine his beliefs or worth.

As in any system, the candidate should be considered primarily for his proven ability and probable potential, only secondarily for his affiliations. It's up to you.

Executive Board

Agenda for the ASUI Executive Board meeting tonight includes: Judiciary committee report. All-University Day plans. Selection of Judges for Campus competitive events. Placement Cards.

Vandal Boxers Leave California Capitol Building

The Idaho Vandal boxing squad, recently crowned Pacific Coast boxing champions for the second straight year, are shown leaving the California state capitol building in Sacramento which they visited before heading for home.

Five Vandals Battle In Penn State Meet

By Ken Hunter

University of Idaho boxers, after successfully defending the team boxing championship last week-end in Pacific Coast Intercollegiate championships at Sacramento, returned to the campus late Sunday afternoon.

Idaho Dames Club Will Present Show Tomorrow Night

The Idaho Dames club, and children will present their annual spring tea and style show for the women's faculty club and other guests at 8 tomorrow night in the Faculty club.

A five-act pantomime featuring a dream sequence will be arranged for the event. Two complete sets will show a Dame in Vet's Village dreaming of living in another world after that sheepskin is safely in the drawer.

Assisting Mrs. Backus are Laurel Campbell and Bobi Fearn. Lighting effects will be arranged by Phyllis Grove and Delste Pittard.

Opening of bids on a new three-story structure, which will give the university one of the most modern music buildings in the Northwest was set for April 27.

As focal point of musical activity on the campus, this building will face the Ad building from the east. With exception of a few large activities, all musical events will be held in the building.

Although the new building will be modern inside, its exterior will be of Gothic design," said President J. E. Buchanan.

The University Dames wish to thank the Parisian, Peggy's Hat Shop, Mac's Furniture, Scott's Flower shop, and the Idahoonian for cooperation in presenting this affair.

The tourney was attended by Idaho State College, Northern Idaho College of Education, College of Idaho, Ricks college, and the University of Idaho.

ISC had winners in all brackets except senior men's debate. They tied with Ricks college in junior division.

Six rounds of debate were required of each team and the only team to come out with six wins in senior division was a women's team speaking for the College of Idaho.

The teams tying for first place in the senior men's division were each charged with one loss. In a three way tie in junior division, two ISC teams and one Ricks' team went undefeated throughout the tournament.

Lake and Holt also tied for third in extemporaneous speaking. The next scheduled trip for the university's debaters will be to Missoula, Montana sometime in April.

The only individual champion in the Vandal squad was Herb Carlson, 165 pounds. Carlson battered his way to become the only collegian in coast ring history to win four individual titles.

After Carlson scored a technical knockout in the third round of his title fight with Raul Diez, San Jose State, clinching the team crown for Idaho, 4500 fans, almost to a man, stood and gave him a rousing round of applause.

Idaho had four finalists in the last round of the card. Frankie Echevarria at 125 pounds ran into Tartar in Mac Martinez, San Jose. Martinez was too ring wise and carried a rugged countenance safely through three rounds of the hottest fighting the tournament had seen.

That win put San Jose ahead for the first time in the tournament 22 to Idaho's 20, and there the score stood until the Carlson-Diez fight in the 165-pound class.

The second fight of the evening saw a howling, boating crowd of fans nearly halt proceedings when Jim Reilly, Gonzaga, was given the nod over DeForest Tovey, Idaho, in the 130-pound final.

Tovey had forced the fighting throughout, had landed more telling blows, had knocked Reilly to his knees in the final frame, and yet judges awarded Reilly every round. Newspaper and radio men hailed Tovey as the actual winner.

"In our opinion Tovey, Idaho, won every round over Reilly. It was the worst decision in the three nights of the tournament. Reilly looked good in the center of the ring, but he just stood there. Tovey was the aggressor throughout."

Liar's Contest Ends Friday; Get Your Big Entry In Now

Only four more days left to enter the Argonaut Liar's contest! All entries must be in the Arg office or in the mail by noon Friday.

Independents Pick Primary Nominees

Vern Bahr, Sonnich Sonnichsen, and Ralph Fothergill were named at the Independent Caucus meeting last Thursday evening to appear on the Independent primary ballots for ASUI president.

Moscow merchants have donated still more merchandise to make the contest a more interesting affair—and the winners wealthier people. Two winners will be named, one co-ed and one man. Over $75.00 worth of merchandise will be appropriately divided between the two of them.

Hyde Jacobs was chosen chairman of the election committee, with Rae Salisbury, Bruce Wormald, Margaret Sullivan, Bonnie Shuldberg, and Jerry McKee assisting.

Preferential voting is done on these ballots. The system was inaugurated by last year's Independent Caucus to obtain a more democratic representation on the students' choice for Independent presidential nominee.

Spinster's Skip Will Be Saturday In Women's Gym

Saturday night is the date set for Mortar Board's all campus, 1950 Spinster Skip, in the Women's gym at 9 p.m. Fyv Pratts orchestra will provide music for the annual informal affair at which women pay all bills for the evening.

Tickets are on sale in all women's living groups at 1.50 per couple and will also be sold at the door. Because the Skip is an evening dance this year, men will call for their dates, thus eliminating traditional "hazing" customs.

Prizes will be awarded to the men wearing the most original corsages constructed by women for their dates. Judges for the corsage contest will be Acting Dean and Mrs. C. O. Decker and Mrs. Boyd Martin.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Martin, Dean and Mrs. C. O. Decker, Miss Jean Collette, and Dean Louise Carter. "April Showers" will be the decorations theme.

Necessity Of Understanding World Federalism Imminent

War has been imminent or actively existent in the world for longer than any of us now alive can remember. In an effort to put a stop to this eternal hostility between nations, the United World Federalists adopted basic beliefs, purposes and policies, November 13, 1948. These measures were adopted to support the United Nations organizations and to eventually obtain genuine world government. The U.W.F. is a national organization and is represented by a group on the Idaho campus. Since "they also serve who only stand and wait," The Argonaut feels an informed student body will be better able to defend or criticize such a movement, either choice being more desirable than passively adding unintelligent bulk to the strongest movement that comes along, be that what it may.

I. Similar to the United States Federal government, a world government will have three governmental branches: legislative, executive, and judiciary.

II. Membership: Participation in the world federal government should be open at all times to all nations without the right of secession.

III. Reservation of Powers: All powers not expressly delegated to the world federal government should be reserved to the nations and their peoples, thus leaving each nation its choice of its own domestic political, economic, social and religious institutions.

IV. Enforcement of World Law: World law should be enforceable directly upon individuals.

V. Balanced Representation: Representation in the legislative body should be determined upon a just formula recognizing all relevant factors such as population, economic development, educational level and others, each representative to vote as an individual.

VI. Bill of Rights: The world constitution should include a bill of rights assuring equal and adequate protection to persons affected by the constitution and laws of the world federal government.

VII. Revenue: The world federal government should have authority to raise dependable revenue under a carefully defined and limited but direct taxing power independent of national taxation.

VIII. Amendments: Reasonable provisions should be made for amendment of the constitution.

Nations will be allowed to arm sufficiently for the retention of civil peace, but beyond this armaments end. Infractions of this law will require direct action on the part of the world government directed against the specific individuals concerned. A world standing army will also be conscripted from the different nations of the world, on a proportional basis to be determined at a later date, to be ready in case of open war in any part of the globe.

A SOVEREIGN power exists today in all countries, a control over physical coercion, within which all internal disputes are settled. U.W.F. wishes individual nations to transfer their so-called absolute sovereignty to a higher single authority, thus relegating their power to establish armies, build war machines, etc., to the world power. Domestic affairs will still be handled by each government however. In such a situation, responsibility for maintaining peace is transferred to world government, thus providing a more protective sovereignty than now exists. In effect, the relationship between countries would be similar to that between Idaho and Washington, or Nevada and Utah, ad infinitum throughout the 48 states.

Goff Addresses IRC At Recent Meet

Abe Goff, former Idaho congressman, addressed the IRC meeting last Thursday evening, speaking on communism in the United States government.

First giving a history of the House un-American activities committee, methods of working, and arguments for and against such a committee, Goff ended with an enlightening review of the Hiss case, and more recent charges by Senator McCarthy.

Former President Of University Dies

Dr. Melvin Amos Brannon, former president of the University of Idaho, died recently at the age of 84 in Gainesville, Florida.

Fourth Idaho president, Dr. Brannon succeeded James A. McLean in 1914. He served during the early days of World War I and was succeeded by Ernest H. Lindley in 1917.

Formerly president of Beloit college, and chancellor of the University of Montana, Dr. Brannon organized the school of medicine at the University of North Dakota and was author of several books on marine and fresh water plant life.

Chemical Engineers See Spokane Plants

Several industrial plants in Spokane and vicinity were visited by the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers last Friday.

The group visited the Mead aluminum plant of the Kaiser reduction and chemical corporation, which has a greater output capacity now than in the entire nation before the war. In addition they visited the Inland Empire paper mill at Millwood, Washington, which produces a hundred tons of paper per day in a variety of products. They also toured the Phillips oil company refinery in Spokane.

Japanese Artwork

Japanese wood block prints which were brought from Japan by Ken Goldsberry, art student, are being displayed in the Art building this week. Abstractions by modern Japanese artists make up the display. Landscapes from the original blocks of Hirose Ando, great Japanese wood block artist, are being shown in this exhibit.

And there was the Alpha Chi Omega which was so dumb she thought a waitress was a female goat.

Dear Jason

(Ed. Note: The opinions expressed in letters to the editor do not necessarily reflect the opinion or policy of this paper but are only the views given by the individual writers. Dear Jason is space reserved for students or groups wishing to air their own personal opinions on pertinent subjects.

Dear Jason: Open Letter to all Campus Honoraries: In the midst of our struggle to spread democracy and fight against discrimination here and abroad, one of the best examples of discrimination and deceit can be found in our so-called honoraries. These honoraries are actually false fronts for certain cliques and narrow-minded members who have a constitution of good democratic ideals to show the public that they are completely "open and above any unscrupulous activities."

These organizations gladly tell anyone that they are looking for "eligible" new members and that if certain requirements are met, anyone will be tapped. They fail to add that you must have the same ideals and be willing to do extra favors for them, if you are to be asked to join. They fail to also add that you must be of a certain kind of major such as Accounting instead of an Econ or Ag Ed. instead of a Dairy. Included among their pet discriminations is that of being Greek or Independent.

Honoraries do have a definite place on our campus and could perform excellent supplements to our education. They do not adhere to their ideals of their constitution nor do they offer the opportunities that they could and should.

If the members of our campus honoraries can be awakened to this challenge of completely democratic organizations, they will discard the clause of requiring members to vote their approval of incoming membership and replace it with membership for all who meet the basic requirements of their constitutions.

Signed Jack Trautman

Dear Jason: What intelligence! What style! What in heck is Karl Klages trying to put over in his article, "Sports Reporter Describes Scene in Boxing Gym." His unreal "realistic" style of writing portrays our boxing squad as uneducated masses of brawn.

We quote one of the more intelligent speeches, "what do you got to worry about?" Not only is this a slam against our English department, but considering the fact that Argonauts are distributed to all parts of the state, it seems like darn poor (and false) publicity for a grand bunch of fighters.

P. S. We assume from this article our graduating senior fighters have all flunked their English ability exam!

Movies Scheduled At AIEE Meeting

A meeting is scheduled for the American Institute of Electrical engineers tonight at 7:15 p.m. in the engineering building room 202. Movies entitled "Bonnieville Power" and "Jets" will be shown.

"Rampant Lady" Returns

An ancient Civil war cannon, which they christened the "Rampant Lady," has been returned to Pine hall's lawn by a group of enterprising students. She made her first appearance in front of the largest living quarters on the campus last year but disappeared during the summer months. Many of the new students at Pine this year knew nothing of the old cannon, but the returning men remembered her and determined to repossess her. Students who found her said she was located "atop a lonely hill, in the early dawn last week." She now fills a barren spot on the green field in front of the five-winged dormitory.

'For The Living' Tells Girl's Story

Telling the story of a little girl, wiser than her parents, that recognized symptoms of cancer in her grandmother and thus helped to save a life, is the theme of the latest "For the Living" program, to be heard over KUOI tonight at 10:00.

With Edward G. Robinson in the starring role, this broadcast tells about the power of X-ray, competently administered, as a cure for cancer in its early stages.

Cancer Drive

The program is being presented by KUOI, in cooperation with the American Cancer Society, as a public service. Special music, directed by Hollywood's Lyn Murray, has been composed by Castelnovo Tedesco. The script is the work of radio writer, Hu Chain.

"For the Living" has been prepared as part of the American Cancer Society's constant drive to educate the American public to the dangers of cancer. Figures show that one out of every two families is hit by this dread killer, second largest taker of lives among all diseases.

The program's primary message is that cancer can be cured if detected early enough and the victim seeks immediate medical aid. It also stresses that only three weapons are known to be effective against cancer — surgery, radium and X-ray.

CROP SEEDS VALUE

Idaho's clover and alfalfa seed crops last year were valued at more than $7,000,000 according to figures of the bureau of agricultural economics.

Ag Students Queen Deposit Transfers On Rooms Possible To Be Introduced At Annual Dinner

College of agriculture students, faculty members, their wives, and dates will meet tonight at 6:30 in the Idaho Ad club for the annual Ag banquet.

Highlight of the evening will be the introduction of Little International queen finalists by Dave Thacker, manager of this year's show. Hyde Jacobs and Dale Sallings will also vie for top honors in the Ag club-Alpha Zeta extemporaneous speaking contest. Judging the talks will be Dr. A. E. Whitehead, Dr. G. R. Woodbury, and W. P. Lehrer.

Dr. H. W. Steffens and Archie Harney, are also scheduled to address the group. They will be introduced by John Turnbull, Ag club president. Shirley Jacobsen and Jeanne Foster will entertain.

Dean D. R. Theophilus will present judging team awards to members of the teams which participated in the intercollegiate judging contests last fall at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

Tickets will be available at the door at $1.50 per plate, according to Francis Flerchinger, chairman.

A pinch of salt is greatly improved by dropping it into a mug of beer.

WSC Wins One Bout
Norm Walker, Idaho, was never able to catch up with Ev Conley, WSC, in the 135-pound final. It was more of a foot race than a ring match. Conley was clever in his counters and knew the power of Walker's punches. He stayed completely away.

At this point San Jose had three men left in contention, one of which was to meet Carlson. It appeared that Idaho's hopes would have to depend solely on the blond battler from Wallace. These hopes were not unfounded.

Diez had won a questionable decision over Carlson last year in a dual meet at San Jose and Herb was out to erase that as well as to put his mates out in front again. Carlson, throughout the first two rounds, showed himself a masterful and clever boxer, as well as a sharp hitter. Diez tried to force the fighting but never could quite get in control. But the entire picture as well as the audience nearly went crazy in the third round.

Ref Halls Herb's Fight
Carlson charged across the ring, met Diez coming from his corner and never let up. He peppered both the body and the head of the Californian until Diez' head bobbed and nodded like a stalk of wheat in a high wind. Herb never could quite floor the rugged Diez but when the referee halted things after 1:20 in that round Diez wobbled to Carlson's corner instead of his own. Carlson half-carried him to the proper spot.

Cepl Maxey, Gonzaga lightweight-heavyweight, made certain that Idaho would win the team title by outpointing Don Scheaffer, the last San Josean in the tournament.

After the fighting the tournament committee met and recommended five Vandals for NCAA championships this week-end at Penn State. These were Echevarria, Tovey, the two Walker brothers and Carlson. They will leave here tonight with Coach Young by air.

Idaho was the only team to fly to the coast tournament. The Idaho squad was well received at Sacramento and their victory drew many favorable comments from writers and fans alike - a tribute to the members and their coach.

In 1946, Hoyt left the Oregonian to become publisher of the Denver Post. Business Week magazine, which featured Hoyt on its cover, pointed out that Colorado boosters claim he is "one of the best things that has happened to the state since Pike's Peak."

A loyal Westerner, Hoyt once remarked that "it's a good thing the East Coast was discovered first. If the Pacific Coast had been settled originally, no one would have wanted to go East." As far as Hoyt is concerned, Denver is part of the Pacific Coast.

In the first World War, Hoyt served in the AEF as a sergeant major. In the second, he headed the domestic branch of the OWI.

Aggies Use Elbow Grease Reading Stock For Show

Idaho's farm buildings are once again beginning to buzz with activity as College of Agriculture students work overtime with combs, clippers and scrub brushes preparing livestock for the 24th annual Little International livestock show. The show, managed this year by Dave Thacker, is scheduled for the entire week of April 24 to 30, in the university field-house.

Ranging from price forecasting to fitting and showing animals, a total of 27 contests are included in the 1950 program. First place winners from 1949 are in charge of this year's divisions.

Show Is Valuable
"Whether the contestant shows a prime fat steer, judges poultry or identifies seed grains, he or she is getting some down-to-earth practical know-how of what it takes to be a farmer these days," stated C. W. Hickman, animal husbandryman. "Participation in the annual show creates interest and stimulates good work. These contests provide valuable experience and training for future activities in the many fields of agriculture."

Learning to fit and show fat stock and breeding animals prepare the future farmers to handle and manage various classes of livestock, Hickman also pointed out. The value of this training is to be able to dress sheep, beef, swine and dairy cattle in their "Sunday best" when they are for sale, he says.

Prizes Awarded
Horticulture, poultry judging, handling farm implements, judging dairy products, seed judging and identification, marketing and grading of grain, and livestock judging are other features of the Little International program.

Participants fitting and showing livestock draw for their animals five weeks before the show. Then they spend long hours of preparation working with the animals. The show is student-sponsored and a trophy is awarded to the contestant earning the most points for the entire week. Winners in each division also receive medals, ribbons, and other prizes.

Students Will Vie
Idaho's agriculture students first thought of having a livestock show when a course in fitting and showing horses was offered in 1923. The first show was presented the following year, patterned after the International Exposition in Chicago and the Pacific International at Portland. Since its beginning the show has grown from a one-day affair to a week-long exposition. Contests are set for each morning and afternoon of the show week, climaxed with a parade and an evening show in the field house on the final day.

Vandal 125-Pounder Gets His Man

UCLA's Robert Coyle was on the mat before the crowd knew there was a fight going on. A new record was set by Idaho's Frankie Eschevarria when he knocked his opponent out of action in 52 seconds of the first round Friday evening. Sportswriters have dubbed Eschevarria "the bounding basque from Blackfoot." The following evening he lost a decision to veteran Mac Martinez of San Jose State.

NICE Loggers Drop Idaho Vandal Portraits

By Karl Klages

It is difficult to hit a curve ball the first few times you face one. It's even more difficult to powder one if you haven't watched a curve break for an entire season. Idaho baseballers more than learned that point Friday afternoon when they dropped a double-header to North Idaho College of Education, 4-1 and 5-0. Both contests were seven inning practice affairs played at Harris Field in Lewiston.

The two clubs will meet again in the "Banana Belt city" tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting. The game is a make-up of a scheduled tilt rained out last week. Snow, sleet, rain and mud have been the biggest setback to the Idaho squad this spring. Unfavorable weather has held the Vandals in the gym and field house for the past few weeks. In fact, the two Lewiston games marked the second time Idaho had been on the diamond since they began turning out four weeks ago.

Pitchers Do Well

There was no fault in Vandal pitching, however, for the delivery boys all turned in creditable performances.

Sophomore Lloyd Schiller started on the mound for Idaho in the first game and pitched three innings. While he was in there, Schiller allowed four hits, walked three and struck out three.

Cless Hincley took over in the fourth and blanked NICE batters the rest of the game. The big sophomore faced twelve Loggers, struck out seven, walked one and gave up one hit.

Lone Hit

At the plate, first baseman Joe Zavensky blasted out the only Vandal hit of the ball game. Zavensky lined a double into center field in the fifth frame.

Idaho 1 1 2
NICE 5 5 2
Bob Pritchett, a converted first baseman, took over mound duties for Idaho in the second game. Bob hurled four frames, gave up three hits and fanned out three.

Ozzie Kannikeberg marched out to the hill in the fifth and held Logger bats to a single hit. Ozzie struck out two and issued two bases on balls.

Scattered Binges

Idaho bats made a little more noise in the second contest. Harold Hunter opened for Idaho in the second with a single. Bob Pritchett and Tobe Masingill followed in the third inning with one base blows and Jim Hatch wound up the afternoon with a single in the seventh.

Idaho 0 4 3
NICE 4 4 2
Assistant coach Joe Grove will take another 25 man squad to Lewiston for the Wednesday game. Probable batting order for Idaho will include: Tobe Masingill, second base; Glenn Darnall, center field; Rod Grider, third base; Jim Hatch or Don Harrison, right field; Joe Zavensky or Charles Choules, first base; Don Hunter or Perry, left field, and Herb Millard or Nick Stallworth at shortstop. Stallworth has been hampered with a sprained ankle. Bob Linck or Dick Merrill will be scheduled for duty behind the plate. Grove did not announce his starting pitcher.

Others Place

Coach Smith was also pleased with the showing of team members Bill Shaw who placed second in tumbling, George Peterson who took a fifth in the side horse and parallel bars, Jim Moore who followed Farmer on the tumbling mats to garner fourth, and Jack Harris who placed fourth on the trampoline.

Shrine Tilt Pictures Are Now Available

A 15 minute highlight film of the 25th annual East-West football game has been added to Tide Water Associated Oil Company's film libraries in the west. This full color, 16 mm. sound film, presents colorful and exciting moments from both the pageant and the game.

This is a fine opportunity for people in this area to see Idaho's representative, Carl Killsgaard, in action.

Such famous players as Leon Hart, Lynn Chadnois, Clayton Tonemaker, Eddie LeBaron, Dick McKissack, Lindy Berry and many others can also be seen.

Sport fans in clubs, schools and other organizations may obtain the film, on a loan basis, free of charge, through local Associated offices.

Swordsmen Place Two In Tourney

Three fencing teams answered University of Idaho swordsmen's invitation to attend the Northwest Intercollegiate Individual open foil fencing meet here Saturday.

Four men represented Idaho, 5 WSC, and 3 Gonzaga. Idaho's team consisted of Val Yurchenco, Bob Munson, Walt Ward and Denny Bryan.

"Of the 4 Munson and Yurchenco placed in the finals. Yurchenco took third while team mate Munson placed fourth.

WSC Man Wins

WSC's Vern Ritter was top man in the meet. Gonzaga's Herb Denry came in second.

Directors were Morrie Castle and Ray Weston.

Members of the team were pleased that a surprisingly large turnout was in Memorial gym stands for the competition.

Future meets are planned including Spokane Fencers' club there April 21, and Gonzaga there April 22. A tentative meet with WSC hasn't been dated yet.

Wildlife Exams Are Open Now

Civil service examinations were announced last week for wildlife management biologist, fishery management biologist, and biologist (federal aid supervisor), and for research psychologist.

Applicants must have completed an appropriate college course or have had four years of appropriate experience. In addition they must have had from one to three years professional experience in their particular field of work.

No written test is required for these examinations. The age limits, 18 to 62 years, will be waived for persons entitled to veteran preference.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from Robert Webster, main post office, Moscow.

This year Herb heads into the National tournament aiming for his third National title. Last year as a junior he dropped the crown. His showing in the coast tourney should be evidence that he is a strong threat to regain it.

Don Stilson, team captain turned in an outstanding performance taking first on the long horse, second on parallel bars, fourth in side horse and fifth on the trampoline for a total of 13 points. Jim Farmer, senior diver for the Vandal swimming team, used his diving form to capture third on the trampoline and in tumbling, and fourth on the long horse for a total of 8 points.

Cougar Pep Band Plays For Vandals

Washington State College made a big step toward cementing good cross-state relations Sunday when their pep band was on hand at the Moscow-Pullman airport to greet the victorious Vandals returning from the Pacific Coast boxing journey at Sacramento.

Despite driving wind and rain the musicians from Pullman unflinchingly awaited the plane which they supposed carried WSC mittmen. As the first plane arrived the group assembled, but no boxers were within.

Somewhat later the rain-soaked band again came to life as a second plane landed. The doors of the hangar in which they were waiting swung open as the plane taxied to a halt. The plane doors opened. The band leader raised his baton. Then out stepped Frankly Echevarria, followed by the remainder of the Vandal mitt squad. But alas, no WSC men.

One Idaho boxer inquired of an onlooker who "that bunch of wet-looking people huddled in yon hangar" were. "That's the WSC pep band waiting for their returning boxers," came the reply. "Well, they are gonna have a long wait because part of WSC drove up and Christianson took the wrong plane through a mix-up on tickets," remarked the leatherslinger.

Disappointed might be the word to describe the Pullmanites, but they recovered and soon strains of "Go, Vandals, Go" could be heard about the airport. A stimulating gesture, to say the least.
