VOL. 55, NO. 1

THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1950

Registration Goes Ahead According to Planned Schedule

Ivy clad and new buildings at the University of Idaho were bristling with activity again this week after a summer's comparative rest. Many students from as many different environments returned to join together in the common quest of education.

Jason and the rest of the Argonaut staff wishes to welcome all students to our school, and wish them a happy and prosperous year. Though school doesn't actually begin until Monday, everything seems even now nearing a state of normal. New students who were confused and lost upon arriving, already know their way around. Old students have familiarized themselves with the amazing changes the summer has produced on the campus.

Changes

Most of these changes have been along the building lines, and spell a bigger and better university. Jason envies the freshmen this year, and yet he feels a little sorry for them. They will never fully realize, as the older students can, just how much of an advantage they are starting under.

Biggest advantage all students will realize is the new student union building. It will soon become the hub of all campus social life, especially after the bowling alleys and cafeteria begin to operate — tentatively estimated at two weeks.

This building belongs to the students. They and they alone are paying for it. As their own building, they are expected to treat it with all the decency they would give any of their other personal property.

Rush

Now that Rush is over, the new crop of girls involved can speak to people again. One of the girls said the hardest part of rush was "having all those boys whistle at, talk to, and make sport of us, and we couldn't even talk back." To the men however, this period is always enjoyable. It clearly demonstrates that there is a way to keep a woman quiet — however short it may last.

Registration

Latest guess at final registration figures, after first day's registration was completed, have been put at well over 3,000 — almost the same number that registered last year. Veteran's Administration officials predict the veteran enrollment will be down a little because of the large Veteran graduation last year. However, GI bill termination for those who have not initiated schooling prior to July 1951, will prompt some to enroll. One major factor in holding up enrollment figures near last year's is the Korean situation. College students will be deferred for some time yet.

More Women

From the Dean of Women's office comes the promising news (to men at least) that at least 51 more women will register this year than last. This means that last year's ratio of nearly 3 women to 1 man will be cut to around 2 1/2 to 1.

Question Department

What prompted the rise of dry cleaning and pressing costs just prior to the start of school this fall?

Executive . . . . . . . Board

Following is the Agenda for the ASUI Executive Board meeting tonight:

- Appointments:
- Campus Chest Chairman
- NSA Committee
- Calendar Committee Representative
- Student-Faculty Council Representative
- Dad's Day Assistant Chairman
- Executive Board Representative to work with Student Union Manager
- ASUI Budget Study.

First All-Campus Mixer Saturday In New Addition

Prexy Tells Of Grave Situation

At the general faculty meeting which traditionally starts the academic year, President J. E. Buchanan of the University of Idaho today pointed out that the University once again faces a period of wartime instability. With such conditions facing college students, President Buchanan called upon the faculty members to "extend to our young men and women students that measure of understanding and consideration they sorely need to maintain their personal anchors."

Plans "Fluid"

President Buchanan went on to state that "all plans are in a decidedly fluid state. America is carrying the brunt of the United Nations action in Korea. Calling of enlisted and officer reserves is taking away students and faculty. Operations of selective service inevitably involve students because armies and universities need the same intelligent and able-bodied young men. The university is again, as it did in 1941-42, gearing itself to war conditions."

The president then pointed out that, if this nation is facing a long period of armed conflict, "we must give serious thought to the best long-range use of our mentally capable and physically able young men and women." He said that for a short-term armed struggle we may afford the risk of emptying our colleges and universities for quick victory, with educational aid to help catch up on deferred study.

Education and Defense

"This could be a form of national suicide, however, if we in fact face a long-time struggle for self-preservation," Buchanan added. "We need to give serious thought to this possibility for the purpose of developing a plan for combined education and defense training. Soldiers must be supported by science and technology and production. We should not consume our seed and thereby have no crop of future leaders."

University Receives Bids For Windows

Bids were received today from two Moscow firms, Commercial Builders, Inc., and John E. Thomas for the replacement of windows and window casings in Forney Hall, women's dormitory at the University. Basic commercial bid was $19,741, and basic Thomas bid, $21,865. Until selection of alternate bids is made, however, the low bidder cannot be determined. Bids now go to the university board of regents for review, Business Manager Kenneth Dick said.

Students Enroute To U.S. Colleges

Shown on board the Gdynia America line motorship Batory upon arrival in New York from Copenhagen, Southampton and Gdynia, are these Scandinavian students on their way to U. S. colleges to continue their studies. Left to right are: Jens Middelboe, 18, from Denmark, on the way to the University of Idaho; Birte Falk, 18, from Denmark, going to the University of Minnesota; Britten Bengtsson, 20, from Sweden, going to Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C.; Anne Lise Ankerstjerne, 19, of Denmark, to Goucher College, Baltimore, Md.; and Helge Jensen, 20, Denmark, to Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

The scuffling sound of soft shoes against a waxed floor will first be heard this year on the Idaho campus tomorrow evening at the annual all-campus mixer which will be held in the new ballroom of the student union building.

Sponsored by Blue Key, national leadership honorary, this mixer is destined to portray the role of a housewarming party also as it will be the first dance held in the new SUB.

There will be no admission charge and the dress is sport attire. Music will be furnished by Don Hannah's orchestra. Dancing will begin at 9 a.m. and last until midnight.

Held primarily to enable new students to become better acquainted with their schoolmates, John C. Petersen, Blue Key prexy, stated that no expense has been spared to insure one and all a good time.

Petersen went on to say, "this mixer is not necessarily a date dance, in fact 'going stag' is the fad at this first-get-together dance of the year."

This mixer is held every year in conjunction with the director of student affairs, Dean Lattig, to give a lift to students after dreary days of registration.

Vernon Bahr, ASUI president, will give a short welcome address during the mixer.

Identification Card Issued Instead

Something new has been added! No longer will the thick, stubby ASUI books be found bulging in wallets. Instead, a student identification card will be issued to each member of the associated students.

The card will have a picture of the holder on it, to serve as an aid in identification for cashing checks on the campus, and will be used to admit students to the infirmary. Infirmary officials have reason to believe that persons other than students, have, at times, used the facilities. This card will eliminate that situation.

As always, the card will be non-transferable. With the identification picture on it, this rule will be easier to enforce at student affairs. It will serve as handy proof at any time that a person is enrolled in the university and is entitled to student rates and privileges. Violation of transfer rights by the holder entitles authorized persons to revoke the card.

Gems Here Sept. 20

The Gem of the Mountains, University of Idaho student yearbook, will be out September 20, according to General Manager Gale Mix. Students are requested to watch the Argonaut for announcement of when to pick up their books.

According to Marvin Washburn, chairman, persons who have cars and desire riders will report to the general manager's office between 7 and 9 p.m. Monday. Those without cars and wanting rides are asked to report Tuesday and Wednesday evenings—same time, same place. The committee will coordinate the two groups before Friday.

Women's Rush Ends Today

Formal "Rushing" for University of Idaho co-eds ended Wednesday evening, but "open Rushing" continues till noon today. Many girls received bids just before noon yesterday, but others will be pledged till noon today. At the end of that time, the eight campus sororities will have completed fall pledging and lists of the neophytes will be compiled. Pledging is on a one, two, three choice basis, as listed by both the girls and the sorority.

One Will Be Governor's Son

Fraternal bonds this week united the sons of Idaho's two opposing gubernatorial candidates. Pledged to Sigma Chi fraternity at the University of Idaho was Stephen Jordan (right), son of Len Jordan, Republican candidate for governor. He is being congratulated by fraternity member Thomas Wright, son of Calvin Wright, Democratic candidate for governor.

Welcome From University President

Students of the University of Idaho: You are starting the fall term at your university during a period of uncertainties. But of this we are certain: Attending the university is important to both you and your country. The strength of our nation is based upon a continuing production of well trained young men and women—well trained in all the fields of knowledge vital to progress. We are glad you are here, and hope the year will be one of your best.

Through our replacement building program, many new improvements await you—the Student Union, enlarged intramural play and practice fields, a New Agricultural Science building, a modernized Mines building, new parking lots. Accomplishing this work has been a major summer effort. More is to be accomplished during the school year.

Meanwhile, both students and faculty have one irritating problem to meet: Our summer timetable for completion of buildings for use this fall was blasted when the North Koreans opened fire last June. Increasingly since then we have experienced tightening of materials, delayed deliveries, and diversion of skilled workers. Buildings and other improvements that should have been ready for the opening of school may not be entirely finished. Consequently, there will be some disruptions and distractions until our construction is completed.

May I suggest that we all take these inconveniences in stride with good humor and understanding, comforted by the fact that the better facilities in immediate prospect are well worth a little inconvenience for a few additional weeks. Best wishes for the new year to all of you.

J. E. Buchanan, President.

Welcome From ASUI President

Hello Fellow Students: Again let me extend a Welcome to both you new and old students.

This year we are looking forward to a bigger and better year of athletics, scholarship, and activities. It depends on all of us, working together, to make it such a year, and I'm certain we can do it.

I'll see you around the campus.

Vern Bahr, ASUI President.

Rides To Boise Planned By NSA

Persons wanting rides or riders to Boise for the Idaho-Utah football game September 23 will want to take advantage of a service being set up by NSA.

According to Marvin Washburn, chairman, persons who have cars and desire riders will report to the general manager's office between 7 and 9 p.m. Monday. Those without cars and wanting rides are asked to report Tuesday and Wednesday evenings—same time, same place. The committee will coordinate the two groups before Friday.

Women's Rush Ends Today

Formal "Rushing" for University of Idaho co-eds ended Wednesday evening, but "open Rushing" continues till noon today. Many girls received bids just before noon yesterday, but others will be pledged till noon today. At the end of that time, the eight campus sororities will have completed fall pledging and lists of the neophytes will be compiled. Pledging is on a one, two, three choice basis, as listed by both the girls and the sorority.

Orientation Acquaints Freshmen

A new freshman orientation program, offering new students an idea of campus life, was initiated for the first time this week at Idaho by leaders of the Associated Students.

Plans were drawn for the orientation program during the spring semester by Marvin Washburn, Student government officials, club presidents and student radio and newspaper heads participated in the program to tell new students about university activities. Paul Araguistain served as chairman and master of ceremonies.

Scheduled for two hours daily, the two-day program opened with a welcome to the university by Vern Bahr, studentbody president. Other members of the student governing board were introduced by Bahr. Executive board members include Richard Reed, Harry Turner, Andy Christensen, Rose Ellen Schmidt, Hyde Jacobs, Ralph Fothergill, Sonnich Sonnlechen, and Donald Wills.

Activities Explained
Glen Stringham, student activities board chairman, explained Homecoming, Dad's Day and other all-campus activities to the group. Spurs, national sophomore women's service honorary, and Intercollegiate Knights, national men's (Continued on page 3, Col. 3)

Rush Week Ends Neophytes Named

Rush week for the men was completed here with the announcement of the names of 190 new pledges. This is the highest number ever pledged by the 14 fraternities at Idaho. Excluding Phi Gamma Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha, who did not announce the names of their pledges, the men who pledged included:

- Alpha Tau Omega — Larry Morrison, Gordon Boyer and Thomas Neal, Ephrata, Wash.; John Hess, Long Beach, Calif.; James Duncan, Grangeville; William Hopkins and Dwight Thomas, Pasco; Robert Parsons, Weiser; James Lind, Wallace, and Edward Lungren, Rich Collins and Sherrill Williamson, Boise.
- Beta Theta Pi — Joseph C. Komen, Kellogg; James M. Guthrie and Charles Newhouse, Boise; David Clements and James Lambert, Lewiston; Donald McCabe, St. Maries; Howard Mead and Ralph Hartwell, Idaho Falls; Thomas Curtis, Orofino; Burgess McDonald and Gordon Howard, Coeur d'Alene; Charles A. Zemp, Caldwell; Barton T. Muir, Kellogg; Ralph Townsend, Jr., Avery; Lawrence Daugh, Twin Falls; Miller Smith, Rexburg; Donald Keefe and Alan (Continued on page 3, Col. 1)

Creason And Parrott First To Complete Process

Registration for Idaho's 1950-51 fall semester started off with a big bang yesterday, and the registration procedure is going smoothly, according to D. D. DuSault, university registrar. The number system which has been in use for the past three or four years is again being employed, and DuSault stated that all numbers are running on schedule.

Old S.U.B. Converted By Addition

Undergoing a $650,000 transformation, the little Blue Bucket of former years has literally disappeared and in its stead stands a large new student union building complete with multi-colored walls, floor is mostly consumed by the caption rooms, ballrooms, a cafeteria, lounges, and offices each equipped with every modern convenience. Greeting entrants to the student center is a glowing ten-foot neon Vandal.

James Bowly has been appointed student union manager. Other new faces appearing at the SUB are Mrs. Melva Hoffman, dietitian, Mrs. F. W. Helmsworth, secretary, and Bill Bowly, accountant.

Open to Students

As soon as plumbing and electrical equipment is installed, the new student union cafeteria will open. It is expected to open in approximately two weeks. Bowling alleys will be ready for use in 10 days.

The three story building is now open to students and meeting rooms can be acquired by seeing Manager Bowly. Lounges, complete with radio and plush sofas, are ready for use as well as a cove room, situated on the second floor and equipped with a nickelodeon for dancing.

An all-campus mixer is scheduled tomorrow night in the spacious, multi-colored grand ballroom. There will be no admission and the dress is sport garb.

Offices of the student union manager, graduate manager, ASUI publicity director, ASUI president, and Argonaut are located on the first floor. Gem of the Mountains, Blot, and KUOI can be found on the third floor. The second floor is mostly consumed by the new ballroom. The bowling alley is in the basement.

Other new structures outlining the campus are the million-dollar agricultural science building and Kirtley electrical engineering laboratory. The new music building, the engineering classroom building and the addition to the administration building are due for completion during the winter and spring.

Board That Train

Publicity about every meeting and achievement of the organization is the dream of all members. This can be accomplished, if organizations cooperate. True, coverage in the Argonaut isn't good, but it is difficult, especially now, to contact every president of every organization after every meeting. Here are some suggestions for all campus organizations.

Class committees, clubs, honoraries, and groups appoint a publicity chairman who will contact the Argonaut about every bit of news from that group.

At least two weeks before any big event—dance, movie, or such, the publicity manager submits to the office of this newspaper a brief outline of the event—when it will take place, who to contact, the highlights, background, and committee lists.

All these stories should be put on the News Editor's desk or turned in to a member of the Argonaut staff.

Stories can be turned in on any Monday or Thursday afternoon before 4 p.m.

If you desire pictures, arrangements can be made with the editors for space, time of print, and photographers, although it is safest to get your own photo.

If there are more questions on group publicity contact the editors at the Argonaut office, phone 2148, on Monday or Thursday afternoons.

All the above helpful guides will aid your organization's publicity, and the Argonaut service.

Practice Good Study Habits For Successful College Life

After all's said and done, grades are one of the more important things to obtain while in school. It's fine to do many other things, but once in a while a little studying is almost necessary to stay in the institution.

For new students who are coming in, the university is just a little different from high school. But a formation of good study habits makes this part of college work a cinch.

Preliminary preparation for a study period is desirable. Arrange a study list for each day, allowing sufficient time for each subject. The main idea is not to let this work pile up and try to catch it all in the last week.

Clean your desk of everything except the materials needed for the work at hand. Radios, alarm clocks, and that picture of your loved one don't help your studying.

Lighting is important. If possible, it should be indirect and free of shadows. Room temperature should be comfortable—too hot, you'll fall asleep . . . too cold, you'll shiver, shake and not study.

The scene's set, and now the actor should get in the mood. If the goal for this particular session is obtainable without overwork, the studying will be free from boredom. Concentration comes naturally, and cannot be forced. Dig in and read the subject, and the proper amount of enthusiasm should be developed without further ado.

These and other good and successful study habits will save time in the long run, giving you more free time when the semester ends.

Fourteen Students From Out-of-state Receive Grants

Scholarships to cover out-of-state tuition at the University of Idaho have been granted to 14 students from two states and five foreign countries, Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, said today.

Freshman tuition scholarship from Montana and Washington include William Mahlik, Colfax, Wash.; William Hopkins, Mary Anne Tuttle and Donald Anderson Pasco, Wash.; Gwq Tupper, Spokane; Harold Solinsky, Colbert, Wash., and Clare Guernsey, Libby, Mont.

Three tuition scholarships have been granted to foreign students to be sponsored by University of Idaho fraternities. Jens Middleboe, Denmark, will be sponsored by the university chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity; Carlos de Meyers, Belgium, by Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and Christian Wackwitz, Germany, by Sigma Chi fraternity.

Willi Karl Lange and Wiltrud Weber, Germany, will be sponsored at the University of Idaho by the army of occupation in Germany.

Other-out-of-state tuition scholarships granted include Felix Rumlitz, Guam, sponsored by Jake Hershberger, Ashton, a navy instructor in Guam, and Cheng Tung, China, presently of Glens Spray, New York.

Nest Re-Opens With New Owner

Last week as students returned to the campus, something new had been added to an old landmark. The "Nest," which has been on the campus for some 30 years, had changed ownership during the summer, and had been given a thorough face-lifting job.

"Since 1923 Tommy Mathews has owned the Nest, and has worked there continuously. During the summer, Chet Peltrey, who had previously operated the Campus Cafe, bought the place from Tommy and carried out the extensive remodeling job.

A knotty-nine panel runs around the walls. A yellow and green color scheme is carried out on the remaining wall surface, and the roomier booths are finished in a shade of pink. A beautiful green tile floor completes the illusion of added space in the building. "All

Terrific Year Predicted For Every Field On Campus

Several uninformed sources, mostly the students' voices heard in the Nest and Perch, have stated that this is going to be a terrific year. Judging from the looks of the new students coming in, it will be a good year.

Perhaps these were the voices of those thinking of all the beer for sale, but then again, they may have been those of active students, planning to make this year a good one for themselves and the University.

We have everything to start this year out. New buildings are being readied for use, easing the old crowded classroom situation. A better than average football season is in the offing, according to Dixie Howell and Co. Registration lines are moving faster than ever, and with the old school spirit in everyone, we'll have a fine year.

Students Are Good Money Risks—Dick

"Students are good loan risks," says Kenneth Dick, business manager of the University of Idaho.

In a report issued today, Dick revealed that during the last fiscal year 470 students had borrowed a total of $29,531.98 from various loan funds established at the university through gifts. Already 335 have paid back $20,531.53. That leaves 135 still owing $9,146.45. This is a normal carryover, as all loans are not due in the fiscal year in which they are made.

The university has about a dozen different funds from which needy and worthy students can borrow money to help them through school.

"Besides their legal obligations, he students feel a strong moral obligation to pay back the loans as quickly as possible," said Dick. "They realize that money must be kept continuously available in the loan funds to take care of new students coming up who must borrow to complete their educations."

Colonel Chas. F. Hudson, P.M.S. & T., at Idaho, recently announced that veterans who are seniors at the University may receive commissions in the Organized Reserve Corps within a year. This information came from the Commanding General, Sixth Army through the Chief, Idaho Military District.

According to the statement, selected veterans who are college seniors may enroll in the second year advanced ROTC course. Students enrolled in this curtailed course would be required to attend the 1951 ROTC Summer Camp following the June graduation exercises. Upon satisfactory completion of summer camp these men would receive commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Organized Reserve Corps.

Information is not yet available as to whether or not qualifications for enrollment into the ROTC Advanced Course have been altered in any way through this curtailed course. Persons interested should inquire at Room 105, Memorial gymnasium.

A total of 967 paralyzed veterans received Veterans Administration grants totaling more than $9,000,000, for the purpose of buying or building homes specially designed for wheelchair living, a VA report as of June 30, 1950, revealed.

Draft Regulations Explained For Idaho Male Students

Worry doesn't do any good, especially worry about whether you'll be called into the army soon. Here's an attempted compilation of the present (and there are a lot of them)

laws as regards college students and ROTC students. University freshmen not previously enrolled may have their call to active duty postponed until the end of the school year, if they were registered before the call was received.

Regulations Listed

University sophomores, juniors and seniors who receive a call prior to the opening of school may have it postponed until the end of the school year, if:

1. They have completed at least one academic year of full-time instruction at a university, college or similar institution of learning.

2. The university or college must certify that the student was scholastically in the upper half of his class during his last year of school.

3. The local draft board must be satisfied that the student had intended to enroll and made the normal arrangements prior to August 1, 1950.

A graduate student is considered to have met the requirements if he is registered in full-time work and shows that he was in the upper half of his class during his last under-graduate year.

Report to Office

From ROTC headquarters comes the clue on deferments to military students. Members of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps and Army National Guard units may receive a delay in call to active duty if they are currently enrolled in the ROTC advanced course, senior division, and are under a valid deferment agreement.

Those already enrolled in the course but not under a deferment agreement should report to the office of the military science and tactics professor concerned.

Students enrolled in ROTC, either basic or advanced, are subject to deferment within quotas established by the Department of National Defense. Those deferred under the quotas are not subject to call under Selective Service, so long as they make satisfactory progress in their college work, and ROTC. They must agree to two years active duty after being commissioned, if called. They will not be called up under Selective Service after graduation, so long as they continue to hold their reserve commissions, but may be called only under their commissioned status. The president may call reserve officers for 21 months active duty without their consent under the present bill.

All Drama Tryouts Begin Next Week

General try-outs for all semester drama activities will be Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 18 and 19, at 7 p.m. in the University auditorium. Drama coach Jean Collette urges all students interested in acting or backstage work to attend the tryouts.

Library Book Is Returned Years Late

After providing winter night's reading in a northern Idaho logging camp for 22 years, a University of Idaho library book was blushing returned today by one of the university's most distinguished alumni.

The book, "Plays by Moliere," was withdrawn from the university library by said alumnus June 5, 1928. It was noted among camp books by a visiting university faculty member, who gleefully called it to the attention of the alumnus manager of the camp. When the fine was figured as already totaling about $160, the alumnus urged the faculty member to return the book for him—quick. The alumnus had just bought a new car, and, considering present prices, university officials decided to wait for the fine.

Question in the minds of the university officials now, however, is whether "Plays by Moliere," which is not exactly light reading, will be perused in the next 22 years as much as it was in the last. There is no doubt many a lumberjack who can converse at length on the works of the genius of French literature, for this book came back well-thumbed.

The number of disabled veterans receiving compensation and pension payments from Veterans Administration rose three percent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, going from 2,313,545 on June 30, 1949, to 2,368,238 a year later.

Seniors To Receive Army Commissions

Colonel Chas. F. Hudson, P.M.S. & T., at Idaho, recently announced that veterans who are seniors at the University may receive commissions in the Organized Reserve Corps within a year. This information came from the Commanding General, Sixth Army through the Chief, Idaho Military District.

According to the statement, selected veterans who are college seniors may enroll in the second year advanced ROTC course. Students enrolled in this curtailed course would be required to attend the 1951 ROTC Summer Camp following the June graduation exercises. Upon satisfactory completion of summer camp these men would receive commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Organized Reserve Corps.

Information is not yet available as to whether or not qualifications for enrollment into the ROTC Advanced Course have been altered in any way through this curtailed course. Persons interested should inquire at Room 105, Memorial gymnasium.

By the end of June, more than 7,500,000 World War II veterans had, at some time or another, taken education or training under the GI bill and Public Law 16 (for the disabled).

Another school year is about to start and we extend our welcome and best wishes to all students. May this year be a most successful one for all.

Half a billion dollars at work for you

This picture shows what Standard of California has spent, since the war, on facilities needed to bring you more and better petroleum products . . . and to compete with other oil companies in this extremely competitive business.

But . . . what else has this money accomplished?

It has helped every community in the West . . . created jobs in many industries and made those of our own people better. The money has spread to other businesses, large and small, and to every profession. Homes have been built, automobiles purchased, educations planned and started for many of the West's young people.

We point this out to show how big companies make money work for everyone. And, certainly, the public must share the credit . . . for the public alone can make a company big. Over the years, you have found Standard products good and have bought more and more of them. You've made us grow. A large share of our profits each year is turned back into the tools which mean still better products and more efficient service for you. And, perhaps even more important today, the tools which give much added strength to our nation.

Idaho ROTC Units Prepare to Expand

The University of Idaho's three ROTC divisions—Army, Air Force and Navy—were making preparations for rapid expansion today.

Colonel Charles F. Hudson, professor of military science and tactics, said that the Sixth Army had authorized an increase several weeks ago in advanced Army ROTC students from 50 to 80, and that another increase of 30 more was now being requested.

Major Monte L. Robinson, acting professor of air science, and tactics, reported that an increase would have to be made in the Air ROTC advanced training program.

Members of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps and members of Army National Guard units are authorized to receive a delay in call to active duty providing these persons are concurrently enrolled in the Army ROTC advanced course, senior division, and are under a valid deferment agreement.

According to a recent letter from the Continental Air Command, enlisted personnel of the Air Force Reserve, Army Reserve, National Guard or Air National Guard, concurrently under a valid deferment agreement in the Air ROTC, may be discharged from their enlisted status for the purpose of continuing their advanced Air ROTC course.

Members of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps and members of Army National Guard units are authorized to receive a delay in call to active duty providing these persons are concurrently enrolled in the Army ROTC advanced course, senior division, and are under a valid deferment agreement.

Third Man Leaves With 'A' Average

Heading the list of June graduates with a straight "A" average during four years at the university, Orval Hansen, Idaho Falls, became the third "A"-flush student to graduate from Idaho in the last quarter-century.

The only other students to attain this honor since 1925 were Arval Erickson, Rexburg, class of '37, and J. E. Buchapan, '27, who is now president of the university.

To rate the final honors list a student must have completed all the work of the junior and senior years in residence at the university. High honors go to those with at least a 3.66 average out of a possible 4.00, and honors to those with at least a 3.33 average.

Students attaining high honors were Hansen, John Barinaga, Joseph Louis Clegg, Gladys Crane, Lois Cooper Siebe, Edwin C. Rowbury, James Huff, and Shirley Tanner. George S. Tanner, Vida Baugh, Delbert Robinson, William Burstedt, Harry Dalva, Calvin Long, Kenneth Briggs and Charles Rohrer were also included.

Students appearing on the honor list include Helen Thomas Marshall, May Napier Burkhart, John Turnbull, Marybelle Carnie, Donald Lapray, Ruth Reichert, Clinton Chase, Kenneth McCormack, Aris Peterson, Ellomae Holden, Jack Robinette, and Lewis Williams. Ruth Tysor, Shirley Jacobsen, Jeanne Foster, James Roy, Harold Skinner, Lawrence Bath, Elizabeth Bean, and Fred Kohl were other honor students.

More earning honors include Carol Tyler, Donald Z. Miller, George Crane, Clyde Maughan, Lonnie Roe, Jonathan Rice, Josephine Durttschi, Donald Baumgartner, and Earl Ballard. Patton Ross, Mae Geddes, John Mayo, Barbara Schaff, Walter Robinson, Virginia Hansen, Elaine Androes, Charles Brady, and Darrell Bienz were also honor students.

Chris Harrigfeld, Milton Barton, George Brabb, Richard Pennell, Carol Organ, and Theodore Scott were among the many who received high honors.

Meeting Scheduled For Coast Bigwigs

The fall meeting of the northern division athletic directors and basketball coaches will be held in Spokane September 15 and 16.

Spring sports schedules will be included in the business meeting according to Athletic Director Robert C. Brumblay of Washington State college, the northern division group secretary.

The representatives attending for Idaho are: Gale Mix, president of the northern division group and athletic director at Idaho, and basketball coach, Charles Finley.

Other schools and the representatives are: Washington—Harv Cassill, athletic director, and Tippey Dye, basketball coach; Oregon State—Spec Keene, Athletic director, and basketball coach John Warren; Washington State—Robert Brumblay, athletic director, and Coach Jack Friel.

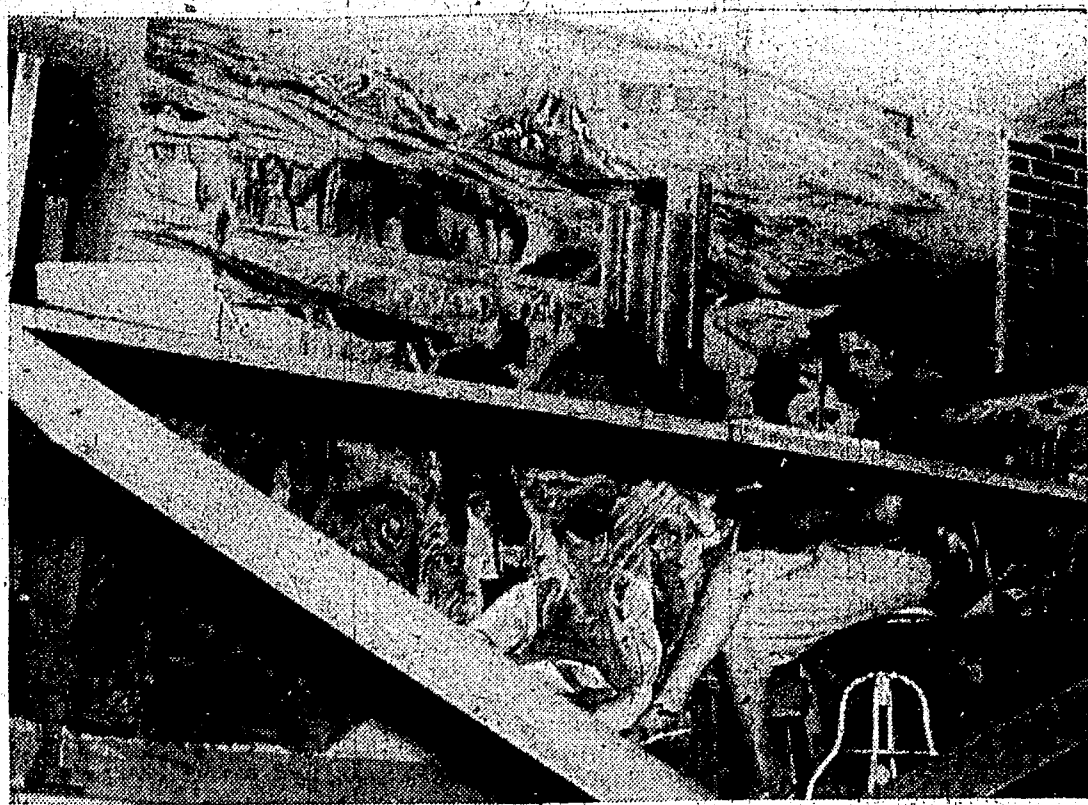

Ralph Lehman, Hazelton; James Ballentine, Boise, and Hugh Burgess, Charles Bonnett, David Williams and James Broyles, Moscow.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—George Leopold, Duane Serpa, John Chevalier and Emerson Clark, Twin Falls; Jack Pierce and Robert Raburn, Filer; William Parsons, Burley; Robert Dougherty, Butte, Mont.; David Kling, Chicago, Ill.; Charles Farrell, New Meadows; Thomas Lindstrom, Boston, Mass.; Richard Vanderdeets and Allen Steines, Burlingame, Calif.; Carl Burger, Lewiston; Peter Stycney, Long Beach, Calif., and Lee Smith, Boise.

Phi Kappa Tau—Lawrence Hyer, John Bostick and Richard Westgate, Lewiston; Ellis White and Peter Snow, Burley; John Leng, Pocatello, and Clark Lawson, Gannett.

Ag Building Gets Mural

Seated on a scaffold in the entrance to the University of Idaho's new Agricultural Science building, Mary Kirkwood, of the university art department, adds the finishing touches to a mural depicting Idaho agriculture. The mural, eight by ten feet in size, shows different types of Idaho agriculture from the rolling wheatlands of the north to the irrigated areas of the south.

Lattig Survey Reveals University Ranks With Top Schools

Sure this is a good school. How do we know? Dean Lattig told us so. After a semester's sabbatical leave spent in touring schools in the New England, Midwestern and Southern states, the Dean of Men had good words for Idaho's present set-up.

"The University of Idaho ranks as one of the most progressive in the nation in problems of student housing, health, student unions, and student government," stated Dean Lattig.

The University's dormitory system is better than that of most colleges he surveyed. None of the 43 schools had a dining room for each dormitory as there is at Idaho.

Most of the schools had central cafeterias where the students eat. Of the 43 schools, only eight have student union buildings which Lattig felt met the needs of the students.

The new three-story addition to the University student union building is not only large enough to handle the administration of the ASUI, but contains a large ballroom, bowling alleys, cafeterias, and dining halls large enough to meet any anticipated number of campus visitors.

Dean Lattig found the health situation, doctors, nurses and infirmaries, about on the same level with Idaho's. Student government was also found comparable on most campuses.

All but five of the institutions were publicly supported. Dr. Brocklebank is one of three Idaho commissioners who will work with the group.

Purpose of the conference is to draft legislation to help to unify laws throughout the United States. Presently, Dr. Brocklebank is serving on a committee to draft a uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act which would make it possible to hold a man responsible for the support of wife and children even though he might be in another state.

Before arriving in Washington for the conference, Dr. Brocklebank will visit a meeting of the United Nations council in New York City.

Registered besides the regular summer school students were students in the music camp, drama camp, child guidance clinic, 4-H club, Future Farmers of America, artificial insemination course, and forestry camp.

Nearly three-fourths of the 2,368,238 veterans on Veterans Administration disability compensation rolls, as of June 30, 1950, served in World War II. The World War II veterans numbered 1,701,019.

service honorary, were explained by Pat Albertson and Donald Deerkop.

Other Idaho students taking part in the orientation program for new students included Janice McCormick, AWS President, Marie Harburg, Lewiston; Peter Stycney, Long Beach, Calif., and Lee Smith, Boise.

Withdrawals Hit Lowest Ebb Last Semester

Student withdrawals were at their lowest ebb last semester, when only 2.2 per cent withdrew for all reasons, including sickness, lack of funds, and falling grades, revealed President J. E. Buchanan.

Next lowest period was the 1938-39 school year when withdrawals were 2.83 per cent.

The small percentage of withdrawals is a tribute to both the students and faculty, said President Buchanan. "The high degree of interest shown by students in their work is a healthy sign of post-war adjustment."

"A contributing factor here at the university which should be given credit is the Guidance center established after the war. Through scientific tests, the students learn the fields of endeavor for which they are best suited. This has tended to relieve anxieties and uncertainties."

Two Staff Members Called To Duty

Two University staff members have been called to active duty with the armed forces, Dean H. E. Lattig, armed services coordinator, recently announced.

James C. Boyd, associate professor of dairy husbandry at the university, has been ordered to report to Fort Ord, Calif. Boyd is a master sergeant in the army reserves.

Staff Engineer William C. Hilton has been ordered to active duty with the Navy at Hasting, Neb. Hilton is a lieutenant commander in the navy reserves, and will serve as public works officer at the Nebraska ammunition depot.

Veterans Told Time Is Short For Enrolling

Veterans are advised by university student counselor Charles H. Bond that July 25, 1951 will be a critical date in their educational plans.

"New Veterans Administration regulations provide that if a veteran wishes to use all of his eligibility for education, he should enter training before July 25, 1951, or the date four years after his discharge, which ever is later," says Bond. "Here at the university that means a veteran should be in training during the spring semester of the 1950-51 school year or the 1951 summer session, and should then pursue his course continuously, except during the regular summer vacation."

Other points stressed by Bond in his discussions with veterans are: Any veteran who drops out of school after July 25, 1951, or who fails to enroll for the next subsequent regular school term, will lose his right to further educational benefits unless his failure to enroll is for "reasons beyond his control." A veteran may not be permitted to change his course of study after July 25, 1951.

Teachers who normally take their advanced educational training only during summer sessions will not be allowed to continue under the GI bill after the summer of 1951.

Whitehead Gets Bank Scholarship

Lee M. Whitehead will receive a $250 scholarship to attend the University of Idaho, Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, said today.

The scholarship, presented by the First Trust and Savings Bank of Moscow, is awarded each year to an outstanding high school graduate.

During his senior year, Whitehead was valedictorian of his graduating class, vice president of the high school student body and editor of the Coyote, Twin Falls high school annual. He will enroll in the college of engineering when the University of Idaho fall term opens.

The recording companies are coming out with a stack of new hit tunes. The latest release is a number called "Get Out of the Wheat Field Grandma, You're Running Against the Grain."

National Meeting Draws Idaho Men To New York City

Dr. W. J. Brocklebank, of the University of Idaho college of law, will attend the annual meeting of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws in Washington, D. C., September 11 through 16.

Dr. Brocklebank is one of three Idaho commissioners who will work with the group. A. L. Merrill, Pocatello attorney, and Jess Hawley, Jr., Boise attorney, will also represent Idaho at the conference.

Summer Session Enrollment High

Total enrollment for the summer session approached 2,000 students. This figure does not include several hundred persons who attended special conferences and did not register with the university.

"The campus this summer seemed almost as busy as it was during the regular school year," commented D. D. DuSault, registrar.

Registered besides the regular summer school students were students in the music camp, drama camp, child guidance clinic, 4-H club, Future Farmers of America, artificial insemination course, and forestry camp.

Students Receive Scholarships

Scholarships amounting to more than $3,500 were awarded to ten students that they might attend the University, Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, announced recently.

Robert G. Fulmer and June Lee were awarded Davis Brothers scholarships of $150 each; four scholarships of $500 each, one to a member of each class were awarded by Standard Oil of California to Rex Elkum, Lois Bush, Ralph Demarr, and James Patterson, freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior respectively.

Scholarships Given
A scholarship of $250 has been awarded by the First Trust and Savings Bank of Moscow to Lee Whitesides, and the Statesman newspaper of Boise has endowed Connie Christiansen, with a scholarship of $100.

The Linnie and Howard Shriver scholarship of $150 will go to Patricia Kiez.

Tomas Tomasson will receive the largest scholarship for the second time, one of $750 from the Idaho Federation of Women's Clubs.

French More Friendly Now; Look To America For Help

"The French seem much more friendly to Americans today than they were 20 years ago when I was a student in France," Professor Arthur H. Beattie, chairman of languages at the University said following his return from a two-month trip through France.

"There seems some concern by the French that their future is being molded in Washington for them—not by them—but fundamentally America is hope," Beattie added. "Paris is unchanged physically, but its spirit carries scars."

Currency Stabilized
"France has made a remarkable recovery," Beattie said. Its currency has at last apparently been stabilized, and there has been extensive rebuilding. Particular interest in the repairs accomplished by the railroads was noted by Mr. Beattie.

The professor, who took his French training at the Sorbonne in pre-World War II days deplored the modern architecture which has replaced that of medieval days, in bombed-out areas.

"My saddest experience in France was re-visiting Beauvais," he said. "I remembered it for its magnificent cathedral and city hall square surrounded by high gabled medieval houses with upper stories projecting over the streets. On the eve of the French armistice in 1940, the Germans chose Beauvais to demonstrate what an all-out aerial bombardment could accomplish. The cathedral still stands, but the city square is now just a scattering of newly thrown-together shacks."

After his visit to Belgium, Beattie remarked that there recovery was more pronounced. Also included in his journey was a trip to Alsace with William and Marjorie Scott, former Idaho students. Scott is now doing research in political science under a Fulbright travel grant and a Yale scholarship.

While sitting in a sidewalk cafe in Paris, the university professor met another former student, Gene Jackson. He is also studying in France.

ASME Will Meet Monday Evening

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold their first meeting of this semester Monday, September 18 at 7 p.m. in room 104 of the Engineering building.

A movie entitled "The Birth of an Oil Well" will be shown.

A special invitation is extended to all freshmen engineering students by the ASME student chapter executive committee.

Former Army Man To Teach Russian Here This Year

A former U.S. army intelligence agent will be brought to Idaho this fall to teach Russian. Joseph Zeleniak, 34, of Scranton, Pa., was appointed as an instructor this summer by President J. E. Buchanan, subject to regent's ratification.

"In peace or war, we feel it is vitally important for more Americans to know the Russian language, as we are at a distinct disadvantage without this knowledge," said President Buchanan.

"Russian" was introduced at the university in World War II when the Soviet Union was our ally. We plan to give the language more emphasis under the altered circumstances. In World War I we burned German language books, then had to scurry for interpreters. With World War III a possibility, we are finding more effective use for Russian language books than bonfire fuel."

Zeleniak is a native born American of Russian parents. He speaks both Russian and French fluently, which made him valuable as an intelligence agent and interpreter during World War II in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He served with G-2, 75th Division, and was awarded the bronze star.

For two years, he taught Russian and French at Wabash college in Indiana. He has also taught in France, and holds a master's degree in Russian from Middlebury college in Vermont.

Idaho's Vacation Months Filled With Weddings

Summer wedding bells rang for many Idaho and former Idaho students during the vacation months. Among August newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jayne. Mrs. Jayne, the former Betty Lu Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bailey of Twin Falls, was married in the first Christian church in Twin Falls by Rev. Mark C. Cronenberger.

Miss Bailey, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown. Mary Virginia Bailey was the maid of honor and David Frazer of Pocatello served as best man.

The couple will live in Moscow, where Mrs. Jayne is a member of Delta Delta Delta, and Jayne is a senior in forestry. He also attended Boise Junior college, where he was chosen for the "Little All-America" football team.

Knowlton-Jacobson
A summer afternoon ceremony in the Presbyterian church united in marriage Miss Shirley Jacobson, Rexburg, and Leo L. Knowlton of Eagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knowlton. Mrs. Knowlton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jacobson.

Dorothy Anne Jacobson was maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mary Jane Brier and Dora Gaudin, sorority sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Blanche Zollinger. Joanne Hopkins was the soloist and Jeanne Foster played the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton both graduated from the University last June and are now living in Boise.

Roden-Hill
St. Michael's cathedral in Boise was the scene of the marriage of Miss Betty Ann Hill to William Craig Roden, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Roden of Boise. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hill, Boise.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon marquisette which ended in a cathedral train. Betty Jean Feecey was maid of honor and Sharon Roden was bridesmaid. Ushers were Jap Gibson, Chad White, and Jerry Green. Wayne Wright served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Roden will make their home in Moscow where Mr. Roden will complete his law studies at the University.

Lyon-Bailey
Miss Lois M. Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bailey of Nampa and Calvin C. Lyon were married this summer in the Nampa Methodist church. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ward of Lewiston.

Maid of honor was Phyllis LaRue and bridesmaids were Glenna McFrederick, Ruth Reichert, Mary Lou McKenney, Barbara Ware and Margaret Mehl, all school friends of the bride. Best man was Johnnie Jordan.

The bride attended the University of Idaho where she majored in music, and was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota. She plans to teach music in the elementary schools at McCall this winter. Lyon also graduated from the University in music. He is Valley county music supervisor and will teach music in the Donnelly-McCall high school.

Parris-Hankins
Another Nampa marriage was Miss Patricia Joyce Hankins to James A. Parris, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Parris of Monrovia, California.

The couple was married in the First Christian church late this summer. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hankins, attended the University, where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta.

Parris has been attending the University for the past two years, where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta. He is majoring in business law and plans to continue his studies at the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Betts-Moore
A home in Los Angeles awaits newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Betts, who were recently married in Boise at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fren Moore. The bride is the former Gloria Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Moore, New Plymouth, and Betts' parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brain of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Betts attended the University for two years and was a member of Pi Beta Phi. Betts also attended school here.

Smith-Goul
August 11 was the wedding date of Miss Joanne Goul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Goul, and Joseph A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon fashioned with shirred chiffon bodice and long sleeves. Mary Mixson was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Ardith Giesen, Mary Lou Sedlmayer, Shirley Waterman, and Le Ree Smith. Dene Smith was best man and ushers were Cliff Hammond, Lew Keys, Harlan Kosmata, and Monte Munn.

Mrs. Smith studied at the Kansas City conservatory of music, and has attended the University of Idaho, where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Palau To Idaho

Felix Ramarui, 23, (right), one of the few students from the navy administered Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands to be accepted by an American university for training on the college level, arrived in Honolulu Saturday via MATS enroute to the mainland. He was accompanied by Jake Harshbarger of Drummond, Idaho, instructor at the School for Medical Assistants on Guam.

Ramarui, who is from Babelthup in the Palau Islands, will enroll in the pre-medical course at the University of Idaho under the sponsorship of Mr. Harshbarger, an alumnus of the university.

"With only seven years of formal schooling, the Palau Islander was accepted by the University of Idaho on the basis of his scholarship at the School for Medical Assistants.

Pi Gamma Mu Now Has Local Chapter
Pi Gamma Mu, social science honor society, has accepted the petition of a University of Idaho group for membership, according to word received from the National Executive secretary of Pi Gamma Mu.

Membership is limited to juniors majoring in one of the social sciences, and maintaining a 3.00 grade average.

The Idaho group hopes to be installed sometime in October.

Committees Preparing For Homecoming Week

With Idaho's annual Homecoming week end scheduled for October 14, just a month away, various committees, headed by Donna Jean Broyles, general chairman, have been busy planning during the summer vacation. Wyatt Howard and his orchestra have been engaged to provide music for the Homecoming dance. Howard's group played here for the 1950 Senior Ball and the 1949 Homecoming, and are returning by popular request.

Tickets for the Homecoming football game with the University of Oregon Ducks can be obtained at the office of Idaho's general manager in the Student Union Building. Ticket sales are progressing well, and those desiring admission for parents and friends for the October 14 game should obtain tickets as soon as possible.

Queens Chosen Differently
Nomination of candidates for the 1950 Idaho Homecoming queen will be worked differently from the procedure in past years. A nominating committee composed of presidents, or representatives, of each men's living group will select no less than 12 nor more than 15 women as Homecoming queen nominees. Any coed on the campus is eligible regardless of her class standing. After the nominating committee chooses the candidates, the football team will name five finalists, and all the men are eligible to vote for the queen.

All living groups will again build floats for the Homecoming parade.

A kickoff dance is scheduled for October 10.

Committee Heads Listed
Committee heads that were named last spring include: Gary Sessions and Gordon Smith, parade; Paul Araquistain, half-time; Norm Green and Jim Lagrone, rally; Bryan Lawrence and Clarence Johnson, dance; and Glen Stringham and Virginia Orazem, publicity.

Other chairmen are Ann Kettebach and June Carr, queens; Betty Bonnett, judging; Mary Clyde, reception; Janis Rankin, phoning; and Betty Thompson is secretary.

Dr. Graue Speaks

Dr. Erwin Graue of the University economics department, accompanied by James Lyle, alumni secretary, completed a speaking tour through ten southern Idaho cities during the first part of September, to address alumni meetings and other groups on the subject of economic conditions.

Since the close of summer school at the University, August 5, Dr. Graue has been serving as guest professor of Economics at San Jose State College, in that school's second summer session.

Dr. Graue's trip included, among others, Nampa, Boise, Burley, Pocatello, and Salmon.

A scientific magazine recently published an article about deformed dairy cows that have bags under their eyes.

Research On Many Projects

Research, an important part of the University of Idaho's "teaching — research — service" program, has taken the form of more than 500 projects during the last two years, Dr. L. C. Cady, executive secretary of the research council, reported today.

Presently underway at the university and experiment stations throughout the state are 225 projects.

Graduate students made contributions to a number of the projects as research assistants or on a part-time help basis. Over 170 of the 510 projects were studied as graduate research problems. During the second semester of the 1949-50 year, 132 staff members were spending part of their time on research. Between June 1948 and June 1950, the time reported by Dr. Cady, more than 185 research publications were written and published by the University of Idaho staff members.

The college of agriculture leads in the number of projects now active with 115. Second is the college of letters and science with 45. Other divisions and number of active projects are school of forestry, 27; college of engineering, 22; school of mines, nine; school of business administration, four; school of education, two, and the college of law, one.

Four Introductory Courses Offered To Undergraduates

Stories of Helen of Troy and the Trojan horse to poems and sonnets of the poet laureates of old England will be included in one of four special introductory courses offering non-technical instruction in broad fields of knowledge open to all undergraduate students at the university regardless of class standing.

The four courses, Introduction to Humanities, Introduction to Biological Sciences, Introduction to Physical Sciences and Introduction to Social Sciences, will be given each semester and will require no prerequisites, said Dean T. S. Kerr, head of the university college of letters and science.

Briefly, the work included in the four courses is as follows:

Introduction to Humanities
Humanities I is an introduction to the masterpieces of literature, art and music. Works in literature include tales of the Trojan war, as well as the Greek attitude toward religion, family and government. Recordings and films are used to supplement the readings.

Introduction to Biological Sciences
The course is designed to answer many of the general problems of everyday living as they touch on the field of biology. Man is used as the main example for explaining such phenomena as muscle cramps, death from automobile gases, the causes of hunger, etc.

Introduction to Physical Sciences
The course is designed to acquaint non-science majors with the physical structure of the world in which they live. In the non-mathematical lecture-demonstration course, topics from the fields of chemistry and astronomy will be selected such as the solar system and studies of the basis of atomic energy.

Introduction to Social Sciences
The course is designed to provide the student with some of the fundamentals of anthropology, geography and sociology. Problems of race and human origin, problems of crime, marriage and divorce and geographical problems will be discussed and studied.

Vandals Polish Offense As Ute Game Draws Near

Twenty-two practice sessions completed—seven to go—before the opening kickoff of the Vandal's 1950 grid campaign. That's a round-about way of stating, "it won't be long now." September 23 and a battle with the Utah Redskins is just a couple of steps around the corner.

Head Coach Dixie Howell was completely satisfied with the condition of his squad as the team dropped the "twice-a-day routine" yesterday in favor of single afternoon workouts. Howell figures his men are in better condition now than they were last year at the same time.

Tackle Marv Beguhl and Halfback Bob Mays returned to the lineup yesterday after sitting out a number of scrimmage sessions with leg injuries. The two boys worked out in sweat suits but didn't participate in any contact work.

Hard Knocks

Plenty of bruising blocking and tackling was in order for the rest of the squad, however, as the Vandals pushed and bumped each other around in the process of polishing up their offensive formations. Howell ran the squad through a series of running plays, constantly stressing precision ball handling and timing.

Besides patching up offensive weaknesses that showed up during an hour and a half scrimmage last Saturday, Howell worked the squad on pass defense.

A host of players have received pats on the back for their outstanding play during scrimmage sessions. Tackles Bill Fray, Don Ringe and Evan Richey, guards Roy Colquitt and Steve Douglas, and centers Vern Baxter and Ken Larsen have looked particularly good along the forward wall. Honey-fingered Jerry Ogle, Rich LeDuc and Ben Jayne brighten up the terminals.

Backs Bright

In the backfield, halfbacks John Brogan, Dick Irons, and Bud Riley showed they can fling leather as well as pack it. Quarterbacks Max Graves and Dick Zyzak have displayed smooth ball handling, while fullbacks Jim Chadband and Buck Nelson performed plenty of power-line plunging.

A change in headgear was made Wednesday afternoon, the Vandals replacing their black leather helmets with silver painted plastic ones. The switch in headwear will be the only uniform change. Idaho will continue to don red jerseys and silver pants at home contests and white suits on the road.

Boosters Throw 'Kickoff' Dinner

The football season got underway for Idaho's most avid football fans Tuesday evening when about 200 Vandal Boosters gathered at the Idaho Ad club for the annual Vandal Booster "kickoff" dinner. The dinner was not only the kickoff to the fall athletic season, but started the annual Vandal Booster Athletic fund drive.

The boosters and their wives heard short reports of what to expect from the 1950 Idaho football team. Talks were given by University President J. E. Buchanan and Guy P. Wicks, university field agent, who is in charge of the Vandal Booster program throughout the state.

Coach M. F. (Dixie) Howell, the key speaker, repeated an earlier statement that he expected "this year's team to be the best ever for Idaho." He also added that "the 1950 team was potentially much better than last season."

Coaches Chat

Short talks were given by Track Coach Stan Hiserman, Golf Coach Francis James, Football Coaches Red Ramsey, Art Smith, Gene Harlow, and Babe Curfman, Basketball Coach Charles (Chuck) Finley, and assistant director of athletics Frank Young, who is also boxing coach. Conference faculty representative Dean T. S. Kerr also spoke.

W. F. Schnell, newly elected president of the local Booster group, acted as master of ceremonies. Glen Lockery and J. M. O'Donnell led the group in singing collegiate songs at the beginning and closing of the meeting.

MAGAZINE SHOOT VANDALS

Published in the recent issue of Sports Review, a quarterly sporting magazine, were two "blowup" action pictures of the 1949-50 Vandal football team.

One of the pictures shows Idaho halfback Bud Riley closing in on a Texas back, who is making a short gain through the Vandal line.

Grid Rules Changed By Officials

Football's two-platoon system will move into another befuddling year, much to the delight of the program salesman, as the National Collegiate Athletic Association rules committee made free substitutions freer than ever.

In a recent meeting at Pinehurst, N. C., the committee said another year's experience was necessary on two platoon football to evaluate the rule so it was left as stands in the books.

Substitutions this season may be made without penalty while the clock is running until a team's allotted timeout periods are exhausted. Last year, coaches were slapped with a five-yard penalty in most instances to get their punter into the ball game.

The rule makers also increased the number of timeouts from four to five for each half.

Other rule changes made by the committee are:

1 The coin toss will be made 10 minutes before the kickoff. This will allow time to announce the starting lineup after a coach decides whether to start his offensive or defensive platoon.

2 A 15-yard penalty will be given for roughing the place-kick holder as well as for roughing the kicker. If on an extra point the point is good, the roughing team still will be penalized on the ensuing kick-off.

3 After time outs, the clock will start running again when the ball is ready for play, not when it is snapped.

4 If a hand or forearm is used in blocking an opponent, it must be below the opponent's shoulders and must be in contact with his body during the entire block. Committee Chairman William J. Bishop, of Harvard, said this is aimed at controlling a "tendency to viciousness in some parts of the country."

Learn How—Then Do It

End Coach Babe Curfman shows one of his boys the art of moving a would-be blocker out of the road. On the next play, end Billy Mullins gets set to up-set halfback Dick Irons who is clearing the way for ball carrier Wayne Anderson.

First Frosh Football Call Issued Today By Smith

With a new skipper at the helm, the University of Idaho freshman football squad begins practice this afternoon with approximately sixty-four aspirants turning out for the first call. Ex-Boise high coach Art Smith, who is beginning his first year at Idaho, states he has some good material on hand for his scheduled four games.

Smith and his crew lead off against the University of Montana Frosh October 6, in a night game at Coeur d'Alene sponsored by the Coeur d'Alene Athletic Round Table. Other games scheduled are: The Washington Frosh October 21, at Seattle; WSC Frosh at Pullman October 13, and the WSC Frosh again at home October 27. Negotiations are still pending concerning a fifth game.

Frosh Roster

Players now turning out include: Jack Cox, Ray Faraca, Tom Falash, Ray Horn, Gerry Leigh, Arnold Hubner, Walt Hardin, Bruce West, Don Wright, Joe Soderberg, Barry Winzelen, Ron Johnson.

Others include: Don Ennis, Leon Hulsmith, Wayne Jerron, Ken Lonn, William Schmitt, and Chris Nielsen.

Ex-Boise Mentor Assumes Frosh Coach Duties

Arthur L. Smith, former Boise high school coach, is the new freshman coach at the University of Idaho. He replaces Steve Belko who resigned to join the coaching staff at Idaho State.

Smith was highly recommended by Gale Mix, head of the department of intercollegiate athletics. Mix said he felt that Smith would completely meet the demands Idaho makes of a freshman coach. Mix said that the main duty of the freshman coach at Idaho is to orient the high school graduates toward varsity thinking and to indoctrinate them with the fundamentals of Pacific Coast conference competition.

The new Vandal freshman coach has had several years of coaching experience. Before joining the Boise high school athletic staff, Smith coached high school teams in Michigan for three years and was freshman coach at Alma college for two years. He was football backfield coach and head basketball coach at Boise for three years.

Smith attended Alma college, Michigan, and the University of Michigan. He did graduate work at the University of Idaho.
