Vandaleers Leave On Southern Tour

Idaho's Vandaleers, directed by Glen R. Lockery, left at 7 this morning on the first lap of their 20-day singing tour to southern Idaho. While on tour the choral group will present concerts in 17 cities and towns, including three performances in Boise.

A varied program including religious numbers, selections from operas, folk-songs, and Idaho school songs has been prepared during daily rehearsals for the past several weeks.

Members Listed

Another vacation ended yesterday—the last 'rest' till finals are over June 7.

As is usually the case following a holiday, most students returned to classes a little wearier, but happier than when they left. The vacation usually proves a bit more exhausting than school but is a welcome break and makes education a little easier.

Personnel for the 1950 Vandaleers are: soprano—Bernice Bauer, Donna Brown, Natalia Brown, Mary Driscoll, Jeanne Foster, Moena Glenn, and Joanne Hopkins. Other sopranos are Margaret Mehl, Louise Miller, Naomi Nokes, Joanne Peters, Pat Rambo, Lorraine Rudolf, Willa Schumann, Susan Staley, and Barbara Sweet.

Student Meets Death

One sad note marked the Easter holiday when five persons, including an Idaho student, were killed in a car-train crash near Coeur d'Alene. The university student was Allen Manweiler, Rathdrum, sophomore in mechanical engineering. His campus home was Pine Hall. Jason and the Argonaut join with the rest of the campus in offering sincerest condolences to friends and relatives.

Sky Lark

On another front, during the vacation, Idaho was rumored as a probably entry in the present Skyline six conference which now includes such schools as Wyoming, Utah, and Utah State. This bit of gossip appears annually, about three days, more or less, before (or after) the swallows return to Capistrano and can by now be counted on as a reliable indication that spring is here. (at last.)

University officials have denied the report. They point out that Idaho is happy in the Pacific Coast conference and intends to stay there.

As far as football is concerned, Idaho's entrance into the present Skyline Six league might not be a bad idea. But to transfer one sport would be to transfer all. We could not logically compete with these schools in golf, baseball, basketball, and other such sports—essentially because of the distance involved.

Looking Ahead

June graduates (prospective that is) do not need to be reminded of the importance to future employers of a listing of extra-curricular activities, in addition to the regular transcript of grades.

The registrar does not include this listing on the transcript of the student. A form is available in the registrar's office which must be personally filled out, with the signature of the present head of each extra-curricular activity, group, or organization participated in affixed to validate the claims.

This must be done before graduation. Then for a small fee of 25c a photographic copy of that record will accompany the transcript and can serve as an authentic additional proof of qualifications. Seniors are urged to act immediately.

Three Rules For Teachers

The idea of the week award goes to a Texas Christian university professor of education who recently gave up trying to understand the younger generation (that's us), and formulated the following code on teaching:

1. Teachers must know their stuff.
2. They must know the people they intend to stuff.
3. Above all, they must stuff them artistically.

Executive . . . . . . . Board

Agenda for the ASUI Executive Board meeting tonight will include the following items: Report from IRC delegates. Student Union committee.

Lambda Chi Crescent Girl Finalists

These five lovely ladies were chosen today from 22 contestants as finalists in the Lambda Chi Fraternity's Crescent Girl contest. They are, left to right, first row, Claire Cramer and Lucille Schrom; seated, Bea Helander, Shirley Molan, and Lois Messerly. The winner will be entered in a national contest.

University Heights Project Approved By City Council

Unanimous approval of the preliminary draft blueprint of the proposed University Heights addition to the city of Moscow was given recently by the city council at a special meeting.

Thomas R. Walenta, president of University Heights, Inc., presented to the council the facts and figures for the corporation. It was pointed out that for beauty of contour, economy and efficiency of water, sewer, road and lot layout, the plans of the group were probably the finest in the city.

Competent Services

Competent and efficient services rendered by engineers and architects working with the corporation, according to Walenta, made possible the success of the plan. C. A. Moore, Charles Sargent, Paul Mann, William Tinniswood, and Clayton M. Page headed this division.

"The action of the city council seems to reflect accurately the general attitude of the citizens of Moscow to willingly cooperate with our corporation to make possible this addition to the city," stated Walenta.

Plans for selection of lots are progressing satisfactorily and the construction of the streets and laying of the sewer and water mains will be started at once. An early estimate stated that the homes will be ready for occupancy by September 15, 1950.

United We Stand

Because of the shortage of suitable housing in Moscow at prices commensurate with their incomes, University Heights, Inc., was organized by a group of individuals wishing new homes. A non-profit organization, the corporation received its charter under the laws of the state solely to assist its shareholders in the design and development of a small residential community of single detached homes at a cost within the ability of the shareholders to finance.

Outstanding Boxer

Herb Carlson, Idaho's all-time great athlete, poses with the trophy he was awarded at Penn State last week as the "Outstanding boxer of the NCAA championship tournament." A week earlier Carlson received a similar award at the PCC championship tournament. Herb graduates this year. He has won four Coast titles and three national crowns boxing for the Vandals.

Credit Deadline

Veteran's accounts will close for the year in the Student Union Bookstore April 15. Chet Kerr, bookstore manager, announced today.

Junior Prom Offers Novelty Orchestra

Dick Taylor with his combination band and vaudeville troupe will be on the university campus Saturday night to provide entertainment and dance music for the 1950 junior prom.

Taylor will bring not only his orchestra but a complete troupe for an hour vaudeville performance. "This vaudeville dance entertainment is the type of entertainment which has been receiving successful reception across the nation," stated class officials.

Max Glaves, class president, listed the following committee members handling the arrangements.

Theme and decoration—Dave Nye and Ron Hyde, co-chairmen; Jody Getty, Jo Garner, and John Hasbrouck.

Tickets—John Ascuaga, chairman; Port Wagner, and Herman McDevitt.

Program—Mary Ann Zapp, chairman; Joan Price, and Emmalyn Ball.

Buchanan Releases Selection Of New Faculty Members

Appointment of new members to the University of Idaho faculty were announced recently by President J. E. Buchanan, following board of regents' authorization. Newcomers to the university staff will be Leslie L. Dean, Arthur M. Finley and Maxine Richardson.

Leslie L. Dean will return to duty at the University, May 1, after completion of his doctorate studies at Purdue university. He has been appointed assistant plant pathologist of the agricultural experiment station.

Replaces Mary Swenson
A native of Twin Falls and graduate of the University of Idaho, Dean previously did extensive research work on the university's bean improvement program.

Arthur M. Finley, who is now completing his doctorate studies at the University of Missouri, was also named as assistant pathologist. He has been doing research in plant diseases at Missouri.

Coming to the university as assistant professor of physical education will be Maxine Richardson, at present on the faculty of Lawrence college in Wisconsin. She will replace Mrs. Mary Fram Swenson, leaving to accompany her husband, who will attend school in Chicago next year.

Against War

Senator William E. Borah, shown here superimposed on a map of the state of Idaho, was well known for his abhorrence of war. A conference for the "Outlawry of War" will be held at the university April 27-29, named after him.

Campus Politics Moves Into High Gear As Both Parties Announce Their Slates

Summer School Staff Includes Twenty Visiting Specialists

Twenty visiting specialists will augment the University staff when the 1950 summer school opens June 12, Director J. F. Weltzin announced today.

"Our guest instructors not only bring to the campus expert knowledge in their particular fields, but a cross-section of the nation's views," said Dean Weltzin.

Visitors will either serve as instructors or participate in special conferences and workshops. Some will serve in both capacities.

Visitors Take Over

Visiting faculty will include: Anna A. Anderson, instructor in library science, Longview, Wash.; William H. Anderson, director of curriculum workshop, Denver, Colo.; George F. Parr, supervisor of music of the Sacramento, Calif., city school district; Helen Bishop, instructor in remedial speech for the child guidance clinic, St. Paul, Minn.; Jack L. Butler, professor of psychology, psychiatrist, U.S. Navy, Norfolk, Va., and Wayne S. Hertz, assistant professor of music, Ellensburg, Wash.

Others are Lois Selby Holiday, instructor in dramatics for the drama workshop, Phoenix, Ariz.; Dorothy L. Kearney, drama workshop, assistant, Phoenix, Ariz.; Donald Keller, instructor in geography, Elmhurst, Ill.; Edward Matos, assistant professor of music, internationally known concert pianist; Elwyn Schwartz, instructor in summer music camp, director of bands at Fresno State college; Simon Williams, consultant for the textile conference; Paul Yoder, associate professor of music, and Madeline S. Strony, educational director of the Gregg Publishing company, New York.

Complete List

Mark Hinsley, director of the University of Illinois bands; Jack Snodgrass, supervisor of music in the Caldwell public schools; Helen McCoy, specialist in the Spokane school system; Donald S. Baxter, teacher of driver education in the Spokane public schools; Fred Tidwell, head of the department of business education at the University of Washington, and J. H. Nelson, department of secretarial studies, Cornell university, complete the list of the summer visiting faculty.

Various Tests Are Available To All

Aptitude tests, vocational tests, and numerous others are available to all Idaho students through the VA and student counseling and guidance center offices in TC-1. These will be given free of charge to any students asking appointments.

Individual problems will be singly and confidentially considered by university full-time employed advisors, who will attempt to answer questions and settle difficulties.

Counseling Offered

Information concerning job opportunities, necessary training, and possible ways is offered; but students are encouraged to make their own decisions about these. Problems about health, financial, and social adjustments are also considered.

1950 Job Outlook For Senior Grads Creates 3 Problems

Even with nearly 500,000 graduates from American colleges this year the job prospects for these new grads is generally good, according to releases from the U.S. Department of Labor. The job outlook for this nation's largest college graduating classes, however, is not as good as in 1947 and 1948.

Three main factors, headed by the large number of graduates who will be wanting positions, throw a cloud over the job outlook. The other two factors are: a moderate increase in the total number of unemployed persons and the filling of war-created shortages of college graduates in various specialized fields by the many graduates in 1948 and 1949.

Shortage Exists

Employment on the west coast as well as in some other parts of the country, is growing more rapidly than in other sections. In some occupations, industries, and areas, prospects are excellent however, general observations about job market conditions often tend to shield varying situations. In other fields, where wartime emergency and postwar vacancies have been taken, jobs for graduates will be hard to obtain.

An acute shortage exists in elementary school teachers, but the high school level finds a growing oversupply. The next few years will find stiff competition in law, journalism, and personnel work. For the early 1950's the number of engineering graduates will exceed the number of openings, but this situation should improve in four or five years. Persons with graduate degrees in chemistry will have better opportunities than those without graduate work.

Needs Are Rising

Fields of business administration and accounting have a surplus of graduates, and work experience or specialized training will make it easier for liberal arts grads to secure work.

Most of the health service occupations offer excellent chances for new entrants. The current shortage of nurses is rising, and persons with complete training in medicine and dentistry are badly needed, although competition for professional school admissions is keen. In pharmacy the new graduate supply has almost caught up with demand.

Good opportunities are expected in specialized groups as veterinarians, medical laboratory technicians, medical therapists, dietitians, medical X-ray technicians, dental hygienists, and occupational therapists.

Woman From Borneo Tells Experiences

Inge Koch, orientation student from Pontianak, Borneo, was guest of KUOI on last Monday night's presentation of "Who's Who on the Idaho Campus". A veteran traveler, Mrs. Koch told of trips to Berlin, Singapore, Australia and Java. World War II experiences as a Jap internee in Java and as a stranded refugee in Singapore were related in Mrs. Koch's interview. She also told of student life at Tunghsi University in Singapore.

Employment Service To Aid Graduates

The Moscow office of the Idaho State Employment service is sponsoring a placement program to help graduating university seniors locate business positions this spring.

Application blanks for the job placement program and further information may be obtained from the offices of university Deans or from the state employment office, 107 East Second Street, Moscow.

Following Easter vacation campus politics is moving into high gear. Both the United and Independent parties have announced their full slates and campaigning is underway for the ASUI general elections April 26.

Vern Bahr, Independent nominee, and Paul Araquistain, United party candidate, are racing for the ASUI presidency.

Both aspirants for ASUI chief executive have been active in student politics and other activities. Bahr, a junior, is chairman of Idaho's NSA group, and has served on the student activities board, as well as being an Independent caucus member for three years. Blue Key and Alpha Zeta, argiculture honorary, claim its membership. Last year Bahr was president of Phi Eta Sigma. He has also worked on various class week and homecoming activities.

Active On Campus

Paul Araquistain, vice president of the sophomore class, is a student member of the men's disciplinary board, and participates in student-businessmen's chamber of commerce, United caucus, and the joint coalition board of the Independent and United caucuses. Araquistain served as chairman of this year's Holly week.

United party executive board candidates were chosen by a preferential system. Five persons were selected from a total of 32 running for positions on the ASUI governing body. Those named last week as United nominees include Andy Christensen, Harry Turner, Max Glaves, Dick Reed, and DeForrest Tovey.

Executive board candidates representing the Independent party include Rose Schmidt, Hyde Jacobs, Bruce Wormald, Don Wills, Virginia Cramer, Ralph Fothergill, Sonnich Sonnichsen, Georgie Hemovich, and Dave Hiner. These persons were selected from a list nominated by each Independent living group.

Polls will be open in the Administration building. Voting will be supervised by the election board, headed by Joan Raymer.

Canterbury House Nears Completion

Work on the Canterbury House, Episcopal student foundation for the University of Idaho campus, is nearly completed, according to Rev. Norman E. Stockwell, Episcopal minister. Remodeling of a house purchased from the University was started in October, and dedication for the finished building is planned April 30, weather permitting.

Contractor for this $18,000 structure is John Milton, Moscow. Funds have been secured from alumni, friends, the national Episcopal church, and other contributors throughout Idaho.

New Report On Flying Saucers

Have you seen a flying saucer lately? Flying saucers are again in the news as renewed reports begin to roll in over the press and radio wires.

Many people have tried to explain what sort of phenomena this is. We have heard everything from "inhabitants from other planet are scouting and observing the earth and its people" to "mass hysteria of people in the United States."

The latest explanation was made by Henry Taylor, ABC radio commentator, in which he said that flying saucers actually are two types of top-secret American military inventions.

He also claims that when the government is ready to release the information, it will be "good news—wonderful—for our country." He stated that the Navy is experimenting with the X-F-50 jet-propelled plane at Pawtucket, Md.

Just last week we were told by government officials that there are three possible answers to the flying-saucer mystery:

1. Mass hysteria on the part of U. S. citizens.
  2. A foreign power is experimenting in this type of aircraft.
  3. These are balloons used by the U. S. Weather Bureau for gathering weather data.
- Just what does all this add up to? We have four different explanations on flying saucers.
- Oh! . . . just one more. What about the flying saucer that was supposedly down in Mexico several weeks ago? A pilot, flying over the wrecked saucer, swore he saw a man approximately 23 inches tall emerge from the saucer. (We haven't heard any more on that one.)
- So you haven't seen a flying saucer yet? Well, don't get discouraged. If you do see one, be sure you have a good explanation so you will be able to convince someone you actually saw a flying-saucer or you will be made the object of many jokes by your friends, just as those who have reported them in the past are to the wire services and government officials.

Tubbing Season Is Open

With men who know women best, it's tubbing two to one. Last week marked the opening of the tubbing season, and woe unto any character who had passed his pin. Shrieks of agony could be heard from almost any point on the campus, as victims were abducted by hoards of stark raving "bear-sack" students with blood in their eyes.

Tubbing is one of those cherished college traditions which originated in the year of our Lord knows when, and has given many a foiled lover a chance to raise hell with his rival. With the first nice day of Spring a fever begins to boil inside the brains of most male students which drives them to declare open warfare upon all recently engaged men.

Thoroughly tied and sopping wet, a male is offered to the lucky woman, who begins to wonder what she ever saw in the guy. And, if she can succeed in freeing her man, she is privileged to kiss him if he is still alive. All in all it presents a tender love scene, and influences many onlookers to a confirmed bachelorhood!

The tubbing season has just opened, and there is a bright future ahead. Rope sales will rise and the water supply will go down, all in the interest of losing friends and nauseating people.

Basketball Letters Awarded Fourteen

Basketball letter sweaters awarded for the '49-50 season have been approved for fourteen players and two managers.

Of the fourteen cage lettermen only one, Dick Geisler, will be lost through graduation. It was his fourth award.

Men honored were Ken Barker, Stuart Dollinger, Roy Irons, Sam Jenkins, Herb Mead, Herb Millard, Rod Pollard, Bob Pritchett, Dick Reed, George Rey, Nick Stallworth, Bob Wheeler, and Bob White. Managers were Ralph Carpenter, senior manager; and Pat Birch, junior manager.

This was a second award for Irons, Mead, Pritchett, Reed, Rey, Stallworth, and Wheeler. The others were all first time winners.

Six New Members Initiated By IK

The Idaho chapter of Intercollegiate Knights held formal initiation for six men Sunday, April 2.

Among the initiates are Harold Henric, Ben Nicholas, Charles Wood, Don Mitchell, Elwyn Larson, and Gene McNea. Clayton Harmsworth will be initiated at a later date.

Willie Anderson won three consecutive U.S. Open golf championships in 1903, 1904 and 1905, a mark never equaled.

Two Movies Offered By IK's Thursday

"The Great Train Robbery" and "Burlesque on Carmen", two old time movie thrillers, will be brought to a campus revival by IK's Thursday night in Science 110 at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Tickets, at 25c per person, will be sold at the door.

Thomas Edison's first one-reel feature produced in 1903, "The Great Train Robbery" is an original wild west movie with villains, wild horses, and a player piano accompaniment. Charlie Chaplin is starred in the lavish satire on the opera "Carmen."

Hail Conference Grants $350 Gift

A gift of $350 from the Pacific Coast Hail conference, Great Falls, Mont., to support further study at the University of Idaho on hail damage to potatoes has been formally accepted by the board of regents, President J. E. Buchanan, announced today.

Also accepted was a gift of $600 from the Idaho Power company for defraying the costs of the school held at Boise in February to train rural electrification leaders in 4-H club work.

Wah Wah Jones, Kentucky basketball and football ace, caught more touchdown passes during the football season than any other Southeastern conference player.

G.I.'s Education Terminated By Government Regulation

The deadline for most veterans for starting a course of education and training under the G. I. Bill is 15 months away—on July 25, 1951. A Veterans Administration regulation, issued today, states that the majority of veterans will not be permitted to begin G. I. Bill courses after that date. An exception has been made for those discharged after July 25, 1947; and those who enlisted or reenlisted under the Armed Services Voluntary Recruitment Act.

July 25, 1951, however, is not important to veterans who have started and actually are pursuing G. I. Bill training on that date, as they have the right to continue their courses.

A veteran who has started a course and who has continued in it will be considered to be in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted the course for the summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control.

Must Meet Deadline

Once a veteran completes or discontinues his program of G. I. Bill training after the 1951 date, he may not start another course.

The G. I. Bill provides that generally training must be initiated by July 25, 1951, or four years after a veterans discharge, whichever is later, and it must be completed by July 25, 1956.

Most veterans are subject to the 1951 and 1956 cut-off dates. But there are the following exceptions: (1) Veterans discharged after July 25, 1947, have four years from date of discharge in which to begin G. I. Bill training. However, they must finish by July 25, 1956. (2) Veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946) are not bound by either deadline. Instead, they have four years from the end of that enlistment or reenlistment period in which to start, and nine years from that time in which to complete their course of training.

A veteran in either of these two categories actually must be in training when his individual entrance deadline comes around, in order to continue afterwards. The VA regulation outlines re-

IRC Holds Debate

Two teams of Idaho debaters highlighted the International Relations club meeting at Hays hall last Thursday evening.

Topic for the debate was, "Resolved: That Federal World Government Should Be Established." Supporting the affirmative case were Kent Lake and Eli Rapaich. Herman McDevitt and Tom Rigby presented the negative points.

Such pertinent factors:

(3) When the course to which he wants to change is progression from his current course, and will help him attain his educational or vocational objective.

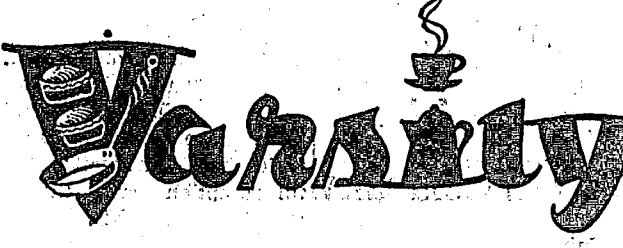

No additional changes of course will be approved, the regulation states, except for the most cogent reasons.

A course of education or training is defined as a "curriculum, program of study or training or combination of subjects as are prescribed by the institution as constituting a course."

The following do not constitute a change of course: A change of one or more subjects within an elected curriculum or program; the adding of a subject; change in the sequence in which subjects are taken, or advancement from a basic or preparatory phase to an advanced phase of a course.

Forestry Students Furnish Cases With Wildlife

Dr. Kenneth Hungerford, assistant professor of wildlife management, and 11 seniors in the forestry school have recently completed refurbishing the wildlife show cases in Morrill hall.

The cases are changed about twice a semester with each change planned to depict some different aspect of wildlife research and development. All the actual work and arrangements are done by the participating students.

Wildlife Specimens
Beauty and decoration are not the only reasons these displays are made. Cases containing specimens of fur-bearing animals found in Idaho and examples of their winter feed are shown to acquaint foresters and wildlife management men with shrubs and trees that provide winter feed for certain types of animals which are not replaced by the forest service. In winter time these animals from moose to mink tend to ruin small trees by their eating habits.

The cases for this time contain mallard and baldpate ducks, the fur-bearing animals which include muskrat, mink, and beaver, and a group of squirrels and their feed. Along with the squirrels, the students have the skulls of a deer and a moose. Dr. Hungerford says that if the teeth of the skull are still in good shape when the skull is found or when the animal is killed the forester can surmise what kind of food is eaten by the animals.

Commander Davey Naval Science Prof.

Commander Harry E. Davey, Jr., USN, now commanding the submarine USS Cubera, will arrive on campus this summer to become associate professor of naval science. Captain C. A. Chappell, professor of naval science, announced. Commander Davey will replace Commander Donald E. Pugh, USN, who is being ordered to another assignment under the Navy's duty rotation program.

Awarded Medals
A graduate of the U. S. Naval academy in 1939, Commander Davey has had extensive sea duty. He has been awarded the silver star medal, the bronze medal, and a commendation by the Commander of the Twelfth Fleet. He received post-graduate work at the U. S. Submarine school, New London, Conn., and for two years has been naval science instructor at the NROTC unit, Harvard university.

Also reporting for duty in the summer as an instructor in the NROTC program at the University will be William K. Bickenbach, USNR. He will come here following completion of an NROTC orientation conference at Northwestern university.

Cancer Problems To Be Discussed Over KUOI

The penalty for delay in treatment of cancer will be the subject of the next broadcast in the "For the Living" series now being heard over KUOI. The program, to be aired tonight at 10 p.m., deals with the problems of cancer in women and features the performances of radio actress Lurene Tuttle and screen star Edward G. Robinson.

Based upon the dramatic story of Mrs. Susan Markel, a typical housewife who finds herself afflicted with cancer of the breast, this program is presented by KUOI in cooperation with the American Cancer society. Mr. Robinson and Miss Tuttle, together with other principals on the broadcast, have donated their talents as a contribution to the continuing educational work of the society. Music is under the direction of Lyn Murray, and the program was written by Hu Chain.

Reduce Cancer.
In offering this broadcast, American Cancer society officials point out that cancer of the breast takes a higher toll among women than any other type of cancer. They stress that with early treatment full recovery is possible.

Modern science is today able to deal with cancer in its early stages, and vigilance upon the part of every American will greatly reduce cancer's needlessly high quota of deaths.

Art Is Offered By Correspondence

Twelve of America's best-known commercial artists are conducting a correspondence at school, the Institute of Commercial Art, to which students mail all completed assignments. Institute headquarters are located in Westport, Connecticut.

Lessons completed in the advanced courses are forwarded directly to the individual artists who are in direct correspondence with their students. This correspondence school enables amateurs to gain the advice of popular illustrators.

Artists directing the school have combined their talents and prepared a series of loose-leaf textbooks which include more than 6,000 original drawings for student use. Enrollment information is available at the Art department.

Home Ec Students Fete FHA Groups

Engagement Told By Tri-Delt Girl

Miss Louise Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Miller of Nezperce, announced her engagement Tuesday, April 6, to Mr. Jim A. McClure, Payette.

The announcement was made at dinner in the Delta Delta Delta house. An Easter theme was carried out in the table decorations, with daffodils as the center-piece and small nests filled with candy at each place. One large egg in every nest was inscribed with "Jim and Lou."

Mrs. Kenneth Wiegele, Miss Betty Pyles, and Mrs. Zimri Mills were guests at the engagement dinner.

Dr. Folz Promoted To Head Ag Econ

Promotion of Dr. William E. Folz to professor and head of agricultural economics and agricultural economist of the agricultural experiment station was announced today by President J. E. Buchanan, following authorization by the board of regents.

The promotion shifts Dr. Folz from the school of business to the college of agriculture, effective July 1. He gained extensive experience in agriculture economics during World War II while serving in Washington, D. C., as senior fiscal economist with the budget bureau and associate chief economist of the food price division.

Dr. Folz was granted leave of absence from the university to take the wartime post. He first served as economist with the department of commerce and statistician for the senate small business committee, but later was promoted to the food price position in which he dealt with agriculture economics. In addition to his university work, he now serves as economic consultant to the bureau of reclamation.

Stimson's Article Appears In Journal

"The Preparation of Conflict of Laws Teaching Materials," an article by Edward S. Stimson, dean of the University of Idaho college of law, is featured in the spring issue of the Journal of Legal Education. The journal is the official publication of the Association of American Law Schools.

Dean Stimson, who has had several books and numerous articles on conflict of laws published, provides in his latest article an outline for teaching the subject.

Washington State college will be host for the second day's sessions. The Spokane chapter of A. I. A. is sponsoring a banquet following the meetings. Institutions in six states and one Canadian school will be represented at the conference.

Engineers To Hold Important Meeting

An important joint meeting is scheduled by the American society of mechanical engineers student branch and the American society of civil engineers student branch for Monday April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in room 104 of the engineering building.

A movie of the building of the Golden Gate Bridge will be shown. This movie is a complete story of one of the greatest engineering achievements of modern times. The actual construction work is shown beginning with the arrival of the steel at the bridge site, following through to the erection of the two huge towers and to the final placing of the structural members which support the 60-foot wide roadway.

After the movie the groups will hold separate short business meetings. The A.S.M.E. will hold an election of officers for the coming year.

Architects Plan Meeting In April

Pacific coast regional conference for architectural instructors is scheduled April 14 and 15. This year's meetings will be held jointly at Idaho and WSC, according to Prof. T. S. Pritchard, head of art and architecture.

Opening at Idaho April 14, meetings will feature discussions of new trends in architecture, new teaching methods, and a display of student efforts in the art field.

Washington State college will be host for the second day's sessions. The Spokane chapter of A. I. A. is sponsoring a banquet following the meetings. Institutions in six states and one Canadian school will be represented at the conference.

Officials in charge of the three-weekly motion pictures at Hialeah report that "horse operas" are the most popular films with stable hands.

Baseballers Face Huskies; Split For Second Place In Banana Belt League

Coach Chuck Finley's baseball crew opens up the PCC northern division baseball loop this week against University of Washington in Seattle, Friday and Saturday. The Vandals will leave Moscow Thursday morning.

Idaho found itself last week and finished up Banana Belt League competition at Lewiston in a whirlwind fashion. The Vandals won their first ball game in six starts by drubbing the Spokane Indians of the Western International circuit, 11 to 5.

Slow In Starting

After having dropped an unimpressive 12-0 decision to Washington State in the opener Tuesday, and a narrow 5-4 verdict to the Great Falls Selectrics of the Pioneer League Thursday, the win from the Spokane professionals was a shot in the arm to Idaho.

Rejuvenated, the Vandals then handed North Idaho college of education a 4 to 1 slapping Saturday afternoon and thus pulled themselves into a second place tie in final standings.

Pitcher Bob Pritchett turned in a credible performance against NICE Saturday and gave the Loggers but five hits during the abbreviated seven-inning contest.

Pitcher Tags One

Idaho pushed three runs across in the third frame to clinch the ball game. Bob Pritchett started the inning by hitting a single and advanced to second when Tobe Masingill lined out a base hit. Bill Simmons went to first on the fielder's choice, filling the bases. Hal Hunter then stepped up to the plate and knocked out a double to score the trio.

Idaho Rifle Team Has Second Place In 6th Army Area

Second place in the sixth army area rifle match for the William Randolph Hearst trophy was taken by the university ROTC rifle team, Captain C. R. Underdahl, team coach, learned this week.

Idaho was second only to the University of San Francisco in competition with more than 17 schools in eight states, Alaska and Hawaii. The winning score was 940 out of a possible 1,000 while the score made by the Idaho team was 938. Montana State university was third with 930.

Medals Presented

Over the past 10 years, the university has held the championship three times, in 1942, 1944, and 1947, and second place in 1941, 1943 and 1950. The sixth army area covers schools in Idaho, Washington, Alaska, Hawaii, Oregon, Montana, Arizona, Nevada, California and Utah.

Competition in the rifle matches is held by mail with targets sent to Washington D. C. for scoring by officials of the Hearst newspapers. The trophy and team medals will be presented at the university May 19 during an evening retreat ceremony for officers making the annual federal inspection of the ROTC unit.

Members of the Idaho rifle team are Gerald Van Hardenberg, Robert J. Wilkinson, Howard Chadwick, and Martin J. Ourada. On the team at the time of the match, but now out of school is James E. Wommack.

Powerful Oregon Track Team To Visit Moscow For Opener

University of Idaho track and field team will dedicate the new track at Neale stadium this Saturday in a season's opener with University of Oregon.

The spell of bad weather broke over the weekend and the Vandals have settled down to rugged outdoor work with a vim and vigor for the first time this year. Coach Stan Hiserman has been busily running the squad through badly needed time trials in nightly practices. As yet he has had little opportunity to judge his prospects for the season and is therefore a little hesitant to make any predictions. One thing he knows for sure, however, is that the Oregon Ducks will be no push-over.

Star-Studded

Coach Bill Bowerman, in his second season at Oregon, will bring to Moscow one of the most promising teams to represent the school in the last 15 years. The squad carries over many of the stars that brought home second place honors in Northern Division championships at Seattle last year. Added to this will be a number of sophomores and transfers that have track fans at Eugene watering at the mouth.

Heading the list of returning lettermen is pole vaulter, George Rasmussen. Rasmussen has never been defeated in dual meet competition in three years of vaulting and has won co-championship of the NCAA twice and the PCC once. He was also a member of the AAU squad which toured Europe last summer as the result of his second place in the AAU finals. His best mark to date is 14 feet five inches and he has high hopes of bettering that mark if vaulting conditions are anywhere near normal.

Henthorne Adding Event Back to defend his ND championship in both the 100 yard and 220 yard sprints is senior Dave Henthorne. Last year he flashed to these titles in 9.7 and 21.3 respectively. This season he plans to turn to the quarter mile part of the time along with the relay. His best time for the one lap grind is 48.4.

Also back is defending champ Woodley Lewis in the broad jump. In 1949 Lewis split his time between track and football. This season he will devote all his time to track and his performances should improve. He was undefeated in dual meet competition and his top mark during the schedule was 23' 9".

Vandaleer Soloist Presents Recital

Louise Miller, soprano student, highlighted her senior recital last Tuesday evening in the auditorium with her interpretation of "Ah, fors' e lui," from "La Traviata" by Verdi. Miss Miller was presented under the auspices of the Idaho music department.

As an encore number Miss Miller sang "All for You." She will receive her B.A. degree in music in June.

Wyoming, Texas Western Added As Grid Opponents

Dad will be honored on his day at the University of Idaho when the Vandals tangle with University of Wyoming Cowboys Saturday, November 4, at Neale stadium. The two schools recently signed a two-year home-and-home pact, according to Gale L. Mix, secretary of the faculty athletic committee.

The signing of Wyoming, 1949 Skyline champions, assures Vandal fans of three home contests for 1950. Other games that are scheduled for home include Montana State, September 30 and a conference game with University of Oregon on October 14.

Topics In Conference

Wyoming had an excellent record during the 1949 season with a 10-game schedule. They were undefeated in conference play and lost only to Baylor of the Southwest circuit outside the conference. The Cowpokes scored 375 points for the season while their opponents counted for 65. This shows both a sturdy defense as well as a varied offense.

In listing the games for the 1950 season, Mix said the Vandals had moved into the Border conference for a game, signing with Texas Western on October 7 at El Paso, Texas. Texas Western, formerly known as Texas Mines has long been a football power in the highly competitive Southwest section.

Texas Western tied for third spot in the Border conference with four wins and two losses, but their overall nine game schedule shows them second only to the winner Texas Tech with seven wins and two losses. The Southwesterners scored 259 points and allowed the opposition only 93 markers. The Vandals have been practicing hard and long in their spring drills. The team showed up for three practice sessions last week stressing both the fundamentals of blocking and tackling.

Roster Filling Out

John Brogan, the teams running specialist, reported in full uniform yesterday for the first time. Vern Baxter was released from the infirmary in time to join Brogan and the rest of the team members. Howell anticipates, that by the end of the week the squad will participate in its first real scrimmage, weather permitting.
