Ground Breaking Starts Ad Building Construction

Leap year tactics have their brief fling again tomorrow on the campus as women "take over the situation" and escort the male of their choice to the "Spinster's Skip."

Groundbreaking ceremonies initiating construction of the new administration building addition were held Wednesday with Regent Joseph McCarthy removing the first soil.

In 1906, according to university historical records, the present Regent McCarthy's father, James F. McCarthy, led the groundbreaking ceremony on the spot where the present administration building was to be erected. The present forty-four year old structure replaced the original structure destroyed by fire.

See Second Ceremony

Jay Glover Eldridge, dean of the university faculty emeritus, and Fred Skog, supervisor of police and mail who both witnessed the first 1906 ceremony, were on hand at Wednesday's groundbreaking.

Eldridge first joined the university faculty in 1901. Skog, who became a university employee in 1906, hand carried many of the bricks used in construction of the present administration building. For many years, as head janitor, he helped look after its, welfare and care.

ISC Man Present

Other university officials participating in the ceremonies were President J. E. Buchanan; Dean T. S. Kerr, college of letters and science; Robert Moulton, ASUI president; and Janice McCormick, AWS president. A guest at the ceremonies was Professor Harry M. Dewey, director of the division of engineering, agriculture and forestry at Idaho State college.

The new addition, scheduled for completion by the end of the year, will make the fourth addition to the original building. Administrative facilities will be centralized, in addition, providing additional classrooms and office space for teachers in the main part of the building.

Sigma Tau Plans Dinner And Dance

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, will hold its annual dinner dance this evening in the Ad club at 7 o'clock. Don Hannah and his orchestra will provide music for the semi-formal dance.

Del Robison is general chairman assisted by committee heads Russell Baum, John Nesbitt and Jim Bell. Other members of Sigma Tau will serve on the various committees.

Leaders Announced

During dinner the newly elected officers of the group will be introduced. They are Clark Long, president; Richard Gooch, vice president; Fred Hyland, secretary; Harold Brammer, treasurer; Rafael Jimenez, recording secretary, and Russell Baum, historian. Professor J. Hugo Johnson is faculty advisor. Outgoing president of Sigma Tau is John Barinaga.

Unique Prizes, Unique Dance Will Be Held Tomorrow Night

Unique prizes will be awarded men wearing most corsages as a feature of the annual Mortar Board sponsored Spinster Skip tomorrow night at 9 p.m. in the women's gym. Fey Pratt's orchestra will play for the informal "ladies pay all" affair.

Winners of the Argonaut Liar's contest will be announced at half time of the dance by Allen Derr, editor in chief. All "tall stories" entered in the contest have been judged so that prizes for the biggest lies may be awarded at this time.

Plan "April Showers"

"April Showers" will be the 1950 Skip theme according to Valeta Hershberger and Gay Deobald, decorations co-chairmen. Multi-colored balloon "raindrops" and spring parasols will be used to carry out the April 1 theme.

Programs will be available at the door of the dance as well as tickets. Tickets are also on sale at $1.50 per couple in all campus women's living groups this week. Patrons Judge Corsages Patrons and patronesses, Dr.

Three Queens-But Only One Will Reign

These three coeds are vying for the chance to reign as queen over the 1950 Little International show April 24-29 on the campus. They were recently chosen as finalists from eleven original entries. Left to right is Carol Korvola, Ruth Wood, and Erlene Clyde. The winner will be announced before the show. The remaining two will reign as princesses.

Liars Contest Ends Today

Campus Liars have until noon today to enter the Argonaut Liars contest. All entries will be judged Saturday morning.

Champions will be formally crowned tomorrow night at the Spinster Skip by Allen Derr, Argonaut editor. Contrary to the custom of chastising liars, these tall tale tellers will be handsomely rewarded for their whoppers.

Entries so far received vary from two-page whopping stories and long poems to short two-line ditties and simple statements of falsehood—such as the one by the coed who said she wouldn't want a date with Carl Killsgaard. One coed and one fellow will win dates with a queen and a football star in the persons of Bea Helander and Carl Killsgaard. In addition they will be awarded an assortment of merchandise awarded by Moscow businessmen. Two runner-up prizes of merchandise will also be awarded.

"Meet Your Rag-Mop" At Hop Tonight In Women's Houses

"Meet your Rag-Mop at the Nickel Hop" is the theme of the all-campus Nickel Hop scheduled for this evening. All women's living groups will open their doors from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. tonight for this Spur sponsored event.

Episcopal Bishop Principal Speaker For Baccalaureate

Rev. Frank A. Rhea, Episcopal bishop of Idaho, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the 1950 graduating class at the University, President J. E. Buchanan announced recently. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, June 4.

Bishop Rhea began his career as a civilian chaplain in the army camps at San Antonio, Texas, during World War I. From 1919 to 1928, he served at various Texas churches. In 1928 he was named dean of St. Michael's cathedral, Boise, and in 1942 became bishop of Idaho.

List Completed

Active in civic affairs, Bishop Rhea is president of St. Luke's hospital in Boise and a leader in YMCA work. He is also active in Boise music week festivities and the civic chorus. He is chairman of the Idaho State Employment security agency, a major in the Idaho State guard, and a member of the board of trustees of the College of Idaho.

Selection of Bishop Rhea as baccalaureate speaker completes the speaker list for the 55th Idaho commencement. Recently announced was the selection of Edwyn Palmer ("Ep") Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, as commencement speaker.

Choral Program On Tap Sunday

"The Seven Last Words," a program of choral reading and singing will be presented Sunday at 5 p.m. in the First Lutheran Church. Members of the Lutheran students association will perform in the famed Easter Passion story.

Caryl Ingebrisen is accompanist for the group, and Mrs. H. C. Alden is director. Advertising posters were supervised by Frank Gunn, John Blom and Bud Gipson.

Young Selected Journalism Prof. Replacing Scott

Appointment of Wayne F. Young to the post of professor and chairman of the Idaho department of Journalism was announced yesterday by President J. E. Buchanan. Authorized by the Board of Regents, the appointment is effective September 1.

"News writing is an exacting profession, and we feel fortunate in obtaining a man of Mr. Young's practical experience to guide our newspapermen of the future," said President Buchanan. Young is telegraph editor of the Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Young has served as reporter on the Dayton, Ohio Journal and Oklahoma City News as well as desk man on the Cincinnati Enquirer.

During World War II he was a marine staff sergeant working on the Marine Corps Chevron publication in China and the South Pacific. Young also wrote "History of the Sixth Marine Division," published by the Infantry Journal Press.

Following the war, Young obtained a master's degree in journalism at the University of Missouri. He holds a B. A. degree from Miami university. In 1947-48, he taught journalism at the University of Alabama, leaving there to take the telegraph editor position in Texas.

Young will succeed Professor Paul T. Scott. After almost a quarter century of teaching in the United States and the Philippines Scott is retiring to devote full time to fiction writing. He is the author of the Philippine novel, "Child of the Morning," and recently completed a farm life novel which is now at the publishers. He will continue to make Moscow his home.

Pan-Hell Council Installs Whitsel

Norma Whitsel, Delta Delta Delta, was elected president of the Pan-Hellenic council last Wednesday. Jane Clark, Gamma Phi Beta, will serve as secretary for the coming year. The vice president will be elected after the installations of the new council in the near future.

Outgoing officers of the council are Jean Ottenheimer, president; Lucille Driggs, vice president; and Norma Whitsel, secretary-treasurer. The president is chosen each year from the sorority next in line in the listing of houses according to when the chapters were established on the Idaho campus. Membership in the council is comprised of house presidents and rush chairman.

At present the council is working on revision of the Pan-Hellenic handbook which is issued each year to prospective rushees. This year the handbook will include pictures of each sorority house along with rules of the rushing program and schedule.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies

Regent J. L. McCarthy of Orofino turned the soil in groundbreaking ceremonies for the new addition to the Administration building at the University of Idaho. His father, the late James F. McCarthy, performed the same task 44 years ago when construction was started on the main part of the building. Also shown (left to right) are: Professor Harry Dewey of Idaho State College, Fred Skog, supervisor of mail and police; Jay Glover Eldridge, dean of the faculty, emeritus; Robert Moulton, president of the Associated Students; Janice McCormick, president of the Associated Women Students; J. E. Buchanan, president of the university, and T. S. Kerr, dean of the college of letters and science.

Hope of Team Win Fades After 3 Lose

Penn State, (Special), Mar. 30—University of Idaho boxers won only two out of five bouts here today, as the 18th annual renewal of the National Collegiate boxing championships got underway in Sunlight Recreation hall.

The fourth place national team last year will place only Herb Carlson, 165, and Len Walker, 145 pounds in the semi-finals tomorrow evening.

Frankie Echevarria, Norm Walker and DeForrest Tovey all lost close decisions which put them out of the national race.

Three of the Idaho men fought in the afternoon and two at night.

Afternoon Results

Frankie Echevarria made a great fight of it in the 125 pound opener but dropped a split decision 2 to 1 to Neil Ofsathun of Minnesota. Both boys punched the whole way and the crowd sat back attentively to await the decision. The judges split and the referee's vote went to Ofsathun.

In a 135-pound sizzler Norm Walker lost an equally close decision to Jack Tierney of Michigan. A lone vote once again decided the issue. Walker was effective from long range but Tierney landed some telling blows from close quarters and took the last round.

Although the judges found a split decision against him the crowd favored Norm Walker and booted his decision.

Leonard Walker, in his first defense of the NCAA crown won last year, gave one of the day's better demonstrations as he, clearly outclassed, Fat Dougherty, Michigan State. Walker took every round as he rocked Dougherty at least once in every canto.

Evening Results

In the 130 pound go DeForrest Tovey was decisively outpointed by Jim Sreenan, Wisconsin. Sreenan had copped a one point decision over the Vandal slugger earlier this season in Wisconsin.

Herb Carlson, a rugged sharp puncher who showed a good overhand right and found defensive tactics had little difficulty with Raul Diez, hard hitting San Jose State entry. The decision was unanimous. Carlson defeated Diez in the Coast finals last Saturday for his fourth coast crown and is now making a bid for his third national title. Carlson fights at 165 pounds.

Evening bout winners: 125 pounds — Milton Pastor, Louisiana State. Henry Amos, Michigan State.

130 pounds — Ted Thrash, Louisiana State. Jim Sreenan, Wisconsin. (Over DeForrest Tovey, Idaho).

135 pounds — Paul Kostopoulos, Maryland. Nip Long, W.S.C. 145 pounds — Alfred Bourgeois, Louisiana State.

155 pounds — Dick Murphy, Wisconsin.

165 pounds — Lloyd Jones, Louisiana State. Herb Carlson, Idaho, (over Raul Diez, San Jose State).

175 pounds — Carl Maxey, Gonzaga. Carl Bernardo, Miami U. Hwt. — Gabriel Marek, Michigan State.

Pairings for tomorrow night's fights were not available.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:
 I wholeheartedly concur with your recent editorial comment regarding the movement of the United World Federalists, that "an informed student body will be better able to defend or criticize such a movement." Lately proponents of the movement have enthusiastically promoted their cause. Let's analyze it in more detail.

Proponents of world government have employed the catch phrase "world government in the interest of world peace." They have implied that the only way to world peace is through world government and that world government cannot fail to achieve world peace. This hook baited with "peace" is not only being swallowed by thousands of patriotic and well-meaning citizens, but is being enthusiastically received by communists and socialists, whose ends it serves.

Let's look at some of the principles set forth in the U. W. F. pamphlet:

"Membership . . . should be open at all times to all nations without the right of secession." It is a one way street. There is no turning back. What an idealistic dream this is! What about civil war?

"World laws should be enforced directly upon individuals." What kind of law, and written by whom? Is our own constitution to be junked?

"The world federal government should have . . . direct taxing power independent of national taxation." What would happen to us, the only solvent nation in the world?

We could be taxed out of existence. What about Russia? The pamphlet states that "the time has now come for a great effort to achieve a general settlement with Soviet Russia." It suggests a revision of the U. N. charter to please Russia.

What if Russia does not join? Then, they say we should organize a "partial federation" and continue to negotiate to win Russia into the fold. This will create two world governments. Do they think that Russia will not fail to take advantage of an unarmed world government, including an unarmed U. S.? The alternative is an arms race between the two worlds.

Most people do not realize that if only ten more states approve the Humber resolution, Congress will be forced to call a constitutional convention to act on the proposition that the United States participate in a federal world government. The question is real.

What can you do about it? Don't swallow the "peace" bait until you have studied, informed yourself, and critically analyzed the whole concept of world government, from a practical rather than an idealistic point of view. Then decide whether or not you are willing to discard our Constitution and the principles of freedom that have come down to us after over a century and a half.

Spinster's Prepare To Skip

 Kulon M. Jensen

Dear Jason,
 To McHhan, Kelly and Cahill: Your constructive criticism of my boxing article was appreciated. This writer is not, and does not pretend to be perfect. I regret that my article regarding Idaho's boxing squad gave a few readers the impression that the team is an uneducated mass of brawn. This reporter has always had the highest respect for Coach Frank Young and his Idaho fighters. Furthermore, my article wasn't and was not intended to be a slam against the boxers or the Idaho English department, as you inferred.

The boxing squad won six of their seven dual matches this season, won the Spokane Invitational tournament, and copped the PCC title. In addition, they placed five boxers in the NCAA tournament, which picks only the cream of the intercollegiate ringmen. It required more than pure brawn on the part of the fighters to accomplish those feats.

I assume from your comment on the use of faulty English in reporting conversation, that you gentlemen believe every sentence an individual speaks during the course of "shoptalk" is letter-perfect.

Simply because an individual bungles a phrase, that doesn't necessarily imply that he is an uneducated mass of brawn, incapable of uttering perfect English. Nor does it signify that he lacks the ability to pass an English examination.

Coalition Policy

A coalition policy council, whose sole aim is to promote better relations between the ASUI Executive Board and the average campus student came into being two weeks ago.

Membership of the council is composed of four representatives from each of the two caucuses, Independent and Greek and the ASUI president. The council will act as a "go-between" for the students and the ASUI Executive Board.

Each caucus will authorize its members to report from their respective groups on just what action the students desire the Executive Board to take on certain matters and to bring new business before the board which the council feels consideration is imperative for the welfare of the student body.

Also acting in reverse fashion, council members can inform the individual caucuses of pending business to be taken up by the Executive Board. This information will be disseminated to the different living groups where interested students can plan to attend the meeting to state personal opinions, either pro or con, on campus issues.

ASUI prexy Bob Moulton is interested in having students attend Executive Board meetings to air opinions on student affairs. Executive Board meetings are not closed. Anyone may attend.

This coalition policy board will bring the Executive Board into closer contact with students, and if supported by both caucuses, should bring about more efficient student government on the Idaho campus.

Let's all back this idea and watch the beneficial results.

Most of these students already have jobs with dairy manufacturing plants scattered throughout the United States.

Given In Short Time
Dr. Henry Hansen, department of Dairy Husbandry, has been in charge of these short courses since 1925.

This course has drawn students from all over the world, past graduates of this course have come from Holland, Philippines, Alaska, as well as from all sections of the U. S.

Dairy manufacturing plants send employees to take this course at company expense. The students in many cases do not want to take the regular four year course in dairy manufacturing, and will take this short course as it gives the same background in much less time.

Large Audience Sees Novel Plays By Betty Peters

Capacity audiences filled the U-hut studio theater three nights this week for the presentation of three one-act plays, written by Betty Peters, junior English major. Miss Peters wrote the plays last summer, using first hand information about country near her home for the settings of two of her one-acts. These regional dramas, "My Paul" and "Like Ordinary Folk," provided a sharp contrast in the authors's abilities in her fantasy "The Thirteenth Level."

Experienced Author
Miss Peters has had much writing experience during her years on the Idaho campus. For two years she reported for the Argonaut in addition to her staff position as copy editor. Her short stories have appeared in several issues of Blot. She is now reporter for the Idahoonian.

Sets for the three plays were designed by University student, Kenneth Goldsberry. Directing of the one-act plays was also handled by Idaho students, Colleen Christensen, Marie Hargis, and June Thomas. In addition to being completely written, designed, and directed by student personnel, the plays were enacted by all-student casts.

Gibler, Chalfant Place Highest In Bridge Play
Jim Gibler and Frank Chalfant ranked highest of Idaho students who entered the 1950 National Intercollegiate Bridge tournament held in February. No Idaho team made the final face-to-face round to be played in April at Chicago, Illinois. Gibler and Chalfant scored six in the playoff tournament February 23 under the supervision of Mrs. Rolston Butterfield, tournament director.

Placing first in the United States with a score of nine, UCLA and the University of Colorado, with a score of seven, will send teams to represent the western zone.

Annual Playoffs
The 32 finalists will have transportation costs, meals and hotel accommodations, in Chicago paid for by the Intercollegiate tournament committee which receives the support of the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers.

At the meet, 1950 national champions will be determined, who will receive trophies for their individual possession. The Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament trophy will be in custody of their college for one year, and the college will receive a permanent certificate. Student Activities Board, under the chairmanship of Dick Boyle, was in charge of the bridge tournament.

Another Defeat Inflicted On Diamondmen At NICE

A weather plagued University of Idaho baseball squad dropped its third spring practice tilt of the season to North Idaho college of education at Harris Field in Lewiston Wednesday afternoon, 8 to 5.

The Vandals, who so far this season have played more baseball in foreign territory than they have at home, opened and closed the contest with two-run innings against the Loggers. They scored only one run in frames between the first and ninth, however, and that came in the fifth inning when Tobe Masingill slammed out a home run.

Rules Committee Suggests Reforms In New Regulation

Basketball may resurrect the center jump after all successful free throws in a move to impose more severe penalties for fouls.

This was indicated yesterday in a preliminary report by the national basketball committee of the United States and Canada, the supreme governing body of the amateur sport.

The committee, meeting in New York to study proposed changes, said after a lengthy session Wednesday that most of its some 4,000 groups are in favor of discarding the two-minute rule.

But in doing so, the committee reported, the membership is anxious to try to discourage fouling by installing stricter penalties.

Foremost of these proposals are (1) avoid giving the ball to the offending team after a successful free throw, (2) use the center jump to decide possession on these occasions.

The body, made up of representatives from the NCAA, AAU, YMCA, national federation of high schools and Canadian amateur groups, continued deliberations.

The committee's report said a survey of its membership showed sentiment in favor of keeping most of the present rules intact. An exception is the two-minute rule now widely scorned.

Under the rule, the team which is fouled in the last two minutes of the game retains possession of the ball after a free throw. Coaches recommended that the two minute rule be repealed and that the game be returned to the 1944-45 style with uniform regulations and timing for the entire game.

Seven Undefeated Squads Nearing Finals In 'Mural Play

With championship play looming on an undetermined day next week league leaders are struggling to maintain their perfect and near-perfect records.

Teams undefeated in "B" competition as of Wednesday March 29th include:

League 1 — Phi Delta Theta No. 1 has gained six consecutive victories against no defeats. In division 1, league 2, only undefeated team in the running is Tau Kappa Epsilon No. 1 also sporting a 6-0 record. Division 1, league 3, also boasts one undefeated team in Idaho club No. 1. Boxers' Head Man

The pen and ink of artist Stan Soderberg have aptly captured the characteristic smile of Coach Frank Young as he stands at the corner ready to instruct one of his men between rounds.

Mentor Frank Young Boasts Lifetime Interest In Boxing

After just two years as head boxing coach at University of Idaho, Frank Young has led his teams to two Pacific Coast championships. He is now at the national tournament for the second time.

Young's background shows that he has come by his boxing experience naturally. His father, William Young was champion of Northern Ireland and a leading contender for championship of the British Isles, an ambition never quite achieved. William Young moved his family from Ireland to Michigan, North Dakota in 1924 but never quite gave up the boxing he loved so well.

The father erected a ring in the barn on the farm and taught all seven of his sons the manly art. The one girl must have been an appreciative audience. Love Of Sport Remained

Frank was 10 when his father decided he was old enough to know how to feint with his right and blast with his left. Frank has been deeply interested in boxing every since, fighting in college and semi-professional bouts.

His college ring efforts were for Jamestown college in North Dakota for four years, acting as ring coach his senior year. He got his degree in chemistry and a minor in physical education, then turned to high school coaching when the war butted in. In 1944 and 1945 he was an athletic specialist for the Navy at various stations in this country.

Deserts

Out of the service late in 1945 he taught chemistry at Minot State Teachers in North Dakota, but he still liked boxing. He came to Oregon where he got his master's degree in physical education in 1947. He joined the Ida-

Trackmen Bemoan Peristent Bad Weather; Meet Delayed

Officially spring came to the Moscow area over a week ago but Track Coach Stan Hiserman can tell you it isn't so. Yesterday he announced that the inter-squad meet scheduled for Saturday would have to be postponed.

Recent rain and snow have left the new track in a soggy condition and it will take several dry days before equipment can make rounds on the cindered oval.

Opener Nearing

Meanwhile the Idaho mentor is bringing his men along as best he can in preparation for opening dual meet of the season against University of Oregon, April 15 at Moscow. Under the protecting roof of the much appreciated field house, approximately 50 varsity and freshman trackmen are working out daily.

With exception of some of the field events most of the athletes have gone along as far as possible in restricted space available. What coach and team are presently hoping for is a break in weather that will enable them to put in some good hard practice sessions out-of-doors.

Top Men Anxious

Some of the men looking toward the coming campaign with high hopes include: Glen Christian and Dick Newton — dashes; Keith Bean and Cal Sparks — hurdles; John Allyson, Warren Johanson, Norm Farnham and Contor — distance; Dave Martindale — pole vault; Myron Hodgson — javelin; Dave Hiner and Nick Speropolus — discus.

Luncheon cloths and a child's play suit are now on display in the home economics department display case on third floor of the Ad building.

Zag Meet Called; Intrateam Tennis Competition Today

A tennis met originally scheduled for this afternoon with Gonzaga university has been cancelled says Idaho tennis coach Eric Kirkland. The Zags notified Kirkland that wet weather has prevented their chances of practice.

If today's weather permits it, there will be a substitute meet in the form of inter-squad play. Time will be 3 p.m. on university courts across from Memorial gymnasium.

Singles matches are as follows: Hal Barnes vs. Bob Baxter. Howard Berger vs. Stu Dollinger.

Jim Crane vs. Ewell Crossberg. John Scull vs. Montford Brooks. Bob Zimmerman vs. George Woodie.

In doubles competition Crossberg and Dollinger team to meet Crane and Scull; Brooks and Baxter pair up to play Barnes and Berger.

Playday Proposed For High Schoolers From Area Towns

A high school play day has been planned Saturday, by the management class, sponsored by WRA. General committee head for the day is Jean Daley. Marjorie Johnson, Helen Way, Pam Gaut, Betty Base, Phyllis Stricker, Jeanne Anderson, and Jane Fisk are in charge of registration and sports. Among the things planned are basketball, swimming, volleyball, folk dancing, and a basketball clinic.

Nearby schools have been invited to participate in a full day of sports. Approximately 150 girls will attend the sports day. They will be divided into teams and competition will determine the team winner.

Basketball Included

The basketball clinic will be especially interesting. Plans for this include demonstration of the various fouls usually committed in a game, playing, drills, coaching hints, and refereeing techniques. A short demonstration game using players from the campus will highlight the clinic.

It is hoped that the play day will further sportsmanship, help make new friends, and establish individual interest in sports and recreation.

High schools participating are: Moscow, Kendrick, Lapwai, Pullman, Colton, Troy, Lewiston, and Ursuline Academy.

Nine-Weeks Grades

All instructors should have nine-weeks grades office by April 6th. Grades turned in to the registrar's will be available in the Dean's offices by April 12, 1950.

Bob Gartin was appointed Blot managing editor by the ASUI Executive board Wednesday night. The publications board recommended Gartin's appointment to replace Joe Dickinson, Blot managing editor, last semester.
