Army, Navy, Air Force Ready For Armed Forces Day

All-Campus Outdoor Dance Scheduled For Tonight

The only all-campus outdoor dance of this year is scheduled tonight from 9 until 12 at the tennis courts across from Memorial gym. Sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service fraternity, the dance was planned by Chairman Kenny West. Music will be furnished by KUOI.

No admission will be charged for the dance. Sports dress will be the order of the evening. Multi-colored flood lights have been arranged to provide lighting. In case of rain the dance will be held in Memorial gym.

Present Cups Tonight
Highlighting intermission at 10:30 will be the presentation of trophies to living groups sponsoring winning Ugly Ike and Gaudy Gert contestants. At noon yesterday Sigma Alpha Epsilon was leading for the Ugly Ikes with $12.40. Alpha Phi at that time led the Gaudy Gerts with $8.25. Phi Gamma Delta and Willis Sweet hold second and third places for the men. Alpha Chi Omega and Pi Beta Phi are second and third for the women.

Today is the last day of voting for the Idaho Ugly Ike and Gaudy Gert of 1950. Final count of money given each contestant will be made at 10 tonight at the dance.

Buy Memorial Plaque
Money raised in this and last year's Gaudy Gert-Ugly Ike contests has been donated by Alpha Phi Omega to defray expenses of buying and presenting the war memorial plaque, dedicated last week to university students.

Chairmen for the committees who arranged details for the dance are Kenny West, general chairman; Cecil Fleck, advertising; John Kugler, music; John Lacy, invitations; and Bob Culbertson, cleanup.

New Deal
When students register at the University of Idaho next fall they will receive one more document than usual—at no extra cost.

Following recommendations by the student union committee, the Executive Board has voted to issue student union cards to students next fall.

This will restrict usage of the facilities of the new building to students, with an extension to faculty as soon as "traffic" can be determined.

The card will be purely an identification document which will mark the bearer as a student. It will be of regular billfold size and can be carried at all times.

Its use will be necessitated at any time that facilities become overcrowded.

WSC Might Be Over
As it was pointed out WSC will have no student union next year, or perhaps the year after, while their new building is being constructed. Also many townspeople will be anxious to take advantage of the modern and complete facilities of the student building. Especially will this be true of the bowling alleys, and pool and billiard tables. Some sort of check will undoubtedly be needed to insure that only students who have paid their fees will be able to use the facilities they have paid for. The cards will provide that easy check.

Ramblings
Donna Jean Broyles, recently appointed Homecoming Chairman for 1950 is the only known coed to have held that position. . . . Former ASUI President Bob Moulton and present AWS President Janice McCormack live within five miles of each other—near Hometown. Present ASUI President Vern Bahr is from Weiser, only about 40 miles from both.

Council Started For Music Students
A new music student's council was recently organized to serve as a link between music students and faculty.

Professor Carl Claus has been selected as faculty advisor for the group. Students on the council are Greta Beck, Jerry Goecke, Pat Rambo, George Poulos, and John Sheeley.

Six Members Of Faculty Print Copy

Six University of Idaho staff members have recently had material published in national publications and periodicals.

Professor C. N. Coe of the English department authored "Wordsworth and Cox's Travels in Switzerland," published in Notes and Queries of the Oxford University press. Articles by Johnson Parker, instructor in botany, titled "Germination in Eastern Red Cedar Seeds" and "Planting Loblolly Pine Outside Its Natural Range" were published in the Journal of Forestry.

Articles Published
Professor J. W. Martin, head of agricultural engineering, wrote "Farm Electrification Research Pays Dividends" for Electrical West. An article on "Paracolon Organisms," co-authored by W. L. Harris, university instructor in bacteriology, and Dr. C. H. Drake of the Washington State college faculty, appeared in The Sanitarian.

"Roots of the Western White Pine Type," written by Dr. E. E. Hubert, research pathologist in the Forest Wildlife and Range Experiment station, was published in Northwest Science.

Dr. J. Frederick Weltzin, head of the school of education, was a contributor to "The Yearbook of School Law 1950," published by the University of Pennsylvania.

Singers Present Spring Concert Monday Night

The University Singers, with Norman Logan conducting, will present their annual spring concert in the auditorium Monday at 8 p.m. Accompanists for the singers are Greta Beck and Marilyn Pond.

Folk songs will be featured first by the entire group. The closing section of the program will feature the entire mixed chorus in a group of four popular Negro spirituals.

Opening the program will be the mixed chorus singing "He's Gone Away," Clokey; "The Galway Piper," Clough-Leighter; "I Won't Kiss Katy," Smith-Aschenbrenner; and "Hopsaa," Luvaas.

Women Will Sing
Following will be the women's chorus singing "Liza," Gershwin-Wood; "Prelude," Ronald; "Jalousie," Gade; and "Song of Shadows," Cookson.

"Cockles and Mussels," Maryott; "Bondage," Test-Howorth; "When I Think Upon the Maidens," Head-Samuelsen, will be presented by the men's chorus.

Concluding the program the mixed chorus will sing "Ole Ark's A-Moverin'"; Cain; "So Sad," also solo by Joan Martin, Bureligh; "King Jesus is A-Listenin'"; Dawson; and "Dark Water," James.

Flying Farmers To Attend Tour

Members of Washington and Idaho Flying Farmers organizations have been invited to attend the Soil Conservation Air and Ground Tour on May 28.

Robert White, secretary of the Washington Flying Farmers, has accepted the invitation and said they planned to make the Moscow-Pullman airport their headquarters for the day.

The air and ground tours will be conducted jointly by the North and South Palouse Soil Conservation districts in Washington and the Latah district in Idaho. A minimum charge will be made to cover costs of the air tour, but the ground tours will be conducted without charge, and all tours will start from the airport located between the two cities.

The Moscow Junior Chamber of Commerce and Jay-C-Ettes will have charge of concessions at

Gem, KUOI, Arg, Blot, Tell Changes

Appointments to major ASUI publications for the coming school year were approved Tuesday evening by the Executive Board, according to Vern Bahr, ASUI president. Positions on Blot, campus humor magazine; Gem of the Mountians, yearbook; KUOI, campus radio station; and The Argonaut, student newspaper, were confirmed.

Gem Editor
Gerry Bunnell, a junior majoring in business, was named editor of the 1951 Gem. Bunnell, present associate editor, has worked in various positions on the Gem staff for the past three years. Fairy Frank and Gerald McKee were chosen co-associate editors with Bunnell. Bunnell will succeed June Thomas, 1950 editor.

KUOI Appoints Three
Staff positions of chief engineer, production director, and program director for station KUOI were appointed. Bob Burnham, engineering junior, will continue as chief engineer. He has served in that capacity for the past year. Janet Fulton was appointed as KUOI's first woman program director. George Poulos was given a permanent position as production director. He has held the position on a temporary status since February.

Arg Positions Named
Argonaut appointments include Jack Mossman as business manager. Mossman has worked on the Argonaut advertising staff for two years and was advertising manager this year. Janet Holman succeeds him in the latter position. She has served on the business staff this year.

View Campus
Preparing of trees for shipment in the forestry nursery, weaving in the home economics department, handling of wildlife specimens and working with big engineering equipment were among the varied projects seen. Tours were conducted through the University's new buildings.

Those making the trip included: John Corlett, Idaho Daily Statesman, Walter Johnson, Statewide, Milo Petersen, KGEM, and Earl Glade, KDSH, Boise; J. T. LaFond, News-Tribune, and H. R. McCosh, KCID, Caldwell; Edward Hurt, KFXD, Nampa; Claude Cain, KWEL, Weiser; Leland Burress, Gooding Leader, Gooding; R. S. Tofflemire, Times-News, Frank McIntyre, KLIX, and Jack Farraaj, KTFI, Twin Falls; Larry Robinson, Minidoka County News, Rupert; C. P. Kimball, Daily Bulletin, Blackfoot; Louis Haller, KEFY, and Nicholas Ifft, Pocatello Tribune, Pocatello; and Hal Simmons, KIFI, and Roy Southwick, KID, Idaho Falls.

DePaur Chorus 1st In Concert Series
Community concert artists who will be featured in the Moscow-Pullman 1950-51 season were chosen last week.

Next fall's first concert will feature the De Paur infantry chorus at Moscow in early November. Robert Casdus, pianist, will appear in Pullman in mid-January followed by opera soprano, Rise Stevens in Moscow in early February.

Ricardo Odnoposoff, Chilean violinist, will play in Moscow in early March with Vivian Della Chiesa, soprano, appearing in Pullman toward the middle of March. The St. Louis Sinfonietta closes the concert season in Pullman in April.

Danish Gym Team Performs Tonight

Demonstrating perfect agility, speed, and timing, 32 young men and women, composing the Danish Gym team, will perform for Idaho spectators tonight at 7:30 in Memorial Gym. Directed and managed by Erik Flensted-Jensen, this group will present rhythmical gymnastics, balance beams, acrobatics, fundamental gymnastics, Danish folk dances, and apparatus and tumbling.

This unique team now on its third American tour, is uniformly husky, healthy, and skillful. The unusual feature about these men and women, however, is their system of training. Although all of them have come from numerous occupations in Denmark, they have given their free time to the pursuit of healthy and coordinated calisthenics.

Stress Calisthenics
Most of the Danish Gym team are in their early twenties and have been screened through stiff competition from the pick of Denmark's gym youth. Flensted-Jensen, managing director and coach, has established strength, coordination, and flexibility as keynotes of their precision exercises. Personal enjoyment in calisthenics is the leading inspiration in developing their skills.

Many invitations to perform

Joint Open House This Evening With Saturday Morning Parade And Drill

Under the slogan "Teamed For Defense," the University of Idaho and Moscow will don uniforms this weekend in conjunction with the first annual national Armed Forces Day scheduled for tomorrow. Army, navy, and air force units of ROTC will hold joint observance of the occasion.

Colonel Charles F. Hudson, university ROTC head, stated, "The department of defense includes the army, navy, air force, and marine corps. It is maintained and supported by, and for the protection of the people of the country. Once a year an opportunity is afforded the American people to see and review what the department is doing. Our program is designed to focus the attention of the local residents on the activities and accomplishments of the past year. It is through these activities that the services wish to maintain public support and assistance for the coming year."

Truman Set Date
President Truman set aside tomorrow (May 20) as Armed Forces Day number one. Prior to this year, each branch of the service held individual festivities. Robert K. Bonnet, mayor of Moscow, announced in a proclamation to the citizens of Moscow that, "Saturday, May 20, 1950, shall be known as Armed Forces Day; and I invite the citizens of the city to celebrate on that day in such manner as to honor the Armed Forces of the United States and the millions of veterans who have returned to civilian pursuits."

Along with talks by military personnel and motion pictures, the weekend's program will include the following:

Joint army-air force ROTC review (annual Federal inspection), Neale stadium, today from 4 to 5 p.m.

Concert by the military band on lawn across from engineering building, this evening at 6:45. If it rains, the concert will be held in the university auditorium.

Program Listed
Joint army-air force open house, Memorial gymnasium, tonight from 7 to 10.

Parade through business district of Moscow at 10:30 tomorrow morning. Participants in the parade include the army, navy, and air ROTC; ROTC band; National Guard; American Legion; Veterans of Foreign Wars; Boy Scouts of America; Girl Scouts; Campfire Girls; Organized Reserve Corps; and the Moscow high school band. Flights of airplanes from the Spokane air force base and the Spokane naval air station will also participate.

Precision drill team competition, Neale Stadium, tomorrow at 1 p.m. Teams representing the Pershing Rifles, army ROTC drill team, navy ROTC drill team, and a drill team from Washington State college will take part in the competition.

Joint army-navy air force open house, Memorial gymnasium, tomorrow from 3 to 6 p.m.

The weekend's activities are open to the general public.

KUOI Ends Year's Work

Last Tuesday night at 12 m., KUOI, the voice of the Vandal, finished another year of broadcasting.
 During the year the station has presented a 12 hour daily schedule of good entertainment to the students of the University of Idaho, and has given experience to some 70 persons connected with the operation of the station.
 This year KUOI gained acceptance as an official publication of ASUI. This means that, in the future, the campus radio station will be able to produce better programs, furnish clearer reception, and operate on a budget which it has never had before.
 KUOI will be housed in beautiful third floor studios in the new Student Union building next year with almost entirely new equipment. The future is bright for the "powerful little six-watter," and each coming year should see the station grow bigger and better.
 So until next fall, goodbye to KUOI. We'll hear from you when we come back. —D. H.

More U. S. Bonds On Sale

A savings bond drive was opened in Idaho recently by the U. S. treasury department with a goal of $1,690,000 in bonds. This is part of a nationwide campaign to be known as the "Liberty Bell" bond drive.
 Ending on July fourth, this drive has as its theme: "Save for your independence, buy U. S. savings bonds." This theme is not only good advice, but it works two ways:
 In the first place you can, by buying bonds, lay the foundation for your personal financial independence in the future.
 In the second place when you buy bonds you are helping to perpetuate an independent nation in which to live.
 Perhaps many of you have become tired of hearing about savings bonds year after year, and for that reason you may tend to ignore any more talk about bonds. But, if you will stop to think about bonds despite the big noise, you will undoubtedly come to the conclusion that U. S. savings bonds are still just about the best way to save money. —D. H.

Challenge

It having been noted by we, the undersigned, the outdoor-loving students of the School of Forestry, that our beloved professors and instructors, being continually cooped up indoors and thereby becoming stuffy, indolent, and subject to expanding waistlines, we, constantly have their best interests and well being in mind, do hereby challenge them to an invigorating game of softball, to be played on Wednesday, May 24, in the year of our Lord nineteen-hundred and fifty, A. D., at 4 p.m. on the Women's Athletic Field, in the hope that a little ball will speed up their circulation, permit them to construct and administer just and equitable finals, and in general better fit them for their noble profession of imparting knowledge to their apt and eager pupils; it being needless to add that their failure to appear at the appointed time and place or their inability to muster enough of their number to make up a team will constitute a forfeiture and an acknowledgment that they are unfit to compete in manly sport with their student proteges!
 Signed,
 The Associated Student Foresters of the University of Idaho.

Black Chosen Prexy

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, named Sherman Black president last Monday night. Officers assisting Black next year will be Barbara Swanson, vice-president; Phyllis Andrew, secretary; John Paterson, treasurer; and Keith Keefer, reporter.

Engineer Society Meets Tomorrow

The statewide spring meeting of the Idaho Society of Professional Engineers will be held in Moscow tomorrow. Host for the event is the northern section of the society.
 Dean Allen Janssen, president of the Idaho state society, will report on the National Society of Professional Engineers meeting of presidents and secretaries. Dean Janssen attended the meeting in Nashville, Tenn., in March. Other business will include committee reports, appointments, and consideration of new members.
Discuss Arco Plant
 L. E. Johnston, manager of the Idaho operations of the Atomic Energy commission at Idaho Falls, will speak at a banquet tomorrow evening at 6, in the Moscow hotel. Johnston will discuss and review the work under his guidance at Arco, showing how the project affects engineering activities in this region.
 All engineering students are invited to attend the banquet, particularly graduating seniors.

4-H Group Holds Regional Meeting

Mu Beta Beta, national 4-H honorary, held a regional convention at WSC and Idaho last weekend. Idaho representative, Jerry McKee, was elected regional president at elections held Friday.
 Writing of a regional constitution was the main item on the agenda. Chapter activities were also discussed. Plans were made for the initiation of additional members of the Idaho chapter by the WSC chapter.
 Approximately 20 students from Montana State college, Idaho, and WSC, attended the convention.

Idaho's NROTC Unit Is Part Of Navy Expansion Program

By Don Hardy
 Idaho's Navy ROTC unit is one of the 52 "Little Annapolis" in the country. These units supplement the output of officers of the U. S. Naval Academy, and afford an opportunity for many deserving young men to attend college under the Navy training program.

Started in six universities in 1922, this program was not introduced to the University of Idaho until after the war in 1945. It was in that year that congress realized the necessity of establishing a peace time NROTC program on a large scale. A bill was passed in August 1946 which provided for a continuation of the program at 52 selected universities.

Buildings Constructed
 The Navy first established itself on the Idaho campus in the form of a radioman training school in 1942. Trainees were billeted in Willis Sweet and Chrisman halls. The Navy building, Idaho club, and Campus club were constructed for the 200 men then in training.

More than 100 men from 24 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii are now in training under the present NROTC program at Idaho. Many of these men will, upon graduation from the University, enter the regular Navy or Marine corps.

Men accepted for NROTC study toward a college degree to suit their needs, take courses in naval science to prepare them for service as officers in the Navy. The Midshipmen, as the trainees are called, receive a broad general education along with basic naval education.

Well Organized Unit
 The permanent personnel of the Idaho unit consists of 11 members who train midshipmen, maintain equipment, and handle the program administration. Unit equipment includes the most up to date naval training apparatus, a complete film library, many training aids, and various weapons.

The old Navy tag line "see the world" of course holds true for the midshipmen, for during summer months they participate in cruises which give them first hand navy "time" and extensive travel experience.

Midshipmen who have the status of regulars in the program have their uniforms, tuition fees and books furnished by the Navy, as well as receiving $600 per year. Upon graduation these men receive commissions as Ensigns in the Navy or as Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps and serve two years on active duty.

Program Varied
 Others under the program are known as contract students, and take navy training during their first two years of school. If they wish to continue under the program during their junior and sen-

Vandal Riders End Year's Activities

Vandal Riders will conclude the year's activities by attending WSC's first annual inter-collegiate rodeo at the Whitman County Fairgrounds in Colfax, tomorrow.
 Sponsored by the Hackamore Club at WSC, the rodeo will include bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, wild cow milking, wild native cow riding, and special women's events.

Four Colleges Enter
 Schools participating in the activities will be WSC, University of Idaho, Montana State, and Fresno State college. Students with activity cards will be admitted for $1. Wives of students will be admitted at student prices. Other admission is $1.50.

The Northwest colleges and universities are attempting to build a regular circuit of shows of this type. Rodeos have been held at Missoula and Colfax this spring, and the Vandal Riders are planning to sponsor one next year.

Idaho's team for the Colfax rodeo is: Pat Leuder, Floyd Venable, Bob Reed, Bob Shields, Norman Lodge, Bill Lodge, and King Block.

For years, they receive uniforms and subsistence allowances from the Navy. Students enrolled at the University may also take naval science courses as electives.

The NROTC, coordinating its work with the various schools of the University, has maintained high standards in every phase of student education. With the facilities at hand for training purposes and with the coordination of the various departments of the University, naval officers who emerge are a credit to the service and to University of Idaho.

Women's Fashions Change Yet They Are Never Happy

By Tom Mitchell
 "Fashion is a form of ugliness so intolerable that we have to alter it every six months."—Oscar Wilde. True, fashions come and fashions go—and the little woman's never happy with what she's got to wear. If the trend in skirt length is upward, she can hack off a few inches of hem and the dress is right in style. But every few years that mysterious vein of rumor has it that dresses must be longer.

So, Mr. Doaks ends up buying his wife a new wardrobe. Just think, if Mrs. D. could find her mother's dresses of the 1920s, she could have been right up-to-date from 1947 on. The flapper styles, it was feared for a time, were coming back. But the tide has turned, and so have male eyes now, as more and more of the legs show.

Trends Evaluated
 So true, the fact that fashions change. Listen* to the bible. I Corinthians. VIII. 31—"The fashion of this world passeth away." How many husbands have wished God's word would come true at once, just as the little lady is changing her wardrobe for the third time in 1950. But a cheerful note, especially for the unmarried males of the land. Each time the dresses have risen from the floor, they have been farther from the knee than at the last peak. This next upward journey of the hemline may prove to be very interesting. Just be thankful you can enjoy the scenery for free, and pity a little your unfortunate married brethren.

Now in Africa, there lives a tribe whose fashions have changed little since life began. The women wear little, perhaps a loin cloth and no one knows why even that. The only change might come in her yearly hair-do. This operation takes four days of fuzzing, scorching, rubbing in of clean dirt (it seems the last year's dirt was dirty!) and piling it in twists and weaves until the tip is some 16 to 20 inches above and behind her cranium. A few bones (with the meat still on, no doubt) are thrust into the hair-do and her annual dressing-down is complete!

Fashion Followers
 American women are probably less ingenious than the continental European species. The French ladies can adjust, revise, and rebuild their clothes until they fit the new fashion, or have set a new fashion of their own. But the "average housewife" on this side of the world, who changes her mind so often anyway, just chucks her clothes in the rag bag or sends them to CARE.

But one male writer sticks up for the ladies and their modes. "Fashion is only the attempt to realize art in living forms and social intercourse." Holmes. Mr. Holmes, here are three others who, if they don't contradict you, at least don't follow your argument.

"Fashion is the bastard of vanity, dressed by art."—Fuseli.

"Women cherish fashion because it rejuvenates them, or at least renews them."—Madame de Prezeux.

"A fashionable woman is always in love—with herself."—La Rochefoucauld.

One word of wisdom, in closing, "There would not be so much harm in the giddy following the fashions, if somehow the wise could always set them."—Bovee.

Allen Derr paid fines totaling $7 in city police court recently. He pleaded guilty to operating a (CAR?) with improper equipment—no tail light and poorly focused head lights—and no driver's license. Seven others posed bonds on minor parking infractions.

Capacity Audience Attends All-Bach Concert Tuesday

By Gloria Badraun
 Before a near-capacity crowd the University Symphony orchestra and Vandaleers presented an all-Bach concert Tuesday evening in the auditorium, commemorating the 200th anniversary of the world famous musician's death.

Three outstanding instrumental soloists were featured in Bach's "Fifth Brandenburg Concerto" presented by the university orchestra under the baton of George Michael. Soloists were Burke Sower, Eleanor Mader and Marlon Frykman.

History Repeats Itself

The audience thrilled to the expression and beauty of Bach's "Magnificat" in D, presented by the orchestra and Vandaleer chorus, Glen R. Lockery conducting. Soloists in the choral arrangements were Louise Miller, Joanne Peers, Lorraine Rudolph, Jack Gregory, and S. Keith Forney.

History seemed to repeat itself in that the university orchestra was almost identical in size and instrumentation to the orchestra conducted by Johann S. Bach in the original performance, more than 200 years ago. The Vandaleers was a somewhat larger group than the chorus of Bach's time

Pitcher's Nightmare

Joe Zavesky, Idaho rightfielder, beats out an infield hit on a bad throw from the Washington shortstop during Monday's action at McLean field. Washington's first sacker, Bill Andring, couldn't stretch far enough to recover and the ball scooted past him. The play was one of seven Husky miscues. Idaho won 6 to 5. (Photo by Schnell)

Home And Home WSC Series To End Vandal Baseball Season

Vandal diamond play for 1950 will take its final steps this weekend when the Idaho nine winds-up its Northern Division conference play against Back Bailey's ND champions.

Lefthander, Ozzie Kanikkeberg will toe the rubber for Idaho at Pullman this afternoon in the first of the two game series.

Action then swings to McLean field Saturday afternoon where Lloyd Schiller and Don Hunt will be on hand for mound duty. Today's contest starts at 3 o'clock and Saturday's game has been scheduled for 2 o'clock.

Oregon State	5	8	.385
Oregon	4	10	.286

A double loss for WSC in the series would only hurt the Cougars' pride and percentage standings while a two game defeat for Idaho could place the Vandals in the cellar as company for Oregon.

One-Hit Game
Idaho dropped into a third place tie with OSC Tuesday after an 8-1 defeat by Washington. Husky pitcher, Bob Bell, hurled a masterful one-hit job while his teammates covered the outfield with 17 hits and played errorless ball on defense.

Washington hit Sophomore Cless Hinckley with everything in the book and hit him in every inning in the process. Two homeruns, a triple, a double, and 13 singles salted the game away for Bell. Hinckley hit Idaho's lone bingo in the fourth inning with runners on first and second. The single scored Stallworth from second base but Idaho could not reach Bell again and the conclusion was quick.

Perfect Day
Bill Andring, Washington first baseman, hit five for five. Andring blasted four singles, then wound up the perfect with a homerun in the eighth.

Both Bell and Hinckley had bases bulging in the first inning. Bell filled up the sacks with nobody out and Hinckley loaded up with two away. No runs were scored.

Two Injuries Jolt Chances Of Upset By Vandal Netmen

Coach Eric Kirkland's Vandal tennis squad has lost any hope it might have had to upset the dope wagon in the 1950 Northern division tennis meet. Kirkland has announced that both Jack Scull and Jim Crane, the two most improved men on the team, are on the injury list and will not be able to participate.

Teams from University of Idaho, University of Oregon, Oregon State College, University of Washington, Montana State University, and Washington State College will compete for honors in the meet which begins today and ends tomorrow.

Favorite to cop the title for the eleventh straight year will be University of Washington. The Huskies are once again undefeated in ND dual matches this season.

Preliminary matches are slated to get underway at 9 a. m. today and semi-finals at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Finals will start at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Hiserman Takes Twelve To ND Track Competition

By Don Theophilus, Jr.
This morning Coach Stan Hiserman and his top twelve track and field men left for the Northern Division meet at University of Washington scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. Idaho's chances for a bright showing are a bit on the doubtful side, and Hiserman is not overly optimistic.

Cold weather, with its usual outcroppings of sickness and pulled muscles has plagued the Vandals throughout the season. Rarely have the men had three straight days of decent weather in which to work out. As a result the squad has been slow to round into condition and, almost without exception, performances have been below the expected.

Injury Hampered
When the team left early today two men were on the slightly injured list. Don Miller, top quarter-miler in the Northern Division who is tied for fourth on the Coast with a time of 49.6, has been troubled with shin-splints; which could slow him down. In the sprints Dick Newton, who has carried a big share of the load in the shorter distances, came up with a sore muscle and has had to ease up.

The rest of the squad making the trip is: John Allyson, Keith Bean, Norm Barber, Glen Christian, Norm Farnham, Dave Hiner, Myron Hogsdon, Warren Johanson, Dave Martindale, Bob Parish and senior manager Orval Hanson.

Ducks Are Favored
When Northern Division schools gather tomorrow it will be the University of Oregon favored to de-throne the Cougars from WSC. The Webfoots boast an undefeated team for the 1950 campaign—the best from the Eugene school in more than a decade.

WSC and Washington, however, rate as challengers in the tight race and will be in the thick of things till the mile relay is over. These intra-state rivals are evenly matched as their dual meet of last week will show. The two ended in a 65½ to 65½ deadlock that left fans wondering as to which had the best team.

Top Times Listed
A little light was shed on the subject this week when the best 1950 performances were released by the PCC Commissioner's office. Washington dominated events followed by WSC, Oregon, Idaho and Montana in that order. Records to date include:

100-yard dash—Bill Fell, Oregon (9.5).
220-yard dash—Craig Weisman, Washington (21.3).
440-yard dash—Don Miller, Idaho (49.6).
880-yard run—Jack Hensley, Washington (1:53.9).
1 mile run—Warren Johanson, Idaho (4:19.1).
Two-mile run—George Abbey, Washington (9:30.8).
High hurdles—Jack Burke, Washington (14.5).
Low hurdles—Jack Burke, Washington (23.9).
Mile relay—Washington and Washington State (3:18.8).
High jump—Eric Roberts, WSC (6-5½).
Broad jump—John Higgins, WSC (23-5¼).
Pole vault—George Rasmussen, Oregon (14-1).
Shot put—Frank Mataya, WSC

SAE Muralmen Are Horseshoe Champs
Chuck Barbee, Joe Gandiaga, Jerry Rockwood, and Jim Ver-gobbi pitched the SAE's into championship in intramural horseshoe yesterday to pick up 100 points toward the grand trophy. Jack Beach, Bill Sweet, Clint Peterson and Dick Jordan notched second place for the Kappa Sig with a total of 90 points.

Kenneth Hunter, athletic publicity director at the university, played a single tennis game that went to deuce 50 times in 1919. (Ripley's Believe it or not.)

(50-0).
Discus—Dick Doyle, Montana (166-9¼).
Javelin—Dick Nelson, WSC (209-0).

Kappa Sigma Wins Mural Track Meet; Phi Delt's Second
Kappa Sigma tracksters garnered 64½ points in participation and 68 points in event finals for a total of 133½ counters to claim title to the Intramural track championship for 1949-50 season. The meet was close all the way with the difference being made up in the participation column for the champions.

Living groups and their scores were as follows: KS, 133½; PDT, 122½; TKE, 119½; CC, 114; WSH, 111½; PGD, 110; DC, 105½; BTP, 99; IC, 96; PH, 93½; SAE, 79; CH, 56; SN, 52½; SC, 51; DTD, 42; TV, 42; ATO, 39½; LCA, 36; LDS, 21 PKT, 9; TMA, 9.

Ken Larsen broke the only intramural record of the meet when he tossed the 12 pound shot 50 feet one inch. His put bettered an old record set in 1937 by Doyle, LCA who heaved the steel ball 48 feet 2½ inches. Larsen competed for the Idaho club.
