

Homecoming Committee Ponders Plans

The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

A couple of issues ago we questioned the analogy of the rise in dry cleaning prices and the start of school.

Deciding to find out those answers as nearly as possible, we questioned the source of the rise of prices—namely the cleaners themselves.

After talking to the five cleaners in Moscow, Jason has come up with the following facts:

There has been a general rise in prices on most supplies necessary for the cleaning business, starting according to estimates, sometime in June and gradually rising since. Examples—metal hangers have risen nearly one cent each; wages have been increased 5 to 10 cents per hour for employees; some of the cleaning solvents have gone up to $7.50 per gallon—$1.00 to $1.50 above previous costs.

Ten Per Cent Rise in Costs
One cleaner estimated that costs had risen in the vicinity of 10 per cent since June. Increase in general living costs and overhead was also listed in defense of the rise, as was increased railroad rates. "Paper bags alone, which we use to cover the clothes, took three raises in the month of August," one cleaner said.

Most of these prices, it was pretty generally agreed, had gone up most in the last two months, probably because the Korean situation has caused some shortages.

Two meetings preceded the advance of prices. One in Pullman near the first of August, the other in Moscow shortly after. Both towns later raised, Moscow doing so on or about August 15.

Comparison Given
To show the extent of the raise, we print a comparison of old and new prices:

OLD	MENS	NEW
$1.25	Suit	$1.50
.65	Pants	.75
1.25	O'Coat	1.50
.65	Sweater	.75
.15	Neckties	.20
.65	Jacket	.75
1.25	Robe	1.50
.65	Shirts	.75
$1.25	LADIES	$1.50
1.25	Suit	1.50
1.25	Coat	1.50
1.25	Dress	1.50
.65	Skirt	.75
.65	Jacket	.75
.65	Blouse	.75
1.25	Robe	1.50
50, 65, 75	Sweater 65, 75, 85
.65	Slacks	.75

As can be seen, this represents a five to twenty-five cent increase on each article. In other words the rise runs from 20 per cent on a suit to 33 1/3 per cent on a necktie. We could get no concrete figures that the rise in costs had been that great.

Two Questions
However, as Jason sees it, there was a justification of a rise in prices, if — and here is the first question our survey gives rise to — the original prices were previously within the fairest operating margin (Continued on page 2, Col. 1)

Student U. Opening Is September 30

Idaho's new student union building will open officially and legally September 30 at 8 p.m. when a formal dedication of the building will be made with John Rensberg, president of the Board of Regents, as principal speaker.

With President Rensberg, all members of the Board of Regents, university president J. E. Buchanan, and ASUI president, Vern Bahr will be introduced during the brief dedication ceremonies.

An open house will be held from 8:15 p.m. to midnight on the same night. During this open house, one line of free bowling, punch, and guided tours of the student union building will be featured. A dance with music by Don Hannah and his orchestra will take place in the large ballroom after the dedication program.

The student union building whose estimated total cost exceeds $650,000, is the culmination of a construction dream started years ago by farseeing individuals, and to the completion of the building much work and time has been spent.

Andy Christensen, a member of the executive board and head of the dedication committee, is in charge of arrangements for the ceremonies.

DATE NAMED
September 23 is the last date for changing courses without penalty for falling work.

Notify Boards

All men at the University should notify their draft boards of change of address. Some may have overlooked this important matter and it will not help their situation if mail is delayed due to the board's lack of this information.

New Stewardess

Beverly Halliday, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Halliday, 376 11th street, Idaho Falls, Idaho, has won her wings as an American Airlines stewardess following her graduation from America's stewardess training school in Chicago.

Miss Halliday attended high school in Idaho Falls and the University of Idaho where she majored in psychology. Prior to joining American Airlines, Miss Halliday was employed by an advertising agency.

Capacity Crowd Is Expected To Attend Ball Game In Boise

All University of Idaho eyes will be centered on Boise tomorrow afternoon where Coach Dixie Howell's new 1950 Vandals get their first test of the season against the University of Utah. The game will be played in the new 15,000 seating capacity stadium.

Religion Center To Open By November

Although unexpected delays have earmarked the construction of the first unit of the new Campus Christian Center, it is finally nearing a successful and long-awaited completion.

Professor Oscar M. Adam, director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, reported that the center, located on the corner of University Avenue and Elm Street, will be ready for classroom and meeting purposes in about two weeks. Formal opening will have to await the arrival of certain furniture and other fixtures, but that will take place at least before the Institute's 20th anniversary in November.

Homecoming Candidates Introduced

Homecoming Queen candidates were introduced for the first time last evening at the Idaho-Utah pep rally.

Selected from nominations from each men's living group by a selection committee were: Pat Albertson, Kappa Alpha Theta; Connie Baxter, Pi Beta Phi; Bev Benson, Delta Gamma; Betty Brock, Kappa Alpha Theta; Bonese Collins, Delta Gamma; Helen Daniels, Alpha Chi Omega; Marilyn Evans, Hays hall; Clarice Goulder, Moscow; and Marlene Hopkins, Delta Gamma.

Also named as candidates were: Pat Nelson, Alpha Phi; Eleanor Powell, Alpha Phi; Joan Rowberry, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Fay Sargent, Delta Delta Delta; Shirley Vorous, Alpha Phi; and Maurine Williams, Delta Gamma.

Candidates for Homecoming Queen include sophomore, junior, and senior women, due to the elimination of freshmen women from the contest. Every men's living group was allowed to nominate up to five candidates. From this list a selection committee made up of house presidents from the various men's groups narrowed the contest to the present queen candidates.

Final eliminations for Homecoming Queen will take place September 26, according to Glen Stringham, head of the publicity committee for Homecoming. At this time the football team will choose five finalists from the present group of candidates.

Included in this list are Bob Maize, Howard May, Gary Nefz-

Campus Station Will Begin Year With Dedication

Broadcasting from new quarters in the Student Union building, KUOI will begin the year's operation with a dedication program of the SUB on September 30. A broadcast of the first home football game will be carried by KUOI also.

"The Voice of the Vandals" will occupy five rooms this year in the new building. Included is a sound proof studio and control room separated by a large glass partition, an office, engineer's room, and station director's office. All equipment in the station is new with the exception of the new console which is not expected until later in the year.

Schedule Set Up
During the first week if broadcasting, programs are scheduled for airing between the hours of 4 p.m. and 12 midnight until a more definite schedule can be arranged. Programs this year will follow the disc jockey type, classical, and transcribed programs. With remote lines available to all rooms of the Student Union KUOI will broadcast meetings and other activities from all parts of the building.

KUOI will carry advertising this year beginning in December. Advertising will be directed to the college students and for the most part will be national advertising.

Personnel Wanted
Dale Benjamin is KUOI station director, Dave Nye, assistant director and business manager; Janet Fulton, program director; George Poulas, production director; and Bob Burnham, chief engineer.

Activities Board Discuss Events

Activities for the coming year were the topic of discussion at meeting of the Student Activities Board recently. Halftime events for football and basketball games were given special attention.

Acting as a general supervisory board with functions as determined by the ASUI Executive Board, the Student Activities Board works as a coordinator between student committees and student activities and the Executive board, and also recommends new student policies.

Seeing Double-s

When a set of twins are pledged to a sorority it is not unusual, but when two sets of twins pledge the same sorority, it at least makes a fine picture. Giving Idaho men double vision at the Kappa Alpha Theta house are (left to right) Ann and Janice Morgan and Jean and Ann Royer, new Theta pledges.

RALLY

Displaying large placards reading "Scalp the Redskins," "Boo! the Utes," "Eleven Well-Spent Bucks," and other similar things, almost 2,000 University of Idaho students turned out last night for a rally sending the Vandal football team to Boise.

Students joined in the rally as a truck with the pep band and other students passed by their living groups. All congregated in front of the administration building where yells were given, songs sung, and speeches made by co-captains Vern Baxter, center; Mary Besuhl, tackle; and John Brogan, halfback.

Homecoming queen candidates were introduced for the first time also.

The 36 man Idaho football squad left Moscow this morning via two chartered planes.

According to reports from the ASUI General Manager's office, student ticket sales have already exceeded 500, with more going all the time. Reports from Boise indicate ticket sales to be proceeding faster than planned and a sell-out is expected by game time.

Band Will Go

In addition to the large student representation, the University Band will accompany the team to Boise — for the first time since games were started there three years ago.

Halftime activities of the game will center around the University of Idaho and University of Utah bands who will both be on hand to perform. At that time also, an announcement of the Homecoming game in Moscow, October 14, will be made. New yell leaders Norm Green, Jim LaGrone and Ron Huffer will get their initial workout Saturday.

Much Interest

Interest in the game is reaching a high peak. Two facts add much interest to the outcome of the contest. One is Utah's desire to further avenge the defeat they suffered at the hands of Howell's eleven in Boise two years ago. Second is the fact that Howell and Jack Curtice have coached against each other before, (1941) and in their last meeting Curtice's team, Western Texas State, beat Howell's team, Arizona State, 13-7.

Predictions as to the outcome of the game give Idaho an edge around Vandalville. The game is definitely billed as one worth watching, even though little is known of the Utah squad.

Personnel Needed To Fill Positions On 1951 Gem

Although the bulk of the 1950 Gem of the Mountains hasn't arrived as of yet, production of the 1951 edition is getting well under way.

Jerry Bunnell, editor of the 1951 Gem has nearly all of his staff appointed. However, there still remain many subordinate positions open and from these positions next year's staff heads will be chosen.

One of the first tasks of the production staff will be the scheduling of pictures at the various studios, which should begin the first part of October. To eliminate much of the delay and allow more time for the necessary retakes, a new policy is being resumed this year.

Each living group will patronize the photographer of its choice, and not, as before, allow each individual to attend the studio of his or her choice. The Gem Production Manager, Jerry McKee, requests each living group president or social chairman to leave at the Gem office the preference of their living group.

COMING EVENTS

MONDAY:
American Institute of Chemical Engineers, 7:30 p.m. Kirtley Lab.
Hell Divers meeting, 9:00 p.m. Memorial gym.

Who Started What War?

One of the most informative little pieces of paper to cross the editorial desk in the past few days was the Challenge. (Young America's voice for peace, jobs and freedom.) Headlines read "Prevent World War III—No guns, no U. S. lives, for Wall Street's War against Korea." This was good news to us, finding out that Wall Street had started the fight. A picture of John Foster Dulles, with army officials and their Korean "underlings" was captioned as taken while these same gentlemen (and flunkies) were peering intently across the 38th parallel into North Korean territory. Now in spite of the fact that no background could possibly indicate where the picture was taken, Mr. Dulles, "the Wall Street banker who financed the Nazis" could be standing nowhere else, according to the editors.

The pamphlet went on, in great detail, to inform us that "In the name of 'peace' Truman sends American boys to die in Korea, sends the Seventh fleet to seize Formosa, and sends more arms and men to the oppressors of Malayan and Philippine peoples!

Oh?

"At the same time, Truman tries to fashion a cloak of 'moral' justification for the use of the inhuman atomic weapon, for fanning of the spark criminally set in Korea into a world conflagration."

Well, by George, that is news. Harry is getting pretty active, running around starting wars now, but at least it's nice that these people tell us.

... and although the Soviet parliament (they have one?), in adopting the World Peace Appeal, officially declared before all humanity, that under no circumstances would they be the first to use the atomic weapon! Meanwhile Truman boasts of Hiroshima and screams (oh, that man is violent, isn't he?) that he'll use the atom bomb again "if necessary!"

"The hour demands that American youth unite in a sweeping crusade for peace. . . that action NOW can prevent it. American boys must be withdrawn from Korea and Formosa! Not a single life for MacArthur, Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek! Stop the bombing of Korean cities! Let the United Nations function properly by seating China and making it possible for the Soviet Union to participate!"

Sure, and while we're at it, would Uncle Sam kindly step out of the picture? We have another relative named Joseph who might as well take over while he's at it. Everyone could save time and trouble that way. By all means, give up this little scrap—who wants to be in shape when the big one gets here, if it comes?

"So this dirty and criminal colonial war must be presented as 'defense,' as 'supporting the U.N.," as 'resisting aggression.' The private club illegally acting in the name of the United Nations—while excluding China and the Soviet Union—must be made to rubber stamp Wall Street's armed intervention."

And, the nicest little feature we could find about the sheet before us is that, for only one dollar, we can subscribe to Challenge for a whole year (24 issues), and we would probably be put on the mailing list of the Daily Worker!

How We Eliminate Ponies

Following are excerpts from an editorial appearing in the Kansas University Daily Kansan, concerning the ever-important subject of tests.

"... Why not be realistic and allow open-book tests? The 20th century and its great offspring, the atomic age, should make educators cognizant of the deficiencies of the old-style tests. . ."

"The 20th century is the era of the reference book. It is difficult to believe a student could assimilate all the subject material in a single course, let alone in all the courses of four years at the University. What should be taught is how to make swift decisions. . . If the ability to reason and use judgment has been well-grounded, a student will be able to discern rapidly. . ."

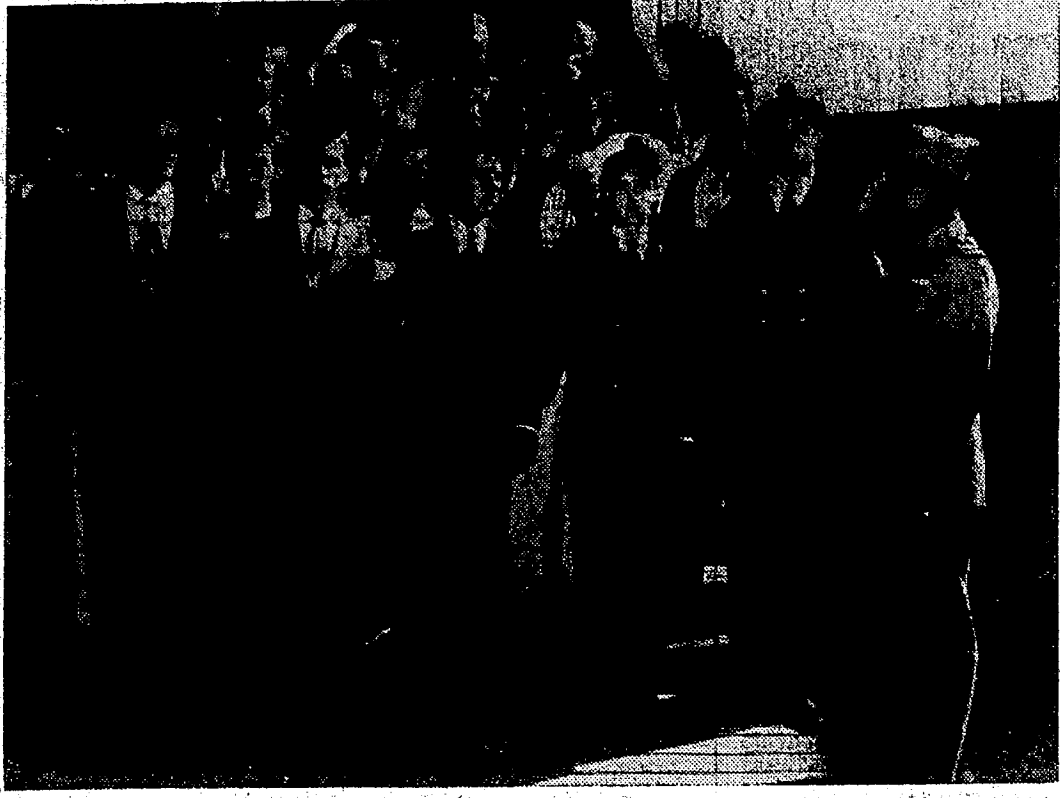

"Open-book quizzes will naturally be difficult. They should provide ample opportunity for each person to judge the correct procedure to attain desired results. The quizzes would test how the student used information, not how much he knew before coming to class. But one of the greatest achievements, as far as the professors would be concerned, would be the reduced evil of cheating."

"Here would be one type of test that would give ample opportunity to grade the thought processes of the individual. Sloppy thinking and methods of study would be penalized under the new system even more than now."

"Open-book tests would provide students a chance to interpret and explain as contrasted with the present muddled condition of memory work and fictitious knowledge."

Dale W. Fields, Daily Kansan.

Take The Oath

Future officers of the Navy and Marine Corps are these freshman and sophomores at the University of Idaho who took the midshipman oath this week. They are among the 2,000 outstanding youths selected from a field of 30,000 candidates to participate in the Navy ROTC scholarship program at schools throughout the nation. Administering the oath is Captain C. A. Chappell, professor of navy science at the university. (Photo by Knute Knutter)

New Library Display Features Humorous Autobiographies

By Phyllis Lopez

The library has an interesting display of biographies and autobiographies. Everything is included from volumes on musical heroes to a detailed account of Fredrick the Great, by Pierre Gaxotte who is probably more qualified than any English author to tell this story, being a Frenchman and historian.

In this book you will learn many interesting facts involved in the life of this Prussian king who spoke French better than German, who was the patron of Voltaire, a lifelong admirer of French life and letters as well as the ally and enemy of the court of Versailles.

For those people who do not care to delve so deeply into the past there are a great many wonderful books written on the lives of our great American people. "Franklin—The Life of An Optimist", by Andre Maurois gives a fascinating account of one of the greatest of all Americans whose motto was, "We Shall Succeed."

Hoagy Wrote It

A very amusing account of one of our most loved humorists is "The Autobiography of Will Rogers." This is a straight-from-the-shoulder story of a man who found success only through hard work and a burning desire to help others. One of our most noted experts in the field of entertainment, he had many friends because he thoroughly believed in his motto, "I never met a man I didn't like."

For those of you who find a common tie with musical heroes of our day a most thrilling autobiography is available called, "The Stardust Road" written by Hoagy Carmichael. This is his story as he wrote it, not only of himself, but of many of his best known contemporaries, Louis Armstrong, Paul Whitman, Joe Venuti, Bing Crosby, Jack Teagarden and many others.

Evoke Laughter

Along the line of wit and humor is a comprehensive history of comic strips and the artists who have drawn them, an estimate of their significance as a social phenomenon and their place as a folk art. This book is entitled simply "The Comics" and is written by Carlton Waugh.

Also you will find a new collection of our most loved humorists is "The Autobiography of Will Rogers." This is a straight-from-the-shoulder story of a man who found success only through hard work and a burning desire to help others.

COME ON DOWN

Red and green colors highlight the new Coke Room which is now open to the students. Cokes can be gotten from the machine, so nickels are essential. The juke box is always ready to play your favorite tune, and the floor is perfect for dancing. Come down and get acquainted.

Greeks Investigate Higher Taxi Fares

Recent rises in prices on taxi fares, cleaning and laundry have been noted by members of the United party caucus, president Jim Ingalls disclosed today. At a meeting last night the caucus discussed plans to enlist the aid of other campus groups to look into the situation.

No definite plan of action has been set up for the investigation as yet. "Our members are cognizant of the rise and we are pledging ourselves to get a full investigation of the matter," Ingalls stated.

The United caucus, which is made of representatives from all fraternities and sororities on the campus, is seeking the aid and advice of any campus group which feels some explanation of the price rise is necessary. Party members will begin work and research on the problem early next week.

With the football season close at hand, eastern college officials are planning a new bowl game. They will call it the "Shaving Bowl" and plan to play Colgate against Williams. Hope they don't get too lathered up over the idea.

Teaching Open

Some question has arisen concerning the admission of students to practice teaching. To clarify this matter, Dean Frederick Weltzin, school of education; and Dean T. S. Kerr, College of Letters and Science, stated that practice teaching courses are equally available to the student in the College of Letters and Science and the school of education.

Phi Delta Theta
Formal initiation was held Sunday for Bob Fossum, Frank Stone, Dave McClun and George Henly.

Delta Tau Delta
Friday night found the Deltas enjoying themselves at their first fireside of the year. Entertainment was provided by Tom Hennessey, who sang and played his guitar. Linda Archibald won the door prize which consisted of the "Giraffe," a stuffed animal. Modern and country dancing, group singing, and refreshments completed the evening. Bob Wheeler was general chairman.

Carter-O'Connor
Miss Margaret Jean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Carter of Boise, became the bride of Robert J. O'Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. O'Connor of Culesac, August 27. The wedding took place in St. Mary's church, Boise.

Mrs. O'Connor graduated from the University of Idaho in June and is a member of Delta Gamma. Her husband, a graduate of the Moscow high school, is now a senior in electrical engineering at the University. His fraternity is Phi Gamma Delta.

Lampman-McClaran
Miss Marg Lampman and Jack McClaran were married last week in the First Methodist Church, Moscow. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lampman of Moscow and McClaran's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClaran, Enterprise, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. McClaran were both graduated from the University in June. Mrs. McClaran is a Delta Gamma and McClaran is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

The cashier will cash personal checks for students to a maximum amount of ten dollars, and of course, up to the total amount for bills, such as board and room. In special instances, arrangement can be made for "hardship" cases.

Dr. Martin, who is head of social sciences and assistant dean of the college of letters of sciences at the university, will also be the official representative of the Northwest Association of secondary and higher schools.

Course Offered To Ag Students

Making arrangements for the third annual breeder-herdsman short course at the University December 11 to 12 is C. W. Hickman, animal husbandryman in the College of Agriculture.

Judging from previous gatherings a good attendance from the Pacific Northwest is expected if good weather prevails. Several practical demonstrations and numerous discussions of breeding, feeding, care and management of beef cattle are planned.

Students Audition For Drama Tryouts

Over 100 persons auditioned for the drama tryouts, held each year by the Drama Department. About half of the people were novices to the Idaho stage, thus insuring a good reserve for Miss Jean Collette, professor of drama.

In the tryouts, the students were classified as to voice, type, and special abilities by the advanced play production class. This information is then filed for a year, to serve as a reference when choosing casts for ASUI plays. If there are any students who are interested in dramatic but did not tryout, they are urged to see Miss Collette in the U. Hut.

Orchesis Tryouts Are Planned For Next Wednesday

A meeting of the Orchesis Women's Dancing Honorary was held last Wednesday night to plan the tryouts, which will be held at 4:30 p.m. next Wednesday, for Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis. All women are eligible to compete. Freshman women may only belong to pre-Orchesis because of the night hours of orchesis meetings.

Those wishing to try out should wear shorts so they can move easily. Instructions for competing will be given Wednesday night. Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis members are asked to be present at the tryouts.

Meetings Held
Orchesis is a modern dancing honorary. The main function of this group and the pre-Orchesis is to put on two annual programs, one at Christmas and the other during the May Day week-end. Intramural Sport Program Displays Large Expansion

Monday afternoon marks the beginning of another Intramural season at the University of Idaho. Years ago Intramural meant little more than an hour of rope skipping to Idaho students, but during the past 5 years largely through the efforts of Leon Green the program has grown and expanded into one of the largest and best in the United States.

Despite the fact that University enrollment has more than doubled since that time, and the only additional space provided has been unit number one of the athletic field house, a full program is being worked out with facilities available.

Living groups drew for league numbers and each team will have an eight game schedule. League No. 1 will include LCA, TKE, PDT, DTD, ATO, SAE, SN, and Eagle and Anchor. League No. 2 members will be LDS, DC, DSP, KS, PKT, BTP, PGD and SC. League No. 3 CC, CH, PH, WSH, IC and PH No. 3. League No. 4 includes CC No. 2, CH No. 2, LH No. 2, PH No. 2, WSH No. 2, PH No. 4 and CC No. 3.

murals on the campus, competition has become keener every season. The present program includes everything from ping pong to football. During the past year with the completion of the student union building, intramural bowling and billiards will be added to the list of events.

Vandals Ready For Boise 'Kickoff'; Howell Says - Cross Your Fingers

35 Players Head South This Morning By Plane

"You students keep your fingers crossed—those Utah boys, they're tough." Those were the words of head Coach Dixie Howell, as the Vandals put a final polish to their offensive and defensive assignments for tomorrow afternoon's game with the University of Utah in Boise.

Trainer Norman Jacobson and University physician Dr. Ralph Alley informed Howell before the departure that all the squad will be ready to go in this, the first game of the season.

Frosh Play Game Here Saturday

Spending this week working on offense, the Idaho freshman squad is busily preparing for its first scrimmage session which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in Neale stadium.

Howell mentioned that the Vandals laid off with the rough stuff this week just so he could get his crippled men back in shape. "All I can hope for, is that we will be ready to go. It's kind of tough to play a team like Utah in the first game of the season, especially when we do not know what kind of offense they will offer."

It is true that at Texas Western last season, Jack Curtice, now headman of the Redskins, led the Miners with a potent running attack that easily outdistanced every major college eleven in the nation.

Conference Foes Open Grid Slates Away From Home

Three of Idaho's northern division opponents open their 1950 season tomorrow. Oregon, the Vandals' Homecoming opponent October 14, ventures to Los Angeles to tangle with the Uclans of UCLA in the only conference battle on the week-end slate.

Opening at Utah State, the cross-state rivals, Washington State Cougars, will attempt to make a success of Forest Evashauski's debut as WSC mentor.

Harold Says We Win

We're going to win. Yup, that's the straight dope from Harold Classen, associated press reporter from New York.

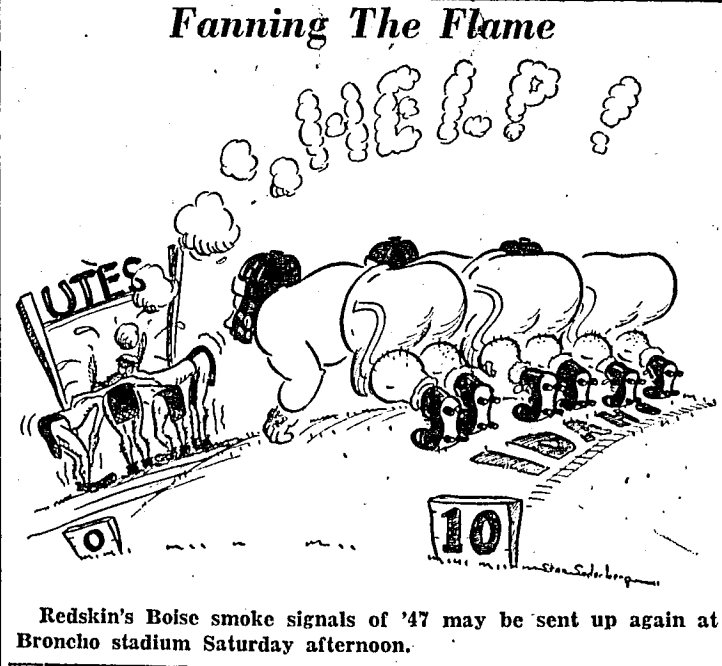

Utah's 183 points for the fifteen contests almost doubles the Vandals' 98. If past records mean anything when these two teams meet tomorrow the Redskins should have the edge in the scoring column.
